6 And not long after this the king sent forth ‡an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; <sup>2</sup> and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of ¶Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of §Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they **were that lived in the place. <sup>3</sup> But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. <sup>4</sup> For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who ††dallied with prostitutes, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; <sup>5</sup> and ‡‡the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. <sup>6</sup> And a man could neither keep the Sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew. <sup>7</sup> And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the ¶¶feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of §§Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. <sup>8</sup> A decree went out to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; <sup>9</sup> and that they should kill such as didn't choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: <sup>10</sup> for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. <sup>11</sup> And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

<sup>12</sup> I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. <sup>13</sup> For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but immediately meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. <sup>14</sup> For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord does with patience forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained to the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, <sup>15</sup> that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, *when we be come to the †height of our sins. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore he never withdraws his mercy from us; but though he chastens with calamity, yet does he not forsake his own people. <sup>17</sup> However let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

and ten, had gone over to an alien religion; <sup>25</sup> and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, <sup>26</sup> and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of my old age. <sup>26</sup> For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. <sup>27</sup> Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will show myself worthy of my old age, <sup>28</sup> and leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went immediately to the instrument of torture. <sup>29</sup> And when they changed the good they will bare him a little before into ill will, because <sup>30</sup> these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, <sup>30</sup> and when he was at the point to die with the stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that has the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. <sup>31</sup> So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

7 And it came to pass that seven kindred also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the abominable swine's flesh. <sup>2</sup> But one of them made himself the spokesman and said,

What would you ask and learn of us? for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. <sup>3</sup> And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and cauldrons: <sup>4</sup> and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his kindred and his mother looking on. <sup>5</sup> And when he was utterly †maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: <sup>6</sup> The Lord God sees, and in truth is ‡entreated for us, as Moses declared in ¶his song, which witnesses against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be §entreated for his servants.

<sup>7</sup> And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt you eat, before your body be punished in every limb? <sup>8</sup> But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. <sup>9</sup> And when he was at the last gasp, he said, You, miscreant, do release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, to an eternal renewal of life.

<sup>10</sup> And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, <sup>11</sup> and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I treat these with contempt; and from him I hope to receive these back again:

<sup>12</sup> insomuch that the king himself and those who were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

<sup>13</sup> And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. <sup>14</sup> And being come near to death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for you, you shall have no resurrection to life.

<sup>15</sup> And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him. <sup>16</sup> But he looked towards **the king and said, Because you have authority amongst men, though you are yourself corruptible, you do what you will; yet think not that our race has been forsaken of God; <sup>17</sup> but hold you on your way, and behold his sovereign majesty, how it will torture you and your seed.

<sup>18</sup> And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; <sup>19</sup> but think not you that you shall be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

your ††spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. <sup>23</sup>Therefore the Creator of the world, who fashioned the ††generation of man and devised the ††generation of all things, in mercy gives back to you again both your ††spirit and your life, as you<sup>o</sup> now treat yourselves with contempt for his laws' sake. <sup>24</sup>But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, while the youngest was yet alive didn't only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and *raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his †Friend and entrust him with affairs. <sup>25</sup>But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called to him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. <sup>26</sup>And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. <sup>27</sup>But bending towards him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spoke thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried you nine months in my womb, and gave you suck three years, and nourished and brought you up to this age, and sustained you. <sup>28</sup>I beseech you, my child, to lift your eyes to the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are in it, and thus to recognise that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise comes into being. <sup>29</sup>Don't be afraid of this butcher, but, proving yourself worthy of your kindred, accept your death, that in the mercy of God I may receive you again with your kindred.

8 But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and those who were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called to them their kinsfolk; and taking to them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. <sup>2</sup>And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; <sup>3</sup>and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even even with the ground; and to listen to the blood that cried to him; <sup>4</sup>and to remember also the lawless ††slaughter of the innocent infants, and ‡‡the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to show his hatred of wickedness. <sup>5</sup>And when Maccabaeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. <sup>6</sup>¶¶And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. <sup>8</sup>But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote to Ptolemy, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, that he should support the king's cause. <sup>9</sup>And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's §§Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judea; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. <sup>10</sup>And Nicanor *undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. <sup>11</sup>And immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish †slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten ‡slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

he filled with arrogance, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. <sup>8</sup> And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried in a litter, ¶¶showing to all that the power was manifestly God's; <sup>9</sup> so that out of the body of the impious man worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. <sup>10</sup> And the man that a little before supposed himself to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. <sup>11</sup> Therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. <sup>12</sup> And when he himself could not stand his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject to God, and that one who is mortal should not §§§be minded arrogantly. <sup>13</sup> And the vile man vowed to the sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: <sup>14</sup> that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to *make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; <sup>15</sup> and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; <sup>16</sup> and the holy sanctuary, which before he had plun-

10 And Maccabaeus and those who were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; <sup>2</sup> and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred inclosures. <sup>3</sup> And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and ‡striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, and burnt incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the show bread. <sup>4</sup> And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and implored the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered to blaspheming and barbarous heathen. <sup>5</sup> Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. <sup>15</sup> And together with him the Idumaeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving to them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. <sup>16</sup> But Maccabaeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and implored God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumaeans; <sup>17</sup> and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and killed those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. <sup>18</sup> And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceedingly strong and having all things needed for a siege, <sup>19</sup> Maccabaeus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zacchaeus besides and those who were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself to places where he was most needed. <sup>20</sup> But Simon and those who were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them slip away. <sup>21</sup> But when word was brought to Maccabaeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their kindred for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. <sup>22</sup> So he killed these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. <sup>23</sup> And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.

having collected the *horsemen which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judea by force of arms. <sup>25</sup> But as he drew near, Maccabaeus and his men sprinkled earth upon their heads and girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, <sup>26</sup> and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, implored him to become †gracious to them, and ‡be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declares. <sup>27</sup> And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they ¶halted. <sup>28</sup> And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled to the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. <sup>29</sup> But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared out of heaven to their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; §and two of them, leading on the Jews, <sup>30</sup> and taking Maccabaeus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. <sup>31</sup> And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. <sup>35</sup> But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabaeus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with ††furious passion, and cut down whoever came in their way. <sup>36</sup> And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burnt the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. <sup>37</sup> And they killed Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas, and Apollophanes. <sup>38</sup> And when they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, him who does great benefits to Israel, and gives them the victory.

11 Now after a very little time Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, <sup>2</sup> collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a place for Greeks to dwell in, <sup>3</sup> and to levy tribute on the temple, as ††on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; <sup>4</sup> holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. <sup>5</sup> And coming into Judea and drawing near to Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about ¶¶five leagues, he pressed it hard. <sup>6</sup> But when Maccabaeus and his men learnt that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication to the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. <sup>7</sup> And Maccabaeus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to put themselves in jeopardy together with him and help their kindred; and they went out with him very willingly. <sup>8</sup> And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing §§weapons of gold. <sup>9</sup> And they all together praised the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to *assail not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, <sup>10</sup> they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. <sup>11</sup> And hurling themselves like lions upon the enemy, they killed of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. <sup>12</sup> But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. <sup>13</sup> But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again to them, <sup>14</sup> and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and †promised that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. <sup>15</sup> And Maccabaeus gave consent upon all the conditions which Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatever requests Maccabaeus delivered in writing to Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. <sup>16</sup> For the letters written to the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

<sup>22</sup> And the king's letter was in these words:

King Antiochus to his brother Lysias, greeting. <sup>23</sup> Seeing that our father passed to the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom ††should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, <sup>24</sup> we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them to the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed to them,— <sup>25</sup> choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from ††disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. <sup>26</sup> You will therefore do well to send messengers to them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. <sup>28</sup> If you° fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. <sup>29</sup> Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. <sup>30</sup> They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our ¶¶friendship, with full permission <sup>31</sup> that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as formerly; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. <sup>32</sup> Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. <sup>33</sup> Fare you° well. Written in the hundred and forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus. <sup>34</sup> And the Romans also sent to them a letter in these words:

Quintus Memmius and Titus Manius, ambassadors of the Romans, to the people of the Jews, greeting. <sup>35</sup> In regard to the things which Lysias the king's kinsman granted you, we also give consent. <sup>36</sup> But as for the things which he judged should be referred to the king, send one forthwith, after you° have advised thereof, that we may publish such decrees as befit your case; for we are on our way to Antioch. <sup>37</sup> Wherefore send some with speed, that we also may learn what is your mind. <sup>38</sup> §§Farewell. certain of the governors of districts, Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennaëus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity and live in peace. <sup>3</sup> And men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that lived amongst them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will towards them; <sup>4</sup> and when *the Jews, †relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred. <sup>5</sup> But when Judas heard of the cruelty done to his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him <sup>6</sup> and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his kindred, and set the haven on fire by night, and burnt the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled there. <sup>7</sup> But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. <sup>8</sup> But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner to the Jews that sojourned amongst them, <sup>9</sup> he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

<sup>10</sup> Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Timotheus, an army of Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand footmen and five hundred horsemen. <sup>11</sup> And when a sore battle had been fought, and Judas and his company by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome implored Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help ‡his people in all other ways. <sup>12</sup> So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed to their tents. <sup>13</sup> And he also fell upon a certain city ¶Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of various nations; and it was named Caspin. <sup>14</sup> But those who were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely towards Judas and those who were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. <sup>15</sup> But Judas and his company, calling upon the great sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; <sup>16</sup> and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

army by bands, set **these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. <sup>21</sup> But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called ††Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. <sup>22</sup> But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because the manifestation of him who sees all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. <sup>23</sup> And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. <sup>24</sup> But Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, implored them with much crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the kindred of some: ††otherwise, said he, little regard will ¶¶be shown to these. <sup>25</sup> So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their kindred.

put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, *wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed †on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. <sup>28</sup> But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaks in pieces the ‡strength of ¶the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and killed as many as twenty and five thousand of those who were within. <sup>29</sup> And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. <sup>30</sup> But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shown towards them, and of their kindly bearing towards them in the times of their misfortune, <sup>31</sup> they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected towards the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close to hand.

men bore down upon him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped to **Marisa. <sup>36</sup> And when those who were with Esdris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to show himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; <sup>37</sup> and then in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

<sup>38</sup> And Judas gathering his army came to the city of ††Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the Sabbath there. <sup>39</sup> And on the day following, ‡‡at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of those who had fallen, ¶¶and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back to the sepulchres of their fathers. <sup>40</sup> But under the garments of each one of the dead they found §§consecrated tokens of the idols of Jamnia, which the law forbids the Jews to have anything to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen. <sup>41</sup> All therefore, blessing the works of the Lord, the righteous Judge, who makes manifest the things that are hid, <sup>42</sup> betook themselves to supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forso much as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of those who had fallen. <sup>43</sup> And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent to Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took thought for a resurrection. <sup>44</sup> For if he were not expecting that those who had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. <sup>45</sup> (And if he did it looking to an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for those who *die †in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the atoning sacrifice for those who had died, that they might be released from their sin.

13 In the hundred and forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against Judea, <sup>2</sup> and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, ‡each having a Greek force, a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

and it had all round it a **gallery ††descending sheer on every side into the ashes. <sup>6</sup>Here him that is guilty of sacrilege, or has attained a pre-eminence in any other evil deeds, they ††all push forward into destruction. <sup>7</sup>By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and that right justly; <sup>8</sup>for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins ††against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

<sup>9</sup>Now the king, §§infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. <sup>10</sup>But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to help those who were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, <sup>11</sup>and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. <sup>12</sup>So when they had all done the same thing together, *beseeching the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for service. <sup>13</sup>And having gone apart with the elders

he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judea and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of †God. <sup>14</sup>And committing the decision to the †Lord of the world, and exhorting those who were with him to contend nobly even to death for laws, temple, city, country, †commonwealth, he pitched his camp by Modin. <sup>15</sup>And given out to his men the watchword, VICTORY IS GOD'S, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp by night and penetrated to the king's †tent, and killed **of the ††army as many as two thousand men, and ††brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the ††tower upon him. <sup>16</sup>And at last they filled the §§army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. <sup>17</sup>And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of the Lord's protection that gave *Judas help.

known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in prison. <sup>22</sup>The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, <sup>23</sup>heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honoured the sanctuary and the place, <sup>24</sup>showed kindness and graciously received Maccabaeus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even to the †Gerrenians, <sup>25</sup>came to Ptolemais. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.

14 Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty army and a fleet, <sup>2</sup>had gotten possession of the country, having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

<sup>3</sup>But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access to the holy altar, <sup>4</sup>came to king

Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fifties year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; <sup>5</sup>but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereto. <sup>6</sup>Those of the Jews that he called ¶Hasidaeans, whose leader is Judas Maccabaeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. <sup>7</sup>Wherefore, having laid aside my ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come shere; <sup>8</sup>first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to my own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spoke before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. <sup>9</sup>But do you, O king, having informed yourself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which **is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which you receive all. <sup>10</sup>For as long as Judas remains alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. <sup>11</sup>And when he had spoken such words as these, at once ††the rest of the king's ‡‡Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. <sup>12</sup>And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judea, he sent him forth, <sup>13</sup>giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter those who were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the ¶great temple. <sup>14</sup> And §§those in Judea that *had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

<sup>15</sup> But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who always, making manifest his presence, upholds those who are his own portion. <sup>16</sup> †And when the leader had given his commands, he immediately sets out from thence, and joins battle with them at a village called Lessau. <sup>17</sup> But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, ‡yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. <sup>23</sup> Nicanor waited in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. <sup>24</sup> And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; <sup>25</sup> he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

<sup>26</sup> But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was between them, §and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came to Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected towards the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. <sup>27</sup> And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the false accusations of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabaeus prisoner to Antioch in all haste. <sup>28</sup> And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; <sup>29</sup> but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. <sup>30</sup> But Maccabaeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruler in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other, **when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of ††Judas, came to the ‡‡great and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to deliver up the man. 32 And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, 33 he stretched forth his right hand towards the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If you<sup>o</sup> will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this ¶¶temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple to §§Bacchus for all to see. 34 And having said this, he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands towards heaven, called upon him that ever fights for our nation, in these words: 35 You, *O Lord of the universe, who in yourself have need of nothing, was well pleased that a sanctuary of your †habitation should be set amongst us; 36 so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled forever this house that has been lately cleansed.

37 Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, ‡as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will towards them. 38 For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. 39 And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare to the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; 40 for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. 41 But when the ¶troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, 42 choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: 43 but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully amongst the crowds. 44 But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of §his side. 45 And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, 46 when as his blood was now well near spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of **the life and the ††spirit to restore him ‡‡these again, he thus died.

resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. <sup>2</sup> And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that sees all things has ¶honoured and hallowed above other days; <sup>3</sup> then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the Sabbath day. <sup>4</sup> And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; <sup>5</sup> then says the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, §§who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his *cruel purpose.

not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lies in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream §worthy to be believed, he made them all exceedingly glad. <sup>12</sup> And the vision of that dream was this: He saw Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: <sup>13</sup> thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceedingly glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: <sup>14</sup> and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the kindred, he who prays much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of God: <sup>15</sup> and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, <sup>16</sup> Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith you shall strike down the adversaries.

<sup>17</sup> And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite to virtue and to stir the souls of the young to manly courage, they determined **not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. <sup>18</sup> For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for kindred and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. <sup>19</sup> And they also

THE FIRST BOOK OF ESDRAS

The First Book of Esdras is recognised as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is not recognised by the Roman Catholic Church, but 1 Esdras is placed as an appendix to the Latin Vulgate Bible.

for the Passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. <sup>9</sup> And Jeconias, and Samaias and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochielus, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the Passover five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves. <sup>10</sup> And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order according to the kindred, <sup>11</sup> and according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning. <sup>12</sup> And they roasted the Passover with fire, as appertains: and the sacrifices they sod in the brazen vessels and cauldrons with a good savour, <sup>13</sup> and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their kindred, the sons of Aaron. <sup>14</sup> For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their kindred, the sons of Aaron. <sup>15</sup> The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Eddinus, who †was of the king's retinue. <sup>16</sup> Moreover the gatekeepers were at every gate; none had need to depart from his daily course: for their kindred the Levites prepared for them. <sup>17</sup> Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the Passover, <sup>18</sup> and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josias. <sup>19</sup> So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the Passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. <sup>20</sup> And such a Passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. <sup>21</sup> Yes, all the kings of Israel held not such a Passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this Passover held. <sup>23</sup>And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. <sup>24</sup>Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him ‡exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

<sup>25</sup>¶Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchemish upon Euphrates: and Josias went out against him. <sup>26</sup>But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with you, O king of Judea? <sup>27</sup>I am not sent out from the Lord God against you; for my war is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, yes, the Lord is with me hastening me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord. <sup>28</sup>However Josias didn't turn back ¶to his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the mouth of the Lord: <sup>29</sup>but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against King Josias. <sup>30</sup>Then said the king to his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the army. <sup>31</sup>Then got he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. <sup>32</sup>And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, to this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. <sup>33</sup>These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judea, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

<sup>34</sup>‡And the people took §Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. <sup>35</sup>And he reigned in **Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. <sup>36</sup>And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. <sup>37</sup>The king of Egypt also made King Joakim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem. <sup>38</sup>And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt. <sup>39</sup>Five and twenty years old was †Joakim when he began to reign in Judea and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. <sup>40</sup>And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him to Babylon. <sup>41</sup>Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up in his own temple at Babylon. <sup>42</sup>But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings. <sup>43</sup>And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: for when he was made king he was ††eighteen years old;

44 and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; 46 and made Sedekias king of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: 47 and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. 48 And after king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forsook himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. 49 Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. 50 And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. 51 But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spoke to them, they scoffed at his prophets: 52 so far forth, that he, being angry with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; 53 who killed their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. 54 And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away to Babylon. 55 And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: 56 and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nothing: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried to Babylon: 57 and they were servants to him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: 58 Until the land has enjoyed her Sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep Sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

2 In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, 2 the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, 3 saying, Cyrus king of the Persians says: The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, has made me king of the whole world, 4 and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem that is in Judea. 5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord that dwells in Jerusalem. 6 Of such therefore as dwell in various places, let those who are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, 7 with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

8 Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. 9 And those who lived round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. 10 King

Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols. <sup>11</sup> Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithradates his treasurer, <sup>12</sup> and by him they were delivered to *Sanabassar the governor of Judea. <sup>13</sup> And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand and four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. <sup>14</sup> So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even five thousand and four hundred threescore and nine, <sup>15</sup> and were carried back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

<sup>16</sup> But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and †Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and ‡Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote to him against those who lived in Judea and Jerusalem the letter following: <sup>17</sup> To king Artaxerxes our Lord, Your servants, Rathumus the recorder, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>18</sup> Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that have come up from you to us, having come to Jerusalem, are building that rebellious and wicked city, and and repair its marketplaces and walls, and laying the foundation of a temple. <sup>19</sup> Now if this city is built and the walls thereof are finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. <sup>20</sup> And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, <sup>21</sup> but to speak to our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be your pleasure, search may be made in the books of your fathers: <sup>22</sup> and you shall find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shall understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: <sup>23</sup> and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid waste. <sup>24</sup> Wherefore now we do declare to you, O lord the king, that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, you shall from henceforth have no passage into Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>25</sup> Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the recorder, and Beeltethmus, and Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and lived in Samaria and Syria and Phoenicia, after this manner: <sup>26</sup> I have read the letter which you<sup>o</sup> have sent to me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it has been found that that city of old time has made insurrection against kings; <sup>27</sup> and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>28</sup> Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order; <sup>29</sup> and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. <sup>30</sup> Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste to Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

3 Now king Darius made a great feast to all his subjects, and to all that were born in his house, and to all the princes of Media and of Persia, <sup>2</sup>and to all the local governors and captains and governors that were under him, from India to Ethiopia, in the hundred and twenty and seven provinces. <sup>3</sup>And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and awaked out of his sleep.

<sup>4</sup>Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spoke one to another: <sup>5</sup>Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, to him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: <sup>6</sup>as, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a turban of fine linen, and a chain about his neck: <sup>7</sup>and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin. <sup>8</sup>And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, <sup>9</sup>and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. <sup>10</sup>The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. <sup>11</sup>The second wrote, The king is strongest. <sup>12</sup>The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth bears away the victory.

<sup>13</sup>Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it to him, and so he read it: <sup>14</sup>and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, and the local governors, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; <sup>15</sup>and sat him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. <sup>16</sup>And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. <sup>17</sup>And they said to them, Declare to us your mind concerning the things you<sup>o</sup> have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, <sup>18</sup>and said thus, O sirs, how exceedingly strong is wine! it causes all men to err that drink it: <sup>19</sup>it makes the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: <sup>20</sup>it turns also every thought into cheer and mirth, so that a man remembers neither sorrow nor debt: <sup>21</sup>and it makes every heart rich, so that a man remembers neither king nor local governor; and it makes to speak all things by talents: <sup>22</sup>and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and kindred, and a little after draw their swords: <sup>23</sup>but when they awake from their wine, they remember not what they have done. <sup>24</sup>O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforces to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

4 Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, <sup>2</sup>O sirs, do not men excel in strength, that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? <sup>3</sup>But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and has dominion over them; and in whatever he commands them they obey him. <sup>4</sup>If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. <sup>5</sup>They kill and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the plunder, as all things else. <sup>6</sup>Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute to the king. <sup>7</sup>And he is ¶but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; <sup>8</sup> if he command to strike, they strike; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; <sup>9</sup> if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. <sup>10</sup> So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lies down, he eats and drinks, and takes his rest: <sup>11</sup> and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. <sup>12</sup> O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

<sup>13</sup> Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak. <sup>14</sup> O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that rules them, or has the lordship over them? are they not women? <sup>15</sup> Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. <sup>16</sup> Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine comes. <sup>17</sup> These also make garments for men; these bring glory to men; and without women can't men be. <sup>18</sup> Yes, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and any other goodly thing, and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, <sup>19</sup> they let all those things go, and gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have all more desire to her than to gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatever. <sup>20</sup> A man leaves his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and joins with his wife. <sup>21</sup> And with his wife he ends his days, and remembers neither father, nor mother, nor country. <sup>22</sup> By this also you<sup>o</sup> must know that women have dominion over you: do you<sup>o</sup> not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? <sup>23</sup> Yes, a man takes his sword, and goes forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; <sup>24</sup> and looks upon a lion, and walks in the darkness; and when he has stolen, plundered, and robbed, he brings it to his love. <sup>25</sup> Wherefore a man loves his wife better than father or mother. <sup>26</sup> Yes, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. <sup>27</sup> Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. <sup>28</sup> And now do you<sup>o</sup> not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? <sup>29</sup> Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Baticus, sitting at the right hand of the king, <sup>30</sup> and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yes, she struck the king with her left hand: <sup>31</sup> and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. <sup>32</sup> O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

she does the things that are just, and refrains from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. <sup>40</sup>Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth. <sup>41</sup>And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

<sup>42</sup>Then said the king to him, Ask what you will more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it you, inasmuch as you are found wisest; and you shall sit next me, and shall be called my cousin. <sup>43</sup>Then said he to the king, Remember your vow, which you did vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when you came to your kingdom, <sup>44</sup>and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again there. <sup>45</sup>You did also vow to build up the temple, which the Edomites burnt when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. <sup>46</sup>And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of you, and this is the princely generosity that shall proceed from you: I pray therefore that you make good the vow, the performance whereof you have vowed to the King of heaven with your own mouth.

enter into their doors; <sup>50</sup>and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: <sup>51</sup>and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; <sup>52</sup>and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: <sup>53</sup>and that all those who should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. <sup>54</sup>He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; <sup>55</sup>and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem built up. <sup>56</sup>And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. <sup>57</sup>He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, he charged also to be done, and sent to Jerusalem.

<sup>58</sup>Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven towards Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, <sup>59</sup>and said, From you comes victory, from you comes wisdom, and your is the glory, and I am your servant. <sup>60</sup>Blessed are you, who have given me wisdom: and to you I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers. <sup>61</sup>And so he took the letters, and went out, and came to Babylon, and told it all his kindred. <sup>62</sup>And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty <sup>63</sup>to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

5 After this were the chiefs of fathers' houses chosen to go up according to their tribes, with their wives and sons and daughters, with their menservants and maidservants, and their cattle. <sup>2</sup> And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they had brought them back to Jerusalem ††safely, and with musical instruments, tabrets and flutes. <sup>3</sup> And all their kindred played, and he made them go up together with them.

<sup>4</sup> And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families amongst their tribes, after their several divisions. <sup>5</sup> The priests, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Aaron: Jesus the son of Josedek, the son of Saraias, and Joakim the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, of the house of David, of the lineage of Phares, of the tribe of Judah; <sup>6</sup> who spoke wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which is the first month. <sup>7</sup> <sup>k</sup>And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they lived as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away to Babylon. <sup>8</sup> And they returned to Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jewry, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Jesus, Nehemias, and ††Zaraias, Resaias, ¶¶Eneneus, Mardocheus, Beelsarus, §§Aspharsus, *Reelias, Roimus, and Baana, their leaders. <sup>9</sup> The number of

47 But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the broad place before the first porch which is towards the east. 48 Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedek, and his kindred the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his kindred, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. 50 And certain were gathered to them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. 51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: 52 and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the Sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. 53 And all those who had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the **seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. 54 And they gave money to the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, 55 and cars to them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, and convey them in floats to the haven of Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. 56 And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their kindred, and the Levitical priests, and all those who were come to Jerusalem out of the captivity: 57 and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem. 58<sup>1</sup> And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and kindred, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and kindred, all the Levites, with one accord started the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders built the temple of the Lord. 59 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, 60 singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. 61 And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are forever in all Israel. 62 And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving to the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord. 63<sup>m</sup> Also of the Levitical priests, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. 64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, 65 insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

66<sup>n</sup> Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. 67 And they perceived that those who were of the captivity did build the temple to the Lord, the God of Israel. 68 So they went to zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said to them, we will build together with you. 69 For we likewise, as you<sup>o</sup>, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice to him from the days of ††Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us here. <sup>70</sup>Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said to them, It is not ††for you to build the house to the Lord our God. <sup>71</sup>We ourselves alone will build to the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians has commanded us. <sup>72</sup>But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and ¶¶holding them strait, hindered their building; <sup>73</sup>and §§by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that King Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

6 Now ¶in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggaeus and Zacharius the son of *Addo, the prophets, prophesied to the Jews in Jewry and Jerusalem; in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, prophesied they to them. <sup>2</sup>Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them. <sup>3</sup>¶At the same time came to them †Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with ‡Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said to them, <sup>4</sup>By whose appointment do you° build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things? <sup>5</sup>Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity; <sup>6</sup>and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made to Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

<sup>7</sup>The copy of the letter which Sisinnes, governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent to Darius; <sup>8</sup>To king Darius, greeting: Let all things be known to our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity <sup>9</sup>building a house to the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. <sup>10</sup>And those works are done with great speed, and the work goes on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence it is accomplished. <sup>11</sup>Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build you° this house, and lay the foundations of these works? <sup>12</sup>Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge to you by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men. <sup>13</sup>So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth. <sup>14</sup>And as for this house, it was built many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. <sup>15</sup>But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and provoked him to wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans; <sup>16</sup>and they pulled down the house, and burnt it, and carried away the people captives to Babylon. <sup>17</sup>But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house. <sup>18</sup> And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to ¶Sanabassarus the governor, <sup>19</sup> with commandment that he should carry away §all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place. <sup>20</sup> Then Sanabassarus, being come here, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended. <sup>21</sup> Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made amongst the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: <sup>22</sup> and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem has been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good to our lord the king, let him signify to us thereof.

the house at Jerusalem, and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before. <sup>27</sup> And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the Lord in its place. <sup>28</sup> And I also do command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judea, till the house of the Lord be finished: <sup>29</sup> and that out of the tribute of Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; <sup>30</sup> and also corn, salt, wine and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: <sup>31</sup> that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. <sup>32</sup> And that commandment be given that whoever shall transgress, yes, or neglect anything ††written here, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he be hanged on it, and all his goods seized for the king. <sup>33</sup> The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. <sup>34</sup> I Darius the king have ordained that according to these things it be done with diligence.

7 Then †Sisinnes the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius, <sup>2</sup>did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews and rulers of the temple. <sup>3</sup>And so the holy works prospered, while Aggaeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied. <sup>4</sup>And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of the Persians. <sup>5</sup>And thus was ‡‡the house finished by the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of king Darius. <sup>6</sup>And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added to them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses. <sup>7</sup>And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; <sup>8</sup>and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve ¶¶princes of the tribes of Israel. <sup>9</sup>The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindred, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the gatekeepers at every gate.

<sup>10</sup>And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the Passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, <sup>11</sup>§§and all those who were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, <sup>12</sup>and they offered the Passover for all them of the captivity, and for their kindred the priests, and for themselves. <sup>13</sup>And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all those who had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. <sup>14</sup>And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, <sup>15</sup>for that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

8 Now the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, whereof this that follows is a copy; 9 King Artaxerxes to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greeting: 10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, ¶and of those within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with you to Jerusalem. 11 As many therefore as have a mind thereto, let them depart with you, as it has seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors; 12 that they may look to the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, 13 and carry the gifts to the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, 14 with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereto appertaining; 15 to the end that they may offer sacrifices to the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. 16 And whatever you and your kindred are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of your God. 17 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given you for the use of the temple of your God, which is in Jerusalem: 18 and whatever thing else you shall remember for the use of the temple of your God, you shall give it out of the king's treasury. 19 And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phoenicia, that whatever Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, 20 to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred §measures, and a hundred firkins** of wine, and ††salt in abundance. 21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently to the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. 22 I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid upon any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or gatekeepers, or temple servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. 23 And you, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phoenicia all those that know the law of your God; and those that know it not you shall teach. 24 And whoever shall transgress the law of your God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by ††imprisonment.

25 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who has put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: 26 and has honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. 27 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. 28 And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: 29 of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of with them: <sup>55</sup>and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counselors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. <sup>56</sup>And when I had weighed it, I delivered to them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, <sup>57</sup>and twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. <sup>58</sup>And I said to them, Both you<sup>o</sup> are holy to the Lord, §§and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow to the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. <sup>59</sup>Watch you<sup>o</sup>, and keep them till you<sup>o</sup> deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. <sup>60</sup>So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

<sup>61</sup>And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. <sup>62</sup>And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day to *Marmoth the priest the son of †Urias. <sup>63</sup>And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabodus the son of Jesus and ‡Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. <sup>64</sup>And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. <sup>65</sup>Moreover those who were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices to the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, <sup>66</sup>threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. <sup>67</sup>And they delivered the king's commandments to the king's stewards, and to the governors of Coelesyria and Phoenicia; and they honoured the people and the temple of the Lord.

<sup>68</sup>Now when these things were done, the principal men came to me, and said, <sup>69</sup>The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, †nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites. <sup>70</sup>For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. <sup>71</sup>And as soon as I had heard these things, I tore my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness. <sup>72</sup>So all those who were moved at the word of the Lord, the God of Israel, assembled to me, while I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. <sup>73</sup>Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment tore, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands to the Lord, <sup>74</sup>I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before your face; <sup>75</sup>for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up to heaven, <sup>76</sup>ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even to this day. <sup>77</sup>And for our sins and our fathers' we with our kindred and our kings and our priests were given up to the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, to this day. <sup>78</sup> And now in some measure has mercy been showed to us from you, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of your sanctuary; <sup>79</sup> and to discover to us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude. <sup>80</sup> Yes, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food, <sup>81</sup> and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure dwelling in Jewry and Jerusalem. <sup>82</sup> And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? For we have transgressed your commandments, which you gave by the hand of your servants the prophets, saying, <sup>83</sup> That the land, which you<sup>o</sup> enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. <sup>84</sup> Therefore now shall you<sup>o</sup> not join your daughters to their sons, neither shall you<sup>o</sup> take their daughters to your sons. <sup>85</sup> Neither shall you<sup>o</sup> seek to have peace with them forever, that you<sup>o</sup> may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that you<sup>o</sup> may leave it for an inheritance to your children for evermore. <sup>86</sup> And all that is befallen is done to us for our wicked works and great sins: for you, O Lord, did make our sins light, <sup>87</sup> and did give to us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress your law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. <sup>88</sup> <sup>8</sup>You was not angry with us to destroy us, till you had left us neither root, seed, nor name. <sup>89</sup> O Lord of Israel, you are true: for we are left a root this day. <sup>90</sup> Behold, now are we before you in our iniquities, for we can't stand any longer before you by reason of these things.

ground before the temple, there gathered to him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping amongst the multitude. <sup>92</sup> Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel <sup>**</sup>aloft. <sup>93</sup> Let's make an oath to the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the strangers, with their children, <sup>94</sup> like as seems good to you, and to as many as do obey the Law of the Lord. <sup>95</sup> Arise, and put in execution: for to you does this matter appertain, and we will be with you to do valiantly. <sup>96</sup> So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they swear.

Israel. <sup>8</sup> And now make confession and give glory to the Lord, the God of our fathers, <sup>9</sup> and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. <sup>10</sup> Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Just as you have spoken, so will we do. <sup>11</sup> But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we can't stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: <sup>12</sup> therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, <sup>13</sup> and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. <sup>14</sup> Then Jonathan the son of Azael and ††Ezekias the son of Thocanus accordingly took the matter upon them: and Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were assessors to them. <sup>15</sup> And those who were of the captivity did according to all these things.

on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in together to examine the matter. <sup>17</sup> So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end by the new moon of the first month. <sup>18</sup> And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found; <sup>19</sup> of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedek, and his kindred; ††Mathelas, and Eleazar, and ††Joribus, and §§Joadanus. <sup>20</sup> And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make reconciliation for their error. <sup>21</sup> And of the sons of Emmer; Ananias, and Zabdeus, and *Manes, and †Sameus, and †Hiereel, and †Azarias. <sup>22</sup> And of the sons of §Phaisur; Elionas, Massias, Ishmael, and Nathanael, and **Ocidelus, and ††Saloas. <sup>23</sup> And of the Levites; Jozabodus, and Semeis, and †Colius, who was called ††Calitas, and §§Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas. <sup>24</sup> Of the holy singers; *Eliasibus, Bacchurus. <sup>25</sup> Of the gatekeepers: Sallumus, and †Tolbanes. <sup>26</sup> Of Israel, of the sons of †Phoros; †Hiermas, and §Ieddias, and Melchias, and **Maelus, and Eleazar, and ††Asibas, and

v9:38 Nehemiah 8:1

††Ezekias, Baalsamus, upon the right hand: 44 and upon his left hand, ‡‡Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, ¶¶Lothasubus, Nabarias, Zacharias. 45 Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. 46 And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God Most High, the God of armies, Almighty. 47 And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord. 48 Also Jesus, Annus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacubus, Sabateus, §§Auteas, Maiannas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Jozabdus, and Ananias, Phalias, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, *and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them withal to understand it. 49 Then said Attharates to Esdras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, 50 This day is holy to the Lord; (now they all wept when they heard the law:) 51 go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to those who have nothing; 52 for the day is holy to the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour. 53 So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sorrowful. 54 Then they went their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions to those who had nothing, and to make great cheer; 55 because they †understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

KING OF JUDAH,
WHEN HE WAS HELD CAPTIVE IN BABYLON

The Prayer of Manasses is recognised as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is included in an appendix to the Latin Vulgate Bible.

1 O LORD Almighty, that are in heaven, you God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; <sup>2</sup>who have made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; <sup>3</sup>who have bound the sea by the word of your commandment; who have shut up the deep, and sealed it by your terrible and glorious name; <sup>4</sup>whom all things fear, yes, tremble before your power; <sup>5</sup>for the majesty of your glory can't be borne, and the anger of your threatening towards sinners is importable: <sup>6</sup>your merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; <sup>7</sup>for you are the Lord Most High, of great compassion, patient and abundant in mercy, and repent of bringing evils upon men. <sup>8</sup>You, O Lord, according to your great goodness have promised repentance and forgiveness to those who have sinned against you: and of your infinite mercies have appointed repentance to sinners, that they may be saved. You therefore, O Lord, that are the God of the just, have not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against you; but you have appointed repentance to me that am a sinner: <sup>9</sup>for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions are multiplied, <sup>**</sup>O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of my iniquities. <sup>10</sup>I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I can't lift up my head ††by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked your wrath, and done that which is evil before you: ‡‡I didn't do your will, neither did I keep your commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied ¶¶detestable things. <sup>11</sup>Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, beseeching you of grace. <sup>12</sup>I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge my iniquities: <sup>13</sup>but, I humbly beseech you, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with my iniquities. Be not angry with me forever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For you, §§O Lord, are the God of those who repent; <sup>14</sup>and in me you will show all your goodness: for you will save me, that am unworthy, according to your great mercy. <sup>15</sup>And I will praise you forever all the days of my life: for all the army of heaven sings your praise, and yours is the glory forever and ever. Amen.

151

This Psalm is a genuine one of David, though extra,* composed when he fought in single combat with Goliath.

1 I was small amongst my brothers, and youngest in my father's house.
I tended my father's sheep.

2 My hands formed a musical instrument, and my fingers tuned a lute.

3 Who shall tell my Lord?

The Lord himself, he himself hears.

4 He sent forth his angel and took me from my and he anointed me with his anointing oil.

5 My brothers were handsome and tall;

but the Lord didn't take pleasure in them.

6 I went out to meet the Philistine, and he cursed me by his idols.

THE THIRD BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

The Third Book of the Maccabees is recognised as Deuterocanonical Scripture by the Greek Orthodox and Russian Orthodox Churches. It is considered to be apocrypha by most other church traditions.

1 Now Philopater, on learning from those who came back that Antiochus had made himself master of the places which belonged to himself, sent orders to all his footmen and horsemen, took with him his sister Arsinoe, and marched out as far as the parts of Raphia, where Antiochus and his forces encamped. <sup>2</sup> And one Theodotus, intending to carry out his design, took with him the bravest of the armed men who had been before committed to his trust by Ptolemy, and got through at night to the tent of Ptolemy, to kill him on his own responsibility, and so to end the war. <sup>3</sup> But Dositheus, called the son of Drimulus, by birth a Jew, afterward a renegade from the laws and observances of his country, conveyed Ptolemy away, and made an obscure person lie down in his stead in the tent. It befell this man to receive the fate which was meant for the other. <sup>4</sup> A fierce battle then took place; and the men of Antiochus prevailing, Arsinoe continually went up and down the ranks, and with dishevelled hair, with tears and entreaties, begged the soldiers to fight manfully for themselves, their children, and wives; and promised that if they proved conquerors, she would give them each two minas of gold. <sup>5</sup> It thus fell out that their enemies were defeated in hand-to-hand encounter, and that many of them were taken prisoners. <sup>6</sup> Having vanquished this attempt, the king then decided to proceed to the neighbouring cities, and encourage them. <sup>7</sup> By doing this, and by making donations to their temples, he inspired his subjects with confidence. <sup>8</sup> The Jews sent some of their council and of their elders to him. The greetings, guest-gifts, and congratulations of the past, bestowed by them, filled him with the greater eagerness to visit their city. <sup>9</sup> Having arrived at Jerusalem, sacrificed, and offered thank-offerings to the Greatest God, and done whatever else was suitable to the sanctity of the place, and entered the inner court, <sup>10</sup> he was so struck with the magnificence of the place, and so wondered at the orderly arrangements of the temple, that he considered entering the sanctuary itself. <sup>11</sup> And when they told him that this was not permissible, none of the nation, no, nor even the priests in general, but only the supreme high priest of all, and he only once in a year, being allowed to go in, he would by no means give way. <sup>12</sup> Then they read the law to him; but he persisted in obtruding himself, exclaiming, that he ought to be allowed: and saying Be it that they were deprived of this honour, I ought not to be. <sup>13</sup> And he put the question, Why, when he entered all the temples, none of the priests who were present forbade him? <sup>14</sup> He was thoroughly answered by some one, That he did wrong to boast of this. <sup>15</sup> Well; since I have done this, said he, be the cause what it may, shall I not enter with or without your consent? <sup>16</sup> And when the priests fell down in their sacred vestments imploring the Greatest God to come and help in time of need, and to avert the violence of the fierce aggressor, and when they filled the temple with lamentations and tears, <sup>17</sup> then those who had been left behind in the city were scared, and rushed forth, uncertain of the event. <sup>18</sup> Virgins, who had been shut up within their chambers, came out with their mothers, scattering dust and ashes on their heads, and filling the streets with outcries. <sup>19</sup> Women, but recently separated off, left their bridal chambers, left the reserve that befitted them, and ran about the city in a disorderly manner. <sup>20</sup> New-born babes were deserted by the mothers or nurses who waited upon them; some here, some there, in houses, or in fields; these now, with an ardour which could not be checked, swarmed into the Most High temple. <sup>21</sup> Various were the prayers offered up by those who assembled in this place, on account of the unholy attempt of the king. <sup>22</sup> Along with these there were some of the citizens who took courage, and would not submit to his obstinacy, and his intention of carrying out his purpose. <sup>23</sup> Calling out to arms, and to die bravely in defence of the law of their fathers, they created a great uproar in the place, and were with difficulty brought back by the aged and the elders to the station of prayer which they had occupied before. <sup>24</sup> During this time the multitude kept on praying. <sup>25</sup> The elders who surrounded the king tried in many ways to divert his arrogant mind from the design which he had formed. <sup>26</sup> He, in his hardened mood, insensible to all persuasion, was going onward with the view of carrying out this design. <sup>27</sup> Yet even his own officers, when they saw this, joined the Jews in an appeal to Him who has all power, to aid in the present crisis, and not wink at such overweening lawlessness. <sup>28</sup> Such was the frequency and the vehemence of the cry of the assembled crowd, that an indescribable noise ensued. <sup>29</sup> Not the men only, but the very walls and floor seemed to sound forth; all things preferring dissolution rather than to see the place defiled.

iquity, men notorious for their vices, an example to after generations, when you did cover them with fire and brimstone. <sup>6</sup> You did make known your power when you caused the bold Pharaoh, the enslaver of your people, to pass through the ordeal of many and diverse afflictions. <sup>7</sup> And you rolled the depths of the sea over him, when he made pursuit with chariots, and with a multitude of followers, and gave a safe passage to those who put their trust in you, the Lord of the whole creation. <sup>8</sup> These saw and felt the works of your hands, and praised you the Almighty. <sup>9</sup> You, O King, when you created the illimitable and measureless earth, did choose out this city: you did make this place sacred to your name, albeit you need nothing: you did glorify it with your illustrious presence, after constructing it to the glory of your great and honourable name. <sup>10</sup> And you did promise, out of love to the people of Israel, that should we fall away from you, and become afflicted, and then come to this house and pray, you would hear our prayer. <sup>11</sup> Truly you are faithful and true. <sup>12</sup> And when you did often aid our fathers when hard pressed, and in low estate, and delivered them out of great dangers, <sup>13</sup> see now, holy King, how through our many and great sins we are borne down, and made subject to our enemies, and are become weak and powerless. <sup>14</sup> We being in this low condition, this bold and profane man seeks to dishonour this your holy place, consecrated out of the earth to the name of your Majesty. <sup>15</sup> Your dwelling place, the heaven of heavens, is indeed unapproachable to men. <sup>16</sup> But since it seemed good to you to exhibit your glory amongst your people Israel, you did sanctify this place. <sup>17</sup> Punish us not by means of the uncleanness of their men, nor chastise us by means of their profanity; lest the lawless ones should boast in their rage, and exult in exuberant pride of speech, and say, <sup>18</sup> We have trampled upon the holy house, as idolatrous houses are trampled upon. <sup>19</sup> Blot out our iniquities, and do away with our errors, and show forth your compassion in this hour. <sup>20</sup> Let your mercies quickly go before us. Grant us peace, that the cast down and broken hearted may praise you with their mouth. <sup>21</sup> At that time God, who sees all things, who is beyond all Holy amongst the holy, heard that prayer, so suitable; and scourged the man greatly uplifted with scorn and insolence. <sup>22</sup> Shaking him to and fro as a reed is shaken with the wind, he cast him upon the pavement, powerless, with limbs paralysed; by a righteous judgement deprived of the faculty of speech. <sup>23</sup> His friends and bodyguards, beholding the swift recompense which had suddenly overtaken him, struck with exceeding terror, and fearing that he would die, speedily removed him. <sup>24</sup> When in course of time he had come to himself, this severe check caused no repentance within him, but he departed with bitter threatenings. <sup>25</sup> He proceeded to Egypt, grew worse in wickedness through his before mentioned companions in wine, who were lost to all goodness; <sup>26</sup> and not satisfied with countless acts of impiety, his audacity so increased that he raised evil reports there, and many of his friends, watching his purpose attentively, joined in furthering his will. <sup>27</sup> His purpose was to indict a public stigma upon our race; wherefore he erected a pillar at the tower-porch, and caused the following inscription to be engraved upon it: <sup>28</sup> That entrance to their own temple was to be refused to all those who would not sacrifice; that all the Jews were to be registered amongst the common people; that those who resisted were to be forcibly seized and put to death; <sup>29</sup> that those who were thus registered, were to be marked on their persons by the ivy-leaf symbol of Dionysus, and to be set apart with these limited rights. <sup>30</sup> To do away with the appearance of hating them all, he had it written underneath, that if any of them should elect to enter the community of those initiated in the rites, these should have equal rights with the Alexandrians. <sup>31</sup> Some of those who were over the city, therefore, abhorring any approach to the city of piety, unhesitatingly gave in to the king, and expected to derive some great honour from a future connection with him. <sup>32</sup> A nobler spirit, however, prompted the majority to cling to their religious observances, and by paying money that they might live unmolested, these sought to escape the registration: <sup>33</sup> cheerfully looking forward to future aid, they abhorred their own apostates, considering them to be national foes, and debarring them from the common usages of social intercourse.

3 On discovering this, so incensed was the wicked king, that he no longer confined his rage to the Jews in Alexandria. Laying his hand more heavily upon those who lived in the country, he gave orders that they should be quickly collected into one place, and most cruelly deprived of their lives. <sup>2</sup> While this was going on, an invidious rumour was uttered abroad by men who had banded together to injure the Jewish race. The purport of their charge was, that the Jews kept them away from the ordinances of the law. <sup>3</sup> Now, while the Jews always maintained a feeling of unwavering loyalty towards the kings, <sup>4</sup> yet, as they worshipped God, and observed his law, they made certain distinctions, and avoided certain things. Hence some persons held them in odium; <sup>5</sup> although, as they adorned their conversation with works of righteousness, they had established themselves in the good opinion of the world. <sup>6</sup> What all the rest of mankind said, was, however, made of no account by the foreigners; <sup>7</sup> who said much of the exclusiveness of the Jews with regard to their worship and meats; they alleged that they were men unsociable, hostile to the king's interests, refusing to associate with him or his troops. By this way of speaking, they brought much odium upon them. <sup>8</sup> Nor was this unexpected uproar and sudden conflux of people unobserved by the Greeks who lived in the city, concerning men who had never harmed them: yet to aid them was not in their power, since all was oppression around; but they encouraged them in their troubles, and expected a favourable turn of affairs: <sup>9</sup>He who knows all things, will not, said they, disregard so great a people. <sup>10</sup>Some of the neighbours, friends, and fellow dealers of the Jews, even called them secretly to an interview, pledged them their assistance, and promised to do their very utmost for them. <sup>11</sup>Now the king, elated with his prosperous fortune, and not regarding the superior power of God, but thinking to persevere in his present purpose, wrote the following letter to the prejudice of the Jews. <sup>12</sup>King Ptolemy Philopater, to the commanders and soldiers in Egypt, and in all places, health and happiness! <sup>13</sup>I am right well; and so, too, are my affairs. <sup>14</sup>Since our Asiatic campaign, the particulars of which you<sup>o</sup> know, and which by the aid of the gods, not lightly given, and by our own vigour, has been brought to a successful issue according to our expectation, <sup>15</sup>we resolved, not with strength of spear, but with gentleness and much humanity, as it were to nurse the inhabitants of Coele-Syria and Phoenicia, and to be their willing benefactors. <sup>16</sup>So, having bestowed considerable sums of money upon the temples of the several cities, we proceeded even as far as Jerusalem; and went up to honour the temple of these wretched beings who never cease from their folly. <sup>17</sup>To outward appearance they received us willingly; but belied that appearance by their deeds. When we were eager to enter their temple, and to honour it with the most beautiful and exquisite gifts, <sup>18</sup>they were so carried away by their old arrogance, as to forbid us the entrance; while we, out of our forbearance towards all men, refrained from exercising our power upon them. <sup>19</sup>And thus, exhibiting their enmity against us, they alone amongst the nations lift up their heads against kings and benefactors, as men unwilling to submit to any thing reasonable. <sup>20</sup>We then, having endeavored to make allowance for the madness of these persons, and on our victorious return treating all people in Egypt courteously, acted in a manner which was befitting. <sup>21</sup>Accordingly, bearing no ill-will against their kinsmen at Jerusalem, but rather remembering our connection with them, and the numerous matters with sincere heart from a remote period entrusted to them, we wished to venture a total alteration of their state, by giving them the rights of citizens of Alexandria, and to admit them to the everlasting rites of our solemnities. <sup>22</sup>All this, however, they have taken in a very different spirit. With their innate malignity, they have spurned the fair offer; and constantly inclining to evil, <sup>23</sup>have rejected the inestimable rights. Not only so, but by using speech, and by refraining from speech, they abhor the few amongst them who are heartily disposed towards us; ever deeming that their ignoble course of procedure will force us to do away with our reform. <sup>24</sup>Having then, received certain proofs that these Jews bear us every sort of ill-will, we must look forward to the possibility of some sudden tumult amongst ourselves, when these impious men may turn traitors and barbarous enemies. <sup>25</sup>As soon, therefore, as the contents of this letter become known to you, in that same hour we order those Jews who dwell amongst you, with wives and children, to be sent to us, vilified and abused, in chains of iron, to undergo a death, cruel and ignominious, suitable to men disaffected. <sup>26</sup>For by the punishment of them in one body we perceive that we have found the only means of establishing our affairs for the future on a firm and satisfactory basis. <sup>27</sup>Whosoever shall shield a Jew, whether it be old man, child, or nursing baby, shall with his whole house be tortured to death. <sup>28</sup>Whoever shall inform against the Jews, besides receiving the property of the person charged, shall be presented with two thousand drachmas from the royal treasury, shall be made free, and shall be crowned. <sup>29</sup>Whatever place shall shelter a Jew, shall, when he is hunted forth, be put under the ban of fire, and be forever rendered useless to every living being for all time to come. <sup>30</sup>Such was the purport of the king's letter.

4 Wherever this decree was received, the people kept up a revelry of joy and shouting; as if their long-pent-up, hardened hatred, were now to show itself openly. 2 The Jews suffered great throes of sorrow, and wept much; while their hearts, all things around being lamentable, were set on fire as they bewailed the sudden destruction which was decreed against them. 3 What home, or city, or place at all inhabited, or what streets were there, which their condition didn't fill with wailing and lamentation? 4 They were sent out unanimously by the generals in the several cities, with such stern and pitiless feeling, that the exceptional nature of the infliction moved even some of their enemies. These, influenced by sentiments of common humanity, and reflecting upon the uncertain issue of life, shed tears at this their miserable expulsion. 5 A multitude of aged hoary-haired old men, were driven along with halting bending feet, urged onward by the impulse of a violent, shameless force to quick speed. 6 Girls who had entered the bridal chamber quite lately, to enjoy the partnership of marriage, exchanged pleasure for misery; and with dust scattered upon their myrrh-anointed heads, were hurried along unveiled; and, in the midst of outlandish insults, set up with one accord a lamentable cry instead of the marriage hymn. 7 Bound, and exposed to public gaze, they were hurried violently on board ship. 8 The husbands of these, in the prime of their youthful vigour, instead of crowns wore halters round their necks; instead of feasting and youthful celebration, spent the rest of their nuptial days in wailing, and saw only the grave at hand. 9 They were dragged along by unyielding chains, like wild beasts: of these, some had their necks thrust into the benches of the rowers; while the feet of others were enclosed in hard fetters. 10 The planks of the deck above them blocked out the light, and shut out the day on every side, so that they might be treated like traitors during the whole voyage. 11 They were conveyed accordingly in this vessel, and at the end of it arrived at Schedia. The king had ordered them to be cast into the vast hippodrome, which was built in front of the city. This place was well adapted by its situation to expose them to the gaze of all comers into the city, and of those who went from the city into the country. Thus they could hold no communication with his forces; no, were deemed unworthy of any civilized accommodation. 12 When this was done, the king, hearing that their kindred in the city often went out and lamented the melancholy distress of these victims, 13 was full of rage, and commanded that they should be carefully subjected to the same (and not one bit milder) treatment. 14 The whole nation was now to be registered. Every individual was to be specified by name; not for that hard servitude of labour which we have a little before mentioned, but that he might expose them to the before-mentioned tortures; and finally, in the short space of a day, might extirpate them by his cruelties. 15 The registering of these men was carried on cruelly, zealously, assiduously, from the rising of the sun to its going down, and was not brought to an end in forty days. 16 The king was filled with great and constant joy, and celebrated banquets before the temple idols. His erring heart, far from the truth, and his profane mouth, gave glory to idols, deaf and incapable of speaking or aiding, and uttered unworthy speech against the Greatest God. 17 At the end of the above-mentioned interval of time, the registrars brought word to the king that the multitude of the Jews was too great for registration, 18 inasmuch as there were many still left in the land, of whom some were in inhabited houses, and others were scattered about in various places; so that all the commanders in Egypt were insufficient for the work. 19 The king threatened them, and charged them with taking bribes, in order to contrive the escape of the Jews: but was clearly convinced of the truth of what had been said. 20 They said, and proved, that paper and pens had failed them for the carrying out of their purpose. 21 Now this was an active interference of the unconquerable Providence which assisted the Jews from heaven.

5 Then he called Hermon, who had charge of the elephants. Full of rage, altogether fixed in his furious design, <sup>2</sup> he commanded him, with a quantity of unmixed wine and handfuls of incense infused to drug the elephants early on the following day. These five hundred elephants were, when infuriated by the copious draughts of frankincense, to be led up to the execution of death upon the Jews. <sup>3</sup> The king, after issuing these orders, went to his feasting, and gathered together all those of his friends and of the army who hated the Jews the most. <sup>4</sup> The master of the elephants, Hermon, fulfilled his commission punctually. <sup>5</sup> The underlings appointed for the purpose went out about evening and bound the hands of the miserable victims, and took other precautions for their security at night, thinking that the whole race would perish together. <sup>6</sup> The heathen believed the Jews to be destitute of all protection; for chains fettered them about. <sup>7</sup> they invoked the Almighty Lord, and ceaselessly implored with tears their merciful God and Father, Ruler of all, Lord of every power, <sup>8</sup> to overthrow the evil purpose which was gone out against them, and to deliver them by extraordinary manifestation from that death which was in store for them. <sup>9</sup> Their litany so earnest went up to heaven. <sup>10</sup> Then Hermon, who had filled his merciless elephants with copious draughts of mixed wine and frankincense, came early to the palace to certify the kind thereof. <sup>11</sup> He, however, who has sent his good creature sleep from all time by night or by day thus gratifying whom he wills, diffused a portion thereof now upon the king. <sup>12</sup> By this sweet and profound influence of the Lord he was held fast, and thus his unjust purpose was quite frustrated, and his unflinching resolve greatly falsified. <sup>13</sup> But the Jews, having escaped the hour which had been fixed, praised their holy God, and again prayed him who is easily reconciled to display the power of his powerful hand to the overweening Gentiles. <sup>14</sup> The middle of the tenth hour had well near arrived, when the person who sent invitations, seeing the guests who were invited present, came and shook the king. <sup>15</sup> He gained his attention with difficulty, and hinting that the meal-time was getting past, talked the matter over with him. <sup>16</sup> The king listened to this, and then turning aside to his potations, commanded the guests to sit down before him. <sup>17</sup> This done, he asked them to enjoy themselves, and to indulge in mirth at this somewhat late hour of the banquet. <sup>18</sup> Conversation grew on, and the king sent for Hermon, and enquired of him, with fierce denunciations, why the Jews had been allowed to outlive that day. <sup>19</sup> Hermon explained that he had done his bidding over night; and in this he was confirmed by his friends. <sup>20</sup> The king, then, with a barbarity exceeding that of Phalaris, said, That they might thank his sleep of that day. Lose no time, and get ready the elephants against tomorrow, as you did before, for the destruction of these accursed Jews. <sup>21</sup> When the king said this, the company present were glad, and approved; and then each man went to his own home. <sup>22</sup> Nor did they employ the night in sleep, so much as in contriving cruel mockeries for those deemed miserable. <sup>23</sup> The morning cock had just crowed, and Hermon, having harnessed the brutes, was stimulating them in the great colonnade. <sup>24</sup> The city crowds were collected together to see the hideous spectacle, and waited impatiently for the dawn. <sup>25</sup> The Jews, breathless with momentary suspense, stretched forth their hands, and prayed the Greatest God, in mournful strains, again to help them speedily. <sup>26</sup> The sun's rays were not yet shed abroad, and the king was waiting for his friends, when Hermon came to him, calling him out, and saying, That his desires could now be realised. <sup>27</sup> The king, receiving him, was astonished at his unwonted exit; and, overwhelmed with a spirit of oblivion about everything, enquired the object of this earnest preparation. <sup>28</sup> But this was the working of that Almighty God who had made him forget all his purpose.<sup>29</sup> Hermon, and all his friends, pointed out the preparation of the animals. They are ready, O king, according to your own strict injunction.<sup>30</sup> The king was filled with fierce anger at these words; for, by the Providence of God regarding these things, his mind had become entirely confused. He looked hard at Hermon, and threatened him as follows:<sup>31</sup> Your parents, or your children, were they here, to these wild beasts a large repast they should have furnished; not these innocent Jews, who me and my forefathers loyally have served.<sup>32</sup> Had it not been for familiar friendship, and the claims of your office, your life should have gone for theirs.<sup>33</sup> Hermon, being threatened in this unexpected and alarming manner, was troubled in visage, and depressed in countenance.<sup>34</sup> The friends, too, stole out one by one, and dismissed the assembled multitudes to their respective occupations.<sup>35</sup> The Jews, having heard of these events, praised the glorious God and King of kings, because they had obtained this help, too, from him.<sup>36</sup> Now the king arranged another banquet after the same manner, and proclaimed an invitation to mirth.<sup>37</sup> And he summoned Hermon to his presence, and said, with threats, How often, O wretch, must I repeat my orders to you about these same persons?<sup>38</sup> Once more, arm the elephants for the extermination of the Jews tomorrow.<sup>39</sup> His kinsmen, who were reclining with him, wondered at his instability, and thus expressed themselves:<sup>40</sup> O king, how long do you make trial of us, as of men bereft of reason? This is the third time that you have ordered their destruction. When the thing is to be done, you change your mind, and recall your instructions.<sup>41</sup> For this cause the feeling of expectation causes tumult in the city: it swarms with factions; and is continually on the point of being plundered.<sup>42</sup> The king, just like another Phalaris, a prey to thoughtlessness, made no account of the changes which his own mind had undergone, issuing in the deliverance of the Jews. He swore a fruitless oath, and determined forthwith to send them to hades, crushed by the knees and feet of the elephants.<sup>43</sup> He would also invade Judea, and level its towns with fire and the sword; and destroy that temple which the heathen might not enter, and prevent sacrifices ever after being offered up there.<sup>44</sup> Joyfully his friends broke up, together with his kinsmen; and, trusting in his determination, arranged their forces in guard at the most convenient places of the city.<sup>45</sup> And the master of the elephants urged the beasts into an almost maniacal state, drenched them with incense and wine, and decked them with frightful instruments.<sup>46</sup> About early morning, when the city was now filled with an immense number of people at the hippodrome, he entered the palace, and called the king to the business in hand.<sup>47</sup> The king's heart teemed with impious rage; and he rushed forth with the mass, along with the elephants. With feelings unsoftened, and eyes pitiless, he longed to gaze at the hard and wretched doom of the above-mentioned Jews.<sup>48</sup> But the Jews, when the elephants went out at the gate, followed by the armed force; and when they saw the dust raised by the throng, and heard the loud cries of the crowd,<sup>49</sup> thought that they had come to the last moment of their lives, to the end of what they had tremblingly expected. They gave way, therefore, to lamentations and moans: they kissed each other: those nearest of kin to each other hung about one another's necks: fathers about their sons, mother their daughters: other women held their infants to their breasts, which drew what seemed their last milk.<sup>50</sup> Nevertheless, when they reflected upon the help previously granted them from heaven, they prostrated themselves with one accord; removed even the sucking children from the breasts, and<sup>51</sup> sent up an exceedingly great cry asking the Lord of all power to reveal himself, and have mercy upon those who now lay at the gates of hades.

6 And Eleazar, an illustrious priest of the country, who had attained to length of days, and whose life had been adorned with virtue, caused the elders who were around him to cease to cry out to the holy God, and prayed thus: <sup>2</sup>O king, mighty in power, most high, Almighty God, who regulates the whole creation with your tender mercy, <sup>3</sup>look upon the seed of Abraham, upon the children of the sanctified Jacob, your sanctified inheritance, O Father, now being wrongfully destroyed as strangers in a strange land. <sup>4</sup>You destroyed Pharaoh, with his army of chariots, when that lord of this same Egypt was uplifted with lawless daring and loud-sounding tongue. Shedding the beams of your mercy upon the race of Israel, you did overwhelm him with his proud army. <sup>5</sup>When Sennacherim, the grievous king of the Assyrians, exulting in his countless army, had subdued the whole land with his spear, and was lifting himself against your holy city, with boastings grievous to be endured, you, O Lord, did demolish him and did show forth your might to many nations. <sup>6</sup>When the three friends in the land of Babylon of their own will exposed their lives to the fire rather than serve vain things, you did send a moist coolness through the fiery furnace, and bring the fire upon all their adversaries. <sup>7</sup>It was you who, when Daniel was hurled, through slander and envy, as a prey to lions down below, did bring him back against unhurt to light. <sup>8</sup>When Jonah was pining away in the belly of the sea-bred monster, you did look upon him, O Father, and recover him to the sight of his own. <sup>9</sup>And now, you who hate insolence; you who do abound in mercy; you who are the protector of all things; appear quickly to those of the race of Israel, who are insulted by abhorred, lawless gentiles. <sup>10</sup>If our life has during our exile been stained with iniquity, deliver us from the hand of the enemy, and destroy us, O Lord, by the death which you prefer. <sup>11</sup>Let not the vain-minded congratulate vain idols at the destruction of your beloved, saying, Neither did their god deliver them. <sup>12</sup>You, who are All-powerful and Almighty, O Eternal One, behold! have mercy upon us who are being withdrawn from life, like traitors, by the unreasoning insolence of lawless men. <sup>13</sup>Let the heathen cower before your invincible might today, O glorious One, who have all power to save the race of Jacob. <sup>14</sup>The whole band of infants and their parents with tears beseech you. <sup>15</sup>Let it be shown to all the nations that you are with us, O Lord, and have not turned your face away from us; but as you said that you would not forget them even in the land of their enemies, so do you fulfil this saying, O Lord. <sup>16</sup>Now, at the time that Eleazar had ended his prayer, the king came along to the hippodrome, with the wild beasts, and with his tumultuous power. <sup>17</sup>When the Jews saw this, they uttered a loud cry to heaven, so that the adjacent valleys resounded, and caused an irrepressible lamentation throughout the army. <sup>18</sup>Then the all-glorious, all-powerful, and true God, displayed his holy countenance, and opened the gates of heaven, from which two angels, dreadful of form, came down and were visible to all but the Jews. <sup>19</sup>And they stood opposite, and filled the enemies' army with confusion and cowardice; and bound them with immoveable fetters. <sup>20</sup>And a cold shudder came over the person of the king, and oblivion paralysed the vehemence of his spirit. <sup>21</sup>They turned back the animals upon the armed forces which followed them; and the animals trod them down, and destroyed them. <sup>22</sup>The king's wrath was converted into compassion; and he wept at his own machinations. <sup>23</sup>For when he heard the cry, and saw them all on the verge of destruction, with tears he angrily threatened his friends, saying, <sup>24</sup>You<sup>o</sup> have governed badly; and have exceeded tyrants in cruelty; and me your benefactor you<sup>o</sup> have laboured to deprive at once of my dominion and my life, by secretly devising measures injurious to the kingdom. <sup>25</sup>Who has gathered here, unreasonably removing each from his home, those who, in fidelity to us, had held the fortresses of the country? <sup>26</sup>Who has thus consigned to unmerited punishments those who in good will towards us from the beginning have in all things surpassed all nations, and who often have engaged in the most dangerous undertakings? <sup>27</sup> Loose, loose the unjust bonds; send them to their homes in peace, and deprecate what has been done. <sup>28</sup> Release the sons of the almighty living God of heaven, who from our ancestors' times until now has granted a glorious and uninterrupted prosperity to our affairs. <sup>29</sup> These things he said; and they, released the same moment, having now escaped death, praised God their holy Saviour. <sup>30</sup> The king then departed to the city, and called his financier to him, and asked him provide a seven days' quantity of wine and other materials for feasting for the Jews. He decided that they should keep a gladsome festival of deliverance in the very place in which they expected to meet with their destruction. <sup>31</sup> Then they who were before despised and near to hades, yes, rather advanced into it, partook of the cup of salvation, instead of a grievous and lamentable death. Full of exultation, they parted out the place intended for their fall and burial into banqueting booths. <sup>32</sup> Ceasing their miserable strain of woe, they took up the subject of their fatherland, hymning in praise God their wonder-working Saviour. All groans, all wailing, were laid aside: they formed dances in token of serene joy. <sup>33</sup> So, also, the king collected a number of guests for the occasion, and returned unceasing thanks with much magnificence for the unexpected deliverance afforded him. <sup>34</sup> Those who had marked them out as for death and for carrion, and had registered them with joy, howled aloud, and were clothed with shame, and had the fire of their rage ingloriously put out. <sup>35</sup> But the Jews, as we just said, instituted a dance, and then gave themselves up to feasting, glad thanksgiving, and psalms. <sup>36</sup> They made a public ordinance to commemorate these things for generations to come, as long as they should be sojourners. They thus established these days as days of mirth, not for the purpose of drinking or luxury, but because God had saved them. <sup>37</sup> They requested the king to send them back to their homes. <sup>38</sup> They were being enrolled from the twenty-fifth of Pachon to the fourth of Epiphi, a period of forty days: the measures taken for their destruction lasted from the fifth of Epiphi till the seventh, that is, three days. <sup>39</sup> The Ruler over all did during this time manifest forth his mercy gloriously, and did deliver them all together unharmed. <sup>40</sup> They feasted upon the king's provision up to the fourteenth day, and then asked to be sent away. <sup>41</sup> The king commended them, and wrote the following letter, of magnanimous import for them, to the commanders of every city.

7 King Ptolemy Philopator to the commanders throughout Egypt, and to all who are set over affairs, joy and strength. <sup>2</sup> We, too, and our children are well; and God has directed our affairs as we wish. <sup>3</sup> Certain of our friends did of malice vehemently urge us to punish the Jews of our realm in a body, with the infliction of a monstrous punishment. <sup>4</sup> They pretended that our affairs would never be in a good state till this took place. Such, they said, was the hatred borne by the Jews to all other people. <sup>5</sup> They brought them fettered in grievous chains as slaves, no, as traitors. Without enquiry or examination they endeavored to annihilate them. They buckled themselves with a savage cruelty, worse than Scythian custom. <sup>6</sup> For this cause we severely threatened them; yet, with the clemency which we are wont to extend to all men, we at length permitted them to live. Finding that the God of heaven cast a shield of protection over the Jews so as to preserve them, and that he fought for them as a father always fights for his sons; <sup>7</sup> and taking into consideration their constancy and fidelity towards us and towards our ancestors, we have, as we ought, acquitted them of every sort of charge. <sup>8</sup> And we have dismissed them to their several homes; bidding all men everywhere to do them no wrong, or unrighteously revile them about the past. <sup>9</sup> For know you<sup>o</sup>, that should we conceive any evil design, or in any way aggrieve them, we shall ever have as our opposite, not man, but the highest God, the ruler of all might. From Him there will be no escape, as the avenger of such deeds. Fare you<sup>o</sup> well. <sup>10</sup>When they had received this letter, they were not forward to depart immediately. They petitioned the king to be allowed to inflict fitting punishment upon those of their race who had willingly transgressed the holy god, and the law of God. <sup>11</sup>They alleged that men who had for their bellies' sake transgressed the ordinances of God, would never be faithful to the interests of the king. <sup>12</sup>The king admitted the truth of this reasoning, and commended them. Full power was given them, without warrant or special commission, to destroy those who had transgressed the law of God boldly in every part of the king's dominions. <sup>13</sup>Their priests, then, as it was meet, saluted him with good wishes, and all the people echoed with the Hallelujah. They then joyfully departed. <sup>14</sup>Then they punished and destroyed with ignominy every polluted Jew that fell in their way; <sup>15</sup>slaying thus, in that day, above three hundred men, and esteeming this destruction of the wicked a season of joy. <sup>16</sup>They themselves having held fast their God to death, and having enjoyed a full deliverance, departed from the city garlanded with sweet-flowered wreaths of every kind. Uttering exclamations of joy, with songs of praise, and melodious hymns they thanked the God of their fathers, the eternal Saviour of Israel. <sup>17</sup>Having arrived at Ptolemais, called from the specialty of that district Rose-bearing, where the fleet, in accordance with the general wish, waited for them seven days, <sup>18</sup>they partook of a banquet of deliverance, for the king generously granted them severally the means of securing a return home. <sup>19</sup>They were accordingly brought back in peace, while they gave utterance to becoming thanks; and they determined to keep these days during their sojourn as days of joyfulness. <sup>20</sup>These they registered as sacred upon a pillar, when they had dedicated the place of their festivity to be one of prayer. They departed unharmed, free, abundant in joy, preserved by the king's command, by land, by sea, and by river, each to his own home. <sup>21</sup>They had more weight than before amongst their enemies; and were honoured and feared, and no one in any way robbed them of their goods. <sup>22</sup>Every man received back his own, according to inventory; those who had obtained their goods, giving them up with the greatest terror. For the greatest God made perfect wonders for their salvation. <sup>23</sup>Blessed be the Redeemer of Israel to everlasting. Amen.

THE SECOND BOOK OF ESDRAS

The Second Book of Esdras is included in the Slavonic Bible as 3 Esdras, but is not found in the Greek Septuagint. It is included in the Appendix to the Latin Vulgate Bible as 4 Esdras. It is considered to be Apocrypha by most church traditions. It is preserved here for its supplementary historical value.

1 The second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azaraias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, <sup>2</sup> the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Azieï, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisseï, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, <sup>3</sup> the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

<sup>4</sup> And the word of the Lord came to me, saying, <sup>5</sup> Go your way, and show my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: <sup>6</sup> because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have done sacrifice to strange gods. <sup>7</sup> Did I not bring them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? but they have provoked me to wrath, and have despised my counsels. <sup>8</sup> Shake you then the hair of your head, and cast all evils upon them, for they have not been obedient to my law, but it is a rebellious people. <sup>9</sup> How long shall I forbear them, to whom I have done so much good? <sup>10</sup> I have overthrown many kings for their sakes; I have struck down Pharoah with his servants and all his army. <sup>11</sup> I have destroyed all the nations before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyre and Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. <sup>12</sup> Speak therefore to them, saying,

<sup>13</sup> The Lord says, of a truth I brought you through the sea, and where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest. <sup>14</sup> I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done amongst you; yet have you<sup>o</sup> forgotten me, says the Lord.

<sup>15</sup> The Lord Almighty says, The quails were for a token to you; I gave you a camp for your protection, nevertheless you<sup>o</sup> murmured there: <sup>16</sup> and you<sup>o</sup> triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do you<sup>o</sup> yet murmur. <sup>17</sup> Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when you<sup>o</sup> were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did you<sup>o</sup> not cry to me, <sup>18</sup> saying, Why have you brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness. <sup>19</sup> I had pity upon your mourning, and gave you manna for food; you<sup>o</sup> did eat angels' bread. <sup>20</sup> When you<sup>o</sup> were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees. <sup>21</sup> I divided amongst you fruitful lands; I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? says the Lord.

28 The Lord Almighty says, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes, 29 that you<sup>o</sup> would be my people, and I should be your God; that you<sup>o</sup> would be my children, and I should be your father? 30 I gathered you together, as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do to you? I will cast you out from my presence. 31 When you<sup>o</sup> offer oblations to me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast days, your new moons, and your circumcisions of the flesh, have I rejected. 32 I sent to you my servants the prophets, whom you<sup>o</sup> have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, says the Lord.

33 The Lord Almighty says, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the wind does stubble. 34 And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have neglected my commandment †to you, and done that which is evil before me. 35 I will give your houses to a people that will come; which not having heard of me yet believe me; they to whom I have showed no signs shall do that which I have commanded. 36 They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their former estate to remembrance. 37 I take to witness the grace of the people that shall come, whose little ones rejoice with gladness: and though they see me not with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they shall believe the thing that I say.

38 And now, O father, behold with glory; and see the people that come from the east: 39 to whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggaeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also the angel of the Lord.

2 The Lord says, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets; whom they would not hear, but set my counsels at nothing. 2 The mother that bare them says to them, go your way, O my children; for I am a widow and forsaken. 3 I brought you up with gladness, and with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for you<sup>o</sup> have sinned before the Lord God, and done that which is evil before me. 4 But what shall I now do to you? for I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord. 5 As for me, O father, I call upon you for a witness over the mother of these children, because they would not keep my covenant, 6 that you bring them to confusion, and their mother to a plunder, that there may be no offspring of them. 7 Let them be scattered abroad amongst the heathen, let their names be blotted out of the earth: for they have despised my ‡covenant. 8 Woe to you, Assur, you that hide the unrighteous with you! O you wicked nation, remember what I did to Sodom and Gomorrah; 9 whose land lies in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so I will also do to those who have not listened to me, says the Lord Almighty.

10 The Lord says to Esdras, Tell my people that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given to Israel. 11 I will also take their glory me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them. 12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary. 13 ¶Ask, and you<sup>o</sup> shall receive: pray for few days to you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you: watch. 14 Take heaven and earth to witness, take them to witness; for I have given up the evil, and created the good: for I live, says the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace your children; I will bring them out with gladness like a dove; establish their feet; for I have chosen you, says the Lord. 16 And I will raise those who are dead up again from their places, and bring them out from their tombs: for I have known my name in them. 17 Don't be afraid, you mother of the children: for I have chosen you, says the Lord. 18 For your help I will send my servants Esaias and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for you twelve trees laden with various fruits, 19 and as many springs flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill your children with joy. 20 Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, 21 heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come to the sight of my glory. 22 Keep the old and young within your walls. 23 Wherever you find the dead, set a sign upon them and commit them to the grave, and I will give you the first place in my resurrection. 24 Stay still, O my people, and take your rest, for your quietness shall come. 25 Nourish your children, O you good nurse, and establish their feet. 26 As for the servants whom I have given you, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from amongst your number. 27 Be not careful overmuch: for when the day of suffering and anguish comes, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but you shall be merry and have abundance. 28 The nations shall envy you, but they shall be able to do nothing against you, says the Lord. 29 My hands shall cover you, so that your children see not hell. 30 Be joyful, O you mother, with your children; for I will deliver you, says the Lord. 31 Remember your children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and show mercy to them: for I am merciful, says the Lord Almighty. 32 Embrace your children until I come, and proclaim mercy to them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

33 I Esdras received a charge from the Lord upon the mount Horeb, that I should go to Israel; but when I came to them, they would none of me, and rejected the commandment of the Lord. 34 And therefore I say to you, O you nations, that hear and understand, look for your shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is near at hand, that shall come in the end of the world. 35 Be ready to the rewards of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore. 36 Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory: I call to witness my saviour openly. 37 O receive that which is given you of the Lord, and be joyful, giving thanks to him that has called you to heavenly kingdoms. 38 Arise up and stand, and behold the number of those that be sealed in the feast of the Lord; 39 those who withdrew them from the shadow of the world have received glorious garments of the Lord. 40 Look upon your number, O Sion, and make up the reckoning of those of your that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord. 41 The number of your children, whom you long for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that your people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

42 I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great multitude, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs. 43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted. I marvelled greatly at this. 44 So I asked the angel, and said, What are these, my Lord? 45 He answered and said to me, These be those who have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and receive palms. <sup>46</sup>Then said I to the angel, What young man is he that sets crowns upon them, and gives them palms in their hands? <sup>47</sup>So he answered and said to me, It is the Son of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend those who stood so stiffly for the name of the Lord. <sup>48</sup>Then the angel said to me, Go your way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord God you have seen.

3 In the thirties year after the ruin of the city, I Salathiel (also called Esdras) was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart: <sup>2</sup>for I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of those who lived at Babylon. <sup>3</sup>And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most High, and said, <sup>4</sup>O Lord that bear rule, did you not not speak at the beginning, when you did fashion the earth, and that yourself alone, and command the ~~##~~dust. <sup>5</sup>and it ¶gave you Adam, a body without a soul? yet it was the workmanship of your hands, and you did breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before you. <sup>6</sup>And you led him into paradise, which your right hand did plant, before ever the earth came forward. <sup>7</sup>And to him you gave your one commandment: which he transgressed, and immediately you appointed death for him and in his generations; and there were born of him nations and tribes, peoples and kindred, out of number. <sup>8</sup>And every nation walked after their own will, and did ungodly things before you, and despised your commandments, and you didn't forbid them. <sup>9</sup>Nevertheless again in process of time you brought the flood upon those that lived in the world, and destroyed them. <sup>10</sup>And it came to pass that the same hap befell them; like as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these. <sup>11</sup>Nevertheless one of them you left, Noah with his household, even all the righteous men that came of him. <sup>12</sup>And it came to pass, that when those who lived upon the earth began to multiply, they multiplied also children, and peoples, and many nations, and began again to be more ungodly than the first. <sup>13</sup>And it came to pass, when they did wickedly before you, you did choose you one from amongst them, whose name was Abraham; <sup>14</sup>and him you loved, and to him only you showed the end of the times secretly by night: <sup>15</sup>and made an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that you would never forsake his seed. <sup>16</sup>And to him you gave Isaac, and to Isaac you gave Jacob and Esau. And you did set apart Jacob for yourself, but did put by Esau: and Jacob became a great multitude. <sup>17</sup>And it came to pass, that when you led his seed out of Egypt, you brought them up to the mount Sinai. <sup>18</sup>You bowed the heavens also, and did §§shake the earth, and movedst the whole world, and made the depths to tremble, and troubled the course of that age. <sup>19</sup>And your glory went through four gates, of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that you might give the law to the seed of Jacob, and the commandment to the generation of Israel. <sup>20</sup>And yet took you not away from them their *wicked heart, that your law might bring forth fruit in them. <sup>21</sup>For the first Adam bearing a †wicked heart transgressed, and was overcome; and not he only, but all they also that are born of him. <sup>22</sup>Thus disease was made permanent; and the law was in the heart of the people along with the wickedness of the root; so the good departed away, and that which was wicked abode still. <sup>23</sup> So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then did you raise you up a servant, called David, <sup>24</sup> whom you commanded to build a city to your name, and to offer oblations to you therein of your own. <sup>25</sup> When this was done many years, then those who inhabited the city did evil, <sup>26</sup> in all things doing even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also bare a wicked heart: <sup>27</sup> and so you gave your city over into the hands of your enemies. <sup>28</sup> And I said then in my heart, are their deeds any better that inhabit Babylon? and has she therefore dominion over Sion? <sup>29</sup> For it came to pass when I came here, that I saw also impieties without number, and my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirties year, so that my heart failed me. <sup>30</sup> For I have seen how you suffer them sinning, and have spared the ungodly doers, and have destroyed your people, and have preserved your enemies; and you have not signified <sup>31</sup> to any how your way may be comprehended. Are the deeds of Babylon better than those of Sion? <sup>32</sup> Or is there any other nation that knows you beside Israel? or what tribes have so believed your covenants as these tribes of Jacob? <sup>33</sup> And yet their reward appears not, and their labour has no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the nations, and I see that they abound in wealth, and think not upon your commandments. <sup>34</sup> Weigh you therefore our iniquities now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world; and so shall it be found which way the scale inclines. <sup>35</sup> Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in your sight? or what nation has so kept your commandments? <sup>36</sup> You shall find that men who may be reckoned by name have kept your precepts; but nations you shall not find.

4 And the angel that was sent to me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer, <sup>2</sup> and said to me, your heart has utterly failed you in regarding this world, and think you to comprehend the way of the Most High?

<sup>3</sup> Then said I, Yes my Lord.

And he answered me, and said, I am sent to show you three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before you: <sup>4</sup> whereof if you can declare me one, I also will show you the way that you desire to see, and I will teach you wherefore the heart is wicked.

<sup>5</sup> And I said, say on, my Lord.

Then said he to me, Go to, weigh me a weight of fire, or measure me a measure of wind, or call me again the day that is past.

<sup>6</sup> Then answered I and said, who of the sons of men is able to do this, that you should ask me of such things?

<sup>7</sup> And he said to me, If I had asked you, saying, How many dwellings are there in the heart of the sea? or how many springs are there at the fountain head of the deep? or how many ways are above the firmament? or which are the exits of hell? or which are the paths of paradise? <sup>8</sup> perhaps you would say to me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven. <sup>9</sup> Nevertheless now have I asked you but only of the fire and wind, and of the day, things wherethrough you have passed, and *without which you can not be, and yet have you given me no answer of them.

<sup>10</sup>He said moreover to me, Your own things, that are grown up with you, can you not know; <sup>11</sup>how then can your vessel comprehend the way of the Most High? and how can he that is already worn out with the corrupted world understand †incorruption?

<sup>12</sup>‡And when I heard these things I fell upon my face, and said to him, It were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come here and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

<sup>13</sup>He answered me, and said, ¶The woods of the trees of the field went forth, and took counsel together, <sup>14</sup>and said, Come! Let's go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. <sup>15</sup>The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come! Let's go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us another country. <sup>16</sup>The counsel of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it: <sup>17</sup>likewise also the counsel of the waves of the sea, for the sand stood up and stopped them. <sup>18</sup>If you were judge now between these two, whom would you justify, or whom condemn?

<sup>19</sup>I answered and said, it is a foolish counsel that they both have taken, for the ground is given to the wood, and the place of the sea is given to bear his waves.

<sup>20</sup>Then answered he me, and said, You have given a right judgement, and why judge you not in your own case? <sup>21</sup>For like as the ground is given to the wood, and the sea to his waves, even so those who dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he only that dwells above the heavens may understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

<sup>22</sup>Then answered I and said, I beseech you, O Lord, §wherefore is the power of understanding given to me? <sup>23</sup>For it was not in my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass by us daily; because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom you have loved is given over to ungodly nations, and the law of our forefathers is made of none effect, and the written covenants are nowhere regarded, <sup>24</sup>and we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is as a **vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mercy. <sup>25</sup>What will he then do for his name whereby we are called? Of these things have I asked.

<sup>26</sup>Then he answered me, and said, if you be alive you shall see, and if you live ††long, you shall marvel; for the world hastens fast to pass away. <sup>27</sup>For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: for this world is full of sadness and infirmities. <sup>28</sup>For the evil ‡‡whereof you asked me is sown, but the gathering thereof is not yet come. <sup>29</sup>If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, there can't come the field where the good is sown. <sup>30</sup>For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness has it brought forth to this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth until the ¶time of threshing come! <sup>31</sup> Ponder now by yourself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil seed has brought forth. <sup>32</sup> When the ears which are without number shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

<sup>33</sup> Then I answered and said, §§How long? and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

<sup>34</sup> And he answered me, and said, You do not hasten more than the Most High: for your haste is *for your own self, but he that is above hastens on behalf of many. <sup>35</sup> Did not the souls of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long †are we here? when comes the fruit of the ‡threshing time of our reward? <sup>36</sup> And to them Jeremiel the archangel gave answer, and said, Even when the number is fulfilled of those who are like to you. For he has weighed the world in the balance; <sup>37</sup> and by measure has he measured the times, and by number has he counted the seasons; and he shall not ¶move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

<sup>38</sup> Then answered I and said, O Lord that bear rule, yet even we all are full of impiety: <sup>39</sup> and for our sakes perhaps it is that the §threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of those who dwell upon the earth. <sup>40</sup> So he answered me, and said, Go your way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she has fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

And he said to me, in the grave the chambers of souls are like the womb: <sup>42</sup> for like as a woman that travails makes haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed to them from the beginning. <sup>43</sup> Then shall it be showed you concerning those things which you desire to see.

<sup>44</sup> Then answered I and said, if I have found favour in your sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, <sup>45</sup> show me this also, whether there be more to come than is past, or whether the more part is gone over us. <sup>46</sup> For what is gone I know, but what is for to come I know not.

<sup>47</sup> And he said to me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude to you.

<sup>48</sup> so I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. <sup>49</sup> After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

<sup>50</sup> Then said he to me, Consider with yourself; as the rain is more than the drops, and the fire is greater than the smoke, so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

<sup>51</sup> Then I prayed, and said, May I live, think you, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

<sup>52</sup> He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof you asked me, I may tell you of them in part: but as touching your life, I am not sent to show you; for I do not know it.

dwell upon earth shall be taken **with great amazement, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith. <sup>2</sup> But iniquity shall be increased above that which now you see, or that you have heard long ago. <sup>3</sup> And the land, that you see now to have rule, shall be waste and ††untrodden, and men shall see it desolate. <sup>4</sup> But if the Most High grant you to live, you shall see that which is after the third kingdom to be troubled; and the sun shall suddenly shine forth in the night, and the moon in the day: <sup>5</sup> and blood shall drop out of wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the peoples shall be troubled; and ††their goings shall be changed: <sup>6</sup> and he shall rule, whom those who dwell upon the earth look not for, and the fowls shall take their flight away together: <sup>7</sup> and the Sodomite sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but all shall hear the voice thereof. <sup>8</sup> There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be often sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters: <sup>9</sup> and salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber; <sup>10</sup> and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found: and unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. <sup>11</sup> One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that does righteousness, gone through you? And it shall say, No. <sup>12</sup> And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. <sup>13</sup> To show you such tokens I have leave; and if you will pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, you shall hear yet greater things than these.

<sup>14</sup> Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted. <sup>15</sup> So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. <sup>16</sup> And in the second night it came to pass, that ¶¶Phaltiel the captain of the people came to me, saying, Where have you been? and why is your countenance sad? <sup>17</sup> or know you not that Israel is committed to you in the land of their captivity? <sup>18</sup> Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaves in the hands of cruel wolves. <sup>19</sup> Then said I to him, Go your ways from me, and come not near me for seven days, and then shall you come to me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

<sup>20</sup> And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me. <sup>21</sup> And after seven days, so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous to me again, <sup>22</sup> and my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to speak words before the Most High again, <sup>23</sup> and said, O Lord that bear rule, of all the woods of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, you have chosen you one vine: <sup>24</sup> and of all the lands of the world you have chosen you one §§country: and of all the flowers of the world you have chosen you one lily: <sup>25</sup> and of all the depths of the sea you have filled you one river: and of all built cities you have hallowed Sion to yourself: <sup>26</sup> and of all the fowls that are created you have named you one dove: and of all the cattle that are made you have provided you one sheep: <sup>27</sup> and amongst all the multitudes of peoples you have gotten you one people: and to this people, whom you loved, you gave a law that is approved of all. <sup>28</sup> And now, O Lord, why have you given this one people over to many, and *have dishonoured the one root above others, and have scattered your only one amongst many? <sup>29</sup> And they which did gain-say your promises have trodden them down that believed your covenants. <sup>30</sup> If you do so much hate your people, they should be punished with your own hands.

<sup>31</sup> Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night before was sent to me, <sup>32</sup> and said to me, Hear me, and I will instruct you; listen to me, and I shall tell you more.

<sup>33</sup> And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he to me, You are sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: love you that people better than he that made them?

<sup>34</sup> And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

<sup>35</sup> And he said to me, You can not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

<sup>36</sup> And he said to me, Number me those who are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, <sup>37</sup> open me the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or show me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to you the travail that you asked to see.

<sup>38</sup> And I said, O Lord that bear rule, who may know these things, but he that has not his dwelling with men? <sup>39</sup> As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof you asked me?

<sup>40</sup> Then said he to me, Just as you can do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so can you not find out my judgement, or the end of the love that I have promised to my people.

<sup>41</sup> And I said, But, behold, O Lord, you have made the promise to those who be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we that be now, or those who shall come after us?

<sup>42</sup> And he said to me, I will liken my judgement to a ring: like as there is no slackness of those who are last, even so there is no swiftness of those who be first.

<sup>43</sup> So I answered and said, Coudest you not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; that you might show your judgement the sooner?

<sup>44</sup> Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

<sup>45</sup> And I said, How have you said to your servant, that †you will surely make alive at once the creature that you have created? ‡If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

<sup>46</sup> And he said to me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say to her, If you bring forth ten children, why do you it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

<sup>47</sup> And I said, she can't: but must do it by distance of time.

<sup>48</sup> Then said he to me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. <sup>49</sup> For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked, and said, Seeing you have now showed me the way, I will speak before you: Is our mother, of whom you have told me, still young? or does she now draw near to age?

51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that bears children, and she shall tell you. 52 Say to her, wherefore are not they whom you have now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? 53 And she also shall answer you, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and those who are born in the time of age, when the womb fails, are otherwise. 54 Consider therefore you also, how that you<sup>o</sup> are less of stature than those that were before you. 55 And so are those who come after you less than you<sup>o</sup>, as born of the creature which now begins to be old, and is past the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech you, if I have found favour in your sight, show your servant by whom you visit your creature.

6 And he said to me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the portals of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, 2 before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid, 3 before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before the innumerable army of angels were gathered together, 4 or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the footstool of Sion ¶was established, 5 and before the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of those who now sin were estranged, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure: 6 then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I and said, what shall be the parting asunder of the times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that follows?

8 And he said to me, From §Abraham to **Abraham, inasmuch as Jacob and Esau were born of him, for Jacob's hand held the heel of Esau from the beginning. 9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that follows. 10 ††The beginning of a man is his hand, and the end of a man is his heel; between the heel and the hand seek you nothing else, Esdras.

11 I answered then and said, O Lord that bear rule, If I have found favour in your sight, 12 I beseech you, show your servant the end of your tokens, whereof you showed me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said to me, Stand up upon your feet, and you shall hear a mighty sounding voice; 14 and if the place you stand on is greatly moved, 15 when it speaks be you not afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth shall understand, 16 that the speech is of them: they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and listened, and, behold, there was a voice that spoke, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters. 18 And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw near to visit those who dwell upon the earth, 19 and when I shall make inquisition of those who have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, 20 and when the seal shall be set upon the world that is to pass away, then I will show these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: <sup>21</sup> and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and they shall live, and dance. <sup>22</sup> And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: <sup>23</sup> and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man hears, they shall be suddenly afraid. <sup>24</sup> At that time shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the springs shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not run. <sup>25</sup> And it shall be that whoever remains after all these things that I have told you of, he shall be saved, and shall see my salvation, and the end of my world. <sup>26</sup> And they shall see the men that have been taken up, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. <sup>27</sup> For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; <sup>28</sup> and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which has been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

think vain things, that you may not hasten in the latter times.

<sup>35</sup> And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. <sup>36</sup> And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High. <sup>37</sup> For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. <sup>38</sup> And I said, O Lord, of a truth you spoke at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and said thus; Let heaven and earth be made; and your word perfected the work. <sup>39</sup> And then was the spirit hovering, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet.* <sup>40</sup> Then command you a ray of light to be brought forth of your treasures, that then your works might appear. <sup>41</sup> Upon the second day again you made the spirit of the firmament and commanded it to part asunder, and to make a division between the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath. <sup>42</sup> Upon the third day you did command that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth: six parts did you dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might serve before you. <sup>43</sup> For as soon as your word went forth the work was done. <sup>44</sup> For immediately there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and flowers of inimitable colour, and odours of most exquisite smell: and this was done the third day. <sup>45</sup> Upon the fourth day you commanded that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their order: <sup>46</sup> and gave them a charge to do service to man, that was to be made. <sup>47</sup> Upon the fifth day you said to the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass, <sup>48</sup> that the mute water and without life brought forth living things as it was told, that the peoples might therefore praise your wondrous works. <sup>49</sup> Then did you preserve two living creatures, the one you calledst Behemoth, and the other you calledst Leviathan: <sup>50</sup> and you did separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. <sup>51</sup> To Behemoth you gave one part, which was dried up on the third day, that he should dwell in it, wherein are a thousand hills: <sup>52</sup> but to Leviathan you gave the seventh part, namely, the moist; and you have kept them to be devoured of whom you will, and when. <sup>53</sup> But upon the sixth day you gave commandment to the earth, that it should bring forth before you cattle, beasts, and creeping things: <sup>54</sup> and over these Adam, whom you ordain lord over all the works that you have made: of him come we all, the people whom you have chosen. <sup>55</sup> All this have I spoken before you, O Lord, because you have said that for our sakes you made †this world. <sup>56</sup> As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, you have said that they are nothing, and are like to spittle: and you have likened the abundance of them to a drop that falls from a vessel. <sup>57</sup> And now, O Lord, behold these nations, which are reputed as nothing, be lords over us, and devour us. <sup>58</sup> But we your people, whom you have called your firstborn, your only begotten, and your fervent lover, are given into their hands. <sup>59</sup> If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? How long shall this endure?

7 And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent to me the angel which had been sent to me the nights before: <sup>2</sup> and he said to me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell you. <sup>3</sup> And

I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then he said to me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be ‡broad and vast. <sup>4</sup> But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; <sup>5</sup> whoso then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad? <sup>6</sup> Another thing also: There is a city built and set in a plain country, and full of all good things; <sup>7</sup> but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, having a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water: <sup>8</sup> and there is one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once. <sup>9</sup> If this city now be given to a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger before him, how shall he receive his inheritance? <sup>10</sup> And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he to me, Even so also is Israel's portion. <sup>11</sup> Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done. <sup>12</sup> Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and charged with great toils. <sup>13</sup> For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth fruit of immortality. <sup>14</sup> If then those who live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore why you disquiet yourself, seeing you are but a corruptible man? and why are you moved, whereas you are but mortal? <sup>16</sup> and why have you not considered in your mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? <sup>17</sup> Then answered I and said, O Lord that bear rule, behold, you have ordained in your law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. <sup>18</sup> The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but those who have done wickedly ¶have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. <sup>19</sup> And he said to me, §You are not a judge above God, neither have you understanding above the Most High. <sup>20</sup> Yes, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which is set before them be despised. <sup>21</sup> For God straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. <sup>22</sup> Nevertheless they were not obedient to him; but spoke against him, and imagined for themselves vain things; <sup>23</sup> and framed cunning plans of wickedness; and said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways: <sup>24</sup> but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works. <sup>25</sup> Therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. <sup>26</sup> For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, when these tokens, of which I told you before, shall come to pass, that the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth. <sup>27</sup> And whoever is delivered from the aforesaid evils shall see my wonders. <sup>28</sup> For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice those who remain four hundred years. <sup>29</sup> After these years shall my son Christ die of those who, and all that have the breath of **life. <sup>30</sup> And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning; so that no man shall remain. <sup>31</sup> And after seven days the world, that yet awakens not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. <sup>32</sup> And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the ††secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed to them. <sup>33</sup> And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement, ††and compassion shall pass away, and patience shall be withdrawn: <sup>34</sup> but judgement only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong: <sup>35</sup> and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be showed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. ¶¶<sup>36</sup> And the §§pit of torment shall appear, and near it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of *shall be showed, and near it the paradise of delight. <sup>37</sup> And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See you° and understand whom you° have denied, or whom you° have not served, or whose commandments you° have despised. <sup>38</sup> Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. ‡7:41 Or, storm light, save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them; <sup>43</sup>for it shall endure as it were a week of years. <sup>44</sup>This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof; but to you only have I showed these things.

<sup>45</sup>And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: blessed are those who are now alive and keep the statutes ordained of you. <sup>46</sup>But as touching them for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? for who is there of those who are alive that has not sinned, and who of the sons of men that has not transgressed your covenant? <sup>47</sup>And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments to many. <sup>48</sup>For an evil heart has grown up in us, which has led us astray from these statutes, and has brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, has showed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well near all that have been created.

<sup>49</sup>And he answered me, and said, Listen to me, and I will instruct you; and I will admonish you yet again: <sup>50</sup>for this cause the Most High has not made one world, but two. <sup>51</sup>For whereas you have said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer thereto. <sup>52</sup>If you have exceedingly few choice stones, ¶will you set for you near them according to their number things of lead and clay?

<sup>54</sup>And he said to me, Not only this, but ask the earth, and she shall tell you; entreat her, and she shall declare to you. <sup>55</sup>For you shall say to her, You bring forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: <sup>56</sup>but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. <sup>57</sup>Judge you therefore which things are precious and to be desired, what is abundant or what is rare.

<sup>58</sup>And I said, O Lord that bear rule, that which is plentiful is of less worth, for that which is more rare is more precious.

<sup>59</sup>And he answered me, and said, §Weigh within yourself the things that you have thought, for he that has what is hard to get rejoices over him that has what is plentiful. <sup>60</sup>So also is the **judgement which I have promised: for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as these are those who have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom my name is now named. <sup>61</sup>And I will not grieve over the multitude of those who perish; for these are those who are now like to vapour, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

<sup>62</sup>And I answered and said, O you earth, wherefore have you brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust, like as all other created things? <sup>63</sup>For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might not have been made therefrom. <sup>64</sup>But now the mind grows with us, and by reason of this we are tormented, because we perish and know it. <sup>65</sup>Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the four-footed beasts and the cattle rejoice. <sup>66</sup>For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised to them after death. <sup>67</sup>For what does it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but yet be afflicted with torment? <sup>68</sup>For all that are born are ††defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: <sup>69</sup>and if after death we were not to come into judgement, perhaps it had been better for us.

70 And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all those who came of him, he first prepared the Judgement and the things that pertain to the judgement. 71 And now understand from your own words, for you have said that the mind grows with us. 72 They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, that having understanding they have done iniquity, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. 73 What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? 74 For how great a time has the Most High been patient with those who inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he has foreordained!

75 And I answered and said, if I have found grace in your sight, O Lord, show this also to your servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us gives up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, in which you shall renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

76 And he answered me, and said, I will show you this also; but join not yourself with those who are scorers, nor count yourself with those who are tormented. 77 For you have a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be showed you until the last times. 78 For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence has gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaves the body to return again to him who gave it, it adores the glory of the Most High first of all. 79 And if it be one of those that have been scorers and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate those who fear ††God, 80 these spirits shall not enter into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. 81 The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. 82 The second way, because they can't now make a good returning that they may live. 83 The third way, they shall see the reward laid up for those who have believed the covenants of the Most High. 84 The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. 85 The fifth way, they shall see the dwelling places of the others guarded by angels, with great quietness. 86 The sixth way, they shall see ¶¶how forthwith some of them shall pass into torment. 87 The seventh way, which is §§more grievous than all the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with *shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned while living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. 88 Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible vessel. 89 In the time † that they lived therein they painfully served the Most High, and were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of the lawgiver perfectly. 90 Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: 91 First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who takes them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. 92 The first order, because they have laboured with great effort to overcome the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. 93 The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and the punishment that awaits them. <sup>94</sup>The third order, they see the witness which he that fashioned them bears concerning them, that while they lived they kept the law which was given them in trust. <sup>95</sup>The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaits them in the last days. <sup>96</sup>The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover the straitness and the †painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality. <sup>97</sup>The sixth order, when it is showed to them how their face shall shine as the sun, and how they shall be made like to the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. <sup>98</sup>The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom they shall receive their reward in glory. <sup>99</sup>This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth ¶his announcer to them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which those who would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. <sup>100</sup>And I answered and said, shall time therefore be given to the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof you have spoken to me? <sup>101</sup>And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof you have been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together in their habitations. <sup>102</sup>And I answered and said, if I have found favour in your sight, show further to me your servant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to entreat the Most High for them, <sup>103</sup>whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or kindred for kindred, or kinsfolk for their next of kin, or §friends for those who are most dear. <sup>104</sup>And he answered me, and said, Since you have found favour in my sight, I will show you this also: The day of judgement is **a day of decision, and displays to all the seal of truth; even as now a father sends not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a ††friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may ††be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: <sup>105</sup>so never shall anyone pray for another ¶¶in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, for then shall everyone will each bear his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

<sup>106</sup>And I answered and said, How do we now find that first Abraham prayed for the people of Sodom, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness: <sup>107</sup>and Joshua after him for Israel in the days of §§Achar: <sup>108</sup>and Samuel *in the days of Saul; and David for the plague: and Solomon for those who should worship in the sanctuary: <sup>109</sup>and Elijah for those that received rain; and for the dead, that he might live: <sup>110</sup>and Hezekiah for the people in the days of Sennacherib: and many for many? <sup>111</sup>If therefore now, when corruption is grown up, and unrighteousness increased, the righteous have prayed for the ungodly, wherefore shall it not be so then also?

<sup>112</sup>He answered me, and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory remains †not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for the weak. <sup>113</sup>But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time, ‡and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is passed away, <sup>114</sup>intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up. <sup>115</sup>Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down him that has gotten the victory.

<sup>116</sup>I answered then and said, this is my first and last saying, that it had been better that the earth had not given you Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. <sup>117</sup>For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? <sup>118</sup>O you Adam, what have you done? For though it was you that sinned, the evil is not fallen on you alone, but upon all of us that come of you. <sup>119</sup>For what profit is it to us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death? <sup>120</sup>And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? <sup>121</sup>And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? <sup>122</sup>And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? <sup>123</sup>And that there shall be showed a paradise, whose fruit endures without decay, wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not enter into it, <sup>124</sup>for we have walked in unpleasant places? <sup>125</sup>And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness? <sup>126</sup>For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

<sup>127</sup>Then he answered and said, This is the †condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; <sup>128</sup>that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as you have said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. <sup>129</sup>For this is the way whereof Moses spoke to the people while he lived, saying, Choose you life, that you may live. <sup>130</sup>Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken to them; <sup>131</sup>so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as there shall be joy over those who are persuaded to salvation.

<sup>132</sup>I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, in that he has mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world; <sup>133</sup>and compassionate, in that he has compassion upon those that turn to his law; <sup>134</sup>and patient, for that he long suffers those that have sinned, as his creatures; <sup>135</sup>and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; <sup>136</sup>and of great mercy, for that he multiplies more and more mercies to those who are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come; <sup>137</sup>(for if he multiplied not his mercies, the world would not continue with those who dwell therein;) <sup>138</sup>and one that forgives, for if he didn't forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain living; <sup>139</sup>and a judge, for if he didn't pardon those who were created by his word, and blot out the multitude of †offences, <sup>140</sup>there would perhaps be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

8 And he answered me, and said, The Most High has made this world for many, but the world to come for few. <sup>2</sup>I will tell you now a similitude, Esdras; As when you asks the earth, it shall say to you, that it gives very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold comes of: even so is the course of the present world. <sup>3</sup>There be many created, but few shall be saved.

<sup>4</sup>And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. <sup>5</sup>For you **are come here without your will, and depart when you would not: for there is given you no longer space than only to live a short time. <sup>6</sup>O Lord, that are over us, suffer your servant, that we may pray before you, and give us seed to our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who bears the ††likeness of a man. <sup>7</sup>For you are alone, and we all one workmanship of your hands, like as you have said. <sup>8</sup>Forasmuch as you quicken the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and give it members, your creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months does your workmanship endure your creature which is created in her. <sup>9</sup>But that which keeps and that which is kept shall both be kept ‡‡by your keeping: and when the womb gives up again that which has grown in it, <sup>10</sup>you have commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, <sup>11</sup>that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards you shall order it in your mercy. <sup>12</sup>Yes, you have brought it up in your righteousness, and nurtured it in your law, and corrected it with your judgement. <sup>13</sup>And you shall mortify it as your creature, and quicken it as your work. <sup>14</sup>If therefore you shall ¶¶lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned by your commandment, to what purpose was he made? <sup>15</sup>Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, you know best; but touching your people I will speak, for whose sake I am sorry; <sup>16</sup>and for your inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; <sup>17</sup>therefore I will begin to pray before you for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; <sup>18</sup>but I have heard the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. <sup>19</sup>Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before you.

those who have served you in truth, <sup>27</sup> Regard not the doings of those who deal wickedly, but of those who have kept your covenants in affliction. <sup>28</sup> Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before you; but remember them which have willingly known your fear. <sup>29</sup> Let it not be your will to destroy them which have lived like cattle; but look upon those who have †clearly taught your law. <sup>30</sup> Take you no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love those who have always put their trust in your glory. <sup>31</sup> For we and our fathers have ‡passed our lives in ¶ways that bring death: but you because of us sinners §are called merciful. <sup>32</sup> For if you have a desire to have mercy upon us, then shall you be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of righteousness. <sup>33</sup> For the just, which have many good works laid up with you, shall for their own deeds receive reward. <sup>34</sup> For what is man, that you should take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that you should be so bitter towards it? <sup>35</sup> For in truth there is no man amongst those who are born, but he has dealt wickedly; and amongst them **that have lived there is none which have not done amiss. <sup>36</sup> For in this, O Lord, your righteousness and your goodness shall be declared, if you be merciful to them which have no store of good works.

<sup>37</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Some things have you spoken aright, and according to your words so shall it come to pass. <sup>38</sup> For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction; <sup>39</sup> but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have. <sup>40</sup> Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be. <sup>41</sup> For as the husbandman sows much seed upon the ground, and plants many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall ††come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so those who are sown in the world shall not all be saved.

<sup>42</sup> I answered then and said, if I have found favour, let me speak before you. <sup>43</sup> Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it has not received your rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, ‡‡so perishes; <sup>44</sup> likewise man, which is formed with your hands, and is called your own image, because he is made like to you, for whose sake you have formed all things, even him have you made like to the husbandman's seed. <sup>45</sup> Be not angry with us, but spare your people, and have mercy upon your inheritance; for you have mercy upon your own creation.

<sup>46</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for those who now be, and things to come for such as shall be hereafter. <sup>47</sup> For you come far short that you should be able to love my creature more than I. But you have brought yourself full near to the unrighteous. Let this never be. <sup>48</sup> Yet in this shall you be admirable to the Most High; <sup>49</sup> in that you have humbled yourself, as it becomes you, and have not judged yourself worthy to be amongst the righteous, so as to be much glorified. <sup>50</sup> For many grievous miseries shall fall on those who in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride. <sup>51</sup> But understand you for yourself, and of such as be like you seek out the glory.

Then answered I and said, <sup>63</sup> Behold, O Lord, now have you showed me the multitude of the wonders, which you will do in the last times: but at what time, you have not showed me.

9 And he answered me, and said, Measure you diligently within yourself: and when you see that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told you beforehand, <sup>2</sup> then shall you understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High will visit the world which was made by him. <sup>3</sup> And when there shall be seen in the world earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, plans of nations, wavering of leaders, disquietude of princes, <sup>4</sup> then shall you understand, that the Most High spoke of these things from the days that were aforesaid from the beginning. <sup>5</sup> For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning *is evident, and the end manifest; <sup>6</sup> so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in effects and signs. <sup>7</sup> And everyone that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, or by faith, whereby he has believed, <sup>8</sup> shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders, which I have sanctified for me from the beginning. <sup>9</sup> Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways: and those who have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments. <sup>10</sup> For as many as in their life have received benefits, and yet have not known me; <sup>11</sup> and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and, when as yet place of repentance was open to them, understood not, but despised †it, <sup>12</sup> must know ‡it after death by torment. <sup>13</sup> And therefore be you no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but enquire how the righteous shall be saved, ¶they whose the world is, and for whom the world was created.

work is, such also is the judgement on it; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing floor also. For there was a time in the world, <sup>18</sup> even then when I was preparing for those who now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spoke against me, <sup>19</sup> for <sup>**</sup>there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both ††with a table that fails not, and a law which is unsearchable, are corrupted in their manners. <sup>20</sup> So I considered my world, and, behold, it was destroyed, and my earth, and, behold, it was in peril, because of the plans that had come into it. <sup>21</sup> And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and a plant out of ‡‡a great forest. <sup>22</sup> Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labour have I made them perfect. <sup>23</sup> Nevertheless if you will cease yet seven days more, (however you shall not fast in them, <sup>24</sup> but shall go into a field of flowers, where no house is built, and eat only of the flowers of the field; and you shall taste no flesh, and shall drink no wine, but shall eat flowers only;) <sup>25</sup> and pray to the Most High continually, then I will come and talk with you.

<sup>26</sup> So I went my way, like as he commanded me, into the field which is called ¶¶Ardat; and there I sat amongst the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and its meat satisfied me. <sup>27</sup> And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, and my heart was vexed again, like as before: <sup>28</sup> and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before the Lord Most High, and said, <sup>29</sup> O Lord, you did show yourself amongst us, to our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, where no man treads and that bears no fruit; <sup>30</sup> and you did say, Hear me, you Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. <sup>31</sup> For, behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and you<sup>o</sup> shall be glorified in it forever. <sup>32</sup> But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and the fruit of the law didn't perish, neither could it, for it was your; <sup>33</sup> yet those who received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. <sup>34</sup> And, behold, it is a custom, that when the ground has received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it comes to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, <sup>35</sup> or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it has not happened so. <sup>36</sup> For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. <sup>37</sup> Notwithstanding the law perishes not, but remains in its honour.

<sup>38</sup> And when I spoke these things in my heart, I looked about me with my eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and her clothes were tore, and she had ashes upon her head. <sup>39</sup> Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, and turned me to her, <sup>40</sup> and said to her, Why do you weep? and why are you grieved in your mind?

<sup>41</sup> And she said to me, Let me alone, my Lord, that I may bewail myself, and add to my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

these thirty years did I make my prayer to the Most High day and night. <sup>45</sup> And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me your handmaid, and looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and all my §§neighbours: and we gave great honour to the Mighty. <sup>46</sup> And I nourished him with great travail. <sup>47</sup> So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, I made him a feast day.

10 And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. <sup>2</sup> Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my *neighbours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet to the second day at night. <sup>3</sup> And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came here into this field, as you see. <sup>4</sup> And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

are grieved but for one? <sup>12</sup> but if you say to me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, for I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows: <sup>13</sup> but it is with the earth after the manner of the earth; the multitude present in it is gone, as it came: <sup>14</sup> then say I to you, Just as you have brought forth with sorrow; even so the earth also has given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning to him that made her. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore keep your sorrow to yourself, and bear with a good courage the adversities which have befallen you. <sup>16</sup> For if you shall acknowledge the decree of God to be just, you shall both receive your son in time, and shall be praised amongst women. <sup>17</sup> Go your way then into the city to your husband.

<sup>18</sup> And she said to me, "I won't do that. I will not go into the city, but I will die here."

<sup>19</sup> So I proceeded to speak further to her, and said, <sup>20</sup> Do not so, but suffer yourself to be prevailed on by reason of the adversities of Sion; and be comforted by reason of the sorrow of Jerusalem. <sup>21</sup> For you see that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed; <sup>22</sup> our lute is brought low, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end; the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is plundered, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are spitefully treated, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, our young men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weak; <sup>23</sup> and, what is more than all, the seal of Sion—for she has now lost the seal of her honour, and is delivered into the hands of those who hate us. <sup>24</sup> You therefore shake off your great heaviness, and put away from you the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful to you again, and the Most High may give you rest, even ease from your travails.

25 And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistened like lightning, so that I was sore afraid ¶of her, and mused what this might be; 26 and, behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful; so that the earth shook at the noise. 27 And I looked, and, behold, the woman appeared to me no more, but there was a city built, and a place showed itself from large foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, 28 Where is Uriel the angel, who came to me at the first? for he has caused me to fall into this great trance, and my end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. 29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, the angel who had come to me at the first came to me, and he looked upon me: 30 and, behold, I lay as one that had been dead, and my understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said to me, 31 What ails you? and why are you so disquieted? and why is your understanding troubled, and the thoughts of your heart? 32 And I said, Because you have forsaken me: yet I did according to your words, and went into the field, and, behold, I have seen, and yet see, that which I am not able to express. 33 And he said to me, Stand up like a man, and I will advise you. 34 Then said I, Speak on, my Lord; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope. 35 For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know. 36 Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream? 37 Now therefore I beseech you to show your servant concerning this trance.

38 And he answered me, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform you, and tell you concerning the things whereof you are afraid: For the Most High has revealed many secret things to you. 39 He has seen that your way is right: for that you sorrowest continually for your people, and make great lamentation for Sion. 40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision. 41 The woman which appeared to you a little while ago, whom you saw mourning, and began to comfort her: 42 but now see you the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared to you a city in building: 43 and whereas she told you of the death of her son, this is the solution: 44 This woman, whom you saw, is §Sion, **whom you now see as a city built; 45 and whereas she said to you, that she has been thirty years barren, it is, because there were three ††thousand years in the world wherein there was no offering as yet offered in her. 46 And it came to pass after three ‡‡thousand years that Solomon built the city, and offered offerings: then it was that the barren bare a son. 47 And whereas she told you that she nourished him with travail: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem. 48 And whereas she said to you, My son coming into his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. 49 And, behold, you saw her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and you began to comfort her for what has befallen her; ¶¶these were the things to be opened to you. 50 For now the Most High, seeing that you are grieved unfeignedly, and suffer from your whole heart for her, has showed you the brightness of her glory, and the attractiveness of her beauty: <sup>51</sup> and therefore I bade you remain in the field where no house was built: <sup>52</sup> for I knew that the Most High would show this to you. <sup>53</sup> Therefore I commanded you to come into the field, where no foundation of any building was. <sup>54</sup> For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be showed, the work of no man's building could stand. <sup>55</sup> Therefore fear you not, nor let your heart be affrighted, but go your way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as your eyes be able to see: <sup>56</sup> and then shall you hear as much as your ears may comprehend. <sup>57</sup> For you are blessed above many, and with the Most High are called by name, like as but few. <sup>58</sup> But tomorrow at night you shall remain here; <sup>59</sup> and so shall the Most High show you those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do to those who dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

11 And it came to pass the second night that I saw a dream, and, behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads. <sup>2</sup> And I saw, and, behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of heaven blew on her, §§and the clouds were gathered together against her. <sup>3</sup> And I saw, and out of her wings there grew other wings near them; and they became little wings and small. <sup>4</sup> But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other heads, yet rested it with them. <sup>5</sup> Moreover I saw, and, behold, the eagle flew with her wings, to reign over the earth, and over those who dwell therein. <sup>6</sup> And I saw how all things under heaven were subject to her, and no man spoke against her, no, not one creature upon earth. <sup>7</sup> And I saw, and, behold, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her wings, saying, <sup>8</sup> Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course: <sup>9</sup> but let the heads be preserved for the last. <sup>10</sup> And I saw, and, behold, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body. <sup>11</sup> And I counted *her wings that were near the other, and, behold, there were eight of them. <sup>12</sup> And I saw, and, behold, on the right side there arose one wing, and reigned over all the earth; <sup>13</sup> and so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and it appeared not, so that the place thereof appeared no more: and the next following rose up, and reigned, and it ruled a great time; <sup>14</sup> and it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, so that it appeared no more, like as the first. <sup>15</sup> And, behold, there came a voice to it, and said, <sup>16</sup> Hear you that have borne rule over the earth all this time: this I proclaim to you, before you shall appear no more, <sup>17</sup> There shall none after you attain to your time, neither to the half thereof. <sup>18</sup> Then arose the third, and had the rule as the others before, and it also appeared no more. <sup>19</sup> So went it with all the wings one after another, as that every one bare rule, and then appeared no more. <sup>20</sup> And I saw, and, behold, in process of time the †wings that followed were set up upon the ‡right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more: <sup>21</sup> some also of them were set up, but ruled not. <sup>22</sup> After this I saw, and, behold, the twelve wings appeared no more, nor two of the little wings: <sup>23</sup> and there was no more left upon the eagle's body, but the three heads that rested, and six little wings. <sup>24</sup> And I saw, and, behold, two little wings divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: but four remained in their place.

25 And I saw, and, behold, these ¶under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. 26 And I saw, and, behold, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more. 27 A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. 28 And I saw, and, behold, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: 29 and while they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads. 30 And I saw how it joined the two other heads with it. 31 And, behold, the head was turned with those who were with it, and did eat up the two §under wings that thought to have reigned. 32 But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. 33 And after this I saw, and, behold, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. 34 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. 35 And I saw, and, behold, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voice, which said to me, Look before you, and consider the thing that you see. 37 And I saw, and, behold, as it were a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice to the eagle, and spoke, saying, 38 Hear you, I will talk with you, and the Most High shall say to you, 39 Are not you it that remain of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through them? 40 And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth with grievous oppression; and so long time lived he upon the earth with deceit. 41 And you have judged the earth, but not with truth. 42 For you have afflicted the meek, you have hurt the peaceful, you have hated those who speak truth, you have loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of those who brought forth fruit, and cast down the walls of such as did you no harm. 43 Therefore is your insolent dealing come up to the Most High, and your pride to the Mighty. 44 The Most High also has looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. 45 And therefore appear no more, you eagle, nor your horrible wings, nor your evil little wings, nor your cruel heads, nor your hurtful talons, nor all your vain body: 46 that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from your violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

12 And it came to pass, whiles the lion spoke these words to the eagle, I saw, 2 and, behold, the head that remained appeared no more, and **the two wings which went over to it arose and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. 3 And I saw, and, behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said to my spirit, 4 Behold, this have you done to me, in that you search out the ways of the Most High. 5 Behold, I am yet weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night. 6 Therefore I will now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me to the end. 7 And I said, O Lord that bear rule, if I have found favour in your sight, and if I am justified with you above many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before your face; 8 strengthen me then, and show me your servant the interpretation and plain meaning of this fearful vision, that you may perfectly comfort my soul. <sup>9</sup>For you have judged me worthy to show me the end of time and the last times.

<sup>10</sup>And he said to me, This is the interpretation of this vision which you saw: <sup>11</sup>The eagle, whom you saw come up from the sea, is the fourth kingdom which appeared in vision to your brother Daniel. <sup>12</sup>But it was not expounded to him, as I now expound it to you or have expounded it. <sup>13</sup>Behold, the days come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. <sup>14</sup>Twelve kings will reign in it, one after another: <sup>15</sup>whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have a longer time than any of the twelve. <sup>16</sup>This is the interpretation of the twelve wings, which you saw. <sup>17</sup>And whereas you heard a voice which spoke, not going out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: <sup>18</sup>That ††after the time of that kingdom there shall arise no small contentions, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to its first estate. <sup>19</sup>And whereas you saw the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: <sup>20</sup>That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. <sup>21</sup>And two of them shall perish, when the middle time approaches: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: but two shall be kept to the end. <sup>22</sup>And whereas you saw three heads resting, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup>In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three ‡‡kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, <sup>24</sup>and over those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. <sup>25</sup>For these are those who shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. <sup>26</sup>And whereas you saw that the great head appeared no more, it signifies that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. <sup>27</sup>But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. <sup>28</sup>For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. <sup>29</sup>And whereas you saw two under wings passing ¶¶over to the head that is on the right side, <sup>30</sup>this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High has kept to his end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as you saw. <sup>31</sup>And the lion, whom you saw rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words which you have heard; <sup>32</sup>this is the anointed one, whom the Most High has kept to the end §§[of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] to them and reprove them for their wickedness and unrighteousness, and shall *heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. <sup>33</sup>For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he has reproved them, he shall destroy them. <sup>34</sup>For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgement, whereof I have spoken to you from the beginning. <sup>35</sup>This is the dream that you saw, and this is the interpretation thereof: <sup>36</sup>and you only have been meet to know the secret of the Most High. <sup>37</sup>Therefore write all these things that you have seen in a book, and put them in a secret place: <sup>38</sup> and you shall teach them to the wise of your people, whose hearts you know are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. <sup>39</sup> But wait you here yourself yet seven days more, that there may be showed to you whatever it pleases the Most High to show you. And he departed from me.

<sup>40</sup> And it came to pass, when all the people †saw that the seven days were past, and I had not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least to the greatest, and came to me, and spoke to me, saying, <sup>41</sup> What have we offended you? and what evil have we done against you, that you have utterly forsaken us, and sit in this place? <sup>42</sup> For of all the prophets you only are left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a lamp in a dark place, and as a haven for a ship saved from the tempest. <sup>43</sup> Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? <sup>44</sup> If you shall forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed in the burning of Sion! <sup>45</sup> For we are not better than those who died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, <sup>46</sup> Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, you house of Jacob: <sup>47</sup> for the Most High has you in remembrance, and the Mighty has not forgotten you ‡forever. <sup>48</sup> As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the low estate of your sanctuary. <sup>49</sup> And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days I will come to you. <sup>50</sup> So the people went their way into the city, like as I said to them: <sup>51</sup> but I sat in the field seven days, as the angel commanded me; and in those days I did eat only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

13 And it came to pass after seven days, I dreamt a dream by night: <sup>2</sup> and, behold, there arose a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof. <sup>3</sup> And I saw, and, behold, ¶[this wind caused to come up from the midst of the sea as it were the likeness of a man, and I saw, and, behold,] that man §flew with the clouds of heaven: and when he turned his countenance to look, all things trembled that were seen under him. <sup>4</sup> And whenever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voice, like as the **wax melts when it feels the fire. <sup>5</sup> And after this I saw, and, behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from the four winds of heaven, to make war against the man that came out of the sea. <sup>6</sup> And I saw, and, behold, he carved himself a great mountain, and flew upon it. <sup>7</sup> But I sought to see the region or place whereout the mountain was graven, and I could not. <sup>8</sup> And after this I saw, and, behold, all they which were gathered together to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet dared fight. <sup>9</sup> And, behold, as he saw the assault of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held spear, nor any instrument of war: <sup>10</sup> but only I saw how that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a flood of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast forth sparks ††of the storm. <sup>11</sup> And these were all mixed together; the flood of fire, the flaming breath, and the great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burnt them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was amazed. <sup>12</sup>Afterward I saw the same man come down from the mountain, and call to him another multitude which was peaceful. <sup>13</sup>And there came ¶much people to him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of those who were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed to the Most High, and said, <sup>14</sup>You have showed your servant these wonders from the beginning, and have counted me worthy that you should receive my prayer: <sup>15</sup>and now show me moreover the interpretation of this dream. <sup>16</sup>For as I conceive in my understanding, woe to those who shall be left in those days! and much more woe to those who are not left! <sup>17</sup>for those who were not left shall be in heaviness, <sup>18</sup>understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but not attaining to them. <sup>19</sup>But woe to them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare. <sup>20</sup>Yet is it ¶better for one to be in peril and to come into §§these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that *shall happen in the last days.

And he answered to me, and said, <sup>21</sup>The interpretation of the vision shall I tell you, and I will also open to you the things whereof you have made mention. <sup>22</sup>Whereas you have spoken of those who are left behind, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup>He that shall †endure the peril in that time shall keep those who are fallen into danger, even such as have works, and faith towards the Almighty. <sup>24</sup>Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than those who are dead. <sup>25</sup>These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas you saw a man coming up from the midst of the sea, <sup>26</sup>this is he whom the Most High has kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order those who are left behind. <sup>27</sup>And whereas you saw, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm; <sup>28</sup>and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this is the interpretation: <sup>29</sup>Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver those who are upon the earth. <sup>30</sup>And there shall come astonishment of mind upon those who dwell on the earth. <sup>31</sup>And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>32</sup>And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I showed you before, then shall my Son be revealed, whom you saw as a man ascending. <sup>33</sup>And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one against another. <sup>34</sup>And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as you saw, desiring to come, and to fight against him. <sup>35</sup>But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. <sup>36</sup>And Sion shall come, and shall be showed to all men, being prepared and built, like as you saw the mountain graven without hands. <sup>37</sup>And this my Son shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with plagues that are like to a tempest; <sup>38</sup>and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, which are likened to a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened to fire. <sup>39</sup>And whereas you saw that he gathered to him another multitude that was peaceful; <sup>40</sup> these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmananser the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. <sup>41</sup> But they took this counsel amongst themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind lived, <sup>42</sup> that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. <sup>43</sup> And they entered by the narrow passages of the river Euphrates. <sup>44</sup> For the Most High then did signs for them, and stayed the springs of the River, till they were passed over. <sup>45</sup> For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called †Arzareth. <sup>46</sup> Then lived they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come again, <sup>47</sup> the Most High stays the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore saw you the multitude gathered together with peace. <sup>48</sup> But those that be left behind of your people are those who are found within my holy border. <sup>49</sup> It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remain. <sup>50</sup> And then shall he show them very many wonders.

<sup>51</sup> Then said I, O Lord that bear rule, show me this: wherefore I have seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea. <sup>52</sup> And he said to me, like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the time of ¶this day. <sup>53</sup> This is the interpretation of the dream which you saw, and for this you only are enlightened herein. <sup>54</sup> For you have forsaken your own ways, and applied your diligence to mine, and have sought out my law. <sup>55</sup> Your life have you ordered in wisdom, and have called understanding your mother. <sup>56</sup> And therefore have I showed you this; for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, after other three days I will speak other things to you, and declare to you mighty and wondrous things. <sup>57</sup> Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly to the Most High because of his wonders, which he did from time to time; <sup>58</sup> and because he governs the time, and such things as fall in their seasons. And there I sat three days.

14 And it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and, behold, there came a voice out of a bush near me, and said, Esdras, Esdras. <sup>2</sup> And I said, Here am I, Lord. And I stood up upon my feet. <sup>3</sup> Then said he to me, In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself, and talked with Moses, when my people were in bondage in Egypt: <sup>4</sup> and I sent him, and she led my people out of Egypt; and I brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me for many days; <sup>5</sup> and told him many wondrous things, and showed him the secrets of the times, and the end of the seasons; and commanded him, saying, <sup>6</sup> These words shall you publish openly, and these shall you hide. <sup>7</sup> And now I say to you, <sup>8</sup> Lay up in your heart the signs that I have showed, and the dreams that you have seen, and the interpretations which you have heard: <sup>9</sup> for you shall be taken away from men, and from henceforth you shall remain with my Son, and with such as be like you, until the times be ended. <sup>10</sup> For the world has lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. <sup>11</sup> **For the world is divided into twelve parts, and ten parts of it are gone already, ††even the half of the tenth part: 12 and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. 13 Now therefore set your house in order, and reprove your people, comfort the lowly amongst them, ‡‡and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life that is corruptible, 14 and let go from the mortal thoughts, cast away from you the burdens of man, put off now your weak nature, 15 and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous to you, and haste you to remove from these times. 16 For yet worse evils than those which you have seen happen shall be done hereafter. 17 For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon those who dwell therein. 18 For the truth will withdraw itself further off, and falsehood will be hard at hand: for now hastens ¶¶the eagle to come, which you saw in vision.

19 Then answered I and said, §§I will speak before you, O Lord. 20 Behold, I will go, as you have commanded me, and reprove the people that now be: but those who shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and those who dwell therein are without light. 21 For your law is burnt, therefore no man knows the things that are done of you, or the works that shall be done. 22 But if I have found favour before you, send the Holy Spirit to me, and I shall write all that has been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in your law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. 23 And he answered me and said, Go your way, gather the people together, and say to them, that they seek you not for forty days. 24 But look you prepare you many tablets, and take with you Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are ready to write swiftly; 25 and come here, and I shall light a lamp of understanding in your heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which you shall write. 26 And when you have done, some things shall you publish openly, and some things shall you deliver in secret to the wise: tomorrow this hour shall you begin to write.

27 Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Hear these words, O Israel. 29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, 30 and received the law of life, which they kept not, which you° also have transgressed after them. 31 Then was *the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but you° yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. 32 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. 33 And now you° are here, and your kindred are amongst you. 34 Therefore if so be that you° will rule over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, you° shall be kept alive, and after death you° shall obtain mercy. 35 For after death shall the judgement come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared. 36 Let no man therefore come to me now, nor seek after me these forty days. 37 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. 38 And it came to pass on the next day that, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, open your mouth, and drink what I give you to drink. 39 Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, there was reached to me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire. <sup>40</sup> And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit retained its memory: <sup>41</sup> and my mouth was opened, and shut no more. <sup>42</sup> The Most High gave understanding to the five men, and they wrote by course the things that were told them, in †characters which they knew not, and they sat forty days: now they wrote in the day-time, and at night they ate bread. <sup>43</sup> As for me, I spoke in the day, and by night I held not my tongue. <sup>44</sup> So in forty days were written ‡fourscore and fourteen books. <sup>45</sup> And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled, that the Most High spoke to me, saying, The first that you have written publish openly, and let the worthy and unworthy read it: <sup>46</sup> but keep the seventy last, that you may deliver them to such as be wise amongst your people: <sup>47</sup> for in them is the spring of understanding, the fountain of wisdom, and the stream of knowledge. <sup>48</sup> And I did so.

15 Behold, speak you in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in your mouth, says the Lord: <sup>2</sup> and cause you them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true. <sup>3</sup> Don't be afraid of their imaginations against you, don't let the unbelief of them that speak against you trouble you. <sup>4</sup> For all the unbelievers shall die in their unbelief.

the souls of the righteous cry out continually. <sup>9</sup> I will surely avenge them, says the Lord, and will receive to me all the innocent blood from amongst them. <sup>10</sup> Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt: <sup>11</sup> but I will bring them out with a mighty hand and with a high arm, and will strike Egypt with plagues, as aforetime, and will destroy all the land thereof. <sup>12</sup> Let Egypt mourn, and the foundations thereof, for the plague of the chastisement and the punishment that God shall bring upon it. <sup>13</sup> Let the farmers that till the ground mourn: for their seeds shall fail and their trees shall be laid waste through the blasting and hail, and a terrible star. <sup>14</sup> Woe to the world and those who dwell therein! <sup>15</sup> for the sword and their destruction draws near, and nation shall rise up against nation to battle with weapons in their hands. <sup>16</sup> For there shall be sedition amongst men; and waxing strong one against another, they shall not regard their king nor the chief of their great ones, in their might. <sup>17</sup> For a man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able. <sup>18</sup> For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid. <sup>19</sup> A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall make an assault on their houses with the sword, and plunder their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great suffering.

<sup>20</sup> Behold, says God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up those who are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them. <sup>21</sup> Just as they do yet this day to my chosen, so I will do also, and recompense in their bosom. The Lord God says: <sup>22</sup> My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over those who shed innocent blood upon the earth.

23 And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and has consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled. 24 Woe to those who sin, and keep not my commandments! says the Lord. 25 I will not spare them: go your way, you<sup>o</sup> rebellious children, defile not my sanctuary. 26 For the Lord knows all those who trespass against him, therefore has he delivered them to death and destruction. 27 For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and you<sup>o</sup> shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because you<sup>o</sup> have sinned against him.

28 Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east! 29 And the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. 30 Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their teeth. 31 And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, 32 then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall turn and flee. 33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the lier in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their army shall be fear and trembling, and sedition against their kings. 34 Behold, clouds from the east and from the north to the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm. 35 They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful storm upon the earth, even their own star; and there shall be blood from the sword to the horse's belly, 36 and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's hough. 37 And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold upon them. 38 And after this shall there be stirred up great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west. 39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall shut it up, even the cloud which he raised up in wrath; and the star that was to cause destruction by the east wind shall be violently driven towards the south and west. 40 And great clouds and mighty and full of wrath shall be lifted up, and the star, that they may destroy all the earth, and those who dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent one a terrible star, 41 fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all plains may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of those waters. 42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn. 43 And they shall go on steadfastly to Babylon, and destroy her. 44 They shall come to her, and compass her about; the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up to the heaven, and all those who are about her shall bewail her. 45 And those who remain shall do service to those who have put her in fear.

46 And you, Asia, that are partaker in the beauty of Babylon, and in the glory of her person: 47 woe to you, you wretch, because you have made yourself like to her; you have decked your daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in your lovers, which have always desired you to commit whoredom withal! 48 You have followed her that is hateful in all her works and inventions: therefore says God, 49 I will send evils upon you; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste your houses to destruction and death. 50 And the glory of your power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over you. <sup>51</sup> You shall be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastened with wounds, so that your mighty ones and your lovers you shall not be able to receive. <sup>52</sup> Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against you, says the Lord, <sup>53</sup> if you had not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of your hands, and saying over their **dead, when you were drunken, <sup>54</sup> Set forth the beauty of your countenance? <sup>55</sup> The reward of a prostitute shall be in your bosom, therefore shall you receive recompense. <sup>56</sup> Just as you shall do to my chosen, says the Lord, even so shall God do to you, and shall deliver you into mischief. <sup>57</sup> And your children shall die of hunger, and you shall fall by the sword: and your cities shall be broken down, and all your shall perish by the sword in the field. <sup>58</sup> And those who are in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. <sup>59</sup> You unhappy above all shall come and shall again receive evils. <sup>60</sup> And in the passage they shall rush on the ††idle city, and shall destroy some portion of your land, and mar part of your glory, and shall return again to Babylon that was destroyed. <sup>61</sup> And you shall be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be to you as fire; <sup>62</sup> and shall devour you, and your cities, your land, and your mountains; all your woods and your fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire. <sup>63</sup> They shall carry your children away captive, and shall plunder your wealth, and mar the glory of your face.

who is he that may drive them away? <sup>6</sup> May one drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may one quench the fire in stubble, when it has once begun to burn? <sup>7</sup> May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer? <sup>8</sup> The Lord God sends the evils, and who shall drive them away? <sup>9</sup> A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it? <sup>10</sup> He shall cast lightning, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not tremble? <sup>11</sup> The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly broken in pieces at his presence? <sup>12</sup> The earth quakes, and the foundations thereof; the sea arises up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it shall be troubled, and the fishes thereof also, at the presence of the Lord, and before the glory of his power: <sup>13</sup> for strong is his right hand that bends the bow, his arrows that he shoots are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world. <sup>14</sup> Behold, the evils are sent forth, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth. <sup>15</sup> The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth. <sup>16</sup> Just as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returns not backward, even so the evils that are sent forth upon earth shall not return again. <sup>17</sup> Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion. <sup>22</sup>For many of those who dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy. <sup>23</sup>And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down. <sup>24</sup>There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it. <sup>25</sup>The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them? <sup>26</sup>The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: <sup>27</sup>for one man shall desire to see another, or to hear his voice. <sup>28</sup>For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks. <sup>29</sup>As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be left three or four olives, <sup>30</sup>or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by those who diligently seek through the vineyard; <sup>31</sup>even so in those days there shall be three or four left by those who search their houses with the sword. <sup>32</sup>And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for briars, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall pass therethrough. <sup>33</sup>The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers. <sup>34</sup>In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.

shall groan, and sorrows shall take hold of it on every side. <sup>40</sup>O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth. <sup>41</sup>He that sells, let him be as he that flees away: and he that buys, as one that will lose: <sup>42</sup>he that occupies merchandise, as he that has no profit by it: and he that builds, as he that shall not dwell therein: <sup>43</sup>he that sows, as if he should not reap: so also he that prunes the vines, as he that shall not gather the grapes: <sup>44</sup>those who marry, as those who shall get no children; and those who marry not, as the widowed. <sup>45</sup>Inasmuch as those who labour labour in vain; <sup>46</sup>for strangers shall reap their fruits, and plunder their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget their children: <sup>47</sup>and those who traffick traffick to become a plunder: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons, <sup>48</sup>the more I will hate them for their sins, says the Lord. <sup>49</sup>Just as a right honest and virtuous woman hates a prostitute, <sup>50</sup>so shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decks herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he comes that shall defend him that diligently searches out every sin upon earth.

the waters. <sup>59</sup> Who spreads out the heaven like a vault; upon the waters has he founded it. <sup>60</sup> Who has made in the desert springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to water the earth. <sup>61</sup> Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding, <sup>62</sup> yes, the spirit of God Almighty. He who made all things, and searches out hidden things in hidden places, <sup>63</sup> surely he knows your imagination, and what you<sup>o</sup> think in your hearts. Woe to those who sin, and would fain hide their sin! <sup>64</sup> Forasmuch as the Lord will exactly search out all your works, and he will put you all to shame. <sup>65</sup> And when your sins are brought forth before men, you<sup>o</sup> shall be ashamed, and your own iniquities shall stand as your accusers in that day. <sup>66</sup> What will you<sup>o</sup> do? or how will you<sup>o</sup> hide your sins before God and his angels? <sup>67</sup> Behold, God is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them forever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all suffering.

take away certain of you, and feed you with that which is slain to idols. <sup>69</sup> And those who consent to them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and be trodden under foot of them. <sup>70</sup> For there shall be ~~##~~ in various places, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord. <sup>71</sup> They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but spoiling and destroying those who still fear the Lord. <sup>72</sup> For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses. <sup>73</sup> Then shall be manifest the trial of my elect; even as the gold that is tried in the fire. <sup>74</sup> Hear, O you<sup>o</sup> my elect, says the Lord: behold, the days of suffering are at hand, and I will deliver you from them. <sup>75</sup> Be you<sup>o</sup> not afraid, neither doubt; for God is your guide: <sup>76</sup> and you<sup>o</sup> who keep my commandments and precepts, says the Lord God, don't let your sins weigh you down, and don't let your iniquities lift up themselves. <sup>77</sup> Woe to those who are fast bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is fast bound with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through! <sup>78</sup> ¶¶ It is even shut off, and given up to be consumed of fire.

THE FOURTH BOOK OF THE MACCABEES

The Fourth Book of the Maccabees appears in an appendix to the Greek Septuagint. It is considered to be apocrypha by most church traditions. It is preserved here for its supplementary historical value.

1 As I am going to demonstrate a most philosophical proposition, namely, that religious reasoning is absolute master of the passions, I would willingly advise you to give the utmost heed to philosophy. <sup>2</sup>For reason is necessary to every one as a step to science: and more especially does it embrace the praise of prudence, the highest virtue. <sup>3</sup>If, then, reasoning appears to hold the mastery over the passions which stand in the way of temperance, such as gluttony and lust, <sup>4</sup>it surely also and manifestly has the rule over the affections which are contrary to justice, such as malice; and of those which are hindrances to manliness, as wrath, and pain, and fear. <sup>5</sup>How, then, is it, perhaps some may say, that reasoning, if it rule the affections, is not also master of forgetfulness and ignorance? They attempt a ridiculous argument. <sup>6</sup>For reasoning does not rule over its own affections, but over such as are contrary to justice, and manliness and temperance, and prudence; and yet over these, so as to withstand, without destroying them. <sup>7</sup>I might prove to you, from many other considerations, that religious reasoning is sole master of the passions; <sup>8</sup>but I shall prove it with the greatest force from the fortitude of Eleazar, and seven kindred, and their mother, who suffered death in defence of virtue. <sup>9</sup>For all these, treating pains with contempt even to death, by this contempt, demonstrated that reasoning has command over the passions. <sup>10</sup>For their virtues, then, it is right that I should commend those men who died with their mother at this time in behalf of rectitude; and for their honours, I may count them happy. <sup>11</sup>For they, winning admiration not only from men in general, but even from the persecutors, for their manliness and endurance, became the means of the destruction of the tyranny against their nation, having conquered the tyrant by their endurance, so that by them their country was purified. <sup>12</sup>But we may now at once enter upon the question, having commenced, as is our wont, with laying down the doctrine, and so proceed to the account of these persons, giving glory to the all wise God. <sup>13</sup>The question, therefore, is, whether reasoning be absolute master of the passions. <sup>14</sup>Let's determine, then, What is reasoning? and what passion? and how many forms of the passions? and whether reasoning bears sway over all of these? <sup>15</sup>Reasoning is, then, intellect accompanied by a life of rectitude, putting foremost the consideration of wisdom. <sup>16</sup>And wisdom is a knowledge of divine and human things, and of their causes. <sup>17</sup>And this is contained in the education of the law; by means of which we learn divine things reverently, and human things profitably. <sup>18</sup>And the forms of wisdom are prudence, and justice, and manliness, and temperance. <sup>19</sup>The leading one of these is prudence; by whose means, indeed, it is that reasoning bears rule over the passions. <sup>20</sup>Of the passions, pleasure and pain are the two most comprehensive; and they also by nature refer to the soul. <sup>21</sup>And there are many attendant affections surrounding pleasure and pain. <sup>22</sup>Before pleasure is lust; and after pleasure, joy. <sup>23</sup>And before pain is fear; and after pain is sorrow. <sup>24</sup>Wrath is an affection, common to pleasure and to pain, if any one will pay attention when it comes upon him. <sup>25</sup>And there exists in pleasure a malicious disposition, which is the most multiform of all the affections. <sup>26</sup>In the soul it is arrogance, and love of money, and vaingloriousness, and contention, and faithlessness, and the evil eye. <sup>27</sup>In the body it is greediness and gormandizing, and solitary gluttony. <sup>28</sup>As pleasure and pain are, therefore, two growth of the body and the soul, so there are many offshoots of these passions.<sup>29</sup> And reasoning, the universal husbandman, purging, and pruning these severally, and binding round, and watering, and transplanting, in every way improves the materials of the morals and affections.<sup>30</sup> For reasoning is the leader of the virtues, but it is the sole ruler of the passions. Observe then first, through the very things which stand in the way of temperance, that reasoning is absolute ruler of the passions.<sup>31</sup> Now temperance consists of a command over the lusts.<sup>32</sup> But of the lusts, some belong to the soul, others to the body: and over each of these classes the reasoning appears to bear sway.<sup>33</sup> For whence is it, otherwise, that when urged on to forbidden meats, we reject the gratification which would ensue from them? Is it not because reasoning is able to command the appetites? I believe so.<sup>34</sup> Hence it is, then, that when lusting after water-animals and birds, and four-footed beasts, and all kinds of food which are forbidden us by the law, we withhold ourselves through the mastery of reasoning.<sup>35</sup> For the affections of our appetites are resisted by the temperate understanding, and bent back again, and all the impulses of the body are reined in by reasoning.

2 And what wonder? if the lusts of the soul, after participation with what is beautiful, are frustrated,<sup>2</sup> on this ground, therefore, the temperate Joseph is praised in that by reasoning, he subdued, on reflection, the indulgence of sense.<sup>3</sup> For, although young, and ripe for sexual intercourse, he abrogated by reasoning the stimulus of his passions.<sup>4</sup> And it is not merely the stimulus of sensual indulgence, but that of every desire, that reasoning is able to master.<sup>5</sup> For instance, the law says, You shall not covet your neighbour's wife, nor anything that belongs to your neighbour.<sup>6</sup> Now, then, since it is the law which has forbidden us to desire, I shall much the more easily persuade you, that reasoning is able to govern our lusts, just as it does the affections which are impediments to justice.<sup>7</sup> Since in what way is a solitary eater, and a glutton, and a drunkard reclaimed, unless it be clear that reasoning is lord of the passions?<sup>8</sup> A man, therefore, who regulates his course by the law, even if he be a lover of money, immediately puts force upon his own disposition; lending to the needy without interest, and cancelling the debt of the incoming Sabbath.<sup>9</sup> And should a man be parsimonious, he is ruled by the law acting through reasoning; so that he does not glean his harvest crops, nor vintage: and in reference to other points we may perceive that it is reasoning that conquers his passions.<sup>10</sup> For the law conquers even affection towards parents, not surrendering virtue on their account.<sup>11</sup> And it prevails over marriage love, condemning it when transgressing law.<sup>12</sup> And it lords it over the love of parents towards their children, for they punish them for vice; and it domineers over the intimacy of friends, reproving them when wicked.<sup>13</sup> And think it not a strange assertion that reasoning can in behalf of the law conquer even enmity.<sup>14</sup> It allows not to cut down the cultivated herbage of an enemy, but preserves it from the destroyers, and collects their fallen ruins.<sup>15</sup> And reason appears to be master of the more violent passions, as love of empire and empty boasting, and slander.<sup>16</sup> For the temperate understanding repels all these malignant passions, as it does wrath: for it masters even this.<sup>17</sup> Thus Moses, when angered against Dathan and Abiram, did nothing to them in wrath, but regulated his anger by reasoning.<sup>18</sup> For the temperate mind is able, as I said, to be superior to the passions, and to transfer some, and destroy others.<sup>19</sup> For why, else, does our most wise father Jacob blame Simeon and Levi for having irrationally slain the whole race of the Shechemites, saying, Cursed be their anger.<sup>20</sup> For if reasoning didn't possess the power of subduing angry affections, he would not have spoken thus.<sup>21</sup> For at the time when God created man, He implanted within him his passions and moral nature.<sup>22</sup> And at that time He enthroned above all the holy leader mind, through the medium of the senses.<sup>23</sup> And He gave a law to this mind, by living according to which it will maintain a temperate, and just, and good, and manly reign. <sup>24</sup>How, then, a man may say, if reasoning be master of the passions, has it no control over forgetfulness and ignorance?

3 The argument is exceedingly ridiculous: for reasoning does not appear to bear sway over its own affections, but over those of the body, <sup>2</sup>in such a way as that any one of you may not be able to root out desire, but reasoning will enable you to avoid being enslaved to it. <sup>3</sup>One may not be able to root out anger from the soul, but it is possible to withstand anger. <sup>4</sup>Any one of you may not be able to eradicate malice, but reasoning has force to work with you to prevent you yielding to malice. <sup>5</sup>For reasoning is not an eradicator, but an antagonist of the passions. <sup>6</sup>And this may be more clearly comprehended from the thirst of king David. <sup>7</sup>For after David had been attacking the Philistines the whole day, he with the soldiers of his nation killed many of them; <sup>8</sup>then when evening came, sweating and very weary, he came to the royal tent, about which the entire army of our ancestors was encamped. <sup>9</sup>Now all the rest of them were at supper; <sup>10</sup>but the king, being very much thirsty, although he had numerous springs, could not by their means quench his thirst; <sup>11</sup>but a certain irrational longing for the water in the enemy's camp grew stronger and fiercer upon him, and consumed him with languish. <sup>12</sup>Wherefore his bodyguards being troubled at this longing of the king, two valiant young soldiers, reverencing the desire of the king, put on their panoplies, and taking a pitcher, got over the ramparts of the enemies; <sup>13</sup>and unperceived by the guardians of the gate, they went throughout the whole camp of the enemy in quest. <sup>14</sup>And having boldly discovered the fountain, they filled out of it the draught for the king. <sup>15</sup>But he, though parched with thirst, reasoned that a draught reputed of equal value to blood, would be terribly dangerous to his soul. <sup>16</sup>Wherefore, setting up reasoning in opposition to his desire, he poured out the draught to God. <sup>17</sup>For the temperate mind has power to conquer the pressure of the passions, and to quench the fires of excitement, <sup>18</sup>and to wrestle down the pains of the body, however excessive; and, through the excellency of reasoning, to abominate all the assaults of the passions. <sup>19</sup>But the occasion now invites us to give an illustration of temperate reasoning from history. <sup>20</sup>For at a time when our fathers were in possession of undisturbed peace through obedience to the law, and were prosperous, so that Seleucus Nicanor, the king of Asia, both assigned them money for divine service, and accepted their form of government, <sup>21</sup>then certain persons, bringing in new things contrary to the general unanimity, in various ways fell into calamities.

4 For a certain man named Simon, who was in opposition to Onias, who once held the high priesthood for life, and was an honourable and good man, after slandering him in every way, he could not injure him with the people, went away as an exile, with the intention of betraying his country. <sup>2</sup>Whence coming to Apollonius, the military governor of Syria, and Phoenicia, and Cilicia, he said, <sup>3</sup>Having good will to the king's affairs, I am come to inform you that infinite private wealth is laid up in the treasuries of Jerusalem which do not belong to the temple, but pertain to king Seleucus. <sup>4</sup>Apollonius, acquainting himself with the particulars of this, praised Simon for his care of the king's interests, and going up to Seleucus informed him of the treasure; <sup>5</sup>and getting authority about it, and quickly advancing into our country with the accursed Simon and a very heavy force, <sup>6</sup>he said that he came with the commands of the king that he should take the private money of the treasure. <sup>7</sup>And the nation, indignant at this proclamation, and replying to the effect that it was extremely unfair that those who had committed deposits to the sacred treasury should be deprived of them, resisted as well as they could. <sup>8</sup>But Apollonius went away with threats into the temple. <sup>9</sup> And the priests, with the women and children, having supplicated God to throw his shield over the holy, despised place, <sup>10</sup> and Apollonius going up with his armed force to the seizure of the treasure, — there appeared from heaven angels riding on horseback, all radiant in armour, filling them with much fear and trembling. <sup>11</sup> And Apollonius fell half dead upon the court which is open to all nations, and extended his hands to heaven, and implored the Hebrews, with tears, to pray for him, and propitiate the heavenly army. <sup>12</sup> For he said that he had sinned, so as to be consequently worthy of death; and that if he were saved, he would celebrate to all men the blessedness of the holy place. <sup>13</sup> Onias the high priest, induced by these words, although for other reasons anxious that king Seleucus should not suppose that Apollonius was slain by human device and not by Divine punishment, prayed for him; <sup>14</sup> and he being thus unexpectedly saved, departed to manifest to the king what had happened to him. <sup>15</sup> But on the death of Seleucus the king, his son Antiochus Epiphanes succeeds to the kingdom: a man of arrogant pride and terrible. <sup>16</sup> Who having deposed Onias from the high priesthood, appointed his brother Jason to be high priest: <sup>17</sup> who had made a covenant, if he would give him this authority, to pay yearly three thousand and six hundred and sixty talents. <sup>18</sup> And he committed to him the high priesthood and rulership over the nation. <sup>19</sup> And he both changed the manner of living of the people, and perverted their civil customs into all lawlessness. <sup>20</sup> So that he not only erected a gymnasium on the very citadel of our country, but neglected the guardianship of the temple. <sup>21</sup> At which Divine vengeance being grieved, instigated Antiochus himself against them. <sup>22</sup> For being at war with Ptolemy in Egypt, he heard that on a report of his death being spread abroad, the inhabitants of Jerusalem had exceedingly rejoiced, and he quickly marched against them. <sup>23</sup> And having subdued them, he established a decree that if any of them lived according to the laws of his country he should die. <sup>24</sup> And when he could by no means destroy by his decrees the obedience to the law of the nation, but saw all his threats and punishments without effect, <sup>25</sup> for even women, because they continued to circumcise their children, were flung down a precipice along with them, knowing beforehand of the punishment. <sup>26</sup> When, therefore, his decrees were disregarded by the people, he himself compelled by means of tortures every one of this race, by tasting forbidden meats, to renounce the Jewish religion.

5 The tyrant Antiochus, therefore, sitting in public state with his assessors upon a certain lofty place, with his armed troops standing in a circle around him, <sup>2</sup> commanded his spearbearers to seize every one of the Hebrews, and to compel them to taste swine's flesh, and things offered to idols. <sup>3</sup> And should any of them be unwilling to eat the accursed food, they were to be tortured on the wheel, and so killed. <sup>4</sup> And when many had been seized, a foremost man of the assembly, a Hebrew, by name Eleazar, a priest by family, by profession a lawyer, and advanced in years, and for this reason known to many of the king's followers, was brought near to him. <sup>5</sup> And Antiochus seeing him, said, <sup>6</sup> I would counsel you, old man, before your tortures begin, to taste the swine's flesh, and save your life; for I feel respect for your age and hoary head, which since you have had so long, you appear to me to be no philosopher in retaining the superstition of the Jews. <sup>7</sup> For wherefore, since nature has conferred upon you the most excellent flesh of this animal, do you loathe it? <sup>8</sup> It seems senseless not to enjoy what is pleasant, yet not disgraceful; and from notions of sinfulness, to reject the boons of nature. <sup>9</sup> And you will be acting, I think, still more senselessly, if you follow vain conceits about the truth. <sup>10</sup> And you will, moreover, be despising me to your own punishment. <sup>11</sup> Will you not awake from your trifling philosophy? and give up the folly of your notions; and, regaining understanding worthy of your age, search into the truth of an expedient course? <sup>12</sup> and, reverencing my kindly admonition, have pity upon your own years? <sup>13</sup> For, bear in mind, that if there be any power which watches over this religion of yours, it will pardon you for all transgressions of the law which you commit through compulsion. <sup>14</sup> While the tyrant incited him in this manner to the unlawful eating of flesh, Eleazar begged permission to speak. <sup>15</sup> And having received power to speak, he began deliver himself like this: <sup>16</sup> We, O Antiochus, who are persuaded that we live under a divine law, consider no compulsion to be so forcible as obedience to that law; <sup>17</sup> wherefore we consider that we ought not in any point to transgress the law. <sup>18</sup> And indeed, were our law (as you suppose) not truly divine, and if we wrongly think it divine, we should have no right even in that case to destroy our sense of religion. <sup>19</sup> think not eating the unclean, then, a trifling offence. <sup>20</sup> For transgression of the law, whether in small or great matters, is of equal moment; <sup>21</sup> for in either case the law is equally slighted. <sup>22</sup> But you deride our philosophy, as though we lived irrationally in it. <sup>23</sup> Yet it instructs us in temperance, so that we are superior to all pleasures and lusts; and it exercises us in manliness, so that we cheerfully undergo every grievance. <sup>24</sup> And it instructs us in justice, so that in all our dealings we render what is due; and it teaches us piety, so that we worship the one only God becomingly. <sup>25</sup> Wherefore it is that we eat not the unclean; for believing that the law was established by God, we are convinced that the Creator of the world, in giving his laws, sympathises with our nature. <sup>26</sup> Those things which are convenient to our souls, he has directed us to eat; but those which are repugnant to them, he has interdicted. <sup>27</sup> But, tyrant-like, you not only force us to break the law, but also to eat, that you may ridicule us as we thus profanely eat: <sup>28</sup> but you shall not have this cause of laughter against me; <sup>29</sup> nor will I transgress the sacred oaths of my forefathers to keep the law. <sup>30</sup> No, not if you pluck out my eyes, and consume my entrails. <sup>31</sup> I am not so old, and void of manliness, but that my rational powers are youthful in defence of my religion. <sup>32</sup> Now then; prepare your wheels, and kindle a fiercer flame. <sup>33</sup> I will not so compassionate my old age, as on my account to break the law of my country. <sup>34</sup> I will not belie you, O law, my instructor! or forsake you, O beloved self-control! <sup>35</sup> I will not put you to shame, O philosopher Reason; or deny you, O honoured priesthood, and science of the law. <sup>36</sup> Mouth! you shall not pollute my old age, nor the full stature of a perfect life. <sup>37</sup> My fathers shall receive me pure, not having quailed before your compulsion, though to death. <sup>38</sup> For over the ungodly you shall tyrannize; but you shall not lord it over my thoughts about religion, either by your arguments, or through deeds.

6 When Eleazar had in this manner answered the exhortations of the tyrant, the spearbearers came up, and rudely haled Eleazar to the instruments of torture. <sup>2</sup> And first, they stripped the old man, adorned as he was with the beauty of piety. <sup>3</sup> Then tying back his arms and hands, they disdainfully used him with stripes; <sup>4</sup> a herald opposite crying out, Obey the commands of the king. <sup>5</sup> But Eleazar, the high-minded and truly noble, as one tortured in a dream, regarded it not all. <sup>6</sup> But raising his eyes on high to heaven, the old man's flesh was stripped off by the scourges, and his blood streamed down, and his sides were pierced through. <sup>7</sup> And falling upon the ground, from his body having no power to support the pains, he yet kept his reasoning upright and unbending. <sup>8</sup> then one of the harsh spearbearers leapt upon his belly as he was falling, to force him upright. <sup>9</sup> But he endured the pains, and despised the cruelty, and persevered through the indignities; <sup>10</sup> and like a noble athlete, the old man, when struck, vanquished his torturers. <sup>11</sup> His countenance sweating, and he panting for breath, he was admired by the very torturers for his courage. <sup>12</sup> Wherefore, partly in pity for his old age, <sup>13</sup> partly from the sympathy of acquaintance, and partly in admiration of his endurance, some of the attendants of the king said, <sup>14</sup> Why do you unreasonably destroy yourself, O Eleazar, with these miseries? <sup>15</sup> We will bring you some meat cooked by yourself, and do you save yourself by pretending that you have eaten swine's flesh. <sup>16</sup> And Eleazar, as though the advice more painfully tortured him, cried out, <sup>17</sup> Let not us who are children of Abraham be so evil advised as by giving way to make use of an unbecoming pretence; <sup>18</sup> for it were irrational, if having lived up to old age in all truth, and having scrupulously guarded our character for it, we should now turn back, <sup>19</sup> and ourselves should become a pattern of impiety to the young, as being an example of pollution eating. <sup>20</sup> It would be disgraceful if we should live on some short time, and that scorned by all men for cowardice, <sup>21</sup> and be condemned by the tyrant for unmanliness, by not contending to the death for our divine law. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore do you, O children of Abraham, die nobly for your religion. <sup>23</sup> You° spearbearers of the tyrant, why do you° linger? <sup>24</sup> Beholding him so high-minded against misery, and not changing at their pity, they led him to the fire: <sup>25</sup> then with their wickedly contrived instruments they burnt him on the fire, and poured stinking fluids down into his nostrils. <sup>26</sup> And he being at length burnt down to the bones, and about to expire, raised his eyes Godward, and said, <sup>27</sup> You know, O God, that when I might have been saved, I am slain for the sake of the law by tortures of fire. <sup>28</sup> Be merciful to your people, and be satisfied with the punishment of me on their account. <sup>29</sup> Let my blood be a purification for them, and take my life in recompense for theirs. <sup>30</sup> Thus speaking, the holy man departed, noble in his torments, and even to the agonies of death resisted in his reasoning for the sake of the law. <sup>31</sup> Confessedly, therefore, religious reasoning is master of the passions. <sup>32</sup> For had the passions been superior to reasoning, I would have given them the witness of this mastery. <sup>33</sup> But now, since reasoning conquered the passions, we befittingly awarded it the authority of first place. <sup>34</sup> And it is but fair that we should allow, that the power belongs to reasoning, since it masters external miseries. <sup>35</sup> Ridiculous would it be were it not so; and I prove that reasoning has not only mastered pains, but that it is also superior to the pleasures, and withstands them.

7 The reasoning of our father Eleazar, like a first-rate pilot, steering the vessel of piety in the sea of passions, <sup>2</sup> and flouted by the threats of the tyrant, and overwhelmed with the breakers of torture, <sup>3</sup> in no way shifted the rudder of piety till it sailed into the harbour of victory over death. <sup>4</sup> Not so has ever a city, when besieged, held out against many and various machines, as did that holy man, when his pious soul was tried with the fiery trial of tortures and rackings, move his besiegers through the religious reasoning that shielded him. <sup>5</sup> For father Eleazar, projecting his disposition, broke the raging waves of the passions as with a jutting promontory. <sup>6</sup> O priest worthy of the priesthood! you didn't pollute your sacred teeth; nor make your appetite, which had always embraced the clean and lawful, a partaker of profanity. <sup>7</sup> O harmonizer with the law, and sage devoted to a divine life! <sup>8</sup> Of such a character ought those to be who perform the duties of the law at the risk of their own blood, and defend it with generous sweat by sufferings even to death. <sup>9</sup> You, father, have gloriously established our right government by your endurance; and making of much account our service past, prevented its destruction, and, by your deeds, have made credible the words of philosophy. <sup>10</sup> O aged man of more power than tortures, elder more vigorous than fire, greatest king over the passions, Eleazar! <sup>11</sup> For as father Aaron, armed with a censer, hastening through the consuming fire, vanquished the flame-bearing angel, <sup>12</sup> so, Eleazar, the descendant of Aaron, wasted away by the fire, didn't give up his reasoning. <sup>13</sup> And, what is most wonderful, though an old man, though the labours of his body were now spent, and his muscles were relaxed, and his sinews worn out, he recovered youth. <sup>14</sup> By the spirit of reasoning, and the reasoning of Isaac, he rendered powerless the many-headed instrument. <sup>15</sup> O blessed old age, and reverend hoar head, and life obedient to the law, which the faithful seal of death perfected. <sup>16</sup> If, then, an old man, through religion, despised tortures even to death, confessedly religious reasoning is ruler of the passions. <sup>17</sup> But perhaps some might say, It is not all who conquer passions, as all do not possess wise reasoning. <sup>18</sup> But they who have meditated upon religion with their whole heart, these alone can master the passions of the flesh; <sup>19</sup> they who believe that to God they die not; for, as our forefathers, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, they live to God. <sup>20</sup> This circumstance, then, is by no means an objection, that some who have weak reasoning, are governed by their passions: <sup>21</sup> since what person, walking religiously by the whole rule of philosophy, and believing in God, <sup>22</sup> and knowing that it is a blessed thing to endure all kinds of hardships for virtue, would not, for the sake of religion, master his passion? <sup>23</sup> For the wise and brave man only is lord over his passions. <sup>24</sup> Whence it is, that even boys, trained with the philosophy of religious reasoning, have conquered still more bitter tortures: <sup>25</sup> for when the tyrant was manifestly vanquished in his first attempt, in being unable to force the old man to eat the unclean thing,—

8 Then, indeed, vehemently swayed with passion, he commanded to bring others of the adult Hebrews, and if they would eat of the unclean thing, to let them go when they had eaten; but if they objected, to torment them more grievously. <sup>2</sup> The tyrant having given this charge, seven kindred were brought into his presence, along with their aged mother, handsome, and modest, and well-born, and altogether comely. <sup>3</sup> When the tyrant saw them encircling their mother as in a dance, he was pleased at them; and being struck with their becoming and innocent manner, smiled upon them, and calling them near, said: <sup>4</sup> O youths, with favourable feelings, I admire the beauty of each of you; and greatly honouring so numerous a band of kindred, I not only counsel you not to share the madness of the old man who has been tortured before, <sup>5</sup> but I do beg you to yield, and to enjoy my friendship; for I possess the power, not only of punishing those who disobey my commands, but of doing good to those who obey them. <sup>6</sup> Put confidence in me, then, and you shall receive places of authority in my government, if you forsake your national ordinance, <sup>7</sup> and, conforming to the Greek mode of life, alter your rule, and revel in youth's delights. <sup>8</sup> For if you provoke me by your disobedience, you will compel me to destroy you, every one, with terrible punishments by tortures. <sup>9</sup> Have mercy, then, upon your own selves, whom I, although an enemy, compassionate for your age and attractive appearance. <sup>10</sup> Will you not reason upon this—that if you disobey, there will be nothing left for you but to die in tortures? <sup>11</sup> Thus speaking, he ordered the instruments of torture to be brought forward, that very fear might prevail upon them to eat unclean meat. <sup>12</sup> And when the spearman brought forward the wheels, and the racks, and the hooks, and catapults, and cauldrons, pans, and finger-racks, and iron hands and wedges, and bellows, the tyrant continue: <sup>13</sup> Fear, young men, and the righteousness which you<sup>o</sup> worship will be merciful to you if you err from compulsion. <sup>14</sup> Now they having listened to these words of persuasion, and seeing the fearful instruments, not only were not afraid, but even answered the arguments of the tyrant, and through their good reasoning destroyed his power. <sup>15</sup> Now let's consider the matter: had any of them been weak-spirited and cowardly amongst them, what reasoning would they have employed but these? <sup>16</sup> O wretched that we are, and exceedingly senseless! when the king exhorts us, and calls us to his bounty, should we not obey him? <sup>17</sup> Why do we cheer ourselves with vain counsels, and venture upon a disobedience bringing death? <sup>18</sup> Shall we not fear, O kindred, the instruments of torture and weigh the threatenings of torment and shun this vain-glory and destructive pride? <sup>19</sup> Let's have compassion upon our age and relent over the years of our mother. <sup>20</sup> And let's bear in mind that we shall be dying as rebels. <sup>21</sup> And Divine Justice will pardon us if we fear the king through necessity. <sup>22</sup> Why withdraw ourselves from a most sweet life, and deprive ourselves of this pleasant world? <sup>23</sup> Let's not oppose necessity, nor seek vain-glory by our own excruciation. <sup>24</sup> The law itself is not forward to put us to death, if we dread torture. <sup>25</sup> Whence has such angry zeal taken root in us, and such fatal obstinacy approved itself to us, when we might live unmolested by the king? <sup>26</sup> But nothing of this kind did the young men say or think when about to be tortured. <sup>27</sup> For they were well aware of the sufferings, and masters of the pains. <sup>28-29</sup> So that as soon as the tyrant had ceased counselling them to eat the unclean, they altogether with one voice, as from the same heart said:

9 Why delay you, O tyrant? for we are more ready to die than to transgress the injunctions of our fathers. <sup>2</sup> And we should be disgracing our fathers if we didn't obey the law, and take knowledge for our guide. <sup>3</sup> O tyrant, counsellor of law-breaking, do not, hating us as you do, pity us more than we pity ourselves. <sup>4</sup> For we account escape to be worse than death. <sup>5</sup> And you think to scare us, by threatening us with death by tortures, as though you had learnt nothing by the death of Eleazar. <sup>6</sup> But if aged men of the Hebrews have died in the cause of religion after enduring torture, more rightly should we younger men die, scorning your cruel tortures, which our aged instructor overcame. <sup>7</sup> Make the attempt, then, O tyrant; and if you put us to death for our religion, think not that you harm us by torturing us. <sup>8</sup> For we through this ill-treatment and endurance shall bear off the rewards of virtue. <sup>9</sup> But you, for the wicked and despotic slaughter of us, shall, from the Divine vengeance, endure eternal torture by fire. <sup>10</sup> When they had thus spoken, the tyrant was not only exasperated against them as being refractory, but enraged with them as being ungrateful. <sup>11</sup> So that, at his bidding, the torturers brought forth the oldest of them, and tearing through his tunic, bound his hands and arms on each side with thongs. <sup>12</sup> And when they had laboured hard without effect in scourging him, they hurled him upon the wheel. <sup>13</sup> And the noble youth, extended upon this, became dislocated. <sup>14</sup> And with every member disjointed, he exclaimed in expostulation, <sup>15</sup> O most accursed tyrant, and enemy of heavenly justice, and cruel-hearted, I am no murderer, nor sacrilegious man, whom you thus ill-use; but a defender of the Divine law. <sup>16</sup> And when the spearmen said, Consent to eat, that you may be released from your tortures,— <sup>17</sup> he answered, Not so powerful, O accursed ministers, is your wheel, as to stifle my reasoning; cut my limbs, and burn my flesh, and twist my joints. <sup>18</sup> For through all my torments I will convince you that the children of the Hebrews are alone unconquered in behalf of virtue. <sup>19</sup> While he was saying this, they heaped up fuel, and setting fire to it, strained him upon the wheel still more. <sup>20</sup> And the wheel was defiled all over with blood, and the hot ashes were quenched by the droppings of gore, and pieces of flesh were scattered about the axles of the machine. <sup>21</sup> And although the framework of his bones was now destroyed the high-minded and Abrahamic youth didn't groan. <sup>22</sup> But, as though transformed by fire into immortality, he nobly endured the rackings, saying <sup>23</sup> Imitate me, O kindred, nor ever desert your station, nor renounce my brotherhood in courage: fight the holy and honourable fight of religion; <sup>24</sup> by which means our just and paternal Providence, becoming merciful to the nation, will punish the pestilent tyrant. <sup>25</sup> And saying this, the revered youth abruptly closed his life. <sup>26</sup>And when all admired his courageous soul, the spearmen brought forward him who was second in point of age, and having put on iron hands, bound him with pointed hooks to the catapult. <sup>27</sup>And when, on enquiring whether he would eat before he was tortured, they heard his noble sentiment, <sup>28</sup>after they with the iron hands had violently dragged all the flesh from the neck to the chin, the panther-like beasts tore off the very skin of his head: but he, bearing with firmness this misery, said, <sup>29</sup>How sweet is every form of death for the religion of our fathers! and he said to the tyrant, <sup>30</sup>Thinkest you not, most cruel of all tyrants, that you are now tortured more than I, finding your overweening conception of tyranny conquered by our perseverance in behalf of our religion? <sup>31</sup>For I lighten my suffering by the pleasures which are connected with virtue. <sup>32</sup>But you are tortured with threatenings for impiety; and you shall not escape, most corrupt tyrant, the vengeance of Divine wrath.

10 Now this one, having endured this praiseworthy death, the third was brought along, and exhorted by many to taste and save his life. <sup>2</sup>But he cried out and said, Know you<sup>o</sup> not, that the father of those who are dead, became the father of me also; and that the same mother bare me; and that I was brought up in the same tenets? <sup>3</sup>I renounce not the noble relationship of my kindred. <sup>4</sup>Now then, whatever instrument of vengeance you<sup>o</sup> have, apply it to my body, for you<sup>o</sup> are not able to touch, even if you<sup>o</sup> wish it, my soul. <sup>5</sup>But they, highly incensed at his boldness of speech, dislocated his hands and feet with racking engines, and wrenching them from their sockets, dismembered him. <sup>6</sup>And they dragged round his fingers, and his arms, and his legs, and his ankles. <sup>7</sup>And not being able by any means to strangle him, they tore off his skin, together with the extreme tips of his fingers and then dragged him to the wheel; <sup>8</sup>around which his vertebral joints were loosened, and he saw his own flesh torn to shreds, and streams of blood flowing from his entrails. <sup>9</sup>And when about to die, he said, <sup>10</sup>We, O accursed tyrant, suffer this for the sake of Divine education and virtue. <sup>11</sup>But you, for your impiety and blood shedding, shall endure indissoluble torments. <sup>12</sup>And thus having died worthily of his kindred, they dragged forward the fourth, saying, <sup>13</sup>Do not you share the madness of your kindred: but give regard to the king, and save yourself. <sup>14</sup>But he said to them, You have not a fire so scorching as to make me play the coward. <sup>15</sup>By the blessed death of my kindred, and the eternal punishment of the tyrant, and the glorious life of the pious, I will not repudiate the noble brotherhood. <sup>16</sup>Invent, O tyrant, tortures; that you may learn, even through them, that I am the brother of those tormented before. <sup>17</sup>When he had said this, the blood-thirsty, and murderous, and unhallowed Antiochus ordered his tongue to be cut out. <sup>18</sup>But he said, Even if you take away the organ of speech, yet God hears the silent. <sup>19</sup>Behold, my tongue is extended, cut it off; for not for that halt you extirpate our reasoning. <sup>20</sup>Gladly do we lose our limbs in behalf of God. <sup>21</sup>But God shall speedily find you, since you cut off the tongue, the instrument of divine melody.

11 And when he had died, disfigured in his torments, the fifth leapt forward, and said, <sup>2</sup>I intend not, O tyrant, to get excused from the torment which is in behalf of virtue. <sup>3</sup>But I have come of my own accord, that by the death of me, you may owe heavenly vengeance a punishment for more crimes. <sup>4</sup>O you hater of virtue and of men, what have we done that you thus revel in our blood? <sup>5</sup>Does it seem evil to you that we worship the Founder of all things, and live according to his surpassing law? <sup>6</sup>But this is worthy of honours, not torments; <sup>7</sup>had you been capable of the higher feelings of men, and possessed the hope of salvation from God. <sup>8</sup>Behold now, being alien from God, you make war against those who are religious towards God. <sup>9</sup> As he said this, the spearbearers bound him, and drew him to the catapult: <sup>10</sup> to which binding him at his knees, and fastening them with iron fetters, they bent down his loins upon the wedge of the wheel; and his body was then dismembered, scorpion-fashion. <sup>11</sup> With his breath thus confined, and his body strangled, he said, <sup>12</sup> A great favour you bestow upon us, O tyrant, by enabling us to manifest our adherence to the law by means of nobler sufferings. <sup>13</sup> He also being dead, the sixth, quite a youth, was brought out; and on the tyrant asking him whether he would eat and be delivered, he said, <sup>14</sup> I am indeed younger than my brothers, but in understanding I am as old; <sup>15</sup> for having been born and reared to the same end, we are bound to die also in behalf of the same cause. <sup>16</sup> So that if you<sup>o</sup> think proper to torment us for not eating the unclean, then torment! <sup>17</sup> As he said this, they brought him to the wheel. <sup>18</sup> Extended upon which, with limbs racked and dislocated, he was gradually roasted from beneath. <sup>19</sup> And having heated sharp spits, they approached them to his back; and having transfixed his sides, they burnt away his entrails. <sup>20</sup> And he, while tormented, said, O period good and holy, in which, for the sake of religion, we kindred have been called to the contest of pain, and have not been conquered. <sup>21</sup> For religious understanding, O tyrant, is unconquered. <sup>22</sup> Armed with upright virtue, I also shall depart with my kindred. <sup>23</sup> I, too, bearing with me a great avenger, O inventor of tortures, and enemy of the truly pious. <sup>24</sup> We six youths have destroyed your tyranny. <sup>25</sup> For is not your inability to overrule our reasoning, and to compel us to eat the unclean, your destruction? <sup>26</sup> Your fire is cold to us, your catapults are painless, and your violence harmless. <sup>27</sup> For the guards not of a tyrant but of a divine law are our defenders: through this we keep our reasoning unconquered.

12 When he, too, had undergone blessed martyrdom, and died in the cauldron into which he had been thrown, the seventh, the youngest of all, came forward: <sup>2</sup> whom the tyrant pitying, though he had been dreadfully reproached by his kindred, <sup>3</sup> seeing him already encompassed with chains, had him brought nearer, and endeavored to counsel him, saying, <sup>4</sup> You see the end of the madness of your kindred: for they have died in torture through disobedience; and you, if disobedient, having been miserably tormented, will yourself perish prematurely. <sup>5</sup> But if you obey, you shall be my friend, and have a charge over the affairs of the kingdom. <sup>6</sup> And having thus exhorted him, he sent for the mother of the boy; that, by condoling with her for the loss of so many sons, he might incline her, through the hope of safety, to render the survivor obedient. <sup>7</sup> And he, after his mother had urged him on in the Hebrew tongue, (as we shall soon relate) says, <sup>8</sup> Release me that I may speak to the king and all his friends. <sup>9</sup> And they, rejoicing exceedingly at the promise of the youth, quickly let him go. <sup>10</sup> And he, running up to the pans, said, <sup>11</sup> Impious tyrant, and most blasphemous man, were you not ashamed, having received prosperity and a kingdom from God, to kill His servants, and to rack the doers of godliness? <sup>12</sup> Wherefore the divine vengeance is reserving you for eternal fire and torments, which shall cling to you for all time. <sup>13</sup> Were you not ashamed, man as you are, yet most savage, to cut out the tongues of men of like feeling and origin, and having thus abused to torture them? <sup>14</sup> But they, bravely dying, fulfilled their religion towards God. <sup>15</sup> But you shall groan according to your deserts for having slain without cause the champions of virtue. <sup>16</sup> Wherefore, he continued, I myself, being about to die, <sup>17</sup> will not forsake my kindred. <sup>18</sup> And I call upon the God of my fathers to be merciful to my race. <sup>19</sup> But you, both living and dead, he will punish. <sup>20</sup> Thus having prayed, he hurled himself into the pans; and so expired.

13 If then, the seven kindred despised troubles even to death, it is confessed on all sides that righteous reasoning is absolute master over the passions. <sup>2</sup>For just as if, had they as slaves to the passions, eaten of the unholy, we should have said that they had been conquered by the; <sup>3</sup>now it is not so: but by means of the reasoning which is praised by God, they mastered their passions. <sup>4</sup>And it is impossible to overlook the leadership of reflection: for it gained the victory over both passions and troubles. <sup>5</sup>How, then, can we avoid according to these men mastery of passion through right reasoning, since they drew not back from the pains of fire? <sup>6</sup>For just as by means of towers projecting in front of harbours men break the threatening waves, and thus assure a still course to vessels entering port, <sup>7</sup>so that seven-towered right-reasoning of the young men, securing the harbour of religion, conquered the interperance of passions. <sup>8</sup>For having arranged a holy choir of piety, they encouraged one another, saying, <sup>9</sup>Brothers, may we die brotherly for the law. Let us imitate the three young men in Assyria who despised the equally afflicting furnace. <sup>10</sup>Let's not be cowards in the manifestation of piety. <sup>11</sup>And one said, Courage, brother; and another, Nobly endure. <sup>12</sup>And another, Remember of what stock you<sup>o</sup> are; and by the hand of our father Isaac endured to be slain for the sake of piety. <sup>13</sup>And one and all, looking on each other serene and confident, said, Let us sacrifice with all our heart our souls to God who gave them, and employ our bodies for the keeping of the law. <sup>14</sup>Let's not fear him who thinks he kills; <sup>15</sup>for great is the trial of soul and danger of eternal torment laid up for those who transgress the commandment of God. <sup>16</sup>Let's arm ourselves, therefore, in the self-control, which is divine reasoning. <sup>17</sup>If we suffer thus, Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob will receive us, and all the fathers will commend us. <sup>18</sup>And as each one of the kindred was haled away, the rest exclaimed, Disgrace us not, O brother, nor falsify those who died before you. <sup>19</sup>Now you are not ignorant of the charm of brotherhood, which the Divine and all wise Providence has imparted through fathers to children, and has engendered through the mother's womb. <sup>20</sup>In which these brothers having remained an equal time, and having been formed for the same period, and been increased by the same blood, and having been perfected through the same principle of life, <sup>21</sup>and having been brought forth at equal intervals, and having sucked milk from the same springs, hence their brotherly souls are reared up lovingly together; <sup>22</sup>and increase the more powerfully by reason of this simultaneous rearing, and by daily intercourse, and by other education, and exercise in the law of God. <sup>23</sup>Brotherly love being thus sympathetically constituted, the seven kindred had a more sympathetic mutual harmony. <sup>24</sup>For being educated in the same law, and practising the same virtues, and reared up in a just course of life, they increased this harmony with each other. <sup>25</sup>For a like ardour for what is right and honourable increased their fellow-feeling towards each other. <sup>26</sup>For it acting along with religion, made their brotherly feeling more desirable to them. <sup>27</sup>And yet, although nature and intercourse and virtuous morals increased their brotherly love those who were left endured to behold their kindred, who were ill-used for their religion, tortured even to death.

14 And more that this, they even urged them on to this ill-treatment; so that they not only despised pains themselves, but they even got the better of their affections of brotherly love. <sup>2</sup>O reasoning more royal than a king, and freer than freemen! <sup>3</sup>Sacred and harmonious concert of the seven kindred as concerning piety! <sup>4</sup>None of the seven youths turned cowardly, or shrank back from death. <sup>5</sup>But all of them, as though running the road to immortality, hastened on to death through tortures. <sup>6</sup>For just as hands and feet are moved sympathetically with the directions of the soul, so those holy youths agreed to death for religion's sake, as through the immortal soul of religion. <sup>7</sup>O holy seven of harmonious kindred! for as the seven days of creation, about religion, <sup>8</sup> so the youths, circling around the number seven, annulled the fear of torments. <sup>9</sup> We now shudder at the recital of the affliction of those young men; but they not only saw, and not only heard the immediate execution of the threat, but undergoing it, persevered; and that through the pains of fire. <sup>10</sup> And what could be more painful? for the power of fire, being sharp and quick, speedily dissolved their bodies. <sup>11</sup> And think it not wonderful that reasoning bore rule over those men in their torments, when even a woman's mind despised more manifold pains. <sup>12</sup> For the mother of those seven youths endured the rackings of each of her children. <sup>13</sup> And consider how comprehensive is the love of offspring, which draws every one to sympathy of affection, <sup>14</sup> where irrational animals possess a similar sympathy and love for their offspring with men. <sup>15</sup> The tame birds frequenting the roofs of our houses, defend their fledglings. <sup>16</sup> Others build their nests, and hatch their young, in the tops of mountains and in the precipices of valleys, and the holes and tops of trees, and keep off the intruder. <sup>17</sup> And if not able to do this, they fly circling round them in agony of affection, calling out in their own note, and save their offspring in whatever manner they are able. <sup>18</sup> But why should we point attention to the sympathy towards children shown by irrational animals? <sup>19</sup> The very bees, at the season of honey-making, attack all who approach; and pierce with their sting, as with a sword, those who draw near their hive, and repel them even to death. <sup>20</sup> But sympathy with her children didn't turn away the mother of the young men, who had a spirit kindred with that of Abraham.

15 O reasoning of the sons, lord over the passions, and religion more desirable to a mother than progeny! <sup>2</sup> The mother, when two things were set before here, religion and the safety of her seven sons for a time, on the conditional promise of a tyrant, <sup>3</sup> rather elected the religion which according to God preserves to eternal life. <sup>4</sup> O in what way can I describe ethically the affections of parents towards their children, the resemblance of soul and of form engrafted into the small type of a child in a wonderful manner, especially through the greater sympathy of mothers with the feelings of those born of them! <sup>5</sup> for by how much mothers are by nature weak in disposition and prolific in offspring, by so much the fonder they are of children. <sup>6</sup> And of all mothers the mother of the seven was the fondest of children, who in seven childbirths had deeply engendered love towards them; <sup>7</sup> and through her many pains undergone in connection with each one, was compelled to feel sympathy with them; <sup>8</sup> yet, through fear of God, she neglected the temporary salvation of her children. <sup>9</sup> Not but that, on account of the excellent disposition to the law, her maternal affection towards them was increased. <sup>10</sup> For they were both just and temperate, and manly, and high-minded, and fond of their kindred, and so fond of their mother that even to death they obeyed her by observing the law. <sup>11</sup> And yet, though there were so many circumstances connected with love of children to draw on a mother to sympathy, in the case of none of them were the various tortures able to pervert her principle. <sup>12</sup> But she inclined each one separately and all together to death for religion. <sup>13</sup> O holy nature and parental feeling, and reward of bringing up children, and unconquerable maternal affection! <sup>14</sup> At the racking and roasting of each one of them, the observant mother was prevented by religion from changing. <sup>15</sup> She saw her children's flesh dissolving around the fire; and their extremities quivering on the ground, and the flesh of their heads dropped forward down to their beards, like masks. <sup>16</sup> O you mother, who was tried at this time with bitterer pangs than those of parturition! <sup>17</sup> O you only woman who have brought forth perfect holiness! <sup>18</sup> Your first-born, expiring, turned you not; nor the second, looking miserable in his torments; nor the third, breathing out his soul. <sup>19</sup> Nor when you did behold the eyes of each of them looking sternly upon their tortures, and their nostrils foreboding death, did you weep! <sup>20</sup> When you did see children's flesh heaped upon children's flesh that had been torn off, heads decapitated upon heads, dead falling upon the dead, and a choir of children turned through torture into a burying ground, you lamented not. <sup>21</sup> Not so do siren melodies, or songs of swans, attract the hearers to listening, O voices of children calling upon your mother in the midst of torments! <sup>22</sup> With what and what manner of torments was the mother herself tortured, as her sons were undergoing the wheel and the fires! <sup>23</sup> But religious reasoning, having strengthened her courage in the midst of sufferings, enabled her to forego, for the time, parental love. <sup>24</sup> Although beholding the destruction of seven children, the noble mother, after one embrace, stripped off her feelings through faith in God. <sup>25</sup> For just as in a council-room, beholding in her own soul vehement counsellors, nature and parentage and love of her children, and the racking of her children, <sup>26</sup> she holding two votes, one for the death, the other for the preservation of her children, <sup>27</sup> didn't lean to that which would have saved her children for the safety of a brief space. <sup>28</sup> But this daughter of Abraham remembered his holy fortitude. <sup>29</sup> O holy mother of a nation avenger of the law, and defender of religion, and prime bearer in the battle of the affections! <sup>30</sup> O you nobler in endurance than males, and more manly than men in perseverance! <sup>31</sup> For as the ark of Noah, bearing the world in the world-filling flood, bore up against the waves, <sup>32</sup> so you, the guardian of the law, when surrounded on every side by the flood of passions, and straitened by violent storms which were the torments of they children, did bear up nobly against the storms against religion.

16 If, then, even a woman, and that an aged one, and the mother of seven children, endured to see her children's torments even to death, confessedly religious reasoning is master even of the passions. <sup>2</sup> I have proved, then, that not only men have obtained the mastery of their passions, but also that a woman despised the greatest torments. <sup>3</sup> And not so fierce were the lions round Daniel, nor the furnace of Misael burning with most vehement fires as that natural love of children burnt within her, when she saw her seven sons tortured. <sup>4</sup> But with the reasoning of religion the mother quenched passions so great and powerful. <sup>5</sup> For we must consider also this: that, had the woman been faint hearted, as being their other, she would have lamented over them; and perhaps might have spoken thus: <sup>6</sup> Ah! wretched I, and many times miserable; who having born seven sons, have become the mother of none. <sup>7</sup> O seven useless childbirths, and seven profitless periods of labour, and fruitless givings of suck, and miserable nursings at the breast. <sup>8</sup> Vainly, for your sakes, O sons, have I endured many pangs, and the more difficult anxieties of rearing. <sup>9</sup> Alas, of my children, some of you unmarried, and some who have married to no profit, I shall not see your children, nor be felicitated as a grandmother. <sup>10</sup> Ah, that I who had many and fair children, should be a lone widow full of sorrows! <sup>11</sup> Nor, should I die, shall I have a son to bury me. But with such a lament as this the holy and God-fearing mother bewailed none of them. <sup>12</sup> Nor did she divert any of them from death, nor grieve for them as for the dead. <sup>13</sup> But as one possessed with an adamantine mind, and as one bringing forth again her full number of sons to immortality, she rather with supplication exhorted them to death in behalf of religion. <sup>14</sup> O woman, soldier of God for religion, you, aged and a female, have conquered through endurance even a tyrant; and though but weak, have been found more powerful in deeds and words. <sup>15</sup> For when you were seized along with your children, you stood looking upon Eleazar in torments, and said to your sons in the Hebrew tongue, <sup>16</sup> O sons, noble is the contest; to which you being called as a witness for the nation, strive zealously for the laws of your country. <sup>17</sup> For it were disgraceful that this old man should endure pains for the sake of righteousness, and that you who are younger should be afraid of the tortures. <sup>18</sup>Remember that through God you<sup>o</sup> obtained existence, and have enjoyed it. <sup>19</sup>And on this second account you<sup>o</sup> ought to bear every affliction because of God. <sup>20</sup>For whom also our father Abraham was forward to sacrifice Isaac our progenitor, and shuddered not at the sight of his own paternal hand descending down with the sword upon him. <sup>21</sup>And the righteous Daniel was cast to the lions; and Ananias, and Azarias, and Misael, were slung out into a furnace of fire; yet they endured through God. <sup>22</sup>You, then, having the same faith towards God, be not troubled. <sup>23</sup>For it is unreasonable that they who know religion should not stand up against troubles. <sup>24</sup>With these arguments, the mother of seven, exhorting each of her sons, over-persuaded them from transgressing the commandment of God. <sup>25</sup>And they saw this, too, that they who die for God, live to God; as Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the patriarchs.

17 And some of the spearbearers said, that when she herself was about to be seized for the purpose of being put to death, she threw herself upon the pile, rather than they should touch her person. <sup>2</sup>O you mother, who together with seven children did destroy the violence of the tyrant, and render void his wicked intentions, and exhibit the nobleness of faith! <sup>3</sup>For you, as a house bravely built upon the pillar of your children, did bear without swaying, the shock of tortures. <sup>4</sup>Be of good cheer, therefore, O holy-minded mother! holding the firm substance of the hope of your steadfastness with God. <sup>5</sup>Not so gracious does the moon appear with the stars in heaven, as you are established honourable before God, and fixed in the firmament with your sons who you did illuminate with religion to the stars. <sup>6</sup>For your bearing of children was after the fashion of a child of Abraham. <sup>7</sup>And, were it lawful for us to paint as on a tablet the religion of your story, the spectators would not shudder at beholding the mother of seven children enduring for the sake of religion various tortures even to death. <sup>8</sup>And it had been a worth thing to have inscribed upon the tomb itself these words as a memorial to those of the nation, <sup>9</sup>Here an aged priest, and an aged woman, and seven sons, are buried through the violence of a tyrant, who wished to destroy the society of the Hebrews. <sup>10</sup>These also avenged their nation, looking to God, and enduring torments to death. <sup>11</sup>For it was truly a divine contest which was carried through by them. <sup>12</sup>For at that time virtue presided over the contest, approving the victory through endurance, namely, immortality, eternal life. <sup>13</sup>Eleazar was the first to contend: and the mother of the seven children entered the contest; and the kindred contended. <sup>14</sup>The tyrant was the opposite; and the world and living men were the spectators. <sup>15</sup>And reverence for God conquered, and crowned her own athletes. <sup>16</sup>Who didn't admire those champions of true legislation? who were not astonished? <sup>17</sup>The tyrant himself, and all their council, admired their endurance; <sup>18</sup>through which, also, they now stand beside the divine throne, and live a blessed life. <sup>19</sup>For Moses says, And all the saints are under your hands. <sup>20</sup>These, therefore, having been sanctified through God, have been honoured not only with this honour, but that also by their means the enemy didn't overcome our nation; <sup>21</sup>and that the tyrant was punished, and their country purified. <sup>22</sup>For they became the ransom to the sin of the nation; and the Divine Providence saved Israel, aforetime afflicted, by the blood of those pious ones, and the propitiatory death. <sup>23</sup>For the tyrant Antiochus, looking to their manly virtue, and to their endurance in torture, proclaimed that endurance as an example to his soldiers. <sup>24</sup>And they proved to be to him noble and brave for land battles and for sieges; and he conquered and stormed the towns of all his enemies.

in every way be religious. <sup>2</sup> Knowing that religious reasoning is lord of the passions, and those not only inward but outward. <sup>3</sup> When those persons giving up their bodies to pains for the sake of religion, were not only admired by men, but were deemed worthy of a divine portion. <sup>4</sup> And the nation through them obtained peace, and having renewed the observance of the law in their country, drove the enemy out of the land. <sup>5</sup> And the tyrant Antiochus was both punished upon earth, and is punished now he is dead; for when he was quite unable to compel the Israelites to adopt foreign customs, and to desert the manner of life of their fathers, <sup>6</sup> then, departing from Jerusalem, he made war against the Persians. <sup>7</sup> And the righteous mother of the seven children spoke also as follows to her offspring: I was a pure virgin, and went not beyond my father's house; but I took care of the built-up rib. <sup>8</sup> No destroyer of the desert, or ravisher of the plain, injured me; nor did the destructive, deceitful snake, make plunder of my chaste virginity; and I remained with my husband during the period of my prime. <sup>9</sup> And these my children, having arrived at maturity, their father died: blessed was he! for having sought out a life of fertility in children, he was not grieved with a period of loss of children. <sup>10</sup> And he used to teach you, when yet with you, the law and the prophets. <sup>11</sup> He used to read to you the slaying of Abel by Cain, and the offering up of Isaac, and the imprisonment of Joseph. <sup>12</sup> And he used to tell you of the zealous Phinehas; and informed you of Ananias and Azarias, and Misael in the fire. <sup>13</sup> And he used to glorify Daniel, who was in the den of lions, and pronounce him blessed. <sup>14</sup> And he used to put you in mind of the scripture of Esaias, which says, Even if you pass through the fire, it shall not burn you. <sup>15</sup> He chanted to you David, the hymn-writer, who says, Many are the afflictions of the just. <sup>16</sup> He declared the proverbs of Solomon, who says, He is a tree of life to all those who do His will. <sup>17</sup> He used to verify Ezekiel, who said, Shall these dry bones live? <sup>18</sup> For he didn't forget the song which Moses taught, proclaiming, I will kill, and I will make to live. <sup>19</sup> This is our life, and the length of our days. <sup>20</sup> O that bitter, and yet not bitter, day when the bitter tyrant of the Greeks, quenching fire with fire in his cruel cauldrons, brought with boiling rage the seven sons of the daughter of Abraham to the catapult, and to all his torments! <sup>21</sup> He pierced the balls of their eyes, and cut out their tongues, and put them to death with varied tortures. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore divine retribution pursued and will pursue the pestilent wretch. <sup>23</sup> But the children of Abraham, with their victorious mother, are assembled together to the choir of their father; having received pure and immortal souls from God. <sup>24</sup> To whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

The Book of Daniel
with Greek Portions

1 In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it. <sup>2</sup>The Lord§§ gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; *and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god. He brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.

<sup>6</sup>Now amongst these were of the children of Judah: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. <sup>7</sup>The prince of the eunuchs gave names to them: to Daniel he gave the name Belteshazzar; to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abednego.

<sup>8</sup>But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's dainties, nor with the wine which he drank. Therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. <sup>9</sup>Now God made Daniel find kindness and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. <sup>10</sup>The prince of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I fear my lord the king, who has appointed your food and your drink. For why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths who are of your own age? Then you would endanger my head with the king."

<sup>11</sup>Then Daniel said to the steward whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: <sup>12</sup>"Test your servants, I beg you, ten days; and let them give us vegetables to eat, and water to drink. <sup>13</sup>Then let our faces be examined before you, and the face of the youths who eat of the king's dainties; and as you see, deal with your servants." <sup>14</sup>So he listened to them in this matter, and tested them for ten days.

<sup>15</sup>At the end of ten days, their faces appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths who ate of the king's dainties. <sup>16</sup>So the steward took away their dainties, and the wine that they would drink, and gave them vegetables.

<sup>17</sup>Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom; and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

†1:3 or, seed

2 In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamt dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep went from him. 2 Then the king commanded that the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans be called to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. 3 The king said to them, "I have dreamt a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream."

4 Then the Chaldeans spoke to the king in the Syrian language, "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation."

5 The king answered the Chaldeans, "The thing has gone from me. If you don't make known to me the dream and its interpretation, you will be cut in pieces, and your houses will be made a dunghill. 6 But if you show the dream and its interpretation, you will receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour. Therefore show me the dream and its interpretation."

7 They answered the second time and said, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation."

8 The king answered, "I know of a certainty that you are trying to gain time, because you see the thing has gone from me. 9 But if you don't make known to me the dream, there is but one law for you; for you have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, until the situation changes. Therefore tell me the dream, and I will know that you can show me its interpretation."

10 The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, "There is not a man on the earth who can show the king's matter, because no king, lord, or ruler, has asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. 11 It is a rare thing that the king requires, and there is no other who can show it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh."

12 Because of this, the king was angry and very furious, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed. 13 So the decree went out, and the wise men were to be slain. They sought Daniel and his companions to be slain.

14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, who had gone out to kill the wise men of Babylon. 15 He answered Arioch the king's captain, "Why is the decree so urgent from the king?" Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. 16 Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would show the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: 18 that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions would not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. 20 Daniel answered, "Blessed be the name of God forever and ever; for wisdom and might are his.

21 He changes the times and the seasons.

He removes kings, and sets up kings.

He gives wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who have understanding.

22 He reveals the deep and secret things.

He knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with him.

23 I thank you, and praise you,

you God of my fathers, who have given me wisdom and might,

and have now made known to me what we desired of you;

for you have made known to us the king's matter." Therefore Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said this to him: "Don't destroy the wise men of Babylon. Bring me in before the king, and I will show to the king the interpretation.”

<sup>24</sup> Therefore Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said this to him: “Don’t destroy the wise men of Babylon. Bring me in before the king, and I will show to the king the interpretation.”

<sup>26</sup> The king answered Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen, and its interpretation?”

<sup>27</sup> Daniel answered before the king, and said, “The secret which the king has demanded can’t be shown to the king by wise men, enchanters, magicians, or soothsayers; <sup>28</sup> but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and he has made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what will be in the latter days. Your dream, and the visions of your head on your bed, are these:

<sup>29</sup> “As for you, O king, your thoughts came on your bed, what should happen hereafter; and he who reveals secrets has made known to you what will happen. <sup>30</sup> But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

stone was cut out without hands, which struck the image on its feet that were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces. <sup>35</sup> Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors. The wind carried them away, so that no place was found for them. The stone that struck the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

<sup>39</sup> “After you, another kingdom will arise that is inferior to you; and another third kingdom of bronze, which will rule over all the earth. <sup>40</sup> The fourth kingdom will be strong as iron, because iron breaks in pieces and subdues all things; and as iron that crushes all these, it will break in pieces and crush. <sup>41</sup> Whereas you saw the feet and toes, part of potters’ clay, and part of iron, it will be a divided kingdom; but there will be in it of the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay. <sup>42</sup> As the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom will be partly strong, and partly broken. <sup>43</sup> Whereas you saw the iron mixed with miry clay, they will mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they won’t cling to one another, even as iron does not mix with clay.

<sup>44</sup> “In the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which will never be destroyed, nor will its sovereignty be left to another people; but it will break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it will stand forever. <sup>45</sup> Because you saw that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God has made known to the king what will happen hereafter. The dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.”

<sup>48</sup>Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. <sup>49</sup>Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel was in the king’s gate.

3 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits,¶ and its width six cubits. He set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. <sup>2</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the local governors, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. <sup>3</sup>Then the local governors, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

kinds of music, you fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king has set up. <sup>6</sup>Whoever doesn’t fall down and worship shall be cast into the middle of a burning fiery furnace the same hour.”

<sup>7</sup>Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

<sup>13</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar in rage and fury commanded that Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego be brought. Then these men were brought before the king. <sup>14</sup>Nebuchadnezzar answered them, “Is it on purpose, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you don’t serve my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? <sup>15</sup>Now if you are ready whenever you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipe, and all kinds of music to fall down and worship the image which I have made, good; but if you don’t worship, you shall be cast the same hour into the middle of a burning fiery furnace. Who is that god that will deliver you out of my hands?”

<sup>16</sup> Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, “Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer you in this matter. <sup>17</sup> If it happens, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of your hand, O king. <sup>18</sup> But if not, let it be known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up.”

<sup>19</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar was full of fury, and the form of his appearance was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He spoke, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated. <sup>20</sup> He commanded certain mighty men who were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. <sup>21</sup> Then these men were bound in their pants, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other clothes, and were cast into the middle of the burning fiery furnace. <sup>22</sup> Therefore because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. <sup>23</sup> These three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down bound into the middle of the burning fiery furnace.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN §

<sup>24</sup> They walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. <sup>25</sup> Then Azarias stood, and prayed like this. Opening his mouth in the midst of the fire he said: <sup>26</sup> “Blessed are you, O Lord, you God of our fathers! Your name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore; <sup>27</sup> for you are righteous in all the things that you have done. Yes, all your works are true. Your ways are right, and all your judgements are truth. <sup>28</sup> In all the things that you have brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, Jerusalem, you have executed true judgements. For according to truth and justice you have brought all these things upon us because of our sins. <sup>29</sup> For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from you. <sup>30</sup> In all things we have trespassed, and not obeyed your commandments, or kept them. We haven’t done as you have commanded us, that it might go well with us. <sup>31</sup> Therefore all that you have brought upon us, and everything that you have done to us, you have done in true judgement. <sup>32</sup> You delivered us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful rebels, and to an unjust king who is the most wicked in all the world. <sup>33</sup> And now we can’t open our mouth. Shame and reproach have come on your servants and those who worship you. <sup>34</sup> Don’t utterly deliver us up, for your name’s sake. Don’t annul your covenant. <sup>35</sup> Don’t cause not your mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham who is loved by you, and for the sake of Isaac your servant, and Israel your holy one, <sup>36</sup> to whom you promised that you would multiply their offspring as the stars of the sky, and as the sand that is on the sea shore. <sup>37</sup> For we, O Lord, have become less than any nation, and are kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. <sup>38</sup> There isn’t at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before you, and to find mercy. <sup>39</sup> Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted, <sup>40</sup> like the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like ten thousands of fat lambs. So let our sacrifice be in your sight this day, that we may wholly go after you, for they shall not be ashamed who put their trust in you. <sup>41</sup> And now we follow you with all our heart. We fear you, and seek your face. <sup>42</sup> Put us not to shame; but deal with us after your kindness, and according to the multitude of your mercy. <sup>43</sup> Deliver us also according to your marvellous works, and give glory to your name, O Lord. Let all those who harm your servants be confounded. <sup>44</sup> Let them be ashamed of all their power and might, and let their strength be broken. <sup>45</sup> Let them know that you are the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.”

Praise and exalt him above all forever! <sup>68</sup> O you dews and storms of snow, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! <sup>69</sup> O you nights and days, bless you the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! <sup>74</sup> O let the earth bless the Lord! Let it praise and exalt him above all forever! <sup>75</sup> O you mountains and hills, bless the Lord! Praise and exalt him above all forever! <sup>76</sup> O all you things that grow on the earth, bless the Lord! #### Deliverance from the Furnace

<sup>91</sup> ††Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste. He spoke and said to his counsellors, "Didn't we cast three men bound into the middle of the fire?"

They answered the king, "True, O king."

<sup>92</sup>He answered, "Look, I see four men loose, walking in the middle of the fire, and they are unharmed. The appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods."

<sup>93</sup>Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace. He spoke and said, "Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, you servants of the Most High God, come out, and come here!"

Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the middle of the fire. <sup>94</sup>The local governors, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power on their bodies. The hair of their head wasn't singed. Their pants weren't changed, the smell of fire wasn't even on them.

<sup>95</sup>Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, who has sent his angel, and delivered his servants who trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. <sup>96</sup>Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak anything evil against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; because there is no other god who is able to deliver like this."

4 Nebuchadnezzar the king, to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth:

Peace be multiplied to you.

<sup>2</sup>It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has worked towards me.

His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom.

His dominion is from generation to generation.

<sup>4</sup>I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house, and flourishing in my palace. <sup>5</sup>I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the thoughts on my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. <sup>6</sup>Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream. <sup>7</sup>Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers came in; and I told the dream before them; but they didn't make known to me its interpretation. <sup>8</sup>But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. I told the dream before him, saying,

9 “Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no secret troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and its interpretation. 10 Thus were the visions of my head on my bed: I saw, and behold, a tree in the middle of the earth; and its height was great. 11 The tree grew, and was strong, and its height reached to the sky, and its sight to the end of all the earth. 12 The leaves of it were beautiful, and it had much fruit, and in it was food for all. The animals of the field had shade under it, and the birds of the sky lived in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

13 “I saw in the visions of my head on my bed, and behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from the sky. 14 He cried aloud, and said this, ‘Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches! Shake off its leaves, and scatter its fruit! Let the animals get away from under it, and the fowls from its branches. 15 Nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of the sky. Let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth. 16 Let his heart be changed from man’s, and let an animal’s heart be given to him. Then let seven times pass over him.

17 “The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones; to the intent that the living may know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will, and sets up over it the lowest of men.’

18 “This dream I, king Nebuchadnezzar, have seen; and you, Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known to me the interpretation; but you are able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in you.”

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stricken mute for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered, “Belteshazzar, don’t let the dream, or the interpretation, trouble you.”

Belteshazzar answered, “My lord, may the dream be for those who hate you, and its interpretation to your adversaries. 20 The tree that you saw, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached to the sky, and its sight to all the earth; 21 whose leaves were beautiful, and its fruit plentiful, and in it was food for all; under which the animals of the field lived, and on whose branches the birds of the sky had their habitation: 22 it is you, O king, that have grown and become strong; for your greatness has grown, and reaches to the sky, and your dominion to the end of the earth.

23 “Whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from the sky, and saying, ‘Cut down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of the sky. Let his portion be with the animals of the field, until seven times pass over him.

24 “This is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which has come on my lord the king: 25 that you shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the animals of the field. You shall be made to eat grass as oxen, and shall be wet with the dew of the sky, and seven times shall pass over you; until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever he will. 26 Whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree; your kingdom shall be sure to you, after that you will have known that the heavens do rule. <sup>27</sup> Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor. Perhaps there may be a lengthening of your tranquillity.”

<sup>28</sup> All this came on the king Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>29</sup> At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon. <sup>30</sup> The king spoke and said, “Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?”

<sup>33</sup> This was fulfilled the same hour on Nebuchadnezzar. He was driven from men, and ate grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky, until his hair had grown like eagles’ feathers, and his nails like birds’ claws.

<sup>34</sup> At the end of the days I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him who lives forever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation.

<sup>35</sup> All the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing; and he does according to his will in the army of heaven, and amongst the inhabitants of the earth; and no one can stop his hand, or ask him, “What are you doing?”

<sup>36</sup> At the same time my understanding returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned to me. My counsellors and my lords sought me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added to me. <sup>37</sup> Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways justice; and those who walk in pride he is able to abase.

5 Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. <sup>2</sup> Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded that the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem be brought to him; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink from them. <sup>3</sup> Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of God’s house which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank from them. <sup>4</sup> They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of bronze, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

<sup>5</sup> In the same hour, the fingers of a man’s hand came out and wrote near the lamp stand on the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace. The king saw the part of the hand that wrote. <sup>6</sup> Then the king’s face was changed in him, and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of his thighs were loosened, and his knees struck one against another.

8 Then all the king's wise men came in; but they could not read the writing, and couldn't make known to the king the interpretation. 9 Then king Belshazzar was greatly troubled, and his face was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed.

10 The queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house. The queen spoke and said, "O king, live forever; don't let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your face be changed. 11 There is a man in your kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of your father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, were found in him. The king Nebuchadnezzar your father, yes, the king, your father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; 12 because an excellent spirit, knowledge, understanding, interpreting of dreams, showing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will show the interpretation."

13 Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, "Are you that Daniel of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light, understanding, and excellent wisdom are found in you. 15 Now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known to me its interpretation; but they could not show the interpretation of the thing. 16 But I have heard of you, that you can give interpretations, and dissolve doubts. Now if you can read the writing, and make known to me its interpretation, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom."

17 Then Daniel answered before the king, "Let your gifts be to yourself, and give your rewards to another. Nevertheless, I will read the writing to the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 "You, king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty. 19 Because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. He killed whom he wanted to, and he kept alive whom he wanted to. He raised up whom he wanted to, and he put down whom he wanted to. 20 But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened so that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him. 21 He was driven from the sons of men, and his heart was made like the animals', and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. He was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the sky; until he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that he sets up over it whomever he will.

22 "You, his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this, 23 but have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before you, and you and your lords, your wives, and your concubines, have drunk wine from them. You have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which don't see, or hear, or know; and you have not glorified the God in whose hand your breath is, and whose are all your ways. 24 Then the part of the hand was sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed.

25 "This is the writing that was inscribed: 'MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.'

26 "This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE: God has counted your kingdom, and brought it to an end.

27 TEKEL: you are weighed in the balances, and are found wanting.

28 PERES: your kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians."

<sup>29</sup> Then Belshazzar commanded, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

6 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom one hundred and twenty local governors, who should be throughout the whole kingdom; <sup>2</sup> and over them three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these local governors might give account to them, and that the king should suffer no loss. <sup>3</sup> Then this Daniel was distinguished above the presidents and the local governors, because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

<sup>4</sup> Then the presidents and the local governors sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; but they could find no occasion or fault, because he was faithful. There wasn't any error or fault found in him. <sup>5</sup> Then these men said, "We won't find any occasion against this Daniel, unless we find it against him concerning the law of his God."

<sup>6</sup> Then these presidents and local governors assembled together to the king, and said this to him, "King Darius, live forever! <sup>7</sup> All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the local governors, the counsellors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong decree, that whoever asks a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except of you, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. <sup>8</sup> Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it not be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn't alter." <sup>9</sup> Therefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.

<sup>10</sup> When Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house (now his windows were open in his room towards Jerusalem) and he knelt on his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did before. <sup>11</sup> Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. <sup>12</sup> Then they came near, and spoke before the king concerning the king's decree: "Haven't you signed a decree that every man who makes a petition to any god or man within thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions?"

The king answered, "This thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which doesn't alter."

<sup>13</sup> Then they answered and said before the king, "That Daniel, who is of the children of the captivity of Judah, doesn't respect you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his petition three times a day." <sup>14</sup> Then the king, when he heard these words, was very displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him; and he laboured until the going down of the sun to rescue him.

<sup>15</sup> Then these men assembled together to the king, and said to the king, "Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no decree nor statute which the king establishes may be changed."

<sup>16</sup> Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. The king spoke and said to Daniel, "Your God whom you serve continually, he will deliver you."

<sup>17</sup> A stone was brought, and laid on the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. <sup>18</sup> Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting. No musical instruments were brought before him; and his sleep fled from him.

<sup>19</sup> Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste to the den of lions. <sup>20</sup> When he came near to the den to Daniel, he cried with a troubled voice. The king spoke and said to Daniel, "Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God, whom you serve continually, able to deliver you from the lions?"

<sup>21</sup> Then Daniel said to the king, "O king, live forever! <sup>22</sup> My God has sent his angel, and has shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me; because as before him innocence was found in me; and also before you, O king, I have done no harm."

<sup>23</sup> Then the king was exceedingly glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no kind of harm was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

<sup>25</sup> Then king Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations, and languages, who dwell in all the earth:

"Peace be multiplied to you.

<sup>26</sup> "I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel;

"for he is the living God, and steadfast forever.

His kingdom is that which will not be destroyed.

His dominion will be even to the end.

He works signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions."

7 In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head on his bed. Then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters.

<sup>2</sup> Daniel spoke and said, "I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the sky broke out on the great sea. <sup>3</sup> Four great animals came up from the sea, different from one another.

<sup>4</sup> "The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings. I watched until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand on two feet as a man. A man's heart was given to it.

<sup>5</sup> "Behold, there was another animal, a second, like a bear. It was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth. They said this to it: 'Arise! Devour much flesh!'

<sup>6</sup> "After this I saw, and behold, another, like a leopard, which had on its back four wings of a bird. The animal also had four heads; and dominion was given to it.

<sup>7</sup> "After this I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there was a fourth animal, awesome and powerful, and exceedingly strong. It had great iron teeth. It devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet. It was different from all the animals that were before it. It had ten horns.

<sup>8</sup> "I considered the horns, and behold, there came up amongst them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things.

<sup>9</sup> "I watched until thrones were placed, and one who was ancient of days sat.

His clothing was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool.

His throne was fiery flames, and its wheels burning fire.

Thousands of thousands ministered to him.

Ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.

The judgement was set.

The books were opened.

<sup>11</sup> "I watched at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spoke. I watched even until the animal was slain, and its body destroyed, and it was given to be burnt with fire. <sup>12</sup> As for the rest of the animals, their dominion was taken away; yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time.

<sup>13</sup> “I saw in the night visions, and behold, there came with the clouds of the sky one like a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. <sup>14</sup> Dominion was given him, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion, which will not pass away, and his kingdom that which will not be destroyed.

<sup>15</sup> “As for me, Daniel, my spirit was grieved within my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. <sup>16</sup> I came near to one of those who stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this.

“So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. <sup>17</sup> “These great animals, which are four, are four kings, who will arise out of the earth. <sup>18</sup> But the saints of the Most High will receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom forever, even forever and ever.”

<sup>19</sup> “Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth animal, which was different from all of them, exceedingly terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and its nails of bronze; which devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the residue with its feet; <sup>20</sup> and concerning the ten horns that were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell, even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spoke great things, whose look was more stout than its fellows. <sup>21</sup> I saw, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them, <sup>22</sup> until the ancient of days came, and judgement was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

<sup>23</sup> “Thus he said, ‘The fourth animal will be a fourth kingdom on earth, which will be different from all the kingdoms, and will devour the whole earth, and will tread it down, and break it in pieces. <sup>24</sup> As for the ten horns, ten kings will arise out of this kingdom. Another will arise after them; and he will be different from the former, and he will put down three kings. <sup>25</sup> He will speak words against the Most High, and will wear out the saints of the Most High. He will plan to change the times and the law; and they will be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time.

<sup>26</sup> “But the judgement will be set, and they will take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it to the end. <sup>27</sup> The kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole sky, will be given to the people of the saints of the Most High. His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions will serve and obey him.’

8 In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared to me, even to me, Daniel, after that which appeared to me at the first. <sup>2</sup> I saw the vision. Now it was so, that when I saw, I was in the citadel of Susa, which is in the province of Elam. I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. <sup>3</sup> Then I lifted up my eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns. The two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. <sup>4</sup> I saw the ram pushing westward, northward, and southward. No animals could stand before him. There wasn't any who could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself.

<sup>5</sup> As I was considering, behold, a male goat came from the west over the surface of the whole earth, and didn't touch the ground. The goat had a notable horn between his eyes. <sup>6</sup> He came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran on him in the fury of his power. <sup>7</sup> I saw him come close to the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and struck the ram, and broke his two horns. There was no power in the ram to stand before him; but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled on him. There was no one who could deliver the ram out of his hand. <sup>8</sup>The male goat magnified himself exceedingly. When he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns towards the four winds of the sky.

<sup>9</sup>Out of one of them came out a little horn, which grew exceedingly great, towards the south, and towards the east, and towards the glorious land. <sup>10</sup>It grew great, even to the army of the sky; and it cast down some of the army and of the stars to the ground, and trampled on them. <sup>11</sup>Yes, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the army; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. <sup>12</sup>The army was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through disobedience. It cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered.

<sup>13</sup>Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said to that certain one who spoke, "How long will the vision about the continual burnt offering, and the disobedience that makes desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the army to be trodden under foot be?"

<sup>14</sup>He said to me, "To two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings. Then the sanctuary will be cleansed."

<sup>15</sup>When I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, I sought to understand it. Then behold, there stood before me something like the appearance of a man. <sup>16</sup>I heard a man's voice between the banks of the Ulai, which called, and said, "Gabriel, make this man understand the vision."

<sup>17</sup>So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was frightened, and fell on my face; but he said to me, "Understand, son of man; for the vision belongs to the time of the end."

<sup>18</sup>Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face towards the ground; but he touched me, and set me upright.

<sup>19</sup>He said, "Behold, I will make you know what will be in the latter time of the indignation; for it belongs to the appointed time of the end. <sup>20</sup>The ram which you saw, that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. <sup>21</sup>The rough male goat is the king of Greece. The great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. <sup>22</sup>As for that which was broken, in the place where four stood up, four kingdoms will stand up out of the nation, but not with his power.

<sup>23</sup>"In the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have come to the full, a king of fierce face, and understanding dark sentences, will stand up. <sup>24</sup>His power will be mighty, but not by his own power. He will destroy awesomely, and will prosper in what he does. He will destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. <sup>25</sup>Through his policy he will cause deceit to prosper in his hand. He will magnify himself in his heart, and he will destroy many in their security. He will also stand up against the prince of princes; but he will be broken without hand.

<sup>26</sup>"The vision of the evenings and mornings which has been told is true; but seal up the vision, for it belongs to many days to come."

<sup>27</sup>I, Daniel, fainted, and was sick for some days. Then I rose up, and did the king's business. I wondered at the vision, but no one understood it.

9In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the offspring of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans, <sup>2</sup>in the first year of his reign I, Daniel, understood by the books the number of the years about which Yahweh's word‡‡ came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. <sup>3</sup> I set my face to the Lord God, to seek by prayer and petitions, with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

<sup>4</sup> I prayed to Yahweh my God, and made confession, and said, “Oh, Lord, the great and dreadful God, who keeps covenant and loving kindness with those who love him and keep his commandments, <sup>5</sup> we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from your precepts and from your ordinances. <sup>6</sup> We haven’t listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

<sup>7</sup> “Lord, righteousness belongs to you, but to us confusion of face, as it is today; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, who are near, and who are far off, through all the countries where you have driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against you. <sup>8</sup> Lord, to us belongs confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against you. <sup>9</sup> To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveness; for we have rebelled against him. <sup>10</sup> We haven’t obeyed Yahweh our God’s voice, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. <sup>11</sup> Yes, all Israel have transgressed your law, turning aside, that they should not obey your voice.

“Therefore the curse and the oath written in the law of Moses the servant of God has been poured out on us; for we have sinned against him. <sup>12</sup> He has confirmed his words, which he spoke against us, and against our judges who judged us, by bringing on us a great evil; for under the whole sky, such has not been done as has been done to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil has come on us. Yet we have not entreated the favour of Yahweh our God, that we should turn from our iniquities and have discernment in your truth.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore Yahweh has watched over the evil, and brought it on us; for Yahweh our God is righteous in all his works which he does, and we have not obeyed his voice.

<sup>15</sup> “Now, Lord our God, who has brought your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and have gotten yourself renown, as it is today; we have sinned. We have done wickedly.

<sup>16</sup> Lord, according to all your righteousness, let your anger and please let your wrath be turned away from your city Jerusalem, your holy mountain; because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and your people have become a reproach to all who are around us.

<sup>17</sup> “Now therefore, our God, listen to the prayer of your servant, and to his petitions, and cause your face to shine on your sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord’s sake. <sup>18</sup> My God, turn your ear, and hear. Open your eyes, and see our desolations, and the city which is called by your name; for we do not present our petitions before you for our righteousness, but for your great mercies’ sake.

<sup>19</sup> Lord, hear. Lord, forgive. Lord, listen and do. Don’t defer, for your own sake, my God, because your city and your people are called by your name.”

<sup>20</sup> While I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before Yahweh my God for the holy mountain of my God; <sup>21</sup> yes, while I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening offering. <sup>22</sup> He instructed me and talked with me, and said, Daniel, “I have now come to give you wisdom and understanding. <sup>23</sup> At the beginning of your petitions the commandment went out, and I have come to tell you; for you are greatly beloved. Therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision.

<sup>24</sup> “Seventy weeks are decreed on your people and on your holy city, to finish disobedience, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy.

<sup>25</sup> “Know therefore and discern that from the going out of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem to the Anointed One, ¶¶ the prince, will be seven weeks and sixty-two weeks. It will be built again, with street and moat, even in troubled times. <sup>26</sup> After the sixty-two weeks the Anointed One §§ will be cut off, and will have nothing. The people of the prince who come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end will be with a flood, and war will be even to the end. Desolations are determined. <sup>27</sup> He will make a firm covenant with many for one week. In the middle of the week he will cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease. On the wing of abominations will come one who makes desolate; and even to the full end, and that determined, wrath will be poured out on the desolate.”

10 In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warfare. He understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

<sup>2</sup> In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three whole weeks. <sup>3</sup> I ate no pleasant bread. No meat or wine came into my mouth. I didn’t anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled.

<sup>4</sup> In the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, <sup>5</sup> I lifted up my eyes, and looked, and behold, there was a man clothed in linen, whose thighs were adorned with pure gold of Uphaz. <sup>6</sup> His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as flaming torches. His arms and his feet were like burnished bronze. The voice of his words was like the voice of a multitude.

<sup>7</sup> I, Daniel, alone saw the vision; for the men who were with me didn’t see the vision; but a great quaking fell on them, and they fled to hide themselves. <sup>8</sup> So I was left alone, and saw this great vision. No strength remained in me; for my face grew deathly pale, and I retained no strength. <sup>9</sup> Yet I heard the voice of his words. When I heard the voice of his words, then I fell into a deep sleep on my face, with my face towards the ground.

<sup>10</sup> Behold, a hand touched me, which set me on my knees and on the palms of my hands. <sup>11</sup> He said to me, “Daniel, you greatly beloved man, understand the words that I speak to you, and stand upright; for I have been sent to you, now.” When he had spoken this word to me, I stood trembling.

<sup>12</sup> Then he said to me, “Don’t be afraid, Daniel; for from the first day that you set your heart to understand, and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. I have come for your words’ sake. <sup>13</sup> But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days; but, behold, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me because I remained there with the kings of Persia. <sup>14</sup> Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days; for the vision is yet for many days.”

<sup>15</sup> When he had spoken these words to me, I set my face towards the ground, and was mute. <sup>16</sup> Behold, one in the likeness of the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said to him who stood before me, “My lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows have overtaken me, and

¶¶9:25 “Anointed One” can also be translated “Messiah” (same as “Christ”).

§§9:26 “Anointed One” can also be translated “Messiah” (same as “Christ”).

I retain no strength. <sup>17</sup>For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? For as for me, immediately there remained no strength in me. There was no breath left in me.”

<sup>18</sup>Then one like the appearance of a man touched me again, and he strengthened me. <sup>19</sup>He said, “Greatly beloved man, don’t be afraid. Peace be to you. Be strong. Yes, be strong.”

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened, and said, “Let my lord speak; for you have strengthened me.”

<sup>20</sup>Then he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Now I will return to fight with the prince of Persia. When I go out, behold, the prince of Greece will come. <sup>21</sup>But I will tell you that which is inscribed in the writing of truth. There is no one who holds with me against these, but Michael your prince.

11 “As for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

<sup>2</sup>“Now I will show you the truth. Behold, three more kings will stand up in Persia; and the fourth will be far richer than all of them. When he has grown strong through his riches, he will stir up all against the realm of Greece. <sup>3</sup>A mighty king will stand up, who will rule with great dominion, and do according to his will. <sup>4</sup>When he stands up, his kingdom will be broken, and will be divided towards the four winds of the sky, but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion with which he ruled; for his kingdom will be plucked up, even for others besides these.

he who became the father of her, and he who strengthened her in those times.

<sup>11</sup>“The king of the south will be moved with anger, and will come out and fight with him, even with the king of the north. He will send out a great multitude, and the multitude will be given into his hand. <sup>12</sup>The multitude will be lifted up, and his heart will be exalted. He will cast down tens of thousands, but he won’t prevail. <sup>13</sup>The king of the north will return, and will send out a multitude greater than the former. He will come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with much substance.

<sup>14</sup>“In those times many will stand up against the king of the south. Also the children of the violent amongst your people will lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they will fall. <sup>15</sup>So the king of the north will come and cast up a mound, and take a well-fortified city. The forces of the south won’t stand, neither will his chosen people, neither will there be any strength to stand. <sup>16</sup>But he who comes against him will do according to his own will, and no one will stand before him. He will stand in the glorious land, and destruction will be in his hand. <sup>17</sup>He will set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and with him equitable conditions. He will perform them. He will give him the daughter of women, to corrupt her; but she will not stand, and won't be for him. <sup>18</sup> After this he will turn his face to the islands, and will take many; but a prince will cause the reproach offered by him to cease. Yes, moreover, he will cause his reproach to turn on him. <sup>19</sup> Then he will turn his face towards the fortresses of his own land; but he will stumble and fall, and won't be found.

<sup>20</sup> "Then one who will cause a tax collector to pass through the kingdom to maintain its glory will stand up in his place; but within few days he shall be destroyed, not in anger, and not in battle.

<sup>21</sup> "In his place a contemptible person will stand up, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom; but he will come in time of security, and will obtain the kingdom by flatteries. <sup>22</sup> The overwhelming forces will be overwhelmed from before him, and will be broken. Yes, also the prince of the covenant. <sup>23</sup> After the treaty made with him he will work deceitfully; for he will come up, and will become strong, with a small people. <sup>24</sup> In time of security he will come even on the fattest places of the province. He will do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers. He will scatter amongst them prey, plunder, and substance. Yes, he will devise his plans against the strongholds, even for a time.

<sup>29</sup> "He will return at the appointed time, and come into the south; but it won't be in the latter time as it was in the former. <sup>30</sup> For ships of Kittim will come against him. Therefore he will be grieved, and will return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and will take action. He will even return, and have regard to those who forsake the holy covenant.

<sup>31</sup> "Forces will stand on his part, and they will profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and will take away the continual burnt offering. Then they will set up the abomination that makes desolate. <sup>32</sup> He will corrupt those who do wickedly against the covenant by flatteries; but the people who know their God will be strong, and take action.

<sup>36</sup> "The king will do according to his will. He will exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and will speak marvellous things against the God of gods. He will prosper until the indignation is accomplished; for that which is determined will be done. <sup>37</sup> He won't regard the gods of his fathers, or the desire of women, or regard any god; for he will magnify himself above all. <sup>38</sup> But in his place he will honour the god of fortresses. He will honour a god whom his fathers didn't know with gold, silver, and with precious stones and pleasant things. <sup>39</sup> He will deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a foreign god. He will increase with glory whoever acknowledges him. He will cause them to rule over many, and will divide the land for a price.

and will overflow and pass through. <sup>41</sup> He will enter also into the glorious land, and many countries will be overthrown; but these will be delivered out of his hand: Edom, Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon. <sup>42</sup> He will also stretch out his hand on the countries. The land of Egypt won't escape. <sup>43</sup> But he will have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt. The Libyans and the Ethiopians will be at his steps. <sup>44</sup> But news out of the east and out of the north will trouble him; and he will go out with great fury to destroy and utterly to sweep away many. <sup>45</sup> He will plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he will come to his end, and no one will help him.

12 "At that time Michael will stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people; and there will be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time. At that time your people will be delivered, everyone who is found written in the book. <sup>2</sup> Many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. <sup>3</sup> Those who are wise will shine as the brightness of the expanse. Those who turn many to righteousness will shine as the stars forever and ever. <sup>4</sup> But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many will run back and forth, and knowledge will be increased."

<sup>5</sup> Then I, Daniel, looked, and behold, two others stood, one on the river bank on this side, and the other on the river bank on that side. <sup>6</sup> One said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, "How long will it be to the end of these wonders?"

his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by him who lives forever that it will be for a time, times, and a half; and when they have finished breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things will be finished.

<sup>8</sup> I heard, but I didn't understand. Then I said, "My lord, what will be the outcome of these things?"

<sup>9</sup> He said, "Go your way, Daniel; for the words are shut up and sealed until the time of the end. <sup>10</sup> Many will purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked will do wickedly; and none of the wicked will understand; but those who are wise will understand.

<sup>11</sup> "From the time that the continual burnt offering is taken away, and the abomination that makes desolate set up, there will be one thousand and two hundred and ninety days. <sup>12</sup> Blessed is he who waits, and comes to the one thousand and three hundred and thirty-five days.

<sup>13</sup> "But go your way until the end; for you will rest, and will stand in your inheritance at the end of the days."

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA

13 *A man lived in Babylon, and his name was Joakim. <sup>2</sup> He took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, a very fair woman, and one who feared the Lord. <sup>3</sup> Her parents were also righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses. <sup>4</sup> Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining to his house. The Jews used to come to him, because he was more honourable than all others. <sup>5</sup> The same year two of the elders of the people were appointed to be judges, such as the Lord spoke of, that wickedness came from Babylon from elders who were judges, who were supposed to govern the people. <sup>6</sup>These were often at Joakim's house. All that had any suits in law came to them.

<sup>7</sup>When the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. <sup>8</sup>The two elders saw her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with lust for her. <sup>9</sup>They perverted their own mind and turned away their eyes, that they might not look to heaven, nor remember just judgements. <sup>10</sup>And although they both were wounded with lust for her, yet dared not show the other his grief. <sup>11</sup>For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. <sup>12</sup>Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. <sup>13</sup>The one said to the other, "Let's go home, now; for it is dinner time." <sup>14</sup>So when they had gone out, they parted company, and turning back again, they came to the same place. After they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust. Then they appointed a time both together, when they might find her alone.

<sup>15</sup>It happened, as they watched on an opportune day, she went in as before with only two maids, and she desired to wash herself in the garden; for it was hot. <sup>16</sup>There was nobody there except the two elders who had hid themselves and watched her. <sup>17</sup>Then she said to her maids, "Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash myself." <sup>18</sup>They did as she asked them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them. They didn't see the elders, because they were hidden. <sup>19</sup>Now when the maids had gone out, the two elders rose up, and ran to her, saying, <sup>20</sup>"Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with you. Therefore consent to us, and lie with us. <sup>21</sup>If you will not, we will testify against you, that a young man was with you; therefore you sent your maids away from you."

<sup>22</sup>Then Susanna sighed, and said, "I am trapped; for if I do this thing, it is death to me. If I don't do it, I can't escape your hands. <sup>23</sup>It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord." <sup>24</sup>With that Susanna cried with a loud voice; and the two elders cried out against her. <sup>25</sup>Then one of them ran and opened the garden doors.

<sup>26</sup>So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had happened to her. <sup>27</sup>But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed; for there was never such a report made of Susanna.

<sup>28</sup>It came to pass on the next day, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death, <sup>29</sup>and said before the people, "Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife." So they sent; <sup>30</sup>and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. <sup>31</sup>Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beautiful to behold. <sup>32</sup>These wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, for she was veiled, that they might be filled with her beauty. <sup>33</sup>Therefore her friends and all who saw her wept. <sup>34</sup>Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. <sup>35</sup>She, weeping, looked up towards heaven; for her heart trusted in the Lord.

<sup>36</sup>The elders said, "As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. <sup>37</sup>Then a young man, who was hidden there, came to her and lay with her. <sup>38</sup>And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran to them. <sup>39</sup>And when we saw them together, we couldn't hold the man; for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leapt out. <sup>40</sup>But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us. We testify these things.

41 Then the assembly believed them, as those who were elders of the people and judges; so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, "O everlasting God, you know the secrets, and know all things before they happen, 43 you know that they have testified falsely against me. Behold, I must die, even though I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me."

44 The Lord heard her voice. 45 Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel. 46 He cried with a loud voice, "I am clear from the blood of this woman!"

47 Then all the people turned them towards him, and said, "What do these words that you have spoken mean?"

48 So he, standing in the midst of them, said, "Are you all such fools, you sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth you have condemned a daughter of Israel? 49 Return again to the place of judgement; for these have testified falsely against her."

50 Therefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said to him, "Come, sit down amongst us, and show it to us, seeing God has given you the honour of an elder."

51 Then Daniel said to them, "Put them far apart from each another, and I will examine them." 52 So when they were put apart one from another, he called one of them, and said to him, "O you who have become old in wickedness, now your sins have returned which you have committed before, 53 in pronouncing unjust judgement, condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; although the Lord says, 'You shall not kill the innocent and righteous.' 54 Now then, if you

He answered, "Under a mastick tree."

55 And Daniel said, "You have certainly lied against your own head; for even now the angel of God has received the sentence of God and will cut you in two." 56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said to him, "O you seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty has deceived you, and lust has perverted your heart. 57 Thus you have dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear were intimate with you; but the daughter of Judah would not tolerate your wickedness. 58 Now therefore tell me, under which tree did you take them being intimate together?"

He answered, "Under an evergreen oak tree."

59 Then Daniel said to him, You have also certainly lied against your own head; for the angel of God waits with the sword to cut you in two, that he may destroy you."

60 With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saves those who hope in him. 61 Then they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false testimony out of their own mouth. 62 According to the law of Moses they did to them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour. They put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. 63 Therefore Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. 64 And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

Bel and the Dragon

was honoured above all his friends. <sup>3</sup> Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins‡ of wine. <sup>4</sup> And the king honoured it, and went daily to worship it; but Daniel worshipped his own God. The king said to him, "Why don't you worship Bel?"

<sup>5</sup> He said, "Because I may not honour idols made with hands, but only the living God, who has created the sky and the earth, and has sovereignty over all flesh."

<sup>6</sup> Then the king said to him, "Don't you that Bel is a living god? Don't you see how much he eats and drinks every day?"

<sup>7</sup> Then Daniel laughed, and said, "O king, don't be deceived; for this is just clay inside, and brass outside, and never ate or drank anything."

<sup>8</sup> So the king was angry, and called for his priests, and said to them, "If you don't tell me who this is who devours these expenses, you shall die. <sup>9</sup> But if you can show me that Bel devours them, then Daniel shall die; for he has spoken blasphemy against Bel."

Daniel said to the king, "Let it be according to your word."

<sup>10</sup> Now there were seventy priests of Bel, besides their wives and children. The king went with Daniel into Bel's temple. <sup>11</sup> So Bel's priests said, "Behold, we will leave; but you, O king, set out the meat, and mix the wine and set it out, shut the door securely, and seal it with your own signet. <sup>12</sup> When you come in the morning, if you find not that Bel has eaten up everything, we will suffer death, or else Daniel, who speaks falsely against us."

<sup>13</sup> They weren't concerned, for under the table they had made a secret entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things. <sup>14</sup> It happened, when they had gone out, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they scattered them all over the temple in the presence of the king alone. Then they went out, shut the door, sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed.

<sup>15</sup> Now in the night, the priests came with their wives and children, as they usually did, and ate and drank it all. <sup>16</sup> In the morning, the king arose, and Daniel with him. <sup>17</sup> The king said, "Daniel, are the seals whole?"

He said, "Yes, O king, they are whole."

<sup>18</sup> And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked at the table, and cried with a loud voice, "You are great, O Bel, and with you is no deceit at all!"

<sup>19</sup> Then Daniel laughed, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, "Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps these are."

<sup>20</sup> The king said, "I see the footsteps of men, women, and children." Then the king was angry, <sup>21</sup> and took the priests with their wives and children, who showed him the secret doors, where they came in, and consumed the things that were on the table. <sup>22</sup> Therefore the king killed them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.

<sup>23</sup> In that same place there was a great dragon, which the people of Babylon worshipped. <sup>24</sup> The king said to Daniel, "Will you also say that this is of brass? Behold, he lives, and eats and drinks. You can't say that he is no living god. Therefore worship him."

<sup>25</sup> Then Daniel said, "I will worship the Lord my God; for he is a living God. <sup>26</sup> But allow me, O king, and I will kill this dragon without sword or staff."

The king said, "I allow you."

<sup>27</sup> Then Daniel took pitch, fat, and hair, and melted them together, and made lumps of them. He put these in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon ate and burst apart. Daniel said, "Behold, these are the gods you all worship."

against the king, saying, “The king has become a Jew. He has pulled down Bel, slain the dragon, and put the priests to the sword.”<sup>29</sup> So they came to the king, and said, “Deliver Daniel to us, or else we will destroy you and your house.”

<sup>30</sup> Now when the king saw that they trapped him, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel to them.<sup>31</sup> They cast him into the lion’s den, where he was six days.<sup>32</sup> There were seven lions in the den, and they had been giving them two carcasses and two sheep every day, which then were not given to them, intending that they would devour Daniel.

<sup>33</sup> Now there was in Jewry the prophet ¶Habakkuk, who had made stew, and had broken bread into a bowl. He was going into the field to bring it to the reapers.<sup>34</sup> But the angel of the Lord said to Habakkuk, “Go carry the dinner that you have into Babylon to Daniel, in the lions’ den.”

<sup>38</sup> Daniel said, “You have remembered me, O God! You haven’t forsaken those who love you!”<sup>39</sup> So Daniel arose and ate; and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately.<sup>40</sup> On the seventh day, the king came to mourn for Daniel. When he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting.<sup>41</sup> Then the king cried with a loud voice, saying, “Great are you, O Lord, you God of Daniel, and there is none other beside you!”<sup>42</sup> So he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den; and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

The Good News According to Matthew

1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ,§ the son of David, the son of Abraham. <sup>2</sup> Abraham became the father of Isaac. Isaac became the father of Jacob. Jacob became the father of Judah and his brothers. <sup>3</sup> Judah became the father of Perez and Zerah by Tamar. Perez became the father of Hezron. Hezron became the father of Ram. <sup>4</sup> Ram became the father of Amminadab. Amminadab became the father of Nahshon. Nahshon became the father of Salmon. <sup>5</sup> Salmon became the father of Boaz by Rahab. Boaz became the father of Obed by Ruth. Obed became the father of Jesse. <sup>6</sup> Jesse became the father of King David. David became the father of Solomon by her who had been Uriah's wife. <sup>7</sup> Solomon became the father of Rehoboam. Rehoboam became the father of Abijah. Abijah became the father of Asa. <sup>8</sup> Asa became the father of Jehoshaphat. Jehoshaphat became the father of Joram. Joram became the father of Uzziah. <sup>9</sup> Uzziah became the father of Jotham. Jotham became the father of Ahaz. Ahaz became the father of Hezekiah. <sup>10</sup> Hezekiah became the father of Manasseh. Manasseh became the father of Amon. Amon became the father of Josiah. <sup>11</sup> Josiah became the father of Jechoniah and his brothers, at the time of the exile to Babylon. <sup>12</sup> After the exile to Babylon, Jechoniah became the father of Shealtiel. Shealtiel became the father of Zerubbabel. <sup>13</sup> Zerubbabel became the father of Abiud. Abiud became the father of Eliakim. Eliakim became the father of Azor.

<sup>14</sup> Azor became the father of Zadok. Zadok became the father of Achim. Achim became the father of Eliud. <sup>15</sup> Eliud became the father of Eleazar. Eleazar became the father of Matthan. Matthan became the father of Jacob. <sup>16</sup> Jacob became the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary, from whom was born Jesus,<sup>**</sup> who is called Christ. <sup>17</sup> So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations; from David to the exile to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the carrying away to Babylon to the Christ, fourteen generations.

They shall call his name Immanuel;"

which is, being interpreted, "God with us."<sup>w</sup>

w1:23 Isaiah 7:14

2 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of King Herod, behold, wise men¶¶ from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, 2 “Where is he who is born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east, and have come to worship him.” 3 When King Herod heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 Gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he asked them where the Christ would be born. 5 They said to him, “In Bethlehem of Judea, for this is written through the prophet, 6 ‘You Bethlehem, land of Judah, are in no way least amongst the princes of Judah:

for out of you shall come a governor, who shall shepherd my people, Israel.’”<sup>x</sup>

7 Then Herod secretly called the wise men, and learnt from them exactly what time the star appeared. 8 He sent them to Bethlehem, and said, “Go and search diligently for the young child. When you have found him, bring me word, so that I also may come and worship him.”

9 They, having heard the king, went their way; and behold, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy. 11 They came into the house and saw the young child with Mary, his mother, and they fell down and worshipped him. Opening their treasures, they offered to him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh. 12 Being warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they went back to their own country another way.

13 Now when they had departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, “Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and stay there until I tell you, for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.”

14 He arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt, 15 and was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, “Out of Egypt I called my son.”<sup>y</sup>

16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked by the wise men, was exceedingly angry, and sent out, and killed all the male children who were in Bethlehem and in all the surrounding countryside, from two years old and under, according to the exact time which he had learnt from the wise men. 17 Then that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled, saying,

18 “A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; she wouldn’t be comforted, because they are no more.”<sup>z</sup>

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, 20 “Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel, for those who sought the young child’s life are dead.”

21 He arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea in the place of his father, Herod, he was afraid to go there. Being warned in a dream, he withdrew into the region of Galilee, 23 and came and lived in a city called Nazareth; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophets that he will be called a Nazarene.

3 In those days, John the Baptist came, preaching in the wilderness of Judea, saying, 2 “Repent, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand!" <sup>3</sup>For this is he who was spoken of by Isaiah the prophet, saying, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness, make the way of the Lord ready! Make his paths straight!"<sup>a</sup>

<sup>10</sup>"Even now the axe lies at the root of the trees. Therefore every tree that doesn't produce good fruit is cut down, and cast into the fire. <sup>11</sup>I indeed baptise you in water for repentance, but he who comes after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to carry. He will baptise you in the Holy Spirit.§§ <sup>12</sup>His winnowing fork is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing floor. He will gather his wheat into the barn, but the chaff he will burn up with unquenchable fire."

<sup>13</sup>Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan* to John, to be baptised by him. <sup>14</sup>But John would have hindered him, saying, "I need to be baptised by you, and you come to me?"

<sup>15</sup>But Jesus, answering, said to him, "Allow it now, for this is the fitting way for us to fulfil all righteousness." Then he allowed him. <sup>16</sup>Jesus, when he was baptised, went up directly from the water: and behold, the heavens were opened to him. He saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming on him. <sup>17</sup>Behold, a voice out of the heavens said, "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well pleased."

4 Then Jesus was led up by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. <sup>2</sup>When he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was hungry afterward. <sup>3</sup>The tempter came and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread."

<sup>4</sup>But he answered, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.'"<sup>b</sup>

<sup>5</sup>Then the devil took him into the holy city. He set him on the pinnacle of the temple, <sup>6</sup>and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, for it is written, 'He will command his angels concerning you,' and, 'On their hands they will bear you up, so that you don't dash your foot against a stone.'"<sup>c</sup>

<sup>7</sup>Jesus said to him, "Again, it is written, 'You shall not test the Lord, your God.'"<sup>d</sup>

<sup>8</sup>Again, the devil took him to an exceedingly high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and their glory. <sup>9</sup>He said to him, "I will give you all of these things, if you will fall down and worship me."

<sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to him, "Get behind me, † Satan! For it is written, 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and you shall serve him only.'"<sup>e</sup>

<sup>11</sup>Then the devil left him, and behold, angels came and served him. <sup>12</sup>Now when Jesus heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Galilee. <sup>13</sup>Leaving Nazareth, he came and lived in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the region of Zebulun and Naphtali, <sup>14</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, towards the sea, beyond the Jordan,

Galilee of the Gentiles,

<sup>16</sup> the people who sat in darkness saw a great light, to those who sat in the region and shadow of death, to them light has dawned.”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>18</sup> Walking by the sea of Galilee, he‡ saw two brothers: Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew, his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishermen. <sup>19</sup> He said to them, “Come after me, and I will make you fishers for men.”

<sup>23</sup> Jesus went about in all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the Good News of the Kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness amongst the people. <sup>24</sup> The report about him went out into all Syria. They brought to him all who were sick, afflicted with various diseases and torments, possessed with demons, epileptics, and paralytics; and he healed them. <sup>25</sup> Great multitudes from Galilee, Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea and from beyond the Jordan followed him.

5 Seeing the multitudes, he went up onto the mountain. When he had sat down, his disciples came to him. <sup>2</sup> He opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

<sup>11</sup> “Blessed are you when people reproach you, persecute you, and say all kinds of evil against you falsely, for my sake. <sup>12</sup> Rejoice, and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven. For that is how they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

<sup>13</sup> “You are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its flavour, with what will it be salted? It is then good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under the feet of men.

21 “You have heard that it was said to the ancient ones, ‘You shall not murder;’<sup>j</sup> and ‘Whoever murders will be in danger of the judgement.’ 22 But I tell you that everyone who is angry with his brother without a cause †† will be in danger of the judgement. 38 "You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.'<sup>n</sup> 39 But I tell you, don't resist him who is evil; but whoever strikes you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also. 40 If anyone sues you to take away your coat, let him have your cloak also. 41 Whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two. 42 Give to him who asks you, and don't turn away him who desires to borrow from you.

43 "You have heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbour and hate your enemy.'<sup>l</sup> 44 But I tell you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who mistreat you and persecute you, 45 that you may be children of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the just and the unjust. 46 For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Don't even the tax collectors do the same? 47 If you only greet your friends, what more do you do than others? Don't even the tax collectors<sup>s</sup> do the same? 48 Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father in heaven is perfect.

6 "Be careful that you don't do your charitable giving** before men, to be seen by them, or else you have no reward from your Father who is in heaven. 2 Therefore when you do merciful deeds, don't sound a trumpet before yourself, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may get glory from men. Most certainly I tell you, they have received their reward. 3 But when you do merciful deeds, don't let your left hand know what your right hand does, 4 so that your merciful deeds may be in secret, then your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.

5 "When you pray, you shall not be as the hypocrites, for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen by men. Most certainly, I tell you, they have received their reward. 6 But you, when you pray, enter into your inner room, and having shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret, and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly. 7 In praying, don't use vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do; for they think that they will be heard for their much speaking. 8 Therefore don't be like them, for your Father knows what things you need, before you ask him. 9 Pray like this: 'Our Father in heaven, may your name be kept holy. 10 Let your Kingdom come. Let your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. 11 Give us today our daily bread. 12 Forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors. 13 Bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. 19 “Don’t lay up treasures for yourselves on the earth, where moth and rust consume, and where thieves break through and steal; 20 but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consume, and where thieves don’t break through and steal; 21 for where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

22 “The lamp of the body is the eye. If therefore your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light. 23 But if your eye is evil, your whole body will be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness!

24 “No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other; or else he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You can’t serve both God and Mammon. 25 Therefore I tell you, don’t be anxious for your life: what you will eat, or what you will drink; nor yet for your body, what you will wear. Isn’t life more than food, and the body more than clothing? 26 See the birds of the sky, that they don’t sow, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns. Your heavenly Father feeds them. Aren’t you of much more value than they?

27 “Which of you, by being anxious, can add one moment‡‡ to his lifespan? 28 Why are you anxious about clothing? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow. They don’t toil, neither do they spin, 29 yet I tell you that even Solomon in all his glory was not dressed like one of these. 30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which today exists, and tomorrow is thrown into the oven, won’t he much more clothe you, you of little faith?

31 “Therefore don’t be anxious, saying, ‘What will we eat?’, ‘What will we drink?’

or, ‘With what will we be clothed?’ 32 For the Gentiles seek after all these things; for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. 33 But seek first God’s Kingdom, and his righteousness; and all these things will be given to you as well. 34 Therefore don’t be anxious for tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious for itself. Each day’s own evil is sufficient.

7 “Don’t judge, so that you won’t be judged. 2 For with whatever judgement you judge, you will be judged; and with whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you. 3 Why do you see the speck that is in your brother’s eye, but don’t consider the beam that is in your own eye? 4 Or how will you tell your brother, ‘Let me remove the speck from your eye;’ and behold, the beam is in your own eye? 5 You hypocrite! First remove the beam out of your own eye, and then you can see clearly to remove the speck out of your brother’s eye.

6 “Don’t give that which is holy to the dogs, neither throw your pearls before the pigs, lest perhaps they trample them under their feet, and turn and tear you to pieces.

7 “Ask, and it will be given you. Seek, and you will find. Knock, and it will be opened for you. 8 For everyone who asks receives. He who seeks finds. To him who knocks it will be opened. 9 Or who is there amongst you, who, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? 10 Or if he asks for a fish, who will give him a serpent? 11 If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask him! 12 Therefore whatever you desire for men to do to you, you shall also do to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

Do you gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? <sup>17</sup> Even so, every good tree produces good fruit; but the corrupt tree produces evil fruit. <sup>18</sup> A good tree can’t produce evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree produce good fruit. <sup>19</sup> Every tree that doesn’t grow good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire. <sup>20</sup> Therefore by their fruits you will know them. <sup>21</sup> Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. <sup>22</sup> Many will tell me in that day, ‘Lord, Lord, didn’t we prophesy in your name, in your name cast out demons, and in your name do many mighty works?’ <sup>23</sup> Then I will tell them, ‘I never knew you. Depart from me, you who work iniquity.’

8 When he came down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. <sup>2</sup> Behold, a leper came to him and worshipped him, saying, “Lord, if you want to, you can make me clean.”

<sup>3</sup> Jesus stretched out his hand, and touched him, saying, “I want to. Be made clean.” Immediately his leprosy was cleansed. <sup>4</sup> Jesus said to him, “See that you tell nobody, but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, as a testimony to them.”

<sup>7</sup> Jesus said to him, “I will come and heal him.”

<sup>8</sup> The centurion answered, “Lord, I’m not worthy for you to come under my roof. Just say the word, and my servant will be healed. <sup>9</sup> For I am also a man under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; and tell another, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and tell my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

<sup>10</sup> When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to those who followed, “Most certainly I tell you, I haven’t found so great a faith, not even in Israel. <sup>11</sup> I tell you that many will come from the east and the west, and will sit down with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the Kingdom of Heaven, <sup>12</sup> but the children of the Kingdom will be thrown out into the outer darkness. There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.” <sup>13</sup> Jesus said to the centurion, “Go your way. Let it be done for you as you have believed.” His servant was healed in that hour.

Jesus saw great multitudes around him, he gave the order to depart to the other side.

<sup>19</sup> A scribe came, and said to him, “Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go.”

<sup>23</sup> When he got into a boat, his disciples followed him. <sup>24</sup> Behold, a violent storm came up on the sea, so much that the boat was covered with the waves, but he was asleep. <sup>25</sup> They came to him, and woke him up, saying, “Save us, Lord! We are dying!”

<sup>26</sup> He said to them, “Why are you fearful, O you of little faith?” Then he got up, rebuked the wind and the sea, and there was a great calm.

<sup>28</sup> When he came to the other side, into the country of the Gergesenes, *two people possessed by demons met him there, coming out of the tombs, exceedingly fierce, so that nobody could pass that way. <sup>29</sup> Behold, they cried out, saying, “What do we have to do with you, Jesus, Son of God? Have you come here to torment us before the time?” <sup>30</sup> Now there was a herd of many pigs feeding far away from them. <sup>31</sup> The demons begged him, saying, “If you cast us out, permit us to go away into the herd of pigs.”

They came out, and went into the herd of pigs: and behold, the whole herd of pigs rushed down the cliff into the sea, and died in the water. <sup>33</sup> Those who fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, including what happened to those who were possessed with demons. <sup>34</sup> Behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus. When they saw him, they begged that he would depart from their borders.

9 He entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into his own city. <sup>2</sup> Behold, they brought to him a man who was paralysed, lying on a bed. Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, “Son, cheer up! Your sins are forgiven you.”

<sup>4</sup> Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, “Why do you think evil in your hearts? <sup>5</sup> For which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins are forgiven;’ or to say, ‘Get up, and walk?’ <sup>6</sup> But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins—” (then he said to the paralytic), “Get up, and take up your mat, and go to your house.”

<sup>7</sup> He arose and departed to his house. <sup>8</sup> But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled and glorified God, who had given such authority to men.

<sup>9</sup> As Jesus passed by from there, he saw a man called Matthew sitting at the tax collection office. He said to him, “Follow me.” He got up and followed him. <sup>10</sup> As he sat in the house, behold, many tax collectors and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. <sup>11</sup> When the Pharisees saw it, they said to his disciples, “Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?”

<sup>12</sup> When Jesus heard it, he said to them, “Those who are healthy have no need of a physician, but those who are sick do. <sup>13</sup> But you go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,’† for I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”‡

*8:28 NU reads “Gadarenes”

14 Then John's disciples came to him, saying, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but your disciples don't fast?"

15 Jesus said to them, "Can the friends of the bridegroom mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast. 16 No one puts a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; for the patch would tear away from the garment, and a worse hole is made. 17 Neither do people put new wine into old wine skins, or else the skins would burst, and the wine be spilled, and the skins ruined. No, they put new wine into fresh wine skins, and both are preserved."

18 While he told these things to them, behold, a ruler came and worshipped him, saying, "My daughter has just died, but come and lay your hand on her, and she will live."

19 Jesus got up and followed him, as did his disciples. 20 Behold, a woman who had a discharge of blood for twelve years came behind him, and touched the fringe‡ of his garment; 21 for she said within herself, "If I just touch his garment, I will be made well."

22 But Jesus, turning around and seeing her, said, "Daughter, cheer up! Your faith has made you well." And the woman was made well from that hour.

23 When Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the flute players, and the crowd in noisy disorder, 24 he said to them, "Make room, because the girl isn't dead, but sleeping."

They were ridiculing him. 25 But when the crowd was put out, he entered in, took her by the hand, and the girl arose. 26 The report of this went out into all that land.

27 As Jesus passed by from there, two blind men followed him, calling out and saying, "Have mercy on us, son of David!"

28 When he had come into the house, the blind men came to him. Jesus said to them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?"

They told him, "Yes, Lord."

29 Then he touched their eyes, saying, "According to your faith be it done to you." 30 Their eyes were opened. Jesus strictly commanded them, saying, "See that no one knows about this." 31 But they went out and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 As they went out, behold, a mute man who was demon possessed was brought to him. 33 When the demon was cast out, the mute man spoke. The multitudes marvelled, saying, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel!"

34 But the Pharisees said, "By the prince of the demons, he casts out demons."

35 Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Good News of the Kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness amongst the people. 36 But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion for them, because they were harassed¶ and scattered, like sheep without a shepherd. 37 Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the labourers are few. 38 Pray therefore that the Lord of the harvest will send out labourers into his harvest."

5 Jesus sent these twelve out, and commanded them, saying, "Don't go amongst the Gentiles, and don't enter into any city of the Samaritans. 6 Rather, go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 7 As you go, preach, saying, 'The Kingdom of Heaven is at hand!' 8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers,** and cast out demons. Freely you received, so freely give. 9 Don't take any gold, silver, or brass in your money belts. 10 Take no bag for your journey, neither two coats, nor sandals, nor staff: for the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 Into whatever city or village you enter, find out who in it is worthy; and stay there until you go on. 12 As you enter into the household, greet it. 13 If the household is worthy, let your peace come on it, but if it isn't worthy, let your peace return to you. 14 Whoever doesn't receive you, nor hear your words, as you go out of that house or that city, shake the dust off your feet. 15 Most certainly I tell you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement than for that city.

16 "Behold, I send you out as sheep amongst wolves. Therefore be wise as serpents, and harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to councils, and in their synagogues they will scourge you. 18 Yes, and you will be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them and to the nations. 19 But when they deliver you up, don't be anxious how or what you will say, for it will be given you in that hour what you will say. 20 For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you.

21 "Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. Children will rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death. 22 You will be hated by all men for my name's sake, but he who endures to the end will be saved. 23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee into the next, for most certainly I tell you, you will not have gone through the cities of Israel until the Son of Man has come.

24 "A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his lord. 25 It is enough for the disciple that he be like his teacher, and the servant like his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebul,†† how much more those of his household! 26 Therefore don't be afraid of them, for there is nothing covered that will not be revealed; and hidden that will not be known. 27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light; and what you hear whispered in the ear, proclaim on the housetops. 28 Don't be afraid of those who kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul. Rather, fear him who is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. ‡‡

29 "Aren't two sparrows sold for an assarion coin?¶¶ Not one of them falls on the ground apart from your Father's will, 30 but the very hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Therefore don't be afraid. You are of more value than many sparrows. 32 Everyone therefore who confesses me before men, I will also confess him before my Father who is in heaven. 33 But whoever denies me before men, I will also deny him before my Father who is in heaven.

of his own household.<sup>r</sup> <sup>37</sup> He who loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he who loves son or daughter more than me isn't worthy of me. <sup>38</sup> He who doesn't take his cross and follow after me, isn't worthy of me. <sup>39</sup> He who seeks his life will lose it; and he who loses his life for my sake will find it. <sup>40</sup> He who receives you receives me, and he who receives me receives him who sent me. <sup>41</sup> He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a prophet's reward. He who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward. <sup>42</sup> Whoever gives one of these little ones just a cup of cold water to drink in the name of a disciple, most certainly I tell you he will in no way lose his reward."

11 When Jesus had finished directing his twelve disciples, he departed from there to teach and preach in their cities. <sup>2</sup> Now when John heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples <sup>3</sup> and said to him, "Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?"

face, who will prepare your way before you.'<sup>u</sup> <sup>11</sup> Most certainly I tell you, amongst those who are born of women there has not arisen anyone greater than John the Baptist; yet he who is least in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he. <sup>12</sup> From the days of John the Baptist until now, the Kingdom of Heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.§§ <sup>13</sup> For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. <sup>14</sup> If you are willing to receive it, this is Elijah, who is to come. <sup>15</sup> He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

25 At that time, Jesus answered, "I thank you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that you hid these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them to infants. 26 Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in your sight. 27 All things have been delivered to me by my Father. No one knows the Son, except the Father; neither does anyone know the Father, except the Son, and he to whom the Son desires to reveal him.

28 "Come to me, all you who labour and are heavily burdened, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart; and you will find rest for your souls. 30 For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

12 At that time, Jesus went on the Sabbath day through the grain fields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. 2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said to him, "Behold, your disciples do what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath."

3 But he said to them, "Haven't you read what David did, when he was hungry, and those who were with him; 4 how he entered into God's house, and ate the show bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for those who were with him, but only for the priests?<sup>v</sup> 5 Or have you not read in the law, that on the Sabbath day, the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath, and are guiltless? 6 But I tell you that one greater than the temple is here. 7 But if you had known what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,'<sup>w</sup> you wouldn't have condemned the guiltless. 8 For the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

9 He departed from there, and went into their synagogue. 10 And behold there was a man with a withered hand. They asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath day?" that they might accuse him.

11 He said to them, "What man is there amongst you, who has one sheep, and if this one falls into a pit on the Sabbath day, won't he grab on to it, and lift it out? 12 Of how much more value then is a man than a sheep! Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath day." 13 Then he told the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out; and it was restored whole, just like the other. 14 But the Pharisees went out, and conspired against him, how they might destroy him. 15 Jesus, perceiving that, withdrew from there. Great multitudes followed him; and he healed them all, 16 and commanded them that they should not make him known: 17 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through Isaiah the prophet, saying, 18 "Behold, my servant whom I have chosen; my beloved in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit on him.

He will proclaim justice to the nations.

19 He will not strive, nor shout; neither will anyone hear his voice in the streets.

20 He won't break a bruised reed. He won't quench a smoking flax, until he leads justice to victory.

21 In his name, the nations will hope."<sup>x</sup>

22 Then one possessed by a demon, blind and mute, was brought to him and he healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw. 23 All the multitudes were amazed, and said, "Can this be the son of David?" 24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "This man does not cast out demons, except by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons."

25 Knowing their thoughts, Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. 26 If Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand? 27 If I by Beelzebul cast out demons, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges. 28 But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then God's Kingdom has come upon you. <sup>29</sup> Or how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and plunder his goods, unless he first bind the strong man? Then he will plunder his house.

<sup>39</sup> But he answered them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, but no sign will be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet. <sup>40</sup> For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. <sup>41</sup> The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgement with this generation, and will condemn it, for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, someone greater than Jonah is here. <sup>42</sup> The Queen of the South will rise up in the judgement with this generation, and will condemn it, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, someone greater than Solomon is here.

<sup>43</sup> When an unclean spirit has gone out of a man, he passes through waterless places, seeking rest, and doesn't find it. <sup>44</sup> Then he says, 'I will return into my house from which I came out,' and when he has come back, he finds it empty, swept, and put in order. <sup>45</sup> Then he goes, and takes with himself seven other spirits more evil than he is, and they enter in and dwell there. The last state of that man becomes worse than the first. Even so will it be also to this evil generation."

<sup>48</sup> But he answered him who spoke to him, "Who is my mother? Who are my brothers?" <sup>49</sup> He stretched out his hand towards his disciples, and said, "Behold, my mother and my brothers! <sup>50</sup> For whoever does the will of my Father who is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother."

13 On that day Jesus went out of the house, and sat by the seaside. <sup>2</sup> Great multitudes gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat, and sat, and all the multitude stood on the beach. <sup>3</sup> He spoke to them many things in parables, saying, "Behold, a farmer went out to sow. <sup>4</sup> As he sowed, some seeds fell by the roadside, and the birds came and devoured them. <sup>5</sup> Others fell on rocky ground, where they didn't have much soil, and immediately they sprang up, because they had no depth of earth. <sup>6</sup> When the sun had risen, they were scorched. Because they had no root, they withered away. <sup>7</sup> Others fell amongst thorns. The thorns grew up and choked them. <sup>8</sup> Others fell on good soil, and yielded fruit: some one hundred times as much, some sixty, and

<sup>10</sup> The disciples came, and said to him, “Why do you speak to them in parables?”

<sup>11</sup> He answered them, “To you it is given to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven, but it is not given to them. <sup>12</sup> For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance, but whoever doesn’t have, from him will be taken away even that which he has. <sup>13</sup> Therefore I speak to them in parables, because seeing they don’t see, and hearing, they don’t hear, neither do they understand. <sup>14</sup> In them the prophecy of Isaiah is fulfilled, which says,

‘By hearing you will hear, and will in no way understand;
Seeing you will see,
and will in no way perceive:

<sup>15</sup> for this people’s heart has grown callous,
their ears are dull of hearing,
they have closed their eyes;
or else perhaps they might perceive with their eyes,

hear with their ears,
understand with their heart,
and would turn again;
and I would heal them.’<sup>y</sup>

<sup>16</sup> “But blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. <sup>17</sup> For most certainly I tell you that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which you see, and didn’t see them; and to hear the things which you hear, and didn’t hear them.

<sup>18</sup> “Hear, then, the parable of the farmer. <sup>19</sup> When anyone hears the word of the Kingdom, and doesn’t understand it, the evil one comes, and snatches away that which has been sown in his heart. This is what was sown by the roadside. <sup>20</sup> What was sown on the rocky places, this is he who hears the word, and immediately with joy receives it; <sup>21</sup> yet he has no root in himself, but endures for a while. When oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately he stumbles. <sup>22</sup> What was sown amongst the thorns, this is he who hears the word, but the cares of this age and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becomes unfruitful. <sup>23</sup> What was sown on the good ground, this is he who hears the word, and understands it, who most certainly bears fruit, and produces, some one hundred times as much, some sixty, and some thirty.”

“The servants asked him, ‘Do you want us to go and gather them up?’

<sup>29</sup> “But he said, ‘No, lest perhaps while you gather up the darnel weeds, you root up the wheat with them. <sup>30</sup> Let both grow together until the harvest, and in the harvest time I will tell the reapers, “First, gather up the darnel weeds, and bind them in bundles to burn them; but gather the wheat into my barn.”’”

<sup>31</sup> He set another parable before them, saying, “The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field; <sup>32</sup> which indeed is smaller than all seeds. But when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches.”

woman took, and hid in three measures§ of meal, until it was all leavened.”

<sup>34</sup> Jesus spoke all these things in parables to the multitudes; and without a parable, he didn't speak to them. <sup>35</sup> that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

“I will open my mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world.”<sup>z</sup>

<sup>36</sup> Then Jesus sent the multitudes away, and went into the house. His disciples came to him, saying, “Explain to us the parable of the darnel weeds of the field.”

<sup>44</sup> “Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like treasure hidden in the field, which a man found, and hid. In his joy, he goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field.

<sup>47</sup> “Again, the Kingdom of Heaven is like a dragnet, that was cast into the sea, and gathered some fish of every kind, <sup>48</sup> which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach. They sat down, and gathered the good into containers, but the bad they threw away. <sup>49</sup> So will it be in the end of the world.** The angels will come and separate the wicked from amongst the righteous, <sup>50</sup> and will cast them into the furnace of fire. There will be the weeping and the gnashing of teeth.” <sup>51</sup> Jesus said to them, “Have you understood all these things?”

They answered him, “Yes, Lord.”

<sup>52</sup> He said to them, “Therefore every scribe who has been made a disciple in the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings out of his treasure new and old things.”

<sup>53</sup> When Jesus had finished these parables, he departed from there. <sup>54</sup> Coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished, and said, “Where did this man get this wisdom, and these mighty works? <sup>55</sup> Isn't this the carpenter's son? Isn't his mother called Mary, and his brothers, James, Joses, Simon, and Judas?†† <sup>56</sup> Aren't all of his sisters with us? Where then did this man get all of these things?” <sup>57</sup> They were offended by him.

But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honour, except in his own country, and in his own house.” <sup>58</sup> He didn't do many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

14 At that time, Herod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, <sup>2</sup> and said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist. He is risen from the dead. That is why these powers work in him.” <sup>3</sup> For Herod had arrested John, and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife. <sup>4</sup> For John said to him, “It is not lawful <sup>9</sup> The king was grieved, but for the sake of his oaths, and of those who sat at the table with him, he commanded it to be given,<sup>10</sup> and he sent and beheaded John in the prison.<sup>11</sup> His head was brought on a platter, and given to the young lady; and she brought it to her mother.<sup>12</sup> His disciples came, and took the body, and buried it. Then they went and told Jesus.<sup>13</sup> Now when Jesus heard this, he withdrew from there in a boat, to a deserted place apart. When the multitudes heard it, they followed him on foot from the cities.

<sup>14</sup> Jesus went out, and he saw a great multitude. He had compassion on them, and healed their sick.<sup>15</sup> When evening had come, his disciples came to him, saying, “This place is deserted, and the hour is already late. Send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food.”

<sup>16</sup> But Jesus said to them, “They don’t need to go away. You give them something to eat.”

<sup>18</sup> He said, “Bring them here to me.”<sup>19</sup> He commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass; and he took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, broke and gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples gave to the multitudes.<sup>20</sup> They all ate, and were filled. They took up twelve baskets full of that which remained left over from the broken pieces.<sup>21</sup> Those who ate were about five thousand men, in addition to women and children.

<sup>22</sup> Immediately Jesus made the disciples get into the boat, and to go ahead of him to the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.<sup>23</sup> After he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into the mountain by himself to pray. When evening had come, he was there alone.<sup>24</sup> But the boat was now in the middle of the sea, distressed by the waves, for the wind was contrary.<sup>25</sup> In the fourth watch of the night,‡‡ Jesus came to them, walking on the sea.<sup>a</sup><sup>26</sup> When the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, “It’s a ghost!” and they cried out for fear.<sup>27</sup> But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, “Cheer up! It is I! ¶¶Don’t be afraid.”

<sup>28</sup> Peter answered him and said, “Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the waters.”

Peter stepped down from the boat, and walked on the waters to come to Jesus.<sup>30</sup> But when he saw that the wind was strong, he was afraid, and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, “Lord, save me!”

<sup>31</sup> Immediately Jesus stretched out his hand, took hold of him, and said to him, “You of little faith, why did you doubt?”<sup>32</sup> When they got up into the boat, the wind ceased.<sup>33</sup> Those who were in the boat came and worshipped him, saying, “You are truly the Son of God!”

<sup>34</sup> When they had crossed over, they came to the land of Gennesaret.<sup>35</sup> When the people of that place recognised him, they sent into all that surrounding region, and brought to him all who were sick;<sup>36</sup> and they begged him that they might just touch the fringe§§ of

15 Then Pharisees and scribes came to Jesus from Jerusalem, saying, <sup>2</sup>“Why do your disciples disobey the tradition of the elders? For they don’t wash their hands when they eat bread.”

<sup>3</sup>He answered them, “Why do you also disobey the commandment of God because of your tradition? <sup>4</sup>For God commanded, ‘Honour your father and your mother,’<sup>b</sup> and, ‘He who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.’<sup>c</sup> <sup>5</sup>But you say, ‘Whoever may tell his father or his mother, “Whatever help you might otherwise have gotten from me is a gift devoted to God,” <sup>6</sup>he shall not honour his father or mother.’ You have made the commandment of God void because of your tradition. <sup>7</sup>You hypocrites! Well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

but their heart is far from me.

<sup>9</sup>And in vain do they worship me, teaching as doctrine rules made by men.”<sup>d</sup>

<sup>10</sup>He summoned the multitude, and said to them, “Hear, and understand. <sup>11</sup>That which enters into the mouth doesn’t defile the man; but that which proceeds out of the mouth, this defiles the man.”

<sup>12</sup>Then the disciples came, and said to him, “Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying?”

<sup>13</sup>But he answered, “Every plant which my heavenly Father didn’t plant will be uprooted. <sup>14</sup>Leave them alone. They are blind guides of the blind. If the blind guide the blind, both will fall into a pit.”

<sup>16</sup>So Jesus said, “Do you also still not understand? <sup>17</sup>Don’t you understand that whatever goes into the mouth passes into the belly, and then out of the body? <sup>18</sup>But the things which proceed out of the mouth come out of the heart, and they defile the man. <sup>19</sup>For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual sins, thefts, false testimony, and blasphemies. <sup>20</sup>These are the things which defile the man; but to eat with unwashed hands doesn’t defile the man.”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus went out from there, and withdrew into the region of Tyre and Sidon. <sup>22</sup>Behold, a Canaanite woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, “Have mercy on me, Lord, you son of David! My daughter is severely possessed by a demon!”

His disciples came and begged him, saying, “Send her away; for she cries after us.”

<sup>28</sup>Then Jesus answered her, “Woman, great is your faith! Be it done to you even as you desire.” And her daughter was healed from that hour.

<sup>29</sup>Jesus departed from there, and came near to the sea of Galilee; and he went up into the mountain, and sat there. <sup>30</sup>Great multitudes came to him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, maimed, and many others, and they put them down at his feet. He healed them, <sup>31</sup>so that the multitude wondered when they saw the mute speaking, the injured healed, the lame walking, and the blind seeing—and they glorified the God of Israel.

<sup>32</sup> Jesus summoned his disciples and said, “I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat. I don’t want to send them away fasting, or they might faint on the way.”

<sup>33</sup> The disciples said to him, “Where should we get so many loaves in a deserted place as to satisfy so great a multitude?”

They said, “Seven, and a few small fish.”

<sup>35</sup> He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; <sup>36</sup> and he took the seven loaves and the fish. He gave thanks and broke them, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. <sup>37</sup> They all ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets full of the broken pieces that were left over. <sup>38</sup> Those who ate were four thousand men, in addition to women and children. <sup>39</sup> Then he sent away the multitudes, got into the boat, and came into the borders of Magdala.

16 The Pharisees and Sadducees came, and testing him, asked him to show them a sign from heaven. <sup>2</sup> But he answered them, “When it is evening, you say, ‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.’ <sup>3</sup> In the morning, ‘It will be foul weather today, for the sky is red and threatening.’ Hypocrites! You know how to discern the appearance of the sky, but you can’t discern the signs of the times! <sup>4</sup> An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, and there will be no sign given to it, except the sign of the prophet Jonah.”

He left them, and departed. <sup>5</sup> The disciples came to the other side and had forgotten to take bread. <sup>6</sup> Jesus said to them, “Take heed and beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

<sup>8</sup> Jesus, perceiving it, said, “Why do you reason amongst yourselves, you of little faith, ‘because you have brought no bread?’ <sup>9</sup> Don’t you yet perceive, neither remember the five loaves for the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up? <sup>10</sup> Nor the seven loaves for the four thousand, and how many baskets you took up? <sup>11</sup> How is it that you don’t perceive that I didn’t speak to you concerning bread? But beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

<sup>12</sup> Then they understood that he didn’t tell them to beware of the yeast of bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

<sup>17</sup> Jesus answered him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar Jonah, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven. <sup>18</sup> I also tell you that you are Peter,* and on this rock †I will build my assembly, and the gates of Hades‡ will not prevail against it. <sup>19</sup> I will give to you the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, and whatever you bind on earth will have been bound in heaven; and whatever you release on earth will have been released in heaven.” <sup>20</sup> Then he commanded the disciples that they should tell no one that he was Jesus the Christ. <sup>21</sup> From that time, Jesus began to show his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things from the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.

22 Peter took him aside, and began to rebuke him, saying, "Far be it from you, Lord! This will never be done to you."

23 But he turned, and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me, for you are not setting your mind on the things of God, but on the things of men."

24 Then Jesus said to his disciples, "If anyone desires to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, and whoever will lose his life for my sake will find it. 26 For what will it profit a man, if he gains the whole world, and forfeits his life? Or what will a man give in exchange for his life? 27 For the Son of Man will come in the glory of his Father with his angels, and then he will render to everyone according to his deeds. 28 Most certainly I tell you, there are some standing here who will in no way taste of death, until they see the Son of Man coming in his Kingdom."

17 After six days, Jesus took with him Peter, James, and John his brother, and brought them up into a high mountain by themselves. 2 He was changed¶ before them. His face shone like the sun, and his garments became as white as the light. 3 Behold, Moses and Elijah appeared to them talking with him.

4 Peter answered, and said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you want, let's make three tents here: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

5 While he was still speaking, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them. Behold, a voice came out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Listen to him."

6 When the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces, and were very afraid. 7 Jesus came and touched them and said, "Get up, and don't be afraid." 8 Lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, except Jesus alone. 9 As they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, "Don't tell anyone what you saw, until the Son of Man has risen from the dead."

10 His disciples asked him, saying, "Then why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?"

11 Jesus answered them, "Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things, 12 but I tell you that Elijah has come already, and they didn't recognise him, but did to him whatever they wanted to. Even so the Son of Man will also suffer by them." 13 Then the disciples understood that he spoke to them of John the Baptist.

14 When they came to the multitude, a man came to him, kneeling down to him, and saying, 15 "Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is epileptic, and suffers grievously; for he often falls into the fire, and often into the water. 16 So I brought him to your disciples, and they could not cure him."

17 Jesus answered, "Faithless and perverse generation! How long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him here to me." 18 Jesus rebuked him, the demon went out of him, and the boy was cured from that hour.

19 Then the disciples came to Jesus privately, and said, "Why weren't we able to cast it out?"

20 He said to them, "Because of your unbelief. For most certainly I tell you, if you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will tell this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you. 21 But this kind doesn't go out except by prayer and fasting." §

22 While they were staying in Galilee, Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be delivered up into the hands of men, 23 and they will kill him, and the third day he will be raised up."

When he came into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth receive toll or tribute? From their children, or from strangers?”

Jesus said to him, “Therefore the children are exempt. <sup>27</sup> But, lest we cause them to stumble, go to the sea, cast a hook, and take up the first fish that comes up. When you have opened its mouth, you will find a stater coin.†† Take that, and give it to them for me and you.”

<sup>2</sup> Jesus called a little child to himself, and set him in the middle of them, <sup>3</sup> and said, “Most certainly I tell you, unless you turn, and become as little children, you will in no way enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. <sup>4</sup> Whoever therefore humbles himself as this little child is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven. <sup>5</sup> Whoever receives one such little child in my name receives me, <sup>6</sup> but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him if a huge millstone were hung around his neck, and that he were sunk in the depths of the sea.

whatever things you bind on earth will have been bound in heaven, and whatever things you release on earth will have been released in heaven. <sup>19</sup> Again, assuredly I tell you, that if two of you will agree on earth concerning anything that they will ask, it will be done for them by my Father who is in heaven. <sup>20</sup> For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there I am in the middle of them.”

<sup>21</sup> Then Peter came and said to him, “Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Until seven times?”

<sup>22</sup> Jesus said to him, “I don’t tell you until seven times, but, until seventy times seven.

<sup>28</sup> “But that servant went out, and found one of his fellow servants, who owed him one hundred denarii,* and he grabbed him, and took him by the throat, saying, ‘Pay me what you owe!’

<sup>29</sup> “So his fellow servant fell down at his feet and begged him, saying, ‘Have patience with me, and I will repay you!’ <sup>30</sup> He would not, but went and cast him into prison, until he should pay back that which was due. <sup>31</sup> So when his fellow servants saw what was done, they were exceedingly sorry, and came and told their lord all that was done. <sup>32</sup> Then his lord called him in, and said to him, ‘You wicked servant! I forgave you all that debt, because you begged me. <sup>33</sup> Shouldn’t you also have had mercy on your fellow servant, even as I had mercy on you?’ <sup>34</sup> His lord was angry, and delivered him to the tormentors, until he should pay all that was due to him. <sup>35</sup> So my heavenly Father will also do to you, if you don’t each forgive your brother from your hearts for his misdeeds.”

19 When Jesus had finished these words, he departed from Galilee, and came into the borders of Judea beyond the Jordan. <sup>2</sup> Great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there. <sup>3</sup> Pharisees came to him, testing him, and saying, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason?”

<sup>7</sup> They asked him, “Why then did Moses command us to give her a certificate of divorce, and divorce her?”

<sup>8</sup> He said to them, “Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, allowed you to divorce your wives, but from the beginning it has not been so. <sup>9</sup> I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery; and he who marries her when she is divorced commits adultery.”

13 Then little children were brought to him, that he should lay his hands on them and pray; and the disciples rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said, "Allow the little children, and don't forbid them to come to me; for the Kingdom of Heaven belongs to ones like these." 15 He laid his hands on them, and departed from there.

16 Behold, one came to him and said, "Good teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?"

17 He said to him, "Why do you call me good?† No one is good but one, that is, God. But if you want to enter into life, keep the commandments."

18 He said to him, "Which ones?"

20 The young man said to him, "All these things I have observed from my youth. What do I still lack?"

21 Jesus said to him, "If you want to be perfect, go, sell what you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me." 22 But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sad, for he was one who had great possessions. 23 Jesus said to his disciples, "Most certainly I say to you, a rich man will enter into the Kingdom of Heaven with difficulty. 24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into God's Kingdom."

25 When the disciples heard it, they were exceedingly astonished, saying, "Who then can be saved?"

26 Looking at them, Jesus said, "With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

27 Then Peter answered, "Behold, we have left everything, and followed you. What then will we have?"

28 Jesus said to them, "Most certainly I tell you that you who have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of Man will sit on the throne of his glory, you also will sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 Everyone who has left houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, will receive one hundred times, and will inherit eternal life. 30 But many will be last who are first; and first who are last.

others standing idle. He said to them, ‘Why do you stand here all day idle?’

“He said to them, ‘You also go into the vineyard, and you will receive whatever is right.’

<sup>8</sup>When evening had come, the lord of the vineyard said to his manager, ‘Call the labourers and pay them their wages, beginning from the last to the first.’

<sup>17</sup>As Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples aside, and on the way he said to them, <sup>18</sup>“Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death, <sup>19</sup>and will hand him over to the Gentiles to mock, to scourge, and to crucify; and the third day he will be raised up.”

<sup>20</sup>Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to him with her sons, kneeling and asking a certain thing of him. <sup>21</sup>He said to her, “What do you want?”

She said to him, “Command that these, my two sons, may sit, one on your right hand, and one on your left hand, in your Kingdom.”

<sup>22</sup>But Jesus answered, “You don’t know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink, and be baptised with the baptism that I am baptised with?”

They said to him, “We are able.”

<sup>23</sup>He said to them, “You will indeed drink my cup, and be baptised with the baptism that I am baptised with, but to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it is for whom it has been prepared by my Father.”

<sup>24</sup>When the ten heard it, they were indignant with the two brothers.

<sup>34</sup>Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received their sight, and they followed him.

21 When they came near to Jerusalem, and came to Bethsphage,‡‡ to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, <sup>2</sup>saying to them, “Go into the village that is opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Untie them, and bring them to me. <sup>3</sup>If anyone says anything to you, you shall say, ‘The Lord needs them,’ and immediately he will send them.”

††20:26 TR reads “let him be” instead of “shall be”

<sup>4</sup>All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through the prophet, saying,

<sup>10</sup>When he had come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred up, saying, “Who is this?”

<sup>12</sup>Jesus entered into the temple of God, and drove out all of those who sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the money changers’ tables and the seats of those who sold the doves. <sup>13</sup>He said to them, “It is written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer,’<sup>l</sup> but you have made it a den of robbers!”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>14</sup>The blind and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them. <sup>15</sup>But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children who were crying in the temple and saying, “Hosanna to the son of David!” they were indignant, <sup>16</sup>and said to him, “Do you hear what these are saying?”

Jesus said to them, “Yes. Did you never read, ‘Out of the mouth of babes and nursing babies you have perfected praise?’”<sup>n</sup>

<sup>17</sup>He left them, and went out of the city to Bethany, and camped there. <sup>18</sup>Now in the morning, as he returned to the city, he was hungry. <sup>19</sup>Seeing a fig tree by the road, he came to it, and found nothing on it but leaves. He said to it, “Let there be no fruit from you forever!”

Immediately the fig tree withered away. <sup>20</sup>When the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, “How did the fig tree immediately wither away?”

<sup>21</sup>Jesus answered them, “Most certainly I tell you, if you have faith, and don’t doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but even if you told this mountain, ‘Be taken up and cast into the sea,’ it would be done. <sup>22</sup>All things, whatever you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive.”

<sup>23</sup>When he had come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to him as he was teaching, and said, “By what authority do you do these things? Who gave you this authority?”

<sup>24</sup>Jesus answered them, “I also will ask you one question, which if you tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>25</sup>The baptism of John, where was it from? From heaven or from men?”

They reasoned with themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ he will ask us, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’ <sup>26</sup>But if we say, ‘From men,’ we fear the multitude, for all hold John as a prophet.” <sup>27</sup>They answered Jesus, and said, “We don’t know.”

He also said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>28</sup>But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said, 'Son, go work today in my vineyard.' <sup>29</sup> He answered, 'I will not,' but afterward he changed his mind, and went. <sup>30</sup> He came to the second, and said the same thing. He answered, 'I'm going, sir,' but he didn't go. <sup>31</sup> Which of the two did the will of his father?"

They said to him, "The first."

Jesus said to them, "Most certainly I tell you that the tax collectors and the prostitutes are entering into God's Kingdom before you. <sup>32</sup> For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you didn't believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him. When you saw it, you didn't even repent afterward, that you might believe him.

<sup>33</sup> "Hear another parable. There was a man who was a master of a household, who planted a vineyard, set a hedge about it, dug a wine press in it, built a tower, leased it out to farmers, and went into another country. <sup>34</sup> When the season for the fruit came near, he sent his servants to the farmers, to receive his fruit. <sup>35</sup> The farmers took his servants, beat one, killed another, and stoned another. <sup>36</sup> Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they treated them the same way. <sup>37</sup> But afterward he sent to them his son, saying, 'They will respect my son.' <sup>38</sup> But the farmers, when they saw the son, said amongst themselves, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and seize his inheritance.' <sup>39</sup> So they took him, and threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him. <sup>40</sup> When therefore the lord of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those farmers?"

<sup>41</sup> They told him, "He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and will lease out the vineyard to other farmers, who will give him the fruit in its season."

<sup>42</sup> Jesus said to them, "Did you never read in the Scriptures, 'The stone which the builders rejected was made the head of the corner. This was from the Lord.

It is marvellous in our eyes?'<sup>o</sup>

<sup>43</sup> "Therefore I tell you, God's Kingdom will be taken away from you, and will be given to a nation producing its fruit. <sup>44</sup> He who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, but on whomever it will fall, it will scatter him as dust."

22 Jesus answered and spoke to them again in parables, saying, <sup>2</sup> "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a certain king, who made a wedding feast for his son, <sup>3</sup> and sent out his servants to call those who were invited to the wedding feast, but they would not come. <sup>4</sup> Again he sent out other servants, saying, 'Tell those who are invited, "Behold, I have prepared my dinner. My cattle and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready. Come to the wedding feast!"' <sup>5</sup> But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise, <sup>6</sup> and the rest grabbed his servants, and treated them shamefully, and killed them. <sup>7</sup> When the king heard that, he was angry, and sent his armies, destroyed those murderers, and burnt their city.

<sup>8</sup> "Then he said to his servants, 'The wedding is ready, but those who were invited weren't worthy. <sup>9</sup> Go therefore to the intersections of the highways, and as many as you may find, invite to the wedding feast.' <sup>10</sup> Those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together as many as they found, both bad and good. The wedding was filled with guests. <sup>11</sup> But when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man who didn't have on wedding clothing, <sup>12</sup> and he said to him, 'Friend, how did you come in here not wearing wedding clothing?' He was speechless. <sup>13</sup> Then the king said to the servants, 'Bind him hand and foot, take him away, and throw him into the outer darkness. That is where the weeping and grinding of teeth will be.’<sup>14</sup> For many are called, but few chosen.”

<sup>15</sup> Then the Pharisees went and took counsel how they might entrap him in his talk. <sup>16</sup> They sent their disciples to him, along with the Herodians, saying, “Teacher, we know that you are honest, and teach the way of God in truth, no matter whom you teach, for you aren’t partial to anyone. <sup>17</sup> Tell us therefore, what do you think? Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?”

<sup>18</sup> But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, “Why do you test me, you hypocrites? <sup>19</sup> Show me the tax money.”

They brought to him a denarius.

Then he said to them, “Give therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar’s, and to God the things that are God’s.”

cerning the resurrection of the dead, haven’t you read that which was spoken to you by God, saying, <sup>32</sup> ‘I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?’<sup>p</sup> God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.”

They said to him, “Of David.”

<sup>44</sup> ‘The Lord said to my Lord, sit on my right hand,

until I make your enemies a footstool for your feet?’<sup>s</sup>

<sup>46</sup> No one was able to answer him a word, neither did any man dare ask him any more questions from that day forward.

23 Then Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to his disciples, <sup>2</sup> saying, “The scribes and the Pharisees sat on Moses’ seat. <sup>3</sup> All things therefore whatever they tell you to observe, observe and do, but don’t do their

His disciples came to him to show him the buildings of the temple. <sup>2</sup>But he answered them, “You see all of these things, don’t you? <sup>3</sup>As he sat on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately, saying, “Tell us, when will these things be? What is the sign of your coming, and of the end of the age?”

<sup>4</sup>Jesus answered them, “Be careful that no one leads you astray. <sup>5</sup>For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am the Christ,’ and will lead many astray. <sup>6</sup>You will hear of wars and rumours of wars. 26 If therefore they tell you, ‘Behold, he is in the wilderness,’ don’t go out; or ‘Behold, he is in the inner rooms,’ don’t believe it. 27 For as the lightning flashes from the east, and is seen even to the west, so will the coming of the Son of Man be. 28 For wherever the carcass is, that is where the vultures §§gather together. 29 But immediately after the suffering* of those days, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light, the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken;v 30 and then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky. Then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky with power and great glory. 31 He will send out his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they will gather together his chosen ones from the four winds, from one end of the sky to the other.

26 When Jesus had finished all these words, he said to his disciples, <sup>2</sup>“You know that after two days the Passover is coming, and the Son of Man will be delivered up to be crucified.”

<sup>6</sup>Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, <sup>7</sup>a woman came to him having an alabaster jar of very expensive ointment, and she poured it on his head as he sat at the table. <sup>8</sup>But when his disciples saw this, they were indignant, saying, “Why this waste? <sup>9</sup>For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.”

<sup>10</sup>However, knowing this, Jesus said to them, “Why do you trouble the woman? She has done a good work for me. <sup>11</sup>For you always have the poor with you; but you don’t always have me. <sup>12</sup>For in pouring this ointment on my body, she did it to prepare me for burial. <sup>13</sup>Most certainly I tell you, wherever this Good News is preached in the whole world, what this woman has done will also be spoken of as a memorial of her.”

<sup>14</sup>Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests, <sup>15</sup>and said, “What are you willing to give me, that I should deliver him to you?” They weighed out for him thirty pieces of silver. <sup>16</sup>From that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

<sup>17</sup>Now on the first day of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying to him, “Where do you want us to prepare for you to eat the Passover?”

<sup>18</sup>He said, “Go into the city to a certain person, and tell him, ‘The Teacher says, “My time is at hand. I will keep the Passover at your house with my disciples.”’”

<sup>19</sup>The disciples did as Jesus commanded them, and they prepared the Passover. <sup>20</sup>Now when evening had come, he was reclining at the table with the twelve disciples. <sup>21</sup>As they were eating, he said, “Most certainly I tell you that one of you will betray me.”

<sup>23</sup>He answered, “He who dipped his hand with me in the dish will betray me. <sup>24</sup>The Son of Man goes, even as it is written of him, but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would be better for that man if he had not been born.”

25 Judas, who betrayed him, answered, “It isn’t me, is it, Rabbi?”

He said to him, “You said it.”

26 As they were eating, Jesus took bread, gave thanks for†† it, and broke it. He gave to the disciples, and said, “Take, eat; this is my body.” 27 He took the cup, gave thanks, and gave to them, saying, “All of you drink it, 28 for this is my blood of the new covenant, which is poured out for many for the remission of sins. 29 But I tell you that I will not drink of this fruit of the vine from now on, until that day when I drink it anew with you in my Father’s Kingdom.” 30 When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

31 Then Jesus said to them, “All of you will be made to stumble because of me tonight, for it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.’<sup>w</sup> 32 But after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee.”

33 But Peter answered him, “Even if all will be made to stumble because of you, I will never be made to stumble.”

34 Jesus said to him, “Most certainly I tell you that tonight, before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.”

35 Peter said to him, “Even if I must die with you, I will not deny you.” All of the disciples also said likewise.

36 Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane, and said to his disciples, “Sit here, while I go there and pray.”

37 He took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and severely troubled. 38 Then he said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch with me.”

39 He went forward a little, fell on his face, and prayed, saying, “My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass away from me; nevertheless, not what I desire, but what you desire.”

40 He came to the disciples, and found them sleeping, and said to Peter, “What, couldn’t you watch with me for one hour? 41 Watch and pray, that you don’t enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

42 Again, a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, “My Father, if this cup can’t pass away from me unless I drink it, your desire be done.” 43 He came again and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. 44 He left them again, went away, and prayed a third time, saying the same words. 45 Then he came to his disciples, and said to them, “Sleep on now, and take your rest. Behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 46 Arise, let’s be going. Behold, he who betrays me is at hand.”

47 While he was still speaking, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now he who betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, “Whoever I kiss, he is the one. Seize him.” 49 Immediately he came to Jesus, and said, “Hail, Rabbi!” and kissed him.

50 Jesus said to him, “Friend, why are you here?” Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 Behold, one of those who were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 52 Then Jesus said to him, “Put your sword back into its place, for all those who take the sword will die by the sword. 53 Or do you think that I couldn’t ask my Father, and he would even now send me more than twelve legions of angels? 54 How then would the Scriptures be fulfilled that it must be so?”

<sup>55</sup> In that hour Jesus said to the multitudes, “Have you come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to seize me? I sat daily in the temple teaching, and you didn’t arrest me. <sup>56</sup> But all this has happened that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.”

Then all the disciples left him and fled. <sup>57</sup> Those who had taken Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. <sup>58</sup> But Peter followed him from a distance, to the court of the high priest, and entered in and sat with the officers, to see the end.

<sup>59</sup> Now the chief priests, the elders, and the whole council sought false testimony against Jesus, that they might put him to death; <sup>60</sup> and they found none. Even though many false witnesses came forward, they found none. But at last two false witnesses came forward, <sup>61</sup> and said, “This man said, ‘I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.’”

<sup>62</sup> The high priest stood up, and said to him, “Have you no answer? What is this that these testify against you?” <sup>63</sup> But Jesus held his peace. The high priest answered him, “I adjure you by the living God, that you tell us whether you are the Christ, the Son of God.”

<sup>64</sup> Jesus said to him, “You have said it. Nevertheless, I tell you, after this you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of Power, and coming on the clouds of the sky.”

<sup>65</sup> Then the high priest tore his clothing, saying, “He has spoken blasphemy! Why do we need any more witnesses? Behold, now you have heard his blasphemy. <sup>66</sup> What do you think?”

They answered, “He is worthy of death!” <sup>67</sup> Then they spat in his face and beat him with their fists, and some slapped him, <sup>68</sup> saying, “Prophecy to us, you Christ! Who hit you?”

<sup>69</sup> Now Peter was sitting outside in the court, and a maid came to him, saying, “You were also with Jesus, the Galilean!”

<sup>71</sup> When he had gone out onto the porch, someone else saw him, and said to those who were there, “This man also was with Jesus of Nazareth.”

<sup>74</sup> Then he began to curse and to swear, “I don’t know the man!”

Immediately the rooster crowed. <sup>75</sup> Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said to him, “Before the rooster crows, you will deny me three times.” Then he went out and wept bitterly.

27 Now when morning had come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: <sup>2</sup> and they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him up to Pontius Pilate, the governor. <sup>3</sup> Then Judas, who betrayed him, when he saw that Jesus was condemned, felt remorse, and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, <sup>4</sup> saying, “I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood.”

But they said, “What is that to us? You see to it.”

<sup>5</sup> He threw down the pieces of silver in the sanctuary, and departed. He went away and hanged himself. <sup>6</sup> The chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, “It’s not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood.” <sup>7</sup> They took counsel, and bought the potter’s field with them, to bury strangers in. <sup>8</sup> Therefore that field was called “The Field of Blood” to this day. <sup>9</sup> Then that which was spoken through Jeremiah‡‡ the prophet was fulfilled, saying, the price of him upon whom a price had been set, whom some of the children of Israel priced, <sup>10</sup> and they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."<sup>x</sup>

“They took the thirty pieces of silver,

<sup>11</sup> Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, "Are you the King of the Jews?"

Jesus said to him, "So you say."

<sup>12</sup> When he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. <sup>13</sup> Then Pilate said to him, "Don't you hear how many things they testify against you?"

<sup>14</sup> He gave him no answer, not even one word, so that the governor marvelled greatly.

<sup>15</sup> Now at the feast the governor was accustomed to release to the multitude one prisoner, whom they desired. <sup>16</sup> They had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. <sup>17</sup> When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus, who is called Christ?" <sup>18</sup> For he knew that because of envy they had delivered him up.

<sup>19</sup> While he was sitting on the judgement seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Have nothing to do with that righteous man, for I have suffered many things today in a dream because of him."

<sup>20</sup> Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes to ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. <sup>21</sup> But the governor answered them, "Which of the two do you want me to release to you?"

They said, "Barabbas!"

<sup>22</sup> Pilate said to them, "What then shall I do to Jesus, who is called Christ?"

They all said to him, "Let him be crucified!"

<sup>23</sup> But the governor said, "Why? What evil has he done?"

But they cried out exceedingly, saying, "Let him be crucified!"

<sup>24</sup> So when Pilate saw that nothing was being gained, but rather that a disturbance was starting, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this righteous person. You see to it."

<sup>41</sup> Likewise the chief priests also mocking, with the scribes, the Pharisees,† and the elders, said, <sup>42</sup> “He saved others, but he can’t save himself. If he is the King of Israel, let him come down from the cross now, and we will believe in him. <sup>43</sup> He trusts in God. Let God deliver him now, if he wants him; for he said, ‘I am the Son of God.’” <sup>44</sup> The robbers also who were crucified with him cast on him the same reproach.

<sup>50</sup> Jesus cried again with a loud voice, and yielded up his spirit. <sup>51</sup> Behold, the veil of the temple was torn in two from the top to the bottom. The earth quaked and the rocks were split. <sup>52</sup> The tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised; <sup>53</sup> and coming out of the tombs after his resurrection, they entered into the holy city and appeared to many. <sup>54</sup> Now the cen-turion, and those who were with him watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, “Truly this was the Son of God.”

<sup>55</sup> Many women were there watching from afar, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, serving him. <sup>56</sup> Amongst them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee. <sup>57</sup> When evening had come, a rich man from Arimathaea, named Joseph, who himself was also Jesus’ disciple came. <sup>58</sup> This man went to Pilate, and asked for Jesus’ body. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given up. <sup>59</sup> Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, <sup>60</sup> and laid it in his own new tomb, which he had cut out in the rock, and he rolled a great stone against the door of the tomb, and departed. <sup>61</sup> Mary Magdalene was there, and the other Mary, sitting opposite the tomb. <sup>62</sup> Now on the next day, which was the day after the Preparation Day, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together to Pilate, <sup>63</sup> saying, “Sir, we remember what that deceiver said while he was still alive: ‘After three days I will rise again.’” <sup>64</sup> Command therefore that the tomb be made secure until the third day, lest perhaps his disciples come at night and steal him away, and tell the people, ‘He is risen from the dead;’ and the last deception will be worse than the first.”

<sup>65</sup> Pilate said to them, “You have a guard. Go, make it as secure as you can.” <sup>66</sup> So they went with the guard and made the tomb secure, sealing the stone.

28 Now after the Sabbath, as it began to dawn on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to see the tomb. <sup>2</sup> Behold, there was a great earthquake, for an angel of the Lord descended from the sky, and came and rolled away the stone from the door, and sat on it. <sup>3</sup>His appearance was like lightning, and his clothing white as snow. <sup>4</sup>For fear of him, the guards shook, and became like dead men. <sup>5</sup>The angel answered the women, “Don’t be afraid, for I know that you seek Jesus, who has been crucified. <sup>6</sup>He is not here, for he has risen, just like he said. Come, see the place where the Lord was lying. <sup>7</sup>Go quickly and tell his disciples, ‘He has risen from the dead, and behold, he goes before you into Galilee; there you will see him.’ Behold, I have told you.”

<sup>8</sup>They departed quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. <sup>9</sup>As they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, “Rejoice!”

They came and took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.

<sup>10</sup>Then Jesus said to them, “Don’t be afraid. Go tell my brothers **that they should go into Galilee, and there they will see me.”

<sup>11</sup>Now while they were going, behold, some of the guards came into the city, and told the chief priests all the things that had happened. <sup>12</sup>When they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave a large amount of silver to the soldiers, <sup>13</sup>saying, “Say that his disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. <sup>14</sup>If this comes to the governor’s ears, we will persuade him and make you free of worry.” <sup>15</sup>So they took the money and did as they were told. This saying was spread abroad amongst the Jews, and continues until today.

<sup>16</sup>But the eleven disciples went into Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had sent them. <sup>17</sup>When they saw him, they bowed down to him, but some doubted. <sup>18</sup>Jesus came to them and spoke to them, saying, “All authority has been given to me in heaven and on earth. <sup>19</sup>Go†† and make disciples of all nations, baptising them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, <sup>20</sup>teaching them to observe all things that I commanded you. ## The Good News According to Mark

1 The beginning of the Good News of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. <sup>2</sup> As it is written in the prophets,

<sup>9</sup> In those days, Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptised by John in the Jordan. <sup>10</sup> Immediately coming up from the water, he saw the heavens parting, and the Spirit descending on him like a dove. <sup>11</sup> A voice came out of the sky, “You are my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

<sup>12</sup> Immediately the Spirit drove him out into the wilderness. <sup>13</sup> He was there in the wilderness forty days tempted by Satan. He was with the wild animals; and the angels were serving him.

<sup>16</sup> Passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew, the brother of Simon, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. <sup>17</sup> Jesus said to them, “Come after me, and I will make you into fishers for men.”

29 Immediately, when they had come out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 Now Simon's wife's mother lay sick with a fever, and immediately they told him about her. 31 He came and took her by the hand, and raised her up. The fever left her immediately,* and she served them. 32 At evening, when the sun had set, they brought to him all who were sick, and those who were possessed by demons. 33 All the city was gathered together at the door. 34 He healed many who were sick with various diseases, and cast out many demons. He didn't allow the demons to speak, because they knew him.

35 Early in the morning, while it was still dark, he rose up and went out, and departed into a deserted place, and prayed there. 36 Simon and those who were with him searched for him. 37 They found him and told him, "Everyone is looking for you."

38 He said to them, "Let's go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also, because I came out for this reason." 39 He went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out demons.

40 A leper came to him, begging him, kneeling down to him, and saying to him, "If you want to, you can make me clean."

41 Being moved with compassion, he stretched out his hand, and touched him, and said to him, "I want to. Be made clean."

42 When he had said this, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 He strictly warned him, and immediately sent him out, 44 and said to him, "See you say nothing to anybody, but go show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony to them."

45 But he went out, and began to proclaim it much, and to spread about the matter, so that Jesus could no more openly enter into a city, but was outside in desert places. People came to him from everywhere.

2 When he entered again into Capernaum after some days, it was heard that he was in the house. 2 Immediately many were gathered together, so that there was no more room, not even around the door; and he spoke the word to them. 3 Four people came, carrying a paralytic to him. 4 When they could not come near to him for the crowd, they removed the roof where he was. When they had broken it up, they let down the mat that the paralytic was lying on. 5 Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Son, your sins are forgiven you."

6 But there were some of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 "Why does this man speak blasphemies like that? Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

8 Immediately Jesus, perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, said to them, "Why do you reason these things in your hearts? 9 Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven;' or to say, 'Arise, and take up your bed, and walk?' 10 But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins"—he said to the paralytic— 11 "I tell you, arise, take up your mat, and go to your house."

12 He arose, and immediately took up the mat, and went out in front of them all; so that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, "We never saw anything like this!"

13 He went out again by the seaside. All the multitude came to him, and he taught them. 14 As he passed by, he saw Levi, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the tax office, and he said to him, "Follow me." And he arose and followed him.

15 He was reclining at the table in his house, and many tax collectors and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples, for there were many, and they followed him. 16 The scribes and the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and tax collectors, said to his disciples, “Why is it that he eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners?”

<sup>17</sup> When Jesus heard it, he said to them, “Those who are healthy have no need for a physician, but those who are sick. I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”

<sup>18</sup> John’s disciples and the Pharisees were fasting, and they came and asked him, “Why do John’s disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but your disciples don’t fast?”

<sup>19</sup> Jesus said to them, “Can the groomsmen fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they can’t fast. <sup>20</sup> But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast in that day. <sup>21</sup> No one sews a piece of unshrunk cloth on an old garment, or else the patch shrinks and the new tears away from the old, and a worse hole is made. <sup>22</sup> No one puts new wine into old wineskins, or else the new wine will burst the skins, and the wine pours out, and the skins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into fresh wineskins.”

<sup>23</sup> He was going on the Sabbath day through the grain fields, and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of grain. <sup>24</sup> The Pharisees said to him, “Behold, why do they do that which is not lawful on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>25</sup> He said to them, “Did you never read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry—he, and those who were with him? <sup>26</sup> How he entered into God’s house at the time of Abiathar the high priest, and ate the show bread, which is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and gave also to those who were with him?” <sup>27</sup> He said to them, “The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath. <sup>28</sup> Therefore the Son of Man is lord even of the Sabbath.”

3 He entered again into the synagogue, and there was a man there who had his hand withered. <sup>2</sup> They watched him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath day, that they might accuse him. <sup>3</sup> He said to the man who had his hand withered, “Stand up.” <sup>4</sup> He said to them, “Is it lawful on the Sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? To save a life, or to kill?” But they were silent. <sup>5</sup> When he had looked around at them with anger, being grieved at the hardening of their hearts, he said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” He stretched it out, and his hand was restored as healthy as the other. <sup>6</sup> The Pharisees went out, and immediately conspired with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

<sup>13</sup> He went up into the mountain, and called to himself those whom he wanted, and they went to him. <sup>14</sup> He appointed twelve, that they might be with him, and that he might send them out to preach, <sup>15</sup> and to have authority to heal sicknesses and to cast out demons: <sup>16</sup> Simon (to whom he gave the name Peter); <sup>17</sup> James the son of Zebedee; and John, the brother of James, (whom he called Boanerges, which means, Sons of Thunder); <sup>18</sup> Andrew; Philip; Bartholomew; Matthew; Thomas; James, the son of Alphaeus; Thad- daeus; Simon the Zealot; <sup>19</sup> and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

Then he came into a house. <sup>20</sup> The multi- tude came together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread. <sup>21</sup> When his friends heard it, they went out to seize him; for they said, “He is insane.” <sup>22</sup> The scribes who came down from Jerusalem said, “He has Beelzebul,” and, “By the prince of the demons he casts out the demons.”

<sup>33</sup> He answered them, “Who are my mother and my brothers?” <sup>34</sup> Looking around at those who sat around him, he said, “Behold, my mother and my brothers! <sup>35</sup> For whoever does the will of God is my brother, my sister, and mother.”

4 Again he began to teach by the seaside. A great multitude was gathered to him, so that he entered into a boat in the sea, and sat down. All the multitude were on the land by the sea. <sup>2</sup> He taught them many things in parables, and told them in his teaching, <sup>3</sup> “Listen! Behold, the farmer went out to sow, <sup>4</sup> and as he sowed, some seed fell by the road, and the birds¶ came and devoured it. <sup>5</sup> Others fell on the rocky ground, where it had little soil, and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of soil. <sup>6</sup> When the sun had risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away. <sup>7</sup> Others fell amongst the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. <sup>8</sup> Others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing. Some produced thirty times, some sixty times, and some one hundred times as much.” <sup>9</sup> He said, “Whoever has ears to hear, let him hear.”

<sup>10</sup> When he was alone, those who were around him with the twelve asked him about the parables. <sup>11</sup> He said to them, “To you is given the mystery of God’s Kingdom, but to those who are outside, all things are done in parables, <sup>12</sup> that ‘seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest perhaps they should turn again, and their sins should be forgiven them.’”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>13</sup> He said to them, “Don’t you understand this parable? How will you understand all of the parables? <sup>14</sup> The farmer sows the word. <sup>15</sup> The ones by the road are the ones where the word is sown; and when they have heard, immediately Satan comes, and takes away the word which has been sown in them. <sup>16</sup> These in the same way are those who are sown on the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with joy. <sup>17</sup> They have no root in themselves, but are short-lived. When oppression or persecution arises because of the word, immediately they stumble. <sup>18</sup> Others are those who are sown amongst the thorns. These are those who have heard the word, <sup>19</sup> and the cares of this age, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful. <sup>20</sup> Those which were sown on the good ground are those who hear the word, and accept it, and bear fruit, some thirty times, some sixty times, and some one hundred times.”

<sup>21</sup> He said to them, “Is the lamp brought to be put under a basket §or under a bed? Isn’t it put on a stand? <sup>22</sup> For there is nothing hidden, except that it should be made known; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. <sup>23</sup> If any man has ears to hear, let him hear.”

<sup>24</sup> He said to them, “Take heed what you hear. With whatever measure you measure, it will be measured to you, and more will be given to you who hear. <sup>25</sup> For whoever has, to him more will be given, and he who doesn’t have, even that which he has will be taken away from him.”

<sup>26</sup> He said, “God’s Kingdom is as if a man should cast seed on the earth, <sup>27</sup> and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, though he doesn’t know how. <sup>28</sup> For the earth bears fruit: first the blade, then the ear, then the full grain in the ear. <sup>29</sup> But when the fruit is ripe, immediately he puts in the sickle, because the harvest has come.”

<sup>30</sup> He said, “How will we liken God’s Kingdom? Or with what parable will we illustrate it? <sup>31</sup> It’s like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, though it is less than all the seeds that are on the earth, <sup>32</sup> yet when it is sown, grows up, and becomes greater than all the herbs, and puts out great branches, so that the birds of the sky can lodge under its shadow.”

<sup>33</sup> With many such parables he spoke the word to them, as they were able to hear it. <sup>34</sup> Without a parable he didn’t speak to them; but privately to his own disciples he explained everything.

<sup>35</sup> On that day, when evening had come, he said to them, “Let’s go over to the other side.” <sup>36</sup> Leaving the multitude, they took him with them, even as he was, in the boat. Other small boats were also with him. <sup>37</sup> A big wind storm arose, and the waves beat into the boat, so much that the boat was already filled. <sup>38</sup> He himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion, and they woke him up, and told him, “Teacher, don’t you care that we are dying?”

<sup>39</sup> He awoke, and rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, “Peace! Be still!” The wind ceased, and there was a great calm. <sup>40</sup> He said to them, “Why are you so afraid? How is it that you have no faith?”

<sup>41</sup> They were greatly afraid, and said to one another, “Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?”

5 They came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes. <sup>2</sup> When he had come out of the boat, immediately a man with an unclean spirit met him out of the tombs. <sup>3</sup> He lived in the tombs. Nobody could bind him any more, not even with chains, <sup>4</sup> because he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn apart by him, and the fetters broken in pieces. Nobody had the strength to tame him. <sup>5</sup> Always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. <sup>6</sup> When he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and bowed down to him, <sup>7</sup> and crying out with a loud voice, he said, “What have I to do with you, Jesus, you Son of the Most High God? I adjure you by God, don’t torment me.” <sup>8</sup> For he said to him, “Come out of the man, you unclean spirit!”

<sup>9</sup> He asked him, “What is your name?”

He said to him, “My name is Legion, for we are many.” <sup>10</sup> He begged him much that he would not send them away out of the country. <sup>11</sup> Now on the mountainside there was a great herd of pigs feeding. <sup>12</sup> All the demons begged him, saying, “Send us into the pigs, that we may enter into them.”

<sup>13</sup> At once Jesus gave them permission. The unclean spirits came out and entered into the pigs. The herd of about two thousand rushed down the steep bank into the sea, and they were drowned in the sea. <sup>14</sup>Those who fed them fled, and told it in the city and in the country.

The people came to see what it was that had happened. <sup>15</sup>They came to Jesus, and saw him who had been possessed by demons sitting, clothed, and in his right mind, even him who had the legion; and they were afraid. <sup>16</sup>Those who saw it declared to them what happened to him who was possessed by demons, and about the pigs. <sup>17</sup>They began to beg him to depart from their region.

<sup>18</sup>As he was entering into the boat, he who had been possessed by demons begged him that he might be with him. <sup>19</sup>He didn't allow him, but said to him, "Go to your house, to your friends, and tell them what great things the Lord has done for you, and how he had mercy on you."

<sup>24</sup>He went with him, and a great multitude followed him, and they pressed upon him on all sides. <sup>25</sup>A certain woman, who had a discharge of blood for twelve years, <sup>26</sup>and had suffered many things by many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was no better, but rather grew worse, <sup>27</sup>having heard the things concerning Jesus, came up behind him in the crowd, and touched his clothes. <sup>28</sup>For she said, "If I just touch his clothes, I will be made well." <sup>29</sup>Immediately the flow of her blood was dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction.

<sup>30</sup>Immediately Jesus, perceiving in himself that the power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd, and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"

<sup>31</sup>His disciples said to him, "You see the multitude pressing against you, and you say, 'Who touched me?'"

<sup>32</sup>He looked around to see her who had done this thing. <sup>33</sup>But the woman, fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

<sup>34</sup>He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace, and be cured of your disease."

<sup>35</sup>While he was still speaking, people came from the synagogue ruler's house saying, "Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher any more?"

<sup>38</sup>He came to the synagogue ruler's house, and he saw an uproar, weeping, and great wailing. <sup>39</sup>When he had entered in, he said to them, "Why do you make an uproar and weep? The child is not dead, but is asleep."

<sup>40</sup>They ridiculed him. But he, having put them all out, took the father of the child, her mother, and those who were with him, and went in where the child was lying. <sup>41</sup>Taking the child by the hand, he said to her, "Talitha cumi!" which means, being interpreted, "Girl, I tell you, get up!" <sup>42</sup>Immediately the girl rose up and walked, for she was twelve years old. They were amazed with great amazement. <sup>43</sup>He strictly ordered them that no one should know this, and commanded that something should be given to her to eat.

6 He went out from there. He came into his own country, and his disciples followed him. <sup>2</sup>When the Sabbath had come, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many hearing him were astonished, saying, "Where did this man get these things?" and, "What is the wisdom that is given to this man, that such mighty works come about by his hands? <sup>3</sup> Isn't this the carpenter, the son of Mary, and brother of James, Joses, Judah, and Simon? Aren't his sisters here with us?" They were offended at him.

<sup>4</sup> Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honour, except in his own country, and amongst his own relatives, and in his own house." <sup>5</sup> He could do no mighty work there, except that he laid his hands on a few sick people, and healed them. <sup>6</sup> He marvelled because of their unbelief.

He went around the villages teaching. <sup>7</sup> He called to himself the twelve, and began to send them out two by two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits. <sup>8</sup> He commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, except a staff only: no bread, no wallet, no money in their purse, <sup>9</sup> but to wear sandals, and not put on two tunics. <sup>10</sup> He said to them, "Wherever you enter into a house, stay there until you depart from there. <sup>11</sup> Whoever will not receive you nor hear you, as you depart from there, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony against them. Assuredly, I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement than for that city!"

<sup>12</sup> They went out and preached that people should repent. <sup>13</sup> They cast out many demons, and anointed many with oil who were sick, and healed them. <sup>14</sup> King Herod heard this, for his name had become known, and he said, "John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and therefore these powers are at work in him." <sup>15</sup> But others said, "He is Elijah." Others said, "He is a prophet, or like one of the prophets." <sup>16</sup> But Herod, when he heard this, said, "This is John, whom I beheaded. He has risen from the dead." <sup>17</sup> For Herod himself had sent out and arrested John, and bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother

Philip's wife, for he had married her. <sup>18</sup> For John said to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have your brother's wife." <sup>19</sup> Herodias set herself against him, and desired to kill him, but she couldn't, <sup>20</sup> for Herod feared John, knowing that he was a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. When he heard him, he did many things, and he heard him gladly.

<sup>21</sup> Then a convenient day came, that Herod on his birthday made a supper for his nobles, the high officers, and the chief men of Galilee. <sup>22</sup> When the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, she pleased Herod and those sitting with him. The king said to the young lady, "Ask me whatever you want, and I will give it to you." <sup>23</sup> He swore to her, "Whatever you shall ask of me, I will give you, up to half of my kingdom."

She said, "The head of John the Baptist."

<sup>30</sup> The apostles gathered themselves together to Jesus, and they told him all things, whatever they had done, and whatever they had taught. <sup>31</sup> He said to them, "You come apart into a deserted place, and rest awhile." For there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat. <sup>32</sup> They went away in the boat to a deserted place by themselves. <sup>33</sup>They** saw them going, and many recognised him and ran there on foot from all the cities. They arrived before them and came together to him. <sup>34</sup>Jesus came out, saw a great multitude, and he had compassion on them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he began to teach them many things. <sup>35</sup>When it was late in the day, his disciples came to him, and said, “This place is deserted, and it is late in the day. <sup>36</sup>Send them away, that they may go into the surrounding country and villages, and buy themselves bread, for they have nothing to eat.”

They asked him, “Shall we go and buy two hundred denarii†† worth of bread, and give them something to eat?”

When they knew, they said, “Five, and two fish.”

<sup>39</sup>He commanded them that everyone should sit down in groups on the green grass. <sup>40</sup>They sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties. <sup>41</sup>He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, he blessed and broke the loaves, and he gave to his disciples to set before them, and he divided the two fish amongst them all. <sup>42</sup>They all ate, and were filled. <sup>43</sup>They took up twelve baskets full of broken pieces and also of the fish. <sup>44</sup>Those who ate the loaves were‡‡ five thousand men.

<sup>45</sup>Immediately he made his disciples get into the boat, and to go ahead to the other side, to Bethsaida, while he himself sent the multitude away. <sup>46</sup>After he had taken leave of them, he went up the mountain to pray.

<sup>47</sup>When evening had come, the boat was in the middle of the sea, and he was alone on the land. <sup>48</sup>Seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary to them, about the fourth watch of the night he came to them, walking on the sea, and he would have passed by them, <sup>49</sup>but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was a ghost, and cried out; <sup>50</sup>for they all saw him, and were troubled. But he immediately spoke with them, and said to them, “Cheer up! It is I!¶¶ Don’t be afraid.” <sup>51</sup>He got into the boat with them; and the wind ceased, and they were very amazed amongst themselves, and marvelled; <sup>52</sup>for they hadn’t understood about the loaves, but their hearts were hardened.

<sup>53</sup>When they had crossed over, they came to land at Gennesaret, and moored to the shore. <sup>54</sup>When they had come out of the boat, immediately the people recognised him, <sup>55</sup>and ran around that whole region, and began to bring those who were sick, on their mats, to where they heard he was. <sup>56</sup>Wherever he entered, into villages, or into cities, or into the country, they laid the sick in the marketplaces, and begged him that they might just touch the fringe§§ of his garment; and as many as touched him were made well.

<sup>8</sup>“For you set aside the commandment of God, and hold tightly to the tradition of men—the washing of pitchers and cups, and you do many other such things.”<sup>9</sup> He said to them, “Full well do you reject the commandment of God, that you may keep your tradition. <sup>10</sup>For Moses said, ‘Honour your father and your mother;’<sup>e</sup> and, ‘He who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.’<sup>f</sup>

<sup>11</sup>But you say, ‘If a man tells his father or his mother, “Whatever profit you might have received from me is Corban,”’<sup>g</sup> that is to say, given to God, <sup>12</sup>“then you no longer allow him to do anything for his father or his mother, <sup>13</sup>making void the word of God by your tradition, which you have handed down. You do many things like this.”

<sup>14</sup>He called all the multitude to himself, and said to them, “Hear me, all of you, and understand. <sup>15</sup>There is nothing from outside of the man, that going into him can defile him; but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. <sup>16</sup>If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear!”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>17</sup>When he had entered into a house away from the multitude, his disciples asked him about the parable. <sup>18</sup>He said to them, “Are you also without understanding? Don’t you perceive that whatever goes into the man from outside can’t defile him, <sup>19</sup>because it doesn’t go into his heart, but into his stomach, then into the latrine, making all foods clean?”‡ <sup>20</sup>He said, “That which proceeds out of the man, that defiles the man. <sup>21</sup>For from within, out of the hearts of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, sexual sins, murders, thefts, <sup>22</sup>covetings, wickedness, deceit, lustful desires, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, and foolishness. <sup>23</sup>All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.”

<sup>24</sup>From there he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon. He entered into a house, and didn’t want anyone to know it, but he couldn’t escape notice. <sup>25</sup>For a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. <sup>26</sup>Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by race. She begged him that he would cast the demon out of her daughter. <sup>27</sup>But Jesus said to her, “Let the children be filled first, for it is not appropriate to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.”

<sup>31</sup>Again he departed from the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and came to the sea of Galilee, through the middle of the region of Decapolis. <sup>32</sup>They brought to him one who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech. They begged him to lay his hand on him. <sup>33</sup> He took him aside from the multitude, privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spat, and touched his tongue. <sup>34</sup> Looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said to him, “Ephphatha!” that is, “Be opened!” <sup>35</sup> Immediately his ears were opened, and the impediment of his tongue was released, and he spoke clearly. <sup>36</sup> He commanded them that they should tell no one, but the more he commanded them, so much the more widely they proclaimed it. <sup>37</sup> They were astonished beyond measure, saying, “He has done all things well. He makes even the deaf hear, and the mute speak!”

8 In those days, when there was a very great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples to himself, and said to them, <sup>2</sup> “I have compassion on the multitude, because they have stayed with me now three days, and have nothing to eat. <sup>3</sup> If I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint on the way, for some of them have come a long way.”

They said, “Seven.”

<sup>6</sup> He commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground, and he took the seven loaves. Having given thanks, he broke them, and gave them to his disciples to serve, and they served the multitude. <sup>7</sup> They had a few small fish. Having blessed them, he said to serve these also. <sup>8</sup> They ate, and were filled. They took up seven baskets of broken pieces that were left over. <sup>9</sup> Those who had eaten were about four thousand. Then he sent them away.

<sup>10</sup> Immediately he entered into the boat with his disciples, and came into the region of Dalmanutha. <sup>11</sup> The Pharisees came out and began to question him, seeking from him a sign from heaven, and testing him. <sup>12</sup> He sighed deeply in his spirit, and said, “Why does this generation¶ seek a sign? Most certainly I tell you, no sign will be given to this generation.”

<sup>17</sup> Jesus, perceiving it, said to them, “Why do you reason that it’s because you have no bread? Don’t you perceive yet, neither understand? Is your heart still hardened? <sup>18</sup> Having eyes, don’t you see? Having ears, don’t you hear? Don’t you remember? <sup>19</sup> When I broke the five loaves amongst the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?”

They told him, “Twelve.”

They told him, “Seven.”

<sup>22</sup> He came to Bethsaida. They brought a blind man to him, and begged him to touch him. <sup>23</sup> He took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village. When he had spat on his eyes, and laid his hands on him, he asked him if he saw anything.

<sup>25</sup> Then again he laid his hands on his eyes. He looked intently, and was restored, and saw everyone clearly. <sup>26</sup> He sent him away to his house, saying, “Don’t enter into the village, nor tell anyone in the village.”

¶8:12 The word translated “generation” here (genea) could also be translated “people”, “race”, or “family”.

27 Jesus went out, with his disciples, into the villages of Caesarea Philippi. On the way he asked his disciples, "Who do men say that I am?"

28 They told him, "John the Baptist, and others say Elijah, but others: one of the prophets."

29 He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?"

Peter answered, "You are the Christ."

30 He commanded them that they should tell no one about him. 31 He began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again. 32 He spoke to them openly. Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But he, turning around, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and said, "Get behind me, Satan! For you have in mind not the things of God, but the things of men."

34 He called the multitude to himself with his disciples, and said to them, "Whoever wants to come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For whoever wants to save his life will lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake and the sake of the Good News will save it. 36 For what does it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? 37 For what will a man give in exchange for his life? 38 For whoever will be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also will be ashamed of him, when he comes in his Father's glory, with the holy angels."

9 He said to them, "Most certainly I tell you, there are some standing here who will in no way taste death until they see God's Kingdom come with power."

2 After six days Jesus took with him Peter, James, and John, and brought them up onto a high mountain privately by themselves, and he was changed into another form in front of them. 3 His clothing became glistening, exceedingly white, like snow, such as no laun-derer on earth can whiten them. 4 Elijah and Moses appeared to them, and they were talking with Jesus.

5 Peter answered Jesus, "Rabbi, it is good for us to be here. Let's make three tents: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." 6 For he didn't know what to say, for they were very afraid.

7 A cloud came, overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, "This is my beloved Son. Listen to him."

8 Suddenly looking around, they saw no one with them any more, except Jesus only.

9 As they were coming down from the mountain, he commanded them that they should tell no one what things they had seen, until after the Son of Man had risen from the dead. 10 They kept this saying to themselves, questioning what the "rising from the dead" meant.

11 They asked him, saying, "Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?"

12 He said to them, "Elijah indeed comes first, and restores all things. How is it written about the Son of Man, that he should suffer many things and be despised? 13 But I tell you that Elijah has come, and they have also done to him whatever they wanted to, even as it is written about him."

14 Coming to the disciples, he saw a great multitude around them, and scribes questioning them. 15 Immediately all the multitude, when they saw him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, greeted him. 16 He asked the scribes, "What are you asking them?"

17 One of the multitude answered, "Teacher, I brought to you my son, who has a mute spirit; 18 and wherever it seizes him, it throws him down, and he foams at the mouth, and grinds his teeth, and wastes away. I asked your disciples to cast it out, and they weren't able."

19 He answered him, "Unbelieving generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to me."

20 They brought him to him, and when he saw him, immediately the spirit convulsed him, and he fell on the ground, wallowing and foaming at the mouth.

21 He asked his father, "How long has it been since this has come to him?"

He said, "From childhood. 22 Often it has cast him both into the fire and into the water to destroy him. But if you can do anything, have compassion on us, and help us."

23 Jesus said to him, "If you can believe, all things are possible to him who believes."

24 Immediately the father of the child cried out with tears, "I believe. Help my unbelief!"

25 When Jesus saw that a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to him, "You mute and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him, and never enter him again!"

26 After crying out and convulsing him greatly, it came out of him. The boy became like one dead, so much that most of them said, "He is dead." 27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose.

28 When he had come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, "Why couldn't we cast it out?" 29 He said to them, "This kind can come out by nothing, except by prayer and fasting."

30 They went out from there, and passed through Galilee. He didn't want anyone to know it. 31 For he was teaching his disciples, and said to them, "The Son of Man is being handed over to the hands of men, and they will kill him; and when he is killed, on the third day he will rise again."

32 But they didn't understand the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 He came to Capernaum, and when he was in the house he asked them, "What were you arguing amongst yourselves on the way?"

34 But they were silent, for they had disputed with one another on the way about who was the greatest.

35 He sat down, and called the twelve; and he said to them, "If any man wants to be first, he shall be last of all, and servant of all." 36 He took a little child, and set him in the middle of them. Taking him in his arms, he said to them, 37 "Whoever receives one such little child in my name, receives me, and whoever receives me, doesn't receive me, but him who sent me."

38 John said to him, "Teacher, we saw someone who doesn't follow us casting out demons in your name; and we forbade him, because he doesn't follow us."

39 But Jesus said, "Don't forbid him, for there is no one who will do a mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me. 40 For whoever is not against us is on our side. 41 For whoever will give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because you are Christ's, most certainly I tell you, he will in no way lose his reward. 42 Whoever will cause one of these little ones who believe in me to stumble, it would be better for him if he were thrown into the sea with a millstone hung around his neck. 43 If your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed, rather than having your two hands to go into Gehenna, §into the unquenchable fire, 44 'where their worm doesn't die, and the fire is not quenched.' §** 45 If your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off. Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another.”

10 He arose from there and came into the borders of Judea and beyond the Jordan. Multitudes came together to him again. As he usually did, he was again teaching them. <sup>2</sup> Pharisees came to him testing him, and asked him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?”

<sup>5</sup> But Jesus said to them, “For your hardness of heart, he wrote you this commandment.

<sup>6</sup> But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.<sup>i</sup> <sup>7</sup> For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will join to his wife, <sup>8</sup> and the two will become one flesh,<sup>j</sup> so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. <sup>9</sup> What therefore God has joined together, let no man separate.”

<sup>13</sup> They were bringing to him little children, that he should touch them, but the disciples rebuked those who were bringing them. <sup>14</sup> But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said to them, “Allow the little children to come to me! Don’t forbid them, for God’s Kingdom belongs to such as these. <sup>15</sup> Most certainly I tell you, whoever will not receive God’s Kingdom like a little child, he will in no way enter into it.” <sup>16</sup> He took them in his arms, and blessed them, laying his hands on them.

<sup>17</sup> As he was going out into the way, one ran to him, knelt before him, and asked him, “Good Teacher, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?”

<sup>21</sup> Jesus looking at him loved him, and said to him, “One thing you lack. Go, sell whatever you have, and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow me, taking up the cross.”

<sup>22</sup> But his face fell at that saying, and he went away sorrowful, for he was one who had great possessions. <sup>23</sup> Jesus looked around, and said to his disciples, “How difficult it is for those who have riches to enter into God’s Kingdom!”

<sup>24</sup> The disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus answered again, “Children, how hard it is for those who trust in riches to enter into God’s Kingdom! <sup>25</sup> It is easier for a camel to go through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to enter into God’s Kingdom.”

27 Jesus, looking at them, said, “With men it is impossible, but not with God, for all things are possible with God.”

28 Peter began to tell him, “Behold, we have left all, and have followed you.”

29 Jesus said, “Most certainly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or land, for my sake, and for the sake of the Good News, 30 but he will receive one hundred times more now in this time: houses, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and land, with persecutions; and in the age to come eternal life. 31 But many who are first will be last; and the last first.”

32 They were on the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going in front of them, and they were amazed; and those who followed were afraid. He again took the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were going to happen to him. 33 “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem. The Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn him to death, and will deliver him to the Gentiles. 34 They will mock him, spit on him, scourge him, and kill him. On the third day he will rise again.”

35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came near to him, saying, “Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we will ask.”

36 He said to them, “What do you want me to do for you?”

37 They said to him, “Grant to us that we may sit, one at your right hand, and one at your left hand, in your glory.”

38 But Jesus said to them, “You don’t know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, and to be baptised with the baptism that I am baptised with?”

39 They said to him, “We are able.”

Jesus said to them, “You shall indeed drink the cup that I drink, and you shall be baptised with the baptism that I am baptised with;

40 but to sit at my right hand and at my left hand is not mine to give, but for whom it has been prepared.”

41 When the ten heard it, they began to be indignant towards James and John.

42 Jesus summoned them, and said to them, “You know that they who are recognised as rulers over the nations lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them.

43 But it shall not be so amongst you, but whoever wants to become great amongst you shall be your servant. 44 Whoever of you wants to become first amongst you, shall be bondservant of all. 45 For the Son of Man also came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many.”

46 They came to Jericho. As he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timaeus, Bartimaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the road. 47 When he heard that it was Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out, and say, “Jesus, you son of David, have mercy on me!” 48 Many rebuked him, that he should be quiet, but he cried out much more, “You son of David, have mercy on me!”

49 Jesus stood still, and said, “Call him.”

They called the blind man, saying to him, “Cheer up! Get up. He is calling you!”

50 He, casting away his cloak, sprang up, and came to Jesus.

51 Jesus asked him, “What do you want me to do for you?”

The blind man said to him, “Rabboni,§§ that I may see again.”

52 Jesus said to him, “Go your way. Your faith has made you well.” Immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus on the way.

11 When they came near to Jerusalem, to Bethsphage* and Bethany, at the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, <sup>2</sup> and said to them, “Go your way into the village that is opposite you. Immediately as you enter into it, you will find a young donkey tied, on which no one has sat. Untie him, and bring him. <sup>3</sup>If anyone asks you, ‘Why are you doing this?’ say, ‘The Lord needs him;’ and immediately he will send him back here.”

<sup>4</sup>They went away, and found a young donkey tied at the door outside in the open street, and they untied him. <sup>5</sup>Some of those who stood there asked them, “What are you doing, untying the young donkey?” <sup>6</sup>They said to them just as Jesus had said, and they let them go.

<sup>7</sup>They brought the young donkey to Jesus, and threw their garments on it, and Jesus sat on it. <sup>8</sup>Many spread their garments on the way, and others were cutting down branches from the trees, and spreading them on the road. <sup>9</sup>Those who went in front, and those who followed, cried out, “Hosanna! †Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord!† <sup>10</sup>Blessed is the kingdom of our father David that is coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!”

<sup>11</sup>Jesus entered into the temple in Jerusalem. When he had looked around at everything, it being now evening, he went out to Bethany with the twelve.

<sup>12</sup>The next day, when they had come out from Bethany, he was hungry. <sup>13</sup>Seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came to see if perhaps he might find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing but leaves, for it was not the season for figs. <sup>14</sup>Jesus told it, “May no one ever eat fruit from you again!” and his disciples heard it.

<sup>15</sup>They came to Jerusalem, and Jesus entered into the temple, and began to throw out those who sold and those who bought in the temple, and overthrew the money changers’ tables, and the seats of those who sold the doves. <sup>16</sup>He would not allow anyone to carry a container through the temple. <sup>17</sup>He taught, saying to them, “Isn’t it written, ‘My house will be called a house of prayer for all the nations?’<sup>m</sup> But you have made it a den of robbers!”<sup>n</sup>

<sup>18</sup>The chief priests and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him. For they feared him, because all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

<sup>19</sup>When evening came, he went out of the city. <sup>20</sup>As they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. <sup>21</sup>Peter, remembering, said to him, “Rabbi, look! The fig tree which you cursed has withered away.”

<sup>22</sup>Jesus answered them, “Have faith in God. <sup>23</sup>For most certainly I tell you, whoever may tell this mountain, ‘Be taken up and cast into the sea,’ and doesn’t doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says is happening; he shall have whatever he says. <sup>24</sup>Therefore I tell you, all things whatever you pray and ask for, believe that you have received them, and you shall have them. <sup>25</sup>Whenever you stand praying, forgive, if you have anything against anyone; so that your Father, who is in heaven, may also forgive you your transgressions. <sup>26</sup>But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your transgressions.”‡

<sup>27</sup>They came again to Jerusalem, and as he was walking in the temple, the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders came to him, <sup>28</sup>and they began saying to him, “By what authority do you do these things? Or who gave you this authority to do these things?”

<sup>29</sup>Jesus said to them, “I will ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. <sup>30</sup>The baptism of John—was it from heaven, or from men? Answer me.”

<sup>31</sup>They reasoned with themselves, saying, “If we should say, ‘From heaven;’ he will say, †11:9 “Hosanna” means “save us” or “help us, we pray”.

‡11:26 NU omits verse 26.

‘Why then did you not believe him?’<sup>32</sup> If we should say, ‘From men’—they feared the people, for all held John to really be a prophet.<sup>33</sup> They answered Jesus, “We don’t know.”

Jesus said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

12 He began to speak to them in parables. “A man planted a vineyard, put a hedge around it, dug a pit for the wine press, built a tower, rented it out to a farmer, and went into another country. <sup>2</sup> When it was time, he sent a servant to the farmer to get from the farmer his share of the fruit of the vineyard. <sup>3</sup> They took him, beat him, and sent him away empty. <sup>4</sup> Again, he sent another servant to them; and they threw stones at him, wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully treated. <sup>5</sup> Again he sent another; and they killed him; and many others, beating some, and killing some. <sup>6</sup> Therefore still having one, his beloved son, he sent him last to them, saying, ‘They will respect my son.’ <sup>7</sup> But those farmers said amongst themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let’s kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.’ <sup>8</sup> They took him, killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard. <sup>9</sup> What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the farmers, and will give the vineyard to others. <sup>10</sup> Haven’t you even read this Scripture:

‘The stone which the builders rejected was made the head of the corner.

It is marvellous in our eyes?’<sup>o</sup>

<sup>12</sup> They tried to seize him, but they feared the multitude; for they perceived that he spoke the parable against them. They left him, and went away. <sup>13</sup> They sent some of the Pharisees and the Herodians to him, that they might trap him with words. <sup>14</sup> When they had come, they asked him, “Teacher, we know that you are honest, and don’t defer to anyone; for you aren’t partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of God. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not? <sup>15</sup> Shall we give, or shall we not give?”

But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, “Why do you test me? Bring me a denarius, that I may see it.”

He said to them, “Whose is this image and inscription?”

They said to him, “Caesar’s.”

They marvelled greatly at him.

<sup>24</sup> Jesus answered them, “Isn’t this because you are mistaken, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God? <sup>25</sup> For when they will rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. <sup>26</sup> But about the dead, that they are raised; haven’t you read in the book of Moses, about the Bush, how God spoke to him, saying, ‘I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’? <sup>27</sup> He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You are therefore badly mistaken.”

<sup>28</sup> One of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, “Which commandment is the greatest of all?”

29 Jesus answered, “The greatest is, ‘Hear, Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one: 30 you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength.’<sup>q</sup> This is the first commandment. 31 The second is like this, ‘You shall love your neighbour as yourself.’<sup>r</sup> There is no other commandment greater than these.”

32 The scribe said to him, “Truly, teacher, you have said well that he is one, and there is none other but he, 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more important than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.”

34 When Jesus saw that he answered wisely, he said to him, “You are not far from God’s Kingdom.”

No one dared ask him any question after that. 35 Jesus responded, as he taught in the temple, “How is it that the scribes say that the Christ is the son of David? 36 For David himself said in the Holy Spirit, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet.”’<sup>s</sup>

37 Therefore David himself calls him Lord, so how can he be his son?”

The common people heard him gladly. 38 In his teaching he said to them, “Beware of the scribes, who like to walk in long robes, and to get greetings in the marketplaces, 39 and the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts: 40 those who devour widows’ houses, and for a pretence make long prayers. These will receive greater condemnation.”

41 Jesus sat down opposite the treasury, and saw how the multitude cast money into the treasury. Many who were rich cast in much. 42 A poor widow came, and she cast in two small brass coins,† which equal a quadrans coin.§ 43 He called his disciples to himself, and said to them, “Most certainly I tell you, this poor widow gave more than all those who are giving into the treasury, 44 for they all gave out of their abundance, but she, out of her poverty, gave all that she had to live on.”

13 As he went out of the temple, one of his disciples said to him, “Teacher, see what kind of stones and what kind of buildings!”

2 Jesus said to him, “Do you see these great buildings? There will not be left here one stone on another, which will not be thrown down.”

3 As he sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked him privately, 4 “Tell us, when will these things be? What is the sign that these things are all about to be fulfilled?”

5 Jesus, answering, began to tell them, “Be careful that no one leads you astray. 6 For many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am he!’<sup>**</sup> and will lead many astray.

7 “When you hear of wars and rumours of wars, don’t be troubled. For those must happen, but the end is not yet. 8 For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes in various places. There will be famines and troubles. These things are the beginning of birth pains. 9 But watch yourselves, for they will deliver you up to councils. You will be beaten in synagogues. You will stand before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony to them. <sup>10</sup>The Good News must first be preached to all the nations. <sup>11</sup>When they lead you away and deliver you up, don't be anxious beforehand, or premeditate what you will say, but say whatever will be given you in that hour. For it is not you who speak, but the Holy Spirit.

<sup>12</sup>"Brother will deliver up brother to death, and the father his child. Children will rise up against parents, and cause them to be put to death. <sup>13</sup>You will be hated by all men for my name's sake, but he who endures to the end will be saved. <sup>14</sup>But when you see the abomination of desolation,<sup>t</sup> spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not" (let the reader understand), "then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, <sup>15</sup>and let him who is on the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house. <sup>16</sup>Let him who is in the field not return back to take his cloak. <sup>17</sup>But woe to those who are with child and to those who nurse babies in those days! <sup>18</sup>Pray that your flight won't be in the winter. <sup>19</sup>For in those days there will be oppression, such as there has not been the like from the beginning of the creation which God created until now, and never will be. <sup>20</sup>Unless the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved; but for the sake of the chosen ones, whom he picked out, he shortened the days. <sup>21</sup>Then if anyone tells you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or, 'Look, there!' don't believe it. <sup>22</sup>For there will arise false christs and false prophets, and will show signs and wonders, that they may lead astray, if possible, even the chosen ones. <sup>23</sup>But you watch.

"Behold, I have told you all things beforehand. <sup>24</sup>But in those days, after that oppression, the sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light, <sup>25</sup>the stars will be falling from the sky, and the powers that are in the heavens will be shaken.<sup>u</sup> <sup>26</sup>Then they will see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory. <sup>27</sup>Then he will send out his angels, and will gather together his chosen ones from the four winds, from the ends of the earth to the ends of the sky.

<sup>28</sup>"Now from the fig tree, learn this parable. When the branch has now become tender, and produces its leaves, you know that the summer is near; <sup>29</sup>even so you also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, at the doors. <sup>30</sup>Most certainly I say to you, this generation†† will not pass away until all these things happen. <sup>31</sup>Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away. <sup>32</sup>But of that day or that hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. <sup>33</sup>Watch, keep alert, and pray; for you don't know when the time is.

14 It was now two days before the feast of the Passover and the unleavened bread, and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might seize him by deception, and kill him. <sup>2</sup>For they said, "Not during the feast, because there might be a riot amongst the people."

were some who were indignant amongst themselves, saying, “Why has this ointment been wasted? <sup>5</sup>For this might have been sold for more than three hundred denarii, ‡‡and given to the poor.” So they grumbled against her.

<sup>6</sup>But Jesus said, “Leave her alone. Why do you trouble her? She has done a good work for me. <sup>7</sup>For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want to, you can do them good; but you will not always have me. <sup>8</sup>She has done what she could. She has anointed my body beforehand for the burying. <sup>9</sup>Most certainly I tell you, wherever this Good News may be preached throughout the whole world, that which this woman has done will also be spoken of for a memorial of her.”

<sup>13</sup>He sent two of his disciples, and said to them, “Go into the city, and there you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him, <sup>14</sup>and wherever he enters in, tell the master of the house, “The Teacher says, “Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?”” <sup>15</sup>He will himself show you a large upper room furnished and ready. Get ready for us there.”

<sup>16</sup>His disciples went out, and came into the city, and found things as he had said to them, and they prepared the Passover.

<sup>17</sup>When it was evening he came with the twelve. <sup>18</sup>As they sat and were eating, Jesus said, “Most certainly I tell you, one of you will betray me—he who eats with me.”

<sup>19</sup>They began to be sorrowful, and to ask him one by one, “Surely not I?” And another said, “Surely not I?”

<sup>20</sup>He answered them, “It is one of the twelve, he who dips with me in the dish. <sup>21</sup>For the Son of Man goes, even as it is written about him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would be better for that man if he had not been born.”

<sup>22</sup>As they were eating, Jesus took bread, and when he had blessed, he broke it, and gave to them, and said, “Take, eat. This is my body.”

<sup>23</sup>He took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them. They all drank of it. <sup>24</sup>He said to them, “This is my blood of the new covenant, which is poured out for many. <sup>25</sup>Most certainly I tell you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it anew in God’s Kingdom.” <sup>26</sup>When they had sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

<sup>27</sup>Jesus said to them, “All of you will be made to stumble because of me tonight, for it is written, ‘I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.’<sup>v</sup> <sup>28</sup>However, after I am raised up, I will go before you into Galilee.”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus said to him, “Most certainly I tell you, that you today, even this night, before the rooster crows twice, you will deny me three times.”

<sup>31</sup>But he spoke all the more, “If I must die with you, I will not deny you.” They all said the same thing.

<sup>32</sup>They came to a place which was named Gethsemane. He said to his disciples, “Sit here, while I pray.” <sup>33</sup>He took with him Peter, James, and John, and began to be greatly troubled and distressed. <sup>34</sup>He said to them, “My soul is exceedingly sorrowful, even to death. Stay here, and watch.”

<sup>35</sup> He went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him. <sup>36</sup> He said, “Abba, ¶¶ Father, all things are possible to you. Please remove this cup from me. However, not what I desire, but what you desire.”

<sup>39</sup> Again he went away, and prayed, saying the same words. <sup>40</sup> Again he returned, and found them sleeping, for their eyes were very heavy, and they didn’t know what to answer him. <sup>41</sup> He came the third time, and said to them, “Sleep on now, and take your rest. It is enough. The hour has come. Behold, the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. <sup>42</sup> Arise! Let’s get going. Behold: he who betrays me is at hand.”

<sup>43</sup> Immediately, while he was still speaking, Judas, one of the twelve, came—and with him a multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests, the scribes, and the elders. <sup>44</sup> Now he who betrayed him had given them a sign, saying, “Whomever I will kiss, that is he. Seize him, and lead him away safely.” <sup>45</sup> When he had come, immediately he came to him, and said, “Rabbi! Rabbi!” and kissed him. <sup>46</sup> They laid their hands on him, and seized him. <sup>47</sup> But a certain one of those who stood by drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

<sup>48</sup> Jesus answered them, “Have you come out, as against a robber, with swords and clubs to seize me? <sup>49</sup> I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and you didn’t arrest me.

But this is so that the Scriptures might be fulfilled.”

<sup>54</sup> Peter had followed him from a distance, until he came into the court of the high priest. He was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire. <sup>55</sup> Now the chief priests and the whole council sought witnesses against Jesus to put him to death, and found none. <sup>56</sup> For many gave false testimony against him, and their testimony didn’t agree with each other. <sup>57</sup> Some stood up, and gave false testimony against him, saying, <sup>58</sup> “We heard him say, ‘I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands.’” <sup>59</sup> Even so, their testimony didn’t agree.

<sup>60</sup> The high priest stood up in the middle, and asked Jesus, “Have you no answer? What is it which these testify against you?” <sup>61</sup> But he stayed quiet, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, “Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?”

<sup>63</sup> The high priest tore his clothes, and said, “What further need have we of witnesses? <sup>64</sup> You have heard the blasphemy! What do you think?” They all condemned him to be worthy of death. <sup>65</sup> Some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to beat him with fists, and to tell him, “Prophecy!” The officers struck him with the palms of their hands.

seeing Peter warming himself, she looked at him, and said, "You were also with the Nazarene, Jesus!"

<sup>68</sup> But he denied it, saying, "I neither know, nor understand what you are saying." He went out on the porch, and the rooster crowed.

<sup>69</sup> The maid saw him, and began again to tell those who stood by, "This is one of them."

<sup>70</sup> But he again denied it. After a little while again those who stood by said to Peter, "You truly are one of them, for you are a Galilean, and your speech shows it." <sup>71</sup> But he began to curse, and to swear, "I don't know this man of whom you speak!" <sup>72</sup> The rooster crowed the second time. Peter remembered the word, how that Jesus said to him, "Before the rooster crows twice, you will deny me three times." When he thought about that, he wept.

15 Immediately in the morning the chief priests, with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, held a consultation, bound Jesus, carried him away, and delivered him up to Pilate. <sup>2</sup> Pilate asked him, "Are you the King of the Jews?"

He answered, "So you say."

<sup>5</sup> But Jesus made no further answer, so that Pilate marvelled.

<sup>6</sup> Now at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. <sup>7</sup> There was one called Barabbas, bound with his fellow insurgents, men who in the insurrection had committed murder. <sup>8</sup> The multitude, crying aloud, began to ask him to do as he always did for them. <sup>9</sup> Pilate answered them, saying, "Do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?" <sup>10</sup> For he perceived that for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. <sup>11</sup> But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should release Barabbas to them instead. <sup>12</sup> Pilate again asked them, "What then should I do to him whom you call the King of the Jews?"

<sup>14</sup> Pilate said to them, "Why, what evil has he done?"

But they cried out exceedingly, "Crucify him!"

<sup>15</sup> Pilate, wishing to please the multitude, released Barabbas to them, and handed over Jesus, when he had flogged him, to be crucified. <sup>16</sup> The soldiers led him away within the court, which is the Praetorium; and they called together the whole cohort. <sup>17</sup> They clothed him with purple, and weaving a crown of thorns, they put it on him. <sup>18</sup> They began to salute him, "Hail, King of the Jews!" <sup>19</sup> They struck his head with a reed, and spat on him, and bowing their knees, did homage to him. <sup>20</sup> When they had mocked him, they took the purple off him, and put his own garments on him. They led him out to crucify him. <sup>21</sup> They compelled one passing by, coming from the country, Simon of Cyrene, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to go with them, that he might bear his cross. <sup>22</sup> They brought him to the place called Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, "The place of a skull." <sup>23</sup> They offered him wine mixed with myrrh to drink, but he didn't take it.

days, <sup>30</sup>save yourself, and come down from the cross!"

<sup>31</sup>Likewise, also the chief priests mocking amongst themselves with the scribes said, "He saved others. He can't save himself. <sup>32</sup>Let the Christ, the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe him." †Those who were crucified with him also insulted him.

<sup>33</sup>When the sixth hour ‡had come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. ¶<sup>34</sup>At the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, "Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?" which is, being interpreted, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" w

<sup>36</sup>One ran, and filling a sponge full of vinegar, put it on a reed, and gave it to him to drink, saying, "Let him be. Let's see whether Elijah comes to take him down."

<sup>37</sup>Jesus cried out with a loud voice, and gave up the spirit. <sup>38</sup>The veil of the temple was torn in two from the top to the bottom. <sup>39</sup>When the centurion, who stood by opposite him, saw that he cried out like this and breathed his last, he said, "Truly this man was the Son of God!"

<sup>40</sup>There were also women watching from afar, amongst whom were both Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome; <sup>41</sup>who, when he was in Galilee, followed him and served him; and many other women who came up with him to Jerusalem.

<sup>42</sup>When evening had now come, because it was the Preparation Day, that is, the day before the Sabbath, <sup>43</sup>Joseph of Arimathaea, a prominent council member who also himself was looking for God's Kingdom, came. He boldly went in to Pilate, and asked for Jesus' body. <sup>44</sup>Pilate marvelled if he were already dead; and summoning the centurion, he asked him whether he had been dead long. <sup>45</sup>When he found out from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph. <sup>46</sup>He bought a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb which had been cut out of a rock. He rolled a stone against the door of the tomb. <sup>47</sup>Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of Joses, saw where he was laid.

16 When the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. <sup>2</sup>Very early on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen. <sup>3</sup>They were saying amongst themselves, "Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?" <sup>4</sup>for it was very big. Looking up, they saw that the stone was rolled back.

<sup>5</sup>Entering into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, dressed in a white robe, and they were amazed. <sup>6</sup>He said to them, "Don't be amazed. You seek Jesus, the Nazarene, who has been crucified. He has risen. He is not here. Behold, the place where they laid him! <sup>7</sup>But go, tell his disciples and Peter, 'He goes before you into Galilee. There you will see him, as he said to you.'"

<sup>8</sup>They went out,<sup>8</sup> and fled from the tomb, for trembling and astonishment had come on them. They said nothing to anyone; for they were afraid.** 9 ††Now when he had risen early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven demons. 10 She went and told those who had been with him, as they mourned and wept. 11 When they heard that he was alive, and had been seen by her, they disbelieved. 12 After these things he was revealed in another form to two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. 13 They went away and told it to the rest. They didn't believe them, either.

14 Afterward he was revealed to the eleven themselves as they sat at the table, and he rebuked them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they didn't believe those who had seen him after he had risen. 15 He said to them, "Go into all the world, and preach the Good News to the whole creation. 16 He who believes and is baptised will be saved; but he who disbelieves will be condemned. 17 These signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new languages; 18 they will take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it will in no way hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover."

19 So then the Lord,‡‡ after he had spoken to them, was received up into heaven, and sat down at the right hand of God. 20 They went out, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word by the signs that followed. Amen.

The Good News According to Luke

1 Since many have undertaken to set in order a narrative concerning those matters which have been fulfilled amongst us, <sup>2</sup> even as those who from the beginning were eye-witnesses and servants of the word delivered them to us, <sup>3</sup> it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus; <sup>4</sup> that you might know the certainty concerning the things in which you were instructed.

<sup>5</sup> There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the priestly division of Abijah. He had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth. <sup>6</sup> They were both righteous before God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord. <sup>7</sup> But they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren, and they both were well advanced in years.

<sup>8</sup> Now while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his division <sup>9</sup> according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to enter into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. <sup>10</sup> The whole multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of incense.

<sup>11</sup> An angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing on the right side of the altar of incense. <sup>12</sup> Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. <sup>13</sup> But the angel said to him, "Don't be afraid, Zacharias, because your request has been heard. Your wife, Elizabeth, will bear you a son, and you shall call his name John. <sup>14</sup> You will have joy and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth. <sup>15</sup> For he will be great in the sight of the Lord, and he will drink no wine nor strong drink. He will be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. <sup>16</sup> He will turn many of the children of Israel to the Lord their God. <sup>17</sup> He will go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, 'to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children,'<sup>x</sup> and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just; to prepare a people prepared for the Lord."

<sup>18</sup> Zacharias said to the angel, "How can I be sure of this? For I am an old man, and my wife is well advanced in years."

<sup>19</sup> The angel answered him, "I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God. I was sent to speak to you and to bring you this good news. <sup>20</sup> Behold,¶¶ you will be silent and not able to speak until the day that these things will happen, because you didn't believe my words, which will be fulfilled in their proper time."

<sup>21</sup> The people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled that he delayed in the temple. <sup>22</sup> When he came out, he could not speak to them. They perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple. He continued making signs to them, and remained mute. <sup>23</sup> When the days of his service were fulfilled, he departed to his house. <sup>24</sup> After these days Elizabeth his wife conceived, and she hid herself five months, saying, <sup>25</sup> "Thus has the Lord done to me in the days in which he looked at me, to take away my reproach amongst men."

kind of salutation this might be. <sup>30</sup>The angel said to her, "Don't be afraid, Mary, for you have found favour with God. <sup>31</sup>Behold, you will conceive in your womb and give birth to a son, and shall name him 'Jesus.' <sup>32</sup>He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, <sup>33</sup>and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever. There will be no end to his Kingdom."

<sup>35</sup>The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come on you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. Therefore also the holy one who is born from you will be called the Son of God. <sup>36</sup>Behold, Elizabeth your relative also has conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her who was called barren. <sup>37</sup>For nothing spoken by God is impossible." §§

<sup>38</sup>Mary said, "Behold, the servant of the Lord; let it be done to me according to your word."

The angel departed from her.

<sup>47</sup>My spirit has rejoiced in God my Saviour, <sup>48</sup>for he has looked at the humble state of his servant.

For behold, from now on, all generations will call me blessed.

<sup>49</sup>For he who is mighty has done great things for me.

Holy is his name.

He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

<sup>52</sup>He has put down princes from their thrones, and has exalted the lowly.

<sup>58</sup>Her neighbours and her relatives heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy towards her, and they rejoiced with her. <sup>59</sup>On the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. <sup>60</sup>His mother answered, "Not so; but he will be called John."

They all marvelled. <sup>64</sup>His mouth was opened immediately and his tongue freed, and he spoke, blessing God. <sup>65</sup>Fear came on all who lived around them, and all these sayings were talked about throughout all the hill country of Judea. <sup>66</sup> All who heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, "What then will this child be?" The hand of the Lord was with him.

<sup>68</sup> "Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, for he has visited and redeemed his people;

<sup>69</sup> and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David

<sup>74</sup> to grant to us that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, should serve him without fear,

<sup>75</sup> in holiness and righteousness before him all the days of our life.

<sup>76</sup> And you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High; for you will go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways,

<sup>78</sup> because of the tender mercy of our God, by which the dawn from on high will visit us, to guide our feet into the way of peace."

<sup>79</sup> to shine on those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death;

<sup>80</sup> The child was growing and becoming strong in spirit, and was in the desert until the day of his public appearance to Israel.

2 Now in those days, a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. <sup>2</sup> This was the first enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of Syria. <sup>3</sup> All went to enrol themselves, everyone to his own city. <sup>4</sup> Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to David's city, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and family of David; <sup>5</sup> to enrol himself with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him as wife, being pregnant.

<sup>6</sup> While they were there, the day had come for her to give birth. <sup>7</sup> She gave birth to her firstborn son. She wrapped him in bands of cloth, and laid him in a feeding trough, because there was no room for them in the inn.

<sup>8</sup> There were shepherds in the same country staying in the field, and keeping watch by night over their flock. <sup>9</sup> Behold, an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. <sup>10</sup> The angel said to them, "Don't be afraid, for behold, I bring you good news of great joy which will be to all the people. <sup>11</sup> For there is born to you today, in David's city, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord. <sup>12</sup> This is the sign to you:

<sup>13</sup> Suddenly, there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly army praising God, and saying,

<sup>14</sup> "Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will towards men."

<sup>15</sup> When the angels went away from them into the sky, the shepherds said to one another,

"Let's go to Bethlehem, now, and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us."

<sup>16</sup> They came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the baby was lying in the feeding trough. <sup>17</sup> When they saw it, they publicised widely the saying which was spoken to them about this child.

<sup>21</sup> When eight days were fulfilled for the circumcision of the child, his name was called Jesus, which was given by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

<sup>22</sup> When the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord <sup>23</sup> (as it is written in the law of the Lord, “Every male who opens the womb shall be called holy to the Lord”),<sup>y</sup> <sup>24</sup> and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, “A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.”<sup>z</sup>

<sup>25</sup> Behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon. This man was righteous and devout, looking for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was on him. <sup>26</sup> It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he should not see death before he had seen the Lord’s Christ.† <sup>27</sup> He came in the Spirit into the temple. When the parents brought in the child, Jesus, that they might do concerning him according to the custom of the law, <sup>28</sup> then he received him into his arms, and blessed God, and said,

according to your word, in peace;

<sup>30</sup> for my eyes have seen your salvation,

<sup>36</sup> There was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, <sup>37</sup> and she had been a widow for about eighty-four years), who didn’t depart from the temple, worshipping with fastings and petitions night and day. <sup>38</sup> Coming up at that very hour, she gave thanks to the Lord, and spoke of him to all those who were looking for redemption in Jerusalem.

<sup>39</sup> When they had accomplished all things that were according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city, Nazareth. <sup>40</sup> The child was growing, and was becoming strong in spirit, being filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him. <sup>41</sup> His parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover.

<sup>42</sup> When he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast, <sup>43</sup> and when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem. Joseph and his mother didn’t know it, <sup>44</sup> but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day’s journey, and they looked for him amongst their relatives and acquaintances. <sup>45</sup> When they didn’t find him, they returned to Jerusalem, looking for him. <sup>46</sup> After three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the middle of the teachers, both listening to them, and asking them questions. <sup>47</sup> All who heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. <sup>48</sup> When they saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him, “Son, why have you treated us this way? Behold, your father and I were anxiously looking for you.”

<sup>49</sup> He said to them, “Why were you looking for me? Didn’t you know that I must be in my Father’s house?” <sup>50</sup> They didn’t understand the saying which he spoke to them. <sup>51</sup> And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth. He was subject to them, and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart. <sup>52</sup> And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and men.

3 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, and Lysa-nias tetrarch of Abilene, <sup>2</sup> in the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John, the son of Zacharias, in the wilderness. <sup>3</sup> He came into all the region around the Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for remission of sins. <sup>4</sup> As it is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

“The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
‘Make ready the way of the Lord.
Make his paths straight.

<sup>5</sup> Every valley will be filled.
Every mountain and hill will be brought low.
The crooked will become straight, and the rough ways smooth.

<sup>7</sup> He said therefore to the multitudes who went out to be baptised by him, “You offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? <sup>8</sup> Therefore produce fruits worthy of repentance, and don’t begin to say amongst yourselves, ‘We have Abraham for our father;’ for I tell you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones! <sup>9</sup> Even now the axe also lies at the root of the trees. Every tree therefore that doesn’t produce good fruit is cut down, and thrown into the fire.”

<sup>11</sup> He answered them, “He who has two coats, let him give to him who has none. He who has food, let him do likewise.”

<sup>12</sup> Tax collectors also came to be baptised, and they said to him, “Teacher, what must we do?”

<sup>13</sup> He said to them, “Collect no more than that which is appointed to you.”

He said to them, “Extort from no one by violence, neither accuse anyone wrongfully. Be content with your wages.”

<sup>15</sup> As the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, whether perhaps he was the Christ, <sup>16</sup> John answered them all, “I indeed baptise you with water, but he comes who is mightier than I, the strap of whose sandals I am not worthy to loosen. He will baptise you in the Holy Spirit and fire, <sup>17</sup> whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing floor, and will gather the wheat into his barn; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.”

<sup>23</sup> Jesus himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years old, being the son (as was supposed) of Joseph, the son of Heli, <sup>24</sup> the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph, <sup>25</sup> the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai, <sup>26</sup> the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Joseph, the son of Judah, <sup>27</sup> the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri, <sup>28</sup> the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmodam, the son of Er, <sup>29</sup> the son of Jose, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi,<sup>30</sup> the son of Simeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonan, the son of Eliakim,<sup>31</sup> the son of Melea, the son of Menan, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David,<sup>32</sup> the son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, the son of Nahshon,<sup>33</sup> the son of Amminadab, the son of Aram,§ the son of Hezron, the son of Perez, the son of Judah,<sup>34</sup> the son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nahor,<sup>35</sup> the son of Serug, the son of Reu, the son of Peleg, the son of Eber, the son of Shelah,<sup>36</sup> the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, the son of Lamech,<sup>37</sup> the son of Methuselah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahalaleel, the son of Cainan,<sup>38</sup> the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

4 Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness<sup>2</sup> for forty days, being tempted by the devil. He ate nothing in those days. Afterward, when they were completed, he was hungry.<sup>3</sup> The devil said to him, "If you are the Son of God, command this stone to become bread."

<sup>4</sup> Jesus answered him, saying, "It is written, 'Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.'"<sup>b</sup>

<sup>5</sup> The devil, leading him up on a high mountain, showed him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.<sup>6</sup> The devil said to him, "I will give you all this authority, and their glory, for it has been delivered to me; and I give it to whomever I want.<sup>7</sup> If you therefore will worship before me, it will all be yours."

<sup>8</sup> Jesus answered him, "Get behind me Satan! For it is written, 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and you shall serve him only.'"<sup>c</sup>

<sup>9</sup> He led him to Jerusalem, and set him on the pinnacle of the temple, and said to him, "If you are the Son of God, cast yourself down from here,<sup>10</sup> for it is written,

'He will put his angels in charge of you, to guard you;'

'On their hands they will bear you up, lest perhaps you dash your foot against a stone.'"<sup>d</sup>

<sup>12</sup> Jesus answering, said to him, "It has been said, 'You shall not tempt the Lord your God.'"<sup>e</sup>

<sup>14</sup> Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and news about him spread through all the surrounding area.<sup>15</sup> He taught in their synagogues, being glorified by all.

<sup>16</sup> He came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up. He entered, as was his custom, into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read.<sup>17</sup> The book of the prophet Isaiah was handed to him. He opened the book, and found the place where it was written,

<sup>18</sup> "The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor.

He has sent me to heal the broken hearted,** to proclaim release to the captives, recovering of sight to the blind, to deliver those who are crushed,

<sup>20</sup> He closed the book, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. The eyes of all in the synagogue were fastened on him.<sup>21</sup> He began to tell them, "Today, this Scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing."

<sup>22</sup> All testified about him, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth, and they said, "Isn't this Joseph's son?"

<sup>23</sup> He said to them, "Doubtless you will tell me this parable, 'Physician, heal yourself! Whatever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in your hometown.'" <sup>24</sup> He said, "Most certainly I tell you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown. <sup>25</sup> But truly I tell you, there were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the sky was shut up three years and six months, when a great famine came over all the land. <sup>26</sup> Elijah was sent to none of them, except to Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, to a woman who was a widow. <sup>27</sup> There were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet, yet not one of them was cleansed, except Naaman, the Syrian."

<sup>28</sup> They were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things. <sup>29</sup> They rose up, threw him out of the city, and led him to the brow of the hill that their city was built on, that they might throw him off the cliff. <sup>30</sup> But he, passing through the middle of them, went his way.

<sup>35</sup> Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be silent, and come out of him!" When the demon had thrown him down in the middle of them, he came out of him, having done him no harm.

<sup>36</sup> Amazement came on all, and they spoke together, one with another, saying, "What is this word? For with authority and power he commands the unclean spirits, and they come out!" <sup>37</sup> News about him went out into every place of the surrounding region.

<sup>38</sup> He rose up from the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. Simon's mother-in-law was afflicted with a great fever, and they begged him for her. <sup>39</sup> He stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her. Immediately she rose up and served them. <sup>40</sup> When the sun was setting, all those who had any sick with various diseases brought them to him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. <sup>41</sup> Demons also came out of many, crying out, and saying, "You are the Christ, the Son of God!" Rebuking them, he didn't allow them to speak, because they knew that he was the Christ.

<sup>42</sup> When it was day, he departed and went into an uninhabited place, and the multitudes looked for him, and came to him, and held on to him, so that he wouldn't go away from them. <sup>43</sup> But he said to them, "I must preach the good news of God's Kingdom to the other cities also. For this reason I have been sent." <sup>44</sup> He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

5 Now while the multitude pressed on him and heard the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. <sup>2</sup> He saw two boats standing by the lake, but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were washing their nets. <sup>3</sup> He entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. He sat down and taught the multitudes from the boat. <sup>4</sup> When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a catch."

<sup>5</sup> Simon answered him, "Master, we worked all night, and took nothing; but at your word I will let down the net." <sup>6</sup> When they had done this, they caught a great multitude of fish, and their net was breaking. <sup>7</sup> They beckoned to their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. They came, and filled both boats, so that they began to sink. <sup>8</sup> But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord." <sup>9</sup> For he was amazed, and all who were with him, at the catch of fish which they had caught; <sup>10</sup> and so also were James and John, sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon.

Jesus said to Simon, "Don't be afraid. From now on you will be catching people alive."

<sup>11</sup> When they had brought their boats to land, they left everything, and followed him. <sup>12</sup> While he was in one of the cities, behold, there was a man full of leprosy. When he saw Jesus, he fell on his face, and begged him, saying, "Lord, if you want to, you can make me clean."

<sup>13</sup> He stretched out his hand, and touched him, saying, "I want to. Be made clean."

Immediately the leprosy left him. <sup>14</sup> He commanded him to tell no one, "But go your way, and show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing according to what Moses commanded, for a testimony to them." <sup>15</sup> But the report concerning him spread much more, and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities. <sup>16</sup> But he withdrew himself into the desert, and prayed.

<sup>17</sup> On one of those days, he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and teachers of the law sitting by, who had come out of every village of Galilee, Judea, and Jerusalem. The power of the Lord was with him to heal them. <sup>18</sup> Behold, men brought a paralysed man on a cot, and they sought to bring him in to lay before Jesus. <sup>19</sup> Not finding a way to bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to the housetop, and let him down through the tiles with his cot into the middle before Jesus. <sup>20</sup> Seeing their faith, he said to him, "Man, your sins are forgiven you."

<sup>22</sup> But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, answered them, "Why are you reasoning so in your hearts? <sup>23</sup> Which is easier to say, 'Your sins are forgiven you;' or to say, 'Arise and walk?'" <sup>24</sup> But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins" (he said to the paralysed man), "I tell you, arise, take up your cot, and go to your house."

<sup>25</sup> Immediately he rose up before them, and took up that which he was laying on, and departed to his house, glorifying God. <sup>26</sup> Amazement took hold on all, and they glorified God. They were filled with fear, saying, "We have seen strange things today."

<sup>27</sup> After these things he went out, and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax office, and said to him, "Follow me!"

<sup>33</sup> They said to him, "Why do John's disciples often fast and pray, likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours eat and drink?"

<sup>34</sup> He said to them, "Can you make the friends of the bridegroom fast while the bridegroom is with them? <sup>35</sup> But the days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them. Then they will fast in those days." <sup>36</sup> He also told a parable to them. "No one puts a piece from a new garment on an old garment, or else he will tear the new, and also the piece from the new will not match the old. <sup>37</sup> No one puts new wine into old wine skins, or else the new wine will burst the skins, and it will be spilled, and the skins will be destroyed. <sup>38</sup> But new wine must be put into fresh wine skins, and both are preserved. <sup>39</sup> No man having drunk old wine immediately desires new, for he says, 'The old is better.'"

6 Now on the second Sabbath after the first, he was going through the grain fields. His disciples plucked the heads of grain and ate, rubbing them in their hands. <sup>2</sup> But some of the Pharisees said to them, “Why do you do that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>3</sup> Jesus, answering them, said, “Haven’t you read what David did when he was hungry, he, and those who were with him; <sup>4</sup> how he entered into God’s house, and took and ate the show bread, and gave also to those who were with him, which is not lawful to eat except for the priests alone?” <sup>5</sup> He said to them, “The Son of Man is lord of the Sabbath.”

<sup>6</sup> It also happened on another Sabbath that he entered into the synagogue and taught. There was a man there, and his right hand was withered. <sup>7</sup> The scribes and the Pharisees watched him, to see whether he would heal on the Sabbath, that they might find an accusation against him. <sup>8</sup> But he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man who had the withered hand, “Rise up, and stand in the middle.” He arose and stood. <sup>9</sup> Then Jesus said to them, “I will ask you something: Is it lawful on the Sabbath to do good, or to do harm? To save a life, or to kill?” <sup>10</sup> He looked around at them all, and said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” He did, and his hand was restored as sound as the other. <sup>11</sup> But they were filled with rage, and talked with one another about what they might do to Jesus.

<sup>12</sup> In these days, he went out to the mountain to pray, and he continued all night in prayer to God. <sup>13</sup> When it was day, he called his disciples, and from them he chose twelve, whom he also named apostles: <sup>14</sup> Simon, whom he also named Peter; Andrew, his brother; James; John; Philip; Bartholomew; <sup>15</sup> Matthew; Thomas; James, the son of Alphaeus; Simon, who was called the Zealot; <sup>16</sup> Judas the son of James; and Judas Iscariot, who also became a traitor. <sup>17</sup> He came down with them, and stood on a level place, with a crowd of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear him and to be healed of their diseases; <sup>18</sup> as well as those who were troubled by unclean spirits, and they were being healed. <sup>19</sup> All the multitude sought to touch him, for power came out of him and healed them all.

God’s Kingdom is yours.

<sup>21</sup> Blessed are you who hunger now, for you will be filled.

Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh.

<sup>22</sup> Blessed are you when men hate you, and when they exclude and mock you, and throw out your name as evil, for the Son of Man’s sake.

<sup>23</sup> Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy, for behold, your reward is great in heaven, for their fathers did the same thing to the prophets.

<sup>24</sup> “But woe to you who are rich!
For you have received your consolation.

<sup>25</sup> Woe to you, you who are full now, for you will be hungry.

Woe to you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep.

<sup>26</sup> Woe,†† when‡‡ men speak well of you, for their fathers did the same thing to the false prophets.

mies, do good to those who hate you, <sup>28</sup> bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you. <sup>29</sup> To him who strikes you on the cheek, offer also the other; and from him who takes away your cloak, don’t withhold your coat also. <sup>30</sup> Give to everyone who asks you, and don’t ask him who takes away your goods to give them back again.

<sup>31</sup> “As you would like people to do to you, do exactly so to them. <sup>32</sup> If you love those who love you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners love those who love them. <sup>33</sup> If you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is that to you? For even sinners do the same. <sup>34</sup> If you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what credit is that to you? Even sinners lend to sinners, to receive back as much. <sup>35</sup> But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing back; and your reward will be great, and you will be children of the Most High; for he is kind towards the unthankful and evil.

††6:26 TR adds “to you”

‡‡6:26 TR adds “all”

<sup>37</sup> Don’t judge, and you won’t be judged. Don’t condemn, and you won’t be condemned. Set free, and you will be set free.

<sup>38</sup> “Give, and it will be given to you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, will be given to you. ¶ For with the same measure you measure it will be measured back to you.”

<sup>39</sup> He spoke a parable to them. “Can the blind guide the blind? Won’t they both fall into a pit? <sup>40</sup> A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone when he is fully trained will be like his teacher. <sup>41</sup> Why do you see the speck of chaff that is in your brother’s eye, but don’t consider the beam that is in your own eye? <sup>42</sup> Or how can you tell your brother, ‘Brother, let me remove the speck of chaff that is in your eye,’ when you yourself don’t see the beam that is in your own eye? You hypocrite! First remove the beam from your own eye, and then you can see clearly to remove the speck of chaff that is in your brother’s eye. <sup>43</sup> For there is no good tree that produces rotten fruit; nor again a rotten tree that produces good fruit. <sup>44</sup> For each tree is known by its own fruit. For people don’t gather figs from thorns, nor do they gather grapes from a bramble bush.

<sup>46</sup> “Why do you call me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ and don’t do the things which I say? <sup>47</sup> Everyone who comes to me, and hears my words, and does them, I will show you who he is like. <sup>48</sup> He is like a man building a house, who dug and went deep, and laid a foundation on the rock. When a flood arose, the stream broke against that house, and could not shake it, because it was founded on the rock. <sup>49</sup> But he who hears, and doesn’t do, is like a man who built a house on the earth without a foundation, against which the stream broke, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great.”

7 After he had finished speaking in the hearing of the people, he entered into Capernaum. <sup>2</sup> A certain centurion’s servant, who was dear to him, was sick and at the point of death. <sup>3</sup> When he heard about Jesus, he sent to him elders of the Jews, asking him to come and save his servant. <sup>4</sup> When they came to Jesus, they begged him earnestly, saying, “He is worthy for you to do this for him, <sup>5</sup> for he loves our nation, and he built our synagogue for us.” <sup>6</sup> Jesus went with them. When he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying to him, “Lord, don’t trouble yourself, for I am not worthy for you to come under my roof. <sup>7</sup> Therefore I didn’t even think myself worthy to come to you; but say the word, and my servant will be healed. <sup>8</sup> For I also am a man placed under authority, having under myself soldiers. I tell this one, ‘Go!’ and he goes; and to another, ‘Come!’ and he comes; and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”

<sup>9</sup> When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned and said to the multitude who followed him, “I tell you, I have not found such great faith, no, not in Israel.”<sup>10</sup> Those who were sent, returning to the house, found that the servant who had been sick was well.

<sup>11</sup> Soon afterwards, he went to a city called Nain. Many of his disciples, along with a great multitude, went with him. <sup>12</sup> Now when he came near to the gate of the city, behold, one who was dead was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. Many people of the city were with her. <sup>13</sup> When the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said to her, “Don’t cry.” <sup>14</sup> He came near and touched the coffin, and the bearers stood still. He said, “Young man, I tell you, arise!” <sup>15</sup> He who was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother.

<sup>16</sup> Fear took hold of all, and they glorified God, saying, “A great prophet has arisen amongst us!” and, “God has visited his people!” <sup>17</sup> This report went out concerning him in the whole of Judea, and in all the surrounding region.

<sup>18</sup> The disciples of John told him about all these things. <sup>19</sup> John, calling to himself two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, “Are you the one who is coming, or should we look for another?” <sup>20</sup> When the men had come to him, they said, “John the Baptist has sent us to you, saying, ‘Are you he who comes, or should we look for another?’”

“What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind? <sup>25</sup> But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft clothing? Behold, those who are gorgeously dressed, and live delicately, are in kings’ courts. <sup>26</sup> But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and much more than a prophet. <sup>27</sup> This is he of whom it is written,

‘Behold, I send my messenger before your face, who will prepare your way before you.’<sup>g</sup>

<sup>28</sup> “For I tell you, amongst those who are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist, yet he who is least in God’s Kingdom is greater than he.”

<sup>29</sup> When all the people and the tax collectors heard this, they declared God to be just, having been baptised with John’s baptism. <sup>30</sup> But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected the counsel of God, not being baptised by him themselves.

<sup>31</sup> §§“To what then should I compare the people of this generation? What are they like? <sup>32</sup> They are like children who sit in the marketplace, and call to one another, saying, ‘We piped to you, and you didn’t dance. We mourned, and you didn’t weep.’ <sup>33</sup> For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, ‘He has a demon.’ <sup>34</sup> The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, ‘Behold, a gluttonous man, and a drunkard; a friend of tax collectors and sinners!’ <sup>35</sup> Wisdom is justified by all her children.”

them with the hair of her head, kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. <sup>39</sup> Now when the Pharisee who had invited him saw it, he said to himself, “This man, if he were a prophet, would have perceived who and what kind of woman this is who touches him, that she is a sinner.”

He said, “Teacher, say on.”

<sup>41</sup> “A certain lender had two debtors. The one owed five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. <sup>42</sup> When they couldn’t pay, he forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most?”

He said to him, “You have judged correctly.” <sup>44</sup> Turning to the woman, he said to Simon, “Do you see this woman? I entered into your house, and you gave me no water for my feet, but she has wet my feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head. <sup>45</sup> You gave me no kiss, but she, since the time I came in, has not ceased to kiss my feet. <sup>46</sup> You didn’t anoint my head with oil, but she has anointed my feet with ointment. <sup>47</sup> Therefore I tell you, her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much. But one to whom little is forgiven, loves little.”

<sup>50</sup> He said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you. Go in peace.”

8 Soon afterwards, he went about through cities and villages, preaching and bringing the good news of God’s Kingdom. With him were the twelve, <sup>2</sup> and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary who was called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out; <sup>3</sup> and Joanna, the wife of Chuzas, Herod’s steward; Susanna; and many others; who served them* from their possessions. <sup>4</sup> When a great multitude came together, and people from every city were coming to him, he spoke by a parable. <sup>5</sup> “The farmer went out to sow his seed. As he sowed, some fell along the road, and it was trampled under foot, and the birds of the sky devoured it. <sup>6</sup> Other seed fell on the rock, and as soon as it grew, it withered away, because it had no moisture. <sup>7</sup> Other fell amid the thorns, and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. <sup>8</sup> Other fell into the good ground, and grew, and produced one hundred times as much fruit.” As he said these things, he called out, “He who has ears to hear, let him hear!”

<sup>10</sup> He said, “To you it is given to know the mysteries of God’s Kingdom, but to the rest in parables; that ‘seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand.’<sup>h</sup> <sup>11</sup> Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God. <sup>12</sup> Those along the road are those who hear, then the devil comes, and takes away the word from their heart, that they may not believe and be saved. <sup>13</sup> Those on the rock are they who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; but these have no root, who believe for a while, then fall away in time of temptation. <sup>14</sup> That which fell amongst the thorns, these are those who have heard, and as they go on their way they are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity. <sup>15</sup> Those in the good ground, these are those who with an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it tightly, and produce fruit with perseverance.

<sup>16</sup> “No one, when he has lit a lamp, covers it with a container, or puts it under a bed; but puts it on a stand, that those who enter in may see the light. <sup>17</sup> For nothing is hidden that will not be revealed; nor anything secret that will not be known and come to light. <sup>18</sup> Be careful therefore how you hear. For whoever has, to him will be given; and whoever doesn't have, from him will be taken away even that which he thinks he has."

<sup>19</sup> His mother and brothers came to him, and they could not come near him for the crowd. <sup>20</sup> Some people told him, "Your mother and your brothers stand outside, desiring to see you."

<sup>21</sup> But he answered them, "My mother and my brothers are these who hear the word of God, and do it."

<sup>22</sup> Now on one of those days, he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples, and he said to them, "Let's go over to the other side of the lake." So they launched out. <sup>23</sup> But as they sailed, he fell asleep. A wind storm came down on the lake, and they were taking on dangerous amounts of water. <sup>24</sup> They came to him, and awoke him, saying, "Master, master, we are dying!" He awoke, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water, and they ceased, and it was calm.<sup>i</sup> <sup>25</sup> He said to them, "Where is your faith?" Being afraid they marvelled, saying to one another, "Who is this then, that he commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him?" <sup>26</sup> They arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is opposite Galilee.

<sup>27</sup> When Jesus stepped ashore, a certain man out of the city who had demons for a long time met him. He wore no clothes, and didn't live in a house, but in the tombs. <sup>28</sup> When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, "What do I have to do with you, Jesus, you Son of the Most High God? I beg you, don't torment me!" <sup>29</sup> For Jesus was commanding the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For the unclean spirit had often seized the man. He was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters. Breaking the bonds apart, he was driven by the demon into the desert.

He said, "Legion," for many demons had entered into him. <sup>31</sup> They begged him that he would not command them to go into the abyss. <sup>32</sup> Now there was there a herd of many pigs feeding on the mountain, and they begged him that he would allow them to enter into those. Then he allowed them. <sup>33</sup> The demons came out of the man, and entered into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake, and were drowned. <sup>34</sup> When those who fed them saw what had happened, they fled and told it in the city and in the country.

<sup>35</sup> People went out to see what had happened. They came to Jesus and found the man from whom the demons had gone out, sitting at Jesus' feet, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. <sup>36</sup> Those who saw it told them how he who had been possessed by demons was healed. <sup>37</sup> All the people of the surrounding country of the Gadarenes asked him to depart from them, for they were very much afraid. Then he entered into the boat and returned. <sup>38</sup> But the man from whom the demons had gone out begged him that he might go with him, but Jesus sent him away, saying, <sup>39</sup> "Return to your house, and declare what great things God has done for you." He went his way, proclaiming throughout the whole city what great things Jesus had done for him.

<sup>40</sup> When Jesus returned, the multitude welcomed him, for they were all waiting for him. <sup>41</sup> Behold, a man named Jairus came. He was a ruler of the synagogue. He fell down at Jesus' feet, and begged him to come into his house, <sup>42</sup> for he had an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she was dying. But as he went, the multitudes pressed against him. <sup>43</sup> A woman who had a flow of blood for twelve years, who had spent all her living on physicians and could not be healed by any

44 came behind him, and touched the fringe† of his cloak. Immediately the flow of her blood stopped. 45 Jesus said, “Who touched me?”

When all denied it, Peter and those with him said, “Master, the multitudes press and jostle you, and you say, ‘Who touched me?’”

46 But Jesus said, “Someone did touch me, for I perceived that power has gone out of me.” 47 When the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared to him in the presence of all the people the reason why she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 He said to her, “Daughter, cheer up. Your faith has made you well. Go in peace.”

49 While he still spoke, one from the ruler of the synagogue’s house came, saying to him, “Your daughter is dead. Don’t trouble the Teacher.”

50 But Jesus hearing it, answered him, “Don’t be afraid. Only believe, and she will be healed.”

51 When he came to the house, he didn’t allow anyone to enter in, except Peter, John, James, the father of the child, and her mother. 52 All were weeping and mourning her, but he said, “Don’t weep. She isn’t dead, but sleeping.”

53 They were ridiculing him, knowing that she was dead. 54 But he put them all outside, and taking her by the hand, he called, saying, “Child, arise!” 55 Her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately. He commanded that something be given to her to eat. 56 Her parents were amazed, but he commanded them to tell no one what had been done.

9 He called the twelve‡ together, and gave them power and authority over all demons, and to cure diseases. 2 He sent them out to preach God’s Kingdom and to heal the sick. 3 He said to them, “Take nothing for your journey—no staffs, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money. Don’t have two coats each. 4 Into whatever house you enter, stay there, and depart from there. 5 As many as don’t receive you, when you depart from that city, shake off even the dust from your feet for a testimony against them.”

6 They departed and went throughout the villages, preaching the Good News and healing everywhere. 7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him; and he was very perplexed, because it was said by some that John had risen from the dead, 8 and by some that Elijah had appeared, and by others that one of the old prophets had risen again. 9 Herod said, “I beheaded John, but who is this about whom I hear such things?” He sought to see him. 10 The apostles, when they had returned, told him what things they had done.

He took them and withdrew apart to a desert region of¶ a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the multitudes, perceiving it, followed him. He welcomed them, spoke to them of God’s Kingdom, and he cured those who needed healing. 12 The day began to wear away; and the twelve came and said to him, “Send the multitude away, that they may go into the surrounding villages and farms, and lodge, and get food, for we are here in a deserted place.”

13 But he said to them, “You give them something to eat.”

They said, “We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless we should go and buy food for all these people.” 14 For they were about five thousand men.

He said to his disciples, “Make them sit down in groups of about fifty each.” 15 They did so, and made them all sit down. 16 He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to the sky, he blessed them, broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude. <sup>17</sup>They ate and were all filled. They gathered up twelve baskets of broken pieces that were left over.

<sup>18</sup>As he was praying alone, the disciples were with him, and he asked them, “Who do the multitudes say that I am?”

<sup>19</sup>They answered, “‘John the Baptist,’ but others say, ‘Elijah,’ and others, that one of the old prophets has risen again.”

<sup>20</sup>He said to them, “But who do you say that I am?”

Peter answered, “The Christ of God.”

<sup>21</sup>But he warned them, and commanded them to tell this to no one, <sup>22</sup>saying, “The Son of Man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders, chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and the third day be raised up.”

<sup>23</sup>He said to all, “If anyone desires to come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross,§ and follow me. <sup>24</sup>For whoever desires to save his life will lose it, but whoever will lose his life for my sake, will save it. <sup>25</sup>For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world, and loses or forfeits his own self? <sup>26</sup>For whoever will be ashamed of me and of my words, of him will the Son of Man be ashamed, when he comes in his glory, and the glory of the Father, and of the holy angels. <sup>27</sup>But I tell you the truth: There are some of those who stand here who will in no way taste of death until they see God’s Kingdom.”

<sup>28</sup>About eight days after these sayings, he took with him Peter, John, and James, and went up onto the mountain to pray. <sup>29</sup>As he was praying, the appearance of his face was altered, and his clothing became white and dazzling. <sup>30</sup>Behold, two men were talking with him, who were Moses and Elijah, <sup>31</sup>who appeared in glory, and spoke of his departure,<sup>**</sup> which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem.

<sup>32</sup>Now Peter and those who were with him were heavy with sleep, but when they were fully awake, they saw his glory, and the two men who stood with him. <sup>33</sup>As they were parting from him, Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here. Let’s make three tents: one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah,” not knowing what he said.

<sup>34</sup>While he said these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were afraid as they entered into the cloud. <sup>35</sup>A voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is my beloved Son. Listen to him!” <sup>36</sup>When the voice came, Jesus was found alone. They were silent, and told no one in those days any of the things which they had seen.

<sup>42</sup>While he was still coming, the demon threw him down and convulsed him violently. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, healed the boy, and gave him back to his father. <sup>43</sup>They were all astonished at the majesty of God.

But while all were marvelling at all the things which Jesus did, he said to his disciples, <sup>44</sup>“Let these words sink into your ears, for the Son of Man will be delivered up into the hands of men.” <sup>45</sup>But they didn’t understand this saying. It was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it, and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

ceiving the reasoning of their hearts, took a little child, and set him by his side,<sup>48</sup> and said to them, “Whoever receives this little child in my name receives me. Whoever receives me receives him who sent me. For whoever is least amongst you all, this one will be great.”

<sup>50</sup> Jesus said to him, “Don’t forbid him, for he who is not against us is for us.”

<sup>55</sup> But he turned and rebuked them, “You don’t know of what kind of spirit you are.<sup>56</sup> For the Son of Man didn’t come to destroy men’s lives, but to save them.”

They went to another village.<sup>57</sup> As they went on the way, a certain man said to him, “I want to follow you wherever you go, Lord.”

<sup>59</sup> He said to another, “Follow me!”

But he said, “Lord, allow me first to go and bury my father.”

<sup>60</sup> But Jesus said to him, “Leave the dead to bury their own dead, but you go and announce God’s Kingdom.”

<sup>61</sup> Another also said, “I want to follow you, Lord, but first allow me to say good-bye to those who are at my house.”

10 Now after these things, the Lord also appointed seventy others, and sent them two by two ahead of him†† into every city and place where he was about to come.<sup>2</sup> Then he said to them, “The harvest is indeed plentiful, but the labourers are few. Pray therefore to the Lord of the harvest, that he may send out labourers into his harvest.<sup>3</sup> Go your ways. Behold, I send you out as lambs amongst wolves.<sup>4</sup> Carry no purse, nor wallet, nor sandals. Greet no one on the way.<sup>5</sup> Into whatever house you enter, first say, ‘Peace be to this house.’<sup>6</sup> If a son of peace is there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you.<sup>7</sup> Remain in that same house, eating and drinking the things they give, for the labourer is worthy of his wages. Don’t go from house to house.<sup>8</sup> Into whatever city you enter, and they receive you, eat the things that are set before you.<sup>9</sup> Heal the sick who are there, and tell them, ‘God’s Kingdom has come near to you.’<sup>10</sup> But into whatever city you enter, and they don’t receive you, go out into its streets and say,<sup>11</sup> ‘Even the dust from your city that clings to us, we wipe off against you. Nevertheless know this, that God’s Kingdom has come near to you.’<sup>12</sup> I tell you, it will be more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city.

<sup>13</sup> “Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.<sup>14</sup> But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgement than for you.<sup>15</sup> You, Capernaum, who are exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades.<sup>†††16</sup> Whoever listens to you listens to me, and whoever rejects you rejects me. Whoever rejects me rejects him who sent me.”

<sup>18</sup>He said to them, “I saw Satan having fallen like lightning from heaven. <sup>19</sup>Behold, I give you authority to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy. Nothing will in any way hurt you. <sup>20</sup>Nevertheless, don’t rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.”

<sup>21</sup>In that same hour Jesus rejoiced in the Holy Spirit, and said, “I thank you, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that you have hidden these things from the wise and understanding, and revealed them to little children. Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in your sight.”

<sup>22</sup>Turning to the disciples, he said, “All things have been delivered to me by my Father. No one knows who the Son is, except the Father, and who the Father is, except the Son, and he to whomever the Son desires to reveal him.”

<sup>23</sup>Turning to the disciples, he said privately, “Blessed are the eyes which see the things that you see, <sup>24</sup>for I tell you that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which you see, and didn’t see them, and to hear the things which you hear, and didn’t hear them.”

<sup>26</sup>He said to him, “What is written in the law? How do you read it?”

<sup>28</sup>He said to him, “You have answered correctly. Do this, and you will live.”

<sup>29</sup>But he, desiring to justify himself, asked Jesus, “Who is my neighbour?”

<sup>30</sup>Jesus answered, “A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell amongst robbers, who both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. <sup>31</sup>By chance a certain priest was going down that way. When he saw him, he passed by on the other side. <sup>32</sup>In the same way a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. <sup>33</sup>But a certain Samaritan, as he travelled, came where he was. When he saw him, he was moved with compassion, <sup>34</sup>came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. He set him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him. <sup>35</sup>On the next day, when he departed, he took out two denarii, gave them to the host, and said to him, ‘Take care of him. Whatever you spend beyond that, I will repay you when I return.’ <sup>36</sup>Now which of these three do you think seemed to be a neighbour to him who fell amongst the robbers?”

Then Jesus said to him, “Go and do likewise.”

<sup>38</sup>As they went on their way, he entered into a certain village, and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. <sup>39</sup>She had a sister called Mary, who also sat at Jesus’ feet, and heard his word. <sup>40</sup>But Martha was distracted with much serving, and she came up to him, and said, “Lord, don’t you care that my sister left me to serve alone? Ask her therefore to help me.”

11 When he finished praying in a certain place, one of his disciples said to him,

“Lord, teach us to pray, just as John also taught his disciples.”

<sup>2</sup> He said to them, “When you pray, say, ‘Our Father in heaven, may your name be kept holy. May your Kingdom come. May your will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

Bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.”

<sup>5</sup> He said to them, “Which of you, if you go to a friend at midnight, and tell him, ‘Friend, lend me three loaves of bread, <sup>6</sup> for a friend of mine has come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him,’ <sup>7</sup> and he from within will answer and say, ‘Don’t bother me. The door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed. I can’t get up and give it to you?’ <sup>8</sup> I tell you, although he will not rise and give it to him because he is his friend, yet because of his persistence, he will get up and give him as many as he needs.

<sup>9</sup> “I tell you, keep asking, and it will be given you. Keep seeking, and you will find. Keep knocking, and it will be opened to you. <sup>10</sup> For everyone who asks receives. He who seeks finds. To him who knocks it will be opened.

<sup>11</sup> “Which of you fathers, if your son asks for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, he won’t give him a snake instead of a fish, will he? <sup>12</sup> Or if he asks for an egg, he won’t give him a scorpion, will he? <sup>13</sup> If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask him?”

<sup>14</sup> He was casting out a demon, and it was mute. When the demon had gone out, the mute man spoke; and the multitudes marvelled. <sup>15</sup> But some of them said, “He casts out demons by Beelzebul, the prince of the demons.” <sup>16</sup> Others, testing him, sought from him a sign from heaven. <sup>17</sup> But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation. A house divided against itself falls. <sup>18</sup> If Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? For you say that I cast out demons by Beelzebul. <sup>19</sup> But if I cast out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore they will be your judges. <sup>20</sup> But if I by God’s finger cast out demons, then God’s Kingdom has come to you.

<sup>23</sup> “He that is not with me is against me. He who doesn’t gather with me scatters. <sup>24</sup> The unclean spirit, when he has gone out of the man, passes through dry places, seeking rest, and finding none, he says, ‘I will turn back to my house from which I came out.’ <sup>25</sup> When he returns, he finds it swept and put in order. <sup>26</sup> Then he goes, and takes seven other spirits more evil than himself, and they enter in and dwell there. The last state of that man becomes worse than the first.”

<sup>27</sup> It came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said to him, “Blessed is the womb that bore you, and the breasts which nursed you!”

<sup>28</sup> But he said, “On the contrary, blessed are those who hear the word of God, and keep it.”

<sup>29</sup> When the multitudes were gathering together to him, he began to say, “This is an evil generation. It seeks after a sign. No sign will be given to it but the sign of Jonah, the prophet. <sup>30</sup> For even as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so the Son of Man will also be to this generation. <sup>31</sup> The Queen of the South will rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and will condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, one greater than Solomon is here. <sup>32</sup>The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgement with this generation, and will condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and behold, one greater than Jonah is here.

<sup>46</sup>He said, “Woe to you lawyers also! For you load men with burdens that are difficult to carry, and you yourselves won’t even lift one finger to help carry those burdens. <sup>47</sup>Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. <sup>48</sup>So you testify and consent to the works of your fathers. For they killed them, and you build their tombs. <sup>49</sup>Therefore also the wisdom of God said, ‘I will send to them prophets and apostles; and some of them they will kill and persecute, <sup>50</sup>that the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation; <sup>51</sup>from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zachariah, who perished between the altar and the sanctuary.’ Yes, I tell you, it will be required of this generation. <sup>52</sup>Woe to you lawyers! For you took away the key of knowledge. You didn’t enter in yourselves, and those who were entering in, you hindered.”

<sup>53</sup>As he said these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to be terribly angry, and to draw many things out of him; <sup>54</sup>lying in wait for him, and seeking to catch him in something he might say, that they might accuse him.

12 Meanwhile, when a multitude of many thousands had gathered together, so much so that they trampled on each other, he began to tell his disciples first of all, “Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. <sup>2</sup>But there is nothing covered up that will not be revealed, nor hidden that will not be known. <sup>3</sup>Therefore whatever you have said in the darkness will be heard in the light. What you have spoken in the ear in the inner rooms will be proclaimed on the housetops.

<sup>4</sup>“I tell you, my friends, don’t be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. <sup>5</sup>But I will warn you whom you should fear. Fear him who after he has killed, has power to cast into Gehenna.¶¶ Yes, I tell you, fear him.

¶¶12:5 or, Hell

6 “Aren’t five sparrows sold for two assaria coins§§? Not one of them is forgotten by God. 7 But the very hairs of your head are all counted. Therefore don’t be afraid. You are of more value than many sparrows.

8 “I tell you, everyone who confesses me before men, the Son of Man will also confess before the angels of God; 9 but he who denies me in the presence of men will be denied in the presence of God’s angels. 10 Everyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but those who blaspheme against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven. 11 When they bring you before the synagogues, the rulers, and the authorities, don’t be anxious how or what you will answer, or what you will say; 12 for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that same hour what you must say.”

13 One of the multitude said to him, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.”

14 But he said to him, “Man, who made me a judge or an arbitrator over you?” 15 He said to them, “Beware! Keep yourselves from covetousness, for a man’s life doesn’t consist of the abundance of the things which he possesses.”

16 He spoke a parable to them, saying, “The ground of a certain rich man produced abundantly. 17 He reasoned within himself, saying, ‘What will I do, because I don’t have room to store my crops?’ 18 He said, ‘This is what I will do. I will pull down my barns, build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. 19 I will tell my soul, ‘Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years. Take your ease, eat, drink, and be merry.’”

20 “But God said to him, ‘You foolish one, tonight your soul is required of you. The things which you have prepared—whose will they be?’ 21 So is he who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God.”

22 He said to his disciples, “Therefore I tell you, don’t be anxious for your life, what you will eat, nor yet for your body, what you will wear. 23 Life is more than food, and the body is more than clothing. 24 Consider the ravens: they don’t sow, they don’t reap, they have no warehouse or barn, and God feeds them. How much more valuable are you than birds! 25 Which of you by being anxious can add a cubit* to his height? 26 If then you aren’t able to do even the least things, why are you anxious about the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow. They don’t toil, neither do they spin; yet I tell you, even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 28 But if this is how God clothes the grass in the field, which today exists, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith? 29 Don’t seek what you will eat or what you will drink; neither be anxious. 30 For the nations of the world seek after all of these things, but your Father knows that you need these things. 31 But seek God’s Kingdom, and all these things will be added to you. 32 Don’t be afraid, little flock, for it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the Kingdom. 33 Sell that which you have, and give gifts to the needy. Make for yourselves purses which don’t grow old, a treasure in the heavens that doesn’t fail, where no thief approaches, neither moth destroys. 34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 “Let your waist be dressed and your lamps burning. 36 Be like men watching for their lord, when he returns from the wedding feast; that when he comes and knocks, they may immediately open to him. 37 Blessed are those servants, whom the lord will find watching when he comes. Most certainly I tell you that he will dress himself, make them recline, and will come and serve them. <sup>38</sup>They will be blessed if he comes in the second or third watch, and finds them so. <sup>39</sup>But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not allowed his house to be broken into. <sup>40</sup>Therefore be ready also, for the Son of Man is coming in an hour that you don't expect him."

<sup>41</sup>Peter said to him, "Lord, are you telling this parable to us, or to everybody?"

<sup>42</sup>The Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord will set over his household, to give them their portion of food at the right times? <sup>43</sup>Blessed is that servant whom his lord will find doing so when he comes. <sup>44</sup>Truly I tell you, that he will set him over all that he has. <sup>45</sup>But if that servant says in his heart, 'My lord delays his coming,' and begins to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken, <sup>46</sup>then the lord of that servant will come in a day when he isn't expecting him, and in an hour that he doesn't know, and will cut him in two, and place his portion with the unfaithful. <sup>47</sup>That servant, who knew his lord's will, and didn't prepare, nor do what he wanted, will be beaten with many stripes, <sup>48</sup>but he who didn't know, and did things worthy of stripes, will be beaten with few stripes. To whomever much is given, of him will much be required; and to whom much was entrusted, of him more will be asked.

<sup>49</sup>"I came to throw fire on the earth. I wish it were already kindled. <sup>50</sup>But I have a baptism to be baptised with, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished! <sup>51</sup>Do you think that I have come to give peace in the earth? I tell you, no, but rather division. <sup>52</sup>For from now on, there will be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. <sup>53</sup>They will be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law."†

<sup>54</sup>He said to the multitudes also, "When you see a cloud rising from the west, immediately you say, 'A shower is coming,' and so it happens. <sup>55</sup>When a south wind blows, you say, 'There will be a scorching heat,' and it happens. <sup>56</sup>You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky, but how is it that you don't interpret this time? <sup>57</sup>Why don't you judge for yourselves what is right? <sup>58</sup>For when you are going with your adversary before the magistrate, try diligently on the way to be released from him, lest perhaps he drag you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison. <sup>59</sup>I tell you, you will by no means get out of there, until you have paid the very last penny."‡

13 Now there were some present at the same time who told him about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices. <sup>2</sup>Jesus answered them, "Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans, because they suffered such things? <sup>3</sup>I tell you, no, but unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way. <sup>4</sup>Or those eighteen, on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them; do you think that they were worse offenders than all the men who dwell in Jerusalem? <sup>5</sup>I tell you, no, but, unless you repent, you will all perish in the same way."

<sup>6</sup>He spoke this parable. "A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it, and found none. <sup>7</sup>He said to the vine dresser, ‘Behold, these three years I have come looking for fruit on this fig tree, and found none. Cut it down. Why does it waste the soil?’<sup>8</sup> He answered, ‘Lord, leave it alone this year also, until I dig around it and fertilise it.’<sup>9</sup> If it bears fruit, fine; but if not, after that, you can cut it down.”

<sup>10</sup> He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath day. <sup>11</sup> Behold, there was a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years. She was bent over, and could in no way straighten herself up. <sup>12</sup> When Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, “Woman, you are freed from your infirmity.” <sup>13</sup> He laid his hands on her, and immediately she stood up straight and glorified God.

<sup>14</sup> The ruler of the synagogue, being indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, said to the multitude, “There are six days in which men ought to work. Therefore come on those days and be healed, and not on the Sabbath day!”

<sup>15</sup> Therefore the Lord answered him, “You hypocrites! Doesn’t each one of you free his ox or his donkey from the stall on the Sabbath, and lead him away to water?” <sup>16</sup> Ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham whom Satan had bound eighteen long years, be freed from this bondage on the Sabbath day?”

<sup>17</sup> As he said these things, all his adversaries were disappointed and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

<sup>18</sup> He said, “What is God’s Kingdom like? To what shall I compare it? <sup>19</sup> It is like a grain of mustard seed which a man took and put in his own garden. It grew and became a large tree, and the birds of the sky live in its branches.”

<sup>22</sup> He went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and travelling on to Jerusalem. <sup>23</sup> One said to him, “Lord, are they few who are saved?”

He said to them, <sup>24</sup> “Strive to enter in by the narrow door, for many, I tell you, will seek to enter in and will not be able. <sup>25</sup> When once the master of the house has risen up, and has shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock at the door, saying, ‘Lord, Lord, open to us!’ then he will answer and tell you, ‘I don’t know you or where you come from.’ <sup>26</sup> Then you will begin to say, ‘We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets.’ <sup>27</sup> He will say, ‘I tell you, I don’t know where you come from. Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity.’ <sup>28</sup> There will be weeping and gnashing of teeth when you see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the prophets in God’s Kingdom, and yourselves being thrown outside. <sup>29</sup> They will come from the east, west, north, and south, and will sit down in God’s Kingdom. <sup>30</sup> Behold, there are some who are last who will be first, and there are some who are first who will be last.”

<sup>32</sup> He said to them, “Go and tell that fox, ‘Behold, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and the third day I complete my mission. <sup>33</sup> Nevertheless I must go on my way today and tomorrow and the next day, for it can’t be that a prophet would perish outside of Jerusalem.’

14 When he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, they were watching him. <sup>2</sup> Behold, a certain man who had dropsy was in front of him. <sup>3</sup> Jesus, answering, spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?”

He took him, and healed him, and let him go. <sup>5</sup> He answered them, “Which of you, if your son¶ or an ox fell into a well, wouldn’t immediately pull him out on a Sabbath day?”

<sup>7</sup> He spoke a parable to those who were invited, when he noticed how they chose the best seats, and said to them, <sup>8</sup> “When you are invited by anyone to a wedding feast, don’t sit in the best seat, since perhaps someone more honourable than you might be invited by him, <sup>9</sup> and he who invited both of you would come and tell you, ‘Make room for this person.’ Then you would begin, with shame, to take the lowest place. <sup>10</sup> But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when he who invited you comes, he may tell you, ‘Friend, move up higher.’ Then you will be honoured in the presence of all who sit at the table with you. <sup>11</sup> For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.”

<sup>12</sup> He also said to the one who had invited him, “When you make a dinner or a supper, don’t call your friends, nor your brothers, nor your kinsmen, nor rich neighbours, or perhaps they might also return the favour, and pay you back. <sup>13</sup> But when you make a feast, ask the poor, the maimed, the lame, or the blind; <sup>14</sup> and you will be blessed, because they don’t have the resources to repay you. For you will be repaid in the resurrection of the righteous.”

<sup>15</sup> When one of those who sat at the table with him heard these things, he said to him, “Blessed is he who will feast in God’s Kingdom!”

<sup>16</sup> But he said to him, “A certain man made a great supper, and he invited many people. <sup>17</sup> He sent out his servant at supper time to tell those who were invited, ‘Come, for everything is ready now.’ <sup>18</sup> They all as one began to make excuses.

“The first said to him, ‘I have bought a field, and I must go and see it. Please have me excused.’

<sup>19</sup> “Another said, ‘I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I must go try them out. Please have me excused.’

<sup>20</sup> “Another said, ‘I have married a wife, and therefore I can’t come.’

<sup>21</sup> “That servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house, being angry, said to his servant, ‘Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor, maimed, blind, and lame.’

<sup>22</sup> “The servant said, ‘Lord, it is done as you commanded, and there is still room.’

<sup>23</sup> “The lord said to the servant, ‘Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. <sup>24</sup> For I tell you that none of those men who were invited will taste of my supper.’”

<sup>25</sup> Now great multitudes were going with him. He turned and said to them, <sup>26</sup> “If anyone comes to me, and doesn’t disregard§ his own father, mother, wife, children, brothers, and sisters, yes, and his own life also, he can’t be my disciple. <sup>27</sup> Whoever doesn’t bear his own cross, and come after me, can’t be my disciple. <sup>28</sup> For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doesn’t first sit down and count the cost, to see if he has enough to complete it? <sup>29</sup> Or perhaps, when he has laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, everyone who sees begins to mock him, <sup>30</sup> saying, ‘This man began to build, and wasn't able to finish.' <sup>31</sup> Or what king, as he goes to encounter another king in war, will not sit down first and consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet him who comes against him with twenty thousand? <sup>32</sup> Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sends an envoy, and asks for conditions of peace. <sup>33</sup> So therefore whoever of you who doesn't renounce all that he has, he can't be my disciple. <sup>34</sup> Salt is good, but if the salt becomes flat and tasteless, with what do you season it? <sup>35</sup> It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure pile. It is thrown out. He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

15 Now all the tax collectors and sinners were coming close to him to hear him. <sup>2</sup> The Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, "This man welcomes sinners, and eats with them."

<sup>3</sup> He told them this parable. <sup>4</sup> "Which of you men, if you had one hundred sheep, and lost one of them, wouldn't leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness, and go after the one that was lost, until he found it? <sup>5</sup> When he has found it, he carries it on his shoulders, rejoicing. <sup>6</sup> When he comes home, he calls together his friends and his neighbours, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost!' <sup>7</sup> I tell you that even so there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, than over ninety-nine righteous people who need no repentance. <sup>8</sup> Or what woman, if she had ten drachma** coins, if she lost one drachma coin, wouldn't light a lamp, sweep the house, and seek diligently until she found it? <sup>9</sup> When she has found it, she calls together her friends and neighbours, saying, 'Rejoice with me, for I have found the drachma which I had lost.' <sup>10</sup> Even so, I tell you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner repenting."

<sup>11</sup> He said, "A certain man had two sons. <sup>12</sup> The younger of them said to his father, 'Father, give me my share of your property.' He divided his livelihood between them. <sup>13</sup> Not many days after, the younger son gathered all of this together and travelled into a far country. There he wasted his property with riotous living. <sup>14</sup> When he had spent all of it, there arose a severe famine in that country, and he began to be in need. <sup>15</sup> He went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs, and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs. <sup>16</sup> He wanted to fill his belly with the husks that the pigs ate, but no one gave him any. <sup>17</sup> But when he came to himself he said, 'How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough to spare, and I'm dying with hunger! <sup>18</sup> I will get up and go to my father, and will tell him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in your sight. <sup>19</sup> I am no more worthy to be called your son. Make me as one of your hired servants."'"

<sup>20</sup> "He arose, and came to his father. But while he was still far off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him. <sup>21</sup> The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and in your sight. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.'

<sup>22</sup> "But the father said to his servants, 'Bring out the best robe, and put it on him. Put a ring on his hand, and sandals on his feet. <sup>23</sup> Bring the fattened calf, kill it, and let's eat, and celebrate; <sup>24</sup> for this, my son, was dead, and is alive again. He was lost, and is found.' Then they began to celebrate.

<sup>25</sup> "Now his elder son was in the field. As he came near to the house, he heard music and dancing. <sup>26</sup> He called one of the servants to him, and asked what was going on. <sup>27</sup> He said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back safe and healthy.' <sup>28</sup> But he was angry, and would not go in. Therefore his father came out, and begged him. <sup>29</sup> But he answered his father, 'Behold, these many years I have served you, and I never disobeyed a commandment of yours, but you never gave me a goat, that I might celebrate with my friends. <sup>30</sup> But when this your son came, who has devoured your living with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him.'

<sup>31</sup> He said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. <sup>32</sup> But it was appropriate to celebrate and be glad, for this, your brother, was dead, and is alive again. He was lost, and is found.'

16 He also said to his disciples, 'There was a certain rich man who had a manager. An accusation was made to him that this man was wasting his possessions. <sup>2</sup> He called him, and said to him, 'What is this that I hear about you? Give an accounting of your management, for you can no longer be manager.'

<sup>3</sup> 'The manager said within himself, 'What will I do, seeing that my lord is taking away the management position from me? I don't have strength to dig. I am ashamed to beg. <sup>4</sup> I know what I will do, so that when I am removed from management, they may receive me into their houses.' <sup>5</sup> Calling each one of his lord's debtors to him, he said to the first, 'How much do you owe to my lord?' <sup>6</sup> He said, 'A hundred batos†† of oil.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty.' <sup>7</sup> Then he said to another, 'How much do you owe?' He said, 'A hundred cors‡‡ of wheat.' He said to him, 'Take your bill, and write eighty.'

little is also dishonest in much. <sup>11</sup> If therefore you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? <sup>12</sup> If you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? <sup>13</sup> No servant can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. You aren't able to serve God and Mammon.'¶¶

<sup>14</sup> The Pharisees, who were lovers of money, also heard all these things, and they scoffed at him. <sup>15</sup> He said to them, 'You are those who justify yourselves in the sight of men, but God knows your hearts. For that which is exalted amongst men is an abomination in the sight of God. <sup>16</sup> The law and the prophets were until John. From that time the Good News of God's Kingdom is preached, and everyone is forcing his way into it. <sup>17</sup> But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tiny stroke of a pen in the law to fall. <sup>18</sup> Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery. He who marries one who is divorced from a husband commits adultery.

<sup>19</sup> 'Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, living in luxury every day. <sup>20</sup> A certain beggar, named Lazarus, was taken to his gate, full of sores, <sup>21</sup> and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. Yes, even the dogs came and licked his sores. <sup>22</sup> The beggar died, and he was carried away by the angels to Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried. <sup>23</sup> In Hades,§§ he lifted up his eyes, being in torment, and saw Abraham far off, and Lazarus at his bosom. <sup>24</sup> He cried and said, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue! For I am in anguish in this flame.'

<sup>25</sup> "But Abraham said, 'Son, remember that you, in your lifetime, received your good things, and Lazarus, in the same way, bad things. But here he is now comforted, and you are in anguish. <sup>26</sup> Besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that those who want to pass from here to you are not able, and that no one may cross over from there to us.'

<sup>27</sup> "He said, 'I ask you therefore, father, that you would send him to my father's house; <sup>28</sup> for I have five brothers, that he may testify to them, so they won't also come into this place of torment.'

<sup>29</sup> "But Abraham said to him, 'They have Moses and the prophets. Let them listen to them.'

<sup>30</sup> "He said, 'No, father Abraham, but if one goes to them from the dead, they will repent.'

<sup>31</sup> "He said to him, 'If they don't listen to Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded if one rises from the dead.'"

17 He said to the disciples, "It is impossible that no occasions of stumbling should come, but woe to him through whom they come! <sup>2</sup> It would be better for him if a millstone were hung around his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. <sup>3</sup> Be careful. If your brother sins against you, rebuke him. If he repents, forgive him. <sup>4</sup> If he sins against you seven times in the day, and seven times returns, saying, 'I repent,' you shall forgive him."

<sup>6</sup> The Lord said, "If you had faith like a grain of mustard seed, you would tell this sycamore tree, 'Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you. <sup>7</sup> But who is there amongst you, having a servant ploughing or keeping sheep, that will say when he comes in from the field, 'Come immediately and sit down at the table,' <sup>8</sup> and will not rather tell him, 'Prepare my supper, clothe yourself properly, and serve me, while I eat and drink. Afterward you shall eat and drink?' <sup>9</sup> Does he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded? I think not. <sup>10</sup> Even so you also, when you have done all the things that are commanded you, say, 'We are unworthy servants. We have done our duty.'"

<sup>11</sup> As he was on his way to Jerusalem, he was passing along the borders of Samaria and Galilee. <sup>12</sup> As he entered into a certain village, ten men who were lepers met him, who stood at a distance. <sup>13</sup> They lifted up their voices, saying, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!"

<sup>22</sup> He said to the disciples, "The days will come when you will desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it. <sup>23</sup> They will tell you, 'Look, here!' or 'Look, there!' Don't go away or follow after them, <sup>24</sup> for as the lightning, when it flashes out of one part under the sky, shines to another part under the sky; so will the Son of Man be in his day. <sup>25</sup> But first, he must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation. <sup>26</sup> As it was in the days of Noah, even so will it be also in the days of the Son of Man. <sup>27</sup> They ate, they drank, they married, and they were given in marriage until the day that Noah entered into the ship, and the flood came and destroyed them all. <sup>28</sup> Likewise, even as it was in the days of Lot: they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built; <sup>29</sup> but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom, it rained fire and sulphur from the sky and destroyed them all. <sup>30</sup> It will be the same way in the day that the Son of Man is revealed. <sup>31</sup> In that day, he who will be on the housetop and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away. Let him who is in the field likewise not turn back. <sup>32</sup> Remember Lot's wife! <sup>33</sup> Whoever seeks to save his life loses it, but whoever loses his life preserves it. <sup>34</sup> I tell you, in that night there will be two people in one bed. One will be taken and the other will be left. <sup>35</sup> There will be two grinding grain together. One will be taken and the other will be left." <sup>36</sup> *

He said to them, "Where the body is, there the vultures will also be gathered together."

18 He also spoke a parable to them that they must always pray, and not give up, <sup>2</sup> saying, "There was a judge in a certain city who didn't fear God, and didn't respect man. <sup>3</sup> A widow was in that city, and she often came to him, saying, 'Defend me from my adversary!' <sup>4</sup> He wouldn't for a while, but afterward he said to himself, 'Though I neither fear God, nor respect man, <sup>5</sup> yet because this widow bothers me, I will defend her, or else she will wear me out by her continual coming.'"

<sup>6</sup> The Lord said, "Listen to what the unrighteous judge says. <sup>7</sup> Won't God avenge his chosen ones who are crying out to him day and night, and yet he exercises patience with them? <sup>8</sup> I tell you that he will avenge them quickly. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?"

<sup>9</sup> He spoke also this parable to certain people who were convinced of their own righteousness, and who despised all others. <sup>10</sup> "Two men went up into the temple to pray; one was a Pharisee, and the other was a tax collector. <sup>11</sup> The Pharisee stood and prayed to himself like this: 'God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of men, extortionists, unrighteous, adulterers, or even like this tax collector. <sup>12</sup> I fast twice a week. I give tithes of all that I get.' <sup>13</sup> But the tax collector, standing far away, wouldn't even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat his breast, saying, 'God, be merciful to me, a sinner!' <sup>14</sup> I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be exalted."

<sup>15</sup> They were also bringing their babies to him, that he might touch them. But when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them. <sup>16</sup> Jesus summoned them, saying, "Allow the little children to come to me, and don't hinder them, for God's Kingdom belongs to such as these. <sup>17</sup> Most certainly, I tell you, whoever doesn't receive God's Kingdom like a little child, he will in no way enter into it."

<sup>21</sup> He said, "I have observed all these things from my youth up."

<sup>22</sup> When Jesus heard these things, he said to him, "You still lack one thing. Sell all that you have, and distribute it to the poor. Then you will have treasure in heaven; then come, follow me.”

<sup>23</sup> But when he heard these things, he became very sad, for he was very rich.

<sup>24</sup> Jesus, seeing that he became very sad, said, “How hard it is for those who have riches to enter into God’s Kingdom! <sup>25</sup> For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle’s eye than for a rich man to enter into God’s Kingdom.”

<sup>29</sup> He said to them, “Most certainly I tell you, there is no one who has left house, or wife, or brothers, or parents, or children, for God’s Kingdom’s sake, <sup>30</sup> who will not receive many times more in this time, and in the world to come, eternal life.”

<sup>31</sup> He took the twelve aside, and said to them, “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and all the things that are written through the prophets concerning the Son of Man will be completed. <sup>32</sup> For he will be delivered up to the Gentiles, will be mocked, treated shamefully, and spit on. <sup>33</sup> They will scourge and kill him. On the third day, he will rise again.”

<sup>40</sup> Standing still, Jesus commanded him to be brought to him. When he had come near, he asked him, <sup>41</sup> “What do you want me to do?”

He said, “Lord, that I may see again.”

<sup>43</sup> Immediately he received his sight and followed him, glorifying God. All the people, when they saw it, praised God.

19 He entered and was passing through Jericho. <sup>2</sup> There was a man named Zacchaeus. He was a chief tax collector, and he was rich. <sup>3</sup> He was trying to see who Jesus was, and couldn’t because of the crowd, because he was short. <sup>4</sup> He ran on ahead, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was going to pass that way. <sup>5</sup> When Jesus came to the place, he looked up and saw him, and said to him, “Zacchaeus, hurry and come down, for today I must stay at your house.” <sup>6</sup> He hurried, came down, and received him joyfully. <sup>7</sup> When they saw it, they all murmured, saying, “He has gone in to lodge with a man who is a sinner.”

<sup>8</sup> Zacchaeus stood and said to the Lord, “Behold, Lord, half of my goods I give to the poor. If I have wrongfully exacted anything of anyone, I restore four times as much.”

<sup>9</sup> Jesus said to him, “Today, salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abraham. <sup>10</sup> For the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost.”

<sup>11</sup> As they heard these things, he went on and told a parable, because he was near Jerusalem, and they supposed that God’s Kingdom would be revealed immediately. <sup>12</sup> He said therefore, “A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return. <sup>13</sup> He called ten servants of his and gave them ten mina coins, †and told them, ‘Conduct business until I come.’ <sup>14</sup> But his citizens hated him, and sent an envoy after him, saying, ‘We don’t want this man to reign over us.’”

†19:13 10 minas was more than 3 years’ wages for an agricultural labourer.

15 “When he had come back again, having received the kingdom, he commanded these servants, to whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by conducting business. 16 The first came before him, saying, ‘Lord, your mina has made ten more minas.’

17 “He said to him, ‘Well done, you good servant! Because you were found faithful with very little, you shall have authority over ten cities.’

18 “The second came, saying, ‘Your mina, Lord, has made five minas.’

19 “So he said to him, ‘And you are to be over five cities.’ 20 Another came, saying, ‘Lord, behold, your mina, which I kept laid away in a handkerchief, 21 for I feared you, because you are an exacting man. You take up that which you didn’t lay down, and reap that which you didn’t sow.’

22 “He said to him, ‘Out of your own mouth I will judge you, you wicked servant! You knew that I am an exacting man, taking up that which I didn’t lay down, and reaping that which I didn’t sow. 23 Then why didn’t you deposit my money in the bank, and at my coming, I might have earned interest on it?’ 24 He said to those who stood by, ‘Take the mina away from him and give it to him who has the ten minas.’

25 “They said to him, ‘Lord, he has ten minas!’ 26 ‘For I tell you that to everyone who has, will more be given; but from him who doesn’t have, even that which he has will be taken away from him. 27 But bring those enemies of mine who didn’t want me to reign over them here, and kill them before me.’” 28 Having said these things, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

29 When he came near to Bethsphage‡ and Bethany, at the mountain that is called Olivet, he sent two of his disciples, 30 saying, “Go your way into the village on the other side, in which, as you enter, you will find a colt tied, which no man had ever sat upon. Untie it and bring it. 31 If anyone asks you, ‘Why are you untying it?’ say to him: ‘The Lord needs it.’”

32 Those who were sent went away, and found things just as he had told them. 33 As they were untying the colt, its owners said to them, “Why are you untying the colt?” 34 They said, “The Lord needs it.” 35 Then they brought it to Jesus. They threw their cloaks on the colt, and sat Jesus on them. 36 As he went, they spread their cloaks on the road. 37 As he was now getting near, at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works which they had seen, 38 saying, “Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord! ☉Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!”

40 He answered them, “I tell you that if these were silent, the stones would cry out.”

41 When he came near, he saw the city and wept over it, 42 saying, “If you, even you, had known today the things which belong to your peace! But now, they are hidden from your eyes. 43 For the days will come on you, when your enemies will throw up a barricade against you, surround you, hem you in on every side, 44 and will dash you and your children within you to the ground. They will not leave in you one stone on another, because you didn’t know the time of your visitation.”

45 He entered into the temple, and began to drive out those who bought and sold in it, 46 saying to them, “It is written, ‘My house is a house of prayer,’ but you have made it a ‘den of robbers!’” <sup>q</sup>

47 He was teaching daily in the temple, but the chief priests, the scribes, and the leading men amongst the people sought to destroy him. <sup>48</sup>They couldn't find what they might do, for all the people hung on to every word that he said.

20 On one of those days, as he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the Good News, the ¶priests and scribes came to him with the elders. <sup>2</sup>They asked him, "Tell us: by what authority do you do these things? Or who is giving you this authority?"

<sup>3</sup>He answered them, "I also will ask you one question. Tell me: <sup>4</sup>the baptism of John, was it from heaven, or from men?"

<sup>5</sup>They reasoned with themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will say, 'Why didn't you believe him?' <sup>6</sup>But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet." <sup>7</sup>They answered that they didn't know where it was from.

<sup>8</sup>Jesus said to them, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things."

<sup>9</sup>He began to tell the people this parable. "A §man planted a vineyard, and rented it out to some farmers, and went into another country for a long time. <sup>10</sup>At the proper season, he sent a servant to the farmers to collect his share of the fruit of the vineyard. But the farmers beat him, and sent him away empty. <sup>11</sup>He sent yet another servant, and they also beat him, and treated him shamefully, and sent him away empty. <sup>12</sup>He sent yet a third, and they also wounded him, and threw him out. <sup>13</sup>The lord of the vineyard said, 'What shall I do? I will send my beloved son. It may be that seeing him, they will respect him.'

<sup>14</sup>"But when the farmers saw him, they reasoned amongst themselves, saying, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.' <sup>15</sup>They threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do to them? <sup>16</sup>He will come and destroy these farmers, and will give the vineyard to others."

When they heard that, they said, "May that never be!"

<sup>17</sup>But he looked at them and said, "Then what is this that is written, 'The stone which the builders rejected was made the chief cornerstone?'"

<sup>18</sup>Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces, but it will crush whomever it falls on to dust."

<sup>19</sup>The chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on him that very hour, but they feared the people—for they knew he had spoken this parable against them. <sup>20</sup>They watched him and sent out spies, who pretended to be righteous, that they might trap him in something he said, so as to deliver him up to the power and authority of the governor. <sup>21</sup>They asked him, "Teacher, we know that you say and teach what is right, and aren't partial to anyone, but truly teach the way of God. <sup>22</sup>Is it lawful for us to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?"

<sup>23</sup>But he perceived their craftiness, and said to them, "Why do you test me? <sup>24</sup>Show me a denarius. Whose image and inscription are on it?"

They answered, "Caesar's."

<sup>26</sup>They weren't able to trap him in his words before the people. They marvelled at his answer and were silent. <sup>27</sup>Some of the Sadducees came to him, those who deny that there is a resurrection. <sup>28</sup>They asked him, "Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if a man's brother dies having a wife, and he is childless, his brother should take the wife and raise up children for his brother. <sup>29</sup>There were therefore seven brothers. The first took a wife, and died childless. <sup>30</sup>The second took her as wife, and he died childless. <sup>31</sup>The third took her, and likewise the seven all left no children, and died. <sup>32</sup>Afterward the woman also died. <sup>33</sup>Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them will she be? For the seven had her as a wife.”

<sup>34</sup>Jesus said to them, “The children of this age marry, and are given in marriage. <sup>35</sup>But those who are considered worthy to attain to that age and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage. <sup>36</sup>For they can’t die any more, for they are like the angels, and are children of God, being children of the resurrection. <sup>37</sup>But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed at the bush, when he called the Lord ‘The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.’ <sup>38</sup>Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living, for all are alive to him.”

<sup>41</sup>He said to them, “Why do they say that the Christ is David’s son? <sup>42</sup>David himself says in the book of Psalms,

‘The Lord said to my Lord,

‘Sit at my right hand,

<sup>45</sup>In the hearing of all the people, he said to his disciples, <sup>46</sup>“Beware of those scribes who like to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the marketplaces, the best seats in the synagogues, and the best places at feasts; <sup>47</sup>who devour widows’ houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these will receive greater condemnation.”

21 He looked up and saw the rich people who were putting their gifts into the treasury. <sup>2</sup>He saw a certain poor widow casting in two small brass coins.** <sup>3</sup>He said, “Truly I tell you, this poor widow put in more than all of them, <sup>4</sup>for all these put in gifts for God from their abundance, but she, out of her poverty, put in all that she had to live on.”

<sup>5</sup>As some were talking about the temple and how it was decorated with beautiful stones and gifts, he said, <sup>6</sup>“As for these things which you see, the days will come, in which there will not be left here one stone on another that will not be thrown down.”

<sup>7</sup>They asked him, “Teacher, so when will these things be? What is the sign that these things are about to happen?”

<sup>8</sup>He said, “Watch out that you don’t get led astray, for many will come in my name, saying, ‘I am he†,’ and, ‘The time is at hand.’ Therefore don’t follow them. <sup>9</sup>When you hear of wars and disturbances, don’t be terrified, for these things must happen first, but the end won’t come immediately.”

<sup>10</sup>Then he said to them, “Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>11</sup>There will be great earthquakes, famines, and plagues in various places. There will be terrors and great signs from heaven. <sup>12</sup>But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you and will persecute you, delivering you up to synagogues and prisons, bringing you before kings and governors for my name’s sake. <sup>13</sup>It will turn out as a testimony for you. <sup>14</sup>Settle it therefore in your hearts not to meditate beforehand how to answer, <sup>15</sup>for I will give you a mouth and wisdom which all your adversaries will not be able to withstand or to contradict. <sup>16</sup>You will be handed over even by parents, brothers, relatives, and friends. They will cause some of you to be put to death. <sup>17</sup>You will be hated by all men for my name’s sake. <sup>18</sup>And not a hair of your head will perish.

<sup>20</sup> “But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation is at hand. <sup>21</sup> Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. Let those who are in the middle of her depart. Let those who are in the country not enter therein. <sup>22</sup> For these are days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled. <sup>23</sup> Woe to those who are pregnant and to those who nurse infants in those days! For there will be great distress in the land, and wrath to this people. <sup>24</sup> They will fall by the edge of the sword, and will be led captive into all the nations. Jerusalem will be trampled down by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. <sup>25</sup> There will be signs in the sun, moon, and stars; and on the earth anxiety of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the waves; <sup>26</sup> men fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on the world: for the powers of the heavens will be shaken. <sup>27</sup> Then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. <sup>28</sup> But when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is near.”

<sup>29</sup> He told them a parable. “See the fig tree and all the trees. <sup>30</sup> When they are already budding, you see it and know by your own selves that the summer is already near. <sup>31</sup> Even so you also, when you see these things happening, know that God’s Kingdom is near. <sup>32</sup> Most certainly I tell you, this generation will not pass away until all things are accomplished. <sup>33</sup> Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will by no means pass away.

<sup>34</sup> “So be careful, or your hearts will be loaded down with carousing, drunkenness, and cares of this life, and that day will come on you suddenly. <sup>35</sup> For it will come like a snare on all those who dwell on the surface of all the earth. <sup>36</sup> Therefore be watchful all the time, praying that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that will happen, and to stand before the Son of Man.”

<sup>37</sup> Every day Jesus was teaching in the temple, and every night he would go out and spend the night on the mountain that is called Olivet. <sup>38</sup> All the people came early in the morning to him in the temple to hear him.

22 Now the feast of unleavened bread, which is called the Passover, was approaching. <sup>2</sup> The chief priests and the scribes sought how they might put him to death, for they feared the people. <sup>3</sup> Satan entered into Judas, who was also called Iscariot, who was counted with the twelve. <sup>4</sup> He went away, and talked with the chief priests and captains about how he might deliver him to them. <sup>5</sup> They were glad, and agreed to give him money. <sup>6</sup> He consented, and sought an opportunity to deliver him to them in the absence of the multitude. <sup>7</sup> The day of unleavened bread came, on which the Passover must be sacrificed. <sup>8</sup> Jesus sent Peter and John, saying, “Go and prepare the Passover for us, that we may eat.”

<sup>10</sup> He said to them, “Behold, when you have entered into the city, a man carrying a pitcher of water will meet you. Follow him into the house which he enters. <sup>11</sup> Tell the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says to you, “Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?’” <sup>12</sup> He will show you a large, furnished upper room. Make preparations there.”

<sup>13</sup> They went, found things as Jesus had told them, and they prepared the Passover. <sup>14</sup> When the hour had come, he sat down with the twelve apostles. <sup>15</sup> He said to them, “I have earnestly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer, <sup>16</sup> for I tell you, I will no longer by any means eat of it until it is fulfilled in God’s Kingdom.” <sup>17</sup> He received a cup, and when he had given thanks, he said, “Take this, and share it amongst yourselves, <sup>18</sup> for I tell you, I will not drink at all again from the fruit of the vine, until God's Kingdom comes."

<sup>19</sup> He took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke, and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in memory of me." <sup>20</sup> Likewise, he took the cup after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you. <sup>21</sup> But behold, the hand of him who betrays me is with me on the table. <sup>22</sup> The Son of Man indeed goes, as it has been determined, but woe to that man through whom he is betrayed!"

<sup>23</sup> They began to question amongst themselves, which of them it was who would do this thing. <sup>24</sup> A dispute also arose amongst them, which of them was considered to be greatest. <sup>25</sup> He said to them, "The kings of the nations lord it over them, and those who have authority over them are called 'benefactors.' <sup>26</sup> But not so with you. But one who is the greater amongst you, let him become as the younger, and one who is governing, as one who serves. <sup>27</sup> For who is greater, one who sits at the table, or one who serves? Isn't it he who sits at the table? But I am amongst you as one who serves. <sup>28</sup> But you are those who have continued with me in my trials. <sup>29</sup> I confer on you a kingdom, even as my Father conferred on me, <sup>30</sup> that you may eat and drink at my table in my Kingdom. You will sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

<sup>31</sup> The Lord said, "Simon, Simon, behold, Satan asked to have all of you, that he might sift you as wheat, <sup>32</sup> but I prayed for you, that your faith wouldn't fail. You, when once you have turned again, establish your brothers."‡‡

<sup>33</sup> He said to him, "Lord, I am ready to go with you both to prison and to death!"

<sup>34</sup> He said, "I tell you, Peter, the rooster will by no means crow today until you deny that you know me three times."

<sup>35</sup> He said to them, "When I sent you out without purse, wallet, and sandals, did you lack anything?"

They said, "Nothing."

<sup>36</sup> Then he said to them, "But now, whoever has a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet. Whoever has none, let him sell his cloak, and buy a sword. <sup>37</sup> For I tell you that this which is written must still be fulfilled in me: 'He was counted with transgressors.'<sup>u</sup> For that which concerns me has an end."

He said to them, "That is enough."

<sup>39</sup> He came out and went, as his custom was, to the Mount of Olives. His disciples also followed him. <sup>40</sup> When he was at the place, he said to them, "Pray that you don't enter into temptation."

<sup>41</sup> He was withdrawn from them about a stone's throw, and he knelt down and prayed, <sup>42</sup> saying, "Father, if you are willing, remove this cup from me. Nevertheless, not my will, but yours, be done."

<sup>45</sup> When he rose up from his prayer, he came to the disciples, and found them sleeping because of grief, <sup>46</sup> and said to them, "Why do you sleep? Rise and pray that you may not enter into temptation."

<sup>47</sup> While he was still speaking, behold, a multitude, and he who was called Judas, one of the twelve, was leading them. He came near to Jesus to kiss him. <sup>48</sup> But Jesus said to him, "Judas, do you betray the Son of Man with a kiss?"

<sup>51</sup> But Jesus answered, “Let me at least do this”—and he touched his ear, and healed him. <sup>52</sup> Jesus said to the chief priests, captains of the temple, and elders, who had come against him, “Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs? <sup>53</sup> When I was with you in the temple daily, you didn’t stretch out your hands against me. But this is your hour, and the power of darkness.”

But Peter answered, “Man, I am not!”

<sup>59</sup> After about one hour passed, another confidently affirmed, saying, “Truly this man also was with him, for he is a Galilean!”

<sup>60</sup> But Peter said, “Man, I don’t know what you are talking about!” Immediately, while he was still speaking, a rooster crowed. <sup>61</sup> The Lord turned and looked at Peter. Then Peter remembered the Lord’s word, how he said to him, “Before the rooster crows you will deny me three times.” <sup>62</sup> He went out, and wept bitterly.

<sup>63</sup> The men who held Jesus mocked him and beat him. <sup>64</sup> Having blindfolded him, they struck him on the face and asked him, “Prophecy! Who is the one who struck you?” <sup>65</sup> They spoke many other things against him, insulting him.

<sup>66</sup> As soon as it was day, the assembly of the elders of the people were gathered together, both chief priests and scribes, and they led him away into their council, saying, <sup>67</sup> “If you are the Christ, tell us.”

But he said to them, “If I tell you, you won’t believe, <sup>68</sup> and if I ask, you will in no way answer me or let me go. <sup>69</sup> From now on, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of God.”

<sup>70</sup> They all said, “Are you then the Son of God?”

He said to them, “You say it, because I am.”

<sup>71</sup> They said, “Why do we need any more witness? For we ourselves have heard from his own mouth!”

23 The whole company of them rose up and brought him before Pilate. <sup>2</sup> They began to accuse him, saying, “We found this man perverting the nation, forbidding paying taxes to Caesar, and saying that he himself is Christ, a king.”

He answered him, “So you say.”

<sup>5</sup> But they insisted, saying, “He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee even to this place.” <sup>6</sup> But when Pilate heard Galilee mentioned, he asked if the man was a Galilean. <sup>7</sup> When he found out that he was in Herod’s jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who was also in Jerusalem during those days.

<sup>8</sup> Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedingly glad, for he had wanted to see him for a long time, because he had heard many things about him. He hoped to see some miracle done by him. <sup>9</sup> He questioned him with many words, but he gave no answers. <sup>10</sup> The chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. <sup>11</sup> Herod with his soldiers humiliated him and mocked him. Dressing him in luxurious clothing, they sent him back to Pilate. <sup>12</sup> Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day, for before that they were enemies with each other.

13 Pilate called together the chief priests, the rulers, and the people, 14 and said to them, “You brought this man to me as one that perverts the people, and behold, having examined him before you, I found no basis for a charge against this man concerning those things of which you accuse him. 15 Neither has Herod, for I sent you to him, and see, nothing worthy of death has been done by him. 16 I will therefore chastise him and release him.”

17 Now he had to release one prisoner to them at the feast.¶ 18 But they all cried out together, saying, “Away with this man! Release to us Barabbas!”— 19 one who was thrown into prison for a certain revolt in the city, and for murder.

20 Then Pilate spoke to them again, wanting to release Jesus, 21 but they shouted, saying, “Crucify! Crucify him!”

22 He said to them the third time, “Why? What evil has this man done? I have found no capital crime in him. I will therefore chastise him and release him.” 23 But they were urgent with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. Their voices and the voices of the chief priests prevailed. 24 Pilate decreed that what they asked for should be done. 25 He released him who had been thrown into prison for insurrection and murder, for whom they asked, but he delivered Jesus up to their will.

26 When they led him away, they grabbed one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to carry it after Jesus. 27 A great multitude of the people followed him, including women who also mourned and lamented him. 28 But Jesus, turning to them, said, “Daughters of Jerusalem, don’t weep for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. 29 For behold, the days are coming in which they will say, ‘Blessed are the barren, the wombs that never bore, and the breasts that never nursed.’ 30 Then they will begin to tell the mountains, ‘Fall on us!’ and tell the hills, ‘Cover us.’ 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what will be done in the dry?”

32 There were also others, two criminals, led with him to be put to death. 33 When they came to the place that is called “The Skull”, they crucified him there with the criminals, one on the right and the other on the left.

34 Jesus said, “Father, forgive them, for they don’t know what they are doing.”

Dividing his garments amongst them, they cast lots. 35 The people stood watching. The rulers with them also scoffed at him, saying, “He saved others. Let him save himself, if this is the Christ of God, his chosen one!”

36 The soldiers also mocked him, coming to him and offering him vinegar, 37 and saying, “If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!”

38 An inscription was also written over him in letters of Greek, Latin, and Hebrew: “THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.”

39 One of the criminals who was hanged insulted him, saying, “If you are the Christ, save yourself and us!”

40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, “Don’t you even fear God, seeing you are under the same condemnation? 41 And we indeed justly, for we receive the due reward for our deeds, but this man has done nothing wrong.” 42 He said to Jesus, “Lord, remember me when you come into your Kingdom.”

43 Jesus said to him, “Assuredly I tell you, today you will be with me in Paradise.”

44 It was now about the sixth hour,§§ and darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour.* 45 The sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was torn in two. 46 Jesus, crying with a loud voice, said, "Father, into your hands I commit my spirit!" Having said this, he breathed his last.

<sup>47</sup> When the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, "Certainly this was a righteous man." <sup>48</sup> All the multitudes that came together to see this, when they saw the things that were done, returned home beating their breasts. <sup>49</sup> All his acquaintances and the women who followed with him from Galilee stood at a distance, watching these things.

<sup>50</sup> Behold, a man named Joseph, who was a member of the council, a good and righteous man <sup>51</sup> (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), from Arimathaea, a city of the Jews, who was also waiting for God's Kingdom: <sup>52</sup> this man went to Pilate, and asked for Jesus' body. <sup>53</sup> He took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid him in a tomb that was cut in stone, where no one had ever been laid. <sup>54</sup> It was the day of the Preparation, and the Sabbath was drawing near. <sup>55</sup> The women, who had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and saw the tomb, and how his body was laid. <sup>56</sup> They returned and prepared spices and ointments. On the Sabbath they rested according to the commandment.

24 But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they and some others came to the tomb, bringing the spices which they had prepared. <sup>2</sup> They found the stone rolled away from the tomb. <sup>3</sup> They entered in, and didn't find the Lord Jesus' body. <sup>4</sup> While they were greatly perplexed about this, behold, two men stood by them in dazzling clothing. <sup>5</sup> Becoming terrified, they bowed their faces down to the earth.

They said to them, "Why do you seek the living amongst the dead? <sup>6</sup> He isn't here, but is risen. Remember what he told you when he was still in Galilee, <sup>7</sup> saying that the Son of Man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men and be crucified, and the third day rise again?"

They said to him, "The things concerning Jesus, the Nazarene, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; <sup>20</sup> and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. <sup>21</sup> But we were hoping that it was he who would redeem Israel. Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things happened. <sup>22</sup> Also, certain women of our company amazed us, having arrived early at the tomb; <sup>23</sup> and when they didn't find his body, they came saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive. <sup>24</sup> Some of us went to the tomb, and found it just like the women had said, but they didn't see him."

<sup>25</sup> He said to them, "Foolish men, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! <sup>26</sup> Didn't the Christ have to suffer these things and to enter into his glory?" <sup>27</sup> Beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, he explained to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself. <sup>28</sup> They came near to the village where they were going, and he acted like he would go further.

He went in to stay with them. <sup>30</sup> When he had sat down at the table with them, he took the bread and gave thanks. Breaking it, he gave it to them. <sup>31</sup> Their eyes were opened and they recognised him, then he vanished out of their sight. <sup>32</sup> They said to one another, "Weren't our hearts burning within us, while he spoke to us along the way, and while he opened the Scriptures to us?" <sup>33</sup> They rose up that very hour, returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and those who were with them, <sup>34</sup> saying, "The Lord is risen indeed, and has appeared to Simon!" <sup>35</sup> They related the things that happened along the way, and how he was recognised by them in the breaking of the bread.

<sup>36</sup> As they said these things, Jesus himself stood amongst them, and said to them, "Peace be to you."

<sup>38</sup> He said to them, "Why are you troubled? Why do doubts arise in your hearts?" <sup>39</sup> See my hands and my feet, that it is truly me. Touch me and see, for a spirit doesn't have flesh and bones, as you see that I have." <sup>40</sup> When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet. <sup>41</sup> While they still didn't believe for joy, and wondered, he said to them, "Do you have anything here to eat?"

<sup>45</sup> Then he opened their minds, that they might understand the Scriptures. <sup>46</sup> He said to them, "Thus it is written, and thus it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise from the dead the third day, <sup>47</sup> and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name to all the nations, beginning at Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> You are witnesses of these things. <sup>49</sup> Behold, I send out the promise of my Father on you. But wait in the city of Jerusalem until you are clothed with power from on high."

<sup>50</sup> He led them out as far as Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. <sup>51</sup> While he blessed them, he withdrew from them, and was carried up into heaven. <sup>52</sup> They worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy, <sup>53</sup> and were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

John

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3 All things were made through him. Without him, nothing was made that has been made. 4 In him was life, and the life was the light of men. 5 The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness hasn't overcome it. 6 There came a man, sent from God, whose name was John. 7 The same came as a witness, that he might testify about the light, that all might believe through him. 8 He was not the light, but was sent that he might testify about the light. 9 The true light that enlightens everyone was coming into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made through him, and the world didn't recognise him. 11 He came to his own, and those who were his own didn't receive him. 12 But as many as received him, to them he gave the right to become God's children, to those who believe in his name: 13 who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 14 The Word became flesh, and lived amongst us. We saw his glory, such glory as of the one and only Son of the Father, full of grace and truth. 15 John testified about him. He cried out, saying, "This was he of whom I said, 'He who comes after me has surpassed me, for he was before me.'" 16 From his fullness we all received grace upon grace. 17 For the law was given through Moses. Grace and truth were realised through Jesus Christ. 18 No one has seen God at any time. The one and only Son,¶ who is in the bosom of the Father, has declared him.

19 This is John's testimony, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, "Who are you?"

20 He declared, and didn't deny, but he declared, "I am not the Christ."

21 They asked him, "What then? Are you Elijah?"

He said, "I am not."

"Are you the prophet?"

He answered, "No."

22 They said therefore to him, "Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?"

23 He said, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,'<sup>w</sup> as Isaiah the prophet said."

24 The ones who had been sent were from the Pharisees. 25 They asked him, "Why then do you baptise, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the prophet?"

26 John answered them, "I baptise in water, but amongst you stands one whom you don't know. 27 He is the one who comes after me, who is preferred before me, whose sandal strap I'm not worthy to loosen." 28 These things were done in Bethany beyond the Jordan, where John was baptising.

29 The next day, he saw Jesus coming to him, and said, "Behold,§ the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world! 30 This is he of whom I said, 'After me comes a man who is preferred before me, for he was before me.' 31 I didn't know him, but for this reason I came baptising in water: that he would be revealed to Israel." 32 John testified, saying, "I have seen the Spirit descending like a dove out of heaven, and it remained on him. <sup>33</sup> I didn't recognise him, but he who sent me to baptise in water said to me, 'On whomever you will see the Spirit descending and remaining on him is he who baptises in the Holy Spirit.'<sup>34</sup> I have seen, and have testified that this is the Son of God."

<sup>35</sup> Again, the next day, John was standing with two of his disciples, <sup>36</sup> and he looked at Jesus as he walked, and said, "Behold, the Lamb of God!" <sup>37</sup> The two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. <sup>38</sup> Jesus turned and saw them following, and said to them, "What are you looking for?"

They said to him, "Rabbi" (which is to say, being interpreted, Teacher), "where are you staying?"

<sup>39</sup> He said to them, "Come, and see."

They came and saw where he was staying, and they stayed with him that day. It was about the tenth hour.** <sup>40</sup> One of the two who heard John and followed him was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. <sup>41</sup> He first found his own brother, Simon, and said to him, "We have found the Messiah!" (which is, being interpreted, Christ††). <sup>42</sup> He brought him to Jesus. Jesus looked at him, and said, "You are Simon the son of Jonah. You shall be called Cephas" (which is by interpretation, Peter).‡‡ <sup>43</sup> On the next day, he was determined to go out into Galilee, and he found Philip. Jesus said to him, "Follow me." <sup>44</sup> Now Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. <sup>45</sup> Philip found Nathanael, and said to him, "We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, wrote: Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph."

Philip said to him, "Come and see."

<sup>47</sup> Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and said about him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no deceit!"

<sup>48</sup> Nathanael said to him, "How do you know me?"

Jesus answered him, "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you."

<sup>49</sup> Nathanael answered him, "Rabbi, you are the Son of God! You are King of Israel!"

<sup>50</sup> Jesus answered him, "Because I told you, 'I saw you underneath the fig tree,' do you believe? You will see greater things than these!"

<sup>51</sup> He said to him, "Most certainly, I tell you all, hereafter you will see heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

2 The third day, there was a wedding in Cana of Galilee. Jesus' mother was there. <sup>2</sup> Jesus also was invited, with his disciples, to the wedding. <sup>3</sup> When the wine ran out, Jesus' mother said to him, "They have no wine."

<sup>4</sup> Jesus said to her, "Woman, what does that have to do with you and me? My hour has not yet come."

<sup>5</sup> His mother said to the servants, "Whatever he says to you, do it." <sup>6</sup> Now there were six water pots of stone set there after the Jews' way of purifying, containing two or three metretes¶¶ apiece. <sup>7</sup> Jesus said to them, "Fill the water pots with water." So they filled them up to the brim. <sup>8</sup> He said to them, "Now draw some out, and take it to the ruler of the feast." So they took it. <sup>9</sup> When the ruler of the feast tasted the water now become wine, and didn't know where it came from (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast called the bridegroom <sup>10</sup> and said to him, "Everyone serves the good wine first, and when the guests have drunk freely, then that which is worse. You have kept the good wine until now!" <sup>11</sup> This beginning of his signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and revealed his glory; and his disciples believed in him.

<sup>12</sup> After this, he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, his brothers, and his disciples; and they stayed there a few days. <sup>13</sup> The Passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup> He found in the temple those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, and the changers of money sitting. <sup>15</sup> He made a whip of cords, and threw all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money and overthrew their tables. <sup>16</sup> To those who sold the doves, he said, "Take these things out of here! Don't make my Father's house a marketplace!" <sup>17</sup> His disciples remembered that it was written, "Zeal for your house will eat me up."<sup>x</sup>

<sup>20</sup> The Jews therefore said, "It took forty-six years to build this temple! Will you raise it up in three days?" <sup>21</sup> But he spoke of the temple of his body. <sup>22</sup> When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he said this, and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

<sup>23</sup> Now when he was in Jerusalem at the Passover, during the feast, many believed in his name, observing his signs which he did. <sup>24</sup> But Jesus didn't entrust himself to them, because he knew everyone, <sup>25</sup> and because he didn't need for anyone to testify concerning man; for he himself knew what was in man.

3 Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews. <sup>2</sup> The same came to him by night, and said to him, "Rabbi, we know that you are a teacher come from God, for no one can do these signs that you do, unless God is with him."

<sup>4</sup> Nicodemus said to him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born?"

<sup>5</sup> Jesus answered, "Most certainly I tell you, unless one is born of water and spirit, he can't enter into God's Kingdom. <sup>6</sup> That which is born of the flesh is flesh. That which is born of the Spirit is spirit. <sup>7</sup> Don't marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born anew.' <sup>8</sup> The wind* blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but don't know where it comes from and where it is going. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit."

<sup>11</sup> Most certainly I tell you, we speak that which we know, and testify of that which we have seen, and you don't receive our witness.

<sup>12</sup> If I told you earthly things and you don't believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things? <sup>13</sup> No one has ascended into heaven but he who descended out of heaven, the Son of Man, who is in heaven. <sup>14</sup> As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up,

<sup>15</sup> that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life. <sup>16</sup> For God so loved the world, that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish, but have eternal life. <sup>17</sup> For God didn't send his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through him. <sup>18</sup> He who believes in him is not judged. He who doesn't believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the one and only Son of God. <sup>19</sup> This is the judgement, that the light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the light; for their works were evil. <sup>20</sup> For everyone who does evil hates the light, and doesn't come to the light, lest his works would be exposed. <sup>21</sup> But he who does the truth comes to the light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done in God."

<sup>22</sup> After these things, Jesus came with his disciples into the land of Judea. He stayed there with them and baptised. <sup>23</sup> John also was baptising in Enon near Salim, because there was much water there. They came, and were baptised; <sup>24</sup> for John was not yet thrown into prison. <sup>25</sup> Therefore a dispute arose on the part of John's disciples with some Jews about purification. <sup>26</sup> They came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, he who was with you beyond the Jordan, to whom you have testified, behold, he baptises, and everyone is coming to him."

<sup>27</sup> John answered, "A man can receive nothing unless it has been given him from heaven. <sup>28</sup> You yourselves testify that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but, 'I have been sent before him.' <sup>29</sup> He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and hears him, rejoices greatly because of the bridegroom's voice. This, my joy, therefore is made full. <sup>30</sup> He must increase, but I must decrease. <sup>31</sup> He who comes from above is above all. He who is from the earth belongs to the earth and speaks of the earth. He who comes from heaven is above all. <sup>32</sup> What he has seen and heard, of that he testifies; and no one receives his witness. <sup>33</sup> He who has received his witness has set his seal to this, that God is true. <sup>34</sup> For he whom God has sent speaks the words of God; for God gives the Spirit without measure. <sup>35</sup> The Father loves the Son, and has given all things into his hand. <sup>36</sup> One who believes in the Son has eternal life, but one who disobeys †the Son won't see life, but the wrath of God remains on him."

4 Therefore when the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and baptising more disciples than John <sup>2</sup> (although Jesus himself didn't baptise, but his disciples), <sup>3</sup> he left Judea and departed into Galilee. <sup>4</sup> He needed to pass through Samaria. <sup>5</sup> So he came to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son, Joseph. <sup>6</sup> Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being tired from his journey, sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour. †
<sup>7</sup> A woman of Samaria came to draw water. Jesus said to her, "Give me a drink." <sup>8</sup> For his disciples had gone away into the city to buy food.

<sup>9</sup> The Samaritan woman therefore said to him, "How is it that you, being a Jew, ask for a drink from me, a Samaritan woman?" (For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.)

<sup>10</sup> Jesus answered her, "If you knew the gift of God, and who it is who says to you, 'Give me a drink,' you would have asked him, and he would have given you living water."

<sup>11</sup> The woman said to him, "Sir, you have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. So where do you get that living water? <sup>12</sup> Are you greater than our father, Jacob, who gave us the well and drank from it himself, as did his children and his livestock?"

<sup>13</sup> Jesus answered her, "Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again, <sup>14</sup> but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will never thirst again; but the water that I will give him will become in him a well of water springing up to eternal life."

†3:36 The same word can be translated "disobeys" or "disbelieves" in this context.

†4:6 noon

17 The woman answered, "I have no husband."

Jesus said to her, "You said well, 'I have no husband,' 18 for you have had five husbands; and he whom you now have is not your husband. This you have said truly."

19 The woman said to him, "Sir, I perceive that you are a prophet. 20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and you Jews say that in Jerusalem is the place where people ought to worship."

21 Jesus said to her, "Woman, believe me, the hour comes, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, will you worship the Father. 22 You worship that which you don't know. We worship that which we know; for salvation is from the Jews. 23 But the hour comes, and now is, when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such to be his worshippers. 24 God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth."

25 The woman said to him, "I know that Messiah comes, he who is called Christ. When he has come, he will declare to us all things."

26 Jesus said to her, "I am he, the one who speaks to you." 27 At this, his disciples came. They marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no one said, "What are you looking for?" or, "Why do you speak with her?" 28 So the woman left her water pot, went away into the city, and said to the people, 29 "Come, see a man who told me everything that I did. Can this be the Christ?"

30 They went out of the city, and were coming to him. 31 In the meanwhile, the disciples urged him, saying, "Rabbi, eat."

32 But he said to them, "I have food to eat that you don't know about."

33 The disciples therefore said to one another, "Has anyone brought him something to eat?"

34 Jesus said to them, "My food is to do the will of him who sent me and to accomplish his work. 35 Don't you say, 'There are yet four months until the harvest?' Behold, I tell you, lift up your eyes and look at the fields, that they are white for harvest already. 36 He who reaps receives wages and gathers fruit to eternal life; that both he who sows and he who reaps may rejoice together. 37 For in this the saying is true, 'One sows, and another reaps.' 38 I sent you to reap that for which you haven't laboured. Others have laboured, and you have entered into their labour."

39 From that city many of the Samaritans believed in him because of the word of the woman, who testified, "He told me everything that I did." 40 So when the Samaritans came to him, they begged him to stay with them. He stayed there two days. 41 Many more believed because of his word. 42 They said to the woman, "Now we believe, not because of your speaking; for we have heard for ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world."

43 After the two days he went out from there and went into Galilee. 44 For Jesus himself testified that a prophet has no honour in his own country. 45 So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast, for they also went to the feast. 46 Jesus came therefore again to Cana of Galilee, where he made the water into wine. There was a certain nobleman whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, he went to him, and begged him that he would come down and heal his son, for he was at the point of death. 48 Jesus therefore said to him, "Unless you see signs and wonders, you will in no way believe."

49 The nobleman said to him, "Sir, come down before my child dies." 50 Jesus said to him, "Go your way. Your son lives." The man believed the word that Jesus spoke to him, and he went his way. 51 As he was now going down, his servants met him and reported, saying "Your child lives!" 52 So he enquired of them the hour when he began to get better. They said therefore to him, "Yesterday at the seventh hour,¶ the fever left him.”<sup>53</sup> So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said to him, “Your son lives.” He believed, as did his whole house.<sup>54</sup> This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judea into Galilee.

5 After these things, there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.<sup>2</sup> Now in Jerusalem by the sheep gate, there is a pool, which is called in Hebrew, “Bethesda”, having five porches.<sup>3</sup> In these lay a great multitude of those who were sick, blind, lame, or paralysed, waiting for the moving of the water;<sup>4</sup> for an angel went down at certain times into the pool and stirred up the water. Whoever stepped in first after the stirring of the water was healed of whatever disease he had.§
<sup>5</sup> A certain man was there who had been sick for thirty-eight years.<sup>6</sup> When Jesus saw him lying there, and knew that he had been sick for a long time, he asked him, “Do you want to be made well?”

Now it was the Sabbath on that day.<sup>10</sup> So the Jews said to him who was cured, “It is the Sabbath. It is not lawful for you to carry the mat.”

<sup>11</sup> He answered them, “He who made me well said to me, ‘Take up your mat and walk.’”

<sup>12</sup> Then they asked him, “Who is the man who said to you, ‘Take up your mat and walk?’”

<sup>13</sup> But he who was healed didn’t know who it was, for Jesus had withdrawn, a crowd being in the place.

<sup>14</sup> Afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said to him, “Behold, you are made well. Sin no more, so that nothing worse happens to you.”

<sup>15</sup> The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.
<sup>16</sup> For this cause the Jews persecuted Jesus, and sought to kill him, because he did these things on the Sabbath.<sup>17</sup> But Jesus answered them, “My Father is still working, so I am working, too.”<sup>18</sup> For this cause therefore the Jews sought all the more to kill him, because he not only broke the Sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.<sup>19</sup> Jesus therefore answered them, “Most certainly, I tell you, the Son can do nothing of himself, but what he sees the Father doing. For whatever things he does, these the Son also does likewise.<sup>20</sup> For the Father has affection for the Son, and shows him all things that he himself does. He will show him greater works than these, that you may marvel.<sup>21</sup> For as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, even so the Son also gives life to whom he desires.<sup>22</sup> For the Father judges no one, but he has given all judgement to the Son,<sup>23</sup> that all may honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He who doesn’t honour the Son doesn’t honour the Father who sent him.

<sup>24</sup> “Most certainly I tell you, he who hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life, and doesn’t come into judgement, but has passed out of death into life.<sup>25</sup> Most certainly I tell you, the hour comes, and now is, when the dead will hear the Son of God’s voice; and those who hear will live.<sup>26</sup> For as the Father has life in himself, even so he gave to the Son also to have life in himself.<sup>27</sup> He also gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is a son of man.<sup>28</sup> Don’t marvel at this, for the hour comes in which all who are in the tombs will hear his voice,<sup>29</sup> and will come out; those who have done good, to the resurrection of life; and those who have done evil, to the resurrection of judgement. <sup>30</sup>I can of myself do nothing. As I hear, I judge, and my judgement is righteous; because I don't seek my own will, but the will of my Father who sent me.

<sup>31</sup>"If I testify about myself, my witness is not valid. <sup>32</sup>It is another who testifies about me. I know that the testimony which he testifies about me is true. <sup>33</sup>You have sent to John, and he has testified to the truth. <sup>34</sup>But the testimony which I receive is not from man. However, I say these things that you may be saved. <sup>35</sup>He was the burning and shining lamp, and you were willing to rejoice for a while in his light. <sup>36</sup>But the testimony which I have is greater than that of John, for the works which the Father gave me to accomplish, the very works that I do, testify about me, that the Father has sent me. <sup>37</sup>The Father himself, who sent me, has testified about me. You have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his form. <sup>38</sup>You don't have his word living in you, because you don't believe him whom he sent.

<sup>39</sup>"You search the Scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and these are they which testify about me. <sup>40</sup>Yet you will not come to me, that you may have life. <sup>41</sup>I don't receive glory from men. <sup>42</sup>But I know you, that you don't have God's love in yourselves. <sup>43</sup>I have come in my Father's name, and you don't receive me. If another comes in his own name, you will receive him. <sup>44</sup>How can you believe, who receive glory from one another, and you don't seek the glory that comes from the only God?

<sup>45</sup>"Don't think that I will accuse you to the Father. There is one who accuses you, even Moses, on whom you have set your hope. <sup>46</sup>For if you believed Moses, you would believe me; for he wrote about me. <sup>47</sup>But if you don't believe his writings, how will you believe my words?"

6 After these things, Jesus went away to the other side of the sea of Galilee, which is also called the Sea of Tiberias. <sup>2</sup>A great multitude followed him, because they saw his signs which he did on those who were sick. <sup>3</sup>Jesus went up into the mountain, and he sat there with his disciples. <sup>4</sup>Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was at hand. <sup>5</sup>Jesus therefore lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude was coming to him, said to Philip, "Where are we to buy bread, that these may eat?" <sup>6</sup>He said this to test him, for he himself knew what he would do.

<sup>10</sup>Jesus said, "Have the people sit down." Now there was much grass in that place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. <sup>11</sup>Jesus took the loaves; and having given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to those who were sitting down; likewise also of the fish as much as they desired. <sup>12</sup>When they were filled, he said to his disciples, "Gather up the broken pieces which are left over, that nothing be lost." <sup>13</sup>So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which were left over by those who had eaten. <sup>14</sup>When therefore the people saw the sign which Jesus did, they said, "This is truly the prophet who comes into the world." <sup>15</sup>Jesus therefore, perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force to make him king, withdrew again to the mountain by himself.

and were going over the sea to Capernaum. It was now dark, and Jesus had not come to them. <sup>18</sup>The sea was tossed by a great wind blowing. <sup>19</sup>When therefore they had rowed about twenty-five or thirty stadia, ††they saw Jesus walking on the sea,<sup>y</sup> and drawing near to the boat; and they were afraid. <sup>20</sup>But he said to them, "It is I.‡‡ Don't be afraid." <sup>21</sup>They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat. Immediately the boat was at the land where they were going.

<sup>22</sup>On the next day, the multitude that stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was no other boat there, except the one in which his disciples had embarked, and that Jesus hadn't entered with his disciples into the boat, but his disciples had gone away alone. <sup>23</sup>However boats from Tiberias came near to the place where they ate the bread after the Lord had given thanks. <sup>24</sup>When the multitude therefore saw that Jesus wasn't there, nor his disciples, they themselves got into the boats, and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. <sup>25</sup>When they found him on the other side of the sea, they asked him, "Rabbi, when did you come here?"

<sup>26</sup>Jesus answered them, "Most certainly I tell you, you seek me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves, and were filled. <sup>27</sup>Don't work for the food which perishes, but for the food which remains to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you. For God the Father has sealed him."

<sup>28</sup>They said therefore to him, "What must we do, that we may work the works of God?"

<sup>29</sup>Jesus answered them, "This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he has sent."

<sup>30</sup>They said therefore to him, "What then do you do for a sign, that we may see and believe you? What work do you do? <sup>31</sup>Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness. As it is written, 'He gave them bread out of heaven¶¶ to eat.'"<sup>z</sup>

<sup>32</sup>Jesus therefore said to them, "Most certainly, I tell you, it wasn't Moses who gave you the bread out of heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread out of heaven. <sup>33</sup>For the bread of God is that which comes down out of heaven, and gives life to the world."

<sup>35</sup>Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me will not be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty. <sup>36</sup>But I told you that you have seen me, and yet you don't believe. <sup>37</sup>All those whom the Father gives me will come to me. He who comes to me I will in no way throw out. <sup>38</sup>For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me. <sup>39</sup>This is the will of my Father who sent me, that of all he has given to me I should lose nothing, but should raise him up at the last day. <sup>40</sup>This is the will of the one who sent me, that everyone who sees the Son, and believes in him, should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day."

<sup>41</sup>The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, "I am the bread which came down out of heaven." <sup>42</sup>They said, "Isn't this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How then does he say, 'I have come down out of heaven?'" will all be taught by God.’ <sup>a</sup>Therefore everyone who hears from the Father and has learnt, comes to me. <sup>46</sup>Not that anyone has seen the Father, except he who is from God. He has seen the Father. <sup>47</sup>Most certainly, I tell you, he who believes in me has eternal life. <sup>48</sup>I am the bread of life. <sup>49</sup>Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness and they died. <sup>50</sup>This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that anyone may eat of it and not die. <sup>51</sup>I am the living bread which came down out of heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. Yes, the bread which I will give for the life of the world is my flesh.”

<sup>53</sup>Jesus therefore said to them, “Most certainly I tell you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you don’t have life in yourselves. <sup>54</sup>He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. <sup>55</sup>For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. <sup>56</sup>He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood lives in me, and I in him. <sup>57</sup>As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he who feeds on me, he will also live because of me. <sup>58</sup>This is the bread which came down out of heaven—not as our fathers ate the manna, and died. He who eats this bread will live forever.” <sup>59</sup>He said these things in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

<sup>60</sup>Therefore many of his disciples, when they heard this, said, “This is a hard saying! Who can listen to it?”

<sup>61</sup>But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said to them, “Does this cause you to stumble? <sup>62</sup>Then what if you would see the Son of Man ascending to where he was before? <sup>63</sup>It is the spirit who gives life. The flesh profits nothing. The words that I speak to you are spirit, and are life. <sup>64</sup>But there are some of you who don’t believe.” For

Jesus knew from the beginning who they were who didn’t believe, and who it was who would betray him. <sup>65</sup>He said, “For this cause I have said to you that no one can come to me, unless it is given to him by my Father.”

<sup>66</sup>At this, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. <sup>67</sup>Jesus said therefore to the twelve, “You don’t also want to go away, do you?”

<sup>68</sup>Simon Peter answered him, “Lord, to whom would we go? You have the words of eternal life. <sup>69</sup>We have come to believe and know that you are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

<sup>71</sup>Now he spoke of Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot, for it was he who would betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 After these things, Jesus was walking in Galilee, for he wouldn’t walk in Judea, because the Jews sought to kill him. <sup>2</sup>Now the feast of the Jews, the Feast of Booths, was at hand. <sup>3</sup>His brothers therefore said to him, “Depart from here and go into Judea, that your disciples also may see your works which you do. <sup>4</sup>For no one does anything in secret while he seeks to be known openly. If you do these things, reveal yourself to the world.” <sup>5</sup>For even his brothers didn’t believe in him.

<sup>6</sup>Jesus therefore said to them, “My time has not yet come, but your time is always ready. <sup>7</sup>The world can’t hate you, but it hates me, because I testify about it, that its works are evil. <sup>8</sup>You go up to the feast. I am not yet going up to this feast, because my time is not yet fulfilled.”

<sup>9</sup>Having said these things to them, he stayed in Galilee. <sup>10</sup>But when his brothers had gone up to the feast, then he also went up, not publicly, but as it were in secret. <sup>11</sup>The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, “Where is he?” <sup>12</sup>There was much murmuring amongst the multitudes concerning him.

Some said, "He is a good man." Others said, "Not so, but he leads the multitude astray."

<sup>13</sup> Yet no one spoke openly of him for fear of the Jews. <sup>14</sup> But when it was now the middle of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple and taught. <sup>15</sup> The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, "How does this man know letters, having never been educated?"

<sup>16</sup> Jesus therefore answered them, "My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me. <sup>17</sup> If anyone desires to do his will, he will know about the teaching, whether it is from God, or if I am speaking from myself. <sup>18</sup> He who speaks from himself seeks his own glory, but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. <sup>19</sup> Didn't Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keeps the law? Why do you seek to kill me?"

<sup>21</sup> Jesus answered them, "I did one work and you all marvel because of it. <sup>22</sup> Moses has given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers), and on the Sabbath you circumcise a boy. <sup>23</sup> If a boy receives circumcision on the Sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with me, because I made a man completely healthy on the Sabbath? <sup>24</sup> Don't judge according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement."

<sup>28</sup> Jesus therefore cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, "You both know me, and know where I am from. I have not come of myself, but he who sent me is true, whom you don't know. <sup>29</sup> I know him, because I am from him, and he sent me."

<sup>30</sup> They sought therefore to take him; but no one laid a hand on him, because his hour had not yet come. <sup>31</sup> But of the multitude, many believed in him. They said, "When the Christ comes, he won't do more signs than those which this man has done, will he?"

<sup>32</sup> The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him, and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to arrest him.

<sup>33</sup> Then Jesus said, "I will be with you a little while longer, then I go to him who sent me. <sup>34</sup> You will seek me, and won't find me. You can't come where I am."

<sup>35</sup> The Jews therefore said amongst themselves, "Where will this man go that we won't find him? Will he go to the Dispersion amongst the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? <sup>36</sup> What is this word that he said, 'You will seek me, and won't find me;' and 'Where I am, you can't come'?"

<sup>37</sup> Now on the last and greatest day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried out, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink! <sup>38</sup> He who believes in me, as the Scripture has said, from within him will flow rivers of living water." <sup>39</sup> But he said this about the Spirit, which those believing in him were to receive. For the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus wasn't yet glorified.

<sup>40</sup> Many of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, "This is truly the prophet." <sup>41</sup> Others said, "This is the Christ." But some said, "What, does the Christ come out of Galilee? <sup>42</sup> Hasn't the Scripture said that the Christ comes of the offspring§§ of David, <sup>b</sup>and from Bethlehem,<sup>c</sup> the village where David was?" <sup>43</sup> So a division arose in the multitude because of him. <sup>44</sup> Some of them would have arrested him, but no one laid hands on him. <sup>45</sup> The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said to them, “Why didn’t you bring him?”

<sup>50</sup> Nicodemus (he who came to him by night, being one of them) said to them, <sup>51</sup> “Does our law judge a man, unless it first hears from him personally and knows what he does?”

<sup>53</sup> Everyone went to his own house,

8 but Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. <sup>2</sup> Now very early in the morning, he came again into the temple, and all the people came to him. He sat down and taught them. <sup>3</sup> The scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman taken in adultery. Having set her in the middle, <sup>4</sup> they told him, “Teacher, we found this woman in adultery, in the very act. <sup>5</sup> Now in our law, Moses commanded us to stone such women.<sup>e</sup> What then do you say about her?” <sup>6</sup> They said this testing him, that they might have something to accuse him of.

But Jesus stooped down and wrote on the ground with his finger. <sup>7</sup> But when they continued asking him, he looked up and said to them, “He who is without sin amongst you, let him throw the first stone at her.” <sup>8</sup> Again he stooped down and wrote on the ground with his finger.

<sup>9</sup> They, when they heard it, being convicted by their conscience, went out one by one, beginning from the oldest, even to the last. Jesus was left alone with the woman where she was, in the middle. <sup>10</sup> Jesus, standing up, saw her and said, “Woman, where are your accusers? Did no one condemn you?”

Jesus said, “Neither do I condemn you. Go your way. From now on, sin no more.”*

<sup>12</sup> Again, therefore, Jesus spoke to them, saying, “I am the light of the world.<sup>f</sup> He who follows me will not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life.”

<sup>14</sup> Jesus answered them, “Even if I testify about myself, my testimony is true, for I know where I came from, and where I am going; but you don’t know where I came from, or where I am going. <sup>15</sup> You judge according to the flesh. I judge no one. <sup>16</sup> Even if I do judge, my judgement is true, for I am not alone, but I am with the Father who sent me. <sup>17</sup> It’s also written in your law that the testimony of two people is valid.<sup>g</sup> <sup>18</sup> I am one who testifies about myself, and the Father who sent me testifies about me.”

Jesus answered, “You know neither me nor my Father. If you knew me, you would know my Father also.” <sup>20</sup> Jesus spoke these words in the treasury, as he taught in the temple. Yet no one arrested him, because his hour had not yet come. <sup>21</sup> Jesus said therefore again to them, “I am going away, and you will seek me, and you will die in your sins. Where I go, you can’t come.”

<sup>22</sup> The Jews therefore said, “Will he kill himself, because he says, ‘Where I am going, you can’t come?’”

<sup>23</sup> He said to them, “You are from beneath. I am from above. You are of this world. I am not of this world. <sup>24</sup> I said therefore to you that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am† he, you will die in your sins.”

<sup>25</sup> They said therefore to him, “Who are you?”

Jesus said to them, “Just what I have been saying to you from the beginning. <sup>26</sup> I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you. However he who sent me is true; and the things which I heard from him, these I say to the world.”

<sup>27</sup> They didn’t understand that he spoke to them about the Father. <sup>28</sup> Jesus therefore said to them, “When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he, and I do nothing of myself, but as my Father taught me, I say these things. <sup>29</sup> He who sent me is with me. The Father hasn’t left me alone, for I always do the things that are pleasing to him.”

<sup>30</sup> As he spoke these things, many believed in him. <sup>31</sup> Jesus therefore said to those Jews who had believed him, “If you remain in my word, then you are truly my disciples. <sup>32</sup> You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>33</sup> They answered him, “We are Abraham’s offspring, and have never been in bondage to anyone. How do you say, ‘You will be made free?’”

<sup>34</sup> Jesus answered them, “Most certainly I tell you, everyone who commits sin is the bondservant of sin. <sup>35</sup> A bondservant doesn’t live in the house forever. A son remains forever. <sup>36</sup> If therefore the Son makes you free, you will be free indeed. <sup>37</sup> I know that you are Abraham’s offspring, yet you seek to kill me, because my word finds no place in you. <sup>38</sup> I say the things which I have seen with my Father; and you also do the things which you have seen with your father.”

Jesus said to them, “If you were Abraham’s children, you would do the works of Abraham. <sup>40</sup> But now you seek to kill me, a man who has told you the truth which I heard from God. Abraham didn’t do this. <sup>41</sup> You do the works of your father.”

They said to him, “We were not born of sexual immorality. We have one Father, God.”

<sup>42</sup> Therefore Jesus said to them, “If God were your father, you would love me, for I came out and have come from God. For I haven’t come of myself, but he sent me. <sup>43</sup> Why don’t you understand my speech? Because you can’t hear my word. <sup>44</sup> You are of your father, the devil, and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and doesn’t stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks on his own; for he is a liar, and the father of lies. <sup>45</sup> But because I tell the truth, you don’t believe me. <sup>46</sup> Which of you convicts me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe me? <sup>47</sup> He who is of God hears the words of God. For this cause you don’t hear, because you are not of God.”

<sup>48</sup> Then the Jews answered him, “Don’t we say well that you are a Samaritan, and have a demon?”

<sup>49</sup> Jesus answered, “I don’t have a demon, but I honour my Father and you dishonour me. <sup>50</sup> But I don’t seek my own glory. There is one who seeks and judges. <sup>51</sup> Most certainly, I tell you, if a person keeps my word, he will never see death.”

<sup>52</sup> Then the Jews said to him, “Now we know that you have a demon. Abraham died, as did the prophets; and you say, ‘If a man keeps my word, he will never taste of death.’ <sup>53</sup> Are you greater than our father, Abraham, who died? The prophets died. Who do you make yourself out to be?”

<sup>54</sup> Jesus answered, “If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing. It is my Father who glorifies me, of whom you say that he is our God. <sup>55</sup> You have not known him, but I know him. If I said, 'I don't know him,' I would be like you, a liar. But I know him and keep his word. <sup>56</sup> Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day. He saw it, and was glad."

<sup>57</sup> The Jews therefore said to him, "You are not yet fifty years old! Have you seen Abraham?"

<sup>58</sup> Jesus said to them, "Most certainly, I tell you, before Abraham came into existence, I AM!"

<sup>59</sup> Therefore they took up stones to throw at him, but Jesus was hidden, and went out of the temple, having gone through the middle of them, and so passed by.

9 As he passed by, he saw a man blind from birth. <sup>2</sup> His disciples asked him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?"

<sup>3</sup> Jesus answered, "This man didn't sin, nor did his parents; but, that the works of God might be revealed in him. <sup>4</sup> I must work the works of him who sent me while it is day. The night is coming, when no one can work. <sup>5</sup> While I am in the world, I am the light of the world." <sup>6</sup> When he had said this, he spat on the ground, made mud with the saliva, anointed the blind man's eyes with the mud, <sup>7</sup> and said to him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam" (which means "Sent"). So he went away, washed, and came back seeing. <sup>8</sup> The neighbours therefore, and those who saw that he was blind before, said, "Isn't this he who sat and begged?" <sup>9</sup> Others were saying, "It is he." Still others were saying, "He looks like him."

He said, "I am he." <sup>10</sup> They therefore were asking him, "How were your eyes opened?"

<sup>11</sup> He answered, "A man called Jesus made mud, anointed my eyes, and said to me, 'Go to the pool of Siloam and wash.' So I went away and washed, and I received sight."

<sup>12</sup> Then they asked him, "Where is he?"

He said, "I don't know."

<sup>13</sup> They brought him who had been blind to the Pharisees. <sup>14</sup> It was a Sabbath when Jesus made the mud and opened his eyes. <sup>15</sup> Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. He said to them, "He put mud on my eyes, I washed, and I see."

<sup>16</sup> Some therefore of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from God, because he doesn't keep the Sabbath." Others said, "How can a man who is a sinner do such signs?" There was division amongst them. <sup>17</sup> Therefore they asked the blind man again, "What do you say about him, because he opened your eyes?"

He said, "He is a prophet."

<sup>18</sup> The Jews therefore didn't believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him who had received his sight, <sup>19</sup> and asked them, "Is this your son, whom you say was born blind? How then does he now see?"

<sup>20</sup> His parents answered them, "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; <sup>21</sup> but how he now sees, we don't know; or who opened his eyes, we don't know. He is of age. Ask him. He will speak for himself." <sup>22</sup> His parents said these things because they feared the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed that if any man would confess him as Christ, he would be put out of the synagogue. <sup>23</sup> Therefore his parents said, "He is of age. Ask him."

<sup>24</sup> So they called the man who was blind a second time, and said to him, "Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner."

<sup>25</sup> He therefore answered, "I don't know if he is a sinner. One thing I do know: that though I was blind, now I see."

<sup>26</sup> They said to him again, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?"

<sup>27</sup> He answered them, "I told you already, and you didn't listen. Why do you want to hear it again? You don't also want to become his disciples, do you?"

<sup>28</sup> They insulted him and said, "You are his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. <sup>29</sup> We know that God has spoken to Moses. But as for this man, we don't know where he comes from."

<sup>30</sup>The man answered them, "How amazing! You don't know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. <sup>31</sup>We know that God doesn't listen to sinners, but if anyone is a worshiper of God, and does his will, he listens to him.<sup>j</sup> <sup>32</sup>Since the world began it has never been heard of that anyone opened the eyes of someone born blind. <sup>33</sup>If this man were not from God, he could do nothing."

<sup>34</sup>They answered him, "You were altogether born in sins, and do you teach us?" Then they threw him out.

<sup>35</sup>Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, and finding him, he said, "Do you believe in the Son of God?"

<sup>36</sup>He answered, "Who is he, Lord, that I may believe in him?"

<sup>37</sup>Jesus said to him, "You have both seen him, and it is he who speaks with you."

<sup>38</sup>He said, "Lord, I believe!" and he worshipped him.

<sup>39</sup>Jesus said, "I came into this world for judgement, that those who don't see may see; and that those who see may become blind."

<sup>40</sup>Those of the Pharisees who were with him heard these things, and said to him, "Are we also blind?"

<sup>41</sup>Jesus said to them, "If you were blind, you would have no sin; but now you say, 'We see.' Therefore your sin remains.

10 "Most certainly, I tell you, one who doesn't enter by the door into the sheep fold, but climbs up some other way, is a thief and a robber. <sup>2</sup>But one who enters in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. <sup>3</sup>The gatekeeper opens the gate for him, and the sheep listen to his voice. He calls his own sheep by name, and leads them out. <sup>4</sup>Whenever he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, for they know his voice. <sup>5</sup>They will by no means follow a stranger, but will flee from him; for they don't know the voice of strangers." <sup>6</sup>Jesus spoke this parable to them, but they didn't understand what he was telling them.

<sup>7</sup>Jesus therefore said to them again, "Most certainly, I tell you, I am the sheep's door. <sup>8</sup>All who came before me are thieves and robbers, but the sheep didn't listen to them. <sup>9</sup>I am the door. If anyone enters in by me, he will be saved, and will go in and go out, and will find pasture. <sup>10</sup>The thief only comes to steal, kill, and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly. <sup>11</sup>I am the good shepherd.<sup>k</sup> The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. <sup>12</sup>He who is a hired hand, and not a shepherd, who doesn't own the sheep, sees the wolf coming, leaves the sheep, and flees. The wolf snatches the sheep, and scatters them. <sup>13</sup>The hired hand flees because he is a hired hand, and doesn't care for the sheep. <sup>14</sup>I am the good shepherd. I know my own, and I'm known by my own; <sup>15</sup>even as the Father knows me, and I know the Father. I lay down my life for the sheep. <sup>16</sup>I have other sheep, which are not of this fold.<sup>l</sup> I must bring them also, and they will hear my voice. They will become one flock with one shepherd. <sup>17</sup>Therefore the Father loves me, because I lay down my life, <sup>m</sup>that I may take it again. <sup>18</sup>No one takes it away from me, but I lay it down by myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. I received this commandment from my Father."

<sup>19</sup>Therefore a division arose again amongst the Jews because of these words. <sup>20</sup>Many of them said, "He has a demon, and is insane! Why do you listen to him?" <sup>21</sup>Others said, "These are not the sayings of one possessed by a demon. It isn't possible for a demon to open the eyes of the blind, is it?"<sup>n</sup>

<sup>22</sup> It was the Feast of the Dedication‡ at Jerusalem. <sup>23</sup> It was winter, and Jesus was walking in the temple, in Solomon's porch. <sup>24</sup> The Jews therefore came around him and said to him, "How long will you hold us in suspense? If you are the Christ, tell us plainly."

<sup>25</sup> Jesus answered them, "I told you, and you don't believe. The works that I do in my Father's name, these testify about me. <sup>26</sup> But you don't believe, because you are not of my sheep, as I told you. <sup>27</sup> My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me. <sup>28</sup> I give eternal life to them. They will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of my hand. <sup>29</sup> My Father who has given them to me is greater than all. No one is able to snatch them out of my Father's hand. <sup>30</sup> I and the Father are one."

<sup>34</sup> Jesus answered them, "Isn't it written in your law, 'I said, you are gods'?"<sup>o</sup> <sup>35</sup> If he called them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture can't be broken), <sup>36</sup> do you say of him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, 'You blaspheme,' because I said, 'I am the Son of God?' <sup>37</sup> If I don't do the works of my Father, don't believe me. <sup>38</sup> But if I do them, though you don't believe me, believe the works, that you may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in the Father."

11 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus from Bethany, of the village of Mary and her sister, Martha. <sup>2</sup> It was that Mary who had anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother, Lazarus, was sick. <sup>3</sup> The sisters therefore sent to him, saying, "Lord, behold, he for whom you have great affection is sick." <sup>4</sup> But when Jesus heard it, he said, "This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God, that God's Son may be glorified by it." <sup>5</sup> Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. <sup>6</sup> When therefore he heard that he was sick, he stayed two days in the place where he was. <sup>7</sup> Then after this he said to the disciples, "Let's go into Judea again."

<sup>8</sup> The disciples asked him, "Rabbi, the Jews were just trying to stone you. Are you going there again?"

<sup>9</sup> Jesus answered, "Aren't there twelve hours of daylight? If a man walks in the day, he doesn't stumble, because he sees the light of this world. <sup>10</sup> But if a man walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light isn't in him." <sup>11</sup> He said these things, and after that, he said to them, "Our friend, Lazarus, has fallen asleep, but I am going so that I may awake him out of sleep."

<sup>12</sup> The disciples therefore said, "Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover."

<sup>13</sup> Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that he spoke of taking rest in sleep. <sup>14</sup> So Jesus said to them plainly then, "Lazarus is dead. <sup>15</sup> I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, so that you may believe. Nevertheless, let's go to him."

16 Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus,¶ said to his fellow disciples, "Let's go also, that we may die with him."

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four days already. 18 Now Bethany was near Jerusalem, about fifteen stadia§ away. 19 Many of the Jews had joined the women around Martha and Mary, to console them concerning their brother. 20 Then when Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went and met him, but Mary stayed in the house. 21 Therefore Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if you would have been here, my brother wouldn't have died. 22 Even now I know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you." 23 Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

24 Martha said to him, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

25 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will still live, even if he dies. 26 Whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?"

27 She said to him, "Yes, Lord. I have come to believe that you are the Christ, God's Son, he who comes into the world."

28 When she had said this, she went away and called Mary, her sister, secretly, saying, "The Teacher is here and is calling you."

29 When she heard this, she arose quickly and went to him. 30 Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was in the place where Martha met him. 31 Then the Jews who were with her in the house and were consoling her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, "She is going to the tomb to weep there."

32 Therefore when Mary came to where Jesus was and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying to him, "Lord, if you would have been here, my brother wouldn't have died."

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews weeping who came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, 34 and said, "Where have you laid him?"

They told him, "Lord, come and see."

35 Jesus wept.

36 The Jews therefore said, "See how much affection he had for him!" 37 Some of them said, "Couldn't this man, who opened the eyes of him who was blind, have also kept this man from dying?"

38 Jesus therefore, again groaning in himself, came to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone lay against it. 39 Jesus said, "Take away the stone."

Martha, the sister of him who was dead, said to him, "Lord, by this time there is a stench, for he has been dead four days."

40 Jesus said to her, "Didn't I tell you that if you believed, you would see God's glory?"

41 So they took away the stone from the place where the dead man was lying.<sup>**</sup> Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, "Father, I thank you that you listened to me. 42 I know that you always listen to me, but because of the multitude standing around I said this, that they may believe that you sent me." 43 When he had said this, he cried with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!"

44 He who was dead came out, bound hand and foot with wrappings, and his face was wrapped around with a cloth.

Jesus said to them, "Free him, and let him go."

45 Therefore many of the Jews who came to Mary and saw what Jesus did believed in him. 46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them the things which Jesus had done. 47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, and said, "What are we doing? For this man does many signs. 48 If we leave him alone like this, everyone will believe in him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation.”

<sup>49</sup> But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said to them, “You know nothing at all, <sup>50</sup> nor do you consider that it is advantageous for us that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation not perish.” <sup>51</sup> Now he didn’t say this of himself, but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation, <sup>52</sup> and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one the children of God who are scattered abroad. <sup>53</sup> So from that day forward they took counsel that they might put him to death. <sup>54</sup> Jesus therefore walked no more openly amongst the Jews, but departed from there into the country near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim. He stayed there with his disciples.

<sup>55</sup> Now the Passover of the Jews was at hand. Many went up from the country to Jerusalem before the Passover, to purify themselves. <sup>56</sup> Then they sought for Jesus and spoke with one another as they stood in the temple, “What do you think—that he isn’t coming to the feast at all?” <sup>57</sup> Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had commanded that if anyone knew where he was, he should report it, that they might seize him.

12 Then six days before the Passover, Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, who had been dead, whom he raised from the dead. <sup>2</sup> So they made him a supper there. Martha served, but Lazarus was one of those who sat at the table with him. <sup>3</sup> Therefore Mary took a pound†† of ointment of pure nard, very precious, and anointed Jesus’s feet and wiped his feet with her hair. The house was filled with the fragrance of the ointment. <sup>4</sup> Then Judas Iscariot, Simon’s son, one of his disciples, who would betray him, said, <sup>5</sup> “Why wasn’t this ointment sold for three hundred denarii,‡‡ and given to the poor?” <sup>6</sup> Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief, and having the money box, used to steal what was put into it. <sup>7</sup> But Jesus said, “Leave her alone. She has kept this for the day of my burial. <sup>8</sup> For you always have the poor with you, but you don’t always have me.”

<sup>9</sup> A large crowd therefore of the Jews learnt that he was there, and they came, not for Jesus’ sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead. <sup>10</sup> But the chief priests conspired to put Lazarus to death also, <sup>11</sup> because on account of him many of the Jews went away and believed in Jesus.

comply nothing. Behold, the world has gone after him.”

<sup>20</sup> Now there were certain Greeks amongst those that went up to worship at the feast. <sup>21</sup> These, therefore, came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, “Sir, we want to see Jesus.” <sup>22</sup> Philip came and told Andrew, and in turn, Andrew came with Philip, and they told Jesus. <sup>23</sup> Jesus answered them, “The time has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. <sup>24</sup> Most certainly I tell you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the earth and dies, it remains by itself alone. But if it dies, it bears much fruit. <sup>25</sup> He who loves his life will lose it. He who hates his life in this world will keep it to eternal life. <sup>26</sup> If anyone serves me, let him follow me. Where I am, there my servant will also be. If anyone serves me, the Father will honour him.

<sup>27</sup> “Now my soul is troubled. What shall I say? ‘Father, save me from this time?’ But I came to this time for this cause. <sup>28</sup> Father, glorify your name!”

Then a voice came out of the sky, saying, “I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.”

<sup>29</sup> Therefore the multitude who stood by and heard it said that it had thundered. Others said, “An angel has spoken to him.”

<sup>30</sup> Jesus answered, “This voice hasn’t come for my sake, but for your sakes. <sup>31</sup> Now is the judgement of this world. Now the prince of this world will be cast out. <sup>32</sup> And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all people to myself.” <sup>33</sup> But he said this, signifying by what kind of death he should die. <sup>34</sup> The multitude answered him, “We have heard out of the law that the Christ remains forever. How do you say, ‘The Son of Man must be lifted up?’ Who is this Son of Man?”

<sup>35</sup> Jesus therefore said to them, “Yet a little while the light is with you. Walk while you have the light, that darkness doesn’t overtake you. He who walks in the darkness doesn’t know where he is going. <sup>36</sup> While you have the light, believe in the light, that you may become children of light.” Jesus said these things, and he departed and hid himself from them. <sup>37</sup> But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they didn’t believe in him, <sup>38</sup> that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spoke, “Lord, who has believed our report?

To whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?”<sup>s</sup>

<sup>39</sup> For this cause they couldn’t believe, for Isaiah said again,

<sup>40</sup> “He has blinded their eyes and he hardened their heart, lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, and would turn, and I would heal them.”<sup>t</sup>

<sup>41</sup> Isaiah said these things when he saw his glory, and spoke of him. <sup>42</sup> Nevertheless even many of the rulers believed in him, but because of the Pharisees they didn’t confess it, so that they wouldn’t be put out of the synagogue, <sup>43</sup> for they loved men’s praise more than God’s praise.

<sup>44</sup> Jesus cried out and said, “Whoever believes in me, believes not in me, but in him who sent me. <sup>45</sup> He who sees me sees him who sent me. <sup>46</sup> I have come as a light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in the darkness. <sup>47</sup> If anyone listens to my sayings, and doesn’t believe, I don’t judge him. For I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. <sup>48</sup> He who rejects me, and doesn’t receive my sayings, has one who judges him. The word that I spoke will judge him in the last day. <sup>49</sup> For I spoke not from myself, but the Father who sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. <sup>50</sup> I know that his commandment is eternal life. The things therefore which I speak, even as the Father has said to me, so I speak.”

13 Now before the feast of the Passover, Jesus, knowing that his time had come that he would depart from this world to the Father, having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. <sup>2</sup> During supper, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon’s son, to betray him, <sup>3</sup> Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came from God, and was going to God, <sup>4</sup> arose from supper, and laid aside his outer garments. He took a towel and wrapped a towel around his waist. <sup>5</sup> Then he poured water into the basin, and began to wash the disciples’ feet and to wipe them with the towel that was wrapped around him. <sup>6</sup> Then he came to Simon Peter. He said to him, “Lord, do you wash my feet?”

<sup>7</sup> Jesus answered him, “You don’t know what I am doing now, but you will understand later.”

<sup>8</sup> Peter said to him, “You will never wash my feet!”

Jesus answered him, “If I don’t wash you, you have no part with me.”

<sup>9</sup> Simon Peter said to him, “Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head!”

<sup>10</sup> Jesus said to him, “Someone who has bathed only needs to have his feet washed, but is completely clean. You are clean, but not all of you.” <sup>11</sup> For he knew him who would betray him, therefore he said, “You are not all clean.” <sup>12</sup> So when he had washed their feet, put his outer garment back on, and sat down again, he said to them, “Do you know what I have done to you? <sup>13</sup> You call me, ‘Teacher’ and ‘Lord.’ You say so correctly, for so I am. <sup>14</sup> If I then, the Lord and the Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. <sup>15</sup> For I have given you an example, that you should also do as I have done to you. <sup>16</sup> Most certainly I tell you, a servant is not greater than his lord, neither is one who is sent greater than he who sent him. <sup>17</sup> If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. <sup>18</sup> I don’t speak concerning all of you. I know whom I have chosen. But that the Scripture may be fulfilled, ‘He who eats bread with me has lifted up his heel against me.’<sup>v</sup> <sup>19</sup> From now on, I tell you before it happens, that when it happens, you may believe that I am he. <sup>20</sup> Most certainly I tell you, he who receives whomever I send, receives me; and he who receives me, receives him who sent me.”

<sup>21</sup> When Jesus had said this, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, “Most certainly I tell you that one of you will betray me.”

<sup>25</sup> He, leaning back, as he was, on Jesus’ breast, asked him, “Lord, who is it?”

<sup>26</sup> Jesus therefore answered, “It is he to whom I will give this piece of bread when I have dipped it.” So when he had dipped the piece of bread, he gave it to Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot. <sup>27</sup> After the piece of bread, then Satan entered into him.

Then Jesus said to him, “What you do, do quickly.”

<sup>28</sup> Now nobody at the table knew why he said this to him. <sup>29</sup> For some thought, because Judas had the money box, that Jesus said to him, “Buy what things we need for the feast,” or that he should give something to the poor. <sup>30</sup> Therefore having received that morsel, he went out immediately. It was night.

<sup>31</sup> When he had gone out, Jesus said, “Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in him. <sup>32</sup> If God has been glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself, and he will glorify him immediately. <sup>33</sup> Little children, I will be with you a little while longer. You will seek me, and as I said to the Jews, 'Where I am going, you can't come,' so now I tell you. <sup>34</sup> A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also love one another. <sup>35</sup> By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another."

Jesus answered, "Where I am going, you can't follow now, but you will follow afterwards."

<sup>37</sup> Peter said to him, "Lord, why can't I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you."

<sup>38</sup> Jesus answered him, "Will you lay down your life for me? Most certainly I tell you, the rooster won't crow until you have denied me three times.

14 "Don't let your heart be troubled. Believe in God. Believe also in me. <sup>2</sup> In my Father's house are many homes. If it weren't so, I would have told you. I am going to prepare a place for you. <sup>3</sup> If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and will receive you to myself; that where I am, you may be there also. <sup>4</sup> You know where I go, and you know the way."

<sup>5</sup> Thomas said to him, "Lord, we don't know where you are going. How can we know the way?"

<sup>6</sup> Jesus said to him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father, except through me. <sup>7</sup> If you had known me, you would have known my Father also. From now on, you know him, and have seen him."

<sup>8</sup> Philip said to him, "Lord, show us the Father, and that will be enough for us."

<sup>9</sup> Jesus said to him, "Have I been with you such a long time, and do you not know me, Philip? He who has seen me has seen the Father. How do you say, 'Show us the Father?' <sup>10</sup> Don't you believe that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I tell you, I speak not from myself; but the Father who lives in me does his works. <sup>11</sup> Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me; or else believe me for the very works' sake.

<sup>12</sup> Most certainly I tell you, he who believes in me, the works that I do, he will do also; and he will do greater works than these, because I am going to my Father. <sup>13</sup> Whatever you will ask in my name, I will do it, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. <sup>14</sup> If you will ask anything in my name, I will do it. <sup>15</sup> If you love me, keep my commandments. <sup>16</sup> I will pray to the Father, and he will give you another Counsellor, <sup>17</sup> that he may be with you forever: <sup>17</sup> the Spirit of truth, whom the world can't receive; for it doesn't see him and doesn't know him. You know him, for he lives with you, and will be in you. <sup>18</sup> I will not leave you orphans. I will come to you. <sup>19</sup> Yet a little while, and the world will see me no more; but you will see me. Because I live, you will live also. <sup>20</sup> In that day you will know that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you. <sup>21</sup> One who has my commandments and keeps them, that person is one who loves me. One who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him, and will reveal myself to him."

<sup>22</sup> Judas (not Iscariot) said to him, "Lord, what has happened that you are about to reveal yourself to us, and not to the world?"

<sup>23</sup> Jesus answered him, "If a man loves me, he will keep my word. My Father will love him, and we will come to him, and make our home with him. <sup>24</sup> He who doesn't love me doesn't keep my words. The word which you hear isn't mine, but the Father's who sent me. <sup>25</sup> I have said these things to you while still living with you. <sup>26</sup> But the Counsellor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you all things, and will remind you of all that I said to you. <sup>27</sup> Peace I leave with you. My peace I give to you; not as the world gives, I give to you. Don't let your heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful. <sup>28</sup> You heard how I told you, 'I go away, and I come to you.' If you loved me, you would have rejoiced, because I said ‘I am going to my Father;’ for the Father is greater than I. <sup>29</sup> Now I have told you before it happens so that when it happens, you may believe. <sup>30</sup> I will no more speak much with you, for the prince of the world comes, and he has nothing in me. <sup>31</sup> But that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father commanded me, even so I do. Arise, let’s go from here.

15 “I am the true vine, and my Father is the farmer. <sup>2</sup> Every branch in me that doesn’t bear fruit, he takes away. Every branch that bears fruit, he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. <sup>3</sup> You are already pruned clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. <sup>4</sup> Remain in me, and I in you. As the branch can’t bear fruit by itself unless it remains in the vine, so neither can you, unless you remain in me. <sup>5</sup> I am the vine. You are the branches. He who remains in me and I in him bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. <sup>6</sup> If a man doesn’t remain in me, he is thrown out as a branch and is withered; and they gather them, throw them into the fire, and they are burnt. <sup>7</sup> If you remain in me, and my words remain in you, you will ask whatever you desire, and it will be done for you.

<sup>8</sup> “In this my Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit; and so you will be my disciples. <sup>9</sup> Even as the Father has loved me, I also have loved you. Remain in my love. <sup>10</sup> If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love; even as I have kept my Father’s commandments, and remain in his love. <sup>11</sup> I have spoken these things to you, that my joy may remain in you, and that your joy may be made full.

command you. <sup>15</sup> No longer do I call you servants, for the servant doesn’t know what his lord does. But I have called you friends, for everything that I heard from my Father, I have made known to you. <sup>16</sup> You didn’t choose me, but I chose you and appointed you, that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatever you will ask of the Father in my name, he may give it to you.

<sup>17</sup> “I command these things to you, that you may love one another. <sup>18</sup> If the world hates you, you know that it has hated me before it hated you. <sup>19</sup> If you were of the world, the world would love its own. But because you are not of the world, since I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you. <sup>20</sup> Remember the word that I said to you: ‘A servant is not greater than his lord.’<sup>w</sup> If they persecuted me, they will also persecute you. If they kept my word, they will also keep yours. <sup>21</sup> But they will do all these things to you for my name’s sake, because they don’t know him who sent me. <sup>22</sup> If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have had sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin. <sup>23</sup> He who hates me, hates my Father also. <sup>24</sup> If I hadn’t done amongst them the works which no one else did, they wouldn’t have had sin. But now they have seen and also hated both me and my Father. <sup>25</sup> But this happened so that the word may be fulfilled which was written in their law, ‘They hated me without a cause.’<sup>x</sup>

<sup>26</sup> “When the Counsellor* has come, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will testify about me. <sup>27</sup> You will also testify, because you have been with me from the beginning.

16 “I have said these things to you so that you wouldn’t be caused to stumble. <sup>2</sup> They will put you out of the synagogues. Yes, the time comes that whoever kills you will think that he offers service to God. <sup>3</sup> They will do these things† because they have not known the Father, nor me. <sup>4</sup> But I have told you these things, so that when the time comes, you may remember that I told you about them. I didn't tell you these things from the beginning, because I was with you. <sup>5</sup> But now I am going to him who sent me, and none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?' <sup>6</sup> But because I have told you these things, sorrow has filled your heart. <sup>7</sup> Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I don't go away, the Counsellor won't come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you. <sup>8</sup> When he has come, he will convict the world about sin, about righteousness, and about judgement; <sup>9</sup> about sin, because they don't believe in me; <sup>10</sup> about righteousness, because I am going to my Father, and you won't see me any more; <sup>11</sup> about judgement, because the prince of this world has been judged.

<sup>12</sup> "I still have many things to tell you, but you can't bear them now. <sup>13</sup> However when he, the Spirit of truth, has come, he will guide you into all truth, for he will not speak from himself; but whatever he hears, he will speak. He will declare to you things that are coming. <sup>14</sup> He will glorify me, for he will take from what is mine, and will declare it to you. <sup>15</sup> All things that the Father has are mine; therefore I said that he takes‡ of mine and will declare it to you. <sup>16</sup> A little while, and you will not see me. Again a little while, and you will see me."

<sup>17</sup> Some of his disciples therefore said to one another, "What is this that he says to us, 'A little while, and you won't see me, and again a little while, and you will see me; and, 'Because I go to the Father?'" <sup>18</sup> They said therefore, "What is this that he says, 'A little while'? We don't know what he is saying."

<sup>19</sup> Therefore Jesus perceived that they wanted to ask him, and he said to them, "Do you enquire amongst yourselves concerning this, that I said, 'A little while, and you won't see me, and again a little while, and you will see me?'" <sup>20</sup> Most certainly I tell you that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy. <sup>21</sup> A woman, when she gives birth, has sorrow because her time has come. But when she has delivered the child, she doesn't remember the anguish any more, for the joy that a human being is born into the world. <sup>22</sup> Therefore you now have sorrow, but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one will take your joy away from you.

<sup>23</sup> "In that day you will ask me no questions. Most certainly I tell you, whatever you may ask of the Father in my name, he will give it to you. <sup>24</sup> Until now, you have asked nothing in my name. Ask, and you will receive, that your joy may be made full. <sup>25</sup> I have spoken these things to you in figures of speech. But the time is coming when I will no more speak to you in figures of speech, but will tell you plainly about the Father. <sup>26</sup> In that day you will ask in my name; and I don't say to you that I will pray to the Father for you, <sup>27</sup> for the Father himself loves you, because you have loved me, and have believed that I came from God. <sup>28</sup> I came from the Father, and have come into the world. Again, I leave the world, and go to the Father."

<sup>29</sup> His disciples said to him, "Behold, now you are speaking plainly, and using no figures of speech. <sup>30</sup> Now we know that you know all things, and don't need for anyone to question you. By this we believe that you came from God."

<sup>31</sup> Jesus answered them, "Do you now believe? <sup>32</sup> Behold, the time is coming, yes, and has now come, that you will be scattered, everyone to his own place, and you will leave me alone. Yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. <sup>33</sup> I have told you these things, that

17 Jesus said these things, then lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, “Father, the time has come. Glorify your Son, that your Son may also glorify you; <sup>2</sup> even as you gave him authority over all flesh, so he will give eternal life to all whom you have given him. <sup>3</sup> This is eternal life, that they should know you, the only true God, and him whom you sent, Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup> I glorified you on the earth. I have accomplished the work which you have given me to do. <sup>5</sup> Now, Father, glorify me with your own self with the glory which I had with you before the world existed. <sup>6</sup> I revealed your name to the people whom you have given me out of the world. They were yours, and you have given them to me. They have kept your word. <sup>7</sup> Now they have known that all things whatever you have given me are from you, <sup>8</sup> for the words which you have given me I have given to them, and they received them, and knew for sure that I came from you. They have believed that you sent me. <sup>9</sup> I pray for them. I don’t pray for the world, but for those whom you have given me, for they are yours. <sup>10</sup> All things that are mine are yours, and yours are mine, and I am glorified in them. <sup>11</sup> I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, keep them through your name which you have given me, that they may be one, even as we are. <sup>12</sup> While I was with them in the world, I kept them in your name. I have kept those whom you have given me. None of them is lost except the son of destruction, that the Scripture might be fulfilled. <sup>13</sup> But now I come to you, and I say these things in the world, that they may have my joy made full in themselves. <sup>14</sup> I have given them your word. The world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. <sup>15</sup> I pray not that you would take them from the world, but that you would keep them from the evil one. <sup>16</sup> They are not of the world even as I am not of the world. <sup>17</sup> Sanctify them in your truth. Your word is truth.<sup>y</sup> <sup>18</sup> As you sent me into the world, even so I have sent them into the world. <sup>19</sup> For their sakes I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth. <sup>20</sup> Not for these only do I pray, but for those also who will believe in me through their word, <sup>21</sup> that they may all be one; even as you, Father, are in me, and I in you, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that you sent me. <sup>22</sup> The glory which you have given me, I have given to them; that they may be one, even as we are one; <sup>23</sup> I in them, and you in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that you sent me and loved them, even as you loved me. <sup>24</sup> Father, I desire that they also whom you have given me be with me where I am, that they may see my glory, which you have given me, for you loved me before the foundation of the world. <sup>25</sup> Righteous Father, the world hasn’t known you, but I knew you; and these knew that you sent me. <sup>26</sup> I made known to them your name, and will make it known; that the love with which you loved me may be in them, and I in them.”

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, he went out with his disciples over the brook Kidron, where there was a garden, into which he and his disciples entered. <sup>2</sup> Now Judas, who betrayed him, also knew the place, for Jesus often met there with his disciples. <sup>3</sup> Judas then, having taken a detachment of soldiers and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, came there with lanterns, torches, and weapons. <sup>4</sup> Jesus therefore, knowing all the things that were happening to him, went out, and said to them, “Who are you looking for?”

<sup>5</sup> They answered him, “Jesus of Nazareth.” Jesus said to them, “I am he.”

Judas also, who betrayed him, was standing with them. <sup>6</sup> When therefore he said to them, "I am he," they went backward, and fell to the ground.

<sup>7</sup> Again therefore he asked them, "Who are you looking for?"

They said, "Jesus of Nazareth."

<sup>8</sup> Jesus answered, "I told you that I am he. If therefore you seek me, let these go their way," <sup>9</sup> that the word might be fulfilled which he spoke, "Of those whom you have given me, I have lost none."<sup>z</sup>

<sup>10</sup> Simon Peter therefore, having a sword, drew it, struck the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus. <sup>11</sup> Jesus therefore said to Peter, "Put the sword into its sheath. The cup which the Father has given me, shall I not surely drink it?"

<sup>12</sup> So the detachment, the commanding officer, and the officers of the Jews seized Jesus and bound him, <sup>13</sup> and led him to Annas first, for he was father-in-law to Caiaphas, who was high priest that year. <sup>14</sup> Now it was Caiaphas who advised the Jews that it was expedient that one man should perish for the people. <sup>15</sup> Simon Peter followed Jesus, as did another disciple. Now that disciple was known to the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; <sup>16</sup> but Peter was standing at the door outside. So the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to her who kept the door, and brought in Peter. <sup>17</sup> Then the maid who kept the door said to Peter, "Are you also one of this man's disciples?"

He said, "I am not."

<sup>18</sup> Now the servants and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals, for it was cold. They were warming themselves. Peter was with them, standing and warming himself. <sup>19</sup> The high priest therefore asked Jesus about his disciples and about his teaching. <sup>20</sup> Jesus answered him, "I spoke openly to the world. I always taught in synagogues, and in the temple, where the Jews always meet. I said nothing in secret. <sup>21</sup> Why do you ask me? Ask those who have heard me what I said to them. Behold, they know the things which I said."

<sup>22</sup> When he had said this, one of the officers standing by slapped Jesus with his hand, saying, "Do you answer the high priest like that?"

<sup>23</sup> Jesus answered him, "If I have spoken evil, testify of the evil; but if well, why do you beat me?"

<sup>24</sup> Annas sent him bound to Caiaphas, the high priest. <sup>25</sup> Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore to him, "You aren't also one of his disciples, are you?"

He denied it and said, "I am not."

<sup>26</sup> One of the servants of the high priest, being a relative of him whose ear Peter had cut off, said, "Didn't I see you in the garden with him?"

<sup>28</sup> They led Jesus therefore from Caiaphas into the Praetorium. It was early, and they themselves didn't enter into the Praetorium, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the Passover. <sup>29</sup> Pilate therefore went out to them, and said, "What accusation do you bring against this man?"

<sup>30</sup> They answered him, "If this man weren't an evildoer, we wouldn't have delivered him up to you."

<sup>31</sup> Pilate therefore said to them, "Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law."

Therefore the Jews said to him, "It is illegal for us to put anyone to death," <sup>32</sup> that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spoke, signifying by what kind of death he should die.

<sup>33</sup> Pilate therefore entered again into the Praetorium, called Jesus, and said to him, "Are you the King of the Jews?"

<sup>34</sup> Jesus answered him, "Do you say this by yourself, or did others tell you about me?"

<sup>35</sup> Pilate answered, "I'm not a Jew, am I? Your own nation and the chief priests delivered you to me. What have you done?"

<sup>36</sup> Jesus answered, "My Kingdom is not of this world. If my Kingdom were of this world, then my servants would fight, that I wouldn't be delivered to the Jews. But now my Kingdom is not from here."

<sup>37</sup> Pilate therefore said to him, "Are you a king then?"

Jesus answered, "You say that I am a king. For this reason I have been born, and for this reason I have come into the world, that I should testify to the truth. Everyone who is of the truth listens to my voice."

When he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and said to them, "I find no basis for a charge against him. <sup>39</sup> But you have a custom, that I should release someone to you at the Passover. Therefore, do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?"

<sup>40</sup> Then they all shouted again, saying, "Not this man, but Barabbas!" Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 So Pilate then took Jesus, and flogged him. <sup>2</sup> The soldiers twisted thorns into a crown, and put it on his head, and dressed him in a purple garment. <sup>3</sup> They kept saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!" and they kept slapping him.

<sup>4</sup> Then Pilate went out again, and said to them, "Behold, I bring him out to you, that you may know that I find no basis for a charge against him."

<sup>6</sup> When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they shouted, saying, "Crucify! Crucify!"

Pilate said to them, "Take him yourselves, and crucify him, for I find no basis for a charge against him."

<sup>7</sup> The Jews answered him, "We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God."

<sup>8</sup> When therefore Pilate heard this saying, he was more afraid. <sup>9</sup> He entered into the Praetorium again, and said to Jesus, "Where are you from?" But Jesus gave him no answer. <sup>10</sup> Pilate therefore said to him, "Aren't you speaking to me? Don't you know that I have power to release you and have power to crucify you?"

<sup>11</sup> Jesus answered, "You would have no power at all against me, unless it were given to you from above. Therefore he who delivered me to you has greater sin."

<sup>12</sup> At this, Pilate was seeking to release him, but the Jews cried out, saying, "If you release this man, you aren't Caesar's friend! Everyone who makes himself a king speaks against Caesar!"

<sup>13</sup> When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out and sat down on the judgement seat at a place called "The Pavement", but in Hebrew, "Gabbatha." <sup>14</sup> Now it was the Preparation Day of the Passover, at about the sixth hour.† He said to the Jews, "Behold, your King!"

Pilate said to them, "Shall I crucify your King?"

The chief priests answered, "We have no king but Caesar!"

<sup>16</sup> So then he delivered him to them to be crucified. So they took Jesus and led him away. <sup>17</sup> He went out, bearing his cross, to the place called "The Place of a Skull", which is called in Hebrew, "Golgotha", <sup>18</sup> where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the middle. <sup>19</sup> Pilate

†19:14 "the sixth hour" would have been 6:00 a.m. according to the Roman timekeeping system, or noon for the Jewish timekeeping system in use, then.

wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. There was written, "JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS."<sup>20</sup> Therefore many of the Jews read this title, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek.<sup>21</sup> The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, "Don't write, 'The King of the Jews,' but, 'he said, 'I am King of the Jews.'"

<sup>23</sup> Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.<sup>24</sup> Then they said to one another, "Let's not tear it, but cast lots for it to decide whose it will be," that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which says, "They parted my garments amongst them. For my cloak they cast lots."<sup>a</sup>

Therefore the soldiers did these things.<sup>25</sup> But standing by Jesus' cross were his mother, his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.<sup>26</sup> Therefore when Jesus saw his mother, and the disciple whom he loved standing there, he said to his mother, "Woman, behold, your son!"<sup>27</sup> Then he said to the disciple, "Behold, your mother!" From that hour, the disciple took her to his own home.

<sup>28</sup> After this, Jesus, seeing§ that all things were now finished, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, said, "I am thirsty."<sup>29</sup> Now a vessel full of vinegar was set there; so they put a sponge full of the vinegar on hyssop, and held it at his mouth.<sup>30</sup> When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, "It is finished." He bowed his head, and gave up his spirit.

remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a special one), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.<sup>32</sup> Therefore the soldiers came, and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who was crucified with him;<sup>33</sup> but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was already dead, they didn't break his legs.<sup>34</sup> However one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and immediately blood and water came out.<sup>35</sup> He who has seen has testified, and his testimony is true. He knows that he tells the truth, that you may believe.<sup>36</sup> For these things happened that the Scripture might be fulfilled, "A bone of him will not be broken."<sup>b</sup><sup>37</sup> Again another Scripture says, "They will look on him whom they pierced."<sup>c</sup>

<sup>38</sup> After these things, Joseph of Arimathaea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away Jesus' body. Pilate gave him permission. He came therefore and took away his body.<sup>39</sup> Nicodemus, who at first came to Jesus by night, also came bringing a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred Roman pounds.<sup>**</sup><sup>40</sup> So they took Jesus' body, and bound it in linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury.<sup>41</sup> Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden. In the garden was a new tomb in which no man had ever yet been laid.<sup>42</sup> Then because of the Jews' Preparation Day (for the tomb was near at hand) they laid Jesus there.

20 Now on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene went early, while it was still dark, to the tomb, and saw the stone taken away from the tomb.<sup>2</sup> Therefore she ran and came to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and said to them, "They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have laid him!"

<sup>3</sup>Therefore Peter and the other disciple went out, and they went towards the tomb. <sup>4</sup>They both ran together. The other disciple outran Peter, and came to the tomb first. <sup>5</sup>Stooping and looking in, he saw the linen cloths lying, yet he didn't enter in. <sup>6</sup>Then Simon Peter came, following him, and entered into the tomb. He saw the linen cloths lying, <sup>7</sup>and the cloth that had been on his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. <sup>8</sup>So then the other disciple who came first to the tomb also entered in, and he saw and believed. <sup>9</sup>For as yet they didn't know the Scripture, that he must rise from the dead. <sup>10</sup>So the disciples went away again to their own homes.

<sup>11</sup>But Mary was standing outside at the tomb weeping. So as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb, <sup>12</sup>and she saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. <sup>13</sup>They asked her, "Woman, why are you weeping?"

She said to them, "Because they have taken away my Lord, and I don't know where they have laid him." <sup>14</sup>When she had said this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing, and didn't know that it was Jesus.

<sup>15</sup>Jesus said to her, "Woman, why are you weeping? Who are you looking for?"

She, supposing him to be the gardener, said to him, "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have laid him, and I will take him away."

She turned and said to him, "Rabboni!"†† which is to say, "Teacher!"‡‡

<sup>17</sup>Jesus said to her, "Don't hold me, for I haven't yet ascended to my Father; but go to my brothers and tell them, 'I am ascending to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.'"

<sup>18</sup>Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had said these things to her. <sup>19</sup>When therefore it was evening on that day, the first day of the week, and when the doors were locked where the disciples were assembled, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the middle, and said to them, "Peace be to you."

<sup>20</sup>When he had said this, he showed them his hands and his side. The disciples therefore were glad when they saw the Lord. <sup>21</sup>Jesus therefore said to them again, "Peace be to you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." <sup>22</sup>When he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit! <sup>23</sup>If you forgive anyone's sins, they have been forgiven them. If you retain anyone's sins, they have been retained."

<sup>24</sup>But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, wasn't with them when Jesus came. <sup>25</sup>The other disciples therefore said to him, "We have seen the Lord!"

But he said to them, "Unless I see in his hands the print of the nails, put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe."

<sup>26</sup>After eight days again his disciples were inside and Thomas was with them. Jesus came, the doors being locked, and stood in the middle, and said, "Peace be to you." <sup>27</sup>Then he said to Thomas, "Reach here your finger, and see my hands. Reach here your hand, and put it into my side. Don't be unbelieving, but believing."

that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in his name.

21 After these things, Jesus revealed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. He revealed himself this way. <sup>2</sup> Simon Peter, Thomas called Didymus, Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples were together. <sup>3</sup> Simon Peter said to them, "I'm going fishing."

They told him, "We are also coming with you." They immediately went out, and entered into the boat. That night, they caught nothing. <sup>4</sup> But when day had already come, Jesus stood on the beach, yet the disciples didn't know that it was Jesus. <sup>5</sup> Jesus therefore said to them, "Children, have you anything to eat?"

They answered him, "No."

They cast it therefore, and now they weren't able to draw it in for the multitude of fish. <sup>7</sup> That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved said to Peter, "It's the Lord!"

So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he wrapped his coat around himself (for he was naked), and threw himself into the sea. <sup>8</sup> But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits§§ away), dragging the net full of fish. <sup>9</sup> So when they got out on the land, they saw a fire of coals there, with fish and bread laid on it. <sup>10</sup> Jesus said to them, "Bring some of the fish which you have just caught."

<sup>11</sup> Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land, full of one hundred and fifty-three great fish. Even though there were so many, the net wasn't torn.

<sup>12</sup> Jesus said to them, "Come and eat breakfast!"

None of the disciples dared enquire of him, "Who are you?" knowing that it was the Lord.

<sup>13</sup> Then Jesus came and took the bread, gave it to them, and the fish likewise. <sup>14</sup> This is now the third time that Jesus was revealed to his disciples after he had risen from the dead. <sup>15</sup> So when they had eaten their breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of Jonah, do you love me more than these?"

He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I have affection for you."

He said to him, "Feed my lambs." <sup>16</sup> He said to him again a second time, "Simon, son of Jonah, do you love me?"

He said to him, "Yes, Lord; you know that I have affection for you."

He said to him, "Tend my sheep." <sup>17</sup> He said to him the third time, "Simon, son of Jonah, do you have affection for me?"

Peter was grieved because he asked him the third time, "Do you have affection for me?" He said to him, "Lord, you know everything. You know that I have affection for you."

Jesus said to him, "Feed my sheep. <sup>18</sup> Most certainly I tell you, when you were young, you dressed yourself and walked where you wanted to. But when you are old, you will stretch out your hands, and another will dress you and carry you where you don't want to go."

<sup>19</sup> Now he said this, signifying by what kind of death he would glorify God. When he had said this, he said to him, "Follow me."

<sup>20</sup> Then Peter, turning around, saw a disciple following. This was the disciple whom Jesus loved, the one who had also leaned on Jesus' breast at the supper and asked, "Lord, who is going to betray you?" <sup>21</sup> Peter seeing him, said to Jesus, "Lord, what about this man?"

<sup>22</sup> Jesus said to him, "If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you? You follow me." <sup>23</sup> This saying therefore went out amongst the brothers,* that this disciple wouldn't die. Yet Jesus didn't say to him that he wouldn't die, but, "If I desire that he stay until I come, what is that to you?"<sup>24</sup> This is the disciple who testifies about these things, and wrote these things. We know that his witness is true.<sup>25</sup> There are also many other things which Jesus did, which if they would all be written, I suppose that even the world itself wouldn't have room for the books that would be written.

The Acts of the Apostles

1 The first book I wrote, Theophilus, concerned all that Jesus began both to do and to teach, 2 until the day in which he was received up, after he had given commandment through the Holy Spirit to the apostles whom he had chosen. 3 To these he also showed himself alive after he suffered, by many proofs, appearing to them over a period of forty days, and speaking about God's Kingdom. 4 Being assembled together with them, he commanded them, "Don't depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which you heard from me. 5 For John indeed baptised in water, but you will be baptised in the Holy Spirit not many days from now."

6 Therefore when they had come together, they asked him, "Lord, are you now restoring the kingdom to Israel?"

7 He said to them, "It isn't for you to know times or seasons which the Father has set within his own authority. 8 But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you. You will be witnesses to me in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the uttermost parts of the earth."

9 When he had said these things, as they were looking, he was taken up, and a cloud received him out of their sight. 10 While they were looking steadfastly into the sky as he went, behold,† two men stood by them in white clothing, 11 who also said, "You men of Galilee, why do you stand looking into the sky? This Jesus, who was received up from you into the sky, will come back in the same way as you saw him going into the sky."

12 Then they returned to Jerusalem from the mountain called Olivet, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day's journey away. 13 When they had come in, they went up into the upper room where they were staying; that is Peter, John, James, Andrew, Philip, Thomas, Bartholomew, Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. 14 All these with one accord continued steadfastly in prayer and supplication, along with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.

15 In these days, Peter stood up in the middle of the disciples (and the number of names was about one hundred and twenty), and said, 16 "Brothers, it was necessary that this Scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Spirit spoke before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, who was guide to those who took Jesus. 17 For he was counted with us, and received his portion in this ministry. 18 Now this man obtained a field with the reward for his wickedness, and falling headlong, his body burst open, and all his intestines gushed out. 19 It became known to everyone who lived in Jerusalem that in their language that field was called 'Akeldama,' that is, 'The field of blood.' 20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, 'Let his habitation be made desolate. Let no one dwell in it;'<sup>d</sup> and,

'Let another take his office.'<sup>e</sup>

21 "Of the men therefore who have accompanied us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out amongst us, 22 beginning from the baptism of John, to the day that he was received up from us, of these one must become a witness with us of his resurrection."

23 They put forward two, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was also called Justus, and Matthias. 24 They prayed and said, "You, Lord, who know the hearts of all men, show which one of these two you have chosen 25 to take part in this ministry and apostleship from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place." 26 They drew lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias, and he was counted with the eleven apostles.

2 Now when the day of Pentecost had come, they were all with one accord in one place. 2 Suddenly there came from the sky a sound like the rushing of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. 3 Tongues like fire appeared and were distributed to them, and one sat on each of them. 4 They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak with other languages, as the Spirit gave them the ability to speak. 5 Now there were dwelling in Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under the sky. 6 When this sound was heard, the multitude came together and were bewildered, because everyone heard them speaking in his own language. 7 They were all amazed and marvelled, saying to one another, "Behold, aren't all these who speak Galileans? 8 How do we hear, everyone in our own native language? 9 Parthians, Medes, Elamites, and people from Mesopotamia, Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, Asia, 10 Phrygia, Pamphylia, Egypt, the parts of Libya around Cyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretans and Arabians: we hear them speaking in our languages the mighty works of God!" 12 They were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying to one another, "What does this mean?" 13 Others, mocking, said, "They are filled with new wine."

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke out to them, "You men of Judea, and all you who dwell at Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and listen to my words. 15 For these aren't drunken, as you suppose, seeing it is only the third hour of the day.† 16 But this is what has been spoken through the prophet Joel:
17 'It will be in the last days, says God, that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh.

Your sons and your daughters will prophesy.
Your young men will see visions.
Your old men will dream dreams.

18 Yes, and on my servants and on my handmaidens in those days,

I will pour out my Spirit, and they will prophesy.

19 I will show wonders in the sky above, and signs on the earth beneath:
blood, and fire, and billows of smoke.

20 The sun will be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and glorious day of the Lord comes.

21 It will be that whoever will call on the name of the Lord will be saved.†

22 "Men of Israel, hear these words! Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved by God to you by mighty works and wonders and signs which God did by him amongst you, even as you yourselves know, 23 him, being delivered up by the determined counsel and foreknowledge of God, you have taken by the hand of lawless men, crucified and killed; 24 whom God raised up, having freed him from the agony of death, because it was not possible that he should be held by it. 25 For David says concerning him, 'I saw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved.

26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced.

Moreover my flesh also will dwell in hope;

27 because you will not leave my soul in Hades,‡ neither will you allow your Holy One to see decay.

28 You made known to me the ways of life.

You will make me full of gladness with your presence.§

29 "Brothers, I may tell you freely of the patriarch David, that he both died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day.<sup>30</sup> Therefore, being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him that of the fruit of his body, according to the flesh, he would raise up the Christ to sit on his throne,<sup>31</sup> he foreseeing this spoke about the resurrection of the Christ, that his soul wasn't left in Hades,§ and his flesh didn't see decay.<sup>32</sup> This Jesus God raised up, to which we all are witnesses.<sup>33</sup> Being therefore exalted by the right hand of God, and having received from the Father the promise of the Holy Spirit, he has poured out this, which you now see and hear.<sup>34</sup> For David didn't ascend into the heavens, but he says himself,

'The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit by my right hand

<sup>36</sup> "Let all the house of Israel therefore know certainly that God has made him both Lord and Christ, this Jesus whom you crucified."

<sup>37</sup> Now when they heard this, they were cut to the heart, and said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, "Brothers, what shall we do?"

<sup>38</sup> Peter said to them, "Repent, and be baptised, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.<sup>39</sup> For the promise is to you, and to your children, and to all who are far off, even as many as the Lord our God will call to himself."<sup>40</sup> With many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, "Save yourselves from this crooked generation!"

<sup>41</sup> Then those who gladly received his word were baptised. There were added that day about three thousand souls.<sup>42</sup> They continued steadfastly in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of bread, and prayer.<sup>43</sup> Fear came on every soul, and many wonders and signs were done through the apostles.<sup>44</sup> All who believed were together, and had all things in common.<sup>45</sup> They sold their possessions and goods, and distributed them to all, according as anyone had need.<sup>46</sup> Day by day, continuing steadfastly with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread at home, they took their food with gladness and singleness of heart,<sup>47</sup> praising God, and having favour with all the people. The Lord added to the assembly day by day those who were being saved.

3 Peter and John were going up into the temple at the hour of prayer, the ninth hour.<sup>** 2</sup> A certain man who was lame from his mother's womb was being carried, whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask gifts for the needy of those who entered into the temple.<sup>3</sup> Seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, he asked to receive gifts for the needy.<sup>4</sup> Peter, fastening his eyes on him, with John, said, "Look at us."<sup>5</sup> He listened to them, expecting to receive something from them.<sup>6</sup> But Peter said, "I have no silver or gold, but what I have, that I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, get up and walk!"<sup>7</sup> He took him by the right hand and raised him up. Immediately his feet and his ankle bones received strength.<sup>8</sup> Leaping up, he stood and began to walk. He entered with them into the temple, walking, leaping, and praising God.<sup>9</sup> All the people saw him walking and praising God.<sup>10</sup> They recognised him, that it was he who used to sit begging for gifts for the needy at the Beautiful Gate of the temple. They were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.<sup>11</sup> As the lame man who was healed held on to Peter and John, all the people ran together to them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

<sup>12</sup> When Peter saw it, he responded to the people, "You men of Israel, why do you marvel at this man? Why do you fasten your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him walk? <sup>13</sup>The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up, and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had determined to release him. <sup>14</sup>But you denied the Holy and Righteous One and asked for a murderer to be granted to you, <sup>15</sup>and killed the Prince of life, whom God raised from the dead, to which we are witnesses. <sup>16</sup>By faith in his name, his name has made this man strong, whom you see and know. Yes, the faith which is through him has given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

<sup>17</sup>“Now, brothers,†† I know that you did this in ignorance, as did also your rulers. <sup>18</sup>But the things which God announced by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he thus fulfilled.

<sup>19</sup>“Repent therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, so that there may come times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord, <sup>20</sup>and that he may send Christ Jesus, who was ordained for you before, <sup>21</sup>whom heaven must receive until the times of restoration of all things, which God spoke long ago by the mouth of his holy prophets. <sup>22</sup>For Moses indeed said to the fathers, ‘The Lord God will raise up a prophet for you from amongst your brothers, like me. You shall listen to him in all things whatever he says to you. <sup>23</sup>It will be that every soul that will not listen to that prophet will be utterly destroyed from amongst the people.’‡ <sup>24</sup>Yes, and all the prophets from Samuel and those who followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. <sup>25</sup>You are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying to Abraham, ‘All the families of the earth will be blessed through your offspring.’<sup>‡‡j</sup> <sup>26</sup>God, having raised up his servant Jesus, sent him to you first to bless you, in turning away every one of you from your wickedness.”

4 As they spoke to the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came to them, <sup>2</sup>being upset because they taught the people and proclaimed in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. <sup>3</sup>They laid hands on them, and put them in custody until the next day, for it was now evening. <sup>4</sup>But many of those who heard the word believed, and the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

<sup>8</sup>Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, “You rulers of the people, and elders of Israel, <sup>9</sup>if we are examined today concerning a good deed done to a crippled man, by what means this man has been healed, <sup>10</sup>may it be known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, this man stands here before you whole in him. <sup>11</sup>He is ‘the stone which was regarded as worthless by you, the builders, which has become the head of the corner.’<sup>k</sup> <sup>12</sup>There is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven that is given amongst men, by which we must be saved!”

<sup>13</sup>Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled. They recognised that they had been with Jesus. <sup>14</sup> Seeing the man who was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it. <sup>15</sup> But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred amongst themselves, <sup>16</sup> saying, “What shall we do to these men? Because indeed a notable miracle has been done through them, as can be plainly seen by all who dwell in Jerusalem, and we can’t deny it. <sup>17</sup> But so that this spreads no further amongst the people, let’s threaten them, that from now on they don’t speak to anyone in this name.” <sup>18</sup> They called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

<sup>19</sup> But Peter and John answered them, “Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God, judge for yourselves, <sup>20</sup> for we can’t help telling the things which we saw and heard.”

<sup>21</sup> When they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding no way to punish them, because of the people; for everyone glorified God for that which was done. <sup>22</sup> For the man on whom this miracle of healing was performed was more than forty years old.

<sup>23</sup> Being let go, they came to their own company and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said to them. <sup>24</sup> When they heard it, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, “O Lord, you are God, who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and all that is in them; <sup>25</sup> who by the mouth of your servant, David, said,

‘Why do the nations rage,
and the peoples plot a vain thing?’

<sup>26</sup> The kings of the earth take a stand, and the rulers take council together, against the Lord, and against his Christ.”

<sup>27</sup> “For truly, §§ both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, were gathered together against your holy servant, Jesus, whom you anointed, <sup>28</sup> to do whatever your hand and your council foreordained to happen. <sup>29</sup> Now, Lord, look at their threats, and grant to your servants to speak your word with all boldness, <sup>30</sup> while you stretch out your hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done through the name of your holy Servant Jesus.”

<sup>31</sup> When they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were gathered together. They were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and they spoke the word of God with boldness. <sup>32</sup> The multitude of those who believed were of one heart and soul. Not one of them claimed that anything of the things which he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common. <sup>33</sup> With great power, the apostles gave their testimony of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. Great grace was on them all. <sup>34</sup> For neither was there amongst them any who lacked, for as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them, and brought the proceeds of the things that were sold, <sup>35</sup> and laid them at the apostles’ feet, and distribution was made to each, according as anyone had need. <sup>36</sup> Joses, who by the apostles was also called Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, Son of Encouragement), a Levite, a man of Cyprus by race, <sup>37</sup> having a field, sold it and brought the money and laid it at the apostles’ feet.

5 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira, his wife, sold a possession, <sup>2</sup> and kept back part of the price, his wife also being aware of it, then brought a certain part and laid it at the apostles’ feet. <sup>3</sup> But Peter said, “Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit and to keep back part of the price of the land? <sup>4</sup> While you kept it, didn’t it remain your own? After it was sold, wasn’t it in your power? How is it that you have conceived this thing in your heart? You haven't lied to men, but to God."

<sup>5</sup> Ananias, hearing these words, fell down and died. Great fear came on all who heard these things. <sup>6</sup> The young men arose and wrapped him up, and they carried him out and buried him. <sup>7</sup> About three hours later, his wife, not knowing what had happened, came in. <sup>8</sup> Peter answered her, "Tell me whether you sold the land for so much."

She said, "Yes, for so much."

<sup>9</sup> But Peter asked her, "How is it that you have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold, the feet of those who have buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out."

<sup>10</sup> She fell down immediately at his feet and died. The young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. <sup>11</sup> Great fear came on the whole assembly, and on all who heard these things. <sup>12</sup> By the hands of the apostles many signs and wonders were done amongst the people. They were all with one accord in Solomon's porch. <sup>13</sup> None of the rest dared to join them, however the people honoured them. <sup>14</sup> More believers were added to the Lord, multitudes of both men and women. <sup>15</sup> They even carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on cots and mattresses, so that as Peter came by, at the least his shadow might overshadow some of them. <sup>16</sup> The multitude also came together from the cities around Jerusalem, bringing sick people and those who were tormented by unclean spirits: and they were all healed.

<sup>17</sup> But the high priest rose up, and all those who were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees), and they were filled with jealousy <sup>18</sup> and laid hands on the apostles, then put them in public custody. <sup>19</sup> But an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors by night, and brought them out and said, <sup>20</sup> "Go stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life."

<sup>21</sup> When they heard this, they entered into the temple about daybreak and taught. But the high priest came, and those who were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought. <sup>22</sup> But the officers who came didn't find them in the prison. They returned and reported, <sup>23</sup> "We found the prison shut and locked, and the guards standing before the doors, but when we opened them, we found no one inside!"

<sup>24</sup> Now when the high priest, the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these words, they were very perplexed about them and what might become of this. <sup>25</sup> One came and told them, "Behold, the men whom you put in prison are in the temple, standing and teaching the people." <sup>26</sup> Then the captain went with the officers, and brought them without violence, for they were afraid that the people might stone them.

<sup>27</sup> When they had brought them, they set them before the council. The high priest questioned them, <sup>28</sup> saying, "Didn't we strictly command you not to teach in this name? Behold, you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and intend to bring this man's blood on us."

<sup>29</sup> But Peter and the apostles answered, "We must obey God rather than men. <sup>30</sup> The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom you killed, hanging him on a tree. <sup>31</sup> God exalted him with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, to give repentance to Israel, and remission of sins. <sup>32</sup> We are his witnesses of these things; and so also is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him."

<sup>33</sup> But they, when they heard this, were cut to the heart, and were determined to kill them. <sup>34</sup> But one stood up in the council, a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law, honoured by all the people, and commanded to put the apostles out for a little while. <sup>35</sup> He said to them, "You men of Israel, be careful concerning these men, what you are about to do. <sup>36</sup> For before these days Theudas rose up, making himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves. He was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nothing. <sup>37</sup>After this man, Judas of Galilee rose up in the days of the enrolment, and drew away some people after him. He also perished, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. <sup>38</sup>Now I tell you, withdraw from these men, and leave them alone. For if this counsel or this work is of men, it will be overthrown. <sup>39</sup>But if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it, and you would be found even to be fighting against God!"

<sup>40</sup>They agreed with him. Summoning the apostles, they beat them and commanded them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. <sup>41</sup>They therefore departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonour for Jesus' name.

<sup>42</sup>Every day, in the temple and at home, they never stopped teaching and preaching Jesus, the Christ.

6 Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, a complaint arose from the Hellenists* against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily service. <sup>2</sup>The twelve summoned the multitude of the disciples and said, "It is not appropriate for us to forsake the word of God and serve tables. <sup>3</sup>Therefore select from amongst you, brothers, seven men of good report, full of the Holy Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. <sup>4</sup>But we will continue steadfastly in prayer and in the ministry of the word."

ties. When they had prayed, they laid their hands on them. <sup>7</sup>The word of God increased and the number of the disciples greatly multiplied in Jerusalem. A great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

<sup>8</sup>Stephen, full of faith and power, performed great wonders and signs amongst the people. <sup>9</sup>But some of those who were of the synagogue called "The Libertines", and of the Cyrenians, of the Alexandrians, and of those of Cilicia and Asia arose, disputing with Stephen. <sup>10</sup>They weren't able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spoke. <sup>11</sup>Then they secretly induced men to say, "We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and God." <sup>12</sup>They stirred up the people, the elders, and the scribes, and came against him and seized him, then brought him in to the council, <sup>13</sup>and set up false witnesses who said, "This man never stops speaking blasphemous words against this holy place and the law. <sup>14</sup>For we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth will destroy this place, and will change the customs which Moses delivered to us." <sup>15</sup>All who sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face like it was the face of an angel.

7 The high priest said, "Are these things so?" <sup>2</sup>He said, "Brothers and fathers, listen. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran, <sup>3</sup>and said to him, 'Get out of your land and away from your relatives, and come into a land which I will show you.'<sup>m</sup> <sup>4</sup>Then he came out of the land of the Chaldeans and lived in Haran. From there, when his father was dead, God moved him into this land, where you are now living. <sup>5</sup>He gave him no inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on. He promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his offspring after him, when he still had no child.

<sup>6</sup> God spoke in this way: that his offspring would live as aliens in a strange land, and that they would be enslaved and mistreated for four hundred years. <sup>7</sup> 'I will judge the nation to which they will be in bondage,' said God, 'and after that they will come out, and serve me in this place.'<sup>n</sup> <sup>8</sup> He gave him the covenant of circumcision. So Abraham became the father of Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day. Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob became the father of the twelve patriarchs.

<sup>9</sup> "The patriarchs, moved with jealousy against Joseph, sold him into Egypt. God was with him, <sup>10</sup> and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. He made him governor over Egypt and all his house. <sup>11</sup> Now a famine came over all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction. Our fathers found no food. <sup>12</sup> But when Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent out our fathers the first time. <sup>13</sup> On the second time Joseph was made known to his brothers, and Joseph's race was revealed to Pharaoh. <sup>14</sup> Joseph sent and summoned Jacob, his father, and all his relatives, seventy-five souls. <sup>15</sup> Jacob went down into Egypt and he died, himself and our fathers, <sup>16</sup> and they were brought back to Shechem, and laid in the tomb that Abraham bought for a price in silver from the children of Hamor of Shechem.

<sup>17</sup> "But as the time of the promise came close which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, <sup>18</sup> until there arose a different king, who didn't know Joseph. <sup>19</sup> The same took advantage of our race, and mistreated our fathers, and forced them to throw out their babies, so that they wouldn't stay alive. <sup>20</sup> At that time Moses was born, and was exceedingly handsome. He was nourished three months in his father's house. <sup>21</sup> When he was thrown out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up and reared him as her own son. <sup>22</sup> Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians. He was mighty in his words and works. <sup>23</sup> But when he was forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brothers,† the children of Israel. <sup>24</sup> Seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him who was oppressed, striking the Egyptian. <sup>25</sup> He supposed that his brothers understood that God, by his hand, was giving them deliverance; but they didn't understand.

<sup>26</sup> "The day following, he appeared to them as they fought, and urged them to be at peace again, saying, 'Sirs, you are brothers. Why do you wrong one another?' <sup>27</sup> But he who did his neighbour wrong pushed him away, saying, 'Who made you a ruler and a judge over us?' <sup>28</sup> Do you want to kill me, as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'<sup>o</sup> <sup>29</sup> Moses fled at this saying, and became a stranger in the land of Midian, where he became the father of two sons.

<sup>30</sup> "When forty years were fulfilled, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in the wilderness of Mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. <sup>31</sup> When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight. As he came close to see, a voice of the Lord came to him, <sup>32</sup> 'I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.'<sup>p</sup> Moses trembled, and dared not look. <sup>33</sup> The Lord said to him, 'Take off your sandals, for the place where you stand is holy ground. <sup>34</sup> I have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Egypt, and have heard their groaning. I have come down to deliver them. Now come, I will send you into Egypt.'<sup>q</sup>

<sup>35</sup> "This Moses, whom they refused, saying, 'Who made you a ruler and a judge?'—God has sent him as both a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush. <sup>36</sup> This man led them out, hav-

<sup>37</sup>This is that Moses, who said to the children of Israel, "The Lord our God will raise up a prophet for you from amongst your brothers, like me."† <sup>38</sup>This is he who was in the assembly in the wilderness with the angel that spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our fathers, who received living revelations to give to us, <sup>39</sup>to whom our fathers wouldn't be obedient, but rejected him, and turned back in their hearts to Egypt, <sup>40</sup>saying to Aaron, "Make us gods that will go before us, for as for this Moses, who led us out of the land of Egypt, we don't know what has become of him."<sup>s</sup> <sup>41</sup>They made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice to the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands. <sup>42</sup>But God turned, and gave them up to serve the army of the sky,¶ as it is written in the book of the prophets,

'Did you offer to me slain animals and sacrifices forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

<sup>43</sup>You took up the tabernacle of Moloch, the star of your god Rephan, the figures which you made to worship. I will carry you away beyond Babylon.'

<sup>44</sup>"Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, even as he who spoke to Moses commanded him to make it according to the pattern that he had seen; <sup>45</sup>which also our fathers, in their turn, brought in with Joshua when they entered into the possession of the nations, whom God drove out before the face of our fathers, to the days of David, <sup>46</sup>who found favour in the sight of God, and asked to find a habitation for the God of Jacob. <sup>47</sup>But Solomon built him a house. <sup>48</sup>However, the Most High doesn't dwell in temples made with hands, as the prophet says,

<sup>49</sup>'heaven is my throne, and the earth a footstool for my feet.
What kind of house will you build me?' says the Lord.

'Or what is the place of my rest?

<sup>51</sup>"You stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit! As your fathers did, so you do. <sup>52</sup>Which of the prophets didn't your fathers persecute? They killed those who foretold the coming of the Righteous One, of whom you have now become betrayers and murderers. <sup>53</sup>You received the law as it was ordained by angels, and didn't keep it!"

<sup>54</sup>Now when they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed at him with their teeth. <sup>55</sup>But he, being full of the Holy Spirit, looked up steadfastly into heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, <sup>56</sup>and said, "Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!"

8 Saul was consenting to his death. A great persecution arose against the assembly which was in Jerusalem in that day. They were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except for the apostles. <sup>2</sup> Devout men buried Stephen and lamented greatly over him. <sup>3</sup> But Saul ravaged the assembly, entering into every house and dragged both men and women off to prison. <sup>4</sup> Therefore those who were scattered abroad went around preaching the word. <sup>5</sup> Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed to them the Christ. <sup>6</sup> The multitudes listened with one accord to the things that were spoken by Philip when they heard and saw the signs which he did. <sup>7</sup> For unclean spirits came out of many of those who had them. They came out, crying with a loud voice. Many who had been paralysed and lame were healed. <sup>8</sup> There was great joy in that city.

<sup>9</sup> But there was a certain man, Simon by name, who used to practise sorcery in the city and amazed the people of Samaria, making himself out to be some great one, <sup>10</sup> to whom they all listened, from the least to the greatest, saying, "This man is that great power of God." <sup>11</sup> They listened to him, because for a long time he had amazed them with his sorceries. <sup>12</sup> But when they believed Philip preaching good news concerning God's Kingdom and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women. <sup>13</sup> Simon himself also believed. Being baptised, he continued with Philip. Seeing signs and great miracles occurring, he was amazed.

<sup>14</sup> Now when the apostles who were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them, <sup>15</sup> who, when they had come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Spirit; <sup>16</sup> for as yet he had fallen on none of them. They had only been baptised in the name of Christ Jesus. <sup>17</sup> Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit. <sup>18</sup> Now when Simon saw that the Holy Spirit was given through the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money, <sup>19</sup> saying, "Give me also this power, that whomever I lay my hands on may receive the Holy Spirit." <sup>20</sup> But Peter said to him, "May your silver perish with you, because you thought you could obtain the gift of God with money! <sup>21</sup> You have neither part nor lot in this matter, for your heart isn't right before God. <sup>22</sup> Repent therefore of this, your wickedness, and ask God if perhaps the thought of your heart may be forgiven you. <sup>23</sup> For I see that you are in the poison of bitterness and in the bondage of iniquity."

<sup>24</sup> Simon answered, "Pray for me to the Lord, that none of the things which you have spoken happen to me."

<sup>25</sup> They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the Good News to many villages of the Samaritans. <sup>26</sup> But an angel of the Lord spoke to Philip, saying, "Arise, and go towards the south to the way that goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza. This is a desert."

<sup>27</sup> He arose and went; and behold, there was a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, who was over all her treasure, who had come to Jerusalem to worship. <sup>28</sup> He was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah.

<sup>30</sup> Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, "Do you understand what you are reading?"

<sup>31</sup> He said, "How can I, unless someone explains it to me?" He begged Philip to come up and sit with him. <sup>32</sup> Now the passage of the Scripture which he was reading was this, "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter. As a lamb before his shearer is silent, so he doesn't open his mouth.

<sup>33</sup> In his humiliation, his judgement was taken away.

Who will declare His generation?
For his life is taken from the earth."v

<sup>34</sup>The eunuch answered Philip, “Who is the prophet talking about? About himself, or about someone else?”

<sup>35</sup>Philip opened his mouth, and beginning from this Scripture, preached to him about Jesus. <sup>36</sup>As they went on the way, they came to some water, and the eunuch said, “Behold, here is water. What is keeping me from being baptised?”

<sup>37</sup>§<sup>38</sup>He commanded the chariot to stand still, and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch, and he baptised him.

<sup>39</sup>When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught Philip away, and the eunuch didn’t see him any more, for he went on his way rejoicing. <sup>40</sup>But Philip was found at Azotus. Passing through, he preached the Good News to all the cities, until he came to Caesarea.

9 But Saul, still breathing threats and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest <sup>2</sup>and asked for letters from him to the synagogues of Damascus, that if he found any who were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. <sup>3</sup>As he travelled, he got close to Damascus, and suddenly a light from the sky shone around him. <sup>4</sup>He fell on the earth, and heard a voice saying to him, “Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?”

<sup>5</sup>He said, “Who are you, Lord?”

The Lord said, “I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.** <sup>6</sup>But†† rise up and enter into the city, then you will be told what you must do.”

<sup>7</sup>The men who travelled with him stood speechless, hearing the sound, but seeing no one. <sup>8</sup>Saul arose from the ground, and when his eyes were opened, he saw no one. They led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. <sup>9</sup>He was without sight for three days, and neither ate nor drank.

<sup>10</sup>Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias. The Lord said to him in a vision, “Ananias!”

He said, “Behold, it’s me, Lord.”

<sup>11</sup>The Lord said to him, “Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judah‡‡ for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus. For behold, he is praying, <sup>12</sup>and in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias coming in and laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight.”

<sup>13</sup>But Ananias answered, “Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he did to your saints at Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup>Here he has authority from the chief priests to bind all who call on your name.”

<sup>15</sup>But the Lord said to him, “Go your way, for he is my chosen vessel to bear my name before the nations and kings, and the children of Israel. <sup>16</sup>For I will show him how many things he must suffer for my name’s sake.”

<sup>17</sup>Ananias departed and entered into the house. Laying his hands on him, he said, “Brother Saul, the Lord, who appeared to you on the road by which you came, has sent me that you may receive your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit.” <sup>18</sup>Immediately something like scales fell from his eyes, and he received his sight. He arose and was baptised. <sup>19</sup>He took food and was strengthened. Saul stayed several days with the disciples who were at Damascus. <sup>20</sup>Immediately in the synagogues he proclaimed the Christ, that he is the Son of God. <sup>21</sup>All who heard him were amazed, and said, “Isn’t this he who in Jerusalem made havoc of those who called on this name? And he had come here intending to bring them bound before the chief priests!”

<sup>22</sup> But Saul increased more in strength, and confounded the Jews who lived at Damascus, proving that this is the Christ. <sup>23</sup> When many days were fulfilled, the Jews conspired together to kill him, <sup>24</sup> but their plot became known to Saul. They watched the gates both day and night that they might kill him, <sup>25</sup> but his disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket. <sup>26</sup> When Saul had come to Jerusalem, he tried to join himself to the disciples; but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. <sup>27</sup> But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles, and declared to them how he had seen the Lord on the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus. <sup>28</sup> He was with them entering into Jerusalem, <sup>29</sup> preaching boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus. §§ He spoke and disputed against the Hellenists,* but they were seeking to kill him. <sup>30</sup> When the brothers† knew it, they brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him off to Tarsus. <sup>31</sup> So the assemblies throughout all Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had peace, and were built up. They were multiplied, walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>32</sup> As Peter went throughout all those parts, he came down also to the saints who lived at Lydda. <sup>33</sup> There he found a certain man named Aeneas, who had been bedridden for eight years, because he was paralysed. <sup>34</sup> Peter said to him, “Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Get up and make your bed!” Immediately he arose. <sup>35</sup> All who lived at Lydda and in Sharon saw him, and they turned to the Lord.

<sup>36</sup> Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which when translated, means Dorcas.‡ This woman was full of good works and acts of mercy which she did. <sup>37</sup> In those days, she became sick, and died. When they had washed her, they laid her in an upper room. <sup>38</sup> As Lydda was near Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men¶ to him, imploring him not to delay in coming to them. <sup>39</sup> Peter got up and went with them. When he had come, they brought him into the upper room. All the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dorcas had made while she was with them. <sup>40</sup> Peter sent them all out, and knelt down and prayed. Turning to the body, he said, “Tabitha, get up!” She opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sat up. <sup>41</sup> He gave her his hand, and raised her up. Calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. <sup>42</sup> This became known throughout all Joppa, and many believed in the Lord. <sup>43</sup> He stayed many days in Joppa with a tanner named Simon.

10 Now there was a certain man in Caesarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of what was called the Italian Regiment, <sup>2</sup> a devout man, and one who feared God with all his house, who gave gifts for the needy generously to the people, and always prayed to God. <sup>3</sup> At about the ninth hour of the day,§ he clearly saw in a vision an angel of God coming to him, and saying to him, “Cornelius!”

<sup>4</sup> He, fastening his eyes on him, and being frightened, said, “What is it, Lord?”

§10:3 3:00 p.m.

He said to him, “Your prayers and your gifts to the needy have gone up for a memorial before God. <sup>5</sup> Now send men to Joppa, and get Simon, who is also called Peter. <sup>6</sup> He is staying with a tanner named Simon, whose house is by the seaside. <sup>**</sup>

<sup>7</sup> When the angel who spoke to him had departed, Cornelius called two of his household servants and a devout soldier of those who waited on him continually. <sup>8</sup> Having explained everything to them, he sent them to Joppa. <sup>9</sup> Now on the next day as they were on their journey, and got close to the city, Peter went up on the housetop to pray at about noon. <sup>10</sup> He became hungry and desired to eat, but while they were preparing, he fell into a trance. <sup>11</sup> He saw heaven opened and a certain container descending to him, like a great sheet let down by four corners on the earth, <sup>12</sup> in which were all kinds of four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, reptiles, and birds of the sky. <sup>13</sup> A voice came to him, “Rise, Peter, kill and eat!”

<sup>14</sup> But Peter said, “Not so, Lord; for I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean.”

<sup>15</sup> A voice came to him again the second time, “What God has cleansed, you must not call unclean.” <sup>16</sup> This was done three times, and immediately the vessel was received up into heaven. <sup>17</sup> Now while Peter was very perplexed in himself what the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, the men who were sent by Cornelius, having made enquiry for Simon’s house, stood before the gate, <sup>18</sup> and called and asked whether Simon, who was also called Peter, was lodging there. <sup>19</sup> While Peter was pondering the vision, the Spirit said to him, “Behold, three ††men seek you. <sup>20</sup> But arise, get down, and go with them, doubting nothing; for I have sent them.”

<sup>22</sup> They said, “Cornelius, a centurion, a righteous man and one who fears God, and well spoken of by all the nation of the Jews, was directed by a holy angel to invite you to his house, and to listen to what you say.” <sup>23</sup> So he called them in and provided a place to stay. On the next day Peter arose and went out with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa accompanied him. <sup>24</sup> On the next day they entered into Caesarea. Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his relatives and his near friends. <sup>25</sup> When Peter entered, Cornelius met him, fell down at his feet, and worshipped him. <sup>26</sup> But Peter raised him up, saying, “Stand up! I myself am also a man.” <sup>27</sup> As he talked with him, he went in and found many gathered together. <sup>28</sup> He said to them, “You yourselves know how it is an unlawful thing for a man who is a Jew to join himself or come to one of another nation, but God has shown me that I shouldn’t call any man unholy or unclean. <sup>29</sup> Therefore I also came without complaint when I was sent for. I ask therefore, why did you send for me?”

<sup>30</sup> Cornelius said, “Four days ago, I was fasting until this hour, and at the ninth hour, †† I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, <sup>31</sup> and said, ‘Cornelius, your prayer is heard, and your gifts to the needy are remembered in the sight of God. <sup>32</sup> Send therefore to Joppa, and summon Simon, who is also called Peter. He is staying in the house of a tanner named Simon, by the seaside. When he comes, he will speak to you.’ <sup>33</sup> Therefore I sent to you at once, and it was good of you to come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God to hear all things that have been commanded you by God.”

<sup>34</sup> Peter opened his mouth and said, “Truly I perceive that God doesn’t show favouritism; <sup>35</sup> but in every nation he who fears him and works righteousness is acceptable to him. <sup>36</sup> The word which he sent to the children of Israel, preaching good news of peace by Jesus Christ—he is Lord of all— <sup>37</sup> you yourselves know what happened, which was proclaimed throughout all Judea, beginning from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; <sup>38</sup> even Jesus of Nazareth, how God anointed him with the Holy Spirit and with power, who went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the devil, for God was with him. <sup>39</sup> We are witnesses of everything he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; whom they also¶ killed, hanging him on a tree. <sup>40</sup> God raised him up the third day, and gave him to be revealed, <sup>41</sup> not to all the people, but to witnesses who were chosen before by God, to us, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. <sup>42</sup> He commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that this is he who is appointed by God as the Judge of the living and the dead. <sup>43</sup> All the prophets testify about him, that through his name everyone who believes in him will receive remission of sins.”

<sup>44</sup> While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit fell on all those who heard the word. <sup>45</sup> They of the circumcision who believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because the gift of the Holy Spirit was also poured out on the Gentiles. <sup>46</sup> For they heard them speaking in other languages and magnifying God.

Then Peter answered, <sup>47</sup> “Can anyone forbid these people from being baptised with water? They have received the Holy Spirit just like us.” <sup>48</sup> He commanded them to be baptised in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked him to stay some days.

11 Now the apostles and the brothers§§ who were in Judea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God. <sup>2</sup> When Peter had come up to Jerusalem, those who were of the circumcision contended with him, <sup>3</sup> saying, “You went in to uncircumcised men, and ate with them!”

<sup>4</sup> But Peter began, and explained to them in order, saying, <sup>5</sup> “I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision: a certain container descending, like it was a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners. It came as far as me. <sup>6</sup> When I had looked intently at it, I considered, and saw the four-footed animals of the earth, wild animals, creeping things, and birds of the sky. <sup>7</sup> I also heard a voice saying to me, ‘Rise, Peter, kill and eat!’ <sup>8</sup> But I said, ‘Not so, Lord, for nothing unholy or unclean has ever entered into my mouth.’ <sup>9</sup> But a voice answered me the second time out of heaven, ‘What God has cleansed, don’t you call unclean.’ <sup>10</sup> This was done three times, and all were drawn up again into heaven. <sup>11</sup> Behold, immediately three men stood before the house where I was, having been sent from Caesarea to me. <sup>12</sup> The Spirit told me to go with them, without discriminating. These six brothers also accompanied me, and we entered into the man’s house. <sup>13</sup> He told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying to him, ‘Send to Joppa, and get Simon, who is called Peter, <sup>14</sup> who will speak to you words by which you will be saved, you and all your house.’ <sup>15</sup> As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning. <sup>16</sup> I remembered the word of the Lord, how he said, ‘John indeed baptised in water, but you will be baptised in the Holy Spirit.’ <sup>17</sup> If then God gave to them the same gift as us, when we believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I, that I could withstand God?”

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, "Then God has also granted to the Gentiles repentance to life!"

19 They therefore who were scattered abroad by the oppression that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to no one except to Jews only. 20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they had come to Antioch, spoke to the Hellenists,* preaching the Lord Jesus. 21 The hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed and turned to the Lord. 22 The report concerning them came to the ears of the assembly which was in Jerusalem. They sent out Barnabas to go as far as Antioch, 23 who, when he had come, and had seen the grace of God, was glad. He exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they should remain near to the Lord. 24 For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith, and many people were added to the Lord.

25 Barnabas went out to Tarsus to look for Saul. 26 When he had found him, he brought him to Antioch. For a whole year they were gathered together with the assembly, and taught many people. The disciples were first called Christians in Antioch.

27 Now in these days, prophets came down from Jerusalem to Antioch. 28 One of them named Agabus stood up, and indicated by the Spirit that there should be a great famine all over the world, which also happened in the days of Claudius. 29 As any of the disciples had plenty, each determined to send relief to the brothers who lived in Judea; 30 which they also did, sending it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

12 Now about that time, King Herod stretched out his hands to oppress some of the assembly. 2 He killed James, the brother of John, with the sword. 3 When he saw that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. This was during the days of unleavened bread. 4 When he had arrested him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four squads of four soldiers each to guard him, intending to bring him out to the people after the Passover. 5 Peter therefore was kept in the prison, but constant prayer was made by the assembly to God for him. 6 The same night when Herod was about to bring him out, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains. Guards in front of the door kept the prison.

7 And behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side, and woke him up, saying, "Stand up quickly!" His chains fell off his hands. 8 The angel said to him, "Get dressed and put on your sandals." He did so. He said to him, "Put on your cloak and follow me." 9 And he went out and followed him. He didn't know that what was being done by the angel was real, but thought he saw a vision. 10 When they were past the first and the second guard, they came to the iron gate that leads into the city, which opened to them by itself. They went out, and went down one street, and immediately the angel departed from him.

11 When Peter had come to himself, he said, "Now I truly know that the Lord has sent out his angel and delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from everything the Jewish people were expecting." 12 Thinking about that, he came to the house of Mary, the mother of John who was called Mark, where many were gathered together and were praying. 13 When Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a servant girl named Rhoda came to answer. 14 When she recognised Peter's voice, she didn't open the gate for joy, but ran in, and reported that Peter was standing in front of the gate.

15 They said to her, "You are crazy!" But she insisted that it was so. They said, "It is his angel." 16 But Peter continued knocking.

*11:20 A Hellenist is someone who keeps Greek customs and culture.

When they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. <sup>17</sup> But he, beckoning to them with his hand to be silent, declared to them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. He said, "Tell these things to James and to the brothers." Then he departed and went to another place.

<sup>18</sup> Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir amongst the soldiers about what had become of Peter. <sup>19</sup> When Herod had sought for him, and didn't find him, he examined the guards, then commanded that they should be put to death. He went down from Judea to Caesarea, and stayed there. <sup>20</sup> Now Herod was very angry with the people of Tyre and Sidon. They came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus, the king's personal aide, their friend, they asked for peace, because their country depended on the king's country for food. <sup>21</sup> On an appointed day, Herod dressed himself in royal clothing, sat on the throne, and gave a speech to them. <sup>22</sup> The people shouted, "The voice of a god, and not of a man!" <sup>23</sup> Immediately an angel of the Lord struck him, because he didn't give God the glory. Then he was eaten by worms and died.

13 Now in the assembly that was at Antioch there were some prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen the foster brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. <sup>2</sup> As they served the Lord and fasted, the Holy Spirit said, "Separate Barnabas and Saul for me, for the work to which I have called them."

<sup>3</sup> Then, when they had fasted and prayed and laid their hands on them, they sent them away. <sup>4</sup> So, being sent out by the Holy Spirit, they went down to Seleucia. From there they sailed to Cyprus. <sup>5</sup> When they were at Salamis, they proclaimed God's word in the Jewish synagogues. They also had John as their attendant. <sup>6</sup> When they had gone through the island to Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar Jesus, <sup>7</sup> who was with the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. This man summoned Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. <sup>8</sup> But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn the proconsul away from the faith. <sup>9</sup> But Saul, who is also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, fastened his eyes on him, <sup>10</sup> and said, "You son of the devil, full of all deceit and all cunning, you enemy of all righteousness, will you not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?" <sup>11</sup> Now, behold, the hand of the Lord is on you, and you will be blind, not seeing the sun for a season!"

Immediately a mist and darkness fell on him. He went around seeking someone to lead him by the hand. <sup>12</sup> Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the teaching of the Lord.

<sup>13</sup> Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia. John departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. <sup>14</sup> But they, passing on from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia. They went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and sat down. <sup>15</sup> After the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent to them, saying, "Brothers, if you have any word of exhortation for the people, speak."

<sup>16</sup> Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, "Men of Israel, and you who fear God, listen. <sup>17</sup> The God of this people‡ chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they stayed as aliens in the land of Egypt, and with an uplifted arm, he led them out of it. <sup>18</sup> For a period of about forty years he put up with them in the wilderness. <sup>19</sup> When he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, he gave them their land for an inheritance for about four hundred and fifty years. <sup>20</sup> After these things, he gave them judges until Samuel the prophet. <sup>21</sup> Afterward they asked for a king, and God gave to them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years. <sup>22</sup> When he had removed him, he raised up David to be their king, to whom he also testified, ‘I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my heart, who will do all my will.’ <sup>23</sup> From this man’s offspring, God has brought salvation¶ to Israel according to his promise, <sup>24</sup> before his coming, when John had first preached the baptism of repentance to Israel.§ <sup>25</sup> As John was fulfilling his course, he said, ‘What do you suppose that I am? I am not he. But behold, one comes after me, the sandals of whose feet I am not worthy to untie.’ <sup>26</sup> Brothers, children of the stock of Abraham, and those amongst you who fear God, the word of this salvation is sent out to you. <sup>27</sup> For those who dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they didn’t know him, nor the voices of the prophets which are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them by condemning him. <sup>28</sup> Though they found no cause for death, they still asked Pilate to have him killed. <sup>29</sup> When they had fulfilled all things that were written about him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a tomb. <sup>30</sup> But God raised him from the dead, <sup>31</sup> and he was seen for many days by those who came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses to the people. <sup>32</sup> We bring you good news of the promise made to the fathers, <sup>33</sup> that God has fulfilled this to us, their children, in that he raised up Jesus. As it is also written in the second psalm,

‘You are my Son.

Today I have become your father.’<sup>w</sup>

<sup>34</sup> “Concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he has spoken thus: ‘I will give you the holy and sure blessings of David.’<sup>x</sup> <sup>35</sup> Therefore he says also in another psalm, ‘You will not allow your Holy One to see decay.’<sup>y</sup> <sup>36</sup> For David, after he had in his own generation served the counsel of God, fell asleep, was laid with his fathers, and saw decay. <sup>37</sup> But he whom God raised up saw no decay. <sup>38</sup> Be it known to you therefore, brothers,<sup>**</sup> that through this man is proclaimed to you remission of sins, <sup>39</sup> and by him everyone who believes is justified from all things, from which you could not be justified by the law of Moses. <sup>40</sup> Beware therefore, lest that come on you which is spoken in the prophets:

<sup>41</sup> ‘Behold, you scoffers, and wonder, and perish;

for I work a work in your days, a work which you will in no way believe, if one declares it to you.’<sup>z</sup>

<sup>42</sup> So when the Jews went out of the synagogue, the Gentiles begged that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath.

<sup>43</sup> Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas; who, speaking to them, urged them to continue in the grace of God. <sup>44</sup> The next Sabbath, almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God. <sup>45</sup> But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and blasphemed.

<sup>46</sup> Paul and Barnabas spoke out boldly, and said, “It was necessary that God’s word should be spoken to you first. Since indeed you thrust it from yourselves, and judge yourselves unworthy of eternal life, behold, we turn to the Gentiles. <sup>47</sup>For so has the Lord commanded us, saying,

‘I have set you as a light for the Gentiles, that you should bring salvation to the uttermost parts of the earth.’<sup>a</sup>

<sup>48</sup>As the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of God. As many as were appointed to eternal life believed. <sup>49</sup>The Lord’s word was spread abroad throughout all the region. <sup>50</sup>But the Jews stirred up the devout and prominent women and the chief men of the city, and stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and threw them out of their borders. <sup>51</sup>But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came to Iconium. <sup>52</sup>The disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

14 In Iconium, they entered together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spoke that a great multitude both of Jews and of Greeks believed. <sup>2</sup>But the unbelieving†† Jews stirred up and embittered the souls of the Gentiles against the brothers. <sup>3</sup>Therefore they stayed there a long time, speaking boldly in the Lord, who testified to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. <sup>4</sup>But the multitude of the city was divided. Part sided with the Jews, and part with the apostles. <sup>5</sup>When some of both the Gentiles and the Jews, with their rulers, made a violent attempt to mistreat and stone them, <sup>6</sup>they became aware of it and fled to the cities of Lycaonia, Lystra, Derbe, and the surrounding region. <sup>7</sup>There they preached the Good News.

<sup>8</sup>At Lystra a certain man sat, impotent in his feet, a cripple from his mother’s womb, who never had walked. <sup>9</sup>He was listening to Paul speaking, who, fastening eyes on him, and seeing that he had faith to be made whole,

<sup>10</sup>said with a loud voice, “Stand upright on your feet!” He leapt up and walked. <sup>11</sup>When the multitude saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the language of Lycaonia, “The gods have come down to us in the likeness of men!” <sup>12</sup>They called Barnabas “Jupiter”, and Paul “Mercury”, because he was the chief speaker. <sup>13</sup>The priest of Jupiter, whose temple was in front of their city, brought oxen and garlands to the gates, and would have made a sacrifice along with the multitudes. <sup>14</sup>But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they tore their clothes, and sprang into the multitude, crying out, <sup>15</sup>“Men, why are you doing these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and bring you good news, that you should turn from these vain things to the living God, who made the sky, the earth, the sea, and all that is in them; <sup>16</sup>who in the generations gone by allowed all the nations to walk in their own ways. <sup>17</sup>Yet he didn’t leave himself without witness, in that he did good and gave you‡‡ rains from the sky and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.”

<sup>18</sup>Even saying these things, they hardly stopped the multitudes from making a sacrifice to them. <sup>19</sup>But some Jews from Antioch and Iconium came there, and having persuaded the multitudes, they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead.

<sup>20</sup>But as the disciples stood around him, he rose up, and entered into the city. On the next day he went out with Barnabas to Derbe. <sup>21</sup>When they had preached the Good News to that city, and had made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, Iconium, and Antioch, <sup>22</sup>strengthening the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through many afflictions we must enter into God’s Kingdom. <sup>23</sup>When they had appointed elders for them in every assembly, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed.

<sup>24</sup> They passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. <sup>25</sup> When they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia. <sup>26</sup> From there they sailed to Antioch, from where they had been committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. <sup>27</sup> When they had arrived, and had gathered the assembly together, they reported all the things that God had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith to the nations. <sup>28</sup> They stayed there with the disciples for a long time.

15 Some men came down from Judea and taught the brothers,¶¶ “Unless you are circumcised after the custom of Moses, you can’t be saved.” <sup>2</sup> Therefore when Paul and Barnabas had no small discord and discussion with them, they appointed Paul and Barnabas, and some others of them, to go up to Jerusalem to the apostles and elders about this question. <sup>3</sup> They, being sent on their way by the assembly, passed through both Phoenicia and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles. They caused great joy to all the brothers. <sup>4</sup> When they had come to Jerusalem, they were received by the assembly and the apostles and the elders, and they reported everything that God had done with them.

<sup>5</sup> But some of the sect of the Pharisees who believed rose up, saying, “It is necessary to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.”

<sup>6</sup> The apostles and the elders were gathered together to see about this matter. <sup>7</sup> When there had been much discussion, Peter rose up and said to them, “Brothers, you know that a good while ago God made a choice amongst you that by my mouth the nations should hear the word of the Good News and believe. <sup>8</sup> God, who knows the heart, testified about them, giving them the Holy Spirit, just like he did to us. <sup>9</sup> He made no distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith. <sup>10</sup> Now therefore why do you tempt God, that you should put a yoke on the neck of the disciples which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? <sup>11</sup> But we believe that we are saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus, §§ just as they are.”

<sup>12</sup> All the multitude kept silence, and they listened to Barnabas and Paul reporting what signs and wonders God had done amongst the nations through them. <sup>13</sup> After they were silent, James answered, “Brothers, listen to me. <sup>14</sup> Simeon has reported how God first visited the nations to take out of them a people for his name. <sup>15</sup> This agrees with the words of the prophets. As it is written,

<sup>16</sup> ‘After these things I will return.

I will again build the tabernacle of David, which has fallen.

I will again build its ruins.

I will set it up <sup>17</sup> that the rest of men may seek after the Lord;

all the Gentiles who are called by my name, says the Lord, who does all these things.<sup>b</sup>

<sup>18</sup> “All of God’s works are known to him from eternity. <sup>19</sup> Therefore my judgement is that we don’t trouble those from amongst the Gentiles who turn to God, <sup>20</sup> but that we write to them that they abstain from the pollution of idols, from sexual immorality, from what is strangled, and from blood. <sup>21</sup> For Moses from generations of old has in every city those who preach him, being read in the synagogues every Sabbath.”

<sup>22</sup> Then it seemed good to the apostles and the elders, with the whole assembly, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas: Judas called

Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men amongst the brothers. *<sup>23</sup> They wrote these things by their hand:

“The apostles, the elders, and the brothers, to the brothers who are of the Gentiles in Antioch, Syria, and Cilicia: greetings. <sup>24</sup> Because we have heard that some who went out from us have troubled you with words, unsettling your souls, saying, ‘You must be circumcised and keep the law,’ to whom we gave no commandment; <sup>25</sup> it seemed good to us, having come to one accord, to choose out men and send them to you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, <sup>26</sup> men who have risked their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>27</sup> We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who themselves will also tell you the same things by word of mouth. <sup>28</sup> For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit, and to us, to lay no greater burden on you than these necessary things: <sup>29</sup> that you abstain from things sacrificed to idols, from blood, from things strangled, and from sexual immorality, from which if you keep yourselves, it will be well with you. Farewell.”

<sup>30</sup> So, when they were sent off, they came to Antioch. Having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the letter. <sup>31</sup> When they had read it, they rejoiced over the encouragement. <sup>32</sup> Judas and Silas, also being prophets themselves, encouraged the brothers with many words and strengthened them. <sup>33</sup> After they had spent some time there, they were sent back with greetings from the brothers to the apostles. <sup>34</sup> †<sup>35</sup> But Paul and Barnabas stayed in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

<sup>36</sup> After some days Paul said to Barnabas, “Let’s return now and visit our brothers in every city in which we proclaimed the word of the Lord, to see how they are doing.” <sup>37</sup> Barnabas planned to take John, who was called

Mark, with them also. <sup>38</sup> But Paul didn’t think that it was a good idea to take with them someone who had withdrawn from them in Pamphylia, and didn’t go with them to do the work. <sup>39</sup> Then the contention grew so sharp that they separated from each other. Barnabas took Mark with him and sailed away to Cyprus, <sup>40</sup> but Paul chose Silas and went out, being commended by the brothers to the grace of God. <sup>41</sup> He went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the assemblies.

16 He came to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timothy, the son of a Jewess who believed; but his father was a Greek. <sup>2</sup> The brothers who were at Lystra and Iconium gave a good testimony about him. <sup>3</sup> Paul wanted to have him go out with him, and he took and circumcised him because of the Jews who were in those parts; for they all knew that his father was a Greek. <sup>4</sup> As they went on their way through the cities, they delivered the decrees to them to keep which had been ordained by the apostles and elders who were at Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> So the assemblies were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.

<sup>6</sup> When they had gone through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia. <sup>7</sup> When they had come opposite Mysia, they tried to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit didn’t allow them. <sup>8</sup> Passing by Mysia, they came down to Troas. <sup>9</sup> A vision appeared to Paul in the night. There was a man of Macedonia standing, begging him, and saying, “Come over into Macedonia and help us.” <sup>10</sup> When he had seen the vision, immediately we sought to go out to Macedonia, concluding that the Lord had called us to preach the Good News to them. <sup>11</sup> Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; <sup>12</sup> and from there to Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the foremost of the district, a Roman colony. We were staying some days in this city.

<sup>13</sup> On the Sabbath day we went outside of the city by a riverside, where we supposed there was a place of prayer, and we sat down and spoke to the women who had come together. <sup>14</sup> A certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, one who worshipped God, heard us. The Lord opened her heart to listen to the things which were spoken by Paul. <sup>15</sup> When she and her household were baptised, she begged us, saying, "If you have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house and stay." So she persuaded us.

<sup>16</sup> As we were going to prayer, a certain girl having a spirit of divination met us, who brought her masters much gain by fortune telling. <sup>17</sup> Following Paul and us, she cried out, "These men are servants of the Most High God, who proclaim to us a way of salvation!" <sup>18</sup> She was doing this for many days.

But Paul, becoming greatly annoyed, turned and said to the spirit, "I command you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her!" It came out that very hour. <sup>19</sup> But when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone, they seized Paul and Silas, and dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers. <sup>20</sup> When they had brought them to the magistrates, they said, "These men, being Jews, are agitating our city <sup>21</sup> and advocate customs which it is not lawful for us to accept or to observe, being Romans."

<sup>25</sup> But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them. <sup>26</sup> Suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and everyone's bonds were loosened. <sup>27</sup> The jailer, being roused out of sleep and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. <sup>28</sup> But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, "Don't harm yourself, for we are all here!"

<sup>29</sup> He called for lights, sprang in, fell down trembling before Paul and Silas, <sup>30</sup> brought them out, and said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

<sup>31</sup> They said, "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, and you will be saved, you and your household." <sup>32</sup> They spoke the word of the Lord to him, and to all who were in his house.

<sup>33</sup> He took them the same hour of the night and washed their stripes, and was immediately baptised, he and all his household. <sup>34</sup> He brought them up into his house, and set food before them, and rejoiced greatly, with all his household, having believed in God.

<sup>36</sup> The jailer reported these words to Paul, saying, "The magistrates have sent to let you go; now therefore come out and go in peace."

<sup>37</sup> But Paul said to them, "They have beaten us publicly without a trial, men who are Romans, and have cast us into prison! Do they now release us secretly? No, most certainly, but let them come themselves and bring us out!"

<sup>38</sup> The sergeants reported these words to the magistrates, and they were afraid when they heard that they were Romans, <sup>39</sup> and they came and begged them. When they had brought them out, they asked them to depart from the city. <sup>40</sup> They went out of the prison, and entered into Lydia's house. When they had seen the brothers, they encouraged them, then departed.

17 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue. <sup>2</sup> Paul, as was his custom, went in to them, and for three Sabbath days reasoned with them from the Scriptures, <sup>3</sup> explaining and demonstrating that the Christ had to suffer and rise again from the dead, and saying, “This Jesus, whom I proclaim to you, is the Christ.”

<sup>11</sup> Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, examining the Scriptures daily to see whether these things were so. <sup>12</sup> Many of them therefore believed; also of the prominent Greek women, and not a few men. <sup>13</sup> But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed by Paul at Beroea also, they came there likewise, agitating the multitudes.

<sup>14</sup> Then the brothers immediately sent out Paul to go as far as to the sea, and Silas and Timothy still stayed there. <sup>15</sup> But those who escorted Paul brought him as far as Athens. Receiving a commandment to Silas and Timothy that they should come to him very quickly, they departed.

<sup>16</sup> Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was provoked within him as he saw the city full of idols. <sup>17</sup> So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with those who met him. <sup>18</sup> Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also§ were conversing with him. Some said, “What does this babblers want to say?”

Others said, “He seems to be advocating foreign deities,” because he preached Jesus and the resurrection.

<sup>19</sup> They took hold of him and brought him to the Areopagus, saying, “May we know what this new teaching is, which you are speaking about? <sup>20</sup> For you bring certain strange things to our ears. We want to know therefore what these things mean.” <sup>21</sup> Now all the Athenians and the strangers living there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

<sup>22</sup> Paul stood in the middle of the Areopagus, and said, “You men of Athens, I perceive that you are very religious in all things. <sup>23</sup> For as I passed along and observed the objects of your worship, I also found an altar with this inscription: ‘TO AN UNKNOWN GOD.’ What therefore you worship in ignorance, I announce to you. <sup>24</sup> The God who made the world and all things in it, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, doesn’t dwell in temples made with hands. <sup>25</sup> He isn’t served by men’s hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he himself gives to all life and breath, and all things. <sup>26</sup> He made from one blood every nation of men to dwell on all the surface of the earth, having determined appointed seasons, and the boundaries of their dwellings, <sup>27</sup> that they should seek the Lord, if perhaps they might reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us. <sup>28</sup> 'For in him we live, move, and have our being.' As some of your own poets have said, 'For we are also his offspring.' <sup>29</sup> Being then the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Divine Nature is like gold, or silver, or stone, engraved by art and design of man. <sup>30</sup> The times of ignorance therefore God overlooked. But now he commands that all people everywhere should repent, <sup>31</sup> because he has appointed a day in which he will judge the world in righteousness by the man whom he has ordained; of which he has given assurance to all men, in that he has raised him from the dead."

<sup>34</sup> But certain men joined with him and believed, amongst whom also was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. <sup>2</sup> He found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, who had recently come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome. He came to them, <sup>3</sup> and because he practised the same trade, he lived with them and worked, for by trade they were tent makers. <sup>4</sup> He reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath and persuaded Jews and Greeks. <sup>5</sup> But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was compelled by the Spirit, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

<sup>6</sup> When they opposed him and blasphemed, he shook out his clothing and said to them, "Your blood be on your own heads! I am clean. From now on, I will go to the Gentiles!"

<sup>7</sup> He departed there, and went into the house of a certain man named Justus, one who worshipped God, whose house was next door to the synagogue. <sup>8</sup> Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with all his house. Many of the Corinthians, when they heard, believed and were baptised. <sup>9</sup> The Lord said to Paul in the night by a vision, "Don't be afraid, but speak and don't be silent; <sup>10</sup> for I am with you, and no one will attack you to harm you, for I have many people in this city."

<sup>11</sup> He lived there a year and six months, teaching the word of God amongst them.

<sup>12</sup> But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul and brought him before the judgement seat, <sup>13</sup> saying, "This man persuades men to worship God contrary to the law."

<sup>14</sup> But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews, "If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked crime, you Jews, it would be reasonable that I should bear with you; <sup>15</sup> but if they are questions about words and names and your own law, look to it yourselves. For I don't want to be a judge of these matters." <sup>16</sup> So he drove them from the judgement seat.

<sup>18</sup> Paul, having stayed after this many more days, took his leave of the brothers, <sup>**</sup> and sailed from there for Syria, together with Priscilla and Aquila. He shaved his head in Cenchreae, for he had a vow. <sup>19</sup> He came to Ephesus, and he left them there; but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. <sup>20</sup> When they asked him to stay with them a longer time, he declined; <sup>21</sup> but taking his leave of them, he said, "I must by all means keep this coming feast in Jerusalem, but I will return again to you if God wills." Then he set sail from Ephesus.

<sup>22</sup> When he had landed at Caesarea, he went up and greeted the assembly, and went down to Antioch. <sup>23</sup> Having spent some time there, he departed, and went through the region of Galatia, and Phrygia, in order, establishing all the disciples. <sup>24</sup> Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus. He was mighty in the Scriptures. <sup>25</sup> This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spoke and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, although he knew only the baptism of John. <sup>26</sup> He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him aside, and explained to him the way of God more accurately.

<sup>27</sup> When he had determined to pass over into Achaia, the brothers encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him. When he had come, he greatly helped those who had believed through grace; <sup>28</sup> for he powerfully refuted the Jews, publicly showing by the Scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

19 While Apollos was at Corinth, Paul, having passed through the upper country, came to Ephesus and found certain disciples. <sup>2</sup> He said to them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?"

They said to him, "No, we haven't even heard that there is a Holy Spirit."

<sup>3</sup> He said, "Into what then were you baptised?"

They said, "Into John's baptism."

<sup>4</sup> Paul said, "John indeed baptised with the baptism of repentance, saying to the people that they should believe in the one who would come after him, that is, in Jesus."

<sup>5</sup> When they heard this, they were baptised in the name of the Lord Jesus. <sup>6</sup> When Paul had laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came on them and they spoke with other languages and prophesied. <sup>7</sup> They were about twelve men in all. <sup>8</sup> He entered into the synagogue and spoke boldly for a period of three months, reasoning and persuading about the things concerning God's Kingdom.

<sup>9</sup> But when some were hardened and disobedient, speaking evil of the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. <sup>10</sup> This continued for two years, so that all those who lived in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

<sup>11</sup> God worked special miracles by the hands of Paul, <sup>12</sup> so that even handkerchiefs or aprons were carried away from his body to the sick, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out. <sup>13</sup> But some of the itinerant Jews, exorcists, took on themselves to invoke over those who had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, "We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preaches." <sup>14</sup> There were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, who did this.

<sup>15</sup> The evil spirit answered, "Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are you?" <sup>16</sup> The man in whom the evil spirit was leapt on them, overpowered them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded. <sup>17</sup> This became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, who lived at Ephesus. Fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. <sup>18</sup> Many also of those who had believed came, confessing, and declaring their deeds. <sup>19</sup> Many of those who practised magical arts brought their books together and burnt them in the sight of all. They counted their price, and found it to be fifty thousand pieces of silver.†† 20 So the word of the Lord was growing and becoming mighty.

21 Now after these things had ended, Paul determined in the Spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, "After I have been there, I must also see Rome."

22 Having sent into Macedonia two of those who served him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia for a while. 23 About that time there arose no small disturbance concerning the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought no little business to the craftsmen, 25 whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, "Sirs, you know that by this business we have our wealth. 26 You see and hear that not at Ephesus alone, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul has persuaded and turned away many people, saying that they are no gods that are made with hands. 27 Not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be counted as nothing and her majesty destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worships."

28 When they heard this they were filled with anger, and cried out, saying, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!" 29 The whole city was filled with confusion, and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel. 30 When Paul wanted to enter in to the people, the disciples didn't allow him. 31 Certain also of the Asiarchs, being his friends, sent to him and begged him not to venture into the theatre. 32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another, for the assembly was in confusion. Most of them didn't know why they had come together. 33 They brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward.

Alexander beckoned with his hand, and would have made a defence to the people. 34 But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice for a time of about two hours cried out, "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"

35 When the town clerk had quieted the multitude, he said, "You men of Ephesus, what man is there who doesn't know that the city of the Ephesians is temple keeper of the great goddess Artemis, and of the image which fell down from Zeus? 36 Seeing then that these things can't be denied, you ought to be quiet and to do nothing rash. 37 For you have brought these men here, who are neither robbers of temples nor blasphemers of your goddess. 38 If therefore Demetrius and the craftsmen who are with him have a matter against anyone, the courts are open, and there are proconsuls. Let them press charges against one another. 39 But if you seek anything about other matters, it will be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger of being accused concerning today's riot, there being no cause. Concerning it, we wouldn't be able to give an account of this commotion." 41 When he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 After the uproar had ceased, Paul sent for the disciples, took leave of them, and departed to go into Macedonia. 2 When he had gone through those parts, and had encouraged them with many words, he came into Greece. 3 When he had spent three months there, and a plot was made against him by Jews as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. 4 These accompanied him as far as Asia: Sopater of Berea; Aristarchus and Secundus of the Thessalonians; Gaius of Derbe; Timothy; and Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia. 5 But these had gone ahead, and were waiting for us at Troas. 6 We sailed away from Philippi after the days of Unleavened Bread, and came to them at Troas in five days, where we stayed seven days.

<sup>13</sup> But we, going ahead to the ship, set sail for Assos, intending to take Paul aboard there; for he had so arranged, intending himself to go by land. <sup>14</sup> When he met us at Assos, we took him aboard, and came to Mitylene. <sup>15</sup> Sailing from there, we came the following day opposite Chios. The next day we touched at Samos and stayed at Trogyllium, and the day after we came to Miletus. <sup>16</sup> For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, to be in Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost.

<sup>17</sup> From Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to himself the elders of the assembly. <sup>18</sup> When they had come to him, he said to them, “You yourselves know, from the first day that I set foot in Asia, how I was with you all the time, <sup>19</sup> serving the Lord with all humility, with many tears, and with trials which happened to me by the plots of the Jews; <sup>20</sup> how I didn’t shrink from declaring to you anything that was profitable, teaching you publicly and from house to house, <sup>21</sup> testifying both to Jews and to Greeks repentance towards God, and faith towards our Lord Jesus.¶¶ <sup>22</sup> Now, behold, I go bound by the Spirit to Jerusalem, not knowing what will happen to me there; <sup>23</sup> except that the Holy Spirit testifies in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions wait for me. <sup>24</sup> But these things don’t count; nor do I hold my life dear to myself, so that I may finish my race with joy, and the ministry which I received from the Lord Jesus, to fully testify to the Good News of the grace of God.

<sup>25</sup> “Now, behold, I know that you all, amongst whom I went about preaching God’s Kingdom, will see my face no more. <sup>26</sup> Therefore I testify to you today that I am clean from the blood of all men, <sup>27</sup> for I didn’t shrink from declaring to you the whole counsel of God. <sup>28</sup> Take heed, therefore, to yourselves, and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to shepherd the assembly of the Lord and §§God which he purchased with his own blood. <sup>29</sup> For I know that after my departure, vicious wolves will enter in amongst you, not sparing the flock. <sup>30</sup> Men will arise from amongst your own selves, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. <sup>31</sup> Therefore watch, remembering that for a period of three years I didn’t cease to admonish everyone night and day with tears. <sup>32</sup> Now, brothers,* I entrust you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build up, and to give you the inheritance amongst all those who are sanctified. <sup>33</sup> I coveted no one’s silver, gold, or clothing. <sup>34</sup> You yourselves know that these hands served my necessities, and those who were with me. <sup>35</sup> In all things I gave you an example, that so labouring you ought to help the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that he himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

<sup>36</sup> When he had spoken these things, he knelt down and prayed with them all. <sup>37</sup> They all wept freely, and fell on Paul's neck and kissed him, <sup>38</sup> sorrowing most of all because of the word which he had spoken, that they should see his face no more. Then they accompanied him to the ship.

21 When we had departed from them and had set sail, we came with a straight course to Cos, and the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara. <sup>2</sup> Having found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia, we went aboard, and set sail. <sup>3</sup> When we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed to Syria and landed at Tyre, for the ship was there to unload her cargo. <sup>4</sup> Having found disciples, we stayed there seven days. These said to Paul through the Spirit that he should not go up to Jerusalem. <sup>5</sup> When those days were over, we departed and went on our journey. They all, with wives and children, brought us on our way until we were out of the city. Kneeling down on the beach, we prayed. <sup>6</sup> After saying goodbye to each other, we went on board the ship, and they returned home again.

<sup>7</sup> When we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais. We greeted the brothers and stayed with them one day. <sup>8</sup> On the next day, we who were Paul's companions departed, and came to Caesarea.

We entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, who was one of the seven, and stayed with him. <sup>9</sup> Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied. <sup>10</sup> As we stayed there some days, a certain prophet named Agabus came down from Judea. <sup>11</sup> Coming to us and taking Paul's belt, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, "The Holy Spirit says: 'So the Jews at Jerusalem will bind the man who owns this belt, and will deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.'"

<sup>12</sup> When we heard these things, both we and the people of that place begged him not to go up to Jerusalem. <sup>13</sup> Then Paul answered, "What are you doing, weeping and breaking my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus."

<sup>14</sup> When he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, "The Lord's will be done."

<sup>15</sup> After these days we took up our baggage and went up to Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup> Some of the disciples from Caesarea also went with us, bringing one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we would stay.

<sup>17</sup> When we had come to Jerusalem, the brothers received us gladly. <sup>18</sup> The day following, Paul went in with us to James; and all the elders were present. <sup>19</sup> When he had greeted them, he reported one by one the things which God had worked amongst the Gentiles through his ministry. <sup>20</sup> They, when they heard it, glorified God. They said to him, "You see, brother, how many thousands there are amongst the Jews of those who have believed, and they are all zealous for the law. <sup>21</sup> They have been informed about you, that you teach all the Jews who are amongst the Gentiles to forsake Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children and not to walk after the customs. <sup>22</sup> What then? The assembly must certainly meet, for they will hear that you have come. <sup>23</sup> Therefore do what we tell you. We have four men who have taken a vow. <sup>24</sup> Take them and purify yourself with them, and pay their expenses for them, that they may shave their heads. Then all will know that there is no truth in the things that they have been informed about you, but that you yourself also walk keeping the law. <sup>25</sup> But concerning the Gentiles who believe, we have written our decision that they should observe no such thing, except that they should keep themselves from food offered to idols, from

<sup>26</sup> Then Paul took the men, and the next day purified himself and went with them into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until the offering was offered for every one of them. <sup>27</sup> When the seven days were almost completed, the Jews from Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude and laid hands on him, <sup>28</sup> crying out, “Men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against the people, and the law, and this place. Moreover, he also brought Greeks into the temple, and has defiled this holy place!” <sup>29</sup> For they had seen Trophimus, the Ephesian, with him in the city, and they supposed that Paul had brought him into the temple.

<sup>30</sup> All the city was moved and the people ran together. They seized Paul and dragged him out of the temple. Immediately the doors were shut. <sup>31</sup> As they were trying to kill him, news came up to the commanding officer of the regiment that all Jerusalem was in an uproar. <sup>32</sup> Immediately he took soldiers and centurions and ran down to them. They, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, stopped beating Paul. <sup>33</sup> Then the commanding officer came near, arrested him, commanded him to be bound with two chains, and enquired who he was and what he had done. <sup>34</sup> Some shouted one thing, and some another, amongst the crowd. When he couldn’t find out the truth because of the noise, he commanded him to be brought into the barracks.

He said, “Do you know Greek? <sup>38</sup> Aren’t you then the Egyptian, who before these days stirred up to sedition and led out into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins?”

<sup>39</sup> But Paul said, “I am a Jew, from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg you, allow me to speak to the people.”

<sup>40</sup> When he had given him permission, Paul, standing on the stairs, beckoned with his hand to the people. When there was a great silence, he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, saying,

22 “Brothers and fathers, listen to the defence which I now make to you.”

<sup>2</sup> When they heard that he spoke to them in the Hebrew language, they were even more quiet. He said, <sup>3</sup> “I am indeed a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, instructed according to the strict tradition of the law of our fathers, being zealous for God, even as you all are today. <sup>4</sup> I persecuted this Way to the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. <sup>5</sup> As also the high priest and all the council of the elders testify, from whom also I received letters to the brothers, and travelled to Damascus to bring them also who were there to Jerusalem in bonds to be punished. <sup>6</sup> As I made my journey, and came close to Damascus, about noon, suddenly a great light shone around me from the sky. <sup>7</sup> I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying to me, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?’ <sup>8</sup> I answered, ‘Who are you, Lord?’ He said to me, ‘I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you persecute.’

<sup>9</sup> “Those who were with me indeed saw the light and were afraid, but they didn’t understand the voice of him who spoke to me. <sup>10</sup> I said, ‘What shall I do, Lord?’ The Lord said to me, ‘Arise, and go into Damascus. There you will be told about all things which are appointed for you to do.’ <sup>11</sup> When I couldn’t see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of those who were with me, I came into Damascus. <sup>12</sup> One Ananias, a devout man according to the law, well reported of by all the Jews who lived in Damascus, <sup>13</sup> came to me, and standing by me said to me, ‘Brother Saul, receive your sight!' In that very hour I looked up at him. <sup>14</sup> He said, 'The God of our fathers has appointed you to know his will, and to see the Righteous One, and to hear a voice from his mouth. <sup>15</sup> For you will be a witness for him to all men of what you have seen and heard. <sup>16</sup> Now why do you wait? Arise, be baptised, and wash away your sins, calling on the name of the Lord.'

<sup>17</sup> 'When I had returned to Jerusalem, and while I prayed in the temple, I fell into a trance, <sup>18</sup> and saw him saying to me, 'Hurry and get out of Jerusalem quickly, because they will not receive testimony concerning me from you.' <sup>19</sup> I said, 'Lord, they themselves know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue those who believed in you. <sup>20</sup> When the blood of Stephen, your witness, was shed, I also was standing by, consenting to his death, and guarding the cloaks of those who killed him.'

<sup>21</sup> 'He said to me, 'Depart, for I will send you out far from here to the Gentiles.'"

<sup>22</sup> They listened to him until he said that; then they lifted up their voice and said, "Rid the earth of this fellow, for he isn't fit to live!"

<sup>23</sup> As they cried out, threw off their cloaks, and threw dust into the air, <sup>24</sup> the commanding officer commanded him to be brought into the barracks, ordering him to be examined by scourging, that he might know for what crime they shouted against him like that. <sup>25</sup> When they had tied him up with thongs, Paul asked the centurion who stood by, "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man who is a Roman, and not found guilty?"

<sup>26</sup> When the centurion heard it, he went to the commanding officer and told him, "Watch what you are about to do, for this man is a Roman!"

<sup>27</sup> The commanding officer came and asked him, "Tell me, are you a Roman?"

He said, "Yes."

Paul said, "But I was born a Roman."

<sup>29</sup> Immediately those who were about to examine him departed from him, and the commanding officer also was afraid when he realised that he was a Roman, because he had bound him. <sup>30</sup> But on the next day, desiring to know the truth about why he was accused by the Jews, he freed him from the bonds, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down and set him before them.

23 Paul, looking steadfastly at the council, said, "Brothers, I have lived before God in all good conscience until today."

<sup>2</sup> The high priest, Ananias, commanded those who stood by him to strike him on the mouth.

<sup>3</sup> Then Paul said to him, "God will strike you, you whitewashed wall! Do you sit to judge me according to the law, and command me to be struck contrary to the law?"

<sup>5</sup> Paul said, "I didn't know, brothers, that he was high priest. For it is written, 'You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people.'"<sup>c</sup> <sup>6</sup> But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, "Men and brothers, I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees. Concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am being judged!"

<sup>7</sup> When he had said this, an argument arose between the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the crowd was divided. <sup>8</sup> For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, nor angel, nor spirit; but the Pharisees confess all of these. <sup>9</sup> A great clamour arose, and some of the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and contended, saying, "We find no evil in this man. But if a spirit or angel has spoken to him, let's not fight against God!"

<sup>10</sup> When a great argument arose, the commanding officer, fearing that Paul would be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from amongst them, and bring him into the barracks.

<sup>11</sup> The following night, the Lord stood by him and said, "Cheer up, Paul, for as you have testified about me at Jerusalem, so you must testify also at Rome."

<sup>12</sup> When it was day, some of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Paul. <sup>13</sup> There were more than forty people who had made this conspiracy. <sup>14</sup> They came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, "We have bound ourselves under a great curse to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore, you with the council inform the commanding officer that he should bring him down to you tomorrow, as though you were going to judge his case more exactly. We are ready to kill him before he comes near."

<sup>16</sup> But Paul's sister's son heard they were lying in wait, and he came and entered into the barracks and told Paul. <sup>17</sup> Paul summoned one of the centurions, and said, "Bring this young man to the commanding officer, for he has something to tell him."

<sup>18</sup> So he took him, and brought him to the commanding officer, and said, "Paul, the prisoner, summoned me and asked me to bring this young man to you. He has something to tell you."

<sup>19</sup> The commanding officer took him by the hand, and going aside, asked him privately, "What is it that you have to tell me?"

<sup>20</sup> He said, "The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring Paul down to the council tomorrow, as though intending to enquire somewhat more accurately concerning him. <sup>21</sup> Therefore don't yield to them, for more than forty men lie in wait for him, who have bound themselves under a curse to neither eat nor drink until they have killed him. Now they are ready, looking for the promise from you."

<sup>22</sup> So the commanding officer let the young man go, charging him, "Tell no one that you have revealed these things to me." <sup>23</sup> He called to himself two of the centurions, and said, "Prepare two hundred soldiers to go as far as Caesarea, with seventy horsemen, and two hundred men armed with spears, at the third hour of the night."† <sup>24</sup> He asked them to provide animals, that they might set Paul on one, and bring him safely to Felix the governor. <sup>25</sup> He wrote a letter like this:

<sup>27</sup> "This man was seized by the Jews, and was about to be killed by them, when I came with the soldiers and rescued him, having learnt that he was a Roman. <sup>28</sup> Desiring to know the cause why they accused him, I brought him down to their council. <sup>29</sup> I found him to be accused about questions of their law, but not to be charged with anything worthy of death or of imprisonment. <sup>30</sup> When I was told that the Jews lay in wait for the man, I sent him to you immediately, charging his accusers also to bring their accusations against him before you. Farewell."

<sup>31</sup> So the soldiers, carrying out their orders, took Paul and brought him by night to Antipatris. <sup>32</sup> But on the next day they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the barracks. <sup>33</sup> When they came to Caesarea and delivered the letter to the governor, they also presented Paul to him. <sup>34</sup> When the governor had read it, he asked what province he was from. When he understood that he was from Cilicia, he said, <sup>35</sup> "I will hear you fully when your accusers also arrive." He commanded that he be kept in Herod's palace.

ernor against Paul. <sup>2</sup> When he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, "Seeing that by you we enjoy much peace, and that prosperity is coming to this nation by your foresight, <sup>3</sup> we accept it in all ways and in all places, most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. <sup>4</sup> But that I don't delay you, I entreat you to bear with us and hear a few words. <sup>5</sup> For we have found this man to be a plague, an instigator of insurrections amongst all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes. <sup>6</sup> He even tried to profane the temple, and we arrested him. <sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup> By examining him yourself you may ascertain all these things of which we accuse him."

<sup>9</sup> The Jews also joined in the attack, affirming that these things were so. <sup>10</sup> When the governor had beckoned to him to speak, Paul answered, "Because I know that you have been a judge of this nation for many years, I cheerfully make my defence, <sup>11</sup> seeing that you can verify that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to worship at Jerusalem. <sup>12</sup> In the temple they didn't find me disputing with anyone or stirring up a crowd, either in the synagogues, or in the city. <sup>13</sup> Nor can they prove to you the things of which they now accuse me. <sup>14</sup> But this I confess to you, that after the Way, which they call a sect, so I serve the God of our fathers, believing all things which are according to the law, and which are written in the prophets; <sup>15</sup> having hope towards God, which these also themselves look for, that there will be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. <sup>16</sup> In this I also practise always having a conscience void of offence towards God and men. <sup>17</sup> Now after some years, I came to bring gifts for the needy to my nation, and offerings; <sup>18</sup> amid which certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, not with a mob, nor with turmoil.

<sup>19</sup> They ought to have been here before you, and to make accusation, if they had anything against me. <sup>20</sup> Or else let these men themselves say what injustice they found in me when I stood before the council, <sup>21</sup> unless it is for this one thing that I cried standing amongst them, 'Concerning the resurrection of the dead I am being judged before you today!'"

<sup>22</sup> But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning the Way, deferred them, saying, "When Lysias, the commanding officer, comes down, I will decide your case." <sup>23</sup> He ordered the centurion that Paul should be kept in custody, and should have some privileges, and not to forbid any of his friends to serve him or to visit him. <sup>24</sup> But after some days, Felix came with Drusilla, his wife, who was a Jewess, and sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>25</sup> As he reasoned about righteousness, self-control, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, "Go your way for this time, and when it is convenient for me, I will summon you." <sup>26</sup> Meanwhile, he also hoped that money would be given to him by Paul, that he might release him. Therefore also he sent for him more often and talked with him. <sup>27</sup> But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus, and desiring to gain favour with the Jews, Felix left Paul in bonds.

25 Festus therefore, having come into the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Caesarea. <sup>2</sup> Then the high priest and the principal men of the Jews informed him against Paul, and they begged him, <sup>3</sup> asking a favour against him, that he would summon him to Jerusalem; plotting to kill him on the way. <sup>4</sup> However Festus answered that Paul should be kept in custody at Caesarea, and that he himself was about to depart shortly. <sup>5</sup> "Let them therefore", he said,

‡24:6 TR adds "We wanted to judge him according to our law,"

¶24:7 TR adds "but the commanding officer, Lysias, came by and with great violence took him out of our hands,"

§24:8 TR adds "commanding his accusers to come to you."

“that are in power amongst you go down with me, and if there is anything wrong in the man, let them accuse him.”

<sup>6</sup> When he had stayed amongst them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea, and on the next day he sat on the judgement seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. <sup>7</sup> When he had come, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing against him many and grievous charges which they could not prove, <sup>8</sup> while he said in his defence, “Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar, have I sinned at all.”

<sup>9</sup> But Festus, desiring to gain favour with the Jews, answered Paul and said, “Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem, and be judged by me there concerning these things?”

<sup>10</sup> But Paul said, “I am standing before Caesar’s judgement seat, where I ought to be tried. I have done no wrong to the Jews, as you also know very well. <sup>11</sup> For if I have done wrong and have committed anything worthy of death, I don’t refuse to die; but if none of those things is true that they accuse me of, no one can give me up to them. I appeal to Caesar!”

<sup>12</sup> Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, “You have appealed to Caesar. To Caesar you shall go.”

seat and commanded the man to be brought. <sup>18</sup> When the accusers stood up, they brought no charges against him of such things as I supposed; <sup>19</sup> but had certain questions against him about their own religion, and about one Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. <sup>20</sup> Being perplexed how to enquire concerning these things, I asked whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem and there be judged concerning these matters. <sup>21</sup> But when Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of the emperor, I commanded him to be kept until I could send him to Caesar.”

“Tomorrow,” he said, “you shall hear him.”

<sup>23</sup> So on the next day, when Agrippa and Bernice had come with great pomp, and they had entered into the place of hearing with the commanding officers and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. <sup>24</sup> Festus said, “King Agrippa, and all men who are here present with us, you see this man about whom all the multitude of the Jews petitioned me, both at Jerusalem and here, crying that he ought not to live any longer. <sup>25</sup> But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and as he himself appealed to the emperor I determined to send him, <sup>26</sup> of whom I have no certain thing to write to my lord. Therefore I have brought him out before you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, that, after examination, I may have something to write. <sup>27</sup> For it seems to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not to also specify the charges against him.”

26 Agrippa said to Paul, “You may speak for yourself.”

Then Paul stretched out his hand, and made his defence. <sup>2</sup> “I think myself happy, King Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before you today concerning all the things that I am accused by the Jews, <sup>3</sup> especially because you are expert in all customs and questions which are amongst the Jews. Therefore I beg you to hear me patiently.

<sup>4</sup>“Indeed, all the Jews know my way of life from my youth up, which was from the beginning amongst my own nation and at Jerusalem; <sup>5</sup>having known me from the first, if they are willing to testify, that after the strictest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. <sup>6</sup>Now I stand here to be judged for the hope of the promise made by God to our fathers, <sup>7</sup>which our twelve tribes, earnestly serving night and day, hope to attain. Concerning this hope I am accused by the Jews, King Agrippa! <sup>8</sup>Why is it judged incredible with you, if God does raise the dead?

<sup>9</sup>“I myself most certainly thought that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. <sup>10</sup>I also did this in Jerusalem. I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death I gave my vote against them. <sup>11</sup>Punishing them often in all the synagogues, I tried to make them blaspheme. Being exceedingly enraged against them, I persecuted them even to foreign cities.

<sup>12</sup>“Whereupon as I travelled to Damascus with the authority and commission from the chief priests, <sup>13</sup>at noon, O king, I saw on the way a light from the sky, brighter than the sun, shining around me and those who travelled with me. <sup>14</sup>When we had all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, ‘Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.’

“He said, ‘I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting. <sup>16</sup>But arise, and stand on your feet, for I have appeared to you for this purpose: to appoint you a servant and a witness both of the things which you have seen, and of the things which I will reveal to you; <sup>17</sup>delivering you from the people, and from the Gentiles, to whom I send you, <sup>18</sup>to open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness to light and from the power of Satan to God, that they may receive remission of sins and an inheritance amongst those who are sanctified by faith in me.’

<sup>19</sup>“Therefore, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, <sup>20</sup>but declared first to them of Damascus, at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance. <sup>21</sup>For this reason the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to kill me. <sup>22</sup>Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand to this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses said would happen, <sup>23</sup>how the Christ must suffer, and how, by the resurrection of the dead, he would be first to proclaim light both to these people and to the Gentiles.”

<sup>24</sup>As he thus made his defence, Festus said with a loud voice, “Paul, you are crazy! Your great learning is driving you insane!”

<sup>25</sup>But he said, “I am not crazy, most excellent Festus, but boldly declare words of truth and reasonableness. <sup>26</sup>For the king knows of these things, to whom also I speak freely. For I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him, for this has not been done in a corner. <sup>27</sup>King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know that you believe.”

<sup>29</sup>Paul said, “I pray to God, that whether with little or with much, not only you, but also all that hear me today, might become such as I am, except for these bonds.”

<sup>30</sup>The king rose up with the governor, and Bernice, and those who sat with them. <sup>31</sup>When they had withdrawn, they spoke to one another, saying, “This man does nothing worthy of death or of bonds.” <sup>32</sup>Agrippa said to Festus, “This man might have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar.”

27 When it was determined that we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the Augustan band. <sup>2</sup> Embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail to places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. <sup>3</sup> The next day, we touched at Sidon. Julius treated Paul kindly, and gave him permission to go to his friends and refresh himself. <sup>4</sup> Putting to sea from there, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. <sup>5</sup> When we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. <sup>6</sup> There the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy, and he put us on board. <sup>7</sup> When we had sailed slowly many days, and had come with difficulty opposite Cnidus, the wind not allowing us further, we sailed under the lee of Crete, opposite Salmone. <sup>8</sup> With difficulty sailing along it we came to a certain place called Fair Havens, near the city of Lasea.

<sup>9</sup> When much time had passed and the voyage was now dangerous, because the Fast had now already gone by, Paul admonished them <sup>10</sup> and said to them, "Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with injury and much loss, not only of the cargo and the ship, but also of our lives." <sup>11</sup> But the centurion gave more heed to the master and to the owner of the ship than to those things which were spoken by Paul. <sup>12</sup> Because the haven was not suitable to winter in, the majority advised going to sea from there, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there, which is a port of Crete, looking southwest and northwest.

<sup>13</sup> When the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close to shore. <sup>14</sup> But before long, a stormy wind beat down from shore, which is called Euroclydon. <sup>**15</sup> When the ship was caught and couldn't face the wind, we gave way to it and were driven along. <sup>16</sup> Running under the lee of a small island called Clauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat. <sup>17</sup> After they had hoisted it up, they used cables to help reinforce the ship. Fearing that they would run aground on the Syrtis sand bars, they lowered the sea anchor, and so were driven along. <sup>18</sup> As we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began to throw things overboard. <sup>19</sup> On the third day, they threw out the ship's tackle with their own hands. <sup>20</sup> When neither sun nor stars shone on us for many days, and no small storm pressed on us, all hope that we would be saved was now taken away.

<sup>21</sup> When they had been long without food, Paul stood up in the middle of them, and said, "Sirs, you should have listened to me, and not have set sail from Crete and have gotten this injury and loss. <sup>22</sup> Now I exhort you to cheer up, for there will be no loss of life amongst you, but only of the ship. <sup>23</sup> For there stood by me this night an angel, belonging to the God whose I am and whom I serve, <sup>24</sup> saying, 'Don't be afraid, Paul. You must stand before Caesar. Behold, God has granted you all those who sail with you.' <sup>25</sup> Therefore, sirs, cheer up! For I believe God, that it will be just as it has been spoken to me. <sup>26</sup> But we must run aground on a certain island."

<sup>27</sup> But when the fourteenth night had come, as we were driven back and forth in the Adriatic Sea, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some land. <sup>28</sup> They took soundings, and found twenty fathoms.†† After a little while, they took soundings again, and found fifteen fathoms.‡‡ <sup>29</sup> Fearing that we would run aground on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and wished for daylight. <sup>30</sup> As the sailors were trying to flee out of the ship, and had lowered the boat into the sea, pretending that they would lay out anchors from the bow, <sup>31</sup> Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, “Unless these stay in the ship, you can’t be saved.” <sup>32</sup> Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let it fall off.

††27:28 20 fathoms = 120 feet = 36.6 metres

<sup>33</sup> While the day was coming on, Paul begged them all to take some food, saying, “Today is the fourteenth day that you wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. <sup>34</sup> Therefore I beg you to take some food; for this is for your safety; for not a hair will perish from any of your heads.” <sup>35</sup> When he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks to God in the presence of all, then he broke it and began to eat. <sup>36</sup> Then they all cheered up, and they also took food. <sup>37</sup> In all, we were two hundred and seventy-six souls on the ship. <sup>38</sup> When they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, throwing out the wheat into the sea. <sup>39</sup> When it was day, they didn’t recognise the land, but they noticed a certain bay with a beach, and they decided to try to drive the ship onto it. <sup>40</sup> Casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time untying the rudder ropes. Hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. <sup>41</sup> But coming to a place where two seas met, they ran the vessel aground. The bow struck and remained immovable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves.

<sup>42</sup> The soldiers’ counsel was to kill the prisoners, so that none of them would swim out and escape. <sup>43</sup> But the centurion, desiring to save Paul, stopped them from their purpose, and commanded that those who could swim should throw themselves overboard first to go towards the land; <sup>44</sup> and the rest should follow, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. So they all escaped safely to the land.

28 When we had escaped, then they¶¶ learnt that the island was called Malta. <sup>2</sup> The natives showed us uncommon kindness; for they kindled a fire and received us all, because of the present rain and because of the cold. <sup>3</sup> But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks and laid them on the fire, a viper came out because of the heat, and fastened on his hand. <sup>4</sup> When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, “No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he has escaped from the sea, yet Justice has not allowed to live.” <sup>5</sup> However he shook off the creature into the fire, and wasn’t harmed. <sup>6</sup> But they expected that he would have swollen or fallen down dead suddenly, but when they watched for a long time and saw nothing bad happen to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.

<sup>7</sup> Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius, who received us, and courteously entertained us for three days. <sup>8</sup> The father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery. Paul entered in to him, prayed, and laying his hands on him, healed him. <sup>9</sup> Then when this was done, the rest also who had diseases in the island came and were cured. <sup>10</sup> They also honoured us with many honours, and when we sailed, they put on board the things that we needed.

<sup>11</sup> After three months, we set sail in a ship of Alexandria which had wintered in the island, whose sign was “The Twin Brothers.” <sup>12</sup> Touching at Syracuse, we stayed there three days. <sup>13</sup> From there we circled around and arrived at Rhegium. After one day, a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli, <sup>14</sup> where we found brothers,§§ and were entreated to stay with them for seven days. So we came to Rome. <sup>15</sup>From there the brothers, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius and The Three Taverns. When Paul saw them, he thanked God and took courage. <sup>16</sup>When we entered into Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard, but Paul was allowed to stay by himself with the soldier who guarded him.

<sup>17</sup>After three days Paul called together those who were the leaders of the Jews. When they had come together, he said to them, "I, brothers, though I had done nothing against the people or the customs of our fathers, still was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans, <sup>18</sup>who, when they had examined me, desired to set me free, because there was no cause of death in me. <sup>19</sup>But when the Jews spoke against it, I was constrained to appeal to Caesar, not that I had anything about which to accuse my nation. <sup>20</sup>For this cause therefore I asked to see you and to speak with you. For because of the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain."

<sup>21</sup>They said to him, "We neither received letters from Judea concerning you, nor did any of the brothers come here and report or speak any evil of you. <sup>22</sup>But we desire to hear from you what you think. For, as concerning this sect, it is known to us that everywhere it is spoken against."

<sup>23</sup>When they had appointed him a day, many people came to him at his lodging.

He explained to them, testifying about God's Kingdom, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning until evening. <sup>24</sup>Some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. <sup>25</sup>When they didn't agree amongst themselves, they departed after Paul had spoken one word, "The Holy Spirit spoke rightly through Isaiah the prophet to our fathers, <sup>26</sup>saying,

'Go to this people and say,
in hearing, you will hear,
but will in no way understand.

In seeing, you will see,
but will in no way perceive.

<sup>27</sup>For this people's heart has grown callous.

Their ears are dull of hearing.

Their eyes they have closed.

Lest they should see with their eyes,

hear with their ears,

understand with their heart,

and would turn again,

then I would heal them.'<sup>d</sup>

<sup>28</sup>"Be it known therefore to you, that the salvation of God is sent to the nations, and they will listen."

<sup>29</sup>When he had said these words, the Jews departed, having a great dispute amongst themselves.*

<sup>30</sup>Paul stayed two whole years in his own rented house and received all who were coming to him, <sup>31</sup>preaching God's Kingdom, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness, without hindrance.

Paul's Letter to the Romans

1 Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, set apart for the Good News of God, <sup>2</sup>which he promised before through his prophets in the holy Scriptures, <sup>3</sup>concerning his Son, who was born of the offspring† of David according to the flesh, <sup>4</sup>who was declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the Spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead, Jesus Christ our Lord, <sup>5</sup>through whom we received grace and apostleship for obedience of faith amongst all the nations for his name's sake; <sup>6</sup>amongst whom you are also called to belong to Jesus Christ; <sup>7</sup>to all who are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>8</sup>First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. <sup>9</sup>For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the Good News of his Son, how unceasingly I make mention of you always in my prayers, <sup>10</sup>requesting, if by any means now at last I may be prospered by the will of God to come to you. <sup>11</sup>For I long to see you, that I may impart to you some spiritual gift, to the end that you may be established; <sup>12</sup>that is, that I with you may be encouraged in you, each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine.

<sup>13</sup>Now I don't desire to have you unaware, brothers, that I often planned to come to you, and was hindered so far, that I might have some fruit amongst you also, even as amongst the rest of the Gentiles. <sup>14</sup>I am debtor both to Greeks and to foreigners, both to the wise and to the foolish. <sup>15</sup>So as much as is in me, I am eager to preach the Good News to you also who are in Rome. <sup>16</sup>For I am not ashamed of the Good News of Christ, because it is the power of God for salvation for everyone who believes, for the Jew first, and also for the Greek. <sup>17</sup>For in it is revealed God's righteousness from faith to faith. As it is written, "But the righteous shall live by faith."<sup>e</sup> <sup>18</sup>For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men who suppress the truth in unrighteousness, <sup>19</sup>because that which is known of God is revealed in them, for God revealed it to them. <sup>20</sup>For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity, that they may be without excuse. <sup>21</sup>Because knowing God, they didn't glorify him as God, and didn't give thanks, but became vain in their reasoning, and their senseless heart was darkened.

sexual immorality, wickedness, covetousness, malice; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, evil habits, secret slanderers, <sup>30</sup> backbiters, hateful to God, insolent, arrogant, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, <sup>31</sup> without understanding, covenant breakers, without natural affection, unforgiving, unmerciful; <sup>32</sup> who, knowing the ordinance of God, that those who practise such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also approve of those who practise them.

2 Therefore you are without excuse, O man, whoever you are who judge. For in that which you judge another, you condemn yourself. For you who judge practise the same things. <sup>2</sup> We know that the judgement of God is according to truth against those who practise such things. <sup>3</sup> Do you think this, O man who judges those who practise such things, and do the same, that you will escape the judgement of God? <sup>4</sup> Or do you despise the riches of his goodness, forbearance, and patience, not knowing that the goodness of God leads you to repentance? <sup>5</sup> But according to your hardness and unrepentant heart you are treasuring up for yourself wrath in the day of wrath, revelation, and of the righteous judgement of God; <sup>6</sup> who “will pay back to everyone according to their works:”<sup>f</sup> <sup>7</sup> to those who by perseverance in well-doing seek for glory, honour, and incorruptibility, eternal life; <sup>8</sup> but to those who are self-seeking, and don’t obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, will be wrath, indignation, <sup>9</sup> oppression, and anguish on every soul of man who does evil, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

<sup>10</sup> But glory, honour, and peace go to every man who does good, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek. <sup>11</sup> For there is no partiality with God. <sup>12</sup> For as many as have sinned without the law will also perish without the law. As many as have sinned under the law will be judged by the law. <sup>13</sup> For it isn’t the hearers of the law who are righteous before God, but the doers of the law will be justified <sup>14</sup> (for when Gentiles who don’t have the law do by nature the things of the law, these, not having the law, are a law to themselves, <sup>15</sup> in that they show the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience testifying with them, and their thoughts amongst themselves accusing or else excusing them) <sup>16</sup> in the day when God will judge the secrets of men, according to my Good News, by Jesus Christ.

<sup>17</sup> Indeed you bear the name of a Jew, rest on the law, glory in God, <sup>18</sup> know his will, and approve the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, <sup>19</sup> and are confident that you yourself are a guide of the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, <sup>20</sup> a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babies, having in the law the form of knowledge and of the truth. <sup>21</sup> You therefore who teach another, don’t you teach yourself? You who preach that a man shouldn’t steal, do you steal? <sup>22</sup> You who say a man shouldn’t commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples? <sup>23</sup> You who glory in the law, do you dishonour God by disobeying the law? <sup>24</sup> For “the name of God is blasphemed amongst the Gentiles because of you,”<sup>g</sup> just as it is written. <sup>25</sup> For circumcision indeed profits, if you are a doer of the law, but if you are a transgressor of the law, your circumcision has become uncircumcision. <sup>26</sup> If therefore the uncircumcised keep the ordinances of the law, won’t his uncircumcision be accounted as circumcision? <sup>27</sup> Won’t the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfils the law, judge you, who with the letter and circumcision are a transgressor of the law? <sup>28</sup> For he is not a Jew who is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision which is outward in the flesh; <sup>29</sup> but he is a Jew who is one inwardly, and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit not in the letter; whose praise is not from men, but from God.

3 Then what advantage does the Jew have? Or what is the profit of circumcision? 2 Much in every way! Because first of all, they were entrusted with the revelations of God. 3 For what if some were without faith? Will their lack of faith nullify the faithfulness of God? 4 May it never be! Yes, let God be found true, but every man a liar. As it is written, “that you might be justified in your words, and might prevail when you come into judgment.”<sup>h</sup>

5 But if our unrighteousness commends the righteousness of God, what will we say? Is God unrighteous who inflicts wrath? I speak like men do. 6 May it never be! For then how will God judge the world? 7 For if the truth of God through my lie abounded to his glory, why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 Why not (as we are slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), “Let’s do evil, that good may come?” Those who say so are justly condemned.

9 What then? Are we better than they? No, in no way. For we previously warned both Jews and Greeks that they are all under sin.

10 As it is written,
“There is no one righteous;
no, not one.

11 There is no one who understands.
There is no one who seeks after God.

12 They have all turned away.
They have together become unprofitable.
There is no one who does good,
no, not so much as one.”<sup>i</sup>

13 “Their throat is an open tomb.
With their tongues they have used deceit.”<sup>j</sup>
“The poison of vipers is under their lips.”<sup>k</sup>

14 “Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.”<sup>l</sup>

15 “Their feet are swift to shed blood.
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways.
17 The way of peace, they haven’t known.”<sup>m</sup>

18 “There is no fear of God before their eyes.”<sup>n</sup>

19 Now we know that whatever things the law says, it speaks to those who are under the law, that every mouth may be closed, and all the world may be brought under the judgment of God. 20 Because by the works of the law, no flesh will be justified in his sight; for through the law comes the knowledge of sin.

21 But now apart from the law, a righteousness of God has been revealed, being testified by the law and the prophets; 22 even the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ to all and on all those who believe. For there is no distinction, 23 for all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God; 24 being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus; 25 whom God sent to be an atoning sacrifice,‡ through faith in his blood, for a demonstration of his righteousness through the passing over of prior sins, in God’s forbearance; 26 to demonstrate his righteousness at this present time; that he might himself be just, and the justifier of him who has faith in Jesus.

27 Where then is the boasting? It is excluded. By what kind of law? Of works? No, but by a law of faith. 28 We maintain therefore that a man is justified by faith apart from the works of the law. 29 Or is God the God of Jews only? Isn’t he the God of Gentiles also? Yes, of Gentiles also, 30 since indeed there is one God who will justify the circumcised by faith, and the uncircumcised through faith.

31 Do we then nullify the law through faith? May it never be! No, we establish the law.

4 What then will we say that Abraham, our forefather, has found according to the flesh? 2 For if Abraham was justified by works, he has something to boast about, but not towards God. 3 For what does the Scripture say? “Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.”<sup>o</sup> <sup>4</sup> Now to him who works, the reward is not counted as grace, but as something owed. <sup>5</sup> But to him who doesn’t work, but believes in him who justifies the ungodly, his faith is accounted for righteousness. <sup>6</sup> Even as David also pronounces blessing on the man to whom God counts righteousness apart from works, <sup>7</sup> “Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,

‡3:25 or, a propitiation

<sup>9</sup> Is this blessing then pronounced on the circumcised, or on the uncircumcised also? For we say that faith was accounted to Abraham for righteousness. <sup>10</sup> How then was it counted? When he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. <sup>11</sup> He received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision, that he might be the father of all those who believe, though they might be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might also be accounted to them. <sup>12</sup> He is the father of circumcision to those who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had in uncircumcision. <sup>13</sup> For the promise to Abraham and to his offspring that he should be heir of the world wasn’t through the law, but through the righteousness of faith. <sup>14</sup> For if those who are of the law are heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of no effect. <sup>15</sup> For the law produces wrath, for where there is no law, neither is there disobedience. <sup>16</sup> For this cause it is of faith, that it may be according to grace, to the end that the promise may be sure to all the offspring, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all. <sup>17</sup> As it is written, “I have made you a father of many nations.”<sup>q</sup> This is in the presence of him whom he believed: God, who gives life to the dead, and calls the things that are not, as though they were. <sup>18</sup> Besides hope, Abraham in hope believed, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, “So will your offspring be.”<sup>r</sup> <sup>19</sup> Without being weakened in faith, he didn’t consider his own body, already having been worn out, (he being about a hundred years old), and the deadness of Sarah’s womb. <sup>20</sup> Yet, looking to the promise of God, he didn’t waver through unbelief, but grew strong through faith, giving glory to God, <sup>21</sup> and being fully assured that what he had promised, he was also able to perform. <sup>22</sup> Therefore it also was “credited to him for righteousness.”<sup>s</sup> <sup>23</sup> Now it was not written that it was accounted to him for his sake alone, <sup>24</sup> but for our sake also, to whom it will be accounted, who believe in him who raised Jesus, our Lord, from the dead, <sup>25</sup> who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised for our justification.

5 Being therefore justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; <sup>2</sup> through whom we also have our access by faith into this grace in which we stand. We rejoice in hope of the glory of God. <sup>3</sup> Not only this, but we also rejoice in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces perseverance; <sup>4</sup> and perseverance, proven character; and proven character, hope: <sup>5</sup> and hope doesn’t disappoint us, because God’s love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who was given to us. <sup>6</sup> For while we were yet weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly. <sup>7</sup> For one will hardly die for a righteous man. Yet perhaps for a righteous person someone would even dare to die. <sup>8</sup> But God commends his own love towards us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

<sup>9</sup>Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we will be saved from God's wrath through him. <sup>10</sup>For if while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we will be saved by his life.

<sup>11</sup>Not only so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation. <sup>12</sup>Therefore as sin entered into the world through one man, and death through sin; so death passed to all men, because all sinned. <sup>13</sup>For until the law, sin was in the world; but sin is not charged when there is no law. <sup>14</sup>Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over those whose sins weren't like Adam's disobedience, who is a foreshadowing of him who was to come. <sup>15</sup>But the free gift isn't like the trespass. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound to the many. <sup>16</sup>The gift is not as through one who sinned; for the judgement came by one to condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses to justification. <sup>17</sup>For if by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; so much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one, Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup>So then as through one trespass, all men were condemned; even so through one act of righteousness, all men were justified to life. <sup>19</sup>For as through the one man's disobedience many were made sinners, even so through the obedience of the one, many will be made righteous. <sup>20</sup>The law came in that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, grace abounded more exceedingly; <sup>21</sup>that as sin reigned in death, even so grace might reign through righteousness to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? <sup>2</sup>May it never be! We who died to sin, how could we live in it any longer? <sup>3</sup>Or don't you know that all we who were baptised into Christ Jesus were baptised into his death? <sup>4</sup>We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death, that just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. <sup>5</sup>For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we will also be part of his resurrection; <sup>6</sup>knowing this, that our old man was crucified with him, that the body of sin might be done away with, so that we would no longer be in bondage to sin. <sup>7</sup>For he who has died has been freed from sin. <sup>8</sup>But if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him; <sup>9</sup>knowing that Christ, being raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no longer has dominion over him! <sup>10</sup>For the death that he died, he died to sin one time; but the life that he lives, he lives to God. <sup>11</sup>Thus consider yourselves also to be dead to sin, but alive to God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

<sup>12</sup>Therefore don't let sin reign in your mortal body, that you should obey it in its lusts. <sup>13</sup>Also, do not present your members to sin as instruments of unrighteousness, but present yourselves to God as alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness to God. <sup>14</sup>For sin will not have dominion over you. For you are not under law, but under grace.

<sup>15</sup>What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under law, but under grace? May it never be! <sup>16</sup>Don't you know that when you present yourselves as servants and obey someone, you are the servants of whomever you obey; whether of sin to death, or of obedience to righteousness? <sup>17</sup>But thanks be to God, that, whereas you were bondservants of sin, you became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching to which you were delivered. <sup>18</sup>Being made free from sin, you became bondservants of righteousness.

<sup>19</sup>I speak in human terms because of the weakness of your flesh, for as you presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to wickedness upon wickedness, even so now present your members as servants to righteousness for sanctification. <sup>20</sup>For when you were servants of sin, you were free from righteousness. <sup>21</sup>What fruit then did you have at that time in the things of which you are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. <sup>22</sup>But now, being made free from sin and having become servants of God, you have your fruit of sanctification and the result of eternal life. <sup>23</sup>For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 Or don't you know, brothers<sup>1</sup> (for I speak to men who know the law), that the law has dominion over a man for as long as he lives? <sup>2</sup>For the woman that has a husband is bound by law to the husband while he lives, but if the husband dies, she is discharged from the law of the husband. <sup>3</sup>So then if, while the husband lives, she is joined to another man, she would be called an adulteress. But if the husband dies, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she is joined to another man. <sup>4</sup>Therefore, my brothers, you also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ, that you would be joined to another, to him who was raised from the dead, that we might produce fruit to God. <sup>5</sup>For when we were in the flesh, the sinful passions which were through the law worked in our members to bring out fruit to death. <sup>6</sup>But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that in which we were held; so that we serve in newness of the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

<sup>7</sup>What shall we say then? Is the law sin? May it never be! However, I wouldn't have known sin, except through the law. For I wouldn't have known coveting, unless the law had said, "You shall not covet."† <sup>8</sup>But sin, finding occasion through the commandment, produced in me all kinds of coveting. For apart from the law, sin is dead. <sup>9</sup>I was alive apart from the law once, but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died. <sup>10</sup>The commandment which was for life, this I found to be for death; <sup>11</sup>for sin, finding occasion through the commandment, deceived me, and through it killed me. <sup>12</sup>Therefore the law indeed is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good.

<sup>13</sup>Did then that which is good become death to me? May it never be! But sin, that it might be shown to be sin, was producing death in me through that which is good; that through the commandment sin might become exceedingly sinful. <sup>14</sup>For we know that the law is spiritual, but I am fleshly, sold under sin. <sup>15</sup>For I don't know what I am doing. For I don't practise what I desire to do; but what I hate, that I do. <sup>16</sup>But if what I don't desire, that I do, I consent to the law that it is good. <sup>17</sup>So now it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. <sup>18</sup>For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwells no good thing. For desire is present with me, but I don't find it doing that which is good. <sup>19</sup>For the good which I desire, I don't do; but the evil which I don't desire, that I practise. <sup>20</sup>But if what I don't desire, that I do, it is no more I that do it, but sin which dwells in me. <sup>21</sup>I find then the law that, to me, while I desire to do good, evil is present. <sup>22</sup>For I delight in God's law after the inward man, <sup>23</sup>but I see a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity under the law of sin which is in my members. <sup>24</sup>What a wretched man I am! Who will deliver me out of the body of this death? <sup>25</sup>I thank God through Jesus Christ, our Lord! So then with the mind, I myself serve God's law, but with the flesh, sin's law.

8 There is therefore now no condemnation to those who are in Christ Jesus, who don't walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit.<sup>8</sup> <sup>2</sup>For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus made me free from the law of sin and of death. <sup>3</sup>For what the law couldn't do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God did, sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh; <sup>4</sup>that the ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. <sup>5</sup>For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit, the things of the Spirit. <sup>6</sup>For the mind of the flesh is death, but the mind of the Spirit is life and peace; <sup>7</sup>because the mind of the flesh is hostile towards God; for it is not subject to God's law, neither indeed can it be. <sup>8</sup>Those who are in the flesh can't please God. <sup>9</sup>But you are not in the flesh but in the Spirit, if it is so that the Spirit of God dwells in you. But if any man doesn't have the Spirit of Christ, he is not his. <sup>10</sup>If Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin, but the spirit is alive because of righteousness. <sup>11</sup>But if the Spirit of him who raised up Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised up Christ Jesus from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit who dwells in you.

<sup>12</sup>So then, brothers, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh. <sup>13</sup>For if you live after the flesh, you must die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, you will live. <sup>14</sup>For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are children of God. <sup>15</sup>For you didn't receive the spirit of bondage again to fear, but you received the Spirit of adoption, by whom we cry, "Abba!*" Father!"

<sup>16</sup>The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are children of God; <sup>17</sup>and if children, then heirs: heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ, if indeed we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified with him.

<sup>18</sup>For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which will be revealed towards us. <sup>19</sup>For the creation waits with eager expectation for the children of God to be revealed. <sup>20</sup>For the creation was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but because of him who subjected it, in hope <sup>21</sup>that the creation itself also will be delivered from the bondage of decay into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. <sup>22</sup>For we know that the whole creation groans and travails in pain together until now. <sup>23</sup>Not only so, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for adoption, the redemption of our body. <sup>24</sup>For we were saved in hope, but hope that is seen is not hope. For who hopes for that which he sees? <sup>25</sup>But if we hope for that which we don't see, we wait for it with patience.

<sup>26</sup>In the same way, the Spirit also helps our weaknesses, for we don't know how to pray as we ought. But the Spirit himself makes intercession for us with groanings which can't be uttered. <sup>27</sup>He who searches the hearts knows what is on the Spirit's mind, because he makes intercession for the saints according to God.

<sup>31</sup>What then shall we say about these things? If God is for us, who can be against us? <sup>32</sup> He who didn't spare his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how would he not also with him freely give us all things? <sup>33</sup> Who could bring a charge against God's chosen ones? It is God who justifies. <sup>34</sup> Who is he who condemns? It is Christ who died, yes rather, who was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, who also makes intercession for us.

§8:1 NU omits "who don't walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit"

**8:15 Abba is an Aramaic word for "Father" or "Daddy", which can be used affectionately and respectfully in prayer to our Father in heaven.

<sup>35</sup> Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Could oppression, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? <sup>36</sup> Even as it is written, "For your sake we are killed all day long. We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter."<sup>u</sup>

<sup>37</sup> No, in all these things, we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. <sup>38</sup> For I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, <sup>39</sup> nor height, nor depth, nor any other created thing will be able to separate us from God's love which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 I tell the truth in Christ. I am not lying, my conscience testifying with me in the Holy Spirit <sup>2</sup> that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. <sup>3</sup> For I could wish that I myself were accursed from Christ for my brothers' sake, my relatives according to the flesh <sup>4</sup> who are Israelites; whose is the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the law, the service, and the promises; <sup>5</sup> of whom are the fathers, and from whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, who is over all, God, blessed forever. Amen.

<sup>6</sup> But it is not as though the word of God has come to nothing. For they are not all Israel that are of Israel. <sup>7</sup> Neither, because they are Abraham's offspring, are they all children.

But, "your offspring will be accounted as from Isaac."<sup>v</sup> <sup>8</sup> That is, it is not the children of the flesh who are children of God, but the children of the promise are counted as heirs. <sup>9</sup> For this is a word of promise, "At the appointed time I will come, and Sarah will have a son."<sup>w</sup> <sup>10</sup> Not only so, but Rebekah also conceived by one, by our father Isaac. <sup>11</sup> For being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him who calls,‡‡ <sup>12</sup> it was said to her, "The elder will serve the younger."<sup>x</sup> <sup>13</sup> Even as it is written, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."<sup>y</sup>

<sup>14</sup> What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? May it never be! <sup>15</sup> For he said to Moses, "I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."<sup>z</sup> <sup>16</sup> So then it is not of him who wills, nor of him who runs, but of God who has mercy. <sup>17</sup> For the Scripture says to Pharaoh, "For this very purpose I caused you to be raised up, that I might show in you my power, and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth."<sup>a</sup> <sup>18</sup> So then, he has mercy on whom he desires, and he hardens whom he desires.

<sup>19</sup> You will say then to me, "Why does he still find fault? For who withstands his will?" <sup>20</sup> But indeed, O man, who are you to reply against God? Will the thing formed ask him who formed it, "Why did you make me like this?"<sup>b</sup> <sup>21</sup> Or hasn't the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make one part a vessel for honour, and another for dishonour? <sup>22</sup> What if God, willing to show his wrath and to make his power known, endured with much patience vessels of wrath prepared for destruction, <sup>23</sup> and that he might make known the riches of his glory on vessels of mercy, which he prepared beforehand for glory, <sup>24</sup> us, whom he also called, not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? <sup>25</sup> As he says also in Hosea,

“I will call them ‘my people,’ which were not my people; and her ‘beloved,’ who was not beloved.”<sup>c</sup>

<sup>26</sup> “It will be that in the place where it was said to them, ‘You are not my people,’ there they will be called ‘children of the living God.’”<sup>d</sup>

<sup>27</sup> Isaiah cries concerning Israel, “If the number of the children of Israel are as the sand of the sea, it is the remnant who will be saved;

<sup>28</sup> for He will finish the work and cut it short in righteousness, because the LORD will make a short work upon the earth.”<sup>e</sup>

<sup>30</sup> What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, who didn’t follow after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith; <sup>31</sup> but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, didn’t arrive at the law of righteousness. <sup>32</sup> Why? Because they didn’t seek it by faith, but as it were by works of the law. They stumbled over the stumbling stone; <sup>33</sup> even as it is written,

“Behold,§§ I lay in Zion a stumbling stone and a rock of offence; and no one who believes in him will be disappointed.”<sup>g</sup>

10 Brothers, my heart’s desire and my prayer to God is for Israel, that they may be saved. <sup>2</sup> For I testify about them that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. <sup>3</sup> For being ignorant of God’s righteousness, and seeking to establish their own righteousness, they didn’t subject themselves to the righteousness of God. <sup>4</sup> For Christ is the fulfilment* of the law for righteousness to everyone who believes. <sup>5</sup> For Moses writes about the righteousness of the law, “The one who does them will live by them.”<sup>h</sup> <sup>6</sup> But the righteousness which is of faith says this, “Don’t say in your heart, ‘Who will ascend into heaven?’<sup>i</sup> (that is, to bring Christ down); <sup>7</sup> or, ‘Who will descend into the abyss?’<sup>j</sup> (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.)” <sup>8</sup> But what does it say? “The word is near you, in your mouth, and in your heart;”<sup>k</sup> that is, the word of faith which we preach: <sup>9</sup> that if you will confess with your mouth that Jesus is Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. <sup>10</sup> For with the heart, one believes resulting in righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made resulting in salvation. <sup>11</sup> For the Scripture says, “Whoever believes in him will not be disappointed.”<sup>l</sup>

<sup>12</sup> For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek; for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich to all who call on him. <sup>13</sup> For, “Whoever will call on the name of the Lord will be saved.”<sup>m</sup> <sup>14</sup> How then will they call on him in whom they have not believed? How will they believe in him whom they have not heard? How will they hear without a preacher?

15 And how will they preach unless they are sent? As it is written:

“How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the Good News of peace, who bring glad tidings of good things!”<sup>n</sup>

16 But they didn’t all listen to the glad news. For Isaiah says, “Lord, who has believed our report?”<sup>o</sup> 17 So faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the word of God. 18 But I say, didn’t they hear? Yes, most certainly, “Their sound went out into all the earth, their words to the ends of the world.”<sup>p</sup>

19 But I ask, didn’t Israel know? First Moses says,
“I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation.

I will make you angry with a nation void of understanding.”<sup>q</sup>

20 Isaiah is very bold and says,
“I was found by those who didn’t seek me. I was revealed to those who didn’t ask for me.”<sup>r</sup>

21 But about Israel he says, “All day long I stretched out my hands to a disobedient and contrary people.”<sup>s</sup>

11 I ask then, did God reject his people? May it never be! For I also am an Israelite, a descendant of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 God didn’t reject his people, which he foreknew. Or don’t you know what the Scripture says about Elijah? How he pleads with God against Israel: 3 “Lord, they have killed your prophets, they have broken down your altars. I am left alone, and they seek my life.”<sup>t</sup> 4 But how does God answer him? “I have reserved for myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal.”<sup>u</sup> 5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace. 6 And if by grace, then it is no longer of works; otherwise grace is no longer grace.

But if it is of works, it is no longer grace; otherwise work is no longer work.

7 What then? That which Israel seeks for, that he didn’t obtain, but the chosen ones obtained it, and the rest were hardened. 8 According as it is written, “God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, to this very day.”<sup>v</sup> 9 David says, “Let their table be made a snare, a trap, a stumbling block, and a retribution to them. 10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see.

Always keep their backs bent.”<sup>w</sup>

11 I ask then, did they stumble that they might fall? May it never be! But by their fall salvation has come to the Gentiles, to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness? 13 For I speak to you who are Gentiles. Since then as I am an apostle to Gentiles, I glorify my ministry; 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy those who are my flesh, and may save some of them. 15 For if the rejection of them is the reconciling of the world, what would their acceptance be, but life from the dead? 16 If the first fruit is holy, so is the lump. If the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if some of the branches were broken off, and you, being a wild olive, were grafted in amongst them and became partaker with them of the root and of the richness of the olive tree, 18 don’t boast over the branches. But if you boast, it is not you who support the root, but the root supports you. 19 You will say then, “Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.” 20 True; by their unbelief they were broken off, and you stand by your faith. Don’t be conceited, but fear; 21 for if God didn’t spare the natural branches, neither will he spare you. <sup>22</sup> See then the goodness and severity of God. Towards those who fell, severity; but towards you, goodness, if you continue in his goodness; otherwise you also will be cut off. <sup>23</sup> They also, if they don't continue in their unbelief, will be grafted in, for God is able to graft them in again. <sup>24</sup> For if you were cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and were grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree, how much more will these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

<sup>25</sup> For I don't desire you to be ignorant, brothers,† of this mystery, so that you won't be wise in your own conceits, that a partial hardening has happened to Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles has come in, <sup>26</sup> and so all Israel will be saved. Even as it is written, "There will come out of Zion the Deliverer, and he will turn away ungodliness from Jacob. <sup>27</sup> This is my covenant with them, when I will take away their sins."<sup>x</sup>

<sup>28</sup> Concerning the Good News, they are enemies for your sake. But concerning the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sake. <sup>29</sup> For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable. <sup>30</sup> For as you in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, <sup>31</sup> even so these also have now been disobedient, that by the mercy shown to you they may also obtain mercy. <sup>32</sup> For God has bound all to disobedience, that he might have mercy on all.

<sup>34</sup> "For who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has been his counsellor?"<sup>y</sup>

<sup>35</sup> "Or who has first given to him, and it will be repaid to him again?"<sup>z</sup>

<sup>36</sup> For of him, and through him, and to him are all things. To him be the glory for ever! Amen.

12 Therefore I urge you, brothers, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service. <sup>2</sup> Don't be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, so that you may prove what is the good, well-pleasing, and perfect will of God.

<sup>3</sup> For I say through the grace that was given me, to every man who is amongst you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think reasonably, as God has apportioned to each person a measure of faith. <sup>4</sup> For even as we have many members in one body, and all the members don't have the same function, <sup>5</sup> so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually members of one another, <sup>6</sup> having gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us: if prophecy, let's prophesy according to the proportion of our faith; <sup>7</sup> or service, let's give ourselves to service; or he who teaches, to his teaching; <sup>8</sup> or he who exhorts, to his exhorting; he who gives, let him do it with generosity; he who rules, with diligence; he who shows mercy, with cheerfulness.

things, but associate with the humble. Don't be wise in your own conceits. <sup>17</sup>Repay no one evil for evil. Respect what is honourable in the sight of all men. <sup>18</sup>If it is possible, as much as it is up to you, be at peace with all men. <sup>19</sup>Don't seek revenge yourselves, beloved, but give place to God's wrath. For it is written, "Vengeance belongs to me; I will repay, says the Lord." <sup>a20</sup>Therefore for in doing so, you will heap coals of fire on his head."<sup>b</sup>

"If your enemy is hungry, feed him.

If he is thirsty, give him a drink;

13 Let every soul be in subjection to the higher authorities, for there is no authority except from God, and those who exist are ordained by God. <sup>2</sup>Therefore he who resists the authority withstands the ordinance of God; and those who withstand will receive to themselves judgement. <sup>3</sup>For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. Do you desire to have no fear of the authority? Do that which is good, and you will have praise from the authority, <sup>4</sup>for he is a servant of God to you for good. But if you do that which is evil, be afraid, for he doesn't bear the sword in vain; for he is a servant of God, an avenger for wrath to him who does evil. <sup>5</sup>Therefore you need to be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also for conscience' sake. <sup>6</sup>For this reason you also pay taxes, for they are servants of God's service, continually doing this very thing. <sup>7</sup>Therefore give everyone what you owe: if you owe taxes, pay taxes; if customs, then customs; if respect, then respect; if honour, then honour.

<sup>8</sup>Owe no one anything, except to love one another; for he who loves his neighbour has fulfilled the law. <sup>9</sup>For the commandments, "You shall not commit adultery," "You shall not murder," "You shall not steal,"‡ "You shall not covet,"<sup>c</sup> and whatever other commandments there are, are all summed up in this saying, namely, "You shall love your neighbour as yourself."<sup>d</sup> <sup>10</sup>Love doesn't harm a neighbour. Love therefore is the fulfilment of the law.

<sup>11</sup>Do this, knowing the time, that it is already time for you to awaken out of sleep, for salvation is now nearer to us than when we first believed. <sup>12</sup>The night is far gone, and the day is near. Let's therefore throw off the deeds of darkness, and let's put on the armour of light. <sup>13</sup>Let's walk properly, as in the day; not in revelling and drunkenness, not in sexual promiscuity and lustful acts, and not in strife and jealousy. <sup>14</sup>But put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make no provision for the flesh, for its lusts.

14 Now accept one who is weak in faith, but not for disputes over opinions. <sup>2</sup>One man has faith to eat all things, but he who is weak eats only vegetables. <sup>3</sup>Don't let him who eats despise him who doesn't eat. Don't let him who doesn't eat judge him who eats, for God has accepted him. <sup>4</sup>Who are you who judge another's servant? To his own lord he stands or falls. Yes, he will be made to stand, for God has power to make him stand.

<sup>5</sup>One man esteems one day as more important. Another esteems every day alike. Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. <sup>6</sup>He who observes the day, observes it to the Lord; and he who does not observe the day, to the Lord he does not observe it. He who eats, eats to the Lord, for he gives God thanks. He who doesn't eat, to the Lord he doesn't eat, and gives God thanks. <sup>7</sup>For none of us lives to himself, and none dies to himself. <sup>8</sup>For if we live, we live to the Lord. Or if we die, we die to the Lord. If therefore we live or die, we are the Lord's. <sup>9</sup>For to this end Christ died, rose, and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living.

10 But you, why do you judge your brother? Or you again, why do you despise your brother? For we will all stand before the judgement seat of Christ. 11 For it is written, “As I live,” says the Lord, “to me every knee will bow.

Every tongue will confess to God.”<sup>e</sup>

12 So then each one of us will give account of himself to God.

13 Therefore let’s not judge one another any more, but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block in his brother’s way, or an occasion for falling. 14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself; except that to him who considers anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 Yet if because of food your brother is grieved, you walk no longer in love. Don’t destroy with your food him for whom Christ died. 16 Then don’t let your good be slandered, 17 for God’s Kingdom is not eating and drinking, but righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Spirit. 18 For he who serves Christ in these things is acceptable to God and approved by men. 19 So then, let’s follow after things which make for peace, and things by which we may build one another up. 20 Don’t overthrow God’s work for food’s sake. All things indeed are clean, however it is evil for that man who creates a stumbling block by eating. 21 It is good to not eat meat, drink wine, nor do anything by which your brother stumbles, is offended, or is made weak.

22 Do you have faith? Have it to yourself before God. Happy is he who doesn’t judge himself in that which he approves. 23 But he who doubts is condemned if he eats, because it isn’t of faith; and whatever is not of faith is sin.

24 Now to him who is able to establish you according to my Good News and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery which has been kept secret through long ages, 25 but now is revealed, and by the Scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known for obedience of faith to all the nations; 26 to the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory forever! Amen.¶

15 Now we who are strong ought to bear the weaknesses of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, to be building him up. 3 For even Christ didn’t please himself. But, as it is written, “The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me.”<sup>f</sup> 4 For whatever things were written before were written for our learning, that through perseverance and through encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the God of perseverance and of encouragement grant you to be of the same mind with one another according to Christ Jesus, 6 that with one accord you may with one mouth glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Therefore accept one another, even as Christ also accepted you,§ to the glory of God. 8 Now I say that Christ has been made a servant of the circumcision for the truth of God, that he might confirm the promises given to the fathers, 9 and that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy. As it is written, “Therefore I will give praise to you amongst the Gentiles and sing to your name.”<sup>g</sup>

10 Again he says, “Rejoice, you Gentiles, with his people.”<sup>h</sup>

11 Again, “Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles! Let all the peoples praise him.”<sup>i</sup>

12 Again, Isaiah says, “There will be the root of Jesse, he who arises to rule over the Gentiles; in him the Gentiles will hope.”<sup>j</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that you may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Spirit.

<sup>14</sup> I myself am also persuaded about you, my brothers,** that you yourselves are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish others. <sup>15</sup> But I write the more boldly to you in part, as reminding you, because of the grace that was given to me by God, <sup>16</sup> that I should be a servant of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, serving as a priest of the Good News of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. <sup>17</sup> I have therefore my boasting in Christ Jesus in things pertaining to God. <sup>18</sup> For I will not dare to speak of any things except those which Christ worked through me, for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, <sup>19</sup> in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of God’s Spirit; so that from Jerusalem, and around as far as to Illyricum, I have fully preached the Good News of Christ; <sup>20</sup> yes, making it my aim to preach the Good News, not where Christ was already named, that I might not build on another’s foundation. <sup>21</sup> But, as it is written, “They will see, to whom no news of him came. They who haven’t heard will understand.”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>22</sup> Therefore also I was hindered these many times from coming to you, <sup>23</sup> but now, no longer having any place in these regions, and having these many years a longing to come to you, <sup>24</sup> whenever I travel to Spain, I will come to you. For I hope to see you on my journey, and to be helped on my way there by you, if first I may enjoy your company for a while. <sup>25</sup> But now, I say, I am going to Jerusalem, serving the saints. <sup>26</sup> For it has been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor amongst the saints who are at Jerusalem. <sup>27</sup> Yes, it has been their good pleasure, and they are their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, they owe it to them also to serve them in fleshly things. <sup>28</sup> When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by way of you to Spain. <sup>29</sup> I know that when I come to you, I will come in the fullness of the blessing of the Good News of Christ.

<sup>30</sup> Now I beg you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in your prayers to God for me, <sup>31</sup> that I may be delivered from those who are disobedient in Judea, and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints, <sup>32</sup> that I may come to you in joy through the will of God, and together with you, find rest. <sup>33</sup> Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

<sup>3</sup> Greet Prisca and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus, <sup>4</sup> who risked their own necks for my life, to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the assemblies of the Gentiles. <sup>5</sup> Greet the assembly that is in their house. Greet Epænetus, my beloved, who is the first fruits of Achaia to Christ. <sup>6</sup> Greet Mary, who laboured much for us. <sup>7</sup> Greet Andronicus and Junia, my relatives and my fellow prisoners, who are notable amongst the apostles, who were also in Christ before me. <sup>8</sup> Greet Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.

<sup>17</sup> Now I beg you, brothers, look out for those who are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, contrary to the doctrine which you learnt, and turn away from them. <sup>18</sup> For those who are such don't serve our Lord, Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by their smooth and flattering speech, they deceive the hearts of the innocent. <sup>19</sup> For your obedience has become known to all. I rejoice therefore over you. But I desire to have you wise in that which is good, but innocent in that which is evil. <sup>20</sup> And the God of peace will quickly crush Satan under your feet.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

<sup>21</sup> Timothy, my fellow worker, greets you, as do Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my relatives. <sup>22</sup> I, Tertius, who write the letter, greet you in the Lord. <sup>23</sup> Gaius, my host and host of the whole assembly, greets you. Erastus, the treasurer of the city, greets you, as does Quartus, the brother. <sup>24</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all! Amen. <sup>25</sup> ¶¶

Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians

1 Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and our brother Sosthenes, <sup>2</sup> to the assembly of God which is at Corinth—those who are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called saints, with all who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, both theirs and ours: <sup>3</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup> I always thank my God concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; <sup>5</sup> that in everything you were enriched in him, in all speech and all knowledge; <sup>6</sup> even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: <sup>7</sup> so that you come behind in no gift; waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; <sup>8</sup> who will also confirm you until the end, blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup> God is faithful, through whom you were called into the fellowship of his Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord.

<sup>10</sup> Now I beg you, brothers,§§ through the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions amongst you, but that you be perfected together in the same mind and in the same judgement. <sup>11</sup> For it has been reported to me concerning you, my brothers, by those who are from Chloe's household, that there are contentions amongst you. <sup>12</sup> Now I mean this, that each one of you says, "I follow Paul," "I follow Apollos," "I follow Cephas," and, "I follow Christ." <sup>13</sup> Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptised into the name of Paul? <sup>14</sup> I thank God that I baptised none of you, except Crispus and Gaius, <sup>15</sup> so that no one should say that I had baptised you into my own name. <sup>16</sup> (I also baptised the household of Stephanas; besides them, I don't know whether I baptised any other.) <sup>17</sup> For Christ sent me not to baptise, but to preach the Good News—not in wisdom of words, so that the cross of Christ wouldn't be made void. <sup>18</sup> For the word of the cross is foolishness to those who are dying, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. <sup>19</sup> For it is written,

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise.

I will bring the discernment of the discerning to nothing."¶

<sup>20</sup> Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the lawyer of this world? Hasn't God made foolish the wisdom of this world? <sup>21</sup> For seeing that in the wisdom of God, the world through its wisdom didn't know God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the preaching to save those who believe. <sup>22</sup> For Jews ask for signs, Greeks seek after wisdom, <sup>23</sup> but we preach Christ crucified: a stumbling block to Jews, and foolishness to Greeks, <sup>24</sup> but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ is the power of God and the wisdom of God; <sup>25</sup> because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

<sup>26</sup> For you see your calling, brothers, that not many are wise according to the flesh, not many mighty, and not many noble; <sup>27</sup> but God chose the foolish things of the world that he might put to shame those who are wise. God chose the weak things of the world that he might put to shame the things that are strong. <sup>28</sup> God chose the lowly things of the world, and the things that are despised, and the things that don't exist, that he might bring to nothing the things that exist, <sup>29</sup> that no flesh should boast before God. <sup>30</sup> Because of him, you are in Christ Jesus, who was made to us wisdom from God, and righteousness and sanctification, and redemption: <sup>31</sup> that, as it is written, "He who boasts, let him boast in the Lord."<sup>m</sup>

¶1:19 Isaiah 29:14    m1:31 Jeremiah 9:24

2 When I came to you, brothers, I didn't come with excellence of speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you the testimony of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything amongst you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. 3 I was with you in weakness, in fear, and in much trembling. 4 My speech and my preaching were not in persuasive words of human wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, 5 that your faith wouldn't stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 We speak wisdom, however, amongst those who are full grown, yet a wisdom not of this world nor of the rulers of this world who are coming to nothing. 7 But we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, the wisdom that has been hidden, which God foreordained before the worlds for our glory, 8 which none of the rulers of this world has known. For had they known it, they wouldn't have crucified the Lord of glory. 9 But as it is written, "Things which an eye didn't see, and an ear didn't hear, which didn't enter into the heart of man, these God has prepared for those who love him."<sup>n</sup>

10 But to us, God revealed them through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. 11 For who amongst men knows the things of a man, except the spirit of the man, which is in him? Even so, no one knows the things of God, except God's Spirit. 12 But we received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from God, that we might know the things that were freely given to us by God. 13 We also speak these things, not in words which man's wisdom teaches, but which the Holy Spirit teaches, comparing spiritual things with spiritual things. 14 Now the natural man doesn't receive the things of God's Spirit, for they are foolishness to him, and he can't know them, because they are spiritually discerned. 15 But he who is spiritual discerns all things, and he himself is judged by no one. 16 "For who has known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him?" "But we have Christ's mind.

3 Brothers, I couldn't speak to you as to spiritual, but as to fleshly, as to babies in Christ. 2 I fed you with milk, not with meat; for you weren't yet ready. Indeed, you aren't ready even now, 3 for you are still fleshly. For insofar as there is jealousy, strife, and factions amongst you, aren't you fleshly, and don't you walk in the ways of men? 4 For when one says, "I follow Paul," and another, "I follow Apollos," aren't you fleshly? 5 Who then is Apollos, and who is Paul, but servants through whom you believed, and each as the Lord gave to him? 6 I planted. Apollos watered. But God gave the increase. 7 So then neither he who plants is anything, nor he who waters, but God who gives the increase. 8 Now he who plants and he who waters are the same, but each will receive his own reward according to his own labour. 9 For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's farming, God's building.

10 According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another builds on it. But let each man be careful how he builds on it. 11 For no one can lay any other foundation than that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ. 12 But if anyone builds on the foundation with gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, or stubble, 13 each man's work will be revealed. For the Day will declare it, because it is revealed in fire; and the fire itself will test what sort of work each man's work is. 14 If any man's work remains which he built on it, he will receive a reward. 15 If any man's work is burnt, he will suffer loss, but he himself will be saved, but as through fire.

16 Don't you know that you are a temple of God, and that God's Spirit lives in you? 17 If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him; for God's temple is holy, which you are.

4 So let a man think of us as Christ's servants, and stewards of God's mysteries. <sup>2</sup> Here, moreover, it is required of stewards that they be found faithful. <sup>3</sup> But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged by you, or by man's judgement. Yes, I don't judge my own self. <sup>4</sup> For I know nothing against myself. Yet I am not justified by this, but he who judges me is the Lord. <sup>5</sup> Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord comes, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and reveal the counsels of the hearts. Then each man will get his praise from God.

<sup>6</sup> Now these things, brothers, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes, that in us you might learn not to think beyond the things which are written, that none of you be puffed up against one another. <sup>7</sup> For who makes you different? And what do you have that you didn't receive? But if you did receive it, why do you boast as if you had not received it? <sup>8</sup> You are already filled. You have already become rich. You have come to reign without us. Yes, and I wish that you did reign, that we also might reign with you. <sup>9</sup> For, I think that God has displayed us, the apostles, last of all, like men sentenced to death. For we are made a spectacle to the world, both to angels and men. <sup>10</sup> We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are wise in Christ. We are weak, but you are strong. You have honour, but we have dishonour. <sup>11</sup> Even to this present hour we hunger, thirst, are naked, are beaten, and have no certain dwelling place. <sup>12</sup> We toil, working with our own hands. When people curse us, we bless. Being persecuted, we endure. <sup>13</sup> Being defamed, we entreat. We are made as the filth of the world, the dirt wiped off by all, even until now.

<sup>14</sup> I don't write these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children. <sup>15</sup> For though you have ten thousand tutors in Christ, you don't have many fathers. For in Christ Jesus, I became your father through the Good News. <sup>16</sup> I beg you therefore, be imitators of me. <sup>17</sup> Because of this I have sent Timothy to you, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who will remind you of my ways which are in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every assembly. <sup>18</sup> Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you. <sup>19</sup> But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord is willing. And I will know, not the word of those who are puffed up, but the power. <sup>20</sup> For God's Kingdom is not in word, but in power. <sup>21</sup> What do you want? Shall I come to you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of gentleness?

5 It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality amongst you, and such sexual immorality as is not even named amongst the Gentiles, that one has his father's wife. <sup>2</sup> You are arrogant, and didn't mourn instead, that he who had done this deed might be removed from amongst you. <sup>3</sup> For I most certainly, as being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him who has done this thing. <sup>4</sup> In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, you being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>5</sup> are to deliver such a one to Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

<sup>6</sup>Your boasting is not good. Don't you know that a little yeast leavens the whole lump? <sup>7</sup>Purge out the old yeast, that you may be a new lump, even as you are unleavened. For indeed Christ, our Passover, has been sacrificed in our place. <sup>8</sup>Therefore let's keep the feast, not with old yeast, neither with the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

<sup>9</sup>I wrote to you in my letter to have no company with sexual sinners; <sup>10</sup>yet not at all meaning with the sexual sinners of this world, or with the covetous and extortionists, or with idolaters; for then you would have to leave the world. <sup>11</sup>But as it is, I wrote to you not to associate with anyone who is called a brother who is a sexual sinner, or covetous, or an idolater, or a slanderer, or a drunkard, or an extortionist. Don't even eat with such a person. <sup>12</sup>For what do I have to do with also judging those who are outside? Don't you judge those who are within? <sup>13</sup>But those who are outside, God judges. "Put away the wicked man from amongst yourselves."<sup>r</sup>

6 Dare any of you, having a matter against his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, and not before the saints? <sup>2</sup>Don't you know that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is judged by you, are you unworthy to judge the smallest matters? <sup>3</sup>Don't you know that we will judge angels? How much more, things that pertain to this life? <sup>4</sup>If then you have to judge things pertaining to this life, do you set them to judge who are of no account in the assembly? <sup>5</sup>I say this to move you to shame. Isn't there even one wise man amongst you who would be able to decide between his brothers? <sup>6</sup>But brother goes to law with brother, and that before unbelievers! <sup>7</sup>Therefore it is already altogether a defect in you, that you have lawsuits one with another. Why not rather be wronged?

Why not rather be defrauded? <sup>8</sup>No, but you yourselves do wrong and defraud, and that against your brothers. <sup>9</sup>Or don't you know that the unrighteous will not inherit God's Kingdom? Don't be deceived. Neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor male prostitutes, nor homosexuals, <sup>10</sup>nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor extortionists, will inherit God's Kingdom. <sup>11</sup>Some of you were such, but you were washed. But you were sanctified. But you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and in the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup>"All things are lawful for me," but not all things are expedient. "All things are lawful for me," but I will not be brought under the power of anything. <sup>13</sup>"Foods for the belly, and the belly for foods," but God will bring to nothing both it and them. But the body is not for sexual immorality, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body. <sup>14</sup>Now God raised up the Lord, and will also raise us up by his power. <sup>15</sup>Don't you know that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of a prostitute? May it never be! <sup>16</sup>Or don't you know that he who is joined to a prostitute is one body? For, "The two", he says, "will become one flesh."<sup>s</sup> <sup>17</sup>But he who is joined to the Lord is one spirit. <sup>18</sup>Flee sexual immorality! "Every sin that a man does is outside the body," but he who commits sexual immorality sins against his own body. <sup>19</sup>Or don't you know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have from God? You are not your own, <sup>20</sup>for you were bought with a price. Therefore glorify God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

owed her,* and likewise also the wife her husband. <sup>4</sup>The wife doesn't have authority over her own body, but the husband. Likewise also the husband doesn't have authority over his own body, but the wife. <sup>5</sup>Don't deprive one another, unless it is by consent for a season, that you may give yourselves to fasting and prayer, and may be together again, that Satan doesn't tempt you because of your lack of self-control.

<sup>6</sup>But this I say by way of concession, not of commandment. <sup>7</sup>Yet I wish that all men were like me. However each man has his own gift from God, one of this kind, and another of that kind. <sup>8</sup>But I say to the unmarried and to widows, it is good for them if they remain even as I am. <sup>9</sup>But if they don't have self-control, let them marry. For it's better to marry than to burn. <sup>10</sup>But to the married I command—not I, but the Lord—that the wife not leave her husband <sup>11</sup>(but if she departs, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband), and that the husband not leave his wife.

<sup>12</sup>But to the rest I—not the Lord—say, if any brother has an unbelieving wife, and she is content to live with him, let him not leave her. <sup>13</sup>The woman who has an unbelieving husband, and he is content to live with her, let her not leave her husband. <sup>14</sup>For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but now they are holy. <sup>15</sup>Yet if the unbeliever departs, let there be separation. The brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases, but God has called us in peace. <sup>16</sup>For how do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife? <sup>17</sup>Only, as the Lord has distributed to each man, as God has called each, so let him walk. So I command in all the assemblies.

<sup>18</sup>Was anyone called having been circumcised? Let him not become uncircumcised. Has anyone been called in uncircumcision? Let him not be circumcised. <sup>19</sup>Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God. <sup>20</sup>Let each man stay in that calling in which he was called. <sup>21</sup>Were you called being a bondservant? Don't let that bother you, but if you get an opportunity to become free, use it. <sup>22</sup>For he who was called in the Lord being a bondservant is the Lord's free man. Likewise he who was called being free is Christ's bondservant. <sup>23</sup>You were bought with a price. Don't become bondservants of men. <sup>24</sup>Brothers, let each man, in whatever condition he was called, stay in that condition with God.

<sup>25</sup>Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment from the Lord, but I give my judgement as one who has obtained mercy from the Lord to be trustworthy. <sup>26</sup>Therefore I think that because of the distress that is on us, that it's good for a man to remain as he is. <sup>27</sup>Are you bound to a wife? Don't seek to be freed. Are you free from a wife? Don't seek a wife. <sup>28</sup>But if you marry, you have not sinned. If a virgin marries, she has not sinned. Yet such will have oppression in the flesh, and I want to spare you. <sup>29</sup>But I say this, brothers: the time is short, that from now on, both those who have wives may be as though they had none; <sup>30</sup>and those who weep, as though they didn't weep; and those who rejoice, as though they didn't rejoice; and those who buy, as though they didn't possess; <sup>31</sup>and those who use the world, as not using it to the fullest. For the mode of this world passes away. <sup>32</sup>But I desire to have you to be free from cares. He who is unmarried is concerned for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord; <sup>33</sup>but he who is married is concerned about the things of the world, how he may please his wife. <sup>34</sup>There is also a difference between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman cares about the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. But she who is married cares about the things of the world—how she may please her husband. <sup>35</sup> This I say for your own profit; not that I may ensnare you, but for that which is appropriate, and that you may attend to the Lord without distraction. <sup>36</sup> But if any man thinks that he is behaving inappropriately towards his virgin, if she is past the flower of her age, and if need so requires, let him do what he desires. He doesn't sin. Let them marry. <sup>37</sup> But he who stands steadfast in his heart, having no urgency, but has power over his own will, and has determined in his own heart to keep his own virgin, does well. <sup>38</sup> So then both he who gives his own virgin in marriage does well, and he who doesn't give her in marriage does better.

<sup>39</sup> A wife is bound by law for as long as her husband lives; but if the husband is dead, she is free to be married to whomever she desires, only in the Lord. <sup>40</sup> But she is happier if she stays as she is, in my judgement, and I think that I also have God's Spirit.

8 Now concerning things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up. <sup>2</sup> But if anyone thinks that he knows anything, he doesn't yet know as he ought to know. <sup>3</sup> But if anyone loves God, the same is known by him. <sup>4</sup> Therefore concerning the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that no idol is anything in the world, and that there is no other God but one. <sup>5</sup> For though there are things that are called "gods", whether in the heavens or on earth; as there are many "gods" and many "lords"; <sup>6</sup> yet to us there is one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we for him; and one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we live through him. <sup>7</sup> However, that knowledge isn't in all men. But some, with consciousness of the idol until now, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol, and their conscience, being weak, is defiled. <sup>8</sup> But food will not commend us to God. For neither, if we don't eat, are we the worse; nor, if we eat, are we the better. <sup>9</sup> But be careful that by no means does this liberty of yours become a stumbling block to the weak. <sup>10</sup> For if a man sees you who have knowledge sitting in an idol's temple, won't his conscience, if he is weak, be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? <sup>11</sup> And through your knowledge, he who is weak perishes, the brother for whose sake Christ died. <sup>12</sup> Thus, sinning against the brothers, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, you sin against Christ. <sup>13</sup> Therefore if food causes my brother to stumble, I will eat no meat forever more, that I don't cause my brother to stumble.

9 Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Haven't I seen Jesus Christ, our Lord? Aren't you my work in the Lord? <sup>2</sup> If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you; for you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord. <sup>3</sup> My defence to those who examine me is this: <sup>4</sup> Have we no right to eat and to drink? <sup>5</sup> Have we no right to take along a wife who is a believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and the brothers of the Lord, and Cephas? <sup>6</sup> Or have only Barnabas and I no right to not work? <sup>7</sup> What soldier ever serves at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard, and doesn't eat of its fruit? Or who feeds a flock, and doesn't drink from the flock's milk? <sup>8</sup> Do I speak these things according to the ways of men? Or doesn't the law also say the same thing? <sup>9</sup> For it is written in the law of Moses, "You shall not muzzle an ox while it treads out the grain."<sup>t</sup> Is it for the oxen that God cares, <sup>10</sup> or does he say it assuredly for our sake? Yes, it was written for our sake, because he who ploughs ought to plough in hope, and he who threshes in hope should partake of his hope. <sup>11</sup> If we sowed to you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we reap your fleshly things? <sup>12</sup> If others partake of this right over you, don't we yet more? Nevertheless we didn't use this right, but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the Good News of Christ. <sup>13</sup> Don't you know that those who serve around sacred things eat from the things of the temple, and those who wait on the altar have their portion with the altar? <sup>14</sup> Even so the Lord ordained that those who proclaim the Good News should live from the Good News. <sup>15</sup> But I have used none of these things, and I don't write these things that it may be done so in my case; for I would rather die, than that anyone should make my boasting void. <sup>16</sup> For if I preach the Good News, I have nothing to boast about; for necessity is laid on me; but woe is to me if I don't preach the Good News. <sup>17</sup> For if I do this of my own will, I have a reward. But if not of my own will, I have a stewardship entrusted to me. <sup>18</sup> What then is my reward? That when I preach the Good News, I may present the Good News of Christ without charge, so as not to abuse my authority in the Good News. <sup>19</sup> For though I was free from all, I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more. <sup>20</sup> To the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to those who are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain those who are under the law; <sup>21</sup> to those who are without law, as without law (not being without law towards God, but under law towards Christ), that I might win those who are without law. <sup>22</sup> To the weak I became as weak, that I might gain the weak. I have become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some. <sup>23</sup> Now I do this for the sake of the Good News, that I may be a joint partaker of it. <sup>24</sup> Don't you know that those who run in a race all run, but one receives the prize? Run like that, that you may win. <sup>25</sup> Every man who strives in the games exercises self-control in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible. <sup>26</sup> I therefore run like that, not aimlessly. I fight like that, not beating the air, <sup>27</sup> but I beat my body and bring it into submission, lest by any means, after I have preached to others, I myself should be rejected.

10 Now I would not have you ignorant, brothers, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; <sup>2</sup> and were all baptised into Moses in the cloud and in the sea; <sup>3</sup> and all ate the same spiritual food; <sup>4</sup> and all drank the same spiritual drink. For they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was Christ. <sup>5</sup> However with most of them, God was not well pleased, for they were overthrown in the wilderness. <sup>6</sup> Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted. <sup>7</sup> Don't be idolaters, as some of them were. As it is written, "The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play."<sup>u</sup> <sup>8</sup> Let's not commit sexual immorality, as some of them committed, and in one day twenty-three thousand fell. <sup>9</sup> Let's not test Christ,† as some of them tested, and perished by the serpents. <sup>10</sup> Don't grumble, as some of them also grumbled, and perished by the destroyer. <sup>11</sup> Now all these things happened to them by way of example, and they were written for our admonition, on whom the ends of the ages have come. <sup>12</sup> Therefore let him who thinks he stands be careful that he doesn't fall.

<sup>13</sup> No temptation has taken you except what is common to man. God is faithful, who will not allow you to be tempted above what you are able, but will with the temptation also make the way of escape, that you may be able to endure it.

we all partake of the one loaf of bread. <sup>18</sup> Consider Israel according to the flesh. Don't those who eat the sacrifices participate in the altar?

<sup>19</sup> What am I saying then? That a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that an idol is anything? <sup>20</sup> But I say that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to demons, and not to God, and I don't desire that you would have fellowship with demons. <sup>21</sup> You can't both drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You can't both partake of the table of the Lord and of the table of demons. <sup>22</sup> Or do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we stronger than he?

11 Be imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ.

<sup>2</sup> Now I praise you, brothers, that you remember me in all things, and hold firm the traditions, even as I delivered them to you. <sup>3</sup> But I would have you know that the head‡ of every man is Christ, and the head¶ of the woman is man, and the head§ of Christ is God. <sup>4</sup> Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonours his head. <sup>5</sup> But every woman praying or prophesying with her head uncovered dishonours her head. For it is one and the same thing as if she were shaved. <sup>6</sup> For if a woman is not covered, let her hair also be cut off. But if it is shameful for a woman to have her hair cut off or be shaved, let her be covered. <sup>7</sup> For a man indeed ought not to have his head covered, because he is the image and glory of God, but the woman is the glory of the man. <sup>8</sup> For man is not from woman, but woman from man; <sup>9</sup> for man wasn't created for the woman, but woman for the man. <sup>10</sup> For this cause the woman ought to have authority over her own head, because of the angels.

<sup>11</sup> Nevertheless, neither is the woman independent of the man, nor the man independent of the woman, in the Lord. <sup>12</sup> For as woman came from man, so a man also comes through a woman; but all things are from God. <sup>13</sup> Judge for yourselves. Is it appropriate that a woman pray to God unveiled? <sup>14</sup> Doesn't even nature itself teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a dishonour to him? <sup>15</sup> But if a woman has long hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given to her for a covering. <sup>16</sup> But if any man seems to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither do God's assemblies.

<sup>17</sup> But in giving you this command, I don't praise you, that you come together not for the better but for the worse. <sup>18</sup> For first of all, when you come together in the assembly, I hear that divisions exist amongst you, and I partly believe it. <sup>19</sup>For there also must be factions amongst you, that those who are approved may be revealed amongst you. <sup>20</sup>When therefore you assemble yourselves together, it is not the Lord's supper that you eat. <sup>21</sup>For in your eating each one takes his own supper first. One is hungry, and another is drunken. <sup>22</sup>What, don't you have houses to eat and to drink in? Or do you despise God's assembly and put them to shame who don't have enough? What shall I tell you? Shall I praise you? In this I don't praise you.

<sup>23</sup>For I received from the Lord that which also I delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night in which he was betrayed took bread. <sup>24</sup>When he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "Take, eat. This is my body, which is broken for you. Do this in memory of me." <sup>25</sup>In the same way he also took the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink, in memory of me." <sup>26</sup>For as often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes. <sup>27</sup>Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks the Lord's cup in a way unworthy of the Lord will be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. <sup>28</sup>But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. <sup>29</sup>For he who eats and drinks in an unworthy way eats and drinks judgement to himself if he doesn't discern the Lord's body. <sup>30</sup>For this cause many amongst you are weak and sickly, and not a few sleep. <sup>31</sup>For if we discerned ourselves, we wouldn't be judged. <sup>32</sup>But when we are judged, we are punished by the Lord, that we may not be condemned with the world. <sup>33</sup>Therefore, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for one another. <sup>34</sup>But if anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, lest your coming together be for judgement. The rest I will set in order whenever I come.

12 Now concerning spiritual things, brothers, I don't want you to be ignorant. <sup>2</sup>You know that when you were heathen,** you were led away to those mute idols, however you might be led. <sup>3</sup>Therefore I make known to you that no man speaking by God's Spirit says, "Jesus is accursed." No one can say, "Jesus is Lord," but by the Holy Spirit.

<sup>4</sup>Now there are various kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit. <sup>5</sup>There are various kinds of service, and the same Lord. <sup>6</sup>There are various kinds of workings, but the same God, who works all things in all. <sup>7</sup>But to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the profit of all. <sup>8</sup>For to one is given through the Spirit the word of wisdom, and to another the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit; <sup>9</sup>to another faith, by the same Spirit; and to another gifts of healings, by the same Spirit; <sup>10</sup>and to another workings of miracles; and to another prophecy; and to another discerning of spirits; to another different kinds of languages; and to another the interpretation of languages. <sup>11</sup>But the one and the same Spirit produces all of these, distributing to each one separately as he desires.

<sup>12</sup>For as the body is one, and has many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ. <sup>13</sup>For in one Spirit we were all baptised into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and were all given to drink into one Spirit. <sup>14</sup>For the body is not one member, but many. <sup>15</sup>If the foot would say, "Because I'm not the hand, I'm not part of the body," it is not therefore not part of the body. <sup>16</sup>If the ear would say, "Because I'm not the eye, I'm not part of the body," it's not therefore not part of the body. <sup>17</sup>If the whole body were an eye, where would the hearing be? If the whole were hearing, where would the smelling be? <sup>18</sup>But now God has set the members, each one of them, in the body, just as he desired. <sup>19</sup>If they were all one member, where would the body be? <sup>20</sup>But now they are many members, but one body. <sup>21</sup>The eye can't tell the hand, "I have no need for you," or again the head to the feet, "I have no need for you." <sup>22</sup>No, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be weaker are necessary. <sup>23</sup>Those parts of the body which we think to be less honourable, on those we bestow more abundant honour; and our unrepresentable parts have more abundant propriety; <sup>24</sup>whereas our presentable parts have no such need. But God composed the body together, giving more abundant honour to the inferior part, <sup>25</sup>that there should be no division in the body, but that the members should have the same care for one another. <sup>26</sup>When one member suffers, all the members suffer with it. When one member is honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

**12:2 or Gentiles

<sup>27</sup>Now you are the body of Christ, and members individually. <sup>28</sup>God has set some in the assembly: first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracle workers, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, and various kinds of languages. <sup>29</sup>Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all miracle workers? <sup>30</sup>Do all have gifts of healings? Do all speak with various languages? Do all interpret? <sup>31</sup>But earnestly desire the best gifts. Moreover, I show a most excellent way to you.

13 If I speak with the languages of men and of angels, but don't have love, I have become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup>If I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but don't have love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup>If I give away all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burnt, but don't have love, it profits me nothing.

behave itself inappropriately, doesn't seek its own way, is not provoked, takes no account of evil; <sup>6</sup>doesn't rejoice in unrighteousness, but rejoices with the truth; <sup>7</sup>bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, and endures all things. <sup>8</sup>Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will be done away with. Where there are various languages, they will cease. Where there is knowledge, it will be done away with. <sup>9</sup>For we know in part and we prophesy in part; <sup>10</sup>but when that which is complete has come, then that which is partial will be done away with. <sup>11</sup>When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child. Now that I have become a man, I have put away childish things. <sup>12</sup>For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I will know fully, even as I was also fully known. <sup>13</sup>But now faith, hope, and love remain—these three. The greatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love and earnestly desire spiritual gifts, but especially that you may prophesy. <sup>2</sup>For he who speaks in another language speaks not to men, but to God; for no one understands; but in the Spirit he speaks mysteries. <sup>3</sup>But he who prophesies speaks to men for their edification, exhortation, and consolation. <sup>4</sup>He who speaks in another language edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the assembly. <sup>5</sup>Now I desire to have you all speak with other languages, but rather that you would prophesy. For he is greater who prophesies than he who speaks with other languages, unless he interprets, that the assembly may be built up.

<sup>6</sup>But now, brothers,†† if I come to you speaking with other languages, what would I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of teaching? <sup>7</sup>Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they didn't give a distinction in the sounds, how would it be known what is piped or harped? <sup>8</sup>For if the trumpet gave an uncertain sound, who would prepare himself for war? <sup>9</sup>So also you, unless you uttered by the tongue words easy to understand, how would it be known what is spoken? For you would be speaking into the air. <sup>10</sup>There are, it may be, so many kinds of sounds in the world, and none of them is without meaning. <sup>11</sup>If then I don't know the meaning of the sound, I would be to him who speaks a foreigner, and he who speaks would be a foreigner to me. <sup>12</sup>So also you, since you are zealous for spiritual gifts, seek that you may abound to the building up of the assembly. <sup>13</sup>Therefore let him who speaks in another language pray that he may interpret. <sup>14</sup>For if I pray in another language, my spirit prays, but my understanding is unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup>What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also. I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. <sup>16</sup>Otherwise if you bless with the spirit, how will he who fills the place of the unlearned say the "Amen" at your giving of thanks, seeing he doesn't know what you say? <sup>17</sup>For you most certainly give thanks well, but the other person is not built up. <sup>18</sup>I thank my God, I speak with other languages more than you all. <sup>19</sup>However in the assembly I would rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in another language.

<sup>20</sup>Brothers, don't be children in thoughts, yet in malice be babies, but in thoughts be mature. <sup>21</sup>In the law it is written, "By men of strange languages and by the lips of strangers I will speak to this people. They won't even hear me that way, says the Lord."<sup>w</sup> <sup>22</sup>Therefore other languages are for a sign, not to those who believe, but to the unbelieving; but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to those who believe. <sup>23</sup>If therefore the whole assembly is assembled together and all speak with other languages, and unlearned or unbelieving people come in, won't they say that you are crazy? <sup>24</sup>But if all prophesy, and someone unbelieving or unlearned comes in, he is reproved by all, and he is judged by all. <sup>25</sup>And thus the secrets of his heart are revealed. So he will fall down on his face and worship God, declaring that God is amongst you indeed.

<sup>26</sup>What is it then, brothers? When you come together, each one of you has a psalm, has a teaching, has a revelation, has another language, or has an interpretation. Let all things be done to build each other up. <sup>27</sup>If any man speaks in another language, let it be two, or at the most three, and in turn; and let one interpret. <sup>28</sup>But if there is no interpreter, let him keep silent in the assembly, and let him speak to himself, and to God. <sup>29</sup>Let the prophets speak, two or three, and let the others discern. <sup>30</sup>But if a revelation is made to another sitting by, let the first keep silent. <sup>31</sup>For you all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be exhorted. <sup>32</sup>The spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets, <sup>33</sup>for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace, as in all the assemblies of the saints. <sup>34</sup>Let the wives be quiet in the assemblies, for it has not been permitted for them to be talking except in submission, as the law also says,<sup>x</sup> <sup>35</sup>if they desire to learn anything. "Let them ask their own husbands at home, for it is shameful for a wife to be talking in the assembly." <sup>36</sup>What!? Was it from you that the word of God went out? Or did it come to you alone?

<sup>37</sup>If any man thinks himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him recognise the things which I write to you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. <sup>38</sup>But if anyone is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

15 Now I declare to you, brothers, the Good News which I preached to you, which also you received, in which you also stand, <sup>2</sup>by which also you are saved, if you hold firmly the word which I preached to you—unless you believed in vain. <sup>3</sup>For I delivered to you first of all that which I also received: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, <sup>4</sup>that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures, <sup>5</sup>and that he appeared to Cephas, then to the twelve. <sup>6</sup>Then he appeared to over five hundred brothers at once, most of whom remain until now, but some have also fallen asleep. <sup>7</sup>Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles, <sup>8</sup>and last of all, as to the child born at the wrong time, he appeared to me also. <sup>9</sup>For I am the least of the apostles, who is not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the assembly of God. <sup>10</sup>But by the grace of God I am what I am. His grace which was given to me was not futile, but I worked more than all of them; yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. <sup>11</sup>Whether then it is I or they, so we preach, and so you believed.

<sup>12</sup>Now if Christ is preached, that he has been raised from the dead, how do some amongst you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup>But if there is no resurrection of the dead, neither has Christ been raised. <sup>14</sup>If Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain, and your faith also is in vain. <sup>15</sup>Yes, we are also found false witnesses of God, because we testified about God that he raised up Christ, whom he didn't raise up, if it is so that the dead are not raised. <sup>16</sup>For if the dead aren't raised, neither has Christ been raised. <sup>17</sup>If Christ has not been raised, your faith is vain; you are still in your sins. <sup>18</sup>Then they also who are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. <sup>19</sup>If we have only hoped in Christ in this life, we are of all men most pitiable.

<sup>20</sup>But now Christ has been raised from the dead. He became the first fruits of those who are asleep. <sup>21</sup>For since death came by man, the resurrection of the dead also came by man. <sup>22</sup>For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all will be made alive. <sup>23</sup>But each in his own order: Christ the first fruits, then those who are Christ's, at his coming. <sup>24</sup>Then the end comes, when he will deliver up the Kingdom to God, even the Father, when he will have abolished all rule and all authority and power. <sup>25</sup>For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. <sup>26</sup>The last enemy that will be abolished is death. <sup>27</sup>For, "He put all things in subjection under his feet."<sup>y</sup> But when he says, "All things are put in subjection", it is evident that he is excepted who subjected all things to him. <sup>28</sup>When all things have been subjected to him, then the Son will also himself be subjected to him who subjected all things to him, that God may be all in all.

<sup>29</sup>Or else what will they do who are baptised for the dead? If the dead aren't raised at all, why then are they baptised for the dead? <sup>30</sup>Why do we also stand in jeopardy every hour? <sup>31</sup>I affirm, by the boasting in you which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily. <sup>32</sup>If I fought with animals at Ephesus for human purposes, what does it profit me? If the dead are not raised, then "let's eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."<sup>z</sup> <sup>33</sup>Don't be deceived! "Evil companionships corrupt good morals." <sup>34</sup>Wake up righteously, and don't sin, for some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame.

<sup>35</sup>But someone will say, "How are the dead raised?" and, "With what kind of body do they come?" <sup>36</sup>You foolish one, that which you yourself sow is not made alive unless it dies. <sup>37</sup>That which you sow, you don't sow the body that will be, but a bare grain, maybe of wheat, or of some other kind. <sup>38</sup>But God gives it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own. <sup>39</sup>All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, another flesh of animals, another of fish, and another of birds. <sup>40</sup>There are also celestial bodies and terrestrial bodies; but the glory of the celestial differs from that of the terrestrial. <sup>41</sup>There is one glory of the sun, another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differs from another star in glory. <sup>42</sup>So also is the resurrection of the dead. The body is sown perishable; it is raised imperishable. <sup>43</sup>It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. <sup>44</sup>It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body and there is also a spiritual body.

<sup>45</sup>So also it is written, “The first man, Adam, became a living soul.” <sup>a</sup>The last Adam became a life-giving spirit. <sup>46</sup>However that which is spiritual isn’t first, but that which is natural, then that which is spiritual. <sup>47</sup>The first man is of the earth, made of dust. The second man is the Lord from heaven. <sup>48</sup>As is the one made of dust, such are those who are also made of dust; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly. <sup>49</sup>As we have borne the image of those made of dust, let’s‡‡ also bear the image of the heavenly. <sup>50</sup>Now I say this, brothers,¶¶ that flesh and blood can’t inherit God’s Kingdom; neither does the perishable inherit imperishable.

<sup>51</sup>Behold,§§ I tell you a mystery. We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed, <sup>52</sup>in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound and the dead will be raised incorruptible, and we will be changed. <sup>53</sup>For this perishable body must become imperishable, and this mortal must put on immortality. <sup>54</sup>But when this perishable body will have become imperishable, and this mortal will have put on immortality, then what is written will happen: “Death is swallowed up in victory.”<sup>b</sup>

<sup>56</sup>The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. <sup>57</sup>But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>58</sup>Therefore, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the Lord’s work, because you know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

16 Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I commanded the assemblies of Galatia, you do likewise. <sup>2</sup>On the first day of every week, let each one of you save, as he may prosper, that no collections are made when I come. <sup>3</sup>When I arrive, I will send whoever you approve with letters to carry your gracious gift to Jerusalem. <sup>4</sup>If it is appropriate for me to go also, they will go with me. <sup>5</sup>But I will come to you when I have passed through Macedonia, for I am passing through Macedonia. <sup>6</sup>But with you it may be that I will stay, or even winter, that you may send me on my journey wherever I go. <sup>7</sup>For I do not wish to see you now in passing, but I hope to stay a while with you, if the Lord permits. <sup>8</sup>But I will stay at Ephesus until Pentecost, <sup>9</sup>for a great and effective door has opened to me, and there are many adversaries.

<sup>10</sup>Now if Timothy comes, see that he is with you without fear, for he does the work of the Lord, as I also do. <sup>11</sup>Therefore let no one despise him. But set him forward on his journey in peace, that he may come to me; for I expect him with the brothers.

<sup>12</sup> Now concerning Apollos, the brother, I strongly urged him to come to you with the brothers; and it was not at all his desire to come now; but he will come when he has an opportunity.

<sup>15</sup> Now I beg you, brothers—you know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first fruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves to serve the saints— <sup>16</sup> that you also be in subjection to such, and to everyone who helps in the work and labours. <sup>17</sup> I rejoice at the coming of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus; for that which was lacking on your part, they supplied. <sup>18</sup> For they refreshed my spirit and yours. Therefore acknowledge those who are like that.

<sup>21</sup> This greeting is by me, Paul, with my own hand. <sup>22</sup> If any man doesn't love the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be cursed. †Come, Lord!‡ <sup>23</sup> The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you. <sup>24</sup> My love to all of you in Christ Jesus. Amen.

Paul's Second Letter to the Corinthians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, to the assembly of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints who are in the whole of Achaia: 2 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; 4 who comforts us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction, through the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God. 5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound to us, even so our comfort also abounds through Christ. 6 But if we are afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation. If we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which produces in you the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer. 7 Our hope for you is steadfast, knowing that, since you are partakers of the sufferings, so you are also of the comfort. 8 For we don't desire to have you uninformed, brothers,¶ concerning our affliction which happened to us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, so much that we despaired even of life. 9 Yes, we ourselves have had the sentence of death within ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God who raises the dead, 10 who delivered us out of so great a death, and does deliver; on whom we have set our hope that he will also still deliver us; 11 you also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, for the gift given to us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on your behalf.

12 For our boasting is this: the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and sincerity of God, not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly towards you. 13 For we write no other things to you than what you read or even acknowledge, and I hope you will acknowledge to the end, 14 as also you acknowledged us in part, that we are your boasting, even as you also are ours, in the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 In this confidence, I was determined to come first to you, that you might have a second benefit, 16 and by you to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and to be sent forward by you on my journey to Judea. 17 When I therefore was thus determined, did I show fickleness? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be the "Yes, yes" and the "No, no?" 18 But as God is faithful, our word towards you was not "Yes and no." 19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached amongst you by us, by me, Silvanus, and Timothy, was not "Yes and no," but in him is "Yes." 20 For however many are the promises of God, in him is the "Yes." Therefore also through him is the "Amen", to the glory of God through us.

21 Now he who establishes us with you in Christ and anointed us is God, 22 who also sealed us, and gave us the down payment of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But I call God for a witness to my soul, that I didn't come to Corinth to spare you. 24 We don't control your faith, but are fellow workers with you for your joy. For you stand firm in faith.

2 But I determined this for myself, that I would not come to you again in sorrow. 2 For if I make you grieve, then who will make me glad but he who is made to grieve by me? 3 And I wrote this very thing to you, so that, when I came, I wouldn't have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; having confidence in you all, that my joy would be shared by all of you. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote to you with many tears, not that you should be made to grieve, but that you might know the love that I have so abundantly for you. <sup>5</sup> But if any has caused sorrow, he has caused sorrow, not to me, but in part (that I not press too heavily) to you all. <sup>6</sup> This punishment which was inflicted by the many is sufficient for such a one; <sup>7</sup> so that on the contrary you should rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his excessive sorrow. <sup>8</sup> Therefore I beg you to confirm your love towards him. <sup>9</sup> For to this end I also wrote, that I might know the proof of you, whether you are obedient in all things. <sup>10</sup> Now I also forgive whomever you forgive anything. For if indeed I have forgiven anything, I have forgiven that one for your sakes in the presence of Christ, <sup>11</sup> that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan, for we are not ignorant of his schemes.

<sup>12</sup> Now when I came to Troas for the Good News of Christ, and when a door was opened to me in the Lord, <sup>13</sup> I had no relief for my spirit, because I didn't find Titus, my brother, but taking my leave of them, I went out into Macedonia.

<sup>14</sup> Now thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumph in Christ, and reveals through us the sweet aroma of his knowledge in every place. <sup>15</sup> For we are a sweet aroma of Christ to God, in those who are saved and in those who perish: <sup>16</sup> to the one a stench from death to life. Who is sufficient for these things? <sup>17</sup> For we are not as so many, peddling the word of God. But as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, we speak in Christ.

3 Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? Or do we need, as do some, letters of commendation to you or from you? <sup>2</sup> You are our letter, written in our hearts, known and read by all men, <sup>3</sup> being revealed that you are a letter of Christ, served by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tablets of stone, but in tablets that are hearts of flesh. <sup>4</sup> Such confidence we have through Christ towards God, <sup>5</sup> not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but our sufficiency is from God, <sup>6</sup> who also made us sufficient as servants of a new covenant, not of the letter, but of the Spirit. For the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life. <sup>7</sup> But if the service of death, written engraved on stones, came with glory, so that the children of Israel could not look steadfastly on the face of Moses for the glory of his face, which was passing away, <sup>8</sup> won't service of the Spirit be with much more glory? <sup>9</sup> For if the service of condemnation has glory, the service of righteousness exceeds much more in glory. <sup>10</sup> For most certainly that which has been made glorious has not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasses. <sup>11</sup> For if that which passes away was with glory, much more that which remains is in glory.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, <sup>2</sup> even as we obtained mercy, we don't faint. <sup>2</sup> But we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> Even if our Good News is veiled, it is veiled in those who are dying, <sup>4</sup> in whom the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the Good News of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn on them. <sup>5</sup> For we don't preach ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake, <sup>6</sup> seeing it is God who said, "Light will shine out of darkness,"<sup>d</sup> who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

<sup>7</sup> But we have this treasure in clay vessels, that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves. <sup>8</sup> We are pressed on every side, yet not crushed; perplexed, yet not to despair; <sup>9</sup> pursued, yet not forsaken; struck down, yet not destroyed; <sup>10</sup> always carrying in the body the putting to death of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body. <sup>11</sup> For we who live are always delivered to death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be revealed in our mortal flesh. <sup>12</sup> So then death works in us, but life in you. <sup>13</sup> But having the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, "I believed, and therefore I spoke."<sup>c</sup> We also believe, and therefore we also speak; <sup>14</sup> knowing that he who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus, and will present us with you. <sup>15</sup> For all things are for your sakes, that the grace, being multiplied through the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound to the glory of God.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our tent is dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. <sup>2</sup> For most certainly in this we groan, longing to be clothed with our habitation which is from heaven, <sup>3</sup> if indeed being clothed, we will not be found naked. <sup>4</sup> For indeed we who are in this tent do groan, being burdened, not that we desire to be unclothed, but that we desire to be clothed, that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. <sup>5</sup> Now he who made us for this very thing is God, who also gave to us the down payment of the Spirit.

<sup>6</sup> Therefore we are always confident and know that while we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord; <sup>7</sup> for we walk by faith, not by sight. <sup>8</sup> We are courageous, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body and to be at home with the Lord. <sup>9</sup> Therefore also we make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well pleasing to him. <sup>10</sup> For we must all be revealed before the judgement seat of Christ that each one may receive the things in the body according to what he has done, whether good or bad.

<sup>11</sup> Knowing therefore the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but we are revealed to God, and I hope that we are revealed also in your consciences. <sup>12</sup> For we are not commending ourselves to you again, but speak as giving you occasion of boasting on our behalf, that you may have something to answer those who boast in appearance, and not in heart. <sup>13</sup> For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God. Or if we are of sober mind, it is for you. <sup>14</sup> For the love of Christ constrains us; because we judge thus, that one died for all, therefore all died. <sup>15</sup> He died for all, that those who live should no longer live to themselves, but to him who for their sakes died and rose again. <sup>16</sup> Therefore we know no one after the flesh from now on. Even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. <sup>17</sup> Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation. The old things have passed away. Behold,§ all things have become new. <sup>18</sup> But all things are of God, who reconciled us to himself through Jesus Christ, and gave to us the ministry of reconciliation; <sup>19</sup> namely, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself, not reckoning to them their trespasses, and having committed to us the word of reconciliation.

<sup>20</sup> We are therefore ambassadors on behalf of Christ, as though God were entreating by us: we beg you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God. <sup>21</sup> For him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; so that in him we might become the righteousness of God.

6 Working together, we entreat also that you do not receive the grace of God in vain, <sup>2</sup> for he says, “At an acceptable time I listened to you. In a day of salvation I helped you.”<sup>f</sup>

Behold, now is the acceptable time. Behold, now is the day of salvation. <sup>3</sup> We give no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our service may not be blamed, <sup>4</sup> but in everything commending ourselves, as servants of God, in great endurance, in afflictions, in hardships, in distresses, <sup>5</sup> in beatings, in imprisonments, in riots, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; <sup>6</sup> in pureness, in knowledge, in perseverance, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in sincere love, <sup>7</sup> in the word of truth, in the power of God; by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, <sup>8</sup> by glory and dishonour, by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; <sup>9</sup> as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold, we live; as punished, and not killed; <sup>10</sup> as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

<sup>11</sup> Our mouth is open to you, Corinthians. Our heart is enlarged. <sup>12</sup> You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted by your own affections. <sup>13</sup> Now in return, I speak as to my children; you also open your hearts. <sup>14</sup> Don't be unequally yoked with unbelievers, for what fellowship do righteousness and iniquity have? Or what fellowship does light have with darkness? <sup>15</sup> What agreement does Christ have with Belial? Or what portion does a believer have with an unbeliever? <sup>16</sup> What agreement does a temple of God have with idols? For you are a temple of the living God. Even as God said, “I will dwell in them and walk in them. I will be their God and they will be my people.”<sup>g</sup> <sup>17</sup> Therefore “‘Come out from amongst them, and be separate,’ says the Lord. ‘Touch no unclean thing. I will receive you.’<sup>h</sup>

<sup>18</sup> I will be to you a Father. You will be to me sons and daughters,’ says the Lord Almighty.”<sup>i</sup>

7 Having therefore these promises, beloved, let's cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

<sup>2</sup> Open your hearts to us. We wronged no one. We corrupted no one. We took advantage of no one. <sup>3</sup> I say this not to condemn you, for I have said before that you are in our hearts to die together and live together. <sup>4</sup> Great is my boldness of speech towards you. Great is my boasting on your behalf. I am filled with comfort. I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

<sup>5</sup> For even when we had come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side. Fightings were outside. Fear was inside. <sup>6</sup> Nevertheless, he who comforts the lowly, God, comforted us by the coming of Titus, <sup>7</sup> and not by his coming only, but also by the comfort with which he was comforted in you while he told us of your longing, your mourning, and your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced still more.

<sup>8</sup>For though I grieved you with my letter, I do not regret it, though I did regret it. For I see that my letter made you grieve, though just for a while. <sup>9</sup>I now rejoice, not that you were grieved, but that you were grieved to repentance. For you were grieved in a godly way, that you might suffer loss by us in nothing. <sup>10</sup>For godly sorrow produces repentance to salvation, which brings no regret. But the sorrow of the world produces death. <sup>11</sup>For behold, this same thing, that you were grieved in a godly way, what earnest care it worked in you. Yes, what defence, indignation, fear, longing, zeal, and vengeance! In everything you demonstrated yourselves to be pure in the matter. <sup>12</sup>So although I wrote to you, I wrote not for his cause that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be revealed in you in the sight of God. <sup>13</sup>Therefore we have been comforted. In our comfort we rejoiced the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit has been refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup>For if in anything I have boasted to him on your behalf, I was not disappointed. But as we spoke all things to you in truth, so our glorying also which I made before Titus was found to be truth. <sup>15</sup>His affection is more abundantly towards you, while he remembers all of your obedience, how with fear and trembling you received him. <sup>16</sup>I rejoice that in everything I am confident concerning you.

8 Moreover, brothers, we make known to you the grace of God which has been given in the assemblies of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup>how in much proof of affliction, the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded to the riches of their generosity. <sup>3</sup>For according to their power, I testify, yes and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, <sup>4</sup>begging us with much entreaty to receive this grace and the fellowship in the service to the saints. <sup>5</sup>This was not as we had expected, but first they gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us through the will of God. <sup>6</sup>So we urged Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you this grace. <sup>7</sup>But as you abound in everything, in faith, utterance, knowledge, all earnestness, and in your love to us, see that you also abound in this grace. <sup>8</sup>I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. <sup>9</sup>For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that you through his poverty might become rich. <sup>10</sup>I give a judgement in this: for this is expedient for you who were the first to start a year ago, not only to do, but also to be willing. <sup>11</sup>But now complete the doing also, that as there was the readiness to be willing, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. <sup>12</sup>For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable according to what you have, not according to what you don't have. <sup>13</sup>For this is not that others may be eased and you distressed, <sup>14</sup>but for equality. Your abundance at this present time supplies their lack, that their abundance also may become a supply for your lack; that there may be equality. <sup>15</sup>As it is written, "He who gathered much had nothing left over, and he who gathered little had no lack."j tered by us. <sup>21</sup> Having regard for honourable things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. <sup>22</sup> We have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he has in you. <sup>23</sup> As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker for you. As for our brothers, they are the apostles of the assemblies, the glory of Christ. <sup>24</sup> Therefore show the proof of your love to them before the assemblies, and of our boasting on your behalf.

9 It is indeed unnecessary for me to write to you concerning the service to the saints, <sup>2</sup> for I know your readiness, of which I boast on your behalf to those of Macedonia, that Achaia has been prepared for the past year. Your zeal has stirred up very many of them. <sup>3</sup> But I have sent the brothers that our boasting on your behalf may not be in vain in this respect, that, just as I said, you may be prepared, <sup>4</sup> lest by any means, if anyone from Macedonia comes there with me and finds you unprepared, we (to say nothing of you) would be disappointed in this confident boasting. <sup>5</sup> I thought it necessary therefore to entreat the brothers that they would go before to you and arrange ahead of time the generous gift that you promised before, that the same might be ready as a matter of generosity, and not of greediness.

<sup>6</sup> Remember this: he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly. He who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. <sup>7</sup> Let each man give according as he has determined in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. <sup>8</sup> And God is able to make all grace abound to you, that you, always having all sufficiency in everything, may abound to every good work. <sup>9</sup> As it is written, "He has scattered abroad. He has given to the poor.

<sup>10</sup> Now may he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food, supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and increase the fruits of your righteousness, <sup>11</sup> you being enriched in everything to all generosity, which produces thanksgiving to God through us. <sup>12</sup> For this service of giving that you perform not only makes up for lack amongst the saints, but abounds also through much giving of thanks to God, <sup>13</sup> seeing that through the proof given by this service, they glorify God for the obedience of your confession to the Good News of Christ and for the generosity of your contribution to them and to all, <sup>14</sup> while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, yearn for you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. <sup>15</sup> Now thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift!

10 Now I Paul, myself, entreat you by the humility and gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly amongst you, but being absent am bold towards you. <sup>2</sup> Yes, I beg you that I may not, when present, show courage with the confidence with which I intend to be bold against some, who consider us to be walking according to the flesh. <sup>3</sup> For though we walk in the flesh, we don't wage war according to the flesh; <sup>4</sup> for the weapons of our warfare are not of the flesh, but mighty before God to the throwing down of strongholds, <sup>5</sup> throwing down imaginations and every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ, <sup>6</sup> and being in readiness to avenge all disobedience when your obedience is made full. <sup>7</sup> Do you look at things only as they appear in front of your face? If anyone trusts in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that even as he is Christ's, so we also are Christ's. <sup>8</sup> For even if I boast somewhat abundantly concerning our authority, which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down, I will not be ashamed, 9 that I may not seem as if I desire to terrify you by my letters. 10 For, "His letters", they say, "are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech is despised." 11 Let such a person consider this, that what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. 12 For we are not bold to number or compare ourselves with some of those who commend themselves. But they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are without understanding. 13 But we will not boast beyond proper limits, but within the boundaries with which God appointed to us, which reach even to you. 14 For we don't stretch ourselves too much, as though we didn't reach to you. For we came even as far as to you with the Good News of Christ, 15 not boasting beyond proper limits in other men's labours, but having hope that as your faith grows, we will be abundantly enlarged by you in our sphere of influence, 16 so as to preach the Good News even to the parts beyond you, not to boast in what someone else has already done. 17 But "he who boasts, let him boast in the Lord." 18 For it isn't he who commends himself who is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

11 I wish that you would bear with me in a little foolishness, but indeed you do bear with me. 2 For I am jealous over you with a godly jealousy. For I married you to one husband, that I might present you as a pure virgin to Christ. 3 But I am afraid that somehow, as the serpent deceived Eve in his craftiness, so your minds might be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ. 4 For if he who comes preaches another Jesus, whom we didn't preach, or if you receive a different spirit, which you didn't receive, or a different "good news", which you didn't accept, you put up with that well enough. 5 For I reckon that I am not at all behind the very best apostles.

6 But though I am unskilled in speech, yet I am not unskilled in knowledge. No, in every way we have been revealed to you in all things. 7 Or did I commit a sin in humbling myself that you might be exalted, because I preached to you God's Good News free of charge? 8 I robbed other assemblies, taking wages from them that I might serve you. 9 When I was present with you and was in need, I wasn't a burden on anyone, for the brothers, when they came from Macedonia, supplied the measure of my need. In everything I kept myself from being burdensome to you, and I will continue to do so. 10 As the truth of Christ is in me, no one will stop me from this boasting in the regions of Achaia. 11 Why? Because I don't love you? God knows. 12 But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from those who desire an occasion, that in which they boast, they may be found even as we. 13 For such men are false apostles, deceitful workers, masquerading as Christ's apostles. 14 And no wonder, for even Satan masquerades as an angel of light. 15 It is no great thing therefore if his servants also masquerade as servants of righteousness, whose end will be according to their works.

16 I say again, let no one think me foolish. But if so, yet receive me as foolish, that I also may boast a little. 17 That which I speak, I don't speak according to the Lord, but as in foolishness, in this confidence of boasting. 18 Seeing that many boast after the flesh, I will also boast. 19 For you bear with the foolish gladly, being wise. 20 For you bear with a man if he brings you into bondage, if he devours you, if he takes you captive, if he exalts himself, or if he strikes you on the face. 21 I speak by way of disparagement, as though we had been weak. Yet in whatever way anyone is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. 22 Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they the offspring** of Abraham? So am I. 23 Are they servants of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself.) I am more so: in labours more abundantly, in prisons more abundantly, in stripes above measure, and in deaths often. <sup>24</sup>Five times I received forty stripes minus one from the Jews. <sup>25</sup>Three times I was beaten with rods. Once I was stoned. Three times I suffered shipwreck. I have been a night and a day in the deep. <sup>26</sup>I have been in travels often, perils of rivers, perils of robbers, perils from my countrymen, perils from the Gentiles, perils in the city, perils in the wilderness, perils in the sea, perils amongst false brothers; <sup>27</sup>in labour and travail, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, and in cold and nakedness.

<sup>28</sup>Besides those things that are outside, there is that which presses on me daily: anxiety for all the assemblies. <sup>29</sup>Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is caused to stumble, and I don't burn with indignation? <sup>30</sup>If I must boast, I will boast of the things that concern my weakness. <sup>31</sup>The God and Father of the Lord Jesus Christ, he who is blessed forever more, knows that I don't lie. <sup>32</sup>In Damascus the governor under King Aretas guarded the Damascenes' city, desiring to arrest me. <sup>33</sup>I was let down in a basket through a window by the wall, and escaped his hands.

12 It is doubtless not profitable for me to boast. For I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>I know a man in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I don't know, or whether out of the body, I don't know; God knows), such a one caught up into the third heaven. <sup>3</sup>I know such a man (whether in the body, or outside of the body, I don't know; God knows), <sup>4</sup>how he was caught up into Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. <sup>5</sup>On behalf of such a one I will boast, but on my own behalf I will not boast, except in my weaknesses. <sup>6</sup>For if I would desire to boast, I will not be foolish; for I will speak the truth. But I refrain, so that no man may think more of me than that which he sees in me or hears from me. <sup>7</sup>By reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations, that I should not be exalted excessively, a thorn in the flesh was given to me: a messenger of Satan to torment me, that I should not be exalted excessively. <sup>8</sup>Concerning this thing, I begged the Lord three times that it might depart from me. <sup>9</sup>He has said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Most gladly therefore I will rather glory in my weaknesses, that the power of Christ may rest on me.

<sup>10</sup>Therefore I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, and in distresses, for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong. <sup>11</sup>I have become foolish in boasting. You compelled me, for I ought to have been commended by you, for I am in no way inferior to the very best apostles, though I am nothing. <sup>12</sup>Truly the signs of an apostle were worked amongst you in all perseverance, in signs and wonders and mighty works. <sup>13</sup>For what is there in which you were made inferior to the rest of the assemblies, unless it is that I myself was not a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong.

<sup>14</sup>Behold, this is the third time I am ready to come to you, and I will not be a burden to you; for I seek not your possessions, but you. For the children ought not to save up for the parents, but the parents for the children. <sup>15</sup>I will most gladly spend and be spent for your souls. If I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? <sup>16</sup>Even so, I myself didn't burden you. "But, being crafty, I caught you with deception." <sup>17</sup>Did I take advantage of you by anyone of those whom I have sent to you? <sup>18</sup>I exhorted Titus, and I sent the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? Didn't we walk in the same spirit? Didn't we walk in the same steps?

<sup>19</sup>Again, do you think that we are excusing ourselves to you? In the sight of God we speak in Christ. But all things, beloved, are for your edifying. <sup>20</sup>For I am afraid that by any means, when I come, I might find you not the way I want to, and that I might be found by you as you don't desire, that by any means there would be strife, jealousy, outbursts of anger, factions, slander, whisperings, proud thoughts, or riots, <sup>21</sup> that again when I come my God would humble me before you, and I would mourn for many of those who have sinned before now, and not repented of the uncleanness, sexual immorality, and lustfulness which they committed.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. "At the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established."<sup>m</sup> <sup>2</sup>I have said beforehand, and I do say beforehand, as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, I write to those who have sinned before now, and to all the rest, that, if I come again, I will not spare; <sup>3</sup> seeing that you seek a proof of Christ who speaks in me; who towards you is not weak, but is powerful in you. <sup>4</sup> For he was crucified through weakness, yet he lives through the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we will live with him through the power of God towards you. <sup>5</sup> Examine your own selves, whether you are in the faith. Test your own selves. Or don't you know about your own selves, that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you are disqualified. <sup>6</sup> But I hope that you will know that we aren't disqualified.

<sup>7</sup> Now I pray to God that you do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is honourable, though we are as reprobate. <sup>8</sup> For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. <sup>9</sup> For we rejoice when we are weak and you are strong. We also pray for this: your becoming perfect. <sup>10</sup> For this cause I write these things while absent, that I may not deal sharply when present, according to the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for tearing down.

<sup>11</sup> Finally, brothers, rejoice! Be perfected. Be comforted. Be of the same mind. Live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you. <sup>12</sup> Greet one another with a holy kiss.

<sup>14</sup> The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, God's love, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all. Amen.

Paul's Letter to the Galatians

1 Paul, an apostle—not from men, nor through man, but through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead—<sup>2</sup> and all the brothers†† who are with me, to the assemblies of Galatia: <sup>3</sup> Grace to you and peace from God the Father and our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>4</sup> who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father—<sup>5</sup> to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>6</sup> I marvel that you are so quickly deserting him who called you in the grace of Christ to a different “good news”, <sup>7</sup> but there isn't another “good news.” Only there are some who trouble you and want to pervert the Good News of Christ. <sup>8</sup> But even though we, or an angel from heaven, should preach to you any “good news” other than that which we preached to you, let him be cursed. <sup>9</sup> As we have said before, so I now say again: if any man preaches to you any “good news” other than that which you received, let him be cursed. <sup>10</sup> For am I now seeking the favour of men, or of God? Or am I striving to please men? For if I were still pleasing men, I wouldn't be a servant of Christ.

<sup>11</sup> But I make known to you, brothers, concerning the Good News which was preached by me, that it is not according to man. <sup>12</sup> For I didn't receive it from man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me through revelation of Jesus Christ. <sup>13</sup> For you have heard of my way of living in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the assembly of God and ravaged it. <sup>14</sup> I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of my own age amongst my countrymen, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers.

<sup>15</sup> But when it was the good pleasure of God, who separated me from my mother's womb and called me through his grace <sup>16</sup> to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him amongst the Gentiles, I didn't immediately confer with flesh and blood, <sup>17</sup> nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me, but I went away into Arabia. Then I returned to Damascus.

<sup>18</sup> Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to visit Peter, and stayed with him fifteen days. <sup>19</sup> But of the other apostles I saw no one except James, the Lord's brother. <sup>20</sup> Now about the things which I write to you, behold,‡‡ before God, I'm not lying. <sup>21</sup> Then I came to the regions of Syria and Cilicia. <sup>22</sup> I was still unknown by face to the assemblies of Judea which were in Christ, <sup>23</sup> but they only heard: “He who once persecuted us now preaches the faith that he once tried to destroy.” <sup>24</sup> So they glorified God in me.

2 Then after a period of fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. <sup>2</sup> I went up by revelation, and I laid before them the Good News which I preach amongst the Gentiles, but privately before those who were respected, for fear that I might be running, or had run, in vain. <sup>3</sup> But not even Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised. <sup>4</sup> This was because of the false brothers secretly brought in, who stole in to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage, <sup>5</sup> to whom we gave no place in the way of subjection, not for an hour, that the truth of the Good News might continue with you. <sup>6</sup> But from those who were reputed to be important—whatever they were, it makes no difference to me; God doesn't show partiality to man—they, I say, who were respected imparted nothing to me, <sup>7</sup> but to the contrary, when they saw that I had been entrusted with the Good News for the uncircumcised, even as Peter with the Good News for the circumcised—<sup>8</sup> for he who worked through Peter in the apostleship with the circumcised also worked through me with the Gentiles—<sup>9</sup> and when they perceived the grace that was given to me, James and Cephas and John, those who were reputed to be pillars, gave to Barnabas and me the right hand of fellowship, that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the circumcision.<sup>10</sup> They only asked us to remember the poor—which very thing I was also zealous to do.

<sup>11</sup> But when Peter came to Antioch, I resisted him to his face, because he stood condemned.<sup>12</sup> For before some people came from James, he ate with the Gentiles. But when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing those who were of the circumcision.<sup>13</sup> And the rest of the Jews joined him in his hypocrisy, so that even Barnabas was carried away with their hypocrisy.<sup>14</sup> But when I saw that they didn't walk uprightly according to the truth of the Good News, I said to Peter before them all, "If you, being a Jew, live as the Gentiles do, and not as the Jews do, why do you compel the Gentiles to live as the Jews do?"

<sup>15</sup> "We, being Jews by nature, and not Gentile sinners,<sup>16</sup> yet knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law but through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed in Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law, because no flesh will be justified by the works of the law.<sup>17</sup> But if while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found sinners, is Christ a servant of sin? Certainly not!<sup>18</sup> For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a law-breaker.<sup>19</sup> For I, through the law, died to the law, that I might live to God.<sup>20</sup> I have been crucified with Christ, and it is no longer I who live, but Christ lives in me. That life which I now live in the flesh, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself up for me.<sup>21</sup> I don't reject the grace of God. For if righteousness is through the law, then Christ died for nothing!"

3 Foolish Galatians, who has bewitched you not to obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly portrayed amongst you as crucified?<sup>2</sup> I just want to learn this from you: Did you receive the Spirit by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith?<sup>3</sup> Are you so foolish? Having begun in the Spirit, are you now completed in the flesh?<sup>4</sup> Did you suffer so many things in vain, if it is indeed in vain?<sup>5</sup> He therefore who supplies the Spirit to you and does miracles amongst you, does he do it by the works of the law, or by hearing of faith?<sup>6</sup> Even as Abraham "believed God, and it was counted to him for righteousness."<sup>7</sup> Know therefore that those who are of faith are children of Abraham.<sup>8</sup> The Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, preached the Good News beforehand to Abraham, saying, "In you all the nations will be blessed."<sup>9</sup> So then, those who are of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham.<sup>10</sup> For as many as are of the works of the law are under a curse. For it is written, "Cursed is everyone who doesn't continue in all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them."<sup>11</sup> Now that no man is justified by the law before God is evident, for, "The righteous will live by faith."<sup>12</sup> The law is not of faith, but, "The man who does them will live by them."<sup>13</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us. For it is written, "Cursed is everyone who hangs on a tree,"<sup>14</sup> that the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Jesus, that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brothers, speaking of human terms, though it is only a man's covenant, yet when it has been confirmed, no one makes it void or adds to it. 16 Now the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his offspring. ¶¶ He doesn't say, "To descendants§§", as of many, but as of one, "To your offspring",<sup>t</sup> which is Christ. 17 Now I say this: A covenant confirmed beforehand by God in Christ, the law, which came four hundred and thirty years after, does not annul, so as to make the promise of no effect. 18 For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise; but God has granted it to Abraham by promise.

19 Then why is there the law? It was added because of transgressions, until the offspring should come to whom the promise has been made. It was ordained through angels by the hand of a mediator. 20 Now a mediator is not between one, but God is one. 21 Is the law then against the promises of God? Certainly not! For if there had been a law given which could make alive, most certainly righteousness would have been of the law. 22 But the Scripture imprisoned all things under sin, that the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given to those who believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept in custody under the law, confined for the faith which should afterwards be revealed. 24 So that the law has become our tutor to bring us to Christ, that we might be justified by faith. 25 But now that faith has come, we are no longer under a tutor. 26 For you are all children of God, through faith in Christ Jesus. 27 For as many of you as were baptised into Christ have put on Christ. 28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free man, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus. 29 If you are Christ's, then you are Abraham's offspring and heirs according to promise.

4 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a bondservant, though he is lord of all, 2 but is under guardians and stewards until the day appointed by the father. 3 So we also, when we were children, were held in bondage under the elemental principles of the world. 4 But when the fullness of the time came, God sent out his Son, born to a woman, born under the law, 5 that he might redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of children. 6 And because you are children, God sent out the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, "Abba,* Father!" 7 So you are no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 However at that time, not knowing God, you were in bondage to those who by nature are not gods. 9 But now that you have come to know God, or rather to be known by God, why do you turn back again to the weak and miserable elemental principles, to which you desire to be in bondage all over again? 10 You observe days, months, seasons, and years. 11 I am afraid for you, that I might have wasted my labour for you.

12 I beg you, brothers, become as I am, for I also have become as you are. You did me no wrong, 13 but you know that because of weakness in the flesh I preached the Good News to you the first time. 14 That which was a temptation to you in my flesh, you didn't despise nor reject; but you received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

15 What was the blessing you enjoyed? For I testify to you that, if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. 16 So then, have I become your enemy by telling you the truth? <sup>17</sup>They zealously seek you in no good way. No, they desire to alienate you, that you may seek them. <sup>18</sup>But it is always good to be zealous in a good cause, and not only when I am present with you.

<sup>19</sup>My little children, of whom I am again in travail until Christ is formed in you— <sup>20</sup>but I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my tone, for I am perplexed about you.

<sup>21</sup>Tell me, you that desire to be under the law, don't you listen to the law? <sup>22</sup>For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the servant, and one by the free woman. <sup>23</sup>However, the son by the servant was born according to the flesh, but the son by the free woman was born through promise. <sup>24</sup>These things contain an allegory, for these are two covenants. One is from Mount Sinai, bearing children to bondage, which is Hagar. <sup>25</sup>For this Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and answers to the Jerusalem that exists now, for she is in bondage with her children. <sup>26</sup>But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is the mother of us all. <sup>27</sup>For it is written, "Rejoice, you barren who don't bear.

Break out and shout, you who don't travail. For the desolate have more children than her who has a husband." <sup>u</sup>

<sup>28</sup>Now we, brothers, as Isaac was, are children of promise. <sup>29</sup>But as then, he who was born according to the flesh persecuted him who was born according to the Spirit, so also it is now. <sup>30</sup>However what does the Scripture say? "Throw out the servant and her son, for the son of the servant will not inherit with the son of the free woman."<sup>v</sup> <sup>31</sup>So then, brothers, we are not children of a servant, but of the free woman.

5 Stand firm therefore in the liberty by which Christ has made us free, and don't be entangled again with a yoke of bondage.

<sup>2</sup>Behold, I, Paul, tell you that if you receive circumcision, Christ will profit you nothing. <sup>3</sup>Yes, I testify again to every man who receives circumcision that he is a debtor to do the whole law. <sup>4</sup>You are alienated from Christ, you who desire to be justified by the law. You have fallen away from grace. <sup>5</sup>For we, through the Spirit, by faith wait for the hope of righteousness. <sup>6</sup>For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision amounts to anything, nor uncircumcision, but faith working through love. <sup>7</sup>You were running well! Who interfered with you that you should not obey the truth? <sup>8</sup>This persuasion is not from him who calls you. <sup>9</sup>A little yeast grows through the whole lump. <sup>10</sup>I have confidence towards you in the Lord that you will think no other way. But he who troubles you will bear his judgement, whoever he is.

<sup>11</sup>But I, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then the stumbling block of the cross has been removed. <sup>12</sup>I wish that those who disturb you would cut themselves off.

<sup>13</sup>For you, brothers, were called for freedom. Only don't use your freedom for gain to the flesh, but through love be servants to one another. <sup>14</sup>For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, in this: "You shall love your neighbour as yourself."<sup>w</sup> <sup>15</sup>But if you bite and devour one another, be careful that you don't consume one another.

<sup>16</sup>But I say, walk by the Spirit, and you won't fulfil the lust of the flesh. <sup>17</sup>For the flesh lusts against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary to one another, that you may not do the things that you desire. <sup>18</sup>But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under the law. <sup>19</sup>Now the deeds of the flesh are obvious, which are: adultery, sexual immorality, uncleanness, lustfulness, <sup>20</sup>idolatry, sorcery, hatred, strife, jealousies, outbursts of anger, rivalries, divisions, heresies, <sup>21</sup>envy, murders, drunkenness, orgies, and things like these; of which I forewarn you, even as I also forewarned you, that those who practise such things will not inherit God's Kingdom.

<sup>25</sup> If we live by the Spirit, let's also walk by the Spirit. <sup>26</sup> Let's not become conceited, provoking one another, and envying one another.

6 Brothers, even if a man is caught in some fault, you who are spiritual must restore such a one in a spirit of gentleness; looking to yourself so that you also aren't tempted. <sup>2</sup> Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. <sup>3</sup> For if a man thinks himself to be something when he is nothing, he deceives himself. <sup>4</sup> But let each man examine his own work, and then he will have reason to boast in himself, and not in someone else. <sup>5</sup> For each man will bear his own burden.

<sup>6</sup> But let him who is taught in the word share all good things with him who teaches. <sup>7</sup> Don't be deceived. God is not mocked, for whatever a man sows, that he will also reap. <sup>8</sup> For he who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption. But he who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. <sup>9</sup> Let's not be weary in doing good, for we will reap in due season, if we don't give up. <sup>10</sup> So then, as we have opportunity, let's do what is good towards all men, and especially towards those who are of the household of the faith.

<sup>11</sup> See with what large letters I write to you with my own hand. <sup>12</sup> As many as desire to make a good impression in the flesh compel you to be circumcised; just so they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ. <sup>13</sup> For even they who receive circumcision don't keep the law themselves, but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may boast in your flesh. <sup>14</sup> But far be it from me to boast, except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. <sup>15</sup> For in Christ Jesus neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creation. <sup>16</sup> As many as walk by this rule, peace and mercy be on them, and on God's Israel.

<sup>17</sup> From now on, let no one cause me any trouble, for I bear the marks of the Lord Jesus branded on my body.

Paul's Letter to the Ephesians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, to the saints who are at Ephesus, and the faithful in Christ Jesus: <sup>2</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup> Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ, <sup>4</sup> even as he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we would be holy and without defect before him in love, <sup>5</sup> having predestined us for adoption as children through Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his desire, <sup>6</sup> to the praise of the glory of his grace, by which he freely gave us favour in the Beloved, <sup>7</sup> in whom we have our redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses, according to the riches of his grace, <sup>8</sup> which he made to abound towards us in all wisdom and prudence, <sup>9</sup> making known to us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he purposed in him <sup>10</sup> to an administration of the fullness of the times, to sum up all things in Christ, the things in the heavens and the things on the earth, in him. <sup>11</sup> We were also assigned an inheritance in him, having been foreordained according to the purpose of him who does all things after the counsel of his will, <sup>12</sup> to the end that we should be to the praise of his glory, we who had before hoped in Christ. <sup>13</sup> In him you also, having heard the word of the truth, the Good News of your salvation—in whom, having also believed, you were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, <sup>14</sup> who is a pledge of our inheritance, to the redemption of God's own possession, to the praise of his glory.

<sup>15</sup> For this cause I also, having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which is amongst you, and the love which you have towards all the saints, <sup>16</sup> don't cease to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers, <sup>17</sup> that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him, <sup>18</sup> having the eyes of your hearts<sup>z</sup> enlightened, that you may know what is the hope of his calling, and what are the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, <sup>19</sup> and what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us who believe, according to that working of the strength of his might <sup>20</sup> which he worked in Christ, when he raised him from the dead and made him to sit at his right hand in the heavenly places, <sup>21</sup> far above all rule, authority, power, dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age, but also in that which is to come. <sup>22</sup> He put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things for the assembly, <sup>23</sup> which is his body, the fullness of him who fills all in all.

2 You were made alive when you were dead <sup>1</sup> in transgressions and sins, <sup>2</sup> in which you once walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit who now works in the children of disobedience. <sup>3</sup> We also all once lived amongst them in the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest. <sup>4</sup> But God, being rich in mercy, for his great love with which he loved us, <sup>5</sup> even when we were dead through our trespasses, made us alive together with Christ—by grace you have been saved—<sup>6</sup> and raised us up with him, and made us to sit with him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, <sup>7</sup> that in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace in kindness towards us in Christ Jesus; <sup>8</sup> for by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, <sup>9</sup> not of works, that no one would boast. <sup>10</sup> For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God prepared before that we would walk in them.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore remember that once you, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called “uncircumcision” by that which is called “circumcision” (in the flesh, made by hands), <sup>12</sup> that you were at that time separate from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of the promise, having no hope and without God in the world. <sup>13</sup> But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off are made near in the blood of Christ. <sup>14</sup> For he is our peace, who made both one, and broke down the middle wall of separation, <sup>15</sup> having abolished in his flesh the hostility, the law of commandments contained in ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man of the two, making peace, <sup>16</sup> and might reconcile them both in one body to God through the cross, having killed the hostility through it. <sup>17</sup> He came and preached peace to you who were far off and to those who were near. <sup>18</sup> For through him we both have our access in one Spirit to the Father. <sup>19</sup> So then you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and of the household of God, <sup>20</sup> being built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the chief cornerstone; <sup>21</sup> in whom the whole building, fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord; <sup>22</sup> in whom you also are built together for a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I, Paul, am the prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles, <sup>2</sup> if it is so that you have heard of the administration of that grace of God which was given me towards you, <sup>3</sup> how that by revelation the mystery was made known to me, as I wrote before in few words, <sup>4</sup> by which, when you read, you can perceive my understanding in the mystery of Christ, <sup>5</sup> which in other generations was not made known to the children of men, as it has now been revealed to his holy aposbles and prophets in the Spirit, <sup>6</sup> that the Gentiles are fellow heirs and fellow members of the body, and fellow partakers of his promise in Christ Jesus through the Good News, <sup>7</sup> of which I was made a servant according to the gift of that grace of God which was given me according to the working of his power. <sup>8</sup> To me, the very least of all saints, was this grace given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, <sup>9</sup> and to make all men see what is the administration¶ of the mystery which for ages has been hidden in God, who created all things through Jesus Christ, <sup>10</sup> to the intent that now through the assembly the manifold wisdom of God might be made known to the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places, <sup>11</sup> according to the eternal purpose which he accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord. <sup>12</sup> In him we have boldness and access in confidence through our faith in him. <sup>13</sup> Therefore I ask that you may not lose heart at my troubles for you, which are your glory.

<sup>14</sup> For this cause, I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>15</sup> from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, <sup>16</sup> that he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, that you may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in the inner person, <sup>17</sup> that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith, to the end that you, being rooted and grounded in love, <sup>18</sup> may be strengthened to comprehend with all the saints what is the width and length and height and depth, <sup>19</sup> and to know Christ’s love which surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God.

<sup>20</sup> Now to him who is able to do exceedingly abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that works in us, <sup>21</sup> to him be the glory in the assembly and in Christ Jesus to all generations forever and ever. Amen.

4 I therefore, the prisoner in the Lord, beg you to walk worthily of the calling with which you were called, <sup>2</sup> with all lowliness and humility, with patience, bearing with one another in love, <sup>3</sup> being eager to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. <sup>4</sup> There is one body and one Spirit, even as you also were called in one hope of your calling, <sup>5</sup> one Lord, one faith, one baptism, <sup>6</sup> one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all, and in us all. <sup>7</sup> But to each one of us, the grace was given according to the measure of the gift of Christ. <sup>8</sup> Therefore he says, “When he ascended on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts to people.”<sup>x</sup>

<sup>9</sup> Now this, “He ascended”, what is it but that he also first descended into the lower parts of the earth? <sup>10</sup> He who descended is the one who also ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.

<sup>11</sup> He gave some to be apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, shepherds<sup>s</sup> and teachers; <sup>12</sup> for the perfecting of the saints, to the work of serving, to the building up of the body of Christ, <sup>13</sup> until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a full grown man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ, <sup>14</sup> that we may no longer be children, tossed back and forth and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in craftiness, after the wiles of error; <sup>15</sup> but speaking truth in love, we may grow up in all things into him who is the head, Christ, <sup>16</sup> from whom all the body, being fitted and knit together through that which every joint supplies, according to the working in measure of each individual part, makes the body increase to the building up of itself in love.

<sup>17</sup> This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that you no longer walk as the rest of the Gentiles also walk, in the futility of their mind, <sup>18</sup> being darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardening of their hearts. <sup>19</sup> They, having become callous, gave themselves up to lust, to work all uncleanness with greediness. <sup>20</sup> But you didn’t learn Christ that way, <sup>21</sup> if indeed you heard him, and were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: <sup>22</sup> that you put away, as concerning your former way of life, the old man that grows corrupt after the lusts of deceit, <sup>23</sup> and that you be renewed in the spirit of your mind, <sup>24</sup> and put on the new man, who in the likeness of God has been created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

5 Be therefore imitators of God, as beloved children. <sup>2</sup> Walk in love, even as Christ also loved us and gave himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet-smelling fragrance.

§4:11 or, pastors

**4:27 or, opportunity

x4:8 Psalm 68:18    y4:26 Psalm 4:4

filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not appropriate, but rather giving of thanks.

<sup>5</sup> Know this for sure, that no sexually immoral person, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, has any inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ and God.

<sup>22</sup> Wives, be subject to your own husbands, as to the Lord. <sup>23</sup> For the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the head of the assembly, being himself the saviour of the body. <sup>24</sup> But as the assembly is subject to Christ, so let the wives also be to their own husbands in everything.

<sup>25</sup> Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the assembly, and gave himself up for it; <sup>26</sup> that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the washing of water with the word, <sup>27</sup> that he might present the assembly to himself gloriously, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without defect. <sup>28</sup> Even so husbands also ought to love their own wives as their own bodies. He who loves his own wife loves himself. <sup>29</sup> For no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourishes and cherishes it, even as the Lord also does the assembly; <sup>30</sup> because we are members of his body, of his flesh and bones. <sup>31</sup> "For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will be joined to his wife. The two will become one flesh."<sup>z</sup> <sup>32</sup> This mystery is great, but I speak concerning Christ and of the assembly. <sup>33</sup> Nevertheless each of you must also love his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she respects her husband.

6 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. <sup>2</sup> "Honour your father and mother," which is the first commandment with a promise: <sup>3</sup> "that it may be well with you, and you may live long on the earth."<sup>a</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Servants, be obedient to those who according to the flesh are your masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as to Christ, <sup>6</sup> not in the way of service only when eyes are on you, as men pleasers, but as servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart, <sup>7</sup> with good will doing service as to the Lord, and not to men, <sup>8</sup> knowing that whatever good thing each one does, he will receive the same good again from the Lord, whether he is bound or free.

<sup>9</sup> You masters, do the same things to them, and give up threatening, knowing that he who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no partiality with him.

<sup>10</sup> Finally, be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might. <sup>11</sup> Put on the whole armour of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. <sup>12</sup> For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the principalities, against the powers, against the world's rulers of the darkness of this age, and against the spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly places. <sup>13</sup> Therefore put on the whole armour of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. <sup>14</sup> Stand therefore, having the utility belt of truth buckled around your waist, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, <sup>15</sup> and having fitted your feet with the preparation of the Good News of peace, <sup>16</sup> above all, taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one. <sup>17</sup> And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word†† of God; <sup>18</sup> with all prayer and requests, praying at all times in the Spirit, and being watchful to this end in all perseverance and requests for all the saints: <sup>19</sup> on my behalf, that utterance may be given to me in opening my mouth, to make known with boldness the mystery of the Good News, <sup>20</sup> for which I am an ambassador in chains; that in it I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

<sup>21</sup> But that you also may know my affairs, how I am doing, Tychicus, the beloved brother and faithful servant in the Lord, will make known to you all things. <sup>22</sup> I have sent him to you for this very purpose, that you may know our state and that he may comfort your hearts.

<sup>23</sup> Peace be to the brothers, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>24</sup> Grace be with all those who love our Lord Jesus Christ with incorruptible love. Amen.

Paul's Letter to the Philippians

1 Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ; To all the saints in Christ Jesus who are at Philippi, with the overseers ‡‡and servants: ¶¶ 2 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 I thank my God whenever I remember you, 4 always in every request of mine on behalf of you all, making my requests with joy, 5 for your partnership§§ in furtherance of the Good News from the first day until now; 6 being confident of this very thing, that he who began a good work in you will complete it until the day of Jesus Christ. 7 It is even right for me to think this way on behalf of all of you, because I have you in my heart, because both in my bonds and in the defence and confirmation of the Good News, you all are partakers with me of grace. 8 For God is my witness, how I long after all of you in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus.

9 This I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and all discernment, 10 so that you may approve the things that are excellent, that you may be sincere and without offence to the day of Christ, 11 being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I desire to have you know, brothers,* that the things which happened to me have turned out rather to the progress of the Good News, 13 so that it became evident to the whole palace† guard, and to all the rest, that my bonds are in Christ, 14 and that most of the brothers in the Lord, being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold to speak the word of God without fear. 15 Some indeed preach Christ even out of envy and strife, and some also out of good will. 16 The former insincerely preach Christ from selfish ambition, thinking that they add affliction to my chains; 17 but the latter out of love, knowing that I am appointed for the defence of the Good News.

18 What does it matter? Only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed. I rejoice in this, yes, and will rejoice. 19 For I know that this will turn out to my salvation, through your prayers and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 according to my earnest expectation and hope, that I will in no way be disappointed, but with all boldness, as always, now also Christ will be magnified in my body, whether by life or by death. 21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain. 22 But if I live on in the flesh, this will bring fruit from my work; yet I don't know what I will choose. 23 But I am hard pressed between the two, having the desire to depart and be with Christ, which is far better. 24 Yet to remain in the flesh is more needful for your sake. 25 Having this confidence, I know that I will remain, yes, and remain with you all for your progress and joy in the faith, 26 that your rejoicing may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again.

27 Only let your way of life be worthy of the Good News of Christ, that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of your state, that you stand firm in one spirit, with one soul striving for the faith of the Good News; 28 and in nothing frightened by the adversaries, which is for them a proof of destruction, but to you of salvation, and that from God. 29 Because it has been granted to you on behalf of Christ, not only to believe in him, but also to suffer on his behalf, 30 having the same conflict which you saw in me and now hear is in me.

2 If therefore there is any exhortation in Christ, if any consolation of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any tender mercies and compassion, <sup>2</sup> make my joy full by being like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind; <sup>3</sup> doing nothing through rivalry or through conceit, but in humility, each counting others better than himself; <sup>4</sup> each of you not just looking to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others.

<sup>5</sup> Have this in your mind, which was also in Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup> who, existing in the form of God, didn't consider equality with God a thing to be grasped, <sup>7</sup> but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men. <sup>8</sup> And being found in human form, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to the point of death, yes, the death of the cross. <sup>9</sup> Therefore God also highly exalted him, and gave to him the name which is above every name, <sup>10</sup> that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven, those on earth, and those under the earth, <sup>11</sup> and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

<sup>12</sup> So then, my beloved, even as you have always obeyed, not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. <sup>13</sup> For it is God who works in you both to will and to work, for his good pleasure. <sup>14</sup> Do all things without complaining and arguing, <sup>15</sup> that you may become blameless and harmless, children of God without defect in the middle of a crooked and perverse generation, amongst whom you are seen as lights in the world, <sup>16</sup> holding up the word of life, that I may have something to boast in the day of Christ, that I didn't run in vain nor labour in vain. <sup>17</sup> Yes, and if I am poured out on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice, and rejoice with you all. <sup>18</sup> In the same way, you also rejoice, and rejoice with me.

<sup>19</sup> But I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, that I also may be cheered up when I know how you are doing. <sup>20</sup> For I have no one else like-minded, who will truly care about you. <sup>21</sup> For they all seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. <sup>22</sup> But you know the proof of him, that as a child serves a father, so he served with me in furtherance of the Good News. <sup>23</sup> Therefore I hope to send him at once, as soon as I see how it will go with me. <sup>24</sup> But I trust in the Lord that I myself also will come shortly. <sup>25</sup> But I counted it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker, fellow soldier, and your apostle and servant of my need, <sup>26</sup> since he longed for you all, and was very troubled because you had heard that he was sick. <sup>27</sup> For indeed he was sick, nearly to death, but God had mercy on him, and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow on sorrow. <sup>28</sup> I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that when you see him again, you may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. <sup>29</sup> Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy, and hold such people in honour, <sup>30</sup> because for the work of Christ he came near to death, risking his life to supply that which was lacking in your service towards me.

3 Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord! To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not tiresome, but for you it is safe. <sup>2</sup> Beware of the dogs; beware of the evil workers; beware of the false circumcision. <sup>3</sup> For we are the circumcision, who worship God in the Spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh; <sup>4</sup> though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh. If any other man thinks that he has confidence in the flesh, I yet more: <sup>5</sup> circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; concerning the law, a Pharisee; <sup>6</sup> concerning zeal, persecuting the assembly; concerning the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless.

<sup>7</sup> However, I consider those things that were gain to me as a loss for Christ. <sup>8</sup> Yes most certainly, and I count all things to be a loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus, my Lord, for whom I suffered the loss of all things, and count them nothing but refuse, that I may gain Christ <sup>9</sup> and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own, that which is of the law, but that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is from God by faith, <sup>10</sup> that I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed to his death, <sup>11</sup> if by any means I may attain to the resurrection from the dead. <sup>12</sup> Not that I have already obtained, or am already made perfect; but I press on, that I may take hold of that for which also I was taken hold of by Christ Jesus.

<sup>13</sup> Brothers, I don't regard myself as yet having taken hold, but one thing I do: forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, <sup>14</sup> I press on towards the goal for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. <sup>15</sup> Let us therefore, as many as are perfect, think this way. If in anything you think otherwise, God will also reveal that to you. <sup>16</sup> Nevertheless, to the extent that we have already attained, let's walk by the same rule. Let's be of the same mind.

<sup>17</sup> Brothers, be imitators together of me, and note those who walk this way, even as you have us for an example. <sup>18</sup> For many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you even weeping, as the enemies of the cross of Christ, <sup>19</sup> whose end is destruction, whose god is the belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who think about earthly things. <sup>20</sup> For our citizenship is in heaven, from where we also wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>21</sup> who will change the body of our humiliation to be conformed to the body of his glory, according to the working by which he is able even to subject all things to himself.

4 Therefore, my brothers, beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, stand firm in the Lord in this way, my beloved.

<sup>2</sup> I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to think the same way in the Lord. <sup>3</sup> Yes, I beg you also, true partner, help these women, for they laboured with me in the Good News with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

<sup>4</sup> Rejoice in the Lord always! Again I will say, "Rejoice!" <sup>5</sup> Let your gentleness be known to all men. The Lord is at hand. <sup>6</sup> In nothing be anxious, but in everything, by prayer and petition with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God. <sup>7</sup> And the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

<sup>10</sup> But I rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length you have revived your thought for me; in which you did indeed take thought, but you lacked opportunity. <sup>11</sup> Not that I speak because of lack, for I have learnt in whatever state I am, to be content in it. <sup>12</sup> I know how to be humbled, and I also know how to abound. In everything and in all things I have learnt the secret both to be filled and to be hungry, both to abound and to be in need. <sup>13</sup> I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me. <sup>14</sup> However you did well that you shared in my affliction. <sup>15</sup> You yourselves also know, you Philippians, that in the beginning of the Good News, when I departed from Macedonia, no assembly shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving but you only. <sup>16</sup> For even in Thessalonica you sent once and again to my need. <sup>17</sup> Not that I seek for the gift, but I seek for the fruit that increases to your account. <sup>18</sup> But I have all things and abound. I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, a sweet-smelling fragrance, an acceptable and well-pleasing sacrifice to God. <sup>19</sup> My God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup> Now to our God and Father be the glory forever and ever! Amen.

<sup>23</sup> The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Paul's Letter to the Colossians

1 Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus through the will of God, and Timothy our brother, <sup>2</sup> to the saints and faithful brothers‡ in Christ at Colossae: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup> We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, <sup>4</sup> having heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and of the love which you have towards all the saints, <sup>5</sup> because of the hope which is laid up for you in the heavens, of which you heard before in the word of the truth of the Good News <sup>6</sup> which has come to you, even as it is in all the world and is bearing fruit and growing, as it does in you also, since the day you heard and knew the grace of God in truth, <sup>7</sup> even as you learnt of Epaphras our beloved fellow servant, who is a faithful servant of Christ on your¶ behalf, <sup>8</sup> who also declared to us your love in the Spirit.

<sup>9</sup> For this cause, we also, since the day we heard this, don't cease praying and making requests for you, that you may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, <sup>10</sup> that you may walk worthily of the Lord, to please him in all respects, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God, <sup>11</sup> strengthened with all power, according to the might of his glory, for all endurance and perseverance with joy, <sup>12</sup> giving thanks to the Father, who made us fit to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light, <sup>13</sup> who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the Kingdom of the Son of his love, <sup>14</sup> in whom we have our redemption,§ the forgiveness of our sins. <sup>15</sup> He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation. <sup>16</sup> For by him all things were created in the heavens and on the earth, visible things and invisible things, whether thrones or dominions or principalities or powers. All things have been created through him and for him. <sup>17</sup> He is before all things, and in him all things are held together. <sup>18</sup> He is the head of the body, the assembly, who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, that in all things he might have the preeminence. <sup>19</sup> For all the fullness was pleased to dwell in him, <sup>20</sup> and through him to reconcile all things to himself by him, whether things on the earth or things in the heavens, having made peace through the blood of his cross.

<sup>21</sup> You, being in past times alienated and enemies in your mind in your evil deeds, <sup>22</sup> yet now he has reconciled in the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and without defect and blameless before him, <sup>23</sup> if it is so that you continue in the faith, grounded and steadfast, and not moved away from the hope of the Good News which you heard, which is being proclaimed in all creation under heaven, of which I, Paul, was made a servant.

<sup>24</sup> Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and fill up on my part that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the assembly, <sup>25</sup> of which I was made a servant according to the stewardship of God which was given me towards you to fulfil the word of God, <sup>26</sup> the mystery which has been hidden for ages and generations. But now it has been revealed to his saints, <sup>27</sup> to whom God was pleased to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery amongst the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory. <sup>28</sup> We proclaim him, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus;

<sup>29</sup> for which I also labour, striving according to his working, which works in me mightily.

2 For I desire to have you know how greatly I struggle for you, and for those at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; <sup>2</sup> that their hearts may be comforted, they being knit together in love, and gaining all riches of the full assurance of understanding, that they may know the mystery of God, both of the Father and of Christ, <sup>3</sup> in whom all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are hidden. <sup>4</sup> Now I say this that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. <sup>5</sup> For though I am absent in the flesh, yet I am with you in the spirit, rejoicing and seeing your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

<sup>6</sup> As therefore you received Christ Jesus, the Lord, walk in him, <sup>7</sup> rooted and built up in him, and established in the faith, even as you were taught, abounding in it in thanksgiving.

<sup>8</sup> Be careful that you don't let anyone rob you through his philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Christ. <sup>9</sup> For in him all the fullness of the Deity dwells bodily, <sup>10</sup> and in him you are made full, who is the head of all principality and power. <sup>11</sup> In him you were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in the putting off of the body of the sins of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ, <sup>12</sup> having been buried with him in baptism, in which you were also raised with him through faith in the working of God, who raised him from the dead. <sup>13</sup> You were dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh. He made you alive together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses, <sup>14</sup> wiping out the handwriting in ordinances which was against us. He has taken it out of the way, nailing it to the cross. <sup>15</sup> Having stripped the principalities and the powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

<sup>16</sup> Let no one therefore judge you in eating, or in drinking, or with respect to a feast day or a new moon or a Sabbath day, <sup>17</sup> which are a shadow of the things to come; but the body is Christ's. <sup>18</sup> Let no one rob you of your prize by self-abasement and worshipping of the angels, dwelling in the things which he has not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind, <sup>19</sup> and not holding firmly to the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and ligaments, grows with God's growth.

3 If then you were raised together with Christ, seek the things that are above, where Christ is, seated on the right hand of God. <sup>2</sup> Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are on the earth. <sup>3</sup> For you died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. <sup>4</sup> When Christ, our life, is revealed, then you will also be revealed with him in glory.

<sup>12</sup> Put on therefore, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, a heart of compassion, kindness, lowliness, humility, and perseverance; <sup>13</sup> bearing with one another, and forgiving each other, if any man has a complaint against any; even as Christ forgave you, so you also do.

<sup>14</sup> Above all these things, walk in love, which is the bond of perfection. <sup>15</sup> And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also you were called in one body, and be thankful. <sup>16</sup> Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly; in all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another with psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your heart to the Lord.

<sup>22</sup> Servants, obey in all things those who are your masters according to the flesh, not just when they are looking, as men pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing God. <sup>23</sup> And whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord, and not for men, <sup>24</sup> knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance; for you serve the Lord Christ. <sup>25</sup> But he who does wrong will receive again for the wrong that he has done, and there is no partiality.

4 Masters, give to your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that you also have a Master in heaven.

<sup>2</sup> Continue steadfastly in prayer, watching in it with thanksgiving, <sup>3</sup> praying together for us also, that God may open to us a door for the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds, <sup>4</sup> that I may reveal it as I ought to speak. <sup>5</sup> Walk in wisdom towards those who are outside, redeeming the time. <sup>6</sup> Let your speech always be with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how you ought to answer each one.

<sup>7</sup> All my affairs will be made known to you by Tychicus, the beloved brother, faithful servant, and fellow bondservant in the Lord. <sup>8</sup> I am sending him to you for this very purpose, that he may know your circumstances and comfort your hearts, <sup>9</sup> together with Onesimus, the faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They will make known to you everything that is going on here.

<sup>10</sup> Aristarchus, my fellow prisoner, greets you, and Mark, the cousin of Barnabas (concerning whom you received commandments, "if he comes to you, receive him"), <sup>11</sup> and Jesus who is called Justus. These are my only fellow workers for God's Kingdom who are of the circumcision, men who have been a comfort to me.

<sup>12</sup> Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, salutes you, always striving for you in his prayers, that you may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God. <sup>13</sup> For I testify about him that he has great zeal for you, and for those in Laodicea, and for those in Hierapolis. <sup>14</sup> Luke the beloved physician and Demas greet you. <sup>15</sup> Greet the brothers who are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the assembly that is in his house. <sup>16</sup> When this letter has been read amongst you, cause it to be read also in the assembly of the Laodiceans, and that you also read the letter from Laodicea. <sup>17</sup> Tell Archippus, "Take heed to the ministry which you have received in the Lord, that you fulfil it."

<sup>18</sup> The salutation of me, Paul, with my own hand: remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

Paul's First Letter to the Thessalonians

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy, to the assembly of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>2</sup>We always give thanks to God for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers, <sup>3</sup>remembering without ceasing your work of faith and labour of love and perseverance of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before our God and Father.

<sup>4</sup>We know, brothers** loved by God, that you are chosen, <sup>5</sup>and that our Good News came to you not in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Spirit, and with much assurance. You know what kind of men we showed ourselves to be amongst you for your sake. <sup>6</sup>You became imitators of us and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Spirit, <sup>7</sup>so that you became an example to all who believe in Macedonia and in Achaia. <sup>8</sup>For from you the word of the Lord has been declared, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith towards God has gone out, so that we need not to say anything. <sup>9</sup>For they themselves report concerning us what kind of a reception we had from you, and how you turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God, <sup>10</sup>and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead: Jesus, who delivers us from the wrath to come.

2 For you yourselves know, brothers, our visit to you wasn't in vain, <sup>2</sup>but having suffered before and been shamefully treated, as you know, at Philippi, we grew bold in our God to tell you the Good News of God in much conflict. <sup>3</sup>For our exhortation is not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deception. <sup>4</sup>But even as we have been approved by God to be entrusted with the Good News, so we speaking: not as pleasing men, but God, who tests our hearts. <sup>5</sup>For neither were we at any time found using words of flattery, as you know, nor a cloak of covetousness (God is witness), <sup>6</sup>nor seeking glory from men (neither from you nor from others), when we might have claimed authority as apostles of Christ. <sup>7</sup>But we were gentle amongst you, like a nursing mother cherishes her own children.

<sup>8</sup>Even so, affectionately longing for you, we were well pleased to impart to you, not the Good News of God only, but also our own souls, because you had become very dear to us. <sup>9</sup>For you remember, brothers, our labour and travail; for working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached to you the Good News of God. <sup>10</sup>You are witnesses with God how holy, righteously, and blamelessly we behaved ourselves towards you who believe. <sup>11</sup>As you know, we exhorted, comforted, and implored every one of you, as a father does his own children, <sup>12</sup>to the end that you should walk worthily of God, who calls you into his own Kingdom and glory. <sup>13</sup>For this cause we also thank God without ceasing, that when you received from us the word of the message of God, you accepted it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which also works in you who believe. <sup>14</sup>For you, brothers, became imitators of the assemblies of God which are in Judea in Christ Jesus; for you also suffered the same things from your own countrymen, even as they did from the Jews <sup>15</sup>who killed both the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, and drove us out, and don't please God, and are contrary to all men, <sup>16</sup>forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved, to fill up their sins always. But wrath has come on them to the uttermost.

<sup>17</sup>But we, brothers, being bereaved of you for a short season, in presence, not in heart, tried even harder to see your face with great desire, <sup>18</sup>because we wanted to come to you—indeed, I, Paul, once and again—but Satan hindered us. <sup>19</sup>For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Isn't it even you, before our Lord Jesus†† at his coming? <sup>20</sup>For you are our glory and our joy.

3 Therefore when we couldn't stand it any longer, we thought it good to be left behind at Athens alone, <sup>2</sup>and sent Timothy, our brother and God's servant in the Good News of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith, <sup>3</sup>that no one would be moved by these afflictions. For you know that we are appointed to this task. <sup>4</sup>For most certainly, when we were with you, we told you beforehand that we are to suffer affliction, even as it happened, and you know. <sup>5</sup>For this cause I also, when I couldn't stand it any longer, sent that I might know your faith, for fear that by any means the tempter had tempted you, and our labour would have been in vain. <sup>6</sup>But when Timothy came just now to us from you, and brought us glad news of your faith and love, and that you have good memories of us always, longing to see us, even as we also long to see you, <sup>7</sup>for this cause, brothers, we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith. <sup>8</sup>For now we live, if you stand fast in the Lord. <sup>9</sup>For what thanksgiving can we render again to God for you, for all the joy with which we rejoice for your sakes before our God, <sup>10</sup>night and day praying exceedingly that we may see your face, and may perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

<sup>11</sup>Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way to you. <sup>12</sup>May the Lord make you to increase and abound in love towards one another, and towards all men, even as we also do towards you, <sup>13</sup>to the end he may establish your hearts blameless in holiness before our God and Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all his saints.

4 Finally then, brothers, we beg and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that as you received from us how you ought to walk and to please God, that you abound more and more. <sup>2</sup>For you know what instructions we gave you through the Lord Jesus. <sup>3</sup>For this is the will of God: your sanctification, that you abstain from sexual immorality, <sup>4</sup>that each one of you know how to control his own body‡‡ in sanctification and honour, <sup>5</sup>not in the passion of lust, even as the Gentiles who don't know God, <sup>6</sup>that no one should take advantage of and wrong a brother or sister in this matter; because the Lord is an avenger in all these things, as also we forewarned you and testified. <sup>7</sup>For God called us not for uncleanness, but in sanctification. <sup>8</sup>Therefore he who rejects this doesn't reject man, but God, who has also given his Holy Spirit to you.

<sup>9</sup>But concerning brotherly love, you have no need that one write to you. For you yourselves are taught by God to love one another, <sup>10</sup>for indeed you do it towards all the brothers who are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brothers, that you abound more and more; <sup>11</sup>and that you make it your ambition to lead a quiet life, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, even as we instructed you; <sup>12</sup>that you may walk properly towards those who are outside, and may have need of nothing.

<sup>13</sup>But we don't want you to be ignorant, brothers, concerning those who have fallen asleep, so that you don't grieve like the rest, who have no hope. <sup>14</sup>For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep in Jesus. <sup>15</sup>For this we tell you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, will in no way precede those who have fallen asleep. <sup>16</sup>For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and with God's trumpet. The dead in Christ will rise first, <sup>17</sup> then we who are alive, who are left, will be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air. So we will be with the Lord forever. <sup>18</sup> Therefore comfort one another with these words.

††2:19 TR adds "Christ"

‡‡4:4 literally, possess his own vessel

5 But concerning the times and the seasons, brothers, you have no need that anything be written to you. <sup>2</sup> For you yourselves know well that the day of the Lord comes like a thief in the night. <sup>3</sup> For when they are saying, "Peace and safety," then sudden destruction will come on them, like birth pains on a pregnant woman. Then they will in no way escape. <sup>4</sup> But you, brothers, aren't in darkness, that the day should overtake you like a thief. <sup>5</sup> You are all children of light and children of the day. We don't belong to the night, nor to darkness, <sup>6</sup> so then let's not sleep, as the rest do, but let's watch and be sober. <sup>7</sup> For those who sleep, sleep in the night; and those who are drunk are drunk in the night. <sup>8</sup> But since we belong to the day, let's be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. <sup>9</sup> For God didn't appoint us to wrath, but to the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, <sup>10</sup> who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him. <sup>11</sup> Therefore exhort one another, and build each other up, even as you also do. <sup>12</sup> But we beg you, brothers, to know those who labour amongst you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you, <sup>13</sup> and to respect and honour them in love for their work's sake.

Be at peace amongst yourselves. <sup>14</sup> We exhort you, brothers: Admonish the disorderly; encourage the faint-hearted; support the weak; be patient towards all. <sup>15</sup> See that no one returns evil for evil to anyone, but always follow after that which is good for one another and for all.

<sup>23</sup> May the God of peace himself sanctify you completely. May your whole spirit, soul, and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>24</sup> He who calls you is faithful, who will also do it. <sup>25</sup> Brothers, pray for us. <sup>26</sup> Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss. <sup>27</sup> I solemnly command you by the Lord that this letter be read to all the holy brothers.

Paul's Second Letter to the Thessalonians

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy, to the assembly of the Thessalonians in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup> We are bound to always give thanks to God for you, brothers,¶ even as it is appropriate, because your faith grows exceedingly, and the love of each and every one of you towards one another abounds, <sup>4</sup> so that we ourselves boast about you in the assemblies of God for your perseverance and faith in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which you endure. <sup>5</sup> This is an obvious sign of the righteous judgement of God, to the end that you may be counted worthy of God's Kingdom, for which you also suffer. <sup>6</sup> Since it is a righteous thing with God to repay affliction to those who afflict you, <sup>7</sup> and to give relief to you who are afflicted with us, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, <sup>8</sup> punishing those who don't know God, and to those who don't obey the Good News of our Lord Jesus, <sup>9</sup> who will pay the penalty: eternal destruction from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, <sup>10</sup> when he comes in that day to be glorified in his saints and to be admired amongst all those who have believed, because our testimony to you was believed.

<sup>11</sup> To this end we also pray always for you, that our God may count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every desire of goodness and work of faith with power, <sup>12</sup> that the name of our Lord Jesus§§ may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Now, brothers, concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our gathering together to him, we ask you <sup>2</sup> not to be quickly shaken in your mind, and not be troubled, either by spirit, or by word, or by letter as if from us, saying that the day of Christ has already come. <sup>3</sup> Let no one deceive you in any way. For it will not be, unless the rebellion* comes first, and the man of sin is revealed, the son of destruction, <sup>4</sup> he who opposes and exalts himself against all that is called God or that is worshipped, so that he sits as God in the temple of God, setting himself up as God. <sup>5</sup> Don't you remember that, when I was still with you, I told you these things? <sup>6</sup> Now you know what is restraining him, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. <sup>7</sup> For the mystery of lawlessness already works. Only there is one who restrains now, until he is taken out of the way. <sup>8</sup> Then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord will kill with the breath of his mouth, and destroy by the manifestation of his coming; <sup>9</sup> even he whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, <sup>10</sup> and with all deception of wickedness for those who are being lost, because they didn't receive the love of the truth, that they might be saved. <sup>11</sup> Because of this, God sends them a working of error, that they should believe a lie; <sup>12</sup> that they all might be judged who didn't believe the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

<sup>13</sup> But we are bound to always give thanks to God for you, brothers loved by the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning for salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief in the truth, <sup>14</sup> to which he called you through our Good News, for the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>15</sup> So then, brothers, stand firm and hold the traditions which you were taught by us, whether by word or by letter.

<sup>16</sup> Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, <sup>17</sup> comfort your hearts and establish you in every good work and word.

3 Finally, brothers, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may spread rapidly and be glorified, even as also with you, <sup>2</sup> and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for not all have faith. <sup>3</sup> But the Lord is faithful, who will establish you and guard you from the evil one. <sup>4</sup> We have confidence in the Lord concerning you, that you both do and will do the things we command. <sup>5</sup> May the Lord direct your hearts into God's love, and into the perseverance of Christ.

<sup>6</sup> Now we command you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you withdraw yourselves from every brother who walks in rebellion, and not after the tradition which they received from us. <sup>7</sup> For you know how you ought to imitate us. For we didn't behave ourselves rebelliously amongst you, <sup>8</sup> neither did we eat bread from anyone's hand without paying for it, but in labour and travail worked night and day, that we might not burden any of you, <sup>9</sup> not because we don't have the right, but to make ourselves an example to you, that you should imitate us. <sup>10</sup> For even when we were with you, we commanded you this: "If anyone is not willing to work, don't let him eat." <sup>11</sup> For we hear of some who walk amongst you in rebellion, who don't work at all, but are busybodies. <sup>12</sup> Now those who are that way, we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that they work with quietness and eat their own bread.

<sup>13</sup> But you, brothers, don't be weary in doing what is right. <sup>14</sup> If any man doesn't obey our word in this letter, note that man, that you have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. <sup>15</sup> Don't count him as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

<sup>16</sup> Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Lord be with you all.

<sup>17</sup> The greeting of me, Paul, with my own hand, which is the sign in every letter: this is how I write. <sup>18</sup> The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Paul's First Letter to Timothy

1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ according to the commandment of God our Saviour and the Lord Jesus Christ† our hope; <sup>2</sup> to Timothy, my true child in faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

<sup>3</sup> As I urged you when I was going into Macedonia, stay at Ephesus that you might command certain men not to teach a different doctrine, <sup>4</sup> and not to pay attention to myths and endless genealogies, which cause disputes, rather than God's stewardship, which is in faith— <sup>5</sup> but the goal of this command is love, out of a pure heart and a good conscience and sincere faith, <sup>6</sup> from which things some, having missed the mark, have turned away to vain talking, <sup>7</sup> desiring to be teachers of the law, though they understand neither what they say, nor about what they strongly affirm. <sup>8</sup> But we know that the law is good, if a person uses it lawfully, <sup>9</sup> as knowing this, that law is not made for a righteous person, but for the lawless and insubordinate, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers, <sup>10</sup> for the sexually immoral, for homosexuals, for slave-traders, for liars, for perjurers, and for any other thing contrary to the sound doctrine, <sup>11</sup> according to the Good News of the glory of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

<sup>12</sup> I thank him who enabled me, Christ Jesus our Lord, because he counted me faithful, appointing me to service; <sup>13</sup> although I used to be a blasphemer, a persecutor, and insolent. However, I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief. <sup>14</sup> The grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. <sup>15</sup> The saying is faithful and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief. <sup>16</sup> However, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first, Jesus Christ might display all his patience for an example of those who were going to believe in him for eternal life. <sup>17</sup> Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, to God who alone is wise, be honour and glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>18</sup> I commit this instruction to you, my child Timothy, according to the prophecies which were given to you before, that by them you may wage the good warfare, <sup>19</sup> holding faith and a good conscience, which some having thrust away made a shipwreck concerning the faith, <sup>20</sup> of whom are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I delivered to Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.

2 I exhort therefore, first of all, that petitions, prayers, intercessions, and givings of thanks be made for all men: <sup>2</sup> for kings and all who are in high places, that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and reverence. <sup>3</sup> For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, <sup>4</sup> who desires all people to be saved and come to full knowledge of the truth. <sup>5</sup> For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, <sup>6</sup> who gave himself as a ransom for all, the testimony in its own times, <sup>7</sup> to which I was appointed a preacher and an apostle—I am telling the truth in Christ, not lying—a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

<sup>8</sup> I desire therefore that the men in every place pray, lifting up holy hands without anger and doubting. <sup>9</sup> In the same way, that women also adorn themselves in decent clothing, with modesty and propriety, not just‡ with braided hair, gold, pearls, or expensive clothing,<sup>10</sup> but with good works, which is appropriate for women professing godliness.<sup>11</sup> Let a woman learn in quietness with full submission.<sup>12</sup> But I don't permit a woman to teach, nor to exercise authority over a man, but to be in quietness.<sup>13</sup> For Adam was formed first, then Eve.<sup>14</sup> Adam wasn't deceived, but the woman, being deceived, has fallen into disobedience;<sup>15</sup> but she will be saved through her childbearing, if they continue in faith, love, and sanctification with sobriety.

serve** if they are blameless.<sup>11</sup> Their wives in the same way must be reverent, not slanderers, temperate, and faithful in all things.<sup>12</sup> Let servants†† be husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.<sup>13</sup> For those who have served well‡‡ gain for themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

<sup>14</sup> These things I write to you, hoping to come to you shortly;<sup>15</sup> but if I wait long, that you may know how men ought to behave themselves in God's house, which is the assembly of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.<sup>16</sup> Without controversy, the mystery of godliness is great: God¶¶ was revealed in the flesh, justified in the spirit, seen by angels, preached amongst the nations, believed on in the world, and received up in glory.

4 But the Spirit says expressly that in later times some will fall away from the faith, paying attention to seducing spirits and doctrines of demons,<sup>2</sup> through the hypocrisy of men who speak lies, branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron,<sup>3</sup> forbidding marriage and commanding to abstain from foods which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth.<sup>4</sup> For every creature of God is good, and nothing is to be rejected, if it is received with thanksgiving.<sup>5</sup> For it is sanctified through the word of God and prayer.

‡2:9 The word "just" is inserted here in English to preserve the meaning of the whole original Greek sentence in context. The word for "not" is the negative particle "μη" which denies an expected idea, as opposed to the usual word for "not" (ου) which denies a fact. Thus "μη" in this context is denying an expected idea (that women can be properly dressed without good works).

6 If you instruct the brothers of these things, you will be a good servant of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which you have followed. 7 But refuse profane and old wives' fables. Exercise yourself towards godliness. 8 For bodily exercise has some value, but godliness has value in all things, having the promise of the life which is now, and of that which is to come. 9 This saying is faithful and worthy of all acceptance. 10 For to this end we both labour and suffer reproach, because we have set our trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, especially of those who believe. 11 Command and teach these things.

12 Let no man despise your youth; but be an example to those who believe, in word, in your way of life, in love, in spirit, in faith, and in purity. 13 Until I come, pay attention to reading, to exhortation, and to teaching. 14 Don't neglect the gift that is in you, which was given to you by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the elders. 15 Be diligent in these things. Give yourself wholly to them, that your progress may be revealed to all. 16 Pay attention to yourself and to your teaching. Continue in these things, for in doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you.

5 Don't rebuke an older man, but exhort him as a father; the younger men as brothers; 2 the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honour widows who are widows indeed. 4 But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them learn first to show piety towards their own family and to repay their parents, for this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she who is a widow indeed and desolate, has her hope set on God, and continues in petitions and prayers night and day. 6 But she who gives herself to pleasure is dead while she lives. 7 Also command these things, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if anyone doesn't provide for his own, and especially his own household, he has denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. 9 Let no one be enrolled as a widow under sixty years old, having been the wife of one man, 10 being approved by good works, if she has brought up children, if she has been hospitable to strangers, if she has washed the saints' feet, if she has relieved the afflicted, and if she has diligently followed every good work.

11 But refuse younger widows, for when they have grown wanton against Christ, they desire to marry, 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first pledge. 13 Besides, they also learn to be idle, going about from house to house. Not only idle, but also gossips and busybodies, saying things which they ought not. 14 I desire therefore that the younger widows marry, bear children, rule the household, and give no occasion to the adversary for insulting. 15 For already some have turned away after Satan. 16 If any man or woman who believes has widows, let them relieve them, and don't let the assembly be burdened, that it might relieve those who are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders who rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. 18 For the Scripture says, "You shall not muzzle the ox when it treads out the grain."<sup>b</sup> And, "The labourer is worthy of his wages."<sup>c</sup>

19 Don't receive an accusation against an elder, except at the word of two or three witnesses. 20 Those who sin, reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. 21 I command you in the sight of God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the chosen angels, that you observe these things without prejudice, doing nothing by partiality. 22 Lay hands hastily on no one. Don't be a participant in other people's sins. Keep yourself pure. 23 Be no longer a drinker of water only, but use a little wine for your stomach's sake and your frequent infirmities.

<sup>24</sup> Some men's sins are evident, preceding them to judgement, and some also follow later. <sup>25</sup> In the same way also there are good works that are obvious, and those that are otherwise can't be hidden.

6 Let as many as are bondservants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine not be blasphemed. <sup>2</sup> Those who have believing masters, let them not despise them because they are brothers, but rather let them serve them, because those who partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. Teach and exhort these things.

<sup>3</sup> If anyone teaches a different doctrine, and doesn't consent to sound words, the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness, <sup>4</sup> he is conceited, knowing nothing, but obsessed with arguments, disputes, and word battles, from which come envy, strife, insulting, evil suspicions, <sup>5</sup> constant friction of people of corrupt minds and destitute of the truth, who suppose that godliness is a means of gain. Withdraw yourself from such. *

of evil. Some have been led astray from the faith in their greed, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

<sup>17</sup> Charge those who are rich in this present world that they not be arrogant, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on the living God, who richly provides us with everything to enjoy; <sup>18</sup> that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, willing to share; <sup>19</sup> laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold of eternal life.

<sup>20</sup> Timothy, guard that which is committed to you, turning away from the empty chatter and oppositions of what is falsely called knowledge, <sup>21</sup> which some profess, and thus have wandered from the faith.

Grace be with you. Amen.

Paul's Second Letter to Timothy

1 Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, <sup>2</sup>to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

<sup>3</sup>I thank God, whom I serve as my forefathers did, with a pure conscience. How unceasing is my memory of you in my petitions, night and day <sup>4</sup>longing to see you, remembering your tears, that I may be filled with joy; <sup>5</sup>having been reminded of the sincere faith that is in you, which lived first in your grandmother Lois, and your mother Eunice, and, I am persuaded, in you also.

<sup>6</sup>For this cause, I remind you that you should stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands. <sup>7</sup>For God didn't give us a spirit of fear, but of power, love, and self-control. <sup>8</sup>Therefore don't be ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner; but endure hardship for the Good News according to the power of God, <sup>9</sup>who saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to us in Christ Jesus before times eternal, <sup>10</sup>but has now been revealed by the appearing of our Saviour, Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and immortality to light through the Good News. <sup>11</sup>For this I was appointed as a preacher, an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles. <sup>12</sup>For this cause I also suffer these things.

Yet I am not ashamed, for I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard that which I have committed to him against that day.

<sup>13</sup>Hold the pattern of sound words which you have heard from me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. <sup>14</sup>That good thing which was committed to you, guard through the Holy Spirit who dwells in us.

<sup>15</sup>This you know, that all who are in Asia turned away from me, of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. <sup>16</sup>May the Lord grant mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain, <sup>17</sup>but when he was in Rome, he sought me diligently and found me <sup>18</sup>(the Lord grant to him to find the Lord's mercy in that day); and in how many things he served at Ephesus, you know very well.

2 You therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. <sup>2</sup>The things which you have heard from me amongst many witnesses, commit the same things to faithful men, who will be able to teach others also. <sup>3</sup>You therefore must endure hardship as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. <sup>4</sup>No soldier on duty entangles himself in the affairs of life, that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. <sup>5</sup>Also, if anyone competes in athletics, he isn't crowned unless he has competed by the rules. <sup>6</sup>The farmer who labours must be the first to get a share of the crops. <sup>7</sup>Consider what I say, and may the Lord give you understanding in all things.

<sup>8</sup>Remember Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, of the offspring† of David, according to my Good News, <sup>9</sup>in which I suffer hardship to the point of chains as a criminal. But God's word isn't chained. <sup>10</sup>Therefore I endure all things for the chosen ones' sake, that they also may obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory. <sup>11</sup>This saying is trustworthy:

"For if we died with him,
we will also live with him.

<sup>12</sup>If we endure, we will also reign with him.

If we deny him,
he also will deny us.

<sup>13</sup>If we are faithless,
he remains faithful;

†2:8 or, seed

for he can't deny himself."

<sup>14</sup> Remind them of these things, charging them in the sight of the Lord, that they don't argue about words, to no profit, to the subverting of those who hear.

<sup>15</sup> Give diligence to present yourself approved by God, a workman who doesn't need to be ashamed, properly handling the Word of Truth. <sup>16</sup> But shun empty chatter, for it will go further in ungodliness, <sup>17</sup> and those words will consume like gangrene, of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus: <sup>18</sup> men who have erred concerning the truth, saying that the resurrection is already past, and overthrowing the faith of some. <sup>19</sup> However God's firm foundation stands, having this seal, "The Lord knows those who are his,"<sup>d</sup> and, "Let every one who names the name of the Lord‡ depart from unrighteousness." <sup>20</sup> Now in a large house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of clay. Some are for honour, and some for dishonour. <sup>21</sup> If anyone therefore purges himself from these, he will be a vessel for honour, sanctified, and suitable for the master's use, prepared for every good work.

3 But know this: that in the last days, grievous times will come. <sup>2</sup> For men will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, un-thankful, unholy, <sup>3</sup> without natural affection, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, not lovers of good, <sup>4</sup> traitors, headstrong, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, <sup>5</sup> holding a form of godliness, but having denied its power. Turn away from these, also. <sup>6</sup> For some of these are people who creep into houses and take captive gullible women loaded down with sins, led away by various lusts, <sup>7</sup> always learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. <sup>8</sup> Even as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so these also oppose the truth, men corrupted in mind, who concerning the faith are rejected. <sup>9</sup> But they will proceed no further. For their folly will be evident to all men, as theirs also came to be. <sup>10</sup> But you followed my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, patience, love, steadfastness, <sup>11</sup> persecutions, and sufferings: those things that happened to me at Antioch, Iconium, and Lystra. I endured those persecutions. The Lord delivered me out of them all. <sup>12</sup> Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution. <sup>13</sup> But evil men and impostors will grow worse and worse, deceiving and being deceived. <sup>14</sup> But you remain in the things which you have learnt and have been assured of, knowing from whom you have learnt them. <sup>15</sup> From infancy, you have known the holy Scriptures which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith, which is in Christ Jesus. <sup>16</sup> Every Scripture is God-breathed and¶ profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for instruction in righteousness, <sup>17</sup> that each person who belongs to God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work.

4 I command you therefore before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, who will judge the living and the dead at his appearing and his Kingdom: <sup>2</sup> preach the word; be urgent in season and out of season; reprove, rebuke, and exhort with all patience and teaching. <sup>3</sup> For the time will come when they will not listen to the sound doctrine, but having itching ears, will heap up for themselves teachers after their own lusts, <sup>4</sup> and will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn away to fables. <sup>5</sup> But you be sober in all things, suffer hardship, do the work of an evangelist, and fulfil your ministry.

<sup>6</sup> For I am already being offered, and the time of my departure has come. <sup>7</sup> I have fought the good fight. I have finished the course. I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup> From now on, the crown of righteousness is stored up for me, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will give to me on that day; and not to me only, but also to all those who have loved his appearing.

<sup>9</sup> Be diligent to come to me soon, <sup>10</sup> for Demas left me, having loved this present world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia; and Titus to Dalmatia. <sup>11</sup> Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with you, for he is useful to me for service. <sup>12</sup> But I sent Tychicus to Ephesus. <sup>13</sup> Bring the cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus when you come, and the books, especially the parchments. <sup>14</sup> Alexander, the coppersmith, did much evil to me. The Lord will repay him according to his deeds, <sup>15</sup> of whom you also must beware; for he greatly opposed our words.

<sup>16</sup> At my first defence, no one came to help me, but all left me. May it not be held against them. <sup>17</sup> But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, that through me the message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear. So I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion. <sup>18</sup> And the Lord will deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me for his heavenly Kingdom. To him be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

Paul's Letter to Titus

1 Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's chosen ones, and the knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness, <sup>2</sup> in hope of eternal life, which God, who can't lie, promised before time began; <sup>3</sup> but in his own time revealed his word in the message with which I was entrusted according to the commandment of God our Saviour; <sup>4</sup> to Titus, my true child according to a common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

<sup>5</sup> I left you in Crete for this reason, that you would set in order the things that were lacking and appoint elders in every city, as I directed you, <sup>6</sup> if anyone is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children who believe, who are not accused of loose or unruly behaviour. <sup>7</sup> For the overseer must be blameless, as God's steward, not self-pleasing, not easily angered, not given to wine, not violent, not greedy for dishonest gain; <sup>8</sup> but given to hospitality, a lover of good, sober minded, fair, holy, self-controlled, <sup>9</sup> holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able to exhort in the sound doctrine, and to convict those who contradict him.

<sup>10</sup> For there are also many unruly men, vain talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision, <sup>11</sup> whose mouths must be stopped: men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for dishonest gain's sake. <sup>12</sup> One of them, a prophet of their own, said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and idle gluttons." <sup>13</sup> This testimony is true. For this cause, reprove them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith, <sup>14</sup> not paying attention to Jewish fables and commandments of men who turn away from the truth. <sup>15</sup> To the pure, all things are pure; but to those who are defiled and unbelieving, nothing is pure; but both their mind and their conscience are defiled. <sup>16</sup> They profess that they know God, but by their deeds they deny him, being abominable, disobedient, and unfit for any good work.

2 But say the things which fit sound doctrine, <sup>2</sup> that older men should be temperate, sensible, sober minded, sound in faith, in love, and in perseverance; <sup>3</sup> and that older women likewise be reverent in behaviour, not slanderers nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good, <sup>4</sup> that they may train the young wives to love their husbands, to love their children, <sup>5</sup> to be sober minded, chaste, workers at home, kind, being in subjection to their own husbands, that God's word may not be blasphemed. <sup>6</sup> Likewise, exhort the younger men to be sober minded. <sup>7</sup> In all things be showing yourself an example of good works. In your teaching, be showing integrity, seriousness, incorruptibility, <sup>8</sup> and soundness of speech that can't be condemned, that he who opposes you may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say about us. <sup>9</sup> Exhort servants to be in subjection to their own masters and to be well-pleasing in all things, not contradicting, <sup>10</sup> not stealing, but showing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God, our Saviour, in all things. <sup>11</sup> For the grace of God has appeared, bringing salvation to all men, <sup>12</sup> instructing us to the intent that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we would live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present age; <sup>13</sup> looking for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of our great God and Saviour, Jesus Christ, <sup>14</sup> who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify for himself a people for his own possession, zealous for good works.

3 Remind them to be in subjection to rulers and to authorities, to be obedient, to be ready for every good work, <sup>2</sup> to speak evil of no one, not to be contentious, to be gentle, showing all humility towards all men. <sup>3</sup> For we were also once foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving various lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another. <sup>4</sup> But when the kindness of God our Saviour and his love towards mankind appeared, <sup>5</sup> not by works of righteousness which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy, he saved us through the washing of regeneration and renewing by the Holy Spirit, <sup>6</sup> whom he poured out on us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; <sup>7</sup> that being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. <sup>8</sup> This saying is faithful, and concerning these things I desire that you affirm confidently, so that those who have believed God may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable to men; <sup>9</sup> but shun foolish questionings, genealogies, strife, and disputes about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain. <sup>10</sup> Avoid a factious man after a first and second warning, <sup>11</sup> knowing that such a one is perverted and sins, being self-condemned.

<sup>12</sup> When I send Artemas to you, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me to Nicopolis, for I have determined to winter there. <sup>13</sup> Send Zenas, the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey speedily, that nothing may be lacking for them. <sup>14</sup> Let our people also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they may not be unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup> All who are with me greet you. Greet those who love us in faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

Paul's Letter to Philemon

1 Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother, to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker, <sup>2</sup>to the beloved Apphia, to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the assembly in your house: <sup>3</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>4</sup>I thank my God always, making mention of you in my prayers, <sup>5</sup>hearing of your love and of the faith which you have towards the Lord Jesus, and towards all the saints, <sup>6</sup>that the fellowship of your faith may become effective in the knowledge of every good thing which is in us in Christ Jesus. <sup>7</sup>For we have much joy and comfort in your love, because the hearts of the saints have been refreshed through you, brother.

<sup>8</sup>Therefore though I have all boldness in Christ to command you that which is appropriate, <sup>9</sup>yet for love's sake I rather beg, being such a one as Paul, the aged, but also a prisoner of Jesus Christ. <sup>10</sup>I beg you for my child, whom I have become the father of in my chains, Onesimus, <sup>11</sup>who once was useless to you, but now is useful to you and to me. <sup>12</sup>I am sending him back. Therefore receive him, that is, my own heart, <sup>13</sup>whom I desired to keep with me, that on your behalf he might serve me in my chains for the Good News. <sup>14</sup>But I was willing to do nothing without your consent, that your goodness would not be as of necessity, but of free will. <sup>15</sup>For perhaps he was therefore separated from you for a while, that you would have him forever, <sup>16</sup>no longer as a slave, but more than a slave, a beloved brother, especially to me, but how much rather to you, both in the flesh and in the Lord.

<sup>17</sup>If then you count me a partner, receive him as you would receive me. <sup>18</sup>But if he has wronged you at all or owes you anything, put that to my account. <sup>19</sup>I, Paul, write this with my own hand: I will repay it (not to mention to you that you owe to me even your own self besides). <sup>20</sup>Yes, brother, let me have joy from you in the Lord. Refresh my heart in the Lord.

<sup>21</sup>Having confidence in your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even beyond what I say.

<sup>22</sup>Also, prepare a guest room for me, for I hope that through your prayers I will be restored to you.

The Letter to the Hebrews

1 God, having in the past spoken to the fathers through the prophets at many times and in various ways, <sup>2</sup> has at the end of these days spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, through whom also he made the worlds. <sup>3</sup> His Son is the radiance of his glory, the very image of his substance, and upholding all things by the word of his power, who, when he had by himself purified us of our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high, <sup>4</sup> having become as much better than the angels as the more excellent name he has inherited is better than theirs. <sup>5</sup> For to which of the angels did he say at any time,

“You are my Son.
Today I have become your father?”<sup>e</sup>
and again,

“I will be to him a Father, and he will be to me a Son?”<sup>f</sup>

<sup>6</sup> When he again brings in the firstborn into the world he says, “Let all the angels of God worship him.”<sup>g</sup> <sup>7</sup> Of the angels he says,

“He makes his angels winds, and his servants a flame of fire.”<sup>h</sup>

<sup>8</sup> But of the Son he says,
“Your throne, O God, is forever and ever.
The sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of your Kingdom.

<sup>9</sup> You have loved righteousness and hated iniquity;
therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows.”<sup>i</sup>

<sup>10</sup> And,
“You, Lord, in the beginning, laid the foundation of the earth.
The heavens are the works of your hands.

<sup>11</sup> They will perish, but you continue.
They all will grow old like a garment does.

<sup>12</sup> You will roll them up like a mantle, and they will be changed;
but you are the same.

Your years won’t fail.”<sup>j</sup>

<sup>13</sup> But which of the angels has he told at any time,

“Sit at my right hand, until I make your enemies the footstool of your feet?”<sup>k</sup>

<sup>14</sup> Aren’t they all serving spirits, sent out to do service for the sake of those who will inherit salvation?

2 Therefore we ought to pay greater attention to the things that were heard, lest perhaps we drift away. <sup>2</sup> For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just penalty, <sup>3</sup> how will we escape if we neglect so great a salvation—which at the first having been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed to us by those who heard, <sup>4</sup> God also testifying with them, both by signs and wonders, by various works of power and by gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to his own will?

<sup>5</sup> For he didn’t subject the world to come, of which we speak, to angels. <sup>6</sup> But one has somewhere testified, saying,

“What is man, that you think of him?
Or the son of man, that you care for him?

<sup>7</sup> You made him a little lower than the angels.
You crowned him with glory and honour.”<sup>**</sup>

his feet.”<sup>l</sup>

For in that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we don’t see all things subjected to him, yet. <sup>9</sup> But we see him who has been made a little lower than the angels, Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and

**2:7 TR adds “and set him over the works of your hands”

e1:5 Psalm 2:7 f1:5 2 Samuel 7:14; 1 Chronicles 17:13

j1:12 Psalm 102:25-27 k1:13 Psalm 110:1 l2:8 Psalm 8:4-6 honour, that by the grace of God he should taste of death for everyone. <sup>10</sup>For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in bringing many children to glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings. <sup>11</sup>For both he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified are all from one, for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brothers,†† <sup>12</sup>saying, “I will declare your name to my brothers. Amongst the congregation I will sing your praise.”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>13</sup>Again, “I will put my trust in him.” Again, “Behold, here I am with the children whom God has given me.”<sup>n</sup> <sup>14</sup>Since then the children have shared in flesh and blood, he also himself in the same way partook of the same, that through death he might bring to nothing him who had the power of death, that is, the devil, <sup>15</sup>and might deliver all of them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. <sup>16</sup>For most certainly, he doesn’t give help to angels, but he gives help to the offspring‡‡ of Abraham. <sup>17</sup>Therefore he was obligated in all things to be made like his brothers, that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make atonement for the sins of the people. <sup>18</sup>For in that he himself has suffered being tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted.

3 Therefore, holy brothers, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession: Jesus, <sup>2</sup>who was faithful to him who appointed him, as also Moses was in all his house. <sup>3</sup>For he has been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, because he who built the house has more honour than the house. <sup>4</sup>For every house is built by someone; but he who built all things is God. <sup>5</sup>Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken, <sup>6</sup>but Christ is faithful as a Son over his house. We are his house, if we hold fast our confidence and the glorying of our hope firm to the end. <sup>7</sup>Therefore, even as the Holy Spirit says, “Today if you will hear his voice, <sup>8</sup>don’t harden your hearts, as in the rebellion, like as in the day of the trial in the wilderness, <sup>9</sup>where your fathers tested me and tried me, and saw my deeds for forty years. <sup>10</sup>Therefore I was displeased with that generation, and said, “They always err in their heart, but they didn’t know my ways.’

<sup>12</sup>Beware, brothers, lest perhaps there might be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from the living God; <sup>13</sup>but exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called “today”, lest any one of you be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. <sup>14</sup>For we have become partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence firm to the end, <sup>15</sup>while it is said,

“Today if you will hear his voice, don’t harden your hearts, as in the rebellion.”<sup>p</sup>

<sup>16</sup>For who, when they heard, rebelled? Wasn’t it all those who came out of Egypt led by Moses? <sup>17</sup>With whom was he displeased forty years? Wasn’t it with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the wilderness? <sup>18</sup>To whom did he swear that they wouldn’t enter into his rest, but to those who were disobedient? <sup>19</sup>We see that they weren’t able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 Let’s fear therefore, lest perhaps anyone of you should seem to have come short of a promise of entering into his rest. <sup>2</sup>For indeed we have had good news preached to us, even

<sup>n</sup>2:13 Isaiah 8:18

as they also did, but the word they heard didn't profit them, because it wasn't mixed with faith by those who heard. <sup>3</sup>For we who have believed do enter into that rest, even as he has said, "As I swore in my wrath, they will not enter into my rest;"<sup>q</sup> although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. <sup>4</sup>For he has said this somewhere about the seventh day, "God rested on the seventh day from all his works;"<sup>r</sup> <sup>5</sup>and in this place again, "They will not enter into my rest."<sup>s</sup>

<sup>6</sup>Seeing therefore it remains that some should enter into it, and they to whom the good news was preached before failed to enter in because of disobedience, <sup>7</sup>he again defines a certain day, today, saying through David so long a time afterward (just as has been said), "Today if you will hear his voice, don't harden your hearts."<sup>t</sup>

<sup>8</sup>For if Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. <sup>9</sup>There remains therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God. <sup>10</sup>For he who has entered into his rest has himself also rested from his works, as God did from his. <sup>11</sup>Let's therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, lest anyone fall after the same example of disobedience. <sup>12</sup>For the word of God is living and active, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and is able to discern the thoughts and intentions of the heart. <sup>13</sup>There is no creature that is hidden from his sight, but all things are naked and laid open before the eyes of him to whom we must give an account.

<sup>14</sup>Having then a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, let's hold tightly to our confession. <sup>15</sup>For we don't have a high priest who can't be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but one who has been in all points tempted like we are, yet without sin. <sup>16</sup>Let's therefore draw near with boldness to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and may find grace for help in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from amongst men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins. <sup>2</sup>The high priest can deal gently with those who are ignorant and going astray, because he himself is also surrounded with weakness. <sup>3</sup>Because of this, he must offer sacrifices for sins for the people, as well as for himself. <sup>4</sup>Nobody takes this honour on himself, but he is called by God, just like Aaron was. <sup>5</sup>So also Christ didn't glorify himself to be made a high priest, but it was he who said to him,

"You are my Son.

Today I have become your father."<sup>u</sup>

<sup>6</sup>As he says also in another place, "You are a priest forever, after the order of Melchizedek."<sup>v</sup>

<sup>7</sup>He, in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and petitions with strong crying and tears to him who was able to save him from death, and having been heard for his godly fear, <sup>8</sup>though he was a Son, yet learnt obedience by the things which he suffered. <sup>9</sup>Having been made perfect, he became to all of those who obey him the author of eternal salvation, <sup>10</sup>named by God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

<sup>11</sup>About him we have many words to say, and hard to interpret, seeing you have become dull of hearing. <sup>12</sup>For although by this time you should be teachers, you again need to have someone teach you the rudiments of the first principles of the revelations of God. You have come to need milk, and not solid food. <sup>13</sup>For everyone who lives on milk is not experienced in the word of righteousness, for he is a baby. <sup>14</sup>But solid food is for those who are full grown, who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

s4:5 Psalm 95:11

t4:7 Psalm 95:7-8

u5:5 Psalm 2:7

v5:6 Psalm 110:4

6 Therefore leaving the teaching of the first principles of Christ, let's press on to perfection—not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, of faith towards God, <sup>2</sup> of the teaching of baptisms, of laying on of hands, of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement. <sup>3</sup> This will we do, if God permits. <sup>4</sup> For concerning those who were once enlightened and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Spirit, <sup>5</sup> and tasted the good word of God and the powers of the age to come, <sup>6</sup> and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again to repentance; seeing they crucify the Son of God for themselves again, and put him to open shame. <sup>7</sup> For the land which has drunk the rain that comes often on it and produces a crop suitable for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receives blessing from God; <sup>8</sup> but if it bears thorns and thistles, it is rejected and near being cursed, whose end is to be burnt.

<sup>9</sup> But, beloved, we are persuaded of better things for you, and things that accompany salvation, even though we speak like this. <sup>10</sup> For God is not unrighteous, so as to forget your work and the labour of love which you showed towards his name, in that you served the saints, and still do serve them. <sup>11</sup> We desire that each one of you may show the same diligence to the fullness of hope even to the end, <sup>12</sup> that you won't be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and perseverance inherited the promises. <sup>13</sup> For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he could swear by no one greater, he swore by himself, <sup>14</sup> saying, "Surely blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply you."<sup>w</sup> <sup>15</sup> Thus, having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. <sup>16</sup> For men indeed swear by a greater one, and in every dispute of theirs the oath is final for confirmation. <sup>17</sup> In this way God, being determined to show more abundantly to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, interposed with an oath, <sup>18</sup> that by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to take hold of the hope set before us. <sup>19</sup> This hope we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is within the veil; <sup>20</sup> where as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, having become a high priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 For this Melchizedek, king of Salem, priest of God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings and blessed him, <sup>2</sup> to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, "king of righteousness", and then also "king of Salem", which means "king of peace", <sup>3</sup> without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like the Son of God), remains a priest continually.

<sup>4</sup> Now consider how great this man was, to whom even Abraham, the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the best plunder. <sup>5</sup> They indeed of the sons of Levi who receive the priest's office have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brothers, though these have come out of the body of Abraham, <sup>6</sup> but he whose genealogy is not counted from them has accepted tithes from Abraham, and has blessed him who has the promises. <sup>7</sup> But without any dispute the lesser is blessed by the greater. <sup>8</sup> Here people who die receive tithes, but there one receives tithes of whom it is testified that he lives. <sup>9</sup> We can say that through Abraham even Levi, who receives tithes, has paid tithes, <sup>10</sup> for he was yet in the body of his father when Melchizedek met him.

<sup>11</sup> Now if perfection was through the Levitical priesthood (for under it the people have received the law), what further need was there for another priest to arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be called after the order of Aaron? <sup>12</sup> For the priesthood being changed, there is of necessity a change made also in the law. <sup>13</sup>For he of whom these things are said belongs to another tribe, from which no one has officiated at the altar. <sup>14</sup>For it is evident that our Lord has sprung out of Judah, about which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priesthood. <sup>15</sup>This is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there arises another priest, <sup>16</sup>who has been made, not after the law of a fleshly commandment, but after the power of an endless life; <sup>17</sup>for it is testified, “You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.”<sup>x</sup>

<sup>18</sup>For there is an annulling of a foregoing commandment because of its weakness and uselessness <sup>19</sup>(for the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in of a better hope, through which we draw near to God. <sup>20</sup>Inasmuch as he was not made priest without the taking of an oath <sup>21</sup>(for they indeed have been made priests without an oath), but he with an oath by him that says of him, “The Lord swore and will not change his mind,

“You are a priest forever, according to the order of Melchizedek.”<sup>y</sup>

<sup>22</sup>By so much, Jesus has become the collateral of a better covenant. <sup>23</sup>Many, indeed, have been made priests, because they are hindered from continuing by death. <sup>24</sup>But he, because he lives forever, has his priesthood unchangeable. <sup>25</sup>Therefore he is also able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through him, seeing that he lives forever to make intercession for them.

<sup>26</sup>For such a high priest was fitting for us: holy, guiltless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; <sup>27</sup>who doesn’t need, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices daily, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people. For he did this once for all, when he offered up himself. <sup>28</sup>For the law appoints men as high priests who have weakness, but the word of the oath which came after the law appoints a Son forever who has been perfected.

8 Now in the things which we are saying, the main point is this. We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, <sup>2</sup>a servant of the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. <sup>3</sup>For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices. Therefore it is necessary that this high priest also have something to offer. <sup>4</sup>For if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are priests who offer the gifts according to the law, <sup>5</sup>who serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses was warned by God when he was about to make the tabernacle, for he said, “See, you shall make everything according to the pattern that was shown to you on the mountain.”<sup>z</sup> <sup>6</sup>But now he has obtained a more excellent ministry, by so much as he is also the mediator of a better covenant, which on better promises has been given as law. <sup>7</sup>For if that first covenant had been faultless, then no place would have been sought for a second. <sup>8</sup>For finding fault with them, he said, “Behold, ¶ the days come”, says the Lord, “that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

<sup>9</sup>not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt;

for they didn’t continue in my covenant, and I disregarded them,” says the Lord.

<sup>10</sup>“For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel.

¶8:8 “Behold”, from “ἰδοὺ”, means look at, take notice, observe, see, or gaze at. It is often used as an interjection.

x7:17 Psalm 110:4    y7:21 Psalm 110:4    z8:5 Exodus 25:40

After those days," says the Lord;
 "I will put my laws into their mind,
 I will also write them on their heart.
 I will be their God,
 and they will be my people.

<sup>11</sup> They will not teach every man his fellow citizen,§§ and every man his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,' for all will know me, from their least to their greatest.

<sup>12</sup> For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness.
 I will remember their sins and lawless deeds no more."<sup>a</sup>

<sup>13</sup> In that he says, "A new covenant", he has made the first old. But that which is becoming old and grows aged is near to vanishing away.

9 Now indeed even the first* covenant had ordinances of divine service and an earthly sanctuary. <sup>2</sup>For a tabernacle was prepared. In the first part were the lamp stand, the table, and the show bread; which is called the Holy Place. <sup>3</sup>After the second veil was the tabernacle which is called the Holy of Holies, <sup>4</sup>having a golden altar of incense, and the ark of the covenant overlaid on all sides with gold, in which was a golden pot holding the manna, Aaron's rod that budded, and the tablets of the covenant; <sup>5</sup>and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat, of which things we can't speak now in detail. <sup>6</sup>Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the services, <sup>7</sup>but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offers for himself, and for the errors of the people. <sup>8</sup>The Holy Spirit is indicating this, that the way into the Holy Place wasn't yet revealed while the first tabernacle was still standing. <sup>9</sup>This is a symbol of the present age, where gifts and sacrifices are offered that are incapable, concerning the conscience, of making the worshipper perfect, <sup>10</sup>being only (with meats and drinks and various washings) fleshly ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

<sup>11</sup> But Christ having come as a high priest of the coming good things, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, <sup>12</sup>nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the Holy Place, having obtained eternal redemption. <sup>13</sup>For if the blood of goats and bulls, and the ashes of a heifer sprinkling those who have been defiled, sanctify to the cleanness of the flesh, <sup>14</sup>how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without defect to God, cleanse your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? <sup>15</sup>For this reason he is the mediator of a new covenant, since a death has occurred for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first covenant, that those who have been called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. <sup>16</sup>For where a last will and testament is, there must of necessity be the death of him who made it. <sup>17</sup>For a will is in force where there has been death, for it is never in force while he who made it lives. <sup>18</sup>Therefore even the first covenant has not been dedicated without blood. <sup>19</sup>For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of the calves and the goats, with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people, <sup>20</sup>saying, "This is the blood of the covenant which God has commanded you."<sup>b</sup>

§§8:11 TR reads "neighbour" instead of "fellow citizen"

*9:1 TR adds "tabernacle"

§8:12 Jeremiah 31:31-34    §9:20 Exodus 24:8

law, nearly everything is cleansed with blood, and apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

<sup>23</sup> It was necessary therefore that the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. <sup>24</sup> For Christ hasn't entered into holy places made with hands, which are representations of the true, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us; <sup>25</sup> nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest enters into the holy place year by year with blood not his own, <sup>26</sup> or else he must have suffered often since the foundation of the world. But now once at the end of the ages, he has been revealed to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. <sup>27</sup> Inasmuch as it is appointed for men to die once, and after this, judgement, <sup>28</sup> so Christ also, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, without sin, to those who are eagerly waiting for him for salvation.

10 For the law, having a shadow of the good to come, not the very image of the things, can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect those who draw near. <sup>2</sup> Or else wouldn't they have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more consciousness of sins? <sup>3</sup> But in those sacrifices there is a yearly reminder of sins. <sup>4</sup> For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. <sup>5</sup> Therefore when he comes into the world, he says,

"You didn't desire sacrifice and offering, but you prepared a body for me.

<sup>7</sup> Then I said, 'Behold, I have come (in the scroll of the book it is written of me) to do your will, O God.'" <sup>c</sup>

<sup>8</sup> Previously saying, "Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin you didn't desire, neither had pleasure in them" (those which are offered according to the law), <sup>9</sup> then he has said, "Behold, I have come to do your will." He takes away the first, that he may establish the second, <sup>10</sup> by which will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. <sup>11</sup> Every priest indeed stands day by day serving and often offering the same sacrifices which can never take away sins, <sup>12</sup> but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for sins forever, sat down on the right hand of God, <sup>13</sup> from that time waiting until his enemies are made the footstool of his feet. <sup>14</sup> For by one offering he has perfected forever those who are being sanctified. <sup>15</sup> The Holy Spirit also testifies to us, for after saying,

'After those days,' says the Lord,

'I will put my laws on their heart,

I will also write them on their mind;" <sup>d</sup>

then he says,

<sup>19</sup> Having therefore, brothers, boldness to enter into the holy place by the blood of Jesus, <sup>20</sup> by the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh, <sup>21</sup> and having a great priest over God's house, <sup>22</sup> let's draw near with a true heart in fullness of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and having our body washed with pure water, <sup>23</sup> let's hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering; for he who promised is faithful.

and so much the more as you see the Day approaching.

<sup>26</sup> For if we sin wilfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remains no more a sacrifice for sins, <sup>27</sup> but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and a fierceness of fire which will devour the adversaries. <sup>28</sup> A man who disregards Moses' law dies without compassion on the word of two or three witnesses. <sup>29</sup> How much worse punishment do you think he will be judged worthy of who has trodden under foot the Son of God, and has counted the blood of the covenant with which he was sanctified an unholy thing, and has insulted the Spirit of grace? <sup>30</sup> For we know him who said, "Vengeance belongs to me;" says the Lord, "I will repay."† Again, "The Lord will judge his people."‡ <sup>31</sup> It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

<sup>32</sup> But remember the former days, in which, after you were enlightened, you endured a great struggle with sufferings; <sup>33</sup> partly, being exposed to both reproaches and oppressions; and partly, becoming partakers with those who were treated so. <sup>34</sup> For you both had compassion on me in my chains, and joyfully accepted the plundering of your possessions, knowing that you have for yourselves a better possession and an enduring one in the heavens. <sup>35</sup> Therefore don't throw away your boldness, which has a great reward. <sup>36</sup> For you need endurance so that, having done the will of God, you may receive the promise.

<sup>37</sup> "In a very little while, he who comes will come, and will not wait.

<sup>38</sup> But the righteous will live by faith. If he shrinks back, my soul has no pleasure in him."<sup>h</sup>

<sup>39</sup> But we are not of those who shrink back to destruction, but of those who have faith to the saving of the soul.

11 Now faith is assurance of things hoped for, proof of things not seen. <sup>2</sup> For by this, the elders obtained testimony. <sup>3</sup> By faith, we understand that the universe has been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen has not been made out of things which are visible. <sup>4</sup> By faith, Abel offered to God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had testimony given to him that he was righteous, God testifying with respect to his gifts; and through it he, being dead, still speaks. <sup>5</sup> By faith, Enoch was taken away, so that he wouldn't see death, and he was not found, because God translated him. For he has had testimony given to him that before his translation he had been well pleasing to God. <sup>6</sup> Without faith it is impossible to be well pleasing to him, for he who comes to God must believe that he exists, and that he is a rewarder of those who seek him. <sup>7</sup> By faith, Noah, being warned about things not yet seen, moved with godly fear,† prepared a ship for the saving of his house, through which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is according to faith. <sup>8</sup> By faith, Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out to the place which he was to receive for an inheritance. He went out, not knowing where he went. <sup>9</sup> By faith, he lived as an alien in the land of promise, as in a land not his own, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise. <sup>10</sup> For he looked for the city which has the foundations, whose builder and maker is God. <sup>11</sup> By faith, even Sarah herself received power to conceive, and she bore a child when she was past age, since she counted him faithful who had promised. <sup>12</sup> Therefore as many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as innumerable as the sand which is by the sea shore, were fathered by one man, and him as good as dead. <sup>13</sup> These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen‡ them and embraced them from afar, and having confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth. <sup>14</sup> For those who say such things make it clear that they are seeking a country of their own. <sup>15</sup> If indeed they had been thinking of that country from which they went out, they would have had enough time to return. <sup>16</sup> But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed of them, to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them.

<sup>17</sup> By faith, Abraham, being tested, offered up Isaac. Yes, he who had gladly received the promises was offering up his one and only son, <sup>18</sup> to whom it was said, “Your offspring will be accounted as from Isaac,” <sup>19</sup> concluding that God is able to raise up even from the dead. Figuratively speaking, he also did receive him back from the dead. <sup>20</sup> By faith, Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. <sup>21</sup> By faith, Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph, and worshipped, leaning on the top of his staff. <sup>22</sup> By faith, Joseph, when his end was near, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel, and gave instructions concerning his bones. <sup>23</sup> By faith, Moses, when he was born, was hidden for three months by his parents, because they saw that he was a beautiful child, and they were not afraid of the king’s commandment. <sup>24</sup> By faith, Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh’s daughter, <sup>25</sup> choosing rather to share ill treatment with God’s people than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a time, <sup>26</sup> considering the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt; for he looked to the reward. <sup>27</sup> By faith, he left Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible. <sup>28</sup> By faith, he kept the Passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. <sup>29</sup> By faith, they passed through the Red Sea as on dry land. When the Egyptians tried to do so, they were swallowed up. <sup>30</sup> By faith, the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been encircled for seven days. <sup>31</sup> By faith, Rahab the prostitute didn’t perish with those who were disobedient, having received the spies in peace. <sup>32</sup> What more shall I say? For the time would fail me if I told of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the prophets, <sup>33</sup> who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked out righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,<sup>j</sup> <sup>34</sup> quenched the power of fire,<sup>k</sup> escaped the edge of the sword,<sup>l</sup> from weakness were made strong, grew mighty in war, and caused foreign armies to flee. <sup>35</sup> Women received their dead by resurrection.<sup>m</sup> Others were tortured, not accepting their deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection. <sup>36</sup> Others were tried by mocking and scourging, yes, moreover by bonds and imprisonment. <sup>37</sup> They were stoned.<sup>n</sup> They were slain with the sword.<sup>o</sup> They went around in sheep skins and in goat skins; being destitute, afflicted, ill-treated— <sup>38</sup> of whom the world was not worthy—wandering in deserts, mountains, caves, and the holes of the earth. <sup>39</sup> These all, having had testimony given to them through their faith, didn’t receive the promise, <sup>40</sup> God having provided some better thing concerning us, so that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let’s also, seeing we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside every weight and the sin which so easily entangles us, and let’s run with perseverance the race that is set before us, <sup>2</sup> looking to Jesus, the author and perfecter of faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising its shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. <sup>3</sup> For consider him who has endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, that you don't grow weary, fainting in your souls. <sup>4</sup> You have not yet resisted to blood, striving against sin. <sup>5</sup> You have forgotten the exhortation which reasons with you as with children,

"My son, don't take lightly the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when you are reproved by him;

<sup>6</sup> for whom the Lord loves, he disciplines, and chastises every son whom he receives."<sup>p</sup>

<sup>7</sup> It is for discipline that you endure. God deals with you as with children, for what son is there whom his father doesn't discipline?

<sup>8</sup> But if you are without discipline, of which all have been made partakers, then you are illegitimate, and not children. <sup>9</sup> Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we paid them respect. Shall we not much rather be in subjection to the Father of spirits, and live? <sup>10</sup> For they indeed, for a few days, punished us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holiness. <sup>11</sup> All chastening seems for the present to be not joyous but grievous; yet afterward it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore lift up the hands that hang down and the feeble knees, <sup>q13</sup> and make straight paths for your feet,<sup>r</sup> so what is lame may not be dislocated, but rather be healed.

<sup>14</sup> Follow after peace with all men, and the sanctification without which no man will see the Lord, <sup>15</sup> looking carefully lest there be any man who falls short of the grace of God, lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and many be defiled by it, <sup>16</sup> lest there be any sexually immoral person, or profane person, like Esau, who sold his birthright for one meal. <sup>17</sup> For you know that even when he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place for a change of mind though he sought it diligently with tears.

<sup>18</sup> For you have not come to a mountain that might be touched, and that burnt with fire, and to blackness, darkness, storm, <sup>19</sup> the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which those who heard it begged that not one more word should be spoken to them, <sup>20</sup> for they could not stand that which was commanded, "If even an animal touches the mountain, it shall be stoned".<sup>s</sup> <sup>21</sup> So fearful was the appearance that Moses said, "I am terrified and trembling."<sup>t</sup>

<sup>22</sup> But you have come to Mount Zion, and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to innumerable multitudes of angels, <sup>23</sup> to the festal gathering and assembly of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, to God the Judge of all, to the spirits of just men made perfect, <sup>24</sup> to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant,<sup>u</sup> and to the blood of sprinkling that speaks better than that of Abel.

<sup>25</sup> See that you don't refuse him who speaks. For if they didn't escape when they refused him who warned on the earth, how much more will we not escape who turn away from him who warns from heaven, <sup>26</sup> whose voice shook the earth then, but now he has promised, saying, "Yet once more I will shake not only the earth, but also the heavens."<sup>v</sup> <sup>27</sup> This phrase, "Yet once more" signifies the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. <sup>28</sup> Therefore, receiving a Kingdom that can't be shaken, let's have grace, through which we serve God acceptably, with reverence and awe, <sup>29</sup> for our God is a consuming fire.<sup>w</sup>

13 Let brotherly love continue. <sup>2</sup> Don't forget to show hospitality to strangers, for in doing so, some have entertained angels without knowing it. <sup>3</sup> Remember those who are in bonds, as bound with them, and those who are ill-treated, since you are also in the body. <sup>4</sup> Let marriage be held in honour amongst all, and let the bed be undefiled; but God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers.

<sup>5</sup> Be free from the love of money, content with such things as you have, for he has said, "I will in no way leave you, neither will I in any way forsake you."<sup>x</sup> <sup>6</sup> So that with good courage we say, "The Lord is my helper. I will not fear. What can man do to me?"<sup>y</sup>

<sup>7</sup> Remember your leaders, men who spoke to you the word of God, and considering the results of their conduct, imitate their faith. <sup>8</sup> Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever. <sup>9</sup> Don't be carried away by various and strange teachings, for it is good that the heart be established by grace, not by food, through which those who were so occupied were not benefitted.

<sup>10</sup> We have an altar from which those who serve the holy tabernacle have no right to eat. <sup>11</sup> For the bodies of those animals, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burnt outside of the camp.<sup>z</sup> <sup>12</sup> Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people through his own blood, suffered outside of the gate. <sup>13</sup> Let's therefore go out to him outside of the camp, bearing his reproach. <sup>14</sup> For we don't have here an enduring city, but we seek that which is to come. <sup>15</sup> Through him, then, let's offer up a sacrifice of praise to God <sup>a</sup>continually, that is, the fruit of lips which proclaim allegiance to his name. <sup>16</sup> But don't forget to be doing good and sharing, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

<sup>17</sup> Obey your leaders and submit to them, for they watch on behalf of your souls, as those who will give account, that they may do this with joy, and not with groaning, for that would be unprofitable for you.

<sup>18</sup> Pray for us, for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honourably in all things. <sup>19</sup> I strongly urge you to do this, that I may be restored to you sooner.

<sup>20</sup> Now may the God of peace, who brought again from the dead the great shepherd of the sheep with the blood of an eternal covenant, our Lord Jesus, <sup>21</sup> make you complete in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>22</sup> But I exhort you, brothers, endure the word of exhortation; for I have written to you in few words. <sup>23</sup> Know that our brother Timothy has been freed, with whom, if he comes shortly, I will see you.

<sup>25</sup> Grace be with you all. Amen.

The Letter from James

1 James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are in the Dispersion: Greetings.

<sup>2</sup>Count it all joy, my brothers,§ when you fall into various temptations, <sup>3</sup>knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. <sup>4</sup>Let endurance have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing.

<sup>5</sup>But if any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him. <sup>6</sup>But let him ask in faith, without any doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea, driven by the wind and tossed. <sup>7</sup>For that man shouldn't think that he will receive anything from the Lord. <sup>8</sup>He is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

<sup>9</sup>But let the brother in humble circumstances glory in his high position; <sup>10</sup>and the rich, in that he is made humble, because like the flower in the grass, he will pass away. <sup>11</sup>For the sun arises with the scorching wind and withers the grass, and the flower in it falls, and the beauty of its appearance perishes. So the rich man will also fade away in his pursuits.

<sup>12</sup>Blessed is a person who endures temptation, for when he has been approved, he will receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised to those who love him.

<sup>13</sup>Let no man say when he is tempted, "I am tempted by God," for God can't be tempted by evil, and he himself tempts no one. <sup>14</sup>But each one is tempted when he is drawn away by his own lust and enticed. <sup>15</sup>Then the lust, when it has conceived, bears sin. The sin, when it is full grown, produces death. <sup>16</sup>Don't be deceived, my beloved brothers. <sup>17</sup>Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom can be no variation, nor turning shadow. <sup>18</sup>Of his own will he gave birth to us by the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first fruits of his creatures.

<sup>19</sup>So, then, my beloved brothers, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to anger; <sup>20</sup>for the anger of man doesn't produce the righteousness of God. <sup>21</sup>Therefore, putting away all filthiness and overflowing of wickedness, receive with humility the implanted word, which is able to save your souls.** <sup>22</sup>But be doers of the word, and not only hearers, deluding your own selves. <sup>23</sup>For if anyone is a hearer of the word and not a doer, he is like a man looking at his natural face in a mirror; <sup>24</sup>for he sees himself, and goes away, and immediately forgets what kind of man he was. <sup>25</sup>But he who looks into the perfect law of freedom and continues, not being a hearer who forgets, but a doer of the work, this man will be blessed in what he does.

<sup>26</sup>If anyone amongst you thinks himself to be religious while he doesn't bridle his tongue, but deceives his heart, this man's religion is worthless. <sup>27</sup>Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained by the world.

2 My brothers, don't hold the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory with partiality. <sup>2</sup>For if a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, comes into your synagogue,†† and a poor man in filthy clothing also comes in, <sup>3</sup>and you pay special attention to him who wears the fine clothing and say, "Sit here in a good place;" and you tell the poor man, "Stand there," or "Sit by my footstool" <sup>4</sup>haven't you shown partiality amongst yourselves, and become judges with evil thoughts? <sup>5</sup> Listen, my beloved brothers. Didn't God choose those who are poor in this world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the Kingdom which he promised to those who love him? <sup>6</sup> But you have dishonoured the poor man. Don't the rich oppress you, and personally drag you before the courts? <sup>7</sup> Don't they blaspheme the honourable name by which you are called? <sup>8</sup> However, if you fulfil the royal law according to the Scripture, "You shall love your neighbour as yourself,"<sup>b</sup> you do well. <sup>9</sup> But if you show partiality, you commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. <sup>10</sup> For whoever keeps the whole law, and yet stumbles in one point, he has become guilty of all. <sup>11</sup> For he who said, "Do not commit adultery,"<sup>c</sup> also said, "Do not commit murder."<sup>d</sup> Now if you do not commit adultery, but murder, you have become a transgressor of the law. <sup>12</sup> So speak and so do, as men who are to be judged by a law of freedom. <sup>13</sup> For judgement is without mercy to him who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgement.

**1:21 or, preserve your life.

††2:2 or, meeting

<sup>14</sup> What good is it, my brothers, if a man says he has faith, but has no works? Can faith save him? <sup>15</sup> And if a brother or sister is naked and in lack of daily food, <sup>16</sup> and one of you tells them, "Go in peace. Be warmed and filled;" yet you didn't give them the things the body needs, what good is it? <sup>17</sup> Even so faith, if it has no works, is dead in itself. <sup>18</sup> Yes, a man will say, "You have faith, and I have works." Show me your faith without works, and I will show you my faith by my works.

<sup>19</sup> You believe that God is one. You do well. The demons also believe, and shudder. <sup>20</sup> But do you want to know, vain man, that faith apart from works is dead? <sup>21</sup> Wasn't Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son on the altar? <sup>22</sup> You see that faith worked with his works, and by works faith was perfected. <sup>23</sup> So the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him as righteousness,"<sup>e</sup> and he was called the friend of God. <sup>24</sup> You see then that by works, a man is justified, and not only by faith. <sup>25</sup> In the same way, wasn't Rahab the prostitute also justified by works, in that she received the messengers and sent them out another way? <sup>26</sup> For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Let not many of you be teachers, my brothers, knowing that we will receive heavier judgement. <sup>2</sup> For we all stumble in many things. Anyone who doesn't stumble in word is a perfect person, able to bridle the whole body also. <sup>3</sup> Indeed, we put bits into the horses' mouths so that they may obey us, and we guide their whole body. <sup>4</sup> Behold,‡‡ the ships also, though they are so big and are driven by fierce winds, are yet guided by a very small rudder, wherever the pilot desires. <sup>5</sup> So the tongue is also a little member, and boasts great things. See how a small fire can spread to a large forest! <sup>6</sup> And the tongue is a fire. The world of iniquity amongst our members is the tongue, which defiles the whole body, and sets on fire the course of nature, and is set on fire by Gehenna.¶¶ <sup>7</sup> For every kind of animal, bird, creeping thing, and sea creature, is tamed, and has been tamed by mankind; <sup>8</sup> but nobody can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison. <sup>9</sup> With it we bless our God and Father, and with it we curse men who are made in the image of God. <sup>10</sup> Out of the same mouth comes blessing and cursing. My brothers, these things ought not to be so. <sup>11</sup> Does a spring send out from the same opening fresh and bitter water? <sup>12</sup> Can a fig tree, my brothers, yield olives, or a vine figs? Thus no spring yields both salt water and fresh water.

<sup>13</sup> Who is wise and understanding amongst you? Let him show by his good conduct that his deeds are done in gentleness of wisdom. <sup>14</sup> But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your heart, don't boast and don't lie against the truth. <sup>15</sup> This wisdom is not that which comes down from above, but is earthly, sensual, and demonic. <sup>16</sup> For where jealousy and selfish ambition are, there is confusion and every evil deed. <sup>17</sup> But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceful, gentle, reasonable, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy. <sup>18</sup> Now the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

4 Where do wars and fightings amongst you come from? Don't they come from your pleasures that war in your members? <sup>2</sup> You lust, and don't have. You murder and covet, and can't obtain. You fight and make war. You don't have, because you don't ask. <sup>3</sup> You ask, and don't receive, because you ask with wrong motives, so that you may spend it on your pleasures. <sup>4</sup> You adulterers and adulteresses, don't you know that friendship with the world is hostility towards God? Whoever therefore wants to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God. <sup>5</sup> Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, "The Spirit who lives in us yearns jealously"? <sup>6</sup> But he gives more grace. Therefore it says, "God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble."<sup>f</sup> <sup>7</sup> Be subject therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. <sup>8</sup> Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners. Purify your hearts, you double-minded. <sup>9</sup> Lament, mourn, and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to gloom. <sup>10</sup> Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he will exalt you.

<sup>11</sup> Don't speak against one another, brothers. He who speaks against a brother and judges his brother, speaks against the law and judges the law. But if you judge the law, you are not a doer of the law, but a judge. <sup>12</sup> Only one is the lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy. But who are you to judge another?

<sup>13</sup> Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow let's go into this city, and spend a year there, trade, and make a profit." <sup>14</sup> Whereas you don't know what your life will be like tomorrow. For what is your life? For you are a vapour that appears for a little time, and then vanishes away. <sup>15</sup> For you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we will both live, and do this or that." <sup>16</sup> But now you glory in your boasting. All such boasting is evil. <sup>17</sup> To him therefore who knows to do good, and doesn't do it, to him it is sin.

5 Come now, you rich, weep and howl for your miseries that are coming on you. <sup>2</sup> Your riches are corrupted and your garments are moth-eaten. <sup>3</sup> Your gold and your silver are corroded, and their corrosion will be for a testimony against you and will eat your flesh like fire. You have laid up your treasure in the last days. <sup>4</sup> Behold, the wages of the labourers who mowed your fields, which you have kept back by fraud, cry out, and the cries of those who reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of Armies.§§ <sup>5</sup> You have lived in luxury on the earth, and taken your pleasure. You have nourished your hearts as in a day of slaughter. <sup>6</sup> You have condemned and you have murdered the righteous one. He doesn't resist you.

<sup>7</sup> Be patient therefore, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. Behold, the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until it receives the early and late rain. <sup>8</sup> You also be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand.

§§5:4 Greek: Sabaoth (for Hebrew: Tze'va'ot)

<sup>9</sup>Don't grumble, brothers, against one another, so that you won't be judged. Behold, the judge stands at the door. <sup>10</sup>Take, brothers, for an example of suffering and of perseverance, the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. <sup>11</sup>Behold, we call them blessed who endured. You have heard of the perseverance of Job, and have seen the Lord in the outcome, and how the Lord is full of compassion and mercy.

<sup>12</sup>But above all things, my brothers, don't swear— not by heaven, or by the earth, or by any other oath; but let your "yes" be "yes", and your "no", "no", so that you don't fall into hypocrisy.*

<sup>13</sup>Is any amongst you suffering? Let him pray. Is any cheerful? Let him sing praises. <sup>14</sup>Is any amongst you sick? Let him call for the elders of the assembly, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord, <sup>15</sup>and the prayer of faith will heal him who is sick, and the Lord will raise him up. If he has committed sins, he will be forgiven. <sup>16</sup>Confess your offences to one another, and pray for one another, that you may be healed. The insistent prayer of a righteous person is powerfully effective. <sup>17</sup>Elijah was a man with a nature like ours, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it didn't rain on the earth for three years and six months. <sup>18</sup>He prayed again, and the sky gave rain, and the earth produced its fruit.

<sup>19</sup>Brothers, if any amongst you wanders from the truth and someone turns him back, <sup>20</sup>let him know that he who turns a sinner from the error of his way will save a soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins.

Peter's First Letter

1 Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the chosen ones who are living as foreigners in the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, <sup>2</sup> according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, in sanctification of the Spirit, that you may obey Jesus Christ and be sprinkled with his blood: Grace to you and peace be multiplied.

<sup>3</sup> Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy caused us to be born again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, <sup>4</sup> to an incorruptible and undefiled inheritance that doesn't fade away, reserved in Heaven for you, <sup>5</sup> who by the power of God are guarded through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. <sup>6</sup> Wherein you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved in various trials, <sup>7</sup> that the proof of your faith, which is more precious than gold that perishes even though it is tested by fire, may be found to result in praise, glory, and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ— <sup>8</sup> whom, not having known, you love. In him, though now you don't see him, yet believing, you rejoice greatly with joy that is unspeakable and full of glory, <sup>9</sup> receiving the result of your faith, the salvation of your souls. <sup>10</sup> Concerning this salvation, the prophets sought and searched diligently. They prophesied of the grace that would come to you, <sup>11</sup> searching for who or what kind of time the Spirit of Christ, which was in them, pointed to, when he predicted the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that would follow them. <sup>12</sup> To them it was revealed, that they served not to themselves, but to you, in these things, which now have been announced to you through those who preached the Good News to you by the Holy Spirit sent out from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore prepare your minds for action. † Be sober, and set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ— <sup>14</sup> as children of obedience, not conforming yourselves according to your former lusts as in your ignorance, <sup>15</sup> but just as he who called you is holy, you yourselves also be holy in all of your behaviour; <sup>16</sup> because it is written, "You shall be holy; for I am holy."<sup>g</sup> <sup>17</sup> If you call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judges according to each man's work, pass the time of your living as foreigners here in reverent fear, <sup>18</sup> knowing that you were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from the useless way of life handed down from your fathers, <sup>19</sup> but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish or spot, the blood of Christ, <sup>20</sup> who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was revealed in this last age for your sake, <sup>21</sup> who through him are believers in God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory, so that your faith and hope might be in God.

<sup>22</sup> Seeing you have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth through the Spirit in sincere brotherly affection, love one another from the heart fervently, <sup>23</sup> having been born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which lives and remains forever. <sup>24</sup> For, "All flesh is like grass, and all of man's glory like the flower in the grass.

The grass withers, and its flower falls;

<sup>25</sup> but the Lord's word endures forever."<sup>h</sup>

This is the word of Good News which was preached to you.

2 Putting away therefore all wickedness, all deceit, hypocrisies, envies, and all evil speaking, <sup>2</sup> as newborn babies, long for the pure milk of the Word, that with it you may grow, <sup>3</sup> if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is gracious: <sup>4</sup> coming to him, a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by God, precious. <sup>5</sup> You also, as living stones, are built up as a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. <sup>6</sup> Because it is contained in Scripture, “Behold,‡ I lay in Zion a chief cornerstone, chosen and precious:

†1:13 literally, "gird up the waist of your mind" or "put on the belt of the waist of your mind"

He who believes in him will not be disappointed.”<sup>i</sup>

<sup>7</sup> For you who believe therefore is the honour, but for those who are disobedient,

“The stone which the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone,”<sup>j</sup>

<sup>8</sup> and,

“a stumbling stone and a rock of offence.”<sup>k</sup>

For they stumble at the word, being disobedient, to which also they were appointed. <sup>9</sup> But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God’s own possession, that you may proclaim the excellence of him who called you out of darkness into his marvellous light. <sup>10</sup> In the past, you were not a people, but now are God’s people, who had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

<sup>11</sup> Beloved, I beg you as foreigners and pilgrims, to abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul; <sup>12</sup> having good behaviour amongst the nations, so in that of which they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they see, glorify God in the day of visitation.

to the king, as supreme; <sup>14</sup> or to governors, as sent by him for vengeance on evildoers and for praise to those who do well. <sup>15</sup> For this is the will of God, that by well-doing you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: <sup>16</sup> as free, and not using your freedom for a cloak of wickedness, but as bondservants of God.

<sup>18</sup> Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all respect: not only to the good and gentle, but also to the wicked. <sup>19</sup> For it is commendable if someone endures pain, suffering unjustly, because of conscience towards God. <sup>20</sup> For what glory is it if, when you sin, you patiently endure beating? But if, when you do well, you patiently endure suffering, this is commendable with God. <sup>21</sup> For you were called to this, because Christ also suffered for us, leaving you¶ an example, that you should follow his steps, <sup>22</sup> who didn’t sin, “neither was deceit found in his mouth.”<sup>l</sup> <sup>23</sup> When he was cursed, he didn’t curse back. When he suffered, he didn’t threaten, but committed himself to him who judges righteously. <sup>24</sup> He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, that we, having died to sins, might live to righteousness. You were healed by his wounds.§ <sup>25</sup> For you were going astray like sheep; but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer<sup>**</sup> of your souls.

3 In the same way, wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; so that, even if any don’t obey the Word, they may be won by the behaviour of their wives without a word, <sup>2</sup> seeing your pure behaviour in fear. <sup>3</sup> Let your beauty be not just the outward adorning of braiding the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on fine clothing; <sup>4</sup> but in the hidden person of the heart, in the incorruptible adornment of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is very precious in the sight of God. <sup>5</sup> For this is how in the past, the holy women who hoped in God also adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own husbands. <sup>6</sup> So Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him lord, whose children you now are, if you do well, and are not put in fear by any terror.

<sup>7</sup> You husbands, in the same way, live with your wives according to knowledge, giving honour to the woman, as to the weaker vessel, as also being joint heirs of the grace of life, that your prayers may not be hindered.

<sup>8</sup> Finally, all of you be like-minded, compassionate, loving as brothers, tenderhearted, courteous, <sup>9</sup> not rendering evil for evil, or insult for insult; but instead blessing, knowing that you were called to this, that you may inherit a blessing. <sup>10</sup> For,

“He who would love life and see good days,

let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit.

Let him seek peace and pursue it.

<sup>12</sup> For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous, and his ears open to their prayer;
but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil.”<sup>m</sup>

<sup>13</sup> Now who will harm you if you become imitators of that which is good? <sup>14</sup> But even if you should suffer for righteousness’ sake, you are blessed. “Don’t fear what they fear, neither be troubled.”<sup>n</sup> <sup>15</sup> But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Always be ready to give an answer to everyone who asks you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, with humility and fear, <sup>16</sup> having a good conscience. Thus, while you are spoken against as evildoers, they may be disappointed who curse your good way of life in Christ. <sup>17</sup> For it is better, if it is God’s will, that you suffer for doing well than for doing evil. <sup>18</sup> Because Christ also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring you to God, being put to death in the flesh, but made alive in the Spirit, <sup>19</sup> in whom he also went and preached to the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup> who before were disobedient, when God waited patiently in the days of Noah, while the ship was being built. In it, few, that is, eight souls, were saved through water. <sup>21</sup> This is a symbol of baptism, which now saves you—not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, <sup>22</sup> who is at the right hand of God, having gone into heaven, angels and authorities and powers being made subject to him.

4 Therefore, since Christ suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind; for he who has suffered in the flesh has ceased from sin, <sup>2</sup> that you no longer should live the rest of your time in the flesh for the lusts of men, but for the will of God. <sup>3</sup> For we have spent enough of our past time doing the desire of the Gentiles, and having walked in lewdness, lusts, drunken binges, orgies, carousings, and abominable idolatries. <sup>4</sup> They think it is strange that you don’t run with them into the same excess of riot, blaspheming. <sup>5</sup> They will give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. <sup>6</sup> For to this end the Good News was preached even to the dead, that they might be judged indeed as men in the flesh, but live as to God in the spirit.

<sup>7</sup> But the end of all things is near. Therefore be of sound mind, self-controlled, and sober in prayer. <sup>8</sup> And above all things be earnest in your love amongst yourselves, for love covers a multitude of sins. <sup>9</sup> Be hospitable to one another without grumbling. <sup>10</sup> As each has received a gift, employ it in serving one another, as good managers of the grace of God in its various forms. <sup>11</sup>If anyone speaks, let it be as it were the very words of God. If anyone serves, let it be as of the strength which God supplies, that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom belong the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>12</sup>Beloved, don't be astonished at the fiery trial which has come upon you to test you, as though a strange thing happened to you. <sup>13</sup>But because you are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice, that at the revelation of his glory you also may rejoice with exceeding joy. <sup>14</sup>If you are insulted for the name of Christ, you are blessed; because the Spirit of glory and of God rests on you. On their part he is blasphemed, but on your part he is glorified. <sup>15</sup>For let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil doer, or a meddler in other men's matters. <sup>16</sup>But if one of you suffers for being a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this matter. <sup>17</sup>For the time has come for judgement to begin with the household of God. If it begins first with us, what will happen to those who don't obey the Good News of God? <sup>18</sup>"If it is hard for the righteous to be saved, what will happen to the ungodly and the sinner?"<sup>o</sup> <sup>19</sup>Therefore let them also who suffer according to the will of God in doing good entrust their souls to him, as to a faithful Creator.

5 Therefore I exhort the elders amongst you, as a fellow elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and who will also share in the glory that will be revealed. <sup>2</sup>Shepherd the flock of God which is amongst you, exercising the oversight, not under compulsion, but voluntarily, not for dishonest gain, but willingly; <sup>3</sup>not as lording it over those entrusted to you, but making yourselves examples to the flock. <sup>4</sup>When the chief Shepherd is revealed, you will receive the crown of glory that doesn't fade away.

<sup>5</sup>Likewise, you younger ones, be subject to the elder. Yes, all of you clothe yourselves with humility, to subject yourselves to one another; for "God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble."<sup>p</sup> <sup>6</sup>Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time, <sup>7</sup>casting all your worries on him, because he cares for you.

<sup>8</sup>Be sober and self-controlled. Be watchful. Your adversary, the devil, walks around like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour. <sup>9</sup>Withstand him steadfast in your faith, knowing that your brothers who are in the world are undergoing the same sufferings. <sup>10</sup>But may the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after you have suffered a little while, perfect, establish, strengthen, and settle you. <sup>11</sup>To him be the glory and the power forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>12</sup>Through Silvanus, our faithful brother, as I consider him, I have written to you briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God in which you stand. <sup>13</sup>She who is in Babylon, chosen together with you, greets you. So does Mark, my son. <sup>14</sup>Greet one another with a kiss of love.

Peace be to all of you who are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

Peter's Second Letter

1 Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to those who have obtained a like precious faith with us in the righteousness of our God and Saviour, Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup> Grace to you and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord, <sup>3</sup> seeing that his divine power has granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and virtue, <sup>4</sup> by which he has granted to us his precious and exceedingly great promises; that through these you may become partakers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust. <sup>5</sup> Yes, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply moral excellence; and in moral excellence, knowledge; <sup>6</sup> and in knowledge, self-control; and in self-control perseverance; and in perseverance godliness; <sup>7</sup> and in godliness brotherly affection; and in brotherly affection, love. <sup>8</sup> For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to not be idle or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>9</sup> For he who lacks these things is blind, seeing only what is near, having forgotten the cleansing from his old sins. <sup>10</sup> Therefore, brothers,†† be more diligent to make your calling and election sure. For if you do these things, you will never stumble. <sup>11</sup> For thus you will be richly supplied with the entrance into the eternal Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore I will not be negligent to remind you of these things, though you know them, and are established in the present truth. <sup>13</sup> I think it right, as long as I am in this tent, to stir you up by reminding you, <sup>14</sup> knowing that the putting off of my tent comes swiftly, even as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me. <sup>15</sup> Yes, I will make every effort that you may always be able to remember these things even after my departure. <sup>16</sup> For we didn't follow cunningly devised fables when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. <sup>17</sup> For he received from God the Father honour and glory when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."<sup>q</sup> <sup>18</sup> We heard this voice come out of heaven when we were with him on the holy mountain.

<sup>19</sup> We have the more sure word of prophecy; and you do well that you heed it, as to a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawns, and the morning star arises in your hearts: <sup>20</sup> knowing this first, that no prophecy of Scripture is of private interpretation. <sup>21</sup> For no prophecy ever came by the will of man: but holy men of God spoke, being moved by the Holy Spirit.

2 But false prophets also arose amongst the people, as false teachers will also be amongst you, who will secretly bring in destructive heresies, denying even the Master who bought them, bringing on themselves swift destruction. <sup>2</sup> Many will follow their immoral‡‡ ways, and as a result, the way of the truth will be maligned. <sup>3</sup> In covetousness they will exploit you with deceptive words: whose sentence now from of old doesn't linger, and their destruction will not slumber. <sup>4</sup> For if God didn't spare angels when they sinned, but cast them down to Tartarus,¶¶ and committed them to pits of darkness to be reserved for judgement; <sup>5</sup> and didn't spare the ancient world, but preserved Noah with seven others,

‡‡2:2 TR reads "destructive" instead of "immoral"

¶¶2:4 Tartarus is another name for Hell

a preacher of righteousness, when he brought a flood on the world of the ungodly; <sup>6</sup> and turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them to destruction, having made them an example to those who would live in an ungodly way; <sup>7</sup> and delivered righteous Lot, who was very distressed by the lustful life of the wicked <sup>8</sup> (for that righteous man dwelling amongst them was tormented in his righteous soul from day to day with seeing and hearing lawless deeds): <sup>9</sup> the Lord knows how to deliver the godly out of temptation and to keep the unrighteous under punishment for the day of judgement, <sup>10</sup> but chiefly those who walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement and despise authority. Daring, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignitaries; <sup>11</sup> whereas angels, though greater in might and power, don't bring a railing judgement against them before the Lord. <sup>12</sup> But these, as unreasoning creatures, born natural animals to be taken and destroyed, speaking evil in matters about which they are ignorant, will in their destroying surely be destroyed, <sup>13</sup> receiving the wages of unrighteousness; people who count it pleasure to revel in the daytime, spots and defects, revelling in their deceit while they feast with you; <sup>14</sup> having eyes full of adultery, and who can't cease from sin; enticing unsettled souls; having a heart trained in greed; children of cursing; <sup>15</sup> forsaking the right way, they went astray, having followed the way of Balaam the son of Beor, who loved the wages of wrongdoing; <sup>16</sup> but he was rebuked for his own disobedience. A mute donkey spoke with a man's voice and stopped the madness of the prophet. <sup>17</sup> These are wells without water, clouds driven by a storm; for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. <sup>18</sup> For, uttering great swelling words of emptiness, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by licentiousness, those who are indeed escaping from those who live in error; <sup>19</sup> promising them liberty, while they themselves are bond-servants of corruption; for a man is brought into bondage by whoever overcomes him.

<sup>20</sup> For if, after they have escaped the defilement of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in it and overcome, the last state has become worse for them than the first. <sup>21</sup> For it would be better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment delivered to them. <sup>22</sup> But it has happened to them according to the true proverb, "The dog turns to his own vomit again,"<sup>r</sup> and "the sow that has washed to wallowing in the mire."

3 This is now, beloved, the second letter that I have written to you; and in both of them I stir up your sincere mind by reminding you, <sup>2</sup> that you should remember the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and the commandment of us, the apostles of the Lord and Saviour: <sup>3</sup> knowing this first, that in the last days mockers will come, walking after their own lusts <sup>4</sup> and saying, "Where is the promise of his coming? For, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation." <sup>5</sup> For this they wilfully forget that there were heavens from of old, and an earth formed out of water and amid water by the word of God, <sup>6</sup> by which means the world that existed then, being overflowed with water, perished. <sup>7</sup> But the heavens that exist now and the earth, by the same word have been stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and destruction of ungodly men.

<sup>8</sup> But don't forget this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. <sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slow concerning his promise, as some count slowness; but he is patient with us, not wishing that anyone should perish, but that all should come to repentance. <sup>10</sup> But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are in it will be burnt up. <sup>11</sup> Therefore since all these things will be destroyed like this, what kind of people ought you to be in holy living and godliness, <sup>12</sup> looking for and earnestly desiring the coming of the day of God, which will cause the burning heavens to be dissolved, and the elements will melt with fervent heat? <sup>13</sup> But, according to his promise, we look for new heavens and a new earth, in which righteousness dwells.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, beloved, seeing that you look for these things, be diligent to be found in peace, without defect and blameless in his sight. <sup>15</sup> Regard the patience of our Lord as salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given to him, wrote to you, <sup>16</sup> as also in all of his letters, speaking in them of these things. In those, there are some things that are hard to understand, which the ignorant and unsettled twist, as they also do to the other Scriptures, to their own destruction. <sup>17</sup> You therefore, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, beware, lest being carried away with the error of the wicked, you fall from your own steadfastness. <sup>18</sup> But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be the glory both now and forever. Amen.

John's First Letter

1 That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we saw, and our hands touched, concerning the Word of life <sup>2</sup>(and the life was revealed, and we have seen, and testify, and declare to you the life, the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was revealed to us); <sup>3</sup>that which we have seen and heard we declare to you, that you also may have fellowship with us. Yes, and our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>And we write these things to you, that our joy may be fulfilled.

<sup>5</sup>This is the message which we have heard from him and announce to you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. <sup>6</sup>If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in the darkness, we lie, and don't tell the truth. <sup>7</sup>But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanses us from all sin. <sup>8</sup>If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup>If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us the sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup>If we say that we haven't sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

2 My little children, I write these things to you so that you may not sin. If anyone sins, we have a Counsellor§§ with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous. <sup>2</sup>And he is the atoning sacrifice* for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world. <sup>3</sup>This is how we know that we know him: if we keep his commandments. <sup>4</sup>One who says, "I know him," and doesn't keep his commandments, is a liar, and the truth isn't in him. <sup>5</sup>But God's love has most certainly been perfected in whoever keeps his word. This is how we know that we are in him: <sup>6</sup>he who says he remains in him ought himself also to walk just like he walked.

<sup>7</sup>Brothers, I write no new commandment to you, but an old commandment which you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which you heard from the beginning. <sup>8</sup>Again, I write a new commandment to you, which is true in him and in you; because the darkness is passing away and the true light already shines. <sup>9</sup>He who says he is in the light and hates his brother is in the darkness even until now. <sup>10</sup>He who loves his brother remains in the light, and there is no occasion for stumbling in him. <sup>11</sup>But he who hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and doesn't know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

<sup>13</sup>I write to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.

I write to you, young men, because you have overcome the evil one.

I write to you, little children, because you know the Father.

<sup>14</sup>I have written to you, fathers, because you know him who is from the beginning.

I have written to you, young men, because you are strong, and the word of God remains in you, and you have overcome the evil one.

<sup>15</sup>Don't love the world or the things that are in the world. If anyone loves the world, the Father's love isn't in him. <sup>16</sup>For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, isn't the Father's, but is the world's. <sup>17</sup>The world is passing away with its lusts, but he who does God's will remains forever.

<sup>18</sup>Little children, these are the end times, and as you heard that the Antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have arisen. By

§§2:1 Greek παρακλητον: Counsellor, Helper, Intercessor, Advocate, and Comforter.

*2:2 "atoning sacrifice" is from the Greek "ιλασμος", an appeasing, propitiating, or the means of appeasement or propitiation—the sacrifice that turns away God's wrath because of our sin.

this we know that it is the final hour. <sup>19</sup>They went out from us, but they didn't belong to us; for if they had belonged to us, they would have continued with us. But they left, that they might be revealed that none of them belong to us. <sup>20</sup>You have an anointing from the Holy One, and you all have knowledge. <sup>†21</sup>I have not written to you because you don't know the truth, but because you know it, and because no lie is of the truth. <sup>22</sup>Who is the liar but he who denies that Jesus is the Christ? This is the Antichrist, he who denies the Father and the Son. <sup>23</sup>Whoever denies the Son doesn't have the Father. He who confesses the Son has the Father also.

<sup>24</sup>Therefore, as for you, let that remain in you which you heard from the beginning. If that which you heard from the beginning remains in you, you also will remain in the Son, and in the Father. <sup>25</sup>This is the promise which he promised us, the eternal life. <sup>26</sup>These things I have written to you concerning those who would lead you astray. <sup>27</sup>As for you, the anointing which you received from him remains in you, and you don't need for anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you concerning all things, and is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, you will remain in him. <sup>28</sup>Now, little children, remain in him, that when he appears, we may have boldness, and not be ashamed before him at his coming. <sup>29</sup>If you know that he is righteous, you know that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of him.

3 See how great a love the Father has given to us, that we should be called children of God! For this cause the world doesn't know us, because it didn't know him. <sup>2</sup>Beloved, now we are children of God. It is not yet revealed what we will be; but we know that when he is revealed, we will be like him; for we will see him just as he is. <sup>3</sup>Everyone who has this hope set on him purifies himself, even as he is pure. <sup>4</sup>Everyone who sins also commits lawlessness. Sin is lawlessness. <sup>5</sup>You know that he was revealed to take away our sins, and no sin is in him. <sup>6</sup>Whoever remains in him doesn't sin. Whoever sins hasn't seen him and doesn't know him.

<sup>7</sup>Little children, let no one lead you astray. He who does righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. <sup>8</sup>He who sins is of the devil, for the devil has been sinning from the beginning. To this end the Son of God was revealed: that he might destroy the works of the devil. <sup>9</sup>Whoever is born of God doesn't commit sin, because his seed remains in him, and he can't sin, because he is born of God. <sup>10</sup>In this the children of God are revealed, and the children of the devil. Whoever doesn't do righteousness is not of God, neither is he who doesn't love his brother. <sup>11</sup>For this is the message which you heard from the beginning, that we should love one another; <sup>12</sup>unlike Cain, who was of the evil one, and killed his brother. Why did he kill him? Because his deeds were evil, and his brother's righteous.

<sup>13</sup>Don't be surprised, my brothers, if the world hates you. <sup>14</sup>We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brothers. He who doesn't love his brother remains in death. <sup>15</sup>Whoever hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life remaining in him.

<sup>16</sup>By this we know love, because he laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for the brothers. <sup>17</sup>But whoever has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, then closes his heart of compassion against him, how does God's love remain in him? <sup>18</sup>My little children, let's not love in word only, or with the tongue only, but in deed and truth. <sup>19</sup>And by this we know that we are of the truth, and persuade our hearts before him, <sup>20</sup>because if our heart condemns us, God is greater than our heart, and knows all things. <sup>21</sup>Beloved, if our hearts don't condemn us, we have boldness towards God; <sup>22</sup>so whatever we ask, we receive from him, because we keep his commandments and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. <sup>23</sup>This is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he commanded. <sup>24</sup>He who keeps his commandments remains in him, and he in him. By this we know that he remains in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 Beloved, don't believe every spirit, but test the spirits, whether they are of God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world. <sup>2</sup>By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit who confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is of God, <sup>3</sup>and every spirit who doesn't confess that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is not of God, and this is the spirit of the Antichrist, of whom you have heard that it comes. Now it is in the world already. <sup>4</sup>You are of God, little children, and have overcome them; because greater is he who is in you than he who is in the world. <sup>5</sup>They are of the world. Therefore they speak of the world, and the world hears them. <sup>6</sup>We are of God. He who knows God listens to us. He who is not of God doesn't listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

<sup>7</sup>Beloved, let's love one another, for love is of God; and everyone who loves has been born of God, and knows God. <sup>8</sup>He who doesn't love doesn't know God, for God is love. <sup>9</sup>By this God's love was revealed in us, that God has sent his one and only Son into the world that we might live through him. <sup>10</sup>In this is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son as the atoning sacrifice‡ for our sins. <sup>11</sup>Beloved, if God loved us in this way, we also ought to love one another. <sup>12</sup>No one has seen God at any time. If we love one another, God remains in us, and his love has been perfected in us.

<sup>13</sup>By this we know that we remain in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. <sup>14</sup>We have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son as the Saviour of the world. <sup>15</sup>Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God remains in him, and he in God. <sup>16</sup>We know and have believed the love which God has for us. God is love, and he who remains in love remains in God, and God remains in him. <sup>17</sup>In this love has been made perfect amongst us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement, because as he is, even so we are in this world. <sup>18</sup>There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear, because fear has punishment. He who fears is not made perfect in love. <sup>19</sup>We love him, because he first loved us. <sup>20</sup>If a man says, "I love God," and hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who doesn't love his brother whom he has seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen? <sup>21</sup>This commandment we have from him, that he who loves God should also love his brother.

5 Whoever believes that Jesus is the Christ has been born of God. Whoever loves the Father also loves the child who is born of him. <sup>2</sup>By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his commandments. <sup>3</sup>For this is loving God, that we keep his commandments. His commandments are not grievous. <sup>4</sup>For whatever is born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world: your faith. <sup>5</sup>Who is he who overcomes the world, but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God? <sup>6</sup>This is he who came by water and blood, Jesus Christ; not with the water only, but with the water and the blood. It is the Spirit who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. <sup>7</sup>For there are three who testify:¶ <sup>8</sup>the Spirit, the water, and the blood; and the three agree as one. <sup>9</sup>If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater; for this is God's testimony which he has testified concerning his Son. <sup>10</sup>He who believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. He who doesn't believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has given concerning his Son. <sup>11</sup>The testimony is this, that God gave to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. <sup>12</sup>He who has the Son has the life. He who doesn't have God's Son doesn't have the life.

‡4:10 "atoning sacrifice" is from the Greek "ἱλασμοσ", an appeasing, propitiating, or the means of appeasement or propitiation—the sacrifice that turns away God's wrath because of our sin.

¶5:7 Only a few recent manuscripts add "in heaven: the Father, the Word, and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one. And there are three that testify on earth:"

<sup>13</sup>These things I have written to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have eternal life, and that you may continue to believe in the name of the Son of God.

<sup>14</sup>This is the boldness which we have towards him, that if we ask anything according to his will, he listens to us. <sup>15</sup>And if we know that he listens to us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him.

<sup>16</sup>If anyone sees his brother sinning a sin not leading to death, he shall ask, and God will give him life for those who sin not leading to death. There is a sin leading to death. I don't say that he should make a request concerning this. <sup>17</sup>All unrighteousness is sin, and there is a sin not leading to death.

<sup>18</sup>We know that whoever is born of God doesn't sin, but he who was born of God keeps himself, and the evil one doesn't touch him. <sup>19</sup>We know that we are of God, and the whole world lies in the power of the evil one. <sup>20</sup>We know that the Son of God has come, and has given us an understanding, that we know him who is true, and we are in him who is true, in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God and eternal life.

John's Second Letter

1 The elder, to the chosen lady and her children, whom I love in truth, and not I only, but also all those who know the truth, <sup>2</sup> for the truth's sake, which remains in us, and it will be with us forever: <sup>3</sup> Grace, mercy, and peace will be with us, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

<sup>4</sup> I rejoice greatly that I have found some of your children walking in truth, even as we have been commanded by the Father. <sup>5</sup> Now I beg you, dear lady, not as though I wrote to you a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another. <sup>6</sup> This is love, that we should walk according to his commandments. This is the commandment, even as you heard from the beginning, that you should walk in it. <sup>7</sup> For many deceivers have gone out into the world, those who don't confess that Jesus Christ came in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the Antichrist. <sup>8</sup> Watch yourselves, that we don't lose the things which we have accomplished, but that we receive a full reward. <sup>9</sup> Whoever transgresses and doesn't remain in the teaching of Christ, doesn't have God. He who remains in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. <sup>10</sup> If anyone comes to you, and doesn't bring this teaching, don't receive him into your house, and don't welcome him, <sup>11</sup> for he who welcomes him participates in his evil deeds.

<sup>12</sup> Having many things to write to you, I don't want to do so with paper and ink, but I hope to come to you, and to speak face to face, that our joy may be made full. <sup>13</sup> The children of your chosen sister greet you. Amen.

John's Third Letter

1 The elder to Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth.

<sup>2</sup> Beloved, I pray that you may prosper in all things and be healthy, even as your soul prospers. <sup>3</sup> For I rejoiced greatly when brothers came and testified about your truth, even as you walk in truth. <sup>4</sup> I have no greater joy than this: to hear about my children walking in truth.

<sup>5</sup> Beloved, you do a faithful work in whatever you accomplish for those who are brothers and strangers. <sup>6</sup> They have testified about your love before the assembly. You will do well to send them forward on their journey in a way worthy of God, <sup>7</sup> because for the sake of the Name they went out, taking nothing from the Gentiles. <sup>8</sup> We therefore ought to receive such, that we may be fellow workers for the truth.

<sup>9</sup> I wrote to the assembly, but Diotrephes, who loves to be first amongst them, doesn't accept what we say. <sup>10</sup> Therefore if I come, I will call attention to his deeds which he does, unjustly accusing us with wicked words. Not content with this, neither does he himself receive the brothers, and those who would, he forbids and throws out of the assembly. <sup>11</sup> Beloved, don't imitate that which is evil, but that which is good. He who does good is of God. He who does evil hasn't seen God. <sup>12</sup> Demetrius has the testimony of all, and of the truth itself; yes, we also testify, and you know that our testimony is true.

<sup>13</sup> I had many things to write to you, but I am unwilling to write to you with ink and pen; <sup>14</sup> but I hope to see you soon. Then we will speak face to face. Peace be to you. The friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

The Letter from Jude

1 Jude,§ a servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to those who are called, sanctified by God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ: <sup>2</sup>Mercy to you and peace and love be multiplied.

<sup>3</sup> Beloved, while I was very eager to write to you about our common salvation, I was constrained to write to you exhorting you to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered to the saints. <sup>4</sup>For there are certain men who crept in secretly, even those who were long ago written about for this condemnation: ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into indecency, and denying our only Master, God, and Lord, Jesus Christ.

<sup>5</sup> Now I desire to remind you, though you already know this, that the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who didn't believe. <sup>6</sup> Angels who didn't keep their first domain, but deserted their own dwelling place, he has kept in everlasting bonds under darkness for the judgement of the great day. <sup>7</sup> Even as Sodom and Gomorrah and the cities around them, having in the same way as these given themselves over to sexual immorality and gone after strange flesh, are shown as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. <sup>8</sup> Yet in the same way, these also in their dreaming defile the flesh, despise authority, and slander celestial beings. <sup>9</sup> But Michael, the archangel, when contending with the devil and arguing about the body of Moses, dared not bring against him an abusive condemnation, but said, "May the Lord rebuke you!" <sup>10</sup> But these speak evil of whatever things they don't know. They are destroyed in these things that they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason. <sup>11</sup> Woe to them! For they went in the way of Cain, and ran riotously in the error of Balaam for hire, and perished in Korah's rebellion. <sup>12</sup> These are hidden rocky reefs in your love feasts when they feast with you, shepherds who without fear feed themselves; clouds without water, carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots; <sup>13</sup> wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, for whom the blackness of darkness has been reserved forever. <sup>14</sup> About these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, "Behold,** the Lord came with ten thousands of his holy ones, <sup>15</sup> to execute judgement on all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have done in an ungodly way, and of all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him." <sup>16</sup> These are murderers and complainers, walking after their lusts—and their mouth speaks proud things—showing respect of persons to gain advantage.

<sup>17</sup> But you, beloved, remember the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>18</sup> They said to you, "In the last time there will be mockers, walking after their own ungodly lusts." <sup>19</sup> These are those who cause divisions and are sensual, not having the Spirit. <sup>20</sup> But you, beloved, keep building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit. <sup>21</sup> Keep yourselves in God's love, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to eternal life. <sup>22</sup> On some have compassion, making a distinction, <sup>23</sup> and some save, snatching them out of the fire with fear, hating even the clothing stained by the flesh.

<sup>24</sup> Now to him who is able to keep them†† from stumbling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory in great joy,

The Revelation to John

1 This is the Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show to his servants the things which must happen soon, which he sent and made known by his angel‡‡ to his servant, John, <sup>2</sup> who testified to God's word and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, about everything that he saw.

<sup>3</sup> Blessed is he who reads and those who hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things that are written in it, for the time is at hand.

<sup>4</sup> John, to the seven assemblies that are in Asia: Grace to you and peace from God, who is and who was and who is to come; and from the seven Spirits who are before his throne; <sup>5</sup> and from Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, the firstborn of the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth. To him who loves us, and washed us from our sins by his blood— <sup>6</sup> and he made us to be a Kingdom, priests<sup>s</sup> to his God and Father—to him be the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

<sup>7</sup> Behold,¶¶ he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him, including those who pierced him. All the tribes of the earth will mourn over him. Even so, Amen.

<sup>8</sup> "I am the Alpha and the Omega,§§" says the Lord God, * "who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty."

<sup>9</sup> I John, your brother and partner with you in the oppression, Kingdom, and perseverance in Christ Jesus, was on the isle that is called

Patmos because of God's Word and the testimony of Jesus Christ. <sup>10</sup> I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a loud voice, like a trumpet <sup>11</sup> saying, † "What you see, write in a book and send to the seven assemblies:‡ to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

<sup>12</sup> I turned to see the voice that spoke with me. Having turned, I saw seven golden lamp stands. <sup>13</sup> And amongst the lamp stands was one like a son of man,† clothed with a robe reaching down to his feet, and with a golden sash around his chest. <sup>14</sup> His head and his hair were white as white wool, like snow. His eyes were like a flame of fire. <sup>15</sup> His feet were like burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace. His voice was like the voice of many waters. <sup>16</sup> He had seven stars in his right hand. Out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining at its brightest. <sup>17</sup> When I saw him, I fell at his feet like a dead man.

He laid his right hand on me, saying, "Don't be afraid. I am the first and the last, <sup>18</sup> and the Living one. I was dead, and behold, I am alive forever and ever. Amen. I have the keys of Death and of Hades.¶¶ <sup>19</sup> Write therefore the things which you have seen, and the things which are, and the things which will happen hereafter. <sup>20</sup> The mystery of the seven stars which you saw in my right hand, and the seven golden lamp stands is this: The seven stars are the angels§ of the seven assemblies. The seven lamp stands are seven assemblies.

“He who holds the seven stars in his right hand, he who walks amongst the seven golden lamp stands says these things:

2 “I know your works, and your toil and perseverance, and that you can’t tolerate evil men, and have tested those who call themselves apostles, and they are not, and found them false. 3 You have perseverance and have endured for my name’s sake, and have **not grown weary. 4 But I have this against you, that you left your first love. 5 Remember therefore from where you have fallen, and repent and do the first works; or else I am coming to you swiftly, and will move your lamp stand out of its place, unless you repent. 6 But this you have, that you hate the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. 7 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. To him who overcomes I will give to eat from the tree of life, which is in the Paradise of my God.

8 “To the angel of the assembly in Smyrna write:

“The first and the last, who was dead, and has come to life says these things:

Behold, the devil is about to throw some of you into prison, that you may be tested; and you will have oppression for ten days. You hold firmly to my name, and didn’t deny my faith in the days of Antipas my witness, my faithful one, who was killed amongst you, where Satan dwells. 14 But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to throw a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols, and to commit sexual immorality. 15 So you also have some who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans likewise.†† 16 Repent therefore, or else I am coming to you quickly, and I will make war against them with the sword of my mouth. 17 He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies. you may clothe yourself, and that the shame of your nakedness may not be revealed; and eye salve to anoint your eyes, that you may see. <sup>19</sup> As many as I love, I reprove and chasten. Be zealous therefore, and repent. <sup>20</sup> Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, then I will come in to him, and will dine with him, and he with me. <sup>21</sup> He who overcomes, I will give to him to sit down with me on my throne, as I also overcame, and sat down with my Father on his throne. <sup>22</sup> He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the assemblies.”

4 After these things I looked and saw a door opened in heaven, and the first voice that I heard, like a trumpet speaking with me, was one saying, “Come up here, and I will show you the things which must happen after this.”

<sup>2</sup> Immediately I was in the Spirit. Behold, there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting on the throne <sup>3</sup> that looked like a jasper stone and a sardius. There was a rainbow around the throne, like an emerald to look at. <sup>4</sup> Around the throne were twenty-four thrones. On the thrones were twenty-four elders sitting, dressed in white garments, with crowns of gold on their heads. <sup>5</sup> Out of the throne proceed lightnings, sounds, and thunders. There were seven lamps of fire burning before his throne, which are the seven Spirits of God. <sup>6</sup> Before the throne was something like a sea of glass, similar to crystal. In the middle of the throne, and around the throne were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind. <sup>7</sup> The first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face like a man, and the fourth was like a flying eagle. <sup>8</sup> The four living creatures, each one of them having six wings, are full of eyes around and within. They have no rest day and night, saying, “Holy, holy, holy” is the Lord God, the Almighty, who was and who is and who is to come!”

<sup>9</sup> When the living creatures give glory, honour, and thanks to him who sits on the throne, to him who lives forever and ever, <sup>10</sup> the twenty-four elders fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives forever and ever, and throw their crowns before the throne, saying, <sup>11</sup> “Worthy are you, our Lord and God, the Holy One,† to receive the glory, the honour, and the power, for you created all things, and because of your desire they existed, and were created!”

5 I saw, in the right hand of him who sat on the throne, a book written inside and outside, sealed shut with seven seals. <sup>2</sup> I saw a mighty angel proclaiming with a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the book, and to break its seals?” <sup>3</sup> No one in heaven above, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book or to look in it. <sup>4</sup> Then I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book or to look in it. <sup>5</sup> One of the elders said to me, “Don’t weep. Behold, the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has overcome: he who opens the book and its seven seals.” <sup>6</sup> I saw in the middle of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the middle of the elders, a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God, sent out into all the earth. <sup>7</sup> Then he came, and he took it out of the right hand of him who sat on the throne. <sup>8</sup> Now when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each one having a harp, and golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. <sup>9</sup> They sang a new song, saying, “You are worthy to take the book and to open its seals: for you were killed, and bought us for God with your blood out of every tribe, language, people, and nation,

†4:11 TR omits “and God, the Holy One,”

10 and made us kings and priests to our God, and we will reign on the earth.”

11 I saw, and I heard something like a voice of many angels around the throne, the living creatures, and the elders. The number of them was ten thousands of ten thousands, and thousands of thousands; 12 saying with a loud voice, “Worthy is the Lamb who has been killed to receive the power, wealth, wisdom, strength, honour, glory, and blessing!”

13 I heard every created thing which is in heaven, on the earth, under the earth, on the sea, and everything in them, saying, “To him who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb be the blessing, the honour, the glory, and the dominion, forever and ever! Amen!”‡

14 The four living creatures said, “Amen!” § Then the ¶ elders fell down and worshipped. §

6 I saw that the Lamb opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures saying, as with a voice of thunder, “Come and see!” 2 And behold, a white horse, and he who sat on it had a bow. A crown was given to him, and he came out conquering, and to conquer.

3 When he opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature saying, “Come!” 4 Another came out: a red horse. To him who sat on it was given power to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another. There was given to him a great sword.

5 When he opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature saying, “Come and see!” And behold, a black horse, and he who sat on it had a balance in his hand. 6 I heard a voice in the middle of the four living creatures saying, “A choenix **of wheat for a denarius, and three choenix of barley for a denarius! Don’t damage the oil and the wine!”

7 When he opened the fourth seal, I heard the fourth living creature saying, “Come and see!” 8 And behold, a pale horse, and the name of he who sat on it was Death. Hades ††followed with him. Authority over one fourth of the earth, to kill with the sword, with famine, with death, and by the wild animals of the earth was given to him.

9 When he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been killed for the Word of God, and for the testimony of the Lamb which they had. 10 They cried with a loud voice, saying, “How long, Master, the holy and true, until you judge and avenge our blood on those who dwell on the earth?” 11 A long white robe was given to each of them. They were told that they should rest yet for a while, until their fellow servants and their brothers, ††who would also be killed even as they were, should complete their course.

12 I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and there was a great earthquake. The sun became black as sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon became as blood. 13 The stars of the sky fell to the earth, like a fig tree dropping its unripe figs when it is shaken by a great wind. 14 The sky was removed like a scroll when it is rolled up. Every mountain and island were moved out of their places. 15 The kings of the earth, the princes, the commanding officers, the rich, the strong, and every slave and free person, hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains. 16 They told the mountains and the rocks, “Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb, <sup>17</sup>for the great day of his wrath has come; and who is able to stand?"

7 After this, I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, so that no wind would blow on the earth, or on the sea, or on any tree.

<sup>2</sup>I saw another angel ascend from the sunrise, having the seal of the living God. He cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to harm the earth and the sea, <sup>3</sup>saying, "Don't harm the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, until we have sealed the bond-servants of our God on their foreheads!" <sup>4</sup>I heard the number of those who were sealed, one hundred and forty-four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel:

<sup>5</sup> of the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed, of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand, of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand,

<sup>6</sup> of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand, of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand, of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand,

<sup>7</sup> of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand, of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand, of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand,

<sup>8</sup> of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand, of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand, and of the tribe of Benjamin twelve thousand were sealed.

<sup>9</sup> After these things I looked, and behold, a great multitude, which no man could count, out of every nation and of all tribes, peoples, and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, dressed in white robes, with palm branches in their hands. <sup>10</sup>They cried with a loud voice, saying, "Salvation be to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!"

<sup>11</sup> All the angels were standing around the throne, the elders, and the four living creatures; and they fell on their faces before his throne, and worshipped God, <sup>12</sup>saying, "Amen! Blessing, glory, wisdom, thanksgiving, honour, power, and might, be to our God forever and ever! Amen."

<sup>13</sup> One of the elders answered, saying to me, "These who are arrayed in the white robes, who are they, and where did they come from?"

<sup>14</sup> I told him, "My lord, you know."

He said to me, "These are those who came out of the great suffering.¶¶¶They washed their robes, and made them white in the Lamb's blood. <sup>15</sup>Therefore they are before the throne of God, they serve him day and night in his temple. He who sits on the throne will spread his tabernacle over them. <sup>16</sup>They will never be hungry or thirsty any more. The sun won't beat on them, nor any heat; <sup>17</sup>for the Lamb who is in the middle of the throne shepherds them and leads them to springs of life-giving waters. And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes."

8 When he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour. <sup>2</sup>I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and seven trumpets were given to them.

<sup>3</sup> Another angel came and stood over the altar, having a golden censer. Much incense was given to him, that he should add it to the prayers of all the saints on the golden altar which was before the throne. <sup>4</sup> The smoke of the incense, with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. <sup>5</sup> The angel took the censer, and he filled it with the fire of the altar, then threw it on the earth. Thunders, sounds, lightnings, and an earthquake followed.

<sup>6</sup> The seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound. <sup>7</sup> The first sounded, and there followed hail and fire, mixed with blood, and they were thrown to the earth. One third of the earth was burnt up,

§§and one third of the trees were burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

<sup>8</sup>The second angel sounded, and something like a great burning mountain was thrown into the sea. One third of the sea became blood, <sup>9</sup>and one third of the living creatures which were in the sea died. One third of the ships were destroyed.

<sup>10</sup>The third angel sounded, and a great star fell from the sky, burning like a torch, and it fell on one third of the rivers, and on the springs of the waters. <sup>11</sup>The name of the star is called "Wormwood." One third of the waters became wormwood. Many people died from the waters, because they were made bitter.

<sup>12</sup>The fourth angel sounded, and one third of the sun was struck, and one third of the moon, and one third of the stars; so that one third of them would be darkened, and the day wouldn't shine for one third of it, and the night in the same way. <sup>13</sup>I saw, and I heard an eagle,* flying in mid heaven, saying with a loud voice, "Woe! Woe! Woe for those who dwell on the earth, because of the other voices of the trumpets of the three angels, who are yet to sound!"

<sup>9</sup>The fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star from the sky which had fallen to the earth. The key to the pit of the abyss was given to him. <sup>2</sup>He opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke went up out of the pit, like the smoke from a† burning furnace. The sun and the air were darkened because of the smoke from the pit. <sup>3</sup>Then out of the smoke came locusts on the earth, and power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. <sup>4</sup>They were told that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those people who don't have God's seal on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>They were given power, not to kill them, but to torment them for five months. Their torment was like the torment of a scorpion when it strikes a person. <sup>6</sup>In those days people will seek death, and will in no way find it. They will desire to die, and death will flee from them. <sup>7</sup>The shapes of the locusts were like horses prepared for war. On their heads were something like golden crowns, and their faces were like people's faces. <sup>8</sup>They had hair like women's hair, and their teeth were like those of lions. <sup>9</sup>They had breastplates, like breastplates of iron. The sound of their wings was like the sound of chariots, or of many horses rushing to war. <sup>10</sup>They have tails like those of scorpions, and stings. In their tails they have power to harm men for five months. <sup>11</sup>They have over them as king the angel of the abyss. His name in Hebrew is "Abaddon",‡ but in Greek, he has the name "Apollyon". ¶<sup>12</sup>The first woe is past. Behold, there are still two woes coming after this.

<sup>13</sup>The sixth angel sounded. I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God, <sup>14</sup>saying to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, "Free the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates!"

<sup>15</sup>The four angels were freed who had been prepared for that hour and day and month and year, so that they might kill one third of mankind. <sup>16</sup>The number of the armies of the horsemen was two hundred million.§ I heard the number of them. <sup>17</sup>Thus I saw the horses in the vision, and those who sat on them, having breastplates of fiery red, hyacinth blue, and sulphur yellow; and the horses' heads resembled lions' heads. Out of their mouths proceed fire, smoke, and sulphur. <sup>18</sup> By these three plagues were one third of mankind killed: by the fire, the smoke, and the sulphur, which proceeded out of their mouths. <sup>19</sup> For the power of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails. For their tails are like serpents, and have heads, and with them they harm. <sup>20</sup> The rest of mankind, who were not killed with these plagues, didn't repent of the works of their hands, that they wouldn't worship demons, and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can't see, hear, or walk. <sup>21</sup> They didn't repent of their murders, their sorceries,** their sexual immorality, or their thefts.

<sup>5</sup> The angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted up his right hand to the sky, <sup>6</sup> and swore by him who lives forever and ever, who created heaven and the things that are in it, the earth and the things that are in it, and the sea and the things that are in it, that there will no longer be delay, <sup>7</sup> but in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then the mystery of God is finished, as he declared to his servants, the prophets. <sup>8</sup> The voice which I heard from heaven, again speaking with me, said, "Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel who stands on the sea and on the land."

<sup>9</sup> I went to the angel, telling him to give me the little book.

He said to me, "Take it, and eat it. It will make your stomach bitter, but in your mouth it will be as sweet as honey."

<sup>10</sup> I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it. It was as sweet as honey in my mouth. When I had eaten it, my stomach was made bitter. <sup>11</sup> They†† told me, "You must prophesy again over many peoples, nations, languages, and kings."

11 A reed like a rod was given to me. Someone said, "Rise, and measure God's temple, and the altar, and those who worship in it. <sup>2</sup> Leave out the court which is outside of the temple, and don't measure it, for it has been given to the nations. They will tread the holy city under foot for forty-two months. <sup>3</sup> I will give power to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy one thousand and two hundred and sixty days, clothed in sackcloth." <sup>4</sup> These are the two olive trees and the two lamp stands, standing before the Lord of the earth. <sup>5</sup> If anyone desires to harm them, fire proceeds out of their mouth and devours their enemies. If anyone desires to harm them, he must be killed in this way. <sup>6</sup> These have the power to shut up the sky, that it may not rain during the days of their prophecy. They have power over the waters, to turn them into blood, and to strike the earth with every plague, as often as they desire. <sup>7</sup> When they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up out of the abyss will make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. <sup>8</sup> Their dead bodies will be in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. <sup>9</sup> From amongst the peoples, tribes, languages, and nations, people will look at their dead bodies for three and a half days, and will not allow their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. <sup>10</sup> Those who dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and they will be glad. They will give gifts to one another, because these two prophets tormented those who dwell on the earth. <sup>11</sup> After the three and a half days, the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood on their feet. Great fear fell on those who saw them. <sup>12</sup> I heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here!" They went up into heaven in the cloud, and their enemies saw them. <sup>13</sup> In that day there was a great earthquake, and a tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the rest were terrified, and gave glory to the God of heaven. <sup>14</sup> The second woe is past. Behold, the third woe comes quickly.

<sup>15</sup> The seventh angel sounded, and great voices in heaven followed, saying, "The kingdom of the world has become the Kingdom of our Lord, and of his Christ. He will reign forever and ever!"

<sup>16</sup> The twenty-four elders, who sit on their thrones before God's throne, fell on their faces and worshipped God, <sup>17</sup> saying: "We give you thanks, Lord God, the Almighty, the one who is and who was; ¶ because you have taken your great power and reigned. <sup>18</sup> The nations were angry, and your wrath came, as did the time for the dead to be judged, and to give your bondservants the prophets, their reward, as well as to the saints, and those who fear your name, to the small and the great, and to destroy those who destroy the earth."

<sup>19</sup> God's temple that is in heaven was opened, and the ark of the Lord's covenant was seen in his temple. Lightnings, sounds, thunders, an earthquake, and great hail followed.

12 A great sign was seen in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars. <sup>2</sup> She was with child. She cried out in pain, labouring to give birth. <sup>3</sup> Another sign was seen in heaven. Behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven crowns. <sup>4</sup> His tail drew one third of the stars of the sky, and threw them to the earth. The dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child. <sup>5</sup> She gave birth to a son, a male child, who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron. Her child was caught up to God, and to his throne. <sup>6</sup> The woman fled into the wilderness, where she has a place prepared by God, that there they may nourish her one thousand and two hundred and sixty days.

<sup>7</sup> There was war in the sky. Michael and his angels made war on the dragon. The dragon and his angels made war. <sup>8</sup> They didn't prevail. No place was found for them any more in heaven. <sup>9</sup> The great dragon was thrown down, the old serpent, he who is called the devil and Satan, the deceiver of the whole world. He was thrown down to the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him. <sup>10</sup> I heard a loud voice in heaven, saying, "Now the salvation, the power, and the Kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ has come; for the accuser of our brothers has been thrown down, who accuses them before our God day and night. <sup>11</sup> They overcame him because of the Lamb's blood, and because of the word of their testimony. They didn't love their life, even to death. <sup>12</sup> Therefore rejoice, heavens, and you who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and to the sea, because the devil has gone down to you, having great wrath, knowing that he has but a short time."

<sup>13</sup> When the dragon saw that he was thrown down to the earth, he persecuted the woman who gave birth to the male child. <sup>14</sup> Two wings of the great eagle were given to the woman, that she might fly into the wilderness to her place, so that she might be nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. <sup>15</sup>The serpent spewed water out of his mouth after the woman like a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. <sup>16</sup>The earth helped the woman, and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed up the river which the dragon spewed out of his mouth. <sup>17</sup>The dragon grew angry with the woman, and went away to make war with the rest of her offspring,¶¶ who keep God's commandments and hold Jesus' testimony.

13 Then I stood on the sand of the sea. I saw a beast coming up out of the sea, having ten horns and seven heads. On his horns were ten crowns, and on his heads, blasphemous names. <sup>2</sup>The beast which I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like the mouth of a lion. The dragon gave him his power, his throne, and great authority. <sup>3</sup>One of his heads looked like it had been wounded fatally. His fatal wound was healed, and the whole earth marvelled at the beast. <sup>4</sup>They worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority to the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, "Who is like the beast? Who is able to make war with him?" <sup>5</sup>A mouth speaking great things and blasphemy was given to him. Authority to make war for forty-two months was given to him. <sup>6</sup>He opened his mouth for blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his dwelling, those who dwell in heaven. <sup>7</sup>It was given to him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them. Authority over every tribe, people, language, and nation was given to him. <sup>8</sup>All who dwell on the earth will worship him, everyone whose name has not been written from the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who has been killed. <sup>9</sup>If anyone has an ear, let him hear. <sup>10</sup>If anyone is to go into captivity, he will go into captivity. If anyone is to be killed with the sword, he must be killed.§§ Here is the endurance and the faith of the saints.

<sup>11</sup>I saw another beast coming up out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, and he spoke like a dragon. <sup>12</sup>He exercises all the authority of the first beast in his presence. He makes the earth and those who dwell in it to worship the first beast, whose fatal wound was healed. <sup>13</sup>He performs great signs, even making fire come down out of the sky to the earth in the sight of people. <sup>14</sup>He deceives my own* people who dwell on the earth because of the signs he was granted to do in front of the beast, saying to those who dwell on the earth that they should make an image to the beast who had the sword wound and lived. <sup>15</sup>It was given to him to give breath to it, to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause as many as wouldn't worship the image of the beast to be killed. <sup>16</sup>He causes all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, and the free and the slave, to be given marks on their right hands, or on their foreheads; <sup>17</sup>and that no one would be able to buy or to sell, unless he has that mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name. <sup>18</sup>Here is wisdom. He who has understanding, let him calculate the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man. His number is six hundred and sixty-six.

14 I saw, and behold, the Lamb standing on Mount Zion, and with him a number, one hundred and forty-four thousand, having his name, and the name of his Father, written on their foreheads. <sup>2</sup>I heard a sound from heaven, like the sound of many waters, and like the sound of a great thunder. The sound which I heard was like that of harpists playing on their harps. <sup>3</sup>They sing a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the song except the one hundred and forty-four thousand, those who had been redeemed out of the earth. <sup>4</sup> These are those who were not defiled with women, for they are virgins. These are those who follow the Lamb wherever he goes. These were redeemed by Jesus from amongst men, the first fruits to God and to the Lamb. <sup>5</sup> In their mouth was found no lie, for they are blameless.†

<sup>6</sup> I saw an angel flying in mid heaven, having an eternal Good News to proclaim to those who dwell on the earth, and to every nation, tribe, language, and people. <sup>7</sup> He said with a loud voice, "Fear the Lord, and give him glory; for the hour of his judgement has come. Worship him who made the heaven, the earth, the sea, and the springs of waters!"

<sup>8</sup> Another, a second angel, followed, saying, "Babylon the great has fallen, which has made all the nations to drink of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality."

<sup>9</sup> Another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, "If anyone worships the beast and his image, and receives a mark on his forehead, or on his hand, <sup>10</sup> he also will drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger. He will be tormented with fire and sulphur in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. <sup>11</sup> The smoke of their torment goes up forever and ever. They have no rest day and night, those who worship the beast and his image, and whoever receives the mark of his name. <sup>12</sup> Here is the perseverance of the saints, those who keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus."

<sup>13</sup> I heard a voice from heaven saying, "Write, 'Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on.'"

"Yes," says the Spirit, "that they may rest from their labours; for their works follow with them."

<sup>17</sup> Another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven. He also had a sharp sickle. <sup>18</sup> Another angel came out from the altar, he who has power over fire, and he called with a great voice to him who had the sharp sickle, saying, "Send your sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for the earth's grapes are fully ripe!" <sup>19</sup> The angel thrust his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vintage of the earth, and threw it into the great wine press of the wrath of God. <sup>20</sup> The wine press was trodden outside of the city, and blood came out of the wine press, even to the bridles of the horses, as far as one thousand and six hundred stadia.‡

15 I saw another great and marvellous sign in the sky: seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them God's wrath is finished. <sup>2</sup> I saw something like a sea of glass mixed with fire, and those who overcame the beast, his image,¶ and the number of his name, standing on the sea of glass, having harps of God. <sup>3</sup> They sang the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying,

"Great and marvellous are your works, Lord God, the Almighty!

Righteous and true are your ways, you King of the nations.

4 Who wouldn't fear you, Lord, and glorify your name?

For you only are holy.

For all the nations will come and worship before you.

For your righteous acts have been revealed."

5 After these things I looked, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened. 6 The seven angels who had the seven plagues came out, clothed with pure, bright linen, and wearing golden sashes around their breasts.

7 One of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever.

8 The temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power. No one was able to enter into the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels would be finished.

16 I heard a loud voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, "Go and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God on the earth!"

2 The first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth, and it became a harmful and evil sore on the people who had the mark of the beast, and who worshipped his image.

3 The second angel poured out his bowl into the sea, and it became blood as of a dead man. Every living thing in the sea died.

4 The third poured out his bowl into the rivers and springs of water, and they became blood. 5 I heard the angel of the waters saying, "You are righteous, who are and who were, O Holy One, because you have judged these things. 6 For they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and you have given them blood to drink. They deserve this." 7 I heard the altar saying, "Yes, Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are your judgements."

8 The fourth poured out his bowl on the sun, and it was given to him to scorch men with fire. 9 People were scorched with great heat, and people blasphemed the name of God who has the power over these plagues. They didn't repent and give him glory.

10 The fifth poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was darkened. They gnawed their tongues because of the pain, 11 and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores. They didn't repent of their works.

12 The sixth poured out his bowl on the great river, the Euphrates. Its water was dried up, that the way might be prepared for the kings that come from the sunrise. 13 I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, something like frogs; 14 for they are spirits of demons, performing signs; which go out to the kings of the whole inhabited earth, to gather them together for the war of that great day of God, the Almighty.

15 "Behold, I come like a thief. Blessed is he who watches, and keeps his clothes, so that he doesn't walk naked, and they see his shame."

16 He gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew, "Megiddo".

17 The seventh poured out his bowl into the air. A loud voice came out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, "It is done!"

18 There were lightnings, sounds, and thunders; and there was a great earthquake, such as has not happened since there were men on the earth, so great an earthquake, and so mighty.

19 The great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. Babylon the great was remembered in the sight of God, to give to her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 Every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 Great hailstones, about the weight of a talent,§ came down out of the sky on people. 17 One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and spoke with me, saying, “Come here. I will show you the judgement of the great prostitute who sits on many waters, <sup>2</sup>with whom the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality. Those who dwell in the earth were made drunken with the wine of her sexual immorality.” <sup>3</sup>He carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness. I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet-coloured beast, full of blasphemous names, having seven heads and ten horns. <sup>4</sup>The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having in her hand a golden cup full of abominations and the impurities of the sexual immorality of the earth. <sup>5</sup>And on her forehead a name was written, “MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE PROSTITUTES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.” <sup>6</sup>I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. When I saw her, I wondered with great amazement. <sup>7</sup>The angel said to me, “Why do you wonder? I will tell you the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carries her, which has the seven heads and the ten horns. <sup>8</sup>The beast that you saw was, and is not; and is about to come up out of the abyss and to go into destruction. Those who dwell on the earth and whose names have not been written in the book of life from the foundation of the world will marvel when they see that the beast was, and is not, and shall be present.** <sup>9</sup>Here is the mind that has wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains on which the woman sits. <sup>10</sup>They are seven kings. Five have fallen, the one is, the other has not yet come. When he comes, he must continue a little while. <sup>11</sup>The beast that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goes to destruction. <sup>12</sup>The ten horns that you saw are ten kings who have received no kingdom as yet, but they receive authority as kings with the beast for one hour. <sup>13</sup>These have one mind, and they give their power and authority to the beast. <sup>14</sup>These will war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will overcome them, for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and those who are with him are called chosen and faithful.” <sup>15</sup>He said to me, “The waters which you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations, and languages. <sup>16</sup>The ten horns which you saw, and the beast, these will hate the prostitute, will make her desolate, will strip her naked, will eat her flesh, and will burn her utterly with fire. <sup>17</sup>For God has put in their hearts to do what he has in mind, to be of one mind, and to give their kingdom to the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. <sup>18</sup>The woman whom you saw is the great city, which reigns over the kings of the earth.”

18 After these things, I saw another angel coming down out of the sky, having great authority. The earth was illuminated with his glory. <sup>2</sup>He cried with a mighty voice, saying, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and she has become a habitation of demons, a prison of every unclean spirit, and a prison of every unclean and hateful bird! <sup>3</sup>For all the nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her sexual immorality, the kings of the earth committed sexual immorality with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from the abundance of her luxury.”

<sup>4</sup>I heard another voice from heaven, saying, “Come out of her, my people, that you have no participation in her sins, and that you don’t receive of her plagues, <sup>5</sup>for her sins have reached to the sky, and God has remembered her iniquities. <sup>6</sup>Return to her just as she returned, and repay her double as she did, and according to her works. In the cup which she mixed, mix to her double. <sup>7</sup>However much she glorified herself, and grew wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning. For she says in her heart, 'I sit a queen, and am no widow, and will in no way see mourning.'<sup>7</sup> <sup>8</sup>Therefore in one day her plagues will come: death, mourning, and famine; and she will be utterly burnt with fire; for the Lord God who has judged her is strong. <sup>9</sup>The kings of the earth who committed sexual immorality and lived wantonly with her will weep and wail over her, when they look at the smoke of her burning, <sup>10</sup>standing far away for the fear of her torment, saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, Babylon, the strong city! For your judgement has come in one hour.'<sup>11</sup> The merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no one buys their merchandise any more: <sup>12</sup>merchandise of gold, silver, precious stones, pearls, fine linen, purple, silk, scarlet, all expensive wood, every vessel of ivory, every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; <sup>13</sup>and cinnamon, incense, perfume, frankincense, wine, olive oil, fine flour, wheat, sheep, horses, chariots, and people's bodies and souls. <sup>14</sup>The fruits which your soul lusted after have been lost to you. All things that were dainty and sumptuous have perished from you, and you will find them no more at all. <sup>15</sup>The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, will stand far away for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning, <sup>16</sup>saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, she who was dressed in fine linen, purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls! <sup>17</sup>For in an hour such great riches are made desolate.' Every ship master, and everyone who sails anywhere, and mariners, and as many as gain their living by sea, stood far away, <sup>18</sup>and cried out as they looked at the smoke of her burning, saying, 'What is like the great city?' <sup>19</sup>They cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, 'Woe, woe, the great city, in which all who had their ships in the sea were made rich by reason of her great wealth!' For she is made desolate in one hour.

<sup>20</sup>"Rejoice over her, O heaven, you saints, apostles, and prophets; for God has judged your judgement on her."<sup>21</sup> A mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone and cast it into the sea, saying, "Thus with violence will Babylon, the great city, be thrown down, and will be found no more at all. <sup>22</sup>The voice of harpists, minstrels, flute players, and trumpeters will be heard no more at all in you. No craftsman, of whatever craft, will be found any more at all in you. The sound of a mill will be heard no more at all in you. <sup>23</sup>The light of a lamp will shine no more at all in you. The voice of the bridegroom and of the bride will be heard no more at all in you; for your merchants were the princes of the earth; for with your sorcery all the nations were deceived. <sup>24</sup>In her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all who have been slain on the earth."

19 After these things I heard something like a loud voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, "Hallelujah! Salvation, power, and glory belong to our God; <sup>2</sup>for his judgements are true and righteous. For he has judged the great prostitute, who corrupted the earth with her sexual immorality, and he has avenged the blood of his servants at her hand."

<sup>3</sup>A second said, "Hallelujah! Her smoke goes up forever and ever."<sup>4</sup> The twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God who sits on the throne, saying, "Amen! Hallelujah!"

<sup>5</sup>A voice came from the throne, saying, "Give praise to our God, all you his servants, you who fear him, the small and the great!"

<sup>6</sup>I heard something like the voice of a great multitude, and like the voice of many waters, and like the voice of mighty thunders, saying, "Hallelujah! For the Lord our God, the Almighty, reigns! <sup>7</sup>Let's rejoice and be exceedingly glad, and let's give the glory to him. For the wedding of the Lamb has come, and his wife has made herself ready."<sup>8</sup> It was given to her that she would array herself in bright, pure, fine linen; for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.

<sup>9</sup> He said to me, "Write, 'Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding supper of the Lamb.'" He said to me, "These are true words of God."

<sup>10</sup> I fell down before his feet to worship him. He said to me, "Look! Don't do it! I am a fellow bondservant with you and with your brothers who hold the testimony of Jesus. Worship God, for the testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of Prophecy."

<sup>11</sup> I saw the heaven opened, and behold, a white horse, and he who sat on it is called Faithful and True. In righteousness he judges and makes war. <sup>12</sup> His eyes are a flame of fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has names written and a name written which no one knows but he himself. <sup>13</sup> He is clothed in a garment sprinkled with blood. His name is called "The Word of God." <sup>14</sup> The armies which are in heaven followed him on white horses, clothed in white, pure, fine linen. <sup>15</sup> Out of his mouth proceeds a sharp, double-edged sword, that with it he should strike the nations. He will rule them with an iron rod.<sup>w</sup> He treads the wine press of the fierceness of the wrath of God, the Almighty. <sup>16</sup> He has on his garment and on his thigh a name written, "KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS."

<sup>17</sup> I saw an angel standing in the sun. He cried with a loud voice, saying to all the birds that fly in the sky, "Come! Be gathered together to the great supper of God,†† <sup>18</sup> that you may eat the flesh of kings, the flesh of captains, the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of those who sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and slave, small and great." <sup>19</sup> I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him who sat on the horse, and against his army. <sup>20</sup> The beast was taken, and with him the false prophet who worked the signs in his sight, with which he deceived those who had received the mark of the beast and those who worshipped his image. These two were thrown alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulphur. <sup>21</sup> The rest were killed with the sword of him who sat on the horse, the sword which came out of his mouth. All the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. <sup>2</sup> He seized the dragon, the old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, who deceives the whole inhabited earth, and bound him for a thousand years, <sup>3</sup> and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years were finished. After this, he must be freed for a short time. <sup>4</sup> I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgement was given to them. I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as didn't worship the beast nor his image, and didn't receive the mark on their forehead and on their hand. They lived and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. <sup>5</sup> The rest of the dead didn't live until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection. <sup>6</sup> Blessed and holy is he who has part in the first resurrection. Over these, the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and will reign with him one thousand years.

<sup>7</sup> And after the thousand years, Satan will be released from his prison, <sup>8</sup> and he will come out to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war; the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. <sup>9</sup> They went up over the width of the earth, and surrounded the camp of the saints, and the beloved city. Fire came down out of heaven from God and devoured them. <sup>10</sup>The devil who deceived them was thrown into the lake of fire and sulphur, where the beast and the false prophet are also. They will be tormented day and night forever and ever.

<sup>11</sup>I saw a great white throne, and him who sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away. There was found no place for them. <sup>12</sup>I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and they opened books. Another book was opened, which is the book of life. The dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. <sup>13</sup>The sea gave up the dead who were in it. Death and Hades‡‡ gave up the dead who were in them. They were judged, each one according to his works. <sup>14</sup>Death and Hades‡‡ were thrown into the lake of fire. This is the second death, the lake of fire. <sup>15</sup>If anyone was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth have passed away, and the sea is no more. <sup>2</sup>I saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared like a bride adorned for her husband. <sup>3</sup>I heard a loud voice out of heaven saying, "Behold, God's dwelling is with people, and he will dwell with them, and they will be his people, and God himself will be with them as their God. <sup>4</sup>He will wipe away every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; neither will there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more. The first things have passed away."

<sup>5</sup>He who sits on the throne said, "Behold, I am making all things new." He said, "Write, for these words of God are faithful and true."

<sup>6</sup>He said to me, "I have become the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End.§§ I will give freely to him who is thirsty from the spring of the water of life. <sup>7</sup>He who overcomes, I will give him these things. I will be his God, and he will be my son. <sup>8</sup>But for the cowardly, unbelieving, sinners, abominable, murderers, sexually immoral, sorcerers,* idolaters, and all liars, their part is in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur, which is the second death."

<sup>9</sup>One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were loaded with the seven last plagues came, and he spoke with me, saying, "Come here. I will show you the wife, the Lamb's bride." <sup>10</sup>He carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, <sup>11</sup>having the glory of God. Her light was like a most precious stone, as if it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal; <sup>12</sup>having a great and high wall; having twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel. <sup>13</sup>On the east were three gates; and on the north three gates; and on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. <sup>14</sup>The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them twelve names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb. <sup>15</sup>He who spoke with me had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city, its gates, and its walls. <sup>16</sup>The city is square, and its length is as great as its width. He measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand and twelve stadia.† Its length, width, and height are equal. <sup>17</sup>Its wall is one hundred and forty-four cubits,‡ by the measure of a man, that is, of an angel. <sup>18</sup>The construction of its wall was jasper. The city was pure gold, like pure glass. <sup>19</sup>The foundations of the city's wall were adorned with all kinds of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire;¶ the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald; <sup>20</sup>the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, jacinth; and the twelfth, amethyst. <sup>21</sup>The twelve gates were twelve pearls. Each one of the gates was made of one pearl. The street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass. <sup>22</sup>I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God, the Almighty, and the Lamb, are its temple. <sup>23</sup>The city has no need for the sun or moon to shine, for the very glory of God illuminated it, and its lamp is the Lamb. <sup>24</sup>The nations will walk in its light. The kings of the earth bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. <sup>25</sup>Its gates will in no way be shut by day (for there will be no night there), <sup>26</sup>and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it so that they may enter. <sup>27</sup>There will in no way enter into it anything profane, or one who causes an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life.

22 He showed me a§ river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb, <sup>2</sup>in the middle of its street. On this side of the river and on that was the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruits, yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. <sup>3</sup>There will be no curse any more. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and his servants will serve him. <sup>4</sup>They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. <sup>5</sup>There will be no night, and they need no lamp light or sun light; for the Lord God will illuminate them. They will reign forever and ever.

<sup>6</sup>He said to me, "These words are faithful and true. The Lord God of the spirits of the prophets sent his angel to show to his bond-servants the things which must happen soon."

<sup>7</sup>"Behold, I come quickly. Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy of this book."

<sup>8</sup>Now I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. When I heard and saw, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel who had shown me these things. <sup>9</sup>He said to me, "See you don't do it! I am a fellow bond-servant with you and with your brothers, the prophets, and with those who keep the words of this book. Worship God." <sup>10</sup>He said to me, "Don't seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is at hand. <sup>11</sup>He who acts unjustly, let him act unjustly still. He who is filthy, let him be filthy still. He who is righteous, let him do righteousness still. He who is holy, let him be holy still."

<sup>12</sup>"Behold, I come quickly. My reward is with me, to repay to each man according to his work. <sup>13</sup>I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End. <sup>14</sup>Blessed are those who do his commandments,** that they may have the right to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city. <sup>15</sup>Outside are the dogs, the sorcerers, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood. <sup>16</sup>I, Jesus, have sent my angel to testify these things to you for the assemblies. I am the root and the offspring of David, the Bright and Morning Star."

<sup>17</sup>The Spirit and the bride say, "Come!" He who hears, let him say, "Come!" He who is thirsty, let him come. He who desires, let him take the water of life freely. <sup>18</sup>I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book, if anyone adds to them, may God add to him the plagues which are written in this book. <sup>19</sup>If anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, may God take away his part from the tree†† of life,
